Canada's Woman Senator Visits City

NUISANCE TAXES HAVE DECREASED CLAIMS SPEAKER

Hon. Cairine Wilson, Canada's First Lady Senator, Addresses Audience.

HEALTH LEGISLATION.

Aid to Returned and Disabled Men is Outlined By Speaker.

Canada's first woman senator the Hon. Cairine Wilson of Ottawa, made her bow to Peterborough audiences last evening in the Grand Opera House, when she addressed a representative and interested gathering of over six hundred men and women, and spoke to them on issues in the present election. Senator Wilson's address was brief and to the point. She did not touch on any of the points emphasized by J. J. Duffus in the speech which preluded her arrival, and contented herself with referring only to ameliorative legislation brought forward in connection with returned men and to a reference to the activities of the Department of Health.

Senator Wilson, at the conclusion of the meeting, stood at the inner entrance to the Opera House and met members of her audience, passing out.

Speaking in clear, concise fashion, with a deliberate utterance that yet gave the impression of a slight nervousness behind the unhurried tones, Senator Wilson opened her brief address with an expression of gratitude to her audience and to those responsible for her welcome to Peterborough. She referred to her fellow senators in the Red Chamber and to the consideration with which they treated her.

After a short reference to the decrease in "nuisance" taxes, as noted in recent years under the Liberal regime, Senator Wilson spoke of the work being done by the same government toward the rehabilitation of ex-service men and of several aspects of this remedial legislation. She said:

Vetcraft Shops

We all know of the Vetcraft Shops, which enable those, who cannot compete in the open labor market, to continue to earn a livelihood under sheltered conditions. Factories are also maintained in Toronto where every care is taken to fit those in need with artificial limbs. A very great number of those who served

ELIZABETH RYAN BEATEN IN FINALS

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody Wins English Tennis Championship.

4TH SUCCESSIVE YEAR.

WIMBLEDON, England, July 4. — (C.P.).—Mrs. Helen Wills Moody won the British women's singles championship to-day for the fourth successive year, defeating Miss Elizabeth Ryan of England in the final. Mrs. Moody won from Miss Ryan by scores of 6-2, 6-2.

Despite stubborn opposition from her veteran opponent, Mrs. Moody captured the Wimbledon title this year with as much ease as she had done in succeeding seasons, when her final round opponents were Senorita Elia De Alvarez of Spain on two occasions, and Miss Helen Jacobs once.

Miss Ryan, a seasoned campaigner and a master of the chop-stroke game, was able to hold her own with Queen Helen a few years ago, but today she was all but outclassed under the withering fire from Mrs. Moody's racquet.

Mrs. Moody now has successfully defended both her French and British titles and still holds the three major crowns of the feminine tennis world, including the United States championship.

Soo-Sudbury Road Is Passable Again

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont.,—July 4.—(CP)—In a report on road conditions in the Blind River and Nairn areas last night Northern Development Engineer G. J. Lamb, said that autos would go over the inundated portions of The Soo-Sudbury trunk road between Blind River and Iron Bridge under their own power today providing no more rain came.

According to the report four cars were towed over the bad stretch of road in the area yesterday, the first to navigate the road for a week. The flood waters receded 10 inches Wednesday night and more yesterday.

Canada's Woman Senator Speaks in City

HON. CAIRINE WILSON, CANADA'S FIRST LADY SENATOR who addressed a Liberal mass meeting in the Grand Opera house last night. Senator Wilson outlined the aid given to the returned soldiers and disabled men and also the legislation that has been passed by the King government relative to Health condition of the country.

CANADA'S ECONOMIC STRUCTURE SHAKEN BY POOL'S CROP HANDLING

Hon. F. Oliver Claims Established Business Principles Disregarded.

ACHIEVED BANKRUPTCY.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 4.—(CP)—Canada's entire economic structure has been shaken to its foundations through the "disregard of well established business principles" in the wheat pools' method of handling crops declared Hon. Frank Oliver, of Edmonton, Alta., former Cabinet Minister and publisher and a member of the Board of Railway Commissioners, in a scathing denunciation of the Canadian pools' marketing activities before the Empire Club of Winnipeg last night.

POOL MARKETING FAILED

The principles of pool marketing, expounded in Western Canada by Aaran Sapiro, had "failed in their purpose", he said.

"By his arguments", said Mr. Oliver, "Aaran Sapiro suggested that the control of price achieved by the manufacturer through control of output, could be achieved by the farmer through control of distribution. As a matter of fact there is a wide difference between control of output and control of distribution.

The same ultimate effect on market prices as restriction of output in an economic fallacy that can only lead to disaster. It was on this fallacy that the Canadian Wheat Pool was founded and its operations carried on."

The pool as a business organization, has achieved bankruptcy", asserted Mr. Oliver. The price paid to farmer members for their wheat is lower than at any time since formation of the joint pool in 1924, he added and "at no time has the amount paid to its members been equal to the average price received by the non-pool farmer from the independent grain dealers".

DRUNKEN BRAWL ENDS IN FREE-FOR-ALL FIGHT

One Man is in Hospital While Other Is Under Arrest

TORONTO, Ont., July 4.—(CP)—As the result of a brawl in a York township home last night, Thomas Anstey is in hospital here with a bullet wound in his side and Thomas Mattison is under arrest on an assault charge. Mattison has a nasty cut on the head which he claimed was inflicted by Anstey.

Both men were on the floor bleeding profusely when police arrived at the Anstey home. According to the officers a drunken brawl developed after Mattison had been invited to his home by Anstey.

Guest Measures His Opposition As Wright Loses

Jack Guest of the Don Rowing Club, Toronto, was the most interested spectator of the semi-final of the Diamond Sculls in which Boetzelen of Berlan eliminated Joe Wright, Jr. of Toronto. Guest had won his own semi-final with T. D. Collett and he took a seat in a launch to closely follow the progress of the other race, which determined the man who would face Guest in to-morrow's final. Guest watched with keen eyes as the German's slower but more powerful sculling sent his shell into a comfortable lead over Wright at the finish.

TWO ARE KILLED IN SARNIA BLAST

INQUEST ORDERED.

SARNIA, Ont., July 4 (C.P.) — Two men were burned to death and five others suffered burns in an explosion in a coking stall at the plant of the Imperial Oil Refineries Ltd., this morning.

The dead are Reginald B. Connors, 37, Nelson street, City; William T. Gilbert, 37, London road; the injured: William Huggins, Point Edward, J. Kat, William Johnson, John Horosky, City. Only two of the injured are in the hospital. The men, employed as still workers were standing in front of the still, which had just been "banked," when an explosion occurred, and they were enveloped by flames. Connors was burned beyond recognition and Gilbert was horribly seared. An inquest has been ordered.

Heard Rumbling Noise.

The explosion occurred when the seven had charged the still with oil and had commenced to start the fire beneath the vat. One of them heard a mumbling noise and turned off the fuel supply and ran to safety. The upper valves of the still, however, apparently became released, causing a large quantity of flaming oil to be sent several hundred feet in the air, lighting up the entire town. When it fell it enveloped the men who were trying to check the spread of flames about the structure.

Despite the early hour traffic was jammed about the plant by 2,000 employees and others who hurried to the scene following the sound of the plant sirens.

TERRIFIC BLAST KILLS SEVEN IN CHEMICAL PLANT

SMOKE HINDERS RESCUE.

Towns Ten Miles Away Feeling Explosion Rush Assistance to Scene.

CASTLEFORD, Eng., July 4. — (CP) —Exploding chemical killed seven persons instantly and wrecked the plant of the Hickson and Parsons Chemical workers here this afternoon. More than a score were taken to hospitals, some so seriously injured they were not expected to survive.

Victim Drowned

One of the dead was a man walking along a river bank some distance from the scene of the blast. He was thrown into the stream by the force of the detonation and was drowned.

The explosion was so terrific that authorities in towns ten miles away heard and felt it and after hurried telephone inquiries. Rushed fire apparatus and ambulances to Castleford without waiting for calls for assistance.

Rescuers went into the debris of the chemical plant only after dense clouds of deadly smoke had been wafted from the scene by the wind.

Search of the ruins was continuing this evening it was feared that at least two other workmen had been caught in the collapse of the factory.

LIBERALS NAME THOMAS CARLEY

PRESBYTERIAN ELDER.

T. J. Carley, who is the Liberal candidate for Victoria and Haliburton, is fairly well known in this city as he was a law student for three years in the law office of his uncle, R. R. Hall, K.C., ex-M.P., after he graduated with honors from Toronto University. He was called to the Bar in 1924. He practiced law in Toronto and subsequently removed to Norwood, and then ultimately to Penelon Falls, where he has been successfully practicing law for a number of years.

He was born at Woodville, Victoria County, in 1896, and the very fact that he is a candidate in this election clearly indicates that he has been and is a very public-spirited citizen.

He is a grandson of the late William Hall of the Township of Fenelon, who was for a great many years a councillor and reeve of Fenelon and a member of the County Council of Victoria. Mr. Carley's grandfather, the late Wm. Hall, was a life-long Liberal and a Presbyterian in religion, and his grandson, Mr. Carley, has faithfully followed in his footsteps, as is shown by the fact that he is an elder in the Fenelon Falls Presbyterian Church and the superintendent of its Sunday School, and is the unanimous choice of the Liberals of Victoria and Haliburton to be their candidate in this election.

Five Drown Rushing To Rescue Others

MURRAY BAY, Que., July 4 (Canadian Press). — Two automobiles plunging into the Murray River near here last night resulted in the drowning of five people, all of this place. The dead are: Ovila Tremblay, Napoleon Tremblay (brothers), Eugene D'Asylva, Elias D'Asylva, and Alfred Asselin. Rene and Lucien Tremblay, brothers of the two who were drowned, escaped by swimming.

The tragedy occurred when the car bearing the seven men was hastening to the scene of an accident in which another car had gone into the river at the same spot. It was at a curve, and a car containing three men had an embankment into the water, failed to make it, crashing over The three swam ashore safely from their submerged machine.

The second car, attracted by the first accident, suffered the same fate, but the five were pinned under their car.

DR. OWEN O'NEIL UNFOLDS HISTORY OF SWAZILAND IN FINE ADDRESS

A VIVID STORY

Word pictures, vivid and intense. They seemed to leap out and catch the attention of the people who listened with rapt interest yesterday afternoon in the Chautauqua tent as Dr. Owen Rowe O'Neil unfolded his dramatic tapestry of Swaziland, that little-known portion of the Dark Continent where his forbears, descendants of Irish chieftains, and survivors of massacred hordes of freedom-loving Boers, settled in an oasis in the veldt and made there an inland kingdom of their own.

Historic Pictures.

There was a picture of Oom Paul Kruger, legendary figure of the Boers, with his rugged strength, his religious tendencies, and his flowing grey beard; there was a picture of that terrible massacre of the trusting Boers who, relying on the word of a Zulu chieftain, went out and recovered his lost cattle herd and were entertained at a great feast in the Zulu kraals, whose end was death for them and their comrades; there was a picture of the barren, desolate veldt with its teeming ant-hills and its countless herds of wandering antelope, which changed on an instant, through a precipitous decline, to a wonderful oasis where the white men settled and made for themselves a home in the desert, on the borders of Swaziland; a picture of the cruel and strong King of Swaziland battling in fun with his one white friend, Oom Tuys Grob-

VAULT IS LOOTED IN CITY OFFICES

SIGN LICENSE MONEY.

Members of the City Council were much perturbed last night when they learned that recently the vault in the City Engineer's office in the City Building had been looted.

Some nimble and quick-witted thief, who was most familiar with the pasageways in the City Building and the habits of the employees, they were told, had stolen $56.00 from the strong box in the engineer's vault. This money had been received as payment for sign licenses in the city, and was the only money kept in Mr. Parson's office.

Twice the thief visited the vault, first taking $52.00 and then on a later day returning to steal $4.00 more which had been placed in the vault after the first loss was discovered. Envelopes containing small amounts had also been taken from the Utility Commission's office next door.

Door Not Kept Locked.

It was explained that the door of the vault was not kept locked, but the strong box, which contained the money, was usually locked.

Several theories were advanced to explain the manner in which the thief gained entrance to the City Building. One was that he entered at night by the cellar door behind the offices, and another that he calmly walked in the front door in the morning after the janitor had unlocked it and before the employees had arrived.

A motion was passed stating that in future the City Engineer's office receive no payments of licenses, but that they be paid directly into the City Treasurer's office.

Several fire station are to be erected by Johannesburg, South Africa.

Jack Guest Easily Defeats Collett; Canada's Only Hope

GUEST'S TIME WAS THE SAME AS THAT OF GUNTHER WHO CAPTURED THE DIAMOND SCULLS LAST YEAR

More Even Stroke of German Triumphs Over Wright, Who Lost By a Length and a Quarter After Close Battle—Time 10 Seconds Slower Than Guest Set.

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, Eng., July 4.—(C. P. Cable)—Jack Guest of the Don Rowing Club, Toronto and Boetzelen, of the Berlin Rowing Club, will meet in the final tomorrow of the Diamond Sculls, premier single sculls event of the British Empire.

Canadian hopes that the final would be an all-Canadian affair were defeated today when the German sculler, who entered this year's Henley a new comer to the competition, although holder of all the continental sculling championships, save that of Holland, defeated Joe Wright of the Toronto Argonauts, by a length and a quarter. The race was fairly close all the way, with the German's more even stroke triumphing.

10 Seconds Behind Guest's Time

Boetzelen's time, however, was ten seconds behind that set by Jack Guest when Guest defeated T. D. Collett, Leander R. C., in eight minutes and 42 seconds. Guest's time today was the same as that of Gunther of Holland last year when he won the Diamond Sculls.

No Head Wind.

When Guest and his opponent took to the water they were fortunate in having much better conditions than those of yesterday's races. The strong head wind was absent.

The Canadian sculler demonstrated beautiful form in getting off quickly and this was a strong factor in his race for he went right ahead of the Leander man from the time of the start.

Soon after the start he was leading Collett by a quarter length though rowing a slower stroke. At the top of Temple Island he had increased this lead to three-quarters and he reached Rimenham Barrier a length ahead in two minutes, 25 seconds. At the half-mile post Guest led by one and a quarter length; when he reached Fawley in four minutes, nine seconds, he was two lengths in the lead. Guest was then sculling 26 strokes to the minute against Colletts 28.

The lead was increased to two and a half at the three-quarter mile post and Guest was working along at a steady and effective 23. Near the mile post Collett worked up to 32 strokes but he was unable to make an impression on his rival's lead which was four lengths here.

Collett began to tire along the enclosure and with Guest sculling in beautiful form the Canadian passed the winning post ten to twelve lengths in the lead.

Both Have Same Style

For those who have followed the Diamond Sculls competition for years, the contest between Guest and Boetzelen should be a choice tid-bit. Both men are noted for the evenness of their style and the equanimity of their temperaments; both ex-

STOCK FORGING LEADS TO ARREST

Ottawa Firm Identifies Man Who Had Them Sell $15,000 Worth of Ajax Oil.

CERTIFICATES FORGED.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 4.—(C.P.)—Ralph Homper, alleged to have defrauded Hughson Bros. and Company, Ottawa stock brokers, of $15,000 by having them sell for him stock certificates later found to have been forged, was arrested in Montreal yesterday and was brought to the city last night by Detective Aubrey MacDonald. Homper will appear in police court to-day to answer to a charge of false pretences.

The arrest was made after the accused had been identified by J. W. Hughson as the Ralph Homper who had the firm sell $15,000 worth of stock certificates later found to be worthless.

Friday, June 20, a man now alleged to have been Homper, visited the office of Hughson Bros. and Company, asking them to sell for him 7,000 shares of Ajax Oil. Homper, it is declared, handed over the stock certificates and the sale was made. He was given a cheque for a little more than $15,000. He took the cheque to a bank, where he was paid the money in currency and then disappeared.

FURTHER PAVING IS APPROVED BY BOARD OF WORKS

UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF.

Board is Divided Five Votes to Four With Two Not Voting.

Paving operations in Peterborough this year may be extended to include a section of Armour Road and Park Hill Road. A motion for this purpose was passed by the Board of Works Committee last evening and will come before the City Council on Monday night for the final verdict.

The motion was not greeted with any unanimity by the Board. It carried last night by a majority of one, five aldermen voting for it and four against. Alderman McIntyre was absent and Mayor Denne did not vote. However, it will only require a majority vote at the Council meeting Monday night to pass the paving extension.

Must Be Local Labor

The motion was to the effect that Armour Road from Munro avenue to Park Hill Road, and Park Hill Road from Water street to Armour Road be paved and an agreement and by-law be prepared authorizing the Warren Paving Company to do the work. Again in the agreement it will be stressed that local labor must be employed. To ensure this all workmen, except foreman and keymen, must secure a certificate from the city engineer that they are bonafide residents of this city.

The motion was supported by Alderman Cotton, Fitzpatrick, Phelan, Macdonald and Huffman, while Alderman McNabb, Stocker, Holland and Tuggey opposed it.

It was brought forward as a measure to aid in relieving unemployment in the city by those who supported it.

Alderman Huffman, chairman of the Board, stated that the paving company was now employing 77 men on the resurfacing work on the downtown area. About seventy of these, he declared, were local citizens. He said that the present paving job would be completed in two weeks.

"What are we going to do with the men thrown out of jobs when this paving job is finished?" asked Chairman Huffman. "The work planned by the Board of Works for this year is practicaly completed.

Alderman Phelan, chairman of the Finance Committee, stated that

Divorce of Carol To Be Cancelled

BUCHAREST, Rumania, July 4—(CP) — Well-informed circles said today an agreement had been reached for cancellation of the divorce of King Carol II and Queen Helen, with the courts soon to issue a decree of annulment.

As an indication of the approaching reconciliation, King Carol tomorrow will accompany the Queen and their son, the former Boy-King Michael, to the railway station as they leave for Sinaia.

The King will join his family there in a few days it is understood.

POLICE CALLED TO KEEP ORDER AS KING SPEAKS

INVADES BENNETT'S RIDING.

Discussion of Conditions in West Signal For Storm of Interruptions.

CALGARY, Alta., July 4 (By Ray Brown, C.P. Staff Correspondent).—Police interfered in Calgary last night because of persistent disturbances during a huge meeting addressed by Premier Mackenzie King, when the Prime Minister was discussing unemployment from various sections of the jammed building came shouts, booes and interjections which seriously interrupted the speech. At one time Mr. King intimated that he might abandon his speech if the interruptions continued.

"If it is the desire of those people who are interrupting to break up this meeting, I am perfectly willing to stop and leave it to the people of Alberta to decide who is responsible," Mr. King asserted.

Trouble From Start.

Almost from the outset it became apparent that there was to be trouble. When Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, was speaking, there were a few interruptions which, however, did not interfere seriously with his speech.

Then the Prime Minister took the platform.

The first interruption occurred when Mr. King, who was discussing the condition of the country, asked people to consider, on the basis of the progress that had been made, where Canada would stand in a few years.

"In hell," came a shout, but it was when the Prime Minister turned to unemployment that the real fun started.

From the side-lines near the platform a man shouted, "Why did you ignore the appeal of the unemployed ex-service men to see you before this meeting?"

The Government could not be blamed for conditions in Western Canada, Mr. King declared. There had been a wheat crop failure; wheat had not moved and the stock market had suffered a serious collapse. This had resulted in unemployment in Western Canada.

Mr. King proceeded with his discussion of unemployment; there was considerable noise and interruption, however. His statements were challenged by men in different parts of the room.

Grants of $38,000,000

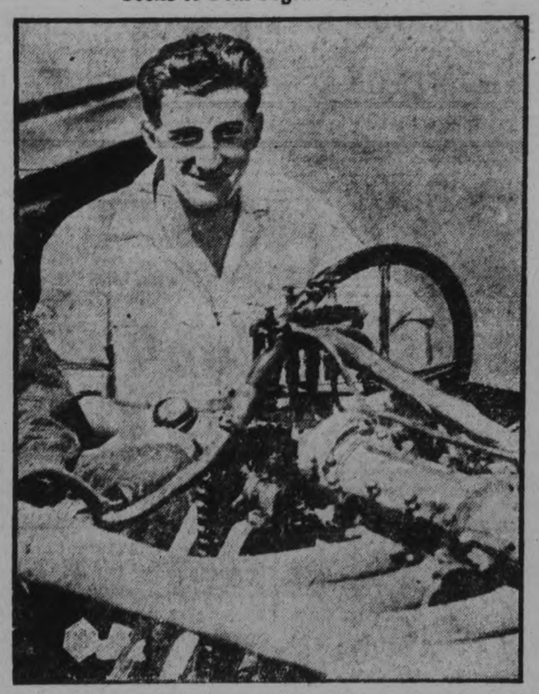
He indicated what had been done by the Government in the line of finacial grants to Alberta. These grants, he declared, totalled $38,000,000.

"It is a lie," shouted someone.

There was a good deal of shouting.

The Province and the Dominion had to fulfil different obligations in connection with unemployment. But if at any time a Province of Canada found itself unable to cope with the situation, then the Dominion stood ready to assist. If a municipality could not meet the situation, its appeal lay to the Province. If the Province could not cope with it, then the appeal was to the Dominion. But no formal appeal had been received from any Province. If such an appeal was made, the Dominion Government would sit down with the Province and try and work out a solution.

Seeks to Beat Segrave's Record



Count Johnston-Noad, famous British motorboat driver, is planning to build another super-motorboat to be named "Miss England III." In this speed boat he hopes to beat the record made by his personal friend, the late Sir Henry Segrave. The new craft will cost $100,000 to construct and will incorporate many of the features of the Miss England II, in which Segrave was killed after establishing a new world's record of 98.75 miles an hour.

CHEESEMEN OF MADOC GATHER

Warm Discussion Follows Departmental Report on Rancid Cheese.

BEST RECORD IN PROVINCE.

MARMORA, July 4 (Examiner Correspondence).—The third monthly meeting of the Madoc District Cheesemakers' Association was held in the Town Hall, Madoc, on Thursday evening, W. E. Brennan, president, in the chair.

The report of Dr. Shutt, Bacteriology Department, O.A.C., Guelph, concerning his investigation of conditions at one of the factories concerning rancid cheese was read by the chairman. Some interesting matter was furnished in this report and keen discussion followed.

G. H. Barr, Director of Dairying, upon being called upon to speak, expressed his pleasure at being present at the first meeting of the Association for him to attend. He remarked that there was no other group in the province with so good a record as the one he was addressing. He said he had no room for offering criticism, and so in continuing his talk, dealt with dairying problems in general.

James Irwin, grader, expressed his pleasure at meeting the cheesemakers after their doing such splendid work. He also referred to the matter of water supplies as affecting some cheese. After touching upon the grading done by himself this season, Mr. Irwin mentioned his own particular interest in the Herd Competition which he said was being extended to August 1st. He concluded by saying that in Central Ontario everybody had his shoulder to the wheel.

J. W. Pennock Applauded.

J. W. Pennock, president of Fraser Creek Factory, Fort Stewart, who with the cheesemaker of his factory had travelled sixty-seven miles to attend the meeting was warmly applauded for some inspiring remarks.

J. McCaffrey, Madoc, referred appreciatively to the principle of co-operation among the makers and with the patrons as enunciated by Mr. Barr, and congratulated the cheesemakers upon the formation of their association.

Instructor John Murray, of Campbellford District, in a speech interspersed with humor, extended congratulations to the district on its fine showing.

Instructor H. Bailey, the last speaker, in his happy said: "Cheesemakers in the Madoc District are all boys." He was pleased with the good report which had been presented concerning his district." He wound up his remarks with sound advice. "We must not be careless for one day if we would not fall back."

A motion was passed that the secretary send a letter to John Murphy, member of the association, who recently had the misfortune to sustain a broken leg.

With the reading of the roll-call, what was termed a profitable meeting to all, was adjourned.

OMEMEE GIRL IS STRUCK BY TRUCK

LAD HAS CLOSE CALL.

OMEMEE, July 4 (Examiner Correspondence). — A serious accident was narrowly averted at the intersection of King and Sturgeon Streets, Omemee, on Thursday evening. Lamantia Bros.' fruit truck, of Lindsay, failed to observe the stop sign at Sturgeon Street, and came at a rather excessive rate of speed around the corner. In applying the brakes suddenly, the car skidded some distance on the pavement and jumped the curb and landed against the store window adjoining the Haboco Store, breaking a pane of glass and damaging the window sills.

Marjorie Ruth, in company with her mother, Mrs. Albert Ruth, were walking on the sidewalk and saw the approaching truck, but in endeavoring to escape it Marjorie was struck down and received a cut under the knee as well as several bruises. Gilbert Brockley, who was sitting on his express wagon, had the presence of mind to jump, but is mourning the loss of his wagon.

PLAYING POLITICS CHARGED TO KING BY TORY LEADER

Action on Duncan Report Delayed Because Premier Did Not Wish It.

GREAT HALIFAX RALLY.

C. N. and C. P. Amalgamation Never Be Sanctioned By Him, Bennett States.

By Thomas reen, C. P. Staff Correspondent

HALIFAX, N. S., July 4.—Charging that the King Government had failed to carry out the recommendations of the Duncan report as made on Maritime rights, Hon. R. B. Bennett addressed a massed rally in the forum here last night.

King Does Not Wish It

"Why", he demanded, "has the Government at Ottawa not carried out the recommendations of the Duncan Commission as made? Because Mr. King did not want to carry out these recommendations as made, because you have a Conservative Government in Nova Scotia. Because you have a five-cent piece Prime Minister who wants to play politics".

Mr. Bennett went on, "although the judgment of the Duncan Commission was made in June 1926, no effort was made by the Government to deal with two of the most important items, iron and steel. The report recommended immediate action, but only in 1930 on the eve of an election is any effort made in the matter by this Government at Ottawa. I cannot tell you what the result will be, because there has not been sufficient time; but this I do know; I said in my place in Parliament to the Minister from this Province (Hon. J. L. Ralston) 'Why have you not seen that this judgment is put into effect".

The Commission, Mr. Bennett stated, had only been established as a consequence of the constant persistence of Maritime Conservatives backed by fellow-members of their party, but, he continued, "Even after appointment of the Commission no effort was made by any Liberal public man", to present the facts for the Maritime Provinces. This task, the leader continued was performed by the Conservative Nova Scotia and New Brunswick administration.

All Voted For It

"When the report was presented to Parliament", the Opposition Chieftain explained, "Every Conservative, Liberal, U. F. A., Progressive and Independent member voted for it. Why then were the recommendations of the Duncan report as made not carried out."

The Conservative Leader declared, 'That there will never be any amalgamation of the Canadian National system with Canadian Pacific under which I am the head".

OPEN MARKET IS URGED IN EMPIRE

Leading British Banks Favor Reciprocal Trade Agreements.

TAX ON ALL ALIEN GOODS.

LONDON, England, July 4 (C.P.)—Representatives of leading British banks, including the Bank of England and Morgan, Grenfell and Company, at a meeting yesterday, passed a resolution in favor of reciprocal trade agreements and an open market between the nations constituting the British Empire. They advocated the placing of duties on all imports from foreign countries.

"Urgent measures for the promotion of intra-Imperial trade are needed to secure and extend the market for British products both at home and through export trade," the resolution read. "Bitter experience has taught Britain that hopes expressed four years ago in the plea for removal of restrictions upon European trade have failed. Restrictions have been materially increased and the sale of surplus foreign products in British market has steadily grown.

While we retain hope for the ultimate extension of free trade worldwide, we believe the immediate step for securing and extending the market for British goods lies in reciprocal trade agreements between the nations of the British Empire.

WATERWAY SNAG WAS FERGUSON

Dunning Claims Ontario Premier Objected to Every Move By King.

ALL READY TO GO AHEAD.

WINDSOR, Ont., July 4. (C.P.)—Every forward move made by Premier Mackenzie King in connection with the St. Lawrence waterway was met by some objection on the part of Premier Ferguson of Ontario, said Hon. Charles A. Dunning here last night, replying to Premier Ferguson's recent statement on the question.

"I was present at some of the conferences with the provinces" he said, "and I know what took place. I suggest that the people study the official correspondence, which has been published. They will find the final sticking point was a mighty small one, and, makes a mighty poor excuse for holding up such important work.

"Every effort has been made to move forward with the St. Lawrence waterway. Everything is ready to go ahead except for one little snag which concerns what will happen if the province starts development first for purposes of power, compared with what will happen if the Dominion starts first for purposes of power, compared with what will happen if the Dominion starts first for purposes of navigation.

Dominion Ready to Go Ahead

"So far as the Dominion Government is concerned, "we want to get on with the job. We are willing and ready to treat the Province of Ontario as if it did own the power resources of the river. It seems to me that, in the face of the published correspondence, it will be pretty difficult to draw a red herring from the St. Lawrence across the record of the government in this election.

There had been an attempt, Mr. Dunning asserted, to show the King Government was holding up the St. Lawrence scheme. On the contrary, he declared, they had been going on with it and were still going on. The channel at Prescott was now being deepened and the Welland canal was now about ready for operation.

Printers Protest Contracts Given Low-Salaried Shops

TORONTO, Ont., July 4.—(C.P.)—Officials of the Toronto local of the Typographical Union have forwarded a protest to Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor, regarding the tendering of the printing of Toronto voters' lists. It is claimed by the Union officials that printing shops paying salaries to their employes considerably below the accepted fair wage rate have been tendered the printing of the lists.

In addition the Union officials charged that not only were the lists being printed in low salaried shops but that part of the lists from one of the Toronto ridings were being printed in Pickering at a low-salary shop.

WOULD BOOST SENTENCE FOR SOLLOWAY AND MILLS

CALGARY, Alta., July 4 (Canadian Press). — Declaring the sentences imposed upon I. W. C. Solloway and Harvey Mills, brokers, by Mr. Justice Ives in Supreme Court recently, "were entirely inadequate in view of the serious nature of the offences charged and ought to be materially increased," the Attorney-General of Alberta has filed notice of appeal to the Appellate Court of the Province. The appeal will be heard at the next sitting of the Appellate Court at Calgary on September 15.

A claim to recover $1,000 lent by an Aberdeen, Scotland, uncle to a nephew in 1882, both parties now being dead and the suit being pressed by the executors, was denied recently by the British House of Lords.

Go One Better

STONEY LAKE, July 4. Lakefield citizens report that the new 305-foot smoke stack which has just been completed at the Canada Cement plant in Lakefield can be seen from a point six miles down the highway but Stoney Lake cottagers go them one better. They claim that the great concrete stack can be seen plainly from the head of Clear Lake and lower Stoney Lake, a distance of approximately 12 miles.

T. & N. O. Washout Repaired North of Haileybury

NORTH BAY, Ont., July 4 (C.P.).—At a meeting of the T. and N. O. Railway Commission, George W. Lee, chairman, announced that the steel had been coupled on the trestle built over Dickson's Creek, a little north of Haileybury, where a washout occurred Thursday night last. Mr. Lee said that trains would be moving north and south to-day.

It was announced also that it had been decided to bridge the Moose River at Mike Island, and to proceed immediately with the construction as another step in the extension of the railway line to James' Bay.

COMPANY SELLS OUT

MONTREAL, Que., July 3 (C.P.)—Through purchase of a controlling interest the Credit Foncier Franco-Canadien has secured the Holland Canada Mortgage Company, Limited, in a deal which involves more than $9,000,000, it was announced here today.

The Holland Company, which has its Canadian headquarters at Winnipeg, operates a large mortgage business throughout Western Canada. The company will continue as a subsidiary of Credit Foncier.

NORTHERN BUSH IS BEING COMBED FOR LOST CHILD

Lad of Six Sets Out For Aid Monday When Lost With Brother and Sister.

TWO ARE FOUND.

Timber Cruisers Take Charge of Search Parties in Last Desperate Effort.

KAPUSKASING, Ont., July 4. — (C.P.)—Taking stock at nightfall of a third fruitless day's search for Victor Gareau, aged 6, who separated from his brother and sister, set out by himself to bring aid when the three became lost on Monday afternoon, the 100 searchers started out at daybreak.

The Forestry Department, the Northern Development Branch, the experimental farm and the Spruce Falls Power and Paper Company contributed quotas of men for two days to range the bush for the missing child of Arthur Gareau, a settler living two miles west of the experimental farm. Besides these, all the neighbours in the district mobilized for an unceasing daylight hunt, and were joined by numbers of townspeople.

To-day timber cruisers took charge of the search.

To-day timber cruisers of the Spruce Falls Company will take charge of a survey of the whole area in which the missing boy has now spent more than 80 hours. This and other details have just been arranged.

The two children rescued Wednesday noon are with their mother in the humble settlers' home, which was lacking bedding and kitchen utensils. Scores of town women have visited the little home over almost impassable footpaths, stirred by keen sympathy, and all bringing parcels in one form or another.

The father has steadfastly remained in the bush since Monday night, and says he will not come out until his boy is found. He shuns every attention save offers of food and drink, but he is never left by himself in case the strain overcomes him.

The general belief is expressed that if the Tuesday holiday crowd had been apprised of the mischance, after the three children had spent one night in the bush, they might have all been recovered sound and well that day. Examination of the ground indicates that the most diligent searchers might pass within a few feet of the exhausted child without detecting him now.

JURY BLAMES LADDER FOR WELLAND TRAGEDY

WELLAND, Ont., July 4 (C.P.).—A 36-foot ladder reinforced with steel wire, which ran its full length, supplied by the Department of Railways and Canals, was blamed for the triple fatality of June 19, when Eddie Smith, Lloyd Tice and Sheldren Hensler, all of Welland County, were electrocuted at a sub-station in Thorold Township.

The coroner's jury, after deliberating an hour and a half, gave their verdict that the men came to their deaths by electric shock through using the ladder which the jury considered was unfit for the nature of the work the men had been instructed to perform.

Witnesses stated that since the accident the reinforced ladders had been discarded and wooden ones brought into service on such work.

Identification Is Made Of Man Thought Small

Doctors Positive Body is Remains of Provincial Hospital Inmate

TORONTO, Ont., July 4 (C.P.) — The last vestige of uncertainty regarding the identity of the body lying in the morgue here was removed yesterday, when it was positively identified as that of Joseph Doty, an inmate of the Provincial Hospital on Queen Street.

Two doctors of the institution, Drs. W. E. Ross and William Morrow, accompanied by Detective Harris made the identification.

An inmate of the Queen street institution for 20 years, Doty wandered away about a month ago, called at the House of Industry, but only stayed there half an hour. He was next heard of at Sunnyside, from where he was taken to the hospital, where he died without being identified.

Considerable excitement reigned in the city when several people saw a resemblance to the missing Ambrose J. Small, millionaire theatrical magnate, in the dead man.

Cavan

Mr. and Mrs. Segsworth, Hamilton, motored to Cavan on Thursday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Staples. Their daughter, Miss Ruth Segsworth, teacher at S. S. No. 7, returned with them. Miss Segsworth has taught in S.S. No. 7 for the past two years. On Friday, her pupils presented her with a pretty gift. Eva Graham, one of her pupils, wrote on her Entrance examination in Millbrook last week.

Mr. Reginald Sutton, teacher of, S. S. No. 5, had a class of five pupils who wrote on the Entrance examination in Millbrook. The members of the class were Doris Tinney, Mary Tinney, Verda Braithwaite, Dorothy Cobbley and Geraldine Wood.

Mrs. J. Hatherly and Miss G. Hatherly attended he Jersey Breeders' annual picnic at Field Lodge Farm on the shores of Rice Lake.

The W.M.S. and Women's Association of Cavan United Church will hold a quilting in the church on Thursday afternoon. Two quilts will be quilted; one for the W.M.S. sale and the other a quilt donated to the Women's Association by a member. This quilt will be sold and the proceeds added to the funds of the association. Each member is asked to bring one article of food and a pot luck supper will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coulter, Windsor, with their two children, motored from Windsor and visited Cavan friends. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Syer on Friday.

The Rev. J. E. and Mrs. Whitham and Master Francis motored to Toronto on Friday, Mr. Whitham returned on Saturday, but Mrs. Whitham and Francis remained for a visit.

Mr. Ray Staples, North Bay, is spending a few days in Cavan, arriving on Saturday.

In Passing Other Cars...Don't "Cut In"

One of the greatest dangers on the highway is the driver who insists on passing other cars when there is no space for him in the traffic line ahead. If he should meet a car coming in the opposite direction, a crash follows—with injury to persons or cars.

It's a good rule to keep in line, unless you have a clear view of the road ahead, and there is a place in the traffic line which you can reach before you meet on-coming traffic.

Don't be a nuisance by "cutting in". It is discourteous to other drivers and creates needless danger. You may have a crash . . . and even if you don't, you are liable to a fine under the Highway Traffic Act.

THE BATTLE AGAINST WEEDS.

The vigorous campaign instituted by the Ontario Department of Agriculture for the eradication of the weed evil is a warfare in which there should be no need of conscription and in which the farmers of Ontario should gladly volunteer to serve.

There is evidence that the campaign is making some headway, but much remains to be done, and too many farmers are still lukewarm or even hostile in their attitude toward the effort of the authorities to rid the Province of the damaging effects of noxious vegetation.

The damage done by weeds each year runs into the millions, and the wise farmer will gladly co-operate in every drive that will ensure clean lands and better crops.

Sometimes the task seems too difficult to undertake, but it has been proven that systematic and intelligent measures will win the weed battle, and if the farmers of the Province back up the authorities with vigor and determination there can be no doubt of the result.

SAFETY FIRST RULES.

Some admirable suggestions for safer driving were made in a recent broadcast address to autoists by J. F. H. Wyse, manager of the Ontario Safety League, whose advice has been regarded as important enough to justify its reproduction in pamphlet form by the Ontario Equitable Insurance Company as a contribution toward better conditions on the highways.

Mr. Wyse deals particularly with the question of level crossing accidents, pointing out, of all the preventable accidents those which occur at grade crossings are probably the least excusable, stressing the point that it should always be borne in mind that the odds are on the train.

With the promise of longer life for motorists, the following ten commandments are suggested by the manager of the Safety League:

1.—Learn to recognize railway crossings and approach them with extreme care.
2.—Look both ways and listen for trains.
3.—Be doubly alert if there are two or more tracks.
4.—Use good judgment at railway crossings and live to enjoy your automobile.
5.—Remember the care of your passengers.
6.—Keep your brakes properly lined and in good working order.
7.—Do not depend upon the driver of the car ahead.
8.—When in doubt take the safe course.
9.—Do not try to beat the train.
10.—Always cross level crossings carefully.

THE SAFE RESPONSIBILITY LAW.

Ontario motorists should be interested in the fact that the Safe Responsibility Law of Ontario is to come into force on the first of September, and that it will apply to all automobiles, motor trucks, trailers, motorcycles and tractors.

This legislation, passed at the last session on recommendation of Hon. Mr. Justice Hodgins as royal commissioner, will apply penalties only to those who bring themselves under it.

It is intended to encourage safe and careful driving and to penalize reckless or careless drivers.

Under the act the operator's license and his motor vehicle permit will be suspended until the holder has given proof of his financial responsibility if any of the following offences have been committed in Ontario or in any other Province of the Dominion of Canada or in any of the States of the United States; or if he has not paid any final judgment against him for damages caused to any person to the limit of $5,000 for one person and $10,000 if two or two persons have been injured, or to the property of another in excess of $100 and up to $1,000 arising out of a motor vehicle accident, whether such judgment be rendered against him in Ontario or in any other Province of Canada.

Following are the offences mentioned in the act:

Reckless driving if any injury to any person or property occurs in connection therewith.

Racing on a highway.

Exceeding the speed limit if any injury to any person or property occurs in connection therewith.

Failing to remain at or return to the scene of an accident.

Driving without holding a license.

Any criminal offence involving use of a motor vehicle which includes any conviction for driving a motor car while intoxicated.

The suspension of an owner's permit will apply to all the cars owned by the offender.

If damage be done to the person or property of others the operator's license or motor vehicle permit which has been suspended will not be restored until damages awarded by a court in Ontario or in any other Province of Canada have been paid. Payment of damages by instalments may be authorized by the court in Ontario which gave judgment. Proof of financial responsibility will also be required for the future.

GETTING NEAR THE LIMIT.

According to the Citizens' Research Institute, nineteen of the twenty-four Ontario municipalities with increased per capita arrears had increased levies as well.

"These figures," says the latest bulletin, "would seem to indicate that taxation in many of these municipalities is increasing at a greater rate than taxable capacity."

There is a warning in that condition that should not be lost sight of by civic governments.

As the institute points out, in progressive and growing municipalities enthusiastic sponsors of projects, working upon the rightful ambition of the citizens, frequently get their municipal governments to undertake some large work or to take on some new function without emphasizing the increased taxation which the citizens will be called upon to bear as a result.

When the project has been carried out and the citizens receive their bills their protests are meaningless and of no avail.

Modern cities must spend comparatively large sums of money annually in order to remain in the van of progress.

To obtain the maximum results from such expenditures contemplated improvements should be divided into those desirable and those necessary, and the latter should be carried out in the order of their importance, working to a key plan and a financial program.

Largely increased taxation caused by spending future as well as present municipal income tends to create municipal depression, tends to work hardship on citizens, and to handicap business and industry from which taxpayers draw their tax-paying ability.

1,300,000 COWS SUPPLY ICE CREAM.

Two years ago the United States Department of Agriculture interested itself in ice cream to the extent of measuring the appetite of several of the States for that delectable confect. If then ascertained that three States, Pennsylvania, California and New Jersey stood at the head of the list in per capita consumption with 4.98, 4.57 and 4.24 gallons respectively. These percentages more than doubled the 2.9 gallons for each person that formed the average consumed for the whole country. In 1928 the commercial ice cream makers turned out 348,000,000 gallons, reckoned to be the equivalent of 1,750,000,000 pounds. How important their business is to the dairy industry is disclosed by the fact that, in terms of whole milk, the product absorbed almost equalled the quantity employed in the manufacture of cheese and exceeded the quantity transformed into condensed and evaporated milk, commodities of world-wide distribution.

To supply the demand of the commercial manufacturers of ice cream required the total yield of 1,300,000 dairy cows during the year 1928 and how much more was taken by consumers who prefer the home-made product, has neither been recorded nor can be estimated. To the commercial manufacturers belongs the credit of having raised the demand for this delicacy from the position of an occasional luxury to be indulged in sparingly to that of a real and valuable article of food available at all hours of the day and night in every part of the Republic. Nor have the makers of small freezers and the producers of refrigerating units been slow to take advantage of the mounting popularity of ice cream. They have been equally alert in improving the mechanism and processes of domestic production and thus enlarging the demand for the raw material of this thoroughly established and favorite comestible.

Chief Reed of the United States Bureau of Dairy Industry recently claimed that the first newspaper advertisement of ice cream for public sale appeared in the New York Gazette of May 19, 1777. To Dolly Madison, wife of the President, is assigned the credit of introducing it to the White House—no wonder at the high place she holds among the gifted hostesses of the Federal capital. Ice cream has also increased the fame of Mrs. Alexander Hamilton by linking her name with the legend that she was the first to serve it at an important social gathering. Now-a-days cattle breeders, sanitarians, engineers, chemists, transportation experts and other skilled workers are pooling their efforts and resources to improve its quality and extend its distribution. The public, too, is being educated to appreciate a higher standard in ice cream and the hokey-pokey man of last century would find his market more restricted to-day. Modern youth would scorn the article he vended a century ago.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

VALUED QUALITIES.

The Farmer's Advocate pays a grateful tribute to the Mennonites, noted for "their good farms and good methods." "The Mennonites as a people brought with them to Canada a penchant for tidiness and thank goodness they have not lost it," says the Advocate, in an article the purpose of which is to show how, in spite of scientific methods in farming, the old essentials of industry and care are as indispensable as ever. Weeds must be destroyed, repairs effected to barns and fences, buildings and fields kept in good order, if success is to be enjoyed. Undoubtedly the hard-working, patient, methodical settlers from old Europe, whether they come from Russia or the central states, can teach us a lesson in this respect.

Those who have, in the rugged school of practical experience, learned the value of thrift and unremitting industry may be pardoned if they seem to set too much store on old ways and customs. They come out to us with their traditions—old fashioned, but worthy—and they find what seems to them to be wanton extravagance and waste. It takes time to get the more progressive viewpoint, the modern outlook, which discounts toil and enhances the value of mechanical aid. The essential thing to them is to get things done; they are too busy to bother overmuch with the social and intellectual refinements of a new land and people. But though it takes time, it can be done. The Mennonites are an example of what may be expected when an alien race, while preserving their own customs, adopt what is worthy in the customs of their neighbors. Crude eccentricities, such as those associated with some of the Doukhobor sects out West, are trying enough, but they cannot survive for long in the new and more enlightened surroundings. The children will clamor for the knowledge to be obtained in the schools and the obstinacy of the parents will perforce be overcome. In the meantime these well-kept homesteads and picturesque communities, with their old-fashioned standards of work and thrift, teach a valuable lesson. Modernization is not always synonymous with improvement.—Hamilton Spectator.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Miss Agnes MacPhail is to have only one opponent in Southeast Grey, which naturally improves the chances of the only woman who has ever sat in the House of Commons.

Premier King wore a ten-gallon hat at the Moose Jaw rodeo the other day. That rather overshadows the Conservative candidate in Peterborough West who wears a Peck hat.

Chicago has passed a by-law prohibiting the discharging of firecrackers within the city limits. Bombs and machine guns are not, however, covered by the legislation.

The announcement that Conservatives in Montreal are up in arms over the actions of the party machine there is the first news that the Conservatives in Quebec had any machine.

Britain leads the world in the manufacture of aeronautical materials—another proof that the Old Country is still up near the head of the parade.

New Jersey is enforcing a 1798 blue law. At that rate, prohibition will be enforced about the year 2060.—Chicago Evening Post.

COUNTY TAX RATE

The Editor,
Peterborough Examiner, City.
Dear Sir:

In quoting the County Rates for 1929 and 1930 a mistake was made. Instead of the rates 1929 being 14.763, they were 15.263, whereas the rates for 1930 are 15.233 or $302.28 less.

Kindly insert the correction, and oblige,

Your obedient Servant,

A Thought

GLORIOUS DUTIES

What reason have we to think any other station in the universe more sanctifying than our own? There is none, so far as we can tell, under the more immediate touch of God; none, when sublimer deeps are open to adoration; none murmuring with the whisper of more thrilling affections, or ennobled as the theatre of more glorious duties. The dimness we deplore no travelling would cure; the most perfect observatories will not serve the blind; we carry our darkness with us; and instead of wandering to fresh scenes, and blaming our planetary atmosphere, and flying over creation for a purer air, it behooves us, in simple faith, to sit by our own wayside and cry, "Lord, that we may receive our sight."
—James Martineau.

KEENE

Mr. and Mrs. McMillan with Miss Mary, Catherine and Dan, of Mt. Jewett, Penn., are at Rice Lake.

Dr. and Mrs. Wright drove to Toronto on Friday afternoon where the latter will join her sister, and proceed to Ripley to visit their mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nelson and their daughters, Marion, Isabel and Jean left on a two-months' motor trip. They will visit Oxbow and then at Shaunavon will be joined by their son Claude, who will if possible go on to Portland and Vanvouver with them.

Miss Kathleen Powel, of Duncans B.C., with Miss Marjory Reid, were in the village on Friday.

Master Dick and Miss Betty Jan Skinner, of St. Catharines, came on Thursday evening to holiday with their grandmother.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

THE GRINGO PRIVATEER

By PETER B. KYNE

Chapter 6.

"Well, if Art Graydon decides to put you on the payroll tomorrow you can probably by the practice of strict economy save enough out of your wages to buy a calf a month. After a thousand months of this—"

"One month, if you please, sir. Perhaps two, although I doubt it. Then Santa Claus is going to be nice to me."

"Do I look like Santa Claus?" the king demanded, with some indignation.

"Enough like him to pass for his twin brother, sir. I know how much a certain service, well performed, will be worth to you. I've looked you up and have discovered that you're a great hand to give good pay to a good man, so the day after tomorrow we'll discuss the disgusting details." He got up from the piano. "If you please, Miss Muriel, may I retire now? I'm tired and I'd like to have a good night's rest before tackling my entrance examinations tomorrow."

"Oh, if that's all that's bothering you," the princess replied generously, "it's soon settled. "We'll just waive the entrance examinations, Mr. Burney. Please sing the Prisoner's Song. It's so awful Dad loves it."

"We will not waive the entrance examinations," her father corrected her. "Don't you interfere with my program for Mr. Burney's future."

"I am taking orders from the king," Burney reminded her with mock coolness.

"Then go to bed," the princess replied cheerfully. "Thank you for a wonderful entertainment. Breakfast at nine. Good night."

Ken Burney and the king exchanged brief glances and Burney nodded almost imperceptibly.

"Good night, boy," said the king kindly.

When the king and the princess found themselves alone the girl asked:

"Dad, who is he?"

"He claims to be the son of old Felix Burney, a California cattleman of my acquaintance. If this be true (and I'm not going to take his word for it) he's an American with a slight strain—say one eighth—of Castilian blood in him. Just enough to give him temperament and make him carefree, easy and prodigal. His alleged father is one of the finest gentlemen in California. The old stock, you understand. Fifty years behind time with his code.

"I have always like old Felix but never knew he had a son. I loaned him money from time to time with his cattle as security and while I realized that as an operator, he wasn't a gilt-edged risk, still I could always send a man to count his cattle at any time and find more than the number he represented he owned when making the loan. This boy, Ken, says my lawyers closed in on him a year ago and took the cattle for the loan. Well, we were abroad then, Muriel, and I never knew anything about it. My head can't hold every detail of my business. However, if we took the cattle we gave him the best market price for them and remitted him the difference between the selling price and his debt. Of course, with his ranch unstocked, old Felix had to lease it to some other cattleman, and now Ken says he's retired, and the doctors tell him he hasn't many years to live. I imagine I'll be able to buy that ranch some day at a reasonable figure, particularly if this boy gets himself killed, which he's extremely apt to do

"How dreadful, Dad! I wouldn't like to see him killed," the girl remarked thoughtfully. "He's so young and merry and gallant and so filled with the job of living. He seems a trifle frivolous, but somehow, I think that's just a smoke screen to hide a lot of real courage and sound common sense. He strikes me as a gentleman who has been a sort of dilettante cowman."

"Oh, I imagine he knows cows well enough. He was brought up on the Santa Inez Rancho and they ran about three thousand head The trouble is old Felix spoiled him for dude that he is, he's a man, too. If the business raising him a gentleman and giving him too much money to spend. Why, the young jackass used to play polo. Now that old Felix can no longer support another gentleman in the family, the boy's broke and a wanderer in search of a riding job. Apparently he realizes that cows are the only thing in life he really knows anything about and it has occurred to him to cultivate his scant knowledge and forget polo. A wise decision."

"Are you going to employ him, Dad?"

"Of course I am. He needs a job, I have it to give and I might as well take a chance on him, for his father's sake, as on anybody else. But he's the country gentleman, even in his chaps, so for the good of his immortal soul I'm going to put him over the jumps tomorrow. The El Ranchito riders with whom he will have too associate will despise him for a dude—there's such a thing as blind class hatred, you know—until they realize he knows his business and that, he stays on old Geronimo ten seconds they'll know him for a rider and a game one. And that will help a great deal."

"But suppose he should be thrown and hurt?"

"Cowboy luck," the king replied indifferently. His father has been a cowman and had laid the foundation of the king's present vast fortune; although he had given his heir-apparent certain education and cultural advantages unknown to Grandfather Bardin's day, he had also raised Bradley Bardin a thorough cattleman, in order to fit him for his heritage and equip him with ability to add to it. And how well the old man had wrought the Western cattle world now knew."

The present king had started his practical education in the bunkhouse with his father's riders at thirty dollars a month, and had worked up slowly; in the process he had been thrown many a time and oft, and had broken bones to prove it, but it had never occurred to him in the pride of his youth, to avoid a horse just because the animal was disrespectful. He chuckled now as he recalled his own days a broncho twister. He was in a reminiscent mood.

"I'd been working for your grandfather give years, Muriel, and had saved and won at poker sixty-four hundred dollars when the old man got wind of my bank account and decided it would be fun to take it away from me. I think he was testing me to see if there was any truth in the saying that a fool and his money are soon parted, for he offered to bet me ten to six I couldn't ride a red roan outlaw we'd had on the ranch for five years. The best riders in the country had never stayed on that horse after the fourth jump and my father was very proud of that horse. He'd maintain anything and anybody that was a top-notcher in his own particular line, whereas if this outlaw had been a mediocre bucker Dad would have shot him to save feed.

"Muriel, this horse had everything. Why, he could wrinkle his back and throw a good man, but his specialty was whirling like a pin-wheel, simultaneously pitching high, hard and handsome so continuously he was a four-footed advertisement for the secret of perpetual motion. He just jarred you groggy and if he didn't throw you in the first four jumps you fell off. And I knew this because I'd tried him out in private twice—and in those days it required an extra bad horse to make me extend myself.

What To-day Means To You.

"CANCER"

If July 4 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 5 a.m. to 7 a.m., 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. and 11 p.m. to midnight. The danger periods are from 10.30 a.m. to noon, and 6 p.m. to 7.15 p.m.

The echo of your efforts on this date will not resound quickly, and you must not be impatient for results; every honest seed of endeavor will bear fruit.

The children born on this July 4 will be faithful, sincere, firm, just and reliable. They will possess steady, quiet and practical natures. They will be able to find an outlet for their talents in many departments of life, according to circumstances.

The adaptability of your nature is your greatest asset, it is the levelling influence in your life. Success in life is largely a matter of adjustment, and when one can accommodate themselves to people and conditions, as you can, half the battle of living is won. You are sensible and level-headed, and when you find that you have made a mistake, you do not become hysterical, peeved or unreasonable, but you calmly figure the best way out. You never lose your nerve at the time of an emergency, although you are usually "all in" afterwards.

You intuitively judge human nature very correctly. You do not often mistake a fascinating personality for a worthy one, charm of mind and manner for sterling qualities, or the enraptured attentions of a lover for the lasting kindliness desirable in a husband or wife.

You do not need outside stimulation or "bucking up," you are able to move forward spontaneously. You have an orderly mind and are a logical thinker. You will not be largely influenced by other people, either through marriage, partnership or general association. You have humanitarian views and a desire to do good. Your motives are not always prompted by self-interests, or by the returns expected. Your abilities in connection with religion or law are especially marked.

Trying New System

Every motorist and pedestrian will be his own traffic officer if this new system of traffic lights comes into general use in Toronto. The automatic signal works at the sound of a motor horn or can be operated by pushing a button, as is shown by the young woman in the above picture.

BETHANY

Mrs. M. Everett and son, of Washington, D.C., are visiting Mrs. T. Rowan and other friends in this district.

Mrs. O. Ury, of Beaverton, spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. T. Rowan.

Mr. and Mrs. Moorhouse are spending the holiday with Mrs. W. A. Brown, arriving on Saturday from Toronto.

Mr. Victor McCartney, of Cromwell, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. McCartney.

The Misses Sisson, of Toronto, have arrived home to spend the summer vacation with their parents.

Mr. Aubrey McCartney, of North Bay, is spending his vacation with his parents.

Mr. Lloyd Nesbitt, of Port Arthur, is spending the summer holidays with his father in the village.

Rev. Mr. Scott, of Perth, comes to Bethany this week to take over his new duties.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Fierheller and daughters, Gladys and Vera, left on Monday to spend a three weeks' vacation at Lake Simcoe. Rev. Mr. Fierheller will only be absent one sabbath from his pulpits at St. Paul's and St. Mary's during the holiday.

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake

RELIGION IN NATURE

I can see from my window, an oriole fashioning a nest which neither you nor I could possibly build.

It is woven of straws and bits of string, securely tied to a slender bough by a knot which no sailor-man could better.

Next winter, long after the young birds that grow up in my yard will be sunning themselves somewhere far South, the nest will still cling to its place, despite the furious gales that have blown in the meantime.

And these same orioles which built the nest will fly South and home again, as unerringly as ever Lindbergh sailed across the Atlantic.

From the same window I can look out on iris unfolding, each one sprung from a bulb that looks exactly like every other iris bulb.

Yet all the flowers are different.

My tiny Maltese kitten, born a few weeks ago, bristled on seeing for the first time, a puppy.

Instinctively he knew that dogs and cats are eternal enemies, though the puppy, too young to be savage, appeared to be quite friendly.

We behold a tree, beginning as a little seed growing up and extending its boughs in every direction, and behaving as every tree of its own species must behave in the way of bringing forth fruit or flower.

We see it draw from the earth, sometimes more than a hundred feet below, water to supply its leaves.

Scientists call that osmosis. Ask them what osmosis is and they will say that it is something that draws moisture through membranes.

Ask them why it is and they will not be able to tell you.

But I cannot look out of the window without believing that some power—some power with mind—set this universe going and that it all works together on one vast plan.

The procession of the clouds across the sky, the flow of rivers to the sea, and their return by airplane, so to speak convinces me that this earth was designed with vastly more care and intelligence than the most complicated machine ever produced by man.

I do not speculate on the life hereafter, or take sides in any religious dispute.

But how anybody can look at Nature—especially the scientist who can better comprehend than anyone else its wondres—and can still insist that it "just happened" is more than I can understand.

Shakespeare spoke a great truth when he said there are "sermons in stones and books in the running brooks."

FINANCIAL NEWS

BRITISH BANKERS' MANIFESTO SOUNDS KNELL TO FREE TRADE

Press Claims Cause Has Been Abandoned By Most Influential Defenders.

END CAME SUDDENLY.

LONDON, Eng., July 4.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—"This is the end of free trade in Britain," cries the Morning Post to-day in its editorial comment on the trade manifesto issued late last night by a powerful group of leading British bankers—a document which urged measures for the promotion of Inter-Empire trade and the conclusion of reciprocal agreements between the countries of the Empire.

"These men of affairs," says the Post, "while paying homage to free trade as the perfect world state, when considered in the abstract, now renounce it as an instrument with which to deal with the position in which this country now finds itself.

Abandoned By Stoutest Defenders.

"The free trade citadel has been abandoned by its stoutest and most influential defenders. The end has come suddenly, as it generally does, with an old and decayed structure, and it has come decisively."

The all-important sentence of the bankers' manifesto is considered to be that which says, speaking of reciprocal agreements between the Empire countries, "as a condition to the securing of these arrangements, Britain must retain an open market for all Empire products while being prepared to impose duties on all imports from other countries."

The lateness of the time of its issue was responsible for the failure of the Times and the Daily News, Liberal and free-trade organ, to carry the report of the bankers' recommendation in at least, their main editorials. All the other papers give the story prominence.

The Daily Mail points out that some of the signatories to the document supported Free Trade only four years ago and believes their conversion highly significant. The Mail is Lord Rothermere's paper.

The meeting of the bankers was presided over by Sir Eric Hambro, head of Hambro's Bank Limited, and among those attending were: Walter K. Whigham, of the Bank of England; Sir Herbert Lawrence, Glyn's Bank; Lord Ashfield and E. R. Peacock, of Baring Brothers; Beaumont Pease, Lloyd's Bank; Vivian Hugh Smith, of Morgan, Grenfell and Company; the chairmen of the National Provincial, the Westminster and the Midland Banks, and Lord Glenconner, Sir Alan Anderson, Sir Harold Snagge and Lord Bearsted.

FEW CHANGES MADE IN DAY'S TRADING

Brazilian and Nickel Are Little Weaker on Toronto Exchange.

TORONTO, Ont., July 4 (C.P.).—Stocks fluctuated idly in one of the most uninteresting sessions of the year on Toronto Stock Exchange today. With the American markets closed to-day and Saturday, and the Canadian markets also on holiday tomorrow, there was little incentive to take on new commitments, which was also a good reason for not trying to dispose of stocks.

Price fluctuations were without true significance. Mostly stocks were unchanged, but an odd issue here and there moved fractionally from its previous close. Brazilian and Nickel were two to draw back less than a point. Bell Telephone also made a small concession. Noranda was up slightly. Ford of Canada, Gypsum, Massey-Harris, the oils, Service Stations, Walkers were all unchanged.

DUTCH OPPOSED TO FEDERATION

Believe Ground Not Sufficiently Prepared For United States of Europe.

REPLIES TO FRANCE.

PARIS, France, July 4 (C.P.)—The Government of the Netherlands today informed the French Foreign Office of her belief that the ground had not been sufficiently prepared for a federation of European States, as recently suggested in a world-wide memorandum of Foreign Minister Briand.

Holland submitted a formal reply to the former Premier's proposal, which was made public to-day.

The Dutch officials expressed a lively appreciation of France's initiative, but suggested that further exchanges must take place before the project could proceed.

The memorandum submitted to-day expressed fear that such a federation might prove an embarrassment to the League of Nations and that continental grouping might in practice cause differences between the continents.

This, Holland feels, is the most difficult side of the problem that establishment of such a federation creates.

COUNTY MEETINGS ARE BEING HELD

Conservative Candidate Busy in Covering the Constituency.

E. A. Peck, Conservative candidate in West Peterborough, has commenced his round of meetings. On Wednesday night he addressed a gathering of over 100 Galway voters, to-night he has a meeting at Bridgenorth and his itinerary for next week includes a meeting at Villiers, Otonabee on Monday night and at Harmony Hall, Douro, on Wednesday night.

REJECT WHEAT POOL PLAN.

CANBERRA, Australia, July 4. — (C. P. Cable via Reuters)—The Senate of the Commonwealth to-day rejected by 15 votes to 12 the bill which would establish a compulsory wheat pool in an endeavor to stabilize the position of the wheat industry in this country.

BIG MISSOURI SELLS UP EIGHT

Issues Hover Back and Forth in Dull Trading on Mining Market.

ORIOLE SUFFERS.

TORONTO, Ont., July 4.—(C.P.)—Prices in the majority of issues hovered back and forth in dull trading on the mining market to-day, important price action being confined to a few exchanges across the border closed, interlisted stocks were quiet.

Oriole again suffered from lack of demand fo. the stock at higher levels, the price, after a short rally, standing off 13 at 77 at mid-day. Big Missouri, following receipt of a report from the west that an aggressive development campaign and the construction of a pilot mill was planned, sold as high as 77 and at noon was up 8 at 73

Falconbridge, which is at present preparing to increase production as soon as sufficient power is available, was up 18 to $270 but Sherritt Gordon and Sudbury Basin were off 5 each and Ventures a couple. Amulet gained another 2 to 47. Nickel was fractionally lower and Noranda up a quarter to $23.75. Trading in the golds was light with Hollinger off 15 to $5.75.

Nordon was again under pressure, dropping 6 to $1.03. Home Oil lost 10 to $4 and Calmont 3 to $1.08. Dalhousie up 5 to 95, showed the only gain in the oil group.

CHICAGO READY FOR OUTBURSTS

Expect Gathering of 10,000 Delegates of U. S. and Canadian Unemployed.

CHICAGO, Ills., July 4 (C.P.). — Five thousand policemen were ordered mobilized early to-day to prevent trouble feared at Communist demonstrations.

Acting Commissioner Wilcock ordered the mobilization when he received reports that a convention had been called for to-day of 10,000 delegates representing the unemployed of the United States and Canada. Every police captain in Chicago was ordered to be at his office promtly this morning. Reserves were to be kept on duty until all danger of disorder was over.

Little was known of the plans for the convention. Police believed there would be a gathering of some kind, but they did not know where. Use of Union Park for a demonstration was refused the Trade Union Unity League yesterday.

ARTICLE LXI

Q.—(2) Is a mining stock yielding 5 per cent usually to be considered a good buy?

A.—A mining stock yielding only five per cent. is not generally considered a good buy. The company would have to be building up a large reserve or sinking fund in order to make this stock attractive.

Under normal conditions, since the life of a mine is the most uncertain thing about it, it is obvious that a so-called investor reap something for the extra risk that he assumes. Yield is determined largely by the amount of risk involved.

Therefore a mine may yield 12 per cent. and be a good buy. Any mine should yield 8 per cent or more. If an investor gets a yield of 12 per cent. and applies the principle of amortization treating half the amount of his interest in payments as return of capital, at the end of about twelve years he has replaced his capital. If the mine lasts longer than twelve years he has increased his principal and made a good so-called investment.

(b) If you were offered stock in a new mine which on the surface appeared attractive, what inquiries should you make before purchasing?

A.—There are several inquiries to be made before purchasing the stock of a new mine. In order for it to have a chance of success, it must have a capable and honest management. Since an investor himself is not in a position to examine a mine, and even if he were, his impression would not be a correct one, it is important that the house sponsoring the issue be a reliable one.

Preferably it should be a mine in every sense of the word and not a mere prospect. It should have good ore reserves, and at least enough to last sufficiently long to work out an amortization plan for future dividends. It should be able to produce and market its product cheaply. If production figures are available one should calculate the earnings per share. However, the reliability of the house sponsoring the issue is of great importance. They would probably see to it that outside mining engineers and geologists examine carefully the mine before handling the issue.

Holding companies are safer because in a sense they apply the principal of insurance to mines.

The outlook for the mine in general and the future demand for the ore should be favorable.

JACK GUEST EASILY DEFEATS

In view of his Henley record and his winning time to-day, Guest is favored to win the great event, although his opponent Collett, was by no means the equal of Wright, the man Boetzelen had to vanquish.

If the German wins to-morrow it will be the second year in succession that a European has taken the Diamond Sculls. L. Gunter, of Holland, won last year, and at the time of his victory he said, "I'll come back next year if I'm not married." But Gunther got married and Henley saw him no more.

On the other hand, if Guest wins for Canada, it will be the third time in the sixty-odd years of competition that the Diamond Sculls will go to Canada. Lou Scholes of Toronto won the sculling classic in 1904 in 8 minutes and 23 seconds, which was not far behind the course record of 8 minutes 10 second, set by F. S. Kelly, the Leander Rowing Club. Wright's win in 1928 was the second time the Dominion took the honors.

Guest a Favorite.

The modest and popular Jack Guest of the Don Rowing Club, Toronto, has for three years been regarded as one of the leading "threats" by the English followers of the Diamond Sculls. In 1928 he reached the semi-finals, to be eliminated by his fellow-Canadian, Wright, and again last year he bowed before Wright in the semi-finals in a close and hard-fought match.

Wright's victory over Guest in 1929 was a much harder one than his victory of the previous year, and in the Canadian Henley last year Guest went a long way towards evening up the score when he surprised the followers of sculldom by beating "Young Joe."

The Guest of 1930 has been a Guest in even better condition and a man of more experience than the Guest of the other competitions. His practice rows have been admired by all the experts, and singularly enough he has almost consistently been favored by the weather man.

Guest was favored, too, by this year's draw. He drew a bye in the first heat. Yesterday he defeated his first opponent, Edwards, of Christ Church College, Cambridge, by the easy margin of 30 lengths, although Edwards came to the event tired by previous rowing in eights and fours.

His winning time to-day of eight minutes and 42 seconds, equal to that of Gunther, Holland, the winner of the final last year, and the fact that he beat the experienced Collett by more than ten lengths shows that the Canadian sculler is at the top of his form.

Lady Margaret Meets Pembroke

Lady Margaret College, Oxford and Pembroke College, Cambridge, will meet in the final for the Ladies' Challenge Plate, eight-oared event, tomorrow. In the semi-finals today, Lady Margaret's eight defeated Eton College by one and one quarter lengths in 7 minutes, 24 seconds, while the Pembroke college, Cambridge octette, defeated their namesakes from Oxford by a length and three-quarters, in 7 minutes, 21 seconds.

TWO ARE SLAIN BY LONE GUNMAN

Killer, Believed Fred Burke, Cooly Disappears in Detroit Hotel.

THIRD MAN WOUNDED.

Police to-day said the description of the man who shot and killed two Chicago hoodlums in downtown Detroit last night while hundreds of persons ran for cover tallied with that of Fred Burke, long sought throughout the country for the slaying of seven Chicago gangsters on St. Valentine's Day, 1929, the killing of a St. Joseph, Mich., policeman last winter, and numerous other crimes.

Whether it was Burke who stepped over to a parked automobile beside the La Salle Hotel, emptied his pistol and then sauntered into the hotel to disappear during the excitement was a matter of almost pure speculation; but officers said the slaying had several angles to recommend it as a Burke execution.

Beer Racketeers.

Those slain last night were William Cannon and George Collins, Chicago beer racketeers. Mike Stitzel, who was with them in the car, was shot three times and wounded critically. All three victims had police records. At the Receiving Hospital Stitzel said he had known Cannon and Collins only a short time, but police doubted this.

Officers said they believed the victims had been drawn to the scene of the shooting through a telephone call, and that the manner in which the executions were carried out indicated the shooting had been planned. Stitzel in his statement to the police said he believed it was a chance meeting.

FURTHER PAVING IS APPROVED BY

last week there were 117 employees on the oard of Works' payroll.

"We must put in sewers and drains and do anything to help the unemployment situation" said Alderman Cotton.

In Next Year's Program

In suggesting that Armour and Park Hill roads be paved, Alderman Phelan stated that this paving was included in the construction program for next year and in the face of present conditions he failed to see why it should be delayed until then. "The upkeep on the present road will offset the interest charges on the debentures" he declared.

Alderman Fitzpatrick said that unless conditions improve the city will have to assist the unemployed anyway. "If we are going to have to give relief, we should do it by giving the men jobs and have this road to show for our money" he maintained.

It was claimed by Alderman Tuggey that the paving company had not lived up to the terms of the contract that called for local labor.

Alderman Holland stated that the city should delay the paving in East City until next year when the preparatory work such as laying of storm drains will have been completed.

It was stated by Alderman Huffman and City Engineer Parsons that no storm drains were needed on the sections included in the motion, and any cross drains needed were always laid when the paving work was being done. Alderman Huffman, replying to Alderman Tuggey, stated that the paving company had carried out their agreement to the letter and that if anyone could point out a man on the paving job, who was not a keyman, then he would be fired.

When it was suggested by Alderman Phelan that the agreement for the new paving be given to the Warren Company, Alderman McNabb charged that some members of the Council "were playing into the hands of the Warren Paving Company."

"That's more grandstand stuff" replied Alderman Phelan, who pointed out that of three companies tendering on the job now being done the Warren Company's was the lowest.

Alderman Fitzpatrick suggested that a better price could be secured from the Warren Company since their plant was already in the city.

FINANCIAL BRIEFS

TORONTO, July 4 (Special to The Examiner).—Doors were open and the facilities for trading were there, but the public was not interested and the Toronto Stock Exchange might well have taken a holiday along with Wall Street to-day, if the first hour's trading was an example of what the day's session would develop into. Only a few sales were spread across the board and the space for the recording of transactions below each security was mostly blank, with the exception of a few figures denoting one or two stocks were selling ex-dividend. Prices were hovering around the level of the previous close and moving within fractional limits only. Cutting off or arbitrage business between Toronto and New York shot a big hole in the volume and what little public interest there is failed to make up for this.

Wall Street, closed to-day for the "Glorious 4th" is taking Saturday morning off as well, and the Canadian exchanges needed no further excuse to do likewise. The Toronto, Montreal and Standard Exchanges will quit with the closing gong this afternoon and resume operations Monday morning. The public has been more or less on holiday for weeks so far as participation in the stock market is concerned and a great many traders are out of the city on vacation at this time.

In a semi-annual survey, covering the first six months of 1930 Bongard and Company say: Canadian security prices have followed the trend of American security prices during the period. The average price of 20 representative stocks listed on the Toronto and Montreal Exchanges and Curb Markets was 43.8, January 2, 1930, as compared with a current average of 35.4 and a 1929 low of 39.4. At current prices these 20 stocks are now selling on the average of 11.8 times their 1929 net earnings and yield anywhere from 2.7 to 11.8 per cent. Speaking of commodities it is stated that up to the present there has been a much greater fall in wholesale prices than in retail prices. The bringing of retail prices into a more normal relationship with wholesale prices would be another important factor in increasing purchasing power and in business recovery. At present, the potential purchaser is not inclined to make larger committments in view of falling prices and will probably await some evidence of a reversal in the trend of prices or at least some signs of price stability. In this connection it is of interest to point out that in the 1921-22 price decline, prices continued to fall for some months after productive activity had turned upward. The whole price situation is one that could change very rapidly during the next few months and will be watched with considerable interest.

Shareholders of Loblaw Groceries Co., Ltd. will hold their annual meeting late to-day and the remarks of President T. P. Loblaw are bound to be interesting. In the fiscal year ended May 31, 1930, the company had the best year on record with sales showing a substantial increase equal to $1.39 a share on the combined Class A and B stocks outstanding contrasted with $1.09 in the previous period. Lower commodity prices naturally affected the dollar volume of sales but Loblaw Groceterias overcome this handicap to report sales the highest in history and the economics that were effected by the opening of the new warehouse on Fleet street was a factor in the increased profit. One of large American statistical organizations has recommended the shares of this company as having speculative possibilities.

QUAKES ARE CONTINUING ABOUT BENGAL DISTRICT

CALCUTTA, Bengal, July 4 (Canadian Press). — Reports to-day from Jalpaiguri, near Bengal, said earth shocks still were occurring in that vicinity, having been intermittent since the heavy quake of yesterday.

Several persons were reported injured and one large building collapsed completely at Rangpur. The Town Hall was damaged seriously.

At Malda several buildings including the new Civil Court and the District Board were damaged. The shocks continuing from early yesterday until nightfall.

FORMER OFFICER IN ROYAL NAVY ADDRESSES KIWANIS LUNCHEON

Ex-Lieutenant Taylor Explains Value of Directional Wireless in Great War.

GUIDED SHIPS.

The manner in which the British Intelligence Department coped with the German submarines during the Great War was the subject of an interesting address delivered to the Kiwanis Club at noon today by E. R. Talyor, of Toronto, ex-lieutenant of the Royal Navy.

Two hundred and sixteen officers of the wireless department of the Royal Navy were carefully selected in 1916 to compose the new Directional Intelligence Department of the British Secret Service, stated Mr. Talyor. The work of this department was shrouded in the deepest secrecy and it was aimed directly at gaining information of submarines and air raids.

Directional wireless, a new field which the British had brought up to the highest standard of efficiency ever attained, was the main source of this important intelligence. By this means the location of the German submarines were known exactly at practically all times and as soon as the zepplins took flight in an air raid the British were advised of their course.

Troop ships and supply ships were safely convoyed across the Atlantic by means of the intelligence gained through the directional wireless service. These convoys were constantly advised by the department of the location of submarines and were warned to keep away from the areas where the subs lay in wait.

Two directional wireless stations were located in Nova Scotia in 1917 and from these stations the movements of the submarines were conveyed to the convoys during their whole course across the ocean.

Sandy McDonald, of Toronto, noted entertainer and radio artist, entertained the Kiwanians with several Scotch songs and many humorous stories. Grace Hyndman, superintendent of the Canadian Chautauqua now playing in the city, was the guest of the club and thanked the Kiwanians for their assistance to Chautauqua.

WOMEN TAYLORS' WAGE SET

TORONTO, Ont., July 4. (C.P.)—Following a public hearing held here last night to inquire into the wages of women in the custom tailoring trade, the Minimum Wage Board urged that no female of 18 years or more, having one years experience in the industry should be paid less than $15.50 a week in Toronto and $1,250 in other cities in Ontario of more than 30,000 population. This was practically the only trade left to which the minimum wage law had not been applied, stated Dr. MacMillan, chairman.

HELPING TO BUILD A NATION

No. 2:—Grain Elevators: The Canadian Terminal System Limited, will have a total Elevator capacity of Ten Million Bushels when the Kingston Unit is completed.

New 4,000,000 bushel terminal elevator at Kingston

THE completion of the New Welland Canal has opened a new era in the transportation and storage of grain between the Great Lakes and the Atlantic seaboard. The larger boats that formerly transferred their cargo at Pt. Colborne or Buffalo may now proceed as far as Kingston, thereby effecting a considerable saving of time and transportation cost.

The need for terminal facilities at Kingston became apparent, and the Canadian Terminal System has arranged for the early construction there of a 4,000,000 bushel modern grain elevator.

The Kingston unit will be in a sound strategic position to handle the enormous trans-shipments which will be made at this point. In addition it will provide much needed storage accommodation at close proximity to Montreal relieving the periodic tie-ups which occur there.

2,000,000 bushel terminal elevator at Collingwood

IN an ever increasing volume the Golden Grain flows from the West. Despite the occasional off-season, the quantity has increased to such an extent during recent years, that greatly enlarged storage facilities at Georgian Bay ports have been required to handle the traffic.

A comprehensive study of the situation in 1928, led the Canadian Terminal System to erect a 2,000,000 bushel elevator at Collingwood which was completed and put into operation last Fall.

Of all the Bay ports, Collingwood offers from every standpoint a most favorable location and its selection has already been amply justified, for despite restricted trade conditions since last harvest, the earnings of the Collingwood elevators were fully up to the expectations of the management last year.

4,000,000 bushel terminal elevator at Owen Sound

A RECENT acquisition of the Canadian Terminal System, was the control of the Great Lakes Elevator Company Limited, operating a 4,000,000 bushel elevator at Owen Sound. This new unit has been in operation since 1925, when it was constructed with a 1,000,000 bushel capacity. Since then, keeping pace with the demand for grain elevator accommodation at this point, additions have been made, one million bushels in 1927, and two million bushels in 1929, bringing the total up to 4,000,000 bushels. This terminal is the last word in elevator construction, embodying all the latest improvements in grain handling. The success of this Company in the past four years could not be more vividly told than in its record of expansion.

overseas suffered from injury or disease, which prevents them from wearing ordinary footwear. Orthopaedic boots are made in the depots in the various provinces and for each man a special last is built up and maintained, with the result that renewals can be supplied without his personal attendance.

Yet another problem presented itself for there are many men in Canada in receipt of a pension for the loss of one or both eyes. Every exsoldier now possesses (in cases where one or both eyes have been lost) an artificial eye made to fit his own socket and a perfect match in color. He is issued with one or more and a model is retained at the main depot —Toronto.

When our men returned from the War, very few firms in Canada had specialized in the making of artificial limbs and the Department of Pensions realized the necessity of undertaking what was likely to be a very big problem. An Orthopaedic Depot was started and specially selected men, trained in the measurement and fitting of artificial limbs, engaged. A most wonderful service has developed, which enables a man, who had himself supplied with a limb in Halifax and thereafter moved to Victoria to have any adjustments or replacements made to his artificial limb without delay.

Returned men are in many cases unable to carry on their former occupations and these have been trained for other vocations and during the courses have been granted allowances, which enabled them to support their families. Hospitalization with allowance is given to all pensioners and in addition free hospital care is given to those pensioners whose circumstances would preclude them from receiving proper treatment, although disabilities cannot be directly traced to war service.

Permanent institutional care may also be granted to those pensioners who, on account of age and increasing infirmities and financial circumstances, are unable to care for themselves. These benefits to exservice men have all been designed to care for the obviously disabled soldier, but there is another class for which hitherto no provision has been made. These are sometimes called the "burnt out men," who passed through the war with no apparent disabilities and who when discharged seemed fit and well, but are now, as the result of the physical and mental stress and strain which they suffered, breaking down and prematurely ageing. The Prime Minister aptly explained in a recent speech that they are suffering from deferred reaction.

The War Veterans' Allowance Bill passed during the last session of Parliament, is designed to care for this class. Canada has already accepted the principle of placing on pension her citizens, who at seventy, lack means of livelihood. The Government realizing that, owing to the intangible results of the war, the exsoldiers have prematurely aged, considered that they should be pensioned at an earlier age than that required for other citizens. This age has been set at sixty, but there is a further provision in the Act, which permits younger veterans not permanently employed to obtain the same benefit.

Those eligible for the pensions conferred by this act include not only members of the Canadian forces but also His Majesty's Imperial, Dominion or Colonial Forces, or those of His Majesty's Allies who were resident in Canada prior to the outbreak of the war or who have continually resided in Canada for three years prior to the application for pension.

I shall not now go into the details of these allowances, but the results of this Act are likely to be far-reaching. The permanently disabled or unemployable veterans will be removed from the labour market and finances created for those soldiers, who can be employed, while the unemployment relief to pensioners will cease.

It might be of interest to hear of a very few of the activities of our Department of National Health, under the administration of Honourable Dr. King. The Child Welfare Branch was first organized in 1920 and the first work undertaken was a study of maternal and child welfare throughout the world. Voluntary organizations and private individuals from all parts of Canada had for some time considered that the best plan for advancing the general interest in Child Welfare through the Dominion would be by the establishment of the National Council of Child Welfare.

Our Department of National Health consented to preside at a conference, which had as a direct result the formation of the National Council of Child Welfare. This organization has accomplished a wonderful work and has our own Mrs. Charles Thorburn as its exceedingly capable president. It has had a tremendous influence in co-ordinating the many branches of Child Welfare work and has given individuals a strong body to which to appeal for advice and assistance.

Studies of infant and maternal morality were also undertaken by the Department of National Health for in both cases the mortality was regrettably high and attention drawn to the subject by reference in the House of Commons. A memorandum of maternal mortality was laid before the first conference of Medical Services in Canada in 1924 and on that occasion a resolution was passed requesting the Federal Department of Health to undertake a comprehensive enquiry into this serious problem. So much interest was aroused that active measures were undertaken by the provinces and with very practical results.

You have all seen the "Canadian Mother's Book" and the "Little Blue Books" which give us invaluable information upon the all-important questions of our homes and babies. It has always been a matter of never-ending surprise to me that a woman simply through bringing a child into the world should be expected to know everything necessary for its upbringing. I remember how carefully I studied the pages of Dr. Holt's: "The Care and Feeding of Children" before the Blue Books were available to all. What a blessing that we are no longer expected to know so many things by intuition. I was struck with the words of Mary Muldoon in the Canadian Home Journal—"It is the law of nature that women bear and bring forth children. It should be the law of every person to see that they do so in comparative safety."

The Department of Health is co-operating with other Departments and particularly with the Department of Agriculture upon the question of milk for mother and child.

Single Attire.

Just as a matter of interest to women readers, who are always interested in matters of dress, Canada's first woman senator appeared in a smartly simple frock of black and white printed goods, with a rather large hat of red straw, black one-strap slippers and atmosphere hose.

The vote of thanks to the Senator was voiced by Miss Mabel Clarry, in a few appropriate words. It was preceded by several short sentences from Miss Helen Doherty of Ottawa, who accompanied Senator Wilson.

The introduction of the speaker of the evening was made by Mrs. J. Forbes Allan, who, in a brief reference to her position as Canada's first member of the Senate, referred to the disgust with which those "delightful and charming but rather spineless and anaemic" heroines of Jane Austen's books would regard the lady of the present age who had the temerity to appear in an assemblage where men formed the majority in the membership.

Reference to the Senator's career was also made by Mrs. R. Harstone, who occupied the chair for the meeting. In opening the program, Mrs. Harstone spoke briefly on the issues in the present campaign, emphasizing as especially important to women the question of Empire trade.

J. J. Duffus, the Liberal candidate, spoke prior to Mrs. Wilson's arrival. He pointed out just how well the business administration of the Dominion had been carried on by the Liberal party and suggested that the proper recognition in the business world of a man who had made a success of his work was the retaining of that man in power. Such a recognition should also be accorded the party that had worked for the good of the people of Canada.

He referred to the condition of affairs in railway administration, when the Liberal regime took over the reins of office. At that time, the country was losing seventy millions of dollars annually. Premier King by placing Sir Henry Thornton at the helm, had saved this huge amount annually and put the railway of the country on a paying basis.

War Profiteers.

During the war years, the Dominion was put to a total expenditure of $1,270,000,000 and during that time, no money was collected for the country's coffers. The men who were profiting most by the conflict were not compelled to contribute a cent towards the expenses but rather enjoyed later the benefits of tax-free bonds; an instance, Mr. Duffus declared, of extraordinarily poor financing on the part of the Government of the day.

In the past five years, the Liberal government, said the speaker, had paid out $192,000,000 to returned men; it had reduced the annual taxes by $116,000,000, the annual debt by $268,000,000 and had spent $206,000,000 on current public works.

Speaking of unemployment, and the contributing factors in the deplorable wheat situation of the past year and the collapse of the stock market, Mr. Duffus scored Mr. Bennetts proposed remedies for the condition. His proposal to call Parliament together to consider the problem was ridiculous, he asserted, as Mr. Bennett knew that Parliament could not be summoned in less than forty days and furthermore, that during the past session, none of the Conservative members nor their leader had done anything towards remedying the situation.

"They are full of talk," Mr. Duffus declared. "There is no better talker than Mr. Bennett anywhere. But a man who is full of talk and not of deeds is like a garden that is full of weeds."

The proposition to go ahead with the St. Lawrence Waterways scheme as a remedy for unemployment was another impossible idea, as there were many complications, between the two provinces of Ontario and Quebec and between the United States and Canada, that must be settled before this could be done.

Referring to Mr. Bennett's apparent desire to restrain Canada from trading with any other nation, Mr. Duffus said that the Liberal policy of trade within the Empire would eventually make the different units of that Empire independent of almost any other nation.

In speaking of Old Age Pensions, he said that the Conservative party had given this matter scant consideration at any time in the past. It was the Liberals who had brought forward this legislation and put it into practice, whereby aged and indigent citizens might be independent in their declining years.

Joseph Wearing, the first speaker of the evening, referred in enthusiastic terms to the fine record in private and public life, made by the Liberal candidate, J. J. Duffus. Mr. Wearing spoke of the necessity of a blameless private existence in a public man, and of the manner in which Mr. Duffus measured up to all requirements in this regard. He also spoke of the candidate's fine record as a man of business and of the way in which he had conducted himself when a member of the City Cuncil and when occupying the Mayor's chair.

A number of ladies were seated on the stage, which was decorated with flags, ferns and palms. Miss F. Gladman played the National Anthem.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Ills., July 4.—With primary arrivals of wheat in the United States yesterday totalling nearly double those of a year ago and piling up on top of the big surplus of old wheat already awaiting an outlet, prices declined from start to finish. Pre-holiday evening-up of accounts failed to rally the market to any important degree. Harvest operations west and southwest were reported as making rapid progress with yields generally in excess of estimates.

Wheat closed heavy at the day's bottom level 1-3 82c a bushel lower than 24 hours previous. Corn closed 1-4—7-8c off, oats 1-4—3-8c down and provisions varying from 5c decline to an equal gain.

Cash Prices

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

WINNIPEG, July 4.—(C.P.)—Lack of export demand and a dull and featureless trade depressed wheat prices 1¼c to 1¾c on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday. Dearth of offerings probably held prices from declining further.

Broomhall reported an increase in part grain stocks in Europe, and private cables were authority for the statement that France's import requirements would be only about 40,000,000 bushels next season owing to a heavy carry-over. At Liverpool wheat closed steady at an advance of ¼d to ⅝d.

Fair demand for most grades of cash wheat held spreads generally unchanged to ¼c better. Coarse grain trade continued extremely light.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, July 4.—Bran prices were reduced $1 and shorts and middlings were lowered $2 per ton here yesterday. The prices became the lowest in years.

Another substantial drop in prices of new potatoes occurred yesterday. Both No. 1 and No. 2 grade became 50c per barrel cheaper, the former grade being cut to $5.75 and the latter to $4.50 per 160-pound barrel. Culls remained at $4 per barrel. There were ample supplies here, 43 cars of new Virginia potatoes being on track here. Supplies of old potatoes were few, but there was only a limited demand, commanding $1.75 per 90 lbs., in bulk. New potatoes from Ontario the first Canadian new potatoes this year, were due here next week.

The butter market held about unchange yesterday. Receipts were 499 boxes.

BUTTER AND EGGS

TORONTO, July 4.—There was a much better demand for Ontario, No. 1 butter on the local market yesterday, and about all of this grade on spot were cleaned up at steady prices, 27c to 27¼c. But buyers did not show any tendency to pay any higher prices than these for No. 1 Ontario. No. 2, especially top scoring No. 2, also enjoyed a fairly good demand, but lower grades were still rather draggy. No. 2 was quoted at 26c to 26¼c, with some poor quality selling even lower. Prices to retailers were unchanged at 31c for No. 1, and 30c for No. 2 prints.

Cheese

Cheese was steady at the low of the spread in prices previously quoted. Shippers were offered 16¼c for new, large; 16½c for twins, and 16¾c for triplets. Prices to retailers were steady.

Eggs

The egg market was quiet with the local demand just sufficient to take care of current receipts. When production dwindled lately, consumption seemed to dwindle at the same rate, and shipments have been hard to dispose of. Dealers were quoting graded eggs, free cases, at 29c for extras, 27c for firsts, and 24c for seconds. Country shippers were offered 27c for extras, 25c for firsts, and 20c to 21c for seconds, ungraded, delivered, cases returned. Retailers were offered supplies at unchanged prices.

Poultry

Poultry prices looked a little better on the new price list issued yesterday. Fatted hens over 5 pounds each were up to 20c a pound, alive, and over 4 to 5 pounds each brought in an extra cent, at 17c alive. Spring broilers were divided into three classes, and over 3 pounds each were up to 23c a lb. alive, over 2½ pounds to 3 were priced at 20c, and over 2 to 2½ pounds remained at 15c a pound. Heavy old roosters were up 2c to 14c per pound, but light roosters, over 4 to 5 pounds each, dropped to 8c per pound, alive. Young ducklings were again quoted and called for 22c per pound for white, over 4½ pounds, and 20c per pound for colored, live weight. Dressed poultry if in good condition would bring 3c to 4c more than these prices.

Teacher "Skinny" Nervous, Gains Pep 14 Lbs. in 3 Weeks

ST. AURELIE, P.Q.—"Was nervous, exhausted. So skinny, was embarrassed," says Miss Alphonsine Fortier, teacher. "Tried Ironized Yeast. Gained 14 lbs. in 3 weeks. Now healthy and happy."

Teachers, lawyers, doctors, nurses, mothers, ministers all write of gains of 5 to 15 lbs. in 3 weeks with new Ironized Yeast. Blemished skin clears. "Nerves," constipation, indigestion go overnight. New pep first day.

Ironized Yeast is two great tonics in one. Weight-building brewer's Yeast plus strengthening, blood-enriching Iron. Many times more effective than unmedicated yeast. Results in half the time.

Don't be "skinny," weak, nervous, in danger of serious ills. Take these pleasant little tablets. No yeasty taste; no gas. If not delighted with quick gains, manufacturer refunds money. Get Ironized Yeast from druggist today. Feel great tomorrow. New pounds quick.

GIVEN TWO YEARS ON FRAUD CHARGE

Vernon Fenn Appears in Campbellford Police Court and Pleads Guilty.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 4. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — The sequal to the arrest of Vernon Fenn, aged 24, of the Belleville district, was brought to a conclusion in the Campbellford police court on Thursday, when he appeared before Magistrate G. A. Payne on a charge of issuing a false check with the intention to defraud.

Fenn, who was arrested by the Toronto police on June 23rd, obtained eight gallons of gas, and one tire and tube from J. M. Brown of Hoards station, in the Campbellford district, giving payment by check amounting to $16.40 on the Bank of Nova Scotia, signing it O. W. Fenning. No such person as Fenning exists.

Pleading guilty to the charge, he was sentenced to one year determinate, and one year indeterminate in the county jail to run concurrently with his prior sentence, which was the same, thirteen months of which had been served.

Col. F. D. Boggs, the new Crown Attorney, was in attendance at the court.

OBITUARY

ROBERT J. ADAMSON.

The death of Robert J. Adamson of Otonabee occurred at his home yesterday morning after a short illness. He was in his 73rd year, and was predeceased by his wife ten years ago.

Surviving him are two sisters, Mrs. Walter Renwick, Otonabee, and Miss Sarah Adamson, Peterborough; three daughters, Mrs. James McFarlane, Otonabee, Mrs. H. Rodd, Indian Head, Saskatchewan, and Miss Marion at home; and five sons, Gerald, Keene; Gardner, Indian Head; and Ralph, Angus, and Elmer of Otonabee.

The funeral wil be held from the late residence of the deceased in Otonabee on Sunday at 2 p.m., to the Keene Cemetery, Rev. Mr. Hamilton, of the Keene Presbyterian Church, officiating.

JAMES QUINN

TWEED, July 4 (Examiner Correspondence)—One of Tweed's oldest residents in the person of James Quinn passed away on Sunday at his residence.

The late Mr. Quinn had been in business for 52 years in Tweed running a general store, and was respected by everyone as a true Christian gentleman.

He leaves to mourn his wife, Miss Mary at home, Dr. Charles of Schenectady, N.Y., Jean, of Toronto, Mrs. Munro, of Toronto, Stan, of Rochester, Rev. Sister Mary Shiela, of Chesterville and Ray at home. One sister also survives Mrs. Quinlan.

The funeral was held at St. Carthaga Church on Tuesday morning at nine o'clock. The funeral mass was sung by the Rev. Father Quinn assisted by the Rev. Dean O'Riordan.

WILLIAM McKEOWN

BONARLAW, July 4 (Examiner Correspondence).—The funeral of the late William McKeown was held Tuesday from his late residence on the 10th Concession of Rawdon Township. Mr. McKeown was 64 years of age and had been in poor health for the past year, but was only confined to his bed for one week. He will be greatly missed in this community, where he spent most of his days. He was a man of sterling character, a true Christian, a devoted father. He was the eldest son of the late Thomas and Katherine McKeown. His wife, Agnes Linn, died last September.

He leaves to mourn his passing, four children: one son, Thomas, and three daughters, Mrs. Herbert Solmes of Rawdon, Miss Minnie of Hamilton, and Leah at home.

The funeral service was held at Rylestone Church and was conducted by Mr. A. G. Bently of Toronto, assisted by Mr. Bunt and Mr. Lawrence. The pall bearers were Andrew Thompson, Charley Stewart, George and James Gibson, Howard and Stanley Finch, all neighbors of the deceased.

The many floral tributes spoke of the high esteem in which he was held. The bereaved ones have the sympathy of the entire community in the loss of a devoted father.

DR. OWEN O'NEIL UNFOLDS HISTORY

ler, uncle of Dr. O'Neil, for the golden sovereigns which were sent him by the Boers to keep him quiet and peaceful at home; and a picture of the same king using his newly given rifle to make living targets of his mighty warriors.

It was a strange and cosmopolitan accent that brought these word pictures home to his hearers. In this clear concise voice of Dr. O'Neil lingers traces of many an ancestral blood stream. It has the cultured cadences of the English universities: it bears at moments more than a strong resemblance to the rich brogue of Dublin; it has the thickened occasional consonant that betrays a Dutch strain and it includes also, oddly enough, a strong and rolling Scottish burr to the r's and more than a trace of Yankee twang.

A Vivid Story.

It was not a sensational lecture. The subject matter provided the brilliancy while the speaker relied on a clear and convincing delivery and the presentation of facts gleaned from life, to capture the attention of his listeners. It was one of the most interesting lectures of the many outstanding oratorical efforts that Chautauqua annually presents, partly because of the intense fascination that the Dark Continent exerts over people of its own and other lands, but mainly because of the quiet eloquence and force of the speaker.

Dr. O'Neil related the story of his own experience when, his car stranded in a drift, he went in search of help from a Boer kraal. Here, a woman worked in the sweet potato patch, but her husband still lay in bed, at high noon. Queried as to the reason for this, she told the narrator that the baby which had arrived to her on the previous night had kept her husband up late and excited him to such an extent that he required extra sleep on the following morning.

Fifty-two millions of Kaffirs, which in Arabic means "the bad ones," but in colloquial terms signifies only the races of kinky-haired peoples, dwell in Africa, the dwellers south of the Equator being vastly superior to those north of the line. They practise witchcraft and polygamy. Their sources of wealth are derived from gold, goats, cattle, and women, in that order. A pound sterling will buy three goats; five goats will buy one cow, and five cows will buy one woman. A Kaffir's wealth is bound up mainly in his wives and daughters., who have a distinct marketable value. An aged Kaffir to whom the speaker went to bid farewell, before leaving Africa on this tour, the possessor of sixty-two wives and over two hundred and seventy children, told the doctor that he had hopes for a very prospefous spring, as he expected thirty-two new babies in that season.

A Kaffir woman's good looks are measured by her obesity and the length of her finger nails. Women with double chins are regarded as vastly more attractive than thinner examples of femininity.

Massacres Constant Up to 1836.

For his listeners, Dr. O'Neil traced the arrival in the Cape of the people who were later to be known as the Boers, a Dutch word meaning simply "farmers." Later, their exodus into the hinterland became necessary because of prohibitive laws which hampered the progress of a freedom-loving people. Their massacre by the Zulus and Basutos was constant up to 1836, the year of the "Great Trek," and it was ancestors of the speaker who were among the survivors of that terrible holocaust.

Dr. O'Neil's grand-uncle, one of the early settlers of their desert oasis home, lived to be one hundred and seven, always remaining a bachelor. His own father, "Slick Dick O'Neil," as he alluded to him, had twenty-four children, twelve boys and twelve girls. From their home to the Portuguese coast, the nearest place where supplies might be procured, was two hundred and twenty miles, representing a trek by oxen of months in length.

An Eye for a Pair of Trousers.

On the return of his father from one of these long absences, Dr. O'Neil was presented with his first pair of trousers. In the fight which ensued between himself and his little Kaffir playmates for the possession of these marvellous garments, the speaker lost his right eye, cut through by the stroke of an assegai or spear, with resulting blindness and deafness on that side, throughout his life.

His uncle, Oom Tuys, was the only white man who gained the friendship of the savage and cruel King Buno of Swaziland. Oom Paul would send Oom Tuys yearly with two thousand golden sovereigns as the price of peace between the king and his white neighbors. The king, lying naked in the sun on a huge rock called the King's Couch, would wrestle in friendly fashion with Oom Tuys for possession of the gold. It was Oom Tuys who brought the king his first rifle and took with him at the same time the little boy who was later to be Dr. O'Neil, to make the presentation. Then the king pressed into service his two guests, the older man and the boy, who were compelled to join with him in the sport of shooting down many black warriors, to test out the new toy.

Friendly With King.

Later, Dr. O'Neil became friendly with the old king, and with his successor, his mother, the huge black woman, Queen Labotsibeni, who was over six feet in height and weighed three hundred pounds. She mourned for the days when peace was unknown and when men were warriors who simply reached out and took what they wished, in corn women or cattle. The wife of the old king, Queen Traneen, was successor to her mother-in-law, and now her son is paramount chieftain of Swaziland. It was with a message from this man that matched in verbal fire the whole address that Dr. O'Neil concluded his lecture. In it, the king of Swaziland, quoted in his own mental language by the speaker, who then translated into English, mourned the advent of the Christian nations; the Boers, the British, the French and the Portugese. Speaking of the hate which the natives felt for them, he asked: "Why do you come to teach us wrong that you may punish us? Can you not bring to us a civilization that is like the sun, that will stand to us for what is good and not for our undoing and the demorlization of our women?"

Musical Program.

A septette of brilliant singers, the Metropolitan Artists, provided the musical keynote for the afternoon lecture of yesterday. With brilliant, smoothly toned voices, they sang and played in pretty costumes. Among other lovely numbers, they gave the beautiful Blue Danube Waltz of Strauss, the memorable Sextetite from Lucia and concluded their vocal program with a melange of old melodies that included Auld Lang Syne, In the Gloaming, Sally in Our Alley and Home Sweet Home. To the music of the last old favorite, one of the men recited a monologue about the old home, entitled 'It Takes a Heap of Livin' in a House to Make it Home."

The pianiste of the group, Miss Dorothy Jones, played very brilliantly Chopin's Revolutionary Etude and a bright encore number.

Most Miles Per Dollar

FIRESTONE now announces another new tire—again built in advance of today's car requirements. This new Firestone Heavy Duty Gum-Dipped Balloon surpasses in strength, in toughness, in traction and in wear-resistance, any tire that even Firestone ever built before.

This new tire provides a wide margin of safety at any speed on any road. It has a deeper tread, extra sidewall thickness and scientific construction of alternating plies of live cushion gum and Gum-Dipped cords. Two extra plies of Gum-Dipped cords just beneath the tread absorb road shocks — Firestone engineering and design give you a wide margin of safety for fast driving.

At every Firestone Dealer's, you can recognize the new Heavy Duty Balloons by their magnificent construction and by the gold stripe that stands out against the ebony black sidewalls. See your nearest Firestone Dealer to day.

ALDERMEN WANT HOSPITAL ACT CHANGED FIRST

Nicholls Hospital By-law is Discussed By Finance Committee.

Four Civic Representatives.

Bill For $1,199.57 Received By City From Government For Weed Cutting.

The request of the Nicholls Hospital Trust that the City Council pass a resolution endorsing the agreement reached between the two bodies came up last evening before the Finance committee. The agreement was, according to the letter from the Hospital Trust, that a by-law would be put to the Protestant ratepayers for the securing of finances needed for the proposed addition to the hospital providing the Trust could secure legislation giving the Council representation on the Hospital Board.

After considerable discussion, during which it was pointed out that now was the proper time for the submission of such a by-law, a motion was passed advising the Hospital Trust to procure the necessary legislation allowing four representatives of the Council and the Mayor on the Hospital Board and later the Council would confer with the Board as to the by-alw.

Entitled to Protection.

Alderman McNabb stated that if the Board desired the citizens to vote the Hospital $300,000 then the citizens should have a one-third representation on the Board "The citizens are entitled to protection and representation," he declared. "If the people put $300,000 into the hospital they will have just as much in it as the Nicholls Trust."

The suggestion that the people were not fairly represented on the Board drew a reply from Alderman Macdonald, who said, "I think the members of the Board are fairly elected by the churches and are very representative of the churches.

Aldermen McDonald and Huffman moved the motion which carried unanimously.

The bill from the Highways Department to the Council for $1,199.57, the city's share of the cost of cutting weeds, shovelling and maintaining repairs on the highways, was not received with favor. It was the general opinion that the Ontario Government should bear this expense and not saddle it upon the municipalities. However, it was pointed out that the Council had nothing else to do but pay the bill and it passed without further comment.

LADY LAWN BOWLERS HONOR DEPARTING PRES.

TWEED, July 4 (Examiner Correspondence)—A luncheon on the greens of the local Bowling Club was held here yesterday with five mixed teams of Deseronto bowlers as guests, at which occasion was made to express regret at the loss of the President of the local organization, Mrs. W. A. Donnelly who is leaving Tweed in the near future. The luncheon was served at 6 o'clock following what was declared to have been a delightful afternoon's sport.

Among the speakers who expressed the feeling of the loss which the club would sustain in the retirement of Mrs. Donnelly was Mrs. D. H. Morrison who spoke of the faithful and conscientous manner in which Mrs. Donnelly had fulfilled her office. Mrs. H. E. Wager presented the retiring President with a silver cake-basket. Dr. Bowlby and F. Hindle also spoke.

Conservatives Get Together In Prince Edward-Lennox

PICTON, Ont., July 4 (C.P.)—Consolidation of the Conservative ranks in the constituency of Prince Edward-Lennox has been announced. Both Brigadier-General B. E. Hepburn and John Hubbs have agreed to retire in favor of a candidate to be named at a special rally next Monday.

On June 19 General Hepburn defeated John Hubbs for the nomination at the regular convention. Some time later Mr. Hubbs announced his intention of contesting the seat, expressing displeasure with the methods of selecting a candidate.

John Weese, ex-Warden of the county, is now named as the probable choice of Monday's meeting.

LAD DROWNS IN CANAL.

IROQUOIS, Ont., July 4.—(C.P.)—Becoming frightened when the wind blew his raft out from shore, John Savor 10, leaped into the Galop Rapids canal yesterday and was drowned. A number of other children were playing nearby but like John were unable to swim and could offer the drowning lad no assistance.

SPACIOUS CHENHALL CRUISER IS COMPLETED FOR LAUNCHING

Trim 22-Foot Cabin Craft Designed and Built by Owner and Friends.

MAKE 10 MILES PER HOUR

This evening the Otonabee will see the launching of as trim a craft as is likely to navigate local waters this season, when Martin B. Chenhall, Jr., commits his new 22-foot cruiser to the mercy of the waves.

In six weeks, idle curiosity-seekers, gazing into the sombre interior of Lancaster's Garage, next to the White and Ackford Machine Shop on George street, have seen rise from a single beam of California red wood—laid down as the keel on the 20th of May—a sturdy but graceful vessel with a 7-foot beam, a 3-foot draught, and spacious cabin accommodation affording all the comforts of modern life. The boat was entirely designed by Mr. Chenhall and constructed by him with the willing assistance of a quartet of his friends.

"I've been playing with the idea for years," declared the builder, looking up from the cockpit, "but I finally got the brain-storm when I was driving down to Toronto at Easter. The roads were crowded; it was hot; and the congestion was terrible. I decided then that I was going to get off the road and take to the water."

Built Model Craft

Declaring that his only previous experience in boat-building has been in the construction of model craft, Mr. Chenhall points with pride to the fact that, without the aid of a steam-press, he warped the wood of the hull by "muscle power" to fashion the present flowing streamlines, and by dint of prodigious labor stretched the canvas over it to a drum tightness.

There is sleeping accommodation aboard for six people—three in the forward cabin and three in the covered deck aft. Eight portholes will admit air and light into the cabin, which has a head clearance of over 5 feet with a space of 8 inches between the floor and the hull as a safety margin in case of damage to the outer shell. There will be generous covered storage space forward, and cupboards for food and utensils will be installed subsequent to the launching.

In the wildest waters, civilization will be on tap at the turn of a dial, thanks to the radio receiving set which is being installed in the cabin.

Mr. Chenhall stated that there is space for makeshift sleeping accommodation for 3 additional people and that in day-time cruising he believes the vessel will carry as many as 30 passengers. This, he added, cannot be accurately determined until after the launching. The craft is estimated to weigh slightly over a ton with all equipment.

The cruiser is powered by a rebuilt 22 h.p. Ford Model "T" Marine Engine—"about as good as there is," according to Mr. Chenhall. Two 8-gallon gasoline tanks give the vessel a cruising radius of upwards of 150 miles. The cruising speed is expected to be 10 miles per hour, with a possibility of developing 15 miles per hour. A skag-protected iron propeller made in the White and Ackford shop, will provide ample propulsion.

Stand Rough Weather

Sturdiness and seaworthiness are the outstanding features of the vessel. "She will stand rougher weather than we are liable to get around here," said the builder, admitting that a possible future trip down the St. Lawrence and into the waters of the Atlantic had prompted him to provide an ample margin of safety. He plans, however, to confine his cruising to the Trent Waterway this season, although he may go into Muskoka. He and several friends will live on board throughout the summer.

The frame of the vessel is of oak, and the planking is of British Columbia fir, all supplied by the McDonald Lumber Company. "There is not a knot in the boat," declared the builder proudly.

The prow is constructed of a "natural knee" from Pigeon Lake—wood which Nature has fashioned into a perfect prow-shape of superb resiliency as the tree grows out over the waters of the lake. The mast will consist or a 14-foot cedar, also from Pigeon Lake.

Christened "Tumart"

The craft will be christened the "Tumart", a name coined from combining the Christian names of Martin Chenhall, Jr., and his father. "Dad did the paint-job," said the builder, "and it's no easy one when seven coats are needed." The color scheme is white on the hull, with a brown superstructure.

"We were going to use champagne for the christening," declared Mr. Chenhall, "but we were afraid the paint would come off."

The economy with which the craft was constructed is one of its features. By dint of perspicacious management, the total cost of the job without counting the furnishings will amount to about $200. The engine alone, which retails for $400, was obtained by Mr. Chenhall in Campbellford for $10. Reconditioning and parts brought its costs up to $40.

The lighting of the vessel will be generated from the motor. A Ford headlamp has been transformed into a satisfactory spotlight. Next year, Mr. Chenhall expects to install a unit generator, developing 110 volts A. C., 60 cycles, which would permit the operation of such modern refinements as an electric refrigerator.

Still Chops Wood

Former Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany still indulges his propensity for manufacturing kindling out of blocks of wood. He was snapped here by the cameraman in a jovial mood during a slight pause in his labors in the grounds of his place of exile at Doorn, Holland.

Death Car on Ill-Fated Train

Illustration, taken the day after No. 4 train of the C.N.R. plunged into the Vermillion River, near Capreol, shows how completely the tourist coach, with its cargo of drowned children, was buried in the sand. Three days' intensive work by railroad engineers was needed to retrieve the car.

SUE HASTINGS HERE SATURDAY

Children Will Have Special Program Given Saturday Afternoon at Chautauqua.

ADULTS INVITED.

The children of the city will have a program all their own in the Chautauqua tent on Saturday afternoon, when Sue Hastings and her Marionettes will provide the entertainment.

Adults, as well as juniors, like these animated dolls that make for so much fun and amusement. So Sue Hastings invites everyone; young and old, all who are inspired by the magic of the Peter Pan spirit of never growing old, to come tomorrow afternoon and have a jolly time with her and her delightful little wooden fairies who do almost everything that a real human can do.

They are tiny things of only eighteen inches in height, manipulated by dozens of strings; yet they walk and talk, sing and dance and act.

There is a lovely Russian beauty, a ballet dancer, in the group, a quintette of fierce Russian soldiers, and a group of Chinese puppets who perform a short piece called "The Gooseberry Mandarin."

The show commences with a three-act Peter Rabbit playlet on a miniature stage. A clown and dog provide further entertainment.

Through the many generations that have been made mirthful by Punch and Judy and their collaborators, the puppet show, a thing whose origin iis lost in antiquity, has done its bit to add to the jollity of mankind.

Sue Hastings' Marionettes round out the splendid Chautauqua program of this season with just the requisite touch of relief to the lectures and musical entertainments that are proving so entertaining to their patrons.

"No, son, I wouldn't think of commercializing our beautiful friendship."

IF THE FRATERNITY REALLY SAID WHAT IT MEANT

"Dear Tramp:

"As is our custom, we are asking you to come back for Homecoming. Now don't get swell-headed. We don't give a darn for your company. We are doing very well without you.

"But we need jack. The house is too small and we need a new one. You have been selected as one of the yaps who would be most likely to fall for the soft soap racket. We don't like you, and your stories are worse. We hate to put up with your long winded tales of the days when you were in school. But we need the dough, so we'll try to put up with you for two days.

"Ever,
"The Boys."

MINISTER HONORED BY WARSAW PEOPLE

Presentation is Made to Rev. H. B. and Mrs. Herrington—Going to Orillia.

WARSAW, July 4 (Examiner Correspondence).—The Rev. H. B. and Mrs. Herrington and Miss Lucille Herrington were the recipients of gifts on Wednesday evening before their departure to Orillia.

James Hawthorne who was chairman for the evening spoke of the difference between the lives of the farmers who were born and brought up in the same place and of the minister who is moved every few years. T. Clements read a short address and David Miller presented Mr. Herrington with a handsome club bag from the congregation.

From the choir Mr. Batten read an address to Mrs. Herrington thanking her for her interest in the choir and for her willingness to engage in work of any kind. Miss Olga Miller presented her with a counterpane.

Gerald Payne, from the Star Class, read an address to Miss Lucille Herrington as one of their number who had always shown interest in the class, and Hannah Sharpe presented her with a dressing table set.

Each replied thanking the givers for the gifts and expressing appreciation for what had been done for them during their stay in Warsaw. A note of appreciation was received from the members of the Baptist Church thanking Mr. and Mrs. Herrington for their work.

The following program was given: song, "Danny Boy," by Henry Batten; recitation, W. S. Anderson, "The Calf on the Lawn" and "Ben Burnap's Barn;" duet, Messrs. Batten and R. Payne, 'Oh Land of Love'; selection by the choir, "Just for You;" piano selection by Mrs. Roland Payne, "Meditation."

A pleasant social hour was spent following the program and refreshments were served.

REVIVAL SERVICES ARE WELL ATTENDED

Representatives of Faith Mission of Great Britain and Ireland at Havelock.

HAVELOCK, July 4 (Examiner Correspondence)—The Revival Services which have been carried on in Havelock Gospel Mission Hall during the past ten days by Messrs. Garner and O'Neil of the Faith Mission of Great Britain and Ireland, is rapidly increasing in interest and large numbers are in attendance each night.

The two missionaries joined in a united service in Knox Presbyterian Church on Sunday, the Rev. J. Lennox having charge and Mr. Garner preaching the sermon.

Following the service it was discovered that almost a hundred people had been unable to get in the church so another service was held in the Mission Hall. The services will continue all week and will again have charge of the service in Knox Church on Sunday evening.

POLICE SEEK VISITORS WHO FIRED AT WOMAN

London Woman and Children Have Close Call as Bullet Breaks Windshield.

LONDON, Ont., July 4 (Canadian Press). — County police are scouring the district for a party of Americans, one of whom, it is alleged deliberately shot at Mrs. Mary Richards, of Manor Park, and her three small children. Mrs. Richards was driving home when she saw a car coming wildly along, swaying from side to side of the road. When it was close to her a man reached out and fired a revolver. The bullet crashed through the windshield just above her head, and her children in the rear seat were showered with glass.

Marmora

Crops never looked better in the Marmora district than at present. A great deal of alfalfa was cut last week. Timothy too is showing great promise, although it is too early to predict the possible yield of oats the farmers are everywhere saying that there will be more than the average the surface, appear to be thriving.

Mr. R. D. Murray spent the week-end at Shannonville

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Phillips visited Coe Hill on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Harris and family visited relatives at Trenton on Sunday.

Until the first Sunday in September Sunday evening services at St. Paul's Anglican Church are being suspended.

Mrs. R. Gordon and daughter June, of Detroit, are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bedore, for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Simmons and family, of Niagara Falls accompanied by Mr. Dave Simmons, of Toronto, are visiting relatives in this district.

Marmora Community Band journeyed to Bancroft on Tuesday to take part in the celebration there. Before leaving they played a number of selections on Forsyth street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Barlow and family, of Welland are renewing acquaintances in this district.

Miss Lulu Gray, nurse-in-training at Oshawa General Hospital, is visiting at her home in Deloro.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Linton and daughter, of Peterborough, spent Dominion Day with Mrs. Linton's parents Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilkes.

BEATTY ELECTRIC WASHER

ENJOY THE SUMMER WITH YOUR CHILDREN

Chesterfield Lamp

Perhaps you would like this beautiful lamp instead of the wash-day extras. The wooden base and upright are highly polished and are of the popular walnut finish. The bridge arm is adjustable and is ornamented with fancy fretwork of original design.

Lamp shades are the latest in style. They come with fancy trimmings, lined and interlined with attractively colored, high-grade silk. They are covered with georgette and are finished with metal and silk fringe.

You may have this fine lamp FREE, ask for it when you buy your Beatty washer. It is valued at $20.

Stove and Oven

This is an electric stove with a detachable oven. It is fitted with two separate heating coils, and power regulators.

This is just the stove for the warm weather, it does not heat up the room.

Buy a Beatty Washer and we will send you this fine premium when we deliver your machine.

Beatty Copper Tub $169

Only $1.00 down—Terms $1.95 per week—4 wash day extras FREE—On one electrical premium (lamp or stove or cooker) and one Wash Day Extra FREE.

The Beatty will wash your most delicate woollens in 3 or 4 minutes and keep them like new. The gentle water action will clean them thoroughly.

The Beatty has a wonderful wringer. It is very strong and can be swung to several positions. The quick release automatically releases the pressure and stops the rolls.

The smooth-as-glass copper tub is especially durable. It is nickel finished. Trade in your old washer for a new Beatty

With summer here and hot weather at its hottest, you do not want to be bothered washing over a tub. The countryside, the beaches, the garden and the verandah, are calling you away to enjoy the Sun High Season with your children. Wash day in summer is even more dreadful than it is in other seasons. But the mother who owns a Beatty Washer does not dread summer washings.

The whole week's washing is done "all by power in just one hour." Start at 8 and by 9 all the clothes are on the line. The rest of the day is yours.

During this sale we are giving FREE three special premiums. And our popular wash day extras. The customer may choose the Chesterfield Lamp or the Cooker and Basket or the Hotplate, as he desires. Or he may have any four of our wash day extras.

Beatty Wood Tub $99

Only $1.00 down—Terms $1.25 per week—One electrical premium (lamp or stove or cooker) and one wash-day extra FREE.

The Beatty Wood Tub has a vigorous washing action. It carries the clothes back and forth through the water 100 times a minute.

The tub is of the best B.C. fir. The motor operates a strong direct drive mechanism. There is no belt to slacken and slip. The lid is of aluminum and will not rust. It is equipped with our best wringer.

White Cap Washers $89

Only $1.00 down—Terms $1.25 per week. Four wash-day extras FREE, or one electrical premium and one wash-day extra FREE.

This is a rebuilt washer. It is one of our own make and uses the dolly method of washing. It is guaranteed just like a new machine.

This dolly method of washing is fast and efficient. Yet it is gentle with the clothes. We have rebuilt washers as low as $49. Come in to see them.

Beatty BROS. LIMITED

WHEN YOU BUY A BEATTY YOU BUY THE BEST

Electric Cooker and Picnic Basket

You may have these two articles FREE when you buy your new Beatty Washer. The Everhot is a combination fireless cooker and thermal jug. It heats from an electric socket, as does an iron.

With the cooker goes the Picnic Basket. The stove will carry the foods to be kept hot or cold, and the basket the fruits and cakes and sandwiches. Both these articles are for use at home, or camp, or picnic.

Crookston

On Tuesday evening the Ladies' Aid of Bethesda United Church held a social evening at the church, to which they had invited the Fuller W.M.S. The program was supplied by the visiting society and was well rendered and the various numbers were enjoyed by all. At the conclusion of the program the Bethesda ladies served dainty refreshments and a pleasant social hour was spent.

On Wednesday, July 2, the Bethesda Sunday School will hold its annual picnic in a grove on the premises of Mr. Ward Holland.

On Friday evening last the L.O.B.A. of the Downey Lodge held a lawn social on the White Lake Church grounds.

Mrs. J. E. Flett and son, Donald, left Saturday to spend a few days in Toronto.

Mr. James Chambers, of the drug department of the T. Eaton Co., Toronto, has returned home after having spent his vacation with relatives in Crookston and vicinity.

Mr. H. M. Wood spent a day or two of last week at the International Sunday School convention in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt. Emmerson and son, Edward, and family spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Thomas Emmerson.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mullet spent Sunday at Crookston.

Mr. Robert Chambers, of Moose Jaw, is visiting his mother, Mr. William Chambers, after an absence of several years.

Miss Alice Heasman is in Toronto where she intends taking a short course at the Toronto University.

Miss Ethel Frame has returned to her home in London.

Miss Mary Cowan spent the week-end at Moira Lake.

Miss Annabel Downey is spending her vacation at her home at Crookston.

Mr. Henry Mullet, of Crookston, received word last week of the sudden death of his sister-in-law, Mrs. John Mullet, of Drinkwater, Sask. The late Mrs. Mullet was a native of Hastings County. She leaves to mourn her loss a sorrowing husband, also two sons and one daughter. One son, Harriston, is on the medical staff of the United Church in Chengtu, China.

TRENT RIVER

The opening of the game fishing brought heavy tourist traffic through this district. In the early morning hours many motor boats were passing up and down the river.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Hutchison, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson, of Toronto, are guests at Cedar Isle.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rose and Miss Ethyl, of Toronto, were at Ye Olde Mill for over the opening.

OUR CHILDREN

WASHING THE DISHES.

There is more trouble about washing the dishes than that little job is worth.

"It's your turn to-night, Meg."

"It is not. I did them last night. You try to get out of them every single time. Mother, make him do his dishes."

"Children, stop quarreling. If it's your turn Dick you have to do them. You're no better than anybody else. We all have to take our turn at disagreeable things. Now go on and don't bother me any more about it. It does seem to me that such a thing as this ought to be done without a squabble every single night."

It should be. Do you know why it isn't? Because somebody has made dishwashing a low down job, a mean job, a degrading job. You did it when you said that 'you're no better than any body else." You did it when you called some houseworker a 'pot - wrestler' with disdain in your tones. Nobody wants to do a job that is scorned by the "better people."

Washing the dishes ought to be lifted to the place of honor. Then up it goes. Remember when grandmother would not trust her china and glass to the rough hands of servants but had a pan of water, towels, soap, hot water and trays brought to her in state so that she could care for her cherished belongings with the reverence she felt for them?

For one thing it might be well to have dishes for which there was something of that old feeling of regard. Speak of them as valuable and cherished possessions. Allow children to handle them. Make it a privilege. Use pretty ones, family heirlooms, interesting ones and make washing them something of a ceremony.

Divide the work. Classify it. Have plenty of hot water and white soap, dish towels and dish rags. Pots and pans are to be washed by themselves and the person who does them does not do the dishes. If the children were taught to do the dishes first, with no mention of the pots and pans until they had learned to do dishes as a routine matter, the task would be far easier. And the pots might be a bit more attractive at that. A boy will scrub a pot or kettle to make it shine, will take pride in a row of polished pans and kettles, when he cannot be bribed to wash a chipped granite pot. I would always polish a copper pot with all cheerfulness but I never could thrill over a dingy iron one or a battered veteran of tin.

There is some dishwashing for every one of us. We adults know that and we try to prepare children for it by making them do their share of the household tasks. Grade that job according to the child's maturity. Never put the whole burden on him at once.

The younger ones must be led to do the work by easy stages. Making the work attractive is essential in the beginning. Keeping it on a high level is the second essential. Speak respectfully of the work. If your table service is what it ought to be you can do this with a glad conscience. Boys should be trained for emergency duty only. Their field lies in the household management, in its finance rather than its details of routine. Unless the dishwashing has been put on an educational basis it is useless drudgery. Perhaps that is why there is trouble in your household at dishwashing time.

Cotton Georgette is New Fashion Fancy

Nothoing is cooler than cotton that can be laundered to make it fresh. The newest member of the cotton family is cotton georgette, and it has been printed into fascinating small designs, as the samples in the Vogue sketch at the RIGHT ABOVE show. The bit in the upper corner has conventional daisy pattern worked into light and dark blocks in shades of blue. Below this is a geometric column design in navy blue on a white ground. The centre sample has tiny white flowers printed on a red background. And the last shows an irregular star accented with dots. The dress sketched is an admirable model for cottons of the sheer variety. It is edged with contrasting binding and its sleeves, jabot and hem-line are scalloped. On the LEFT ABOVE is a photograph of a charming creation of cotton lace. (Sketch is by Vogue).

Rounded Corners

Make this sanitary pad inconspicuous under filmy gowns

WARM days. Clothing reduced to a minimum. Then is when women really appreciate Kotex.

Kotex, you know, is the sanitary pad with rounded, tapered corners. It really fits. Not a revealing outline can show, even when worn with your very lightest clothing. And Kotex deodorizes, safely and completely, assuring you utmost daintiness at all times.

Stays comfortable for hours

Kotex is so comfortable, too. Bulk and weight are unnecessary because Kotex is so very absorbent. The air-cooled layers of Cellucotton — not cotton — absorbent wadding keep Kotex light and comfortable though worn for hours. Kotex Company of Canada, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

KOTEX DEODORIZES

1—By a special process, Kotex keeps one dainty and immaculate in trying summer weather.

2—Safe, secure ... keeps your mind at ease.

3—Kotex filler is far lighter and cooler than cotton, yet absorbs 5 times as much.

4—In hospitals ... Kotex is the identical material used by surgeons in Canada's leading hospitals.

Kotex—60c for 12—at any drug, dry goods or department store. Kotex Super-Size—75c for 12

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

DO YOU KNOW that home makers in Peterborough and district who want handsome lace dinner or luncheon cloths or bed spread can make them at small cost and in a short time?

• • • • • • •

The article will be exquisite if carefully executed. The ornamentation is of delicate applique.

• • • • • • •

The materials required are fine handkerchief linen and a high grade of net. The latter may be hexagonal, octagonal or square mesh.

• • • • • • •

It is very essential to make sure that the weave is very fine, not coarse, as in much of the filet embroidered lace.

• • • • • • •

The quantity needed will vary according to the size of the table, and whether the cover is a luncheon or dinner cloth, or the spread is for a double or single bedstead.

• • • • • • •

Th amount of applique will also gauge the quantity of linen needed.

• • • • • • •

The more delicate the appliqued motifs are the more beautiful the finished article will be. Some of the pieces of this sort that are found in shops are marvellous in their delicacy picturing deer with spreading antlers and trees with branches and leaves of slender traceries.

• • • • • • •

Others have holder designs and it is wise for the worker to use the latter style at first.

• • • • • • •

• • • • • • •

By cutting the material on a fold wide enough to allow for the hem and the ornamental border and by positioning this hem about the net foundation so that design portions come exactly below and above each other, a reversible cloth is made.

• • • • • • •

This is the choicest kind. It is precisely alike on both sides. There really is no right or wrong side and if the design is not too fine, this recommended.

• • • • • • •

If but one side is to have the decorative applique, allow double the width of the hem for this portion and enough more for the design to be cut in one with the hem.

• • • • • • •

Position on the net so that the turned in under portion of this hem comes a little below the line where the pattern starts on the right side.

• • • • • • •

In each instance the stitches holding the applique in place are run with very fine cotton or linen thread, close to the edges. If preferred the edges can be whipped, that is, felled down.

• • • • • • •

If the design is double, the stitches whether running or whipping should go through both linen portions. The stitchery should be as nearly invisible as the worker can make them.

Celebrate 25th Wedding Anniversary

An interesting event was marked on June 28 when the Hon. James Malcolm, former minister of trade and commerce in the Mackenzie King government, and Mrs. Malcolm of Kincardine marked their 25th wedding anniversary. Two of Mr. Malcolm's achievements in governmental life have been the creation of the National Research Council of Canada and the revisions of the Canada Grain Act. Before her marriage Mrs. Malcolm was Miss Ethel A. Swan of Kincardine.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

TWO MEALS A DAY.

I had a patient once who told me he get along nicely with two meals a day.

'Of course,' he said 'I eat a little fruit at night before retiring—perhaps a dozen oragnes, or half a dozen bananas. This was his idea of a little fruit.

An acquaintance who was getting extremely heavy told me one day that he never ate any lunch, hadn't eaten any for years, and was unable to account for his overweight.

On three occasions I saw him getting a little 'snack' at lunch time, which consisted of two chocolate eclairs and three glasses of milk.

Now that isn't a real heavy lunch, but if you were to count the number of calories or food units in that meal it would run into the hundreds.

I believe that one of the reasons for overweight in many indivudlas is that because they restrict themselves to two meals, they eat a great amount of food at these two meals, or what happens almost as often is that because they eat only two regular meals a day they feel justified in eating a snack of something about 11 o'clock in the morning, 4 o'clock in the afternoon, or before going to bed.

On every side are places of refreshment of one kind or another—the soda fountain, the tea rooms, the ice cream parlor and other places.

Now if they were to reckon up what they eat at these places by counting the calories, they would find that they had actually consumed as much food as they would eat at any one meal.

Some one working on the calorie count of the food in these shops has estimated that a glass of milk is nearly 200 calories, a serving of ice cream 500 calories, a pint of chocolate milk shake about 500 calories, a chocolate bar 400 calories, and so forth.

Now when you remember that the average adult only needs 2000 to 3000 calories in a day (unless he is a laboring man) you can readily see how easy it would be to take on 600 to 800 calories—equal to one meal—without even thinking about it.

I've no fault to find with youngsters eating extra food at 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. if it does not spoil their appetite. A growing child needs more food in proportion to his age than an adult. He needs food for energy the same as an adult, but he also needs food for growth.

The thought then is that if you are working on the two meals a day idea, that you cut out all 'extras' if you want results. These extras may easily have the same food values as a meal.

AT MADOC

The Anglican Church of St. John the Baptist has erected a new bell during the week, which was rung for the first time for morning service on Sunday, June 29th.

News reached here on Sunday evening of the accidental drowning of the 8-year-old son of Mr. Lapalm at Black Creek, Bridgewater. Mr. Lapalm was making a call in Cooper, and left the two boys to swim in the creek. When he returned, the boy was drowned. The body was recovered in about an hour and was prepared for burial by Mr. E. C. Tufts of Madoc.

Mr. Charles Hill of the Hydro-Electric office, Toronto, is spending the holiday with his parents in Madoc.

Hubert J. Nickle is spending a week at his home in Madoc, owing to the lack of steel at H.E.P. Camp No. 2 near Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis and Miss Barbara of Toronto are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hulin of Madoc.

Miss Margaret Nickle of Belleville is spending the summer holidays at her home in Madoc.

Misses Hazel and Laura Ross, Marjorie Ellis, Thornton Love, and Margaret Nickle are camping for the week at Ozone Park, Moira Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Nicol and family are moved into camp at Cottage Cove, Moira Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Gatley Reynolds and Master Ewart are camping at Moira Lake for a few weeks.

LIGHT OPERA FESTIVAL GOES OVER BIG AT CHAUTAUQUA

ENSEMBLE WORK FEATURE.

The audience left no doubt as to its reception of the Light Opera Festival last night in the Chautauqua tent. The applause was frequent, spontaneous, and prolonged. The encores were many.

The company, consisting of seven, under the direction of George E. Mulvaney, warmed to its audience as the evening progressed, and had the satisfaction of making a decided hit on the second night of the Canadian Chautauqua's five-day program here.

Tabloid versions of four favorite light operas comprised the main body of the program last night. The costuming was colorful and the backdrops executed with an evident eye for atmosphere.

The Light Opera Festival Company's version of the Sigmund Romberg operetta success of a few seasons ago, "The Student Prince," opened this section of the bill. All the hits of this tuneful production were presented, together with enough of the dialogue to outline the plot.

Clog Dance Hit Number.

Franz Lehar's pre-war triumph "The Chocolate Soldier," based on a Shavian libretto from "Arms and the Man," provided the second offering. The famous "My Hero" waltz proved popular with last night's audience, but the hit number of the act was the clog dance which Mr. Mulvaney had evidently transplanted from Victor Herbert's "Sweethearts."

Following the intermission, the company did their tabloid edition of Rudolf Friml's Broadway success, "Rose Marie." Judging from the reaction of the crowded tent, the hit number, "Indian Love Call," has lost none of its appeal despite constant repetition during the last five seasons.

The concluding act on the bill consisted of another and more recent Romberg opus, "The Desert Song." Effective lighting and costuming added zest to the finale. In this and the preceding act, two members of the company resolved themselves into an unusually clever comedy team.

The absence of a list of dramatis personae on the printed program rendered impossible the recognition of individual artists except where announced from the footlights. The ensemble work of the company, however, was the feature of the evening.

A cathedral scene constituted the program's introductory number, featuring several well-known hymns and anthems. The entr'acts were supplied by solos before the curtain by the ladies of the cast. Esther Mulvaney's "Be a Good girl" from the Herbert opus, "The Fortune Teller," scored heavily.

James Evans, Canadian Chautauqua's official, spoke during the intermission, stressing Chautauqua's service to the various communities to which committees of public-spirited citizens brought its tents.

Lecture To-night.

This evening's program includes a musical hour by the Garay Sisters, youthful musicians, and the long-heralded lecture on "Mussolini and the Blackshirts," by Tom Skeyhill, the Australian.

To-morrow afternoon the children will have their innings with Sue Hastings' Marionettes, and in the evening the second play, "Pollyanna," will be presented.

T. L. CHURCH NOMINATED

TORONTO, Ont., July 4. (C.P.)—T. L. Church, K.C., Conservative Member in the last Parliament for Toronto northwest, was last night nominated to contest the riding of Toronto west centre for the Conservative party in the forthcoming election.

Mr. Church, who resigned from contesting the northwest constituency after R. J. McNichol had been officially chosen to represent that riding, polled 218 votes against 14 secured by Alderman John Boland who opposed him for the nomination.

Ferguson Denies Charges Regarding Newsprint Price

TORONTO, Ont., July 4 (C.P.)—"That's about the size of Peter's politics," observed Premier Ferguson to-dy in reply to Hon. Peter Heenan's statement that northern development funds are being used for Tory political purposes.

Premier Ferguson denied the charge emanating from Washington that the Provincial Governments are responsible for the high price of newsprint.

"The Ontario Government has nothing to do with it," said Premier Ferguson.

CLOTHING FIRM RE-ORGANIZED

Will Feature Super-Values in Men's and Boys' Clothes and Furnishings.

MAHERS LIMITED.

Men who must dress well without paying fancy prices will be interested in the announcement of the incorporation of Maher's Limited to trade in Men's and Boys' Clothing, Hats, Caps and Furnishings. This new firm, situated at 188½ Charlotte street, is a development from Maher & Wesley (Clothiers) who dissolved partnership recently, Mr. Wesley retiring.

M. J. MAHER
President and Manager Maher's Limited.

Maher's Limited is headed by M. J. Maher (intimately known as Joe), who has had a life-long experience in the men's clothing trade. He was first associated with the Army and Navy Stores in Toronto, and Grafton & Co., Peterborough; then in business here in partnership with the late Mr. Laing, following whose death Mr. Maher served two years as assistant in Robert Simpson & Co.'s clothing department, Toronto. He next travelled two years for the wholesale trade, subsequently accepting the appointment as manager for Oak Hall, Peterborough. When Oak Hall closed their stores Mr. Maher organized the clothing business on Charlotte street, known as Maher & Wesley, now reorganized on a solid basis under the Limited Liability Act as Mahers Limited.

With substantial capital, greater buying power and low overhead expenses on Charlotte street, this reorganized house is promising to go the limit in giving low prices for high values in both ready-to-wear and made-to-measure garments. As to tailored-to-order work, Mr. Maher says his policy of "greater values for less money" will assure the utmost satisfaction — in fabric, workmanship, style and prices.

Maher's Limited invite attention to their introductory sale values on another page.

CITY PLAYGROUNDS WILL OPEN MONDAY

Supervisors Have Been Appointed and All is Ready For Opening.

The city's summer playgrounds situated on the Central School grounds and the King Edward School grounds will open for a period of six weeks on Monday morning. The Central grounds will be under the supervision of Howard Macdonald and Ruth Sutton and the southern grounds will be supervised by Alex Rogow and Clare Patterson.

The playgrounds were innovated seven years ago and have gained a popularity among the youngsters of the city more than justifying their existence. They are operated by the Board of Education and are in charge of James Abraham, chief supervisor.

Activities at the grounds include softball tournaments, horse-shoe pitching, kindergarten work, sewing and checkers among many other forms of diversion for the children. Twice a week the children at the grounds are taken for a swim at Inverlea Park.

Due to a rigid adherence to safety first rules no accident of any seriousness has occured during the seven year's operation of the grounds. All children of the city are free to make use of the facilities at will.

GEORGE ST. CHOIR PICNIC AT COBOURG

At British-American Hotel Fine Dinner is Served to Seventy.

The members of the George Street choir with their friends enjoyed their annual outing at Cobourg on Dominion Day. Though weather conditions were far from ideal in many sections, yet no disturbing elements in any way interfered with the party at the beach. By 9.30 a.m. most of the well-filled cars had left the church, and were speeding their happy occupants toward the Lakeshore town. At the British-American Hotel a well-prepared dinner was courteously served to seventy or more hungry individuals. From there the pleasure-seekers repaired to the beach, where for a time they enjoyed the lake breezes, while the wee tots revelled in the sand and even ventured to dip their toes in the somewhat chilly waters. Later on a program of sports was run off, under the direction of Messrs. Kenmure and Ridyard. After the games and races, those in charge of supper arrangements soon had the tables prepared, and a tasty repast was again enjoyed. Before leaving for home, many of the party enjoyed softball games. To Mr. Cunningham, the choir president, and many others who in various ways assisted, great credit is due for the success of the picnic. The results of the races are as follows:

Boys' race—1, J. Ridyard; 2, J. F. Ridyard.

Ladies' balloon race—Miss Thelma Millyard.

Ladies' shoe race — Miss Lilian Naish.

Ladies' 75-yard dash—1, Miss Lilian Naish; 2, Miss Thelma Millyard.

COMPLICATION OF TROUBLES ENDED

"I was in a weakened, run-down condition for 4 years with a complication of troubles, but Sargon straightened me out and I don't know when I've felt better than I do now! My stomach and liver were disordered, my tongue was coated and I was a victim of constipation. The little I ate gave me indigestion and I felt bad all the time. Seven bottles of Sargon ended all my ailments, my entire system is in a strong, healthy condition and I feel good from head to foot!

"Sargon Pills stimulated my liver in a thorough, natural way, and gave me complete relief from constipation."—John Rahilley, 98 McCaul St., Toronto.

Maple Leafs Are Soundly Trounced by Redwings

BEARS BEATEN BY JERSEY CITY IN WILD GAME

PRUDHOMME HIT HARD.

Skeeters Score Three in Ninth to Set Back Newark.

The Newark Bears and Toronto Maple Leafs have met with momentary check at least in their efforts to improve their positions in the International League standings.

The Maple Leafs who had won five straight games and advanced into third place in the standings, fell before the Rochester Redwings, 10-1. Newark, owner of a four-game winning streak under its new manager, Al Mamaux, surrendered to Jersey city in a wild game 10-9 and dropped back into seventh place, a full game back of the Skeeters.

Bob McGraw's pitching was responsible for Toronto's set-back. McGraw gave eight hits, widely scattered and never was in serious trouble. The Redwings on the other hand, pounded Johnny Prudhomme for eight hits, including two triples and a double and six runs in the two and one-third innings he lasted on the mound. Graham checked the Redwing bats but Page, third Toronto hurler, was battered for seven hits and four runs in his four innings of duty. Martin and Collins led the assault for the Leafs with three hits apiece.

Three Runs in Ninth

Jersey City scored three runs in the last inning to turn back Newark after a hectic contest. Wera's single to left after two were out scored Selkirk with the run that won the game. Jim Faulkner pitched to only one batter in this frame but was charged with the defeat. Each club made thirteen hits but Wera was the batsman able to get as many as three hits.

Baltimore maintained its half-game lead over Rochester by whipping Reading 3 to 1. Beryl Richmond and Dick Warnecke battled for six scoreless innings before the latter weakened in the seventh when Dick Barton clouted a homer with one on. Reading scored a single run in the eighth but Baltimore quickly neutralized this counter with one of its own in the last half of the eighth. Warneke allowed only six hits and struck out eight before he was lifted for a pinch batsman in the eighth.

BOWL CAPTURES LEAGUE HONORS

Beat Harrison's North-enders 11 Runs to Six in Soft-Ball Game.

FIELDING IS GOOD.

In one of the best displays of softball this season the Sugar Bowl team batted their way to an 11-6 triumph over Harrison's at Central School grounds last evening, and incidentally cinched the City Softball League honors for the first half of the schedule.

Spectacular fielding by Gillespie at centre, Dallin at left field and Westbrooke at third were the outstanding features of the Candymen's play. The former displayed unerring judgment in reaching out for fly balls, and was responsible for retiring five of the opposing team. Five strike outs also went to the credit of Forsythe, whose splendid pitching received good support from his colleagues.

Westbrooke on third retrieved a fly ball from beyond the ropes, off Playford's willow, and received the plaudits of the spectators for his alacrity. Dallin did equally well at left field, managing to catch two men in a row who had "flied" to the boundary.

In addition to his contribution as fielder, Westbrooke made two home runs, one in the third and his second in the seventh. He had a lucky break in the ninth innings almost being nailed at second. Showing his speed he sprinted down to third, the ball following close on his flight—but too late. He then came romping home on an overthrow, after which a little discussion ensued as to whether or not he had touched the bag at second. The umpire gave the decision in his favor.

Playford in centre field and Smith at first played great ball for the Sunoco boys, the former having several nice catches. Montgomery, twirling for Harrison's squad had five strike outs and pitched great ball throughout. With better support he would easily have turned in a win.

Score by innings:

ATHLETICS BEAT YANKEES 5 TO 4

Babe Ruth is Able to Play in Spite of His Injured Finger.

RAIN HELD UP GAME.

The American League opened its intra-sectional play a day in advance and as usual, Babe Ruth was the most important figure in the Yankees' one-day stand at Philadelphia. The Babe, injured painfully the previous afternoon, insisted on having his crack at the Athletics, but he could not win the rain-interrupted game. The final score was 5 to 4 in Philadelphia's favor.

The Yankees touched Rube Walberg for an early lead and still had the edge, 3 to 2, when rain held up action for nearly an hour. But the champions managed to skid around the slippery base paths for three more runs soon after play was resumed, and Moye Grove stopped the New York rally. Henry Johnson, despite his wildness, held the Athletics to five hits, but the champions bunched them all in two big innings and received the benefit of a couple of Yankee misplays at Costly moments.

The result sent the Yankees on to Washington 3½ games behind the A's and 1½ back of the second place Senators.

Softball Notes.

To-night's battle between Harrison's and C.G.E. has a most important bearing on second place in the league standing. A win for Harrison's will give the C.G.E. four losses and put them in second place with the Belmont Club. If the C.G.E. win, however, they will have a good chance of winning second place. There is only one game left in the first half of the schedule, a postponed game between Westclox and C.G.E. This game will in all probability have to be played to decide the winner of second place.

With so much at stake tonight softball fans can look for a good battle. The game starts at 6.30 o'clock and will be played at Central School grounds.

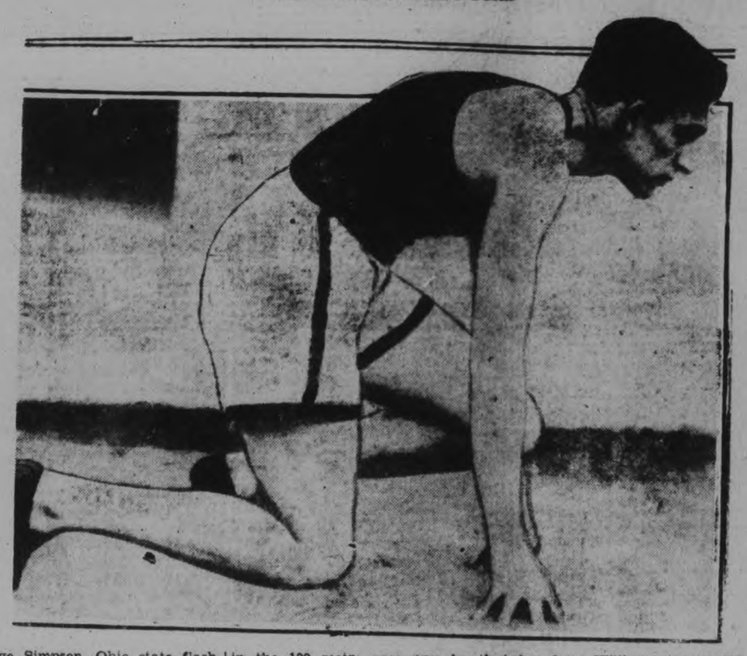
Ran Second to Eddie Tolan



George Simpson, Ohio state flash, who ran second to Eddie Tolan in the international sprint event at Vancouver when the Olympic champion finished third. This was in the 100 metre race won by the Michigan negro in record time, 10 1-5 seconds. Simpson, who was beaten by three feet, came from behind to snatch second place by inches from Williams, in the 220-yard dash Simpson defeated Tolan in 20.6 seconds, tying the world's best time for the distance. Williams didn't start in the furlong event.

EVEN TRAIN STOPS FOR BOBBY JONES

NEW YORK, July 4.—A misunderstanding between Cyril J. H. Tolley, former British amateur golf champion, and Bobby Jones, new wearer of the crown, held up the Broadway Limited for two minutes today as the golfing stars of two continents searched frantically for each other a dozen block apart.

Over in the Grand Central Station Tolley peered anxiously among the throngs that swarmed the concourse, wondering why Jones and his travelling companions failed to appear for the imminent departure of the Twentieth Century Limited.

But the two will complete their journey to Minneapolis together, for Cyril will rejoin Bobby in Chicago tomorrow morning.

"I must have misunderstood Bobby," he said, ruefully, "but I was certain he said the Grand Central Station—oh, well!"

"Bobby did not play well in Britain—that is for Jones," he said. "But I am confident he will be Bobby himself again in the West, and if he is, the championship is over before it starts"

FLYING START FOR FORTUNE

On receiving word that he had inherited estates which include two villages near Horsham, England, and an income of $100,000 a year, Peter Aldridge flew from Melbourne to Freemantle, Australia, to catch the first boat to London. Aldridge was educated at Cambridge, and served for four years in France, afterwards migrating to Australia. He has worked there for $5 a week, sometimes sleeping under bridges.

LEANDERS AND LONDON CREWS WIN RACES

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England, July 4 (C.P. Cable).—Leanders and London Rowing Club won their heats in the Grand Challenge Cup, leading event for eight-oared crews, at the Royal Henley Regatta to-day.

Leanders, who won the trophy last year, to-day defeated University College by a length and a quarter, in the time of seven minutes 17 seconds.

London Rowing Club defeated Jesus College, Cambridge, by one length in seven minutes nine seconds.

To-day was "semi-final" day and bright sunshine again greeted the spectators as they flocked to points of vantage along the banks of beautiful Henley reach.

Eighteen races were down for decision and the finalists in each event will be known by to-night, except in the Thames Cup, which attracted an unusually large number of contenders. The semi-final of this event will be rowed to-morrow morning.

NANKING VERY AMBITIOUS

Nanking, China, proposes to reconstruct the city in a big way. Already 77 proposals of improvements have been adopted. Among them are the construction of a river port, installation of a waterworks system, opening of a metropolitan park and a Grand Metropolitan Museum, provision for free clinics, promotion of industry and the opening of factories, development of afforestation, and uaying out of a beautifl residential district.

BOSTON BRAVES HAND PIRATES 8 TO 0 SHUTOUT

Home Grounds Means a Lot to the Teams of the National League.

ONLY ONE GAME PLAYED.

Eastern Half of Circuit Won 56 Games in Last 106 Played.

The peculiar advantages of playing baseball in the familiar territory of the home grounds evidently means a lot to the clubs of the National League. The balance of power in intersectional play with a few notable exceptions, has been regularly with the home clubs.

In the recent tour of the eastern clubs through the west, the visitors could win only 23 games, while the westerners captured 32 decisions. On the other hand, when the east's representatives were playing at home, they gained 33 decisions to 18 for the invaders. The results for the complete intersectional change favored the east to the extent of 56 victories in 106 games.

The champion Chicago Cubs, fighting their way to the league lead, made the best showing in every way. They captured eight out of eleven games away then swept through the invading ranks in their home stand to the tune of eleven victories in 15 games. However, the Cubs had to be content with second place as they prepared to play around their home section, opening at Pittsburgh to-day, for the Brooklyn Robins held their own in the west, winning six games and losing seven, and regained the top by a half of a percentage point.

Got the Breaks.

The New York Giants, the up-and-coming club of the circuit, were the only easterners to get more than an even break in the western tour, winning eight games and losing seven, but the Boston Braves came very close to it, due to their final series in Pittsburgh which closed yesterday. The Braves came out with seven victories and eight defeats after handing the Pirates an 8 to 9 shutout yesterday to make it three victories out of four games.

Bob Smith pitched a great game for Boston, holding the Pirates hitless for the first five innings and allowing only one single to the inning for the next four. The Braves got to Glenn Spencer for three hits and as many runs in the first inning and continued to pile up a 13-hit total. The Pirates contributed four errors to their own defeat.

LAWN BOWLING NEWS.

Big Tournament To-night With Good Prizes—Draw Will Be Made at 7.30 Sharp.

A tournament will be held to-night at the Lawn Bowling Club greens, and all bowlers are invited. Friday night contests have come to be looked on as the red letter events in the bowling game. The draw will be made at 7.30 sharp and any player whose name is not on the board at that time will need more than an alibi to get placed. Good prizes will be given to those fortunate enough to be on the winning rinks.

One of the features in connection with National Cotton Week at Belle Vue, England, was wrapping an elephant with cotton bandages, mannequins assigned to the task almost completely "bandaging" the beast.

"The first quarter of an hour after birth is the most dangerous period of life," stated an European expert recently, adding that the mortality figure for this 15 minutes was as great as that of any subsequent month.

BISONS CLASH WITH THE ROYALS IN NIGHT GAME

1,000,000 Candle Power Battery of Flood Lights Used in Buffalo.

IS BIG SUCCESS.

Montreal Wins By One Run in a Keen Battle.

BUFFALO, N.Y., July 4 (C.P.) — Darkness tried to crash the gates at Bison Stadium here last night and found the gates locked against it. Darkness stretched ebony fingers upward in an attempt to scale the walls of the Stadium and found itself beaten back by the glare of 1,000,000 candle-power battery of flood-lights.

Darkness sullenly withdrew, keeping for itself the rest of Buffalo, and leaving Boston Stadium to the crowd of more than 10,000 persons gathered there to see the Buffalo Bisons and the Montreal Royals clash in the first night baseball game in the east.

And they saw the game—even the skeptical fans who were willingto give odds that the players would not be able to see the ball—that the sphere would be out of sight most of the time, high in the air, or out in the deep field. The skeptics were convinced, and by most of the largest crowd which has gathered here to see an International League game this season, night baseball was voted a success.

It was a keen battle, too, that the teams staged, and Montreal won by 5 to 4, thus spoiling the evening for some of the spectators.

English Sculler Wins Great Praise

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, Eng., July 4.—(CP)—Once again British sportsmanship came to the fore yesterday when Jack Beresford, Jr., four times the winner of the diamond sculls, rested on his oars while he watched his formidable opponent, Joe Wright, grit his teeth and recover after "catching a crab", soon after the start of the race—the key race of the day.

There was a pause of a few seconds when Wright's oar caught.

The crowd on the towpath stood puzzled and amazed. Then the Canadian recovered. Both men pulled onwards with Beresford in the lead while the spectators cheered themselves hoarse when they realized what had happened.

FRENCH BEATEN IN SEMI-FINALS AT WIMBLEDON

AMERICAN STARS WIN.

English Team is Beaten in Semi-finals of Ladies' Doubles By Americans.

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 4 (C.P.).—Johnny Doeg and George Lott today defeated the great French doubles combination of Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon in the semi-finals of the British tennis championships 8-6, 3-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Lott and Doeg will clash in the final round with the winner of the second semi-final between the British combination of J. Colin Gregory and Ian G. Collins and the defending champions, John Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison of the United States.

Sarah Palfrey and Edith Cross, young American tennis stars, to-day defeated Miss B. Feltham and Miss B. Heeley of England, 8-6, 6-2, in a semi-final match.

Their opponents in the final will be Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Miss Elizabeth Ryan.

OSHAWA ARABS HERE SATURDAY

REAL BATTLE EXPECTED.

Hank Cohen and his stampeding Oshawa Arabs will be at Exhibition Park tomorrow afternoon to meet the Rays in another big Lakeshore League engagement. The Arabs are running free in the league race having won seven games since the defeat the Rays handed them in the opening fracas on May 24 in the Motor City. The Brakeliners are holding second position and can still pull up ahead of Oshawa. But to do so they must win tomorrow's game.

The Rays have been playing heads up ball during the season and every time they have tangled with Oshawa fireworks were on display. Ready to send into this game the Raybestos have their full pitching strength of Maudsley, Kitchen, Holmes and Heckman. Workouts have been held each evening this week and the team is right on edge for the battle.

Last Saturday in Oshawa, the Arab skipper sent "Duke" Dainty to the mound in a supreme effort to withstand the attack of the invaders. The former Central League war horse came through the smoke handsomely and it is quite likely that he will be sent back at the Rays tomorrow.

CHARITY CUP TIE ON SATURDAY

C.G.E. Vs. Scots in Phelan Soccer Cup Tie on King Edward Park.

Local soccer fans will be treated again on Saturday afternoon to a Phelan Charity Cup tie when the Canadian General and the Caledonians meet in the semi-final on King Edward Park. Kick off at three o'clock prompt. Referee James Hawthorne.

The Canadian General will be without the services of George Blowers at full back who is getting married to-morrow. Best wishes from the soccer fans. Their team will include two new men who have been signed up during the week and line-up will read thus: Daynes, goal; Grant and Laidler, full backs; J. Chamberlain, W. Robb and F. Rankin, half backs; A. Burgess, J. McMaster, B. McMaster, A. Newman and H. Darling, forwards.

In all probability the Scots will field the same eleven that carried off the honors on Wednesday night. J. Ward, goal; S. Agnew and A. Bogie, full backs; D. Best, J. Pottie and R. Clyde, halves; W. McCracken, R. Cook, R. Curtain, T. Williams and A. B. Coyle, forwards.

All reserves in each team be on hand no later than 2.30.

AUSTRALIA WINS CRICKET MATCH FROM YORKSHIRE

LONDON, EEng., July 4 (C. P. Cable).—The Australians won their cricket match against the County of Yorkshire at Bradford to-day by ten wickets. A. Hurwood, one of the second string bowlers of the Australian team, did good work, taking four wickets for 35 runs in Yorkshire's second innings to-day, while the veteran, Clarence Grimmett, captured five for 58 runs. Scores were: Australia, 302 and 7 runs for no wickets; Yorkshire, 146 and 161.

SENATOR LEMIEUX IMPROVES

MONTREAL, Que., July 4 (C.P.)—Senator Rodolphe Lemieux, former speaker of the House of Commons, was muuch improved to-day it was reported at the Royal Victoria Hospital where Mr. Lemieux is being treated for pneumonia.

Going To Defend His Championship

Leo Diegel, defending champion, will try for his fifth triumph in the Canadian open golf championship over the course of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club at Ancaster, Ont., July 24, 25 and 26. The winner will receive $500 in addition to the Royal Canadian Golf Association gold medal and the Rivermead cup. Seventy-two holes of medal play will decide the tourney.

WORK ON ADDITION TO Y.M.C.A. EXPECTED TO START IN AUGUST

Plans Being Rapidly Rushed Ahead By Architect.

CALL TENDERS SOON.

Tenders will be sought and the general contract awarded within four weeks for the construction of the addition to the Y.M.C.A., according to the expectations of Association officials. It is expected that excavation work will commence early in August.

With the aid of two assistants, W. R. L. Blackwell, architect, is rapidly completing the plans for the extension. The work was necessarily delayed until the Y.M.C.A. subscription campaign had been brought to a close. A committee consisting of R. L. Dobbin, chairman; P. P. Westbye, J. H. Vernor, C. A. Salmonsen and James Hamilton, appointed from the Board of Directors of the "Y," is handling the project.

A very satisfactory response from the city to the first call for subscription payments is reported by General Secretary G. H. Roper. A cheque from Sir Joseph Flavelle for $2,500, one-half of his subscription, was received yesterday.

Y.W.C.A. CAMPS OPEN FOR SEASON

20 CAMPERS.

Camp Inglestane opened its doors for the season on Saturday. Four campers and the camp director arrived in the afternoon about five o'clock, quite ready and hungry enough after the beautiful trip up the lakes, to do more than justice to the excellent supper Mrs. Lloyd had prepared. After supper two other campers arrived and after that, Miss L. Brownscombe and Miss Elizabeth Houghton, the swimming councillor—and after that more campers and more parcels every day until now the walks of Inglestane echo the songs and laughter of twenty campers.

We've been busy getting settled—campers making their beds and vieing with each other for tidy rooms which are inspected every morning. The tidiest girl is given a penant which she proudly displays over her bed.

Sunday night around a camp fire we sang and read poetry and toasted marshmallows—m-m-m they were good.

Monday we climbed Eagle mountain. Such a view could never be described. You should climb it yourself to see. You know the sort of thing you see in post cards—so beautifully colored that you think it is over done. The view from Eagle-mount makes you certain that there are such views that could never be overdone—and it is one of them. The climb up is exciting too. Rock almost all the way.

Monday night we played games and in the midst of some of them the new boats arrived. Imagine the excitement; and Tuesday we tried them out. What fun! We do appreciate the kindness of the Peterborough Canoe Company and friends who kindly donated the boats. Then we ended up with a sing song on the dock and song Taps just as the light was fading over the lake.

Wednesday the campers were entranced to hear that Captain Kidd had buried a treasure in our woods. So after noon inspection the entire camp set out to find it. It took them a long time but it was finally discovered, so close to them that it must have been walked over a dozen times. Queer how Captain Kidd remembered how Inglestane campers like candy.

And so the days pass. Everyone is enjoying herself.

Wins N. Y. State Title

Johnny Farrell of Mamaroneck, former national open champion, won the New York state open golf title today with a 72-hole total of 288. Farrell put together rounds of 68-73 to lead the field by two strokes in the first 36 holes yesterday and then added a 74 and a 73 to-day to win the title by two strokes.

LEGION AUXILIARY HAS GARDEN PARTY

Booths Were Prettily Decorated—Colored Light Illuminated Grounds.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion held their garden party on the Legion grounds last evening, when a pleasant program was provided, with tea served on tables placed on the lawn and decorated with white cloths and flowers, as well as many booths for the sale of ice-cream and soft drinks. The booths were prettily decorated with colored paper, while colored lights illuminated the grounds.

Mrs. J. Mills, president of the society, acted as general convenor, assisted by an energetic corps of ladies. Mrs. M. Budd acted as treasurer. Mrs. Brazendale was in charge of refreshments, assisted by Mesdames Gash, Houghton, Howell, McKinstry, Peat, Foster, Gynane. Mrs. Porter had the sale of ice-cream and Mrs. Millard the sale of soft drinks.

Mrs. R. Bugg and Mrs. M. Lynch were well patronized as fortune tellers during the evening.

Mrs. Walton was in charge of the quilt, which was won by James Abraham, with ticket No. 96 while Mrs. Gynane sold tickets for the cake made by Mrs. W. Hughes and won by Miss E. Smith, with guess of the correct weight in one pound three ounces. The weight of the second cake, made and donated by Mrs. W. H. Peryer, was three pounds twelve ounces, correctly guessed by Mrs. M. Stanger.

T. Turcotte and P. J. Devlin brought their "little horses" game to amuse the crowd.

BISLEY COMMONS TURNS INTO TOWN ON EVE OF SHOOT

BLAIR LEADS CANADIANS.

Many Women and School Boys Entered—Youngest is Girl of 14.

BISLEY, England, July 4. (C. P. Cable).—The usually sleepy hamlet of bungalows and clubhouses on Bisley Common has become Aladdin-like and almost overnight, a huge town of glittering white canvas in readiness for the rising of the curtain on Bisley week.

Hundreds of bell tents and marques are up and bustle is abroad on the eve of the carnival of bullets.

Representatives from Empire

While there are many notable absentees from overseas including Australia, Nyasaland and Uganda, there are teams or individual marksmen from Canada, India, Southern Rhodesia, the Falkland Islands, the Gold Coast of Africa, the outer Malay States, Nigeria, Trinidad, the Sudan and Singapore, the Malayan capital, in addition to there being representatives from all parts of the British Isles.

Lieut. Colonel R. M. Blair, Vancouver commandant of the Canadian team and last year's winner of the King's Prize, is already a popular figure and the members of the team are making a host of friends.

The number of women competing constitutes a record. Five will shoot in the King's Cup including Miss Babcock, who, four years ago, was the only woman entered. A number of other women not entitled to shoot in the King's Cup will figure in the open competitions against crack masculine shots. There is Mrs. Dow, of Canada, wife of Lieut. J. N. Dow, Saint John, N.B., who is to be seen practicing daily in her khaki breeches and jersey and hat of a striking light blue, and Mrs. Abbaye, of Kenya.

School Boy Invasion

There will be a school boy invasion of Bisley of record proportions for the Ashburton Trophy, 83 schools having entered the list, as compared with 75 last year. Simultaneous with the meeting of the National Rifle Association there will be gatherings of small bore enthusiasts, sporting gun exponents and revolver experts while the territorials will compete for valuable prizes. Before the end of the meeting well over half a million bullets will have been despatched at the targets.

The youngest of the competitors will be a girl of 14 years. Many of the men are more than the proverbial three score years and ten.

And to make this great meeting too which come persons, many and diverse, a bumper success all that is needed is a continuance of the present glorious weather.

GOLF

LIGHT HITTERS SHOULD USE WHIPPY SHAFTS.

The elderly man no longer is able to get the great distances from the tee that was his to glory in at one time; therefore, he must be content to drive shorter tee shots and depend upon accuracy of direction. The young man can use a fairly stiff shaft but when a man reaches forty or fifty and his muscles lose their old-time suppleness, he must resort to a whippy club to make up the difference.

There is a secret in using this sort of club. One must not depend upon the hands, but rather upon the clubhead itself. The idea is to imagine, if possible, that one was throwing the clubhead at the ball with somewhat the same feeling that there would be in swinging a rock on the end of a long string. The rock produces the speed, making its own momentum. The hands act merely as a fulcrum or something similar to the hub of a wheel.

ESTELLE IV DOES 70 M.P.H. IN HER FIRST TRIAL RUN

GRAVENHURST, Ont., July 4 (Canadian Press). — Miss Marion B. Carstairs, English hope in the Harmsworth Trophy races, attained a speed of 70 miles an hour with her Estelle IV., in a test on Lake Muskoka late yesterday. This boat is the slower of her two challengers for the trophy.

The designer and mechanic of Miss Carstairs' boat seemed satisfied with its showing in its first trial after it was practically re-designed last winter.

CANADIAN COKE

During the past few years there has been such a marked increase in the use of coke for domestic purposes in Canada that this fuel bids fair to become a serious rival of anthracite, which has long been regarded as the least, in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

Draw For Ontario Lawn Bowling Association's Tournament is Made.

Jack Mayneord's rink of Peterborough bowlers is entered in the annual tourney of the Ontario Lawn Bowling Association and has been drawn to meet James Cunningham's rink of Hamilton Fernleigh in the first round. The entry list for this tourney is one of the largest in the history of the association. It is to be held on Roselawn greens at Hamilton on July 7, 8, 9 and 10, with play commencing on Monday at 1 o'clock standard time.

CRICKET

An important executive meeting of the Peterborough Cricket Club will be held at the Oval, Friday Evening (to-night) at 7 o'clock. Arrangements for the Ross Robertson Cup game will be discussed. All members of the club who are able to make the trip to Toronto for this game are urged to be present. Regular practice as usual. Team for the cup game will be chosen afterwards.

A full practice game will be held at the Oval to-morrow afternoon at 2.30. All players and any others deserving a game are asked to be on hand.

A BEDTIME STORY

by Howard R Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY'S BROWN TAILS

"But Daddicums, can't we have any fun at all on the First of July?" asked Jingle one morning a few days before the glorious holiday.

"Can't we have some firecrackers?" asked Jangle, sadly.

Uncle Wiggily sat on the back porch. On the steps and round about him in a half circle, stood many of his little rabbit girls and boys eagerly waiting for his answer. Baby Bunty, the little orphan rabbit, was also there. She said:

"It won't be any fun if we can't do something on the First of July, Unkie Wig."

"Oh I want you to have fun," spoke Mr. Longears, "but I don't want any of you to get burned or hurt. That's why I said you couldn ot have any firecrackers or other things that make dangerous, banging noises. But I'll take you to the woods for a picnic, you can have good things to eat and there will be some fireworks."

"I thought you said we couldn't have any firewords," said Jingle.

"I said you couldn't have fire-crackers, or bang-bangs that might hurt you," her father answered. "But I will set off some fireworks for you at night, which you may watch. I know how to do this without getting burned myself or letting you get burned. Now don't tease me any more, but hop along and play. When the First of July comes you shall see what happens.

Slowly the little rabbit children turned away. They had been told, several days before by Uncle Wiggily, that they could not have any fireworks that were dangerous. The boy rabbits were the first to cry out against this, and they got the girls to go with them to tease their father and ask him if they couldn't shoot off something to have fun on the holiday.

But Uncle Wiggily said "No!" He knew what it meant, better than did his children to have burned paws and cut noses from too much fun on the First of July.

So, after speaking to Uncle Wiggilyon the back porch, the rabbit children and Baby Bunty hopped away not feeling very happy. They very much wanted firecrackers and sky rockets and things like that.

"I wonder what Daddicums means by saying he will set off some fireworks for us?" grumbled Jingle as she hopped along

"Oh, it's some trick of his!" sighed Jangle. "I don't see why we can't shoot things off ourselves."

"But if Unkie Wig won't buy any fireworks for us, and he won't give us money to get them what are we going to do?" asked Baby Bunty.

No one could answer that. So the little rabbits played games of tag and tig. The game of tig is very much like tag except that you have to run backward and if you aren't careful you will fall down.

Uncle Wiggily got up from the easy chair where he had been sitting on the back porch.

"What did you mean when you said you would set off some fireworks for the children?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy as the rabbit gentleman started to hop away from his bungalow. Don's you know it's dangerous?"

"Not the kind of fireworks I'm going to shoot" said Mr. Longears with a laugh. "I'm going to the swamp, now, to get some brown tails. When they are dry, which will be on the First of July, I'll set them alight and the bunnies may see them."

"Brown tails?" asked Nurse Jane, wonderingly.

"Well, cat tails, if you like that better," Uncle Wiggily replied. "You know in the swamp the cat tails grow long, green stems with brown bunches on the end, long, brown bunches of fuzz and when this is dry it burns nicely and glows like red fire. I'm sure if I light a lot of brown cat tails out in front of the bungalow on the First of July night, the children will have a jolly celebration."

"I'm sure that's very good of you," squeaked Nurse Jean.

Uncle Wiggily hopped to the swamp. Standing on the edge, so he would not slip off into deep water, the rabbit gentleman gathered his paws full of the brown cat tails plants. They would soon be dry enough to burn.

"They look almost like skyrockets, except that they won't shoot and burn any of my little bunnies," said Mr. Longears as he started back to his bungalow with his load of brown tails.

All of a sudden, as he walked up the hill from the swamp, Uncle Wiggily heard a noise in the bushes beside the path. He looked around quickly and there he saw the Bob Cat.

"Oh, dear! Now there is going to be trouble!" thought the rabbit gentleman as he saw the hungry Bad Chap. The Bob Cat saw Mr. Longears.

EXAMINER PLANS CAMPAIGN IN ITS WANT AD COLUMN

'Two For One' Service Will Be Given Advertisers Next Week.

WORK WANTED FREE.

Next week, July 7 to 12, The Examiner is presenting a "two for one" service in its want ad columns, that will give everyone a chance to try out the wonderful pulling power of the classified section. During the six days, all who order and pay for one, two or three insertions of a want ad, will be given FREE as many additional insertions as are paid for, up to three. Anyone looking for work will be given one insertion up to 20 words, WITHOUT CHARGE, during this six day special offer.

Big Opportunity

Now is the time to clear the attic or home of any unnecessary articles, or find, at a reasonable price some used article that will serve the purpose as well as a new one. It's a chance to get a roomer for that spare room, a few boarders, perhaps a companion, or dressmaker, a housekeeper or a maid a gardener or furnace tender The Examiner can find what you want. If you want to rent a house or find a more suitable home for rent try the classified column. If you want to sell or buy a home The Examiner has 30 to 40,000 readers, and some of them are sure to be ready to meet your wishes in a satisfactory way.

The Examiner classified column is the best read part of the paper. Those in need of anything, look there first. It's the exchange mart of the community.

If you are willing to make exchanges, advertise that way and we will make a special exchange column for your offering.

While this "two for one" campaign is on, we advise Examiner readers to pay special attention to the want ad page, because hundreds of opportunities are going to be presented and exactly what YOU want may be there. Six days of it—July 7 to 12.

Hornepayne Woman Is Heroine At Wreck

OMEMEE, July 4 (Examiner Correspondence)—Mrs. Harry Hayes, who with her three children, of Hornepayne, arrived on Saturday to spend a short holiday with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hayes, was proclaimed a heroine in the recent Sudbury disaster, when she broke the pane of glass in the car window and waded fifteen feet to shore, carrying a child in each arm and one between her teeth.

HAMILTON PRINTER PRAISES PETERBORO

Delegates Highly Pleased, Typographical Union President Writes.

Delegates of the Ontario and Quebec Conference of Typographical Unions who attended the convention held here last week carried away pleasant memories of their visit to Peterborough, according to J. F. Reed, president of the Hamilton Typographical Union.

"I would like to take this opportunity of thanking you for making us at home at The Examiner while in your city, also to the citizens of Peterborough for their courteous treatment, the Empress Hotel and all others who assisted," Mr. Reed says in a letter to R. M. Glover, managing director of The Examiner.

"I have never been any place where they know how to treat you like they do in Peterborough," continues Mr. Reed. "In my report to the Hamilton Union I will certainly tell of Peterborough's way of entertaining the Printers. Please express my thanks to the local union and the boys at The Examiner."

Mr. Reed, according to the Hamilton Herald, will likely be the next president of the Hamilton and District Trades and Labor Council.

WOMAN, 100, STILL DANCES

At a dinner in London recently Mme. Adeline Genee, a ballerina of Edwardian days and president of the Association of Operative Dancing of Great Britain, told of a friend who is "nearly 100 years young" and still keenly interested in dancing. "On one occasion," she said, "my friend heard a waltz played on a phonograph and invited her daughter, who is 75, to dance it with her. The daughter had to give up, though the mother was anxious to carry on."

WIND DAMAGE IS EVERYONE'S CONCERN

Second only to fire in capacity for destructiveness, high winds wreak damage almost everywhere, at almost any time.

June, "Month of Roses," has a bad record for windstorms. And there is no insurance against such destruction as may be wrought by gales and tornadoes except a specific Windstorm Policy. However, the cost is very moderate, as we'll be glad to prove.

Lord Greystoke, unfolding the scrap of paper which had been pushed in under the cabin door, found it was a message printed in uncouth letters, warning them from reporting the theft of his revolvers, on pain of death. Lady Greystoke paled, wondering what her fate might be.

The sight which met Lord Greystoke's eyes, as he emerged on deck the next morning, confirmed his worst fears. A shot rang out, and then another and another. Facing the little knot of five officers was the entire motley crew of the Fuwalda, and at their head stood Black Michael.

Enraged, the bloodthirsty ruffians charged the officers representing the hated authority of the ship. Most of them were armed with boathooks, axes, and crowbars. The officers retreated before the infuriated rush of their men. An axe cleft the captain from forehead to chin.

Both sides were cursing and swearing in a frightful manner, which, together with the reports of the firearms and the screams and groans of the wounded, turned the deck of the Fuwalda to the likeness of a mad-house. Short and grisly had been the work of the mutineers.

Though outwardly calm, he was inwardly apprehensive, for he feared for the safety of his wife, and the little unborn Greystoke at the hands of the ignorant half-brutes. "Here's two more for the fishes," snarled one of the crew, as he rushed toward them with uplifted axe.

WHALE LEATHER GLOVES OUT
Women of Europe are again finding the whale an aid to their wardrobe. Whale "leather" is being used in making fashionable gloves, and style leaders have approved the new material composed of the intestines of the huge swimmers. The new gloves are delicately soft, but so tough that it is almost impossible to wear them out. The whale has not contributed to women's styles since the days of the whalebone for corsets.

WEDDING BELLS

VARCOE—HAWLEY.
The wedding was solemnized at five o'clock on Saturday, June 28th, at St. Andrew's Church, of Laura Elmyra King Hawley, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Hawley, and Elgin Sherwood Varcoe, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Varcoe, of Bowmanville. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. C. V. McLean.

MEIN—STINSON
The marriage was solemnized on Monday, June 30, 1930 at the Presbyterian C. L. Manse, Port Hope by the pastor, the Rev. Bertram Nelles, of Olive Gwendoline Stinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herb. Stinson of Stewart street, to Keith F. Mein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Mein, 358 Stewart street.
The young people were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Rogers of this city. They will reside in Peterborough.

OBITUARY

MRS. JANE ROSE CAMERON.
The death occurred July 3, at the family residence, 708 Stewart Street, Peterborough, of Jane (Jennie) Rose Cameron, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Rose of Peterborough, and relict of Alfred J. Cameron, O.L.S., Peterborough. Mrs. Cameron was born and brought up in Peterborough, her father and mother having been among the early residents of the city. She was a member of St. Paul's Church all her life, a former member of the choir, and had been active in the work of the Missionary Society and Ladies' Aid.
A family of seven are left to mourn her loss, including three sons: Roderick, Alfred and Donald, of Toronto, and four daughters: Mrs. V. Elliott, of Trenton, and Jessie, Marjorie and Jean, of Peterborough. In addition there are left one brother, Donald Rose, of Toronto, and two sisters-in-law, Annie and Sophia, of Ottawa.
The funeral service will be conducted Saturday at 2 p.m. from the family residence by Rev. Wm. Allan of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

MRS. JOHN ARMSTRONG.
Mrs. John Armstrong, the former Miss Sarah Jane Mann, passed away at her home, 71 McDonnel Street, yesterday afternoon after a lingering illness. Mrs. Armstrong was born 77 years ago at Cherry Hill, Smith Township, the daughter of the late Stephen Mann. She had resided in Peterborough for 40 years, the wife of the late John Armstrong, who died a year ago last March.
Five sisters and two brothers survive Mrs. Armstrong. They are: Mrs. William Rae, Miss M. Mann, Mrs. R. Rae, and Mrs. D. Kerneghan, all of this city, Mrs. V. E. Dunford of Orillia, and Samuel and W. E. Mann, both of San Francisco.
The funeral will be held from the D. Belleghem & Sons Funeral Home on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock (D.S.T.). The interment will take place in Little Lake Cemetery. Rev. Mr. Johnston of Bethany Tabernacle will officiate.

BIRTH.
BEAVIS—On Thursday, July 3rd, to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Beavis, 492 Bonnacord street, a son.

MONTGOMERY.—On Saturday evening, June 28th, at Hall's Bridge, to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Montgomery, of Lakefield, a son (Arthur Morley).

DIED
FINLEY—The funeral of the late Harry A. Finley, Lot. 15, Con. 1, Emily, will be held from his late residence, Saturday, July 5, at 2 p.m., under Masonic auspices.

Funeral from her late residence, 708 Stewart street, Saturday, at 2 p.m., to Little Lake Cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM.
HUGGINS—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Thompson Huggins, Senior, who departed this life July 4th, 1923.
"Dear mother, you are not forgotten,
Though on earth you are no more.
Still in memory you are with us
As you always were before.
Surrounded by friends we are lonesome,
In the midst of our joys we are blue,
With a smile on our face we've a heartache,
Longing, dear mother, for you."

Bennett Presented With Oil Painting

BRIDGEWATER, N.S., July 4.—(By Thomas Green, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.) — Heralded through the streets of Bridgewater Hon. R. B. Bennett entered the constituency of Queens-Lunenburg yesterday, a unique touch was given to opening proceedings in the form of a presentation of an oil painting depicting a fishing scene of the Lunenburg fishing banks.
The gift—a recognition of Mr. Bennett's sixtieth birthday — was painted by Earle Bailey, Lunenburg—a youth who having lost the use of his hands in early childhood, paints by holding the brush in his teeth. To the courage of the young lad and his 'love for the beautiful," the Opposition Leader paid tribute.

MISS WEBBER GIVES FINE PIANO RECITAL

Much Interest is Shown in Clever Work of Pupils.

An enjoyable recital by piano pupils of Miss Elizabeth Webber, A.T.C.M., was held this week in the hall of the Conservatory of Music, with a good attendance. Much interest was manifested in the clever work of the pupils, who were assisted in vocal selections by the Misses Margaret and Agnes Fife.
The program was as follows:

Wesley Lawford, of Almonte, has opened up the store formerly occupied by C. E. Mahood, corner Aylmer and Hunter streets, where he will keep for sale a full stock of papers, magazines, stationery, fancy goods and china and a circulating library of good books as well.

BATTERY INSPECTION TO-NIGHT.
The annual inspection of the 4th Field Battery, Canadian Artillery, will be held at the Armouries to-night. It is expected that Brigadier W. R. Anderson, Officer Commanding Military District No. 3, with his staff, will officiate.
The Battery is in charge of Major J. W. Stevenson, with Captain J. A. Harstone second in command.

JUST IN TIME!
The Examiner's wandering reporter notes with satisfaction that the paving in front of the Sir Henry Drayton refreshment booth was completed in time to catch the brisk Fourth of July trade. Rumors that strains of "Sweet Land of Liberty . . ." were heard in the vicinity are reported as unfounded.

CITIZENS INVITED
The Rev. P. Costello, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, extends a cordial invitation to all citizens to meet the Rt. Rev. Denis O'Connor, D.D., LL.D., Bishop of Peterborough, on the occasion of the civic reception to be tendered His Lordship at eight o'clock this evening on the grounds of St. Mary's Convent, at the corner of Hunter and Rubidge streets.

IN DIVISION COURT
Eleven cases were scheduled for Judge O'Connor's attention when regular Division Court opened at the Court House this morning. Six cases are billed for Monday the amount of $250,16 being the largest involved.
Thirteen judgement debtors will appear before His Honor in the Judges' Chambers at this meeting.

Omemee Laborer Killed by Train

MANGLED BODY OF WM. CROWLER FOUND ON TRACK

46 Year Old Omemee Laborer is Believed Killed By Train.

HEAD IS SEVERED.

Seven Dead Chickens Are Also Found Along Right of Way.

OMEMEE, July 5 (Examiner Correspondence). — The mangled body of William Crowler, 46-year-old Omemee farm laborer, was found shortly after seven o'clock this morning on the Canadian National Railway tracks one and a half miles east of Omemee. Although the exact circumstances of the tragedy are not known, it is thought that he was killed by one of the freight trains which passed over the line during the night.

Head Is Severed.

McQuade, a farmer living beside the tracks, made the discovery, and reported it to the crew of the 7.45 o'clock Belleville train from Lindsay which arrived on the scene shortly. Investigators found that Crowler's head and shoulders had been severed from his body and that the two parts rested on opposite sides o the track. A hand was found some yards down the right of way.

Investigations carried out by Provincial Constable D. Porter of Lindsay this morning indicated that Crowler was walking the track during the night from Omemee, and, trying to steal a ride on a freight train, slipped under the wheels. A watch stopped at 2 a.m. which was found on his person suggests the time of the tragedy.

What train it was that brought about Crowler's death has not been decided. Trainmaster Groves of Lindsay stated that five freights passed during the night. A. McNabb, C.N.R. agent in Peterborough, said this morning that a check-up and inspection of the trains is being made in an endeavor to trace the details of the accident.

Seven Chickens Found.

The discovery of seven dead chickens and a torn bag near the body led investigators to believe that

England-Australia Fliers Are Overdue

BANGOK, Siam, July 5 (C.P.)—Some anxiety has been aroused here for the safety of the British airmen, Hook and Matthews, who are attempting a record flight from England to Australia. They reached Akyab from Calcutta Wednesday and left Thursday for Rangoon, but have not arrived yet. It was thought possible they continued their journey to Bangkok without stopping, although they have not reached here and no news has been received of them.

FOURTH OF JULY DEATH TOLL IS 178 ACROSS U. S.

154TH ANNIVERSARY.

Fireworks Claim 12 Deaths, Drowning 57, and Automobile 81 in One Day.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 5.—(CP)—America paid its inevitable price in human life yesterday to celebrate the 154th anniversary of its independence. The dead numbered 178. Many other hundreds were injured. Property damage was unusually high and ran into many thousands of dollars.

Deaths due directly to fireworks totalled 12. This was the largest number of such deaths recorded in the three years the Associated Press has been keeping a nation-wide check upon Independence Day fatalities. A year ago there were seven deaths from fireworks. In 1928 there were eleven.

The automobile, however, took the most lives —81. In the past three years its holiday toll has steadily increased. In 1928 it took 54 lives. Last year 70.

57 Are Drowned

There were 57 drownings yesterday, a decline of 14 from a year ago and of 49 from 1928. This was attributable to much cooler weather generally. The Fourth of July two years ago was one of the hot days of the year, heat alone being responsible for 12 deaths that day. Yesterday, however, the water held less attraction for the holiday millions.

Deaths from fireworks were con-

MUSSOLINI RULE IN SUNNY ITALY NOT DEMOCRACY

Tom Skeyhill Holds Large Audience Spellbound at Chautauqua.

MUSICAL PROGRAM.

Tells Listeners Must Take Interest in Politics or Corruption Will Follow.

"If we don't want to be governed by autocrats, we must play the game and try to govern ourselves."

That was the way in which Tom Skeyhill summed up his opinion of Mussolini and the autocracy he has established in Italy, when he spoke last evening in the Chautauqua tent to an interested audience of over six hundred people.

"With Mussolini and the Blackshirts" was the title of an eloquent and convincing address that brought to the minds of his hearers a vivid mental picture of the dictator who has put Italy on its feet, and, according to Mr. Skeyhill, sent her back through the centuries to the times when she was governed by the Caesars, when democracy was an unknown quantity and the land was ruled by absolute dictators.

Saviour of Italy

In a fashion graphic and intensely sincere, Mr. Skeyhill presented to his listeners the picture of the savour of his country, Benito Mussolini, and then he turned the shield and allowed them to see what is on the obverse side.

The speaker sketched briefly for his audience the career of this Man of Destinty. He pictured him as a handsome, vital personality, still young, with only forty-seven years behind him, and the man who is absolute ruler of Italy at the present time. The son of a village blacksmith and a village schoolmarm, he has been—through successive periods of his life, a bartender and saloon bouncer, a bricklayer, a vagabond of radical tendencies who became acquainted with the inside of many an Italian jail, a veteran of the Great War, in which he was badly wounded, the editor of the well-known Milan paper, Il Popolo, and finally, Italy's Man of Destiny.

Bundles of Sticks.

The Fascist party which Benito Mussolini founded took its name from the symbol of authority in old Roman times, the fasces, or tiny bundle of sticks which was used in ancient days to symbolize power. "Oddly enough, it appears on the back of the American dime," said Mr. Skeyhill. The black shirt was chosen because it was such a distinct contrast to its enemy, the red symbol of Bolshevism, "and also, by the grace of God, it looks clean."

Il Duce, or the Chief, as the Italians call him, has also resurrected the ancient salute of the Roman legionnaries; the placing of the spear against the shoulder.

In picturesque, graphic language,

Canadian Wins Diamond Sculls

FAMOUS JACK GUEST WINNER OF DIAMOND SCULLS AND HIS MANAGER

All eyes were to-day upon Jack Guest, Canada's hope in the Diamond Scull race, and he came through, winner over the German entrant by over 200 yards. Above is shown Jack Guest, the champion, and semi-finalist in the past two years and his young English trainer, Harry Arlett.

Guest Reaps Reward of Several Years' Experience at Henley But Fails With His Time of 8 Minutes, 29 Seconds to Beat Record by 19 Seconds—5 Seconds Behind Wright's 1928 Win.

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, Eng., July 5.—(C. P. Cable)—Jack Guest, of the Don Rowing Club, Toronto, today won the Diamond Sculls, the Empire's greatest rowing trophy, by defeating Gerhard Boetzelen, his German opponent, by more than 200 yards and in eight minutes and 29 seconds.

It was a crushing defeat and far from the close match which all the followers of Henley had expected. Guest was the usual Guest, calm and confident. Boetzelen "cracked". The German who had rowed with machine-like strokes in his other matches, seemed nervous and over-eager. But even in his best form it is to be doubted if he could have coped with the Guest who rowed today.

Won From Start.

Guest won the race almost from the start. Boetzelen, too eager to get away, attetmpted to beat the pistol at the start and had to be recalled twice by the umpire, Harcourt Gould. The German's attempt to "kill" Guest by getting an early lead at the start had the reverse effect, for Boetzelen "killed" himself and was almost out of the race, so far as his winning chances went, at the end of the first half mile.

The German led slightly at Temple Island but the Canadian came up to him in open water and the men were level at the quarter-mile post. Guest was almost clear of his opponent at Remenham Barrier and led at the half mile post by three lengths and the German suddenly "cracked" and seemed to give up. Guest increased his lead at every stroke. The Canadian was ten lengths ahead at Fawley. Here his time was only four seconds outside the record for the distance to Fawley. Guest passed winning post, having completely outclassed Boetzelen, two hundred yards ahead.

The weather was ideal, the wind having died down.

Boetzelen to Come Back.

The Toronto man reaped the harvest of several years' experience at Henley. But Boetzelen is expected to BROTHERHOOD NEEDED.

Liberal Leader Claims Every Country is Preparing For War.

BOURNEMOUTH, England, July 5 (C.P.)—Churches of the world were besought by David Lloyd George, former Prime Minister and Liberal Leader, to aid in dissipating international distrust and suspicion, in a speech before the International Congregation Church Council last night. After asserting that every country of the world was preparing for war, and that there were more men trained for war in every country of Europe, Asia, and America than before the catastrophe of 1914, he declared:

"I speak from personal experience when I say that although I have gone to live in a quiet place in Surrey, I hear every day the rattle of machine guns in one camp; the hoarse roar of cannon in another, and, carried by the westerly breeze I hear the boom

CANADA'S NATIONAL RAILWAYS GREAT LIBERAL ACHIEVEMENT

J. J. Duffus Reviews Government's Record at Lakehurst Meeting.

Assisted By R. R. Hall, K.C.

As a young lawyer forty-two years ago, R. R. Hall, K.C., made his first political speech in Peterborough County at Lakehurst, in Harvey township. Last night he returned again to that community, which has always held a warm place in his memory, supporting the candidature of J. J. Duffus.

And of that audience of a former generation three men were present who have been his friends through the years, Joseph Stevenson, Thomas Flynn and Alex Thompson, and also John P. Smith, who was probably at that other meeting as a small boy with his father, the late John Smith.

William Thompson was chairman of last night's meeting, which was attended by some sixty men and women, and at the close Archie Wilson spoke briefly.

Mr. Hall extolled the record of the Liberal government under the leadership of Mackenzie King, urged the electors to vote for the Dunning Budget, recommended the completion of the Trent Canal, and paid a high tribute to the Liberal candidate, who, he said, as Alderman and Mayor of Peterborough and through his many other local and provincial interests and responsibilities had amply demonstrated his fitness to represent this riding as a member of Parliament.

"When Premier King came into power nine years ago," said Mr. Hall, "he found Canada in a stagnant condition. To-day she stands fifth among the nations in her export and import trade. The total trade of Canada in 1929 amounted to $2,944,000,000, surpassed only by the United States, Great Britain, Germany and France.

THEODORE QUITS AS TREASURER

Australian Royal Commission's Report on Mine Purchase Causes Furore.

SPECIAL CABINET SESSION.

CANBERRA, Australia, July 5.—(C. P. Cable, via Reuters)—It is understood Premier J. H. Scullin will act as treasurer of the Commonwealth, in consequence of the resignation of Hon. E. G. Theodore, former Premier of Queensland, but it is not yet known who will deliver the budget, or whether it will be communicated to the House of Representatives on Tuesday or later. A special meeting of Scullin Labor Cabinet has been called for Monday.

"Dastardly Report"

In an interview today, Mr. Theodore declared the report of the Royal Commission appointed by the Queensland Government to inquire into the circumstances of the purchase of the Mungana (Chillagoe) mines by the Labor Government was "the most dastardly possible".

"Imagine," Mr. Theodore exclaimed. "The Commissioner condemns me without first calling upon me to give evidence".

MARMORA HOME GUTTED BY FIRE

Family Absent From House When Blaze of Unknown Origin Starts.

FURNITURE DESTROYED.

MARMORA, July 5 (Examiner Correspondence)—At 1.45 a.m. this morning a fire of unknown origin broke out in the residence of Main Street, owned by the Pearce Company, and which was recently occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kelly and family.

Mr. Kelly went to Kingston some time ago and about a week ago Mrs. Kelly went to Kingston, leaving the furniture stored in the house. As a result of the fire the furniture was almost totally destroyed.

According to those who were early on the scene, the fire started from within the building, but its origin is unknown. The two chemical engines were rushed to the scene on the alarm being given, and although too late to save the furniture, the house was prevented from being totally ruined.

SWING OF OPINION IN GREAT BRITAIN MOVING ONE WAY

Times Claims Bankers' Manifesto is Picture of Larger Inter-Empire Trade.

AID LABOR POLICY.

None of Three Parliamentary Leaders Comment Upon Manifesto.

LONDON, Eng., July 5. — (C. P. Cable.)—"The bankers' manifesto can leave little doubt," says the Times today, "about the direction in which responsible opinion in Britain is moving. Its conclusions are similar in spirit and effect to those reached by the Chamber of Commerce, by the Federation of British Industries and by the Economic committee of the Trade Union Congress."

The picture of a greatly enlarged inter-Empire trade, made possible by reciprocal arrangements between the Governments, which. in Britain's case would have to involve an open market for Empire products and probably, duties on foreign products, was that drawn by the now-celebrated manifesto of the financial leaders of Britain.

FIELD BATTERY IS COMMENDED FOR FINE SHOWING

Brigadier W. B. Anderson Inspects Local Artillery Unit.

GOING TO PETAWAWA.

Major J. W. Stevenson Was in Command, With Captain Harstone Second.

An exhibition reflecting great credit on the officers and men of the 4th Field Battery was staged at the Armories last night when the unit was inspected by Brigadier W. B. Anderson, C.M.G., D.S.O., Officer Commanding Military District No. 3. The Battery was under the command of Major J. W. Stevenson.

Brigadier Anderson was accompanied by District Paymaster Colonel H. V. Goodeve, and assisted by Colonel D. J. Lawrie, commander of the 4th Field Brigade which includes the 42nd Field Battery and the 14th Field Battery at Cobourg as well as the local unit.

With an efficiency which proved very gratifying to the inspecting officer considering the fact that the Battery has been in training for little over a month, the men carried out standing gun drill using four eighteen pounder field pieces, with limbers. Each gun crew consisted of six men commanded by the sergeant of the crew. The drill showed the men to be exceptionally well grounded in the technical side of the work.

Worked With Precision.

Following the standing gun drill, gun laying drill was performed. On orders from Captain J. A. Harstone, M.C., second in command, and the lieutenants, each of whom were in charge of two guns, the men handled the attery of field pieces in smart fashion with the precision of a well-oiled machine.

A semaphore signalling unit in the Battery at the conclusion of the inspection, Brigadier Anderson especially commented on the efficiency displayed and commended the officers for their work as instructors in the past month. He was enthused by the comparatively large enrollment of the Battery and expressed satisfaction with the steady progress it has made up to the present time.

Battery Staff.

The staff of the Battery consists of Major J. W. Stevenson, Captain, J. A. Harstone, M.C., Lieut. A. R. Stevenson, Lieut. H. Rogers and Lieut. A. R. Malone. Captain G. Murray Fraser is the Battery Medical Officer and E. G. Sutherland, Battery Sergeant

FERGUSON WILL NOT STAND TO SEE POWER RIGHTS BARGAINED WITH

Province Willing to Take Part in Conference and Aid Waterway.

ANSWERS PREMIER KING.

KITCHENER, Ont., July 5. (C.P.)—The Province of Ontario is not going to permit its proprietary rights in the water powers of the St. Lawrence river to be made the subject of bargaining between the Dominion Government and the United States though it is willing to take part in an International Conference and do everything possible to aid in the development of the St. Lawrence waterway scheme. This declaration made by Premier Ferguson of Ontario here last night constituted the fourth stage in his controversy with the Premier of Canada, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King on the question of water power rights in the St. Lawrence River.

Quarrel Over Clause

The Ontario Premier's quarrel with the Dominion centres immediately around a clause in a memorandum, submitted to the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec by Premier King as a basis for agreement on the power question. That clause makes the Dominions offer to recognize the province's right to the power subject to "any necessary international requirements." This according to Mr. Ferguson would leave the Dominion free to deal with what he insists are the proprietary rights of the province in entering a contract with the United States for development of the St. Lawrence waterways.

Last night, Mr. Ferguson, traced the dispute back to when the province sumbitted plans for power developments at Sault Ste. Marie and the Dominion Government questioned the provincial claim to the ownership of the power in the Wrong Body Halts Laurel Hill Funeral

BOLTON, Ont., July 5 (C.P.).—When the coffin was opened at a funeral in Laurel Hill Cemetery here in order that the assembled friends might have a last look at the departed, it was discovered that the body was not that of the man for whom the ceremonies were held.

The body of George McLean, for whom the funeral was intended, was still in a Toronto hospital at the time, and the remains in the coffin were that of a man named Haynes. The hearse went to Toronto and exchanged bodies, and the McLean obsequies proceeded in due course.

BABY'S BODY DISAPPEARS.

CORNWALL, Ont., July 5 (C.P.).—Provincial Police are investigating the strange disappearance of a baby's body from a roughly constructed grave near Grant's Corners, six miles from here. The infant was born to Mrs. R. O'Neil, who was brought to a local hospital when discovered ill at her home. Police say she admitted giving birth to the child, and that she had buried it in her garden, but when police re-opened the grave they found the body gone.

Reds Celebrate by Fighting the Police

CHICAGO, Ills., July 5. (C.P.) Communists observed the Fourth by fighting with police. There were three skirmishes in Union Park on the West Side. One reached the proportions of a riot.

All was quiet on the western front by evening, however. Seventeen men and two women were in police cells to-day, charged with disturbing the peace. Two other reds were at County Hospital, heads battered by policemen's billies.

"City of Chicago" Sets 553 Hour Record

BROKEN OIL PIPE FORCES AVIATORS TO SEEK AIRPORT

Finish Comes Suddenly After Hunter Brothers Had Refuelled For Night.

23 DAYS IN AIR.

Fliers Have Hard Job Landing Amid Throngs Crowding Field.

CHICAGO, Ills., July 5 (Canadian Press). — The longest sustained airplane flight in the world's history has ended.

The finish came at 5.21.30 (C.S.T.) last night. John and Kenneth Hunter, who rose from the plough to the plane, landed in the Fourth of July twilight at Sky Harbor Airport with a world's refuelling endurance record of 553 hours 41 minute 30 seconds blazoned on the wings of their City of Chicago.

End Unexpected.

The end was unexpected as the beginning 23 days ago was inauspicious.

A clogged filter stopped the oil fuel. The motor was seared from lack of lubrication; a hurried landing was made; and the old record of 420.21.30 was left 133 hours 20 minutes behind.

Holiday thousands who had jammed the airport since early day floundered in the suddenness of the descent.

They had just seen the endurance ship succored by the Big Ben, the providing plane manned by Albert and Walter Hunter, two more of the brothers who learned to fly in the pastures of their farm home at Sparta, Ills.

Thousands thought the City of Chicago was set for another night of monotony; they could not see the oil spurting back on to the flyers instead of flowing into the overheated motor. They did not know the Hunter brothers could do naught but end their more than three weeks of uninterrupted flight.

So many planes pock-marked the air that the blue monoplane, City of Chicago, sped to within 100 feet of the ground before it was noticed. Then came the spontaneous combustion of human enthusiasm.

Mob Ignores Danger

The mob milled to the center of the field, ignoring the death-sweep of the planes propeller. John Hunter at the controls outwitted the pack, taxied to the far southwest corner of the field, back-tracked his trail twice, pivoted and then skirted the north of the field into the hangar.

But the crowd was near its quarry. Police and airport officials were helpless and the spartans of the air were beseiged in the hangar. Offifials of the National Aeronautical Association managed to muscle in and grab the barograph. Protection for the plane was finally established and souvenior hunters were denied even a speck of the oil that splotched the fusilage and wings.

The world soon knew of the descent, a radio man plunged through with a microphone and John and Kenneth Hunter greeted the nation as champions.

It was fully ten minutes before the flyers could escape into the hangar office There they had their first chance to relax—if relaxation could be had midst the flashlight flares and reporters' questions.

Given No Rest

Their rest was brief. They were escorted onto the roof of the hangar, along with their brothers of the refueling plane. The din on the field was terrific, thousands of yells and more thousands of automobile horns and firecrackers. When hoarseness caused a brief lapse, it was announced the flyers would be taken to a loop hotel for a night of rest.

Flanked by motorcycle police, followed by miles of cars, the flyers began their march of triumph. It was a glorious ending. A motorcycle policeman fell off his mount in excitement —but he wasn't hurt.

Royal Planes Fly In Great Air Race

LONDON, Eng., July 5. (C.P.) —Eighty-eight airplanes, six of which were piloted by women, started at intervals from Hanworth Park, Feltham, this morning in the annual air race for the King's cup. Two Royal airplanes are among the competitors—the Prince of Wales' Hawker, Tomtit, piloted by Squadron leader D. S. Don, and Prince George's Hawk Moth, piloted by Flight Lieutenant E. H. Fielden. The Royal owners were not in their machines.

Lady Bailey flew in her own Moth machine. Miss D. C. Guest, Mrs. C. M. Young and Mrs. A. S. Butler were at the controls of their own machines. The competing planes started in handicap order on their 720-mile journey.

DUNNING DEFENDS MAY-DAY BUDGET

Points to Favorable Comments By Great British Leaders.

SPEAKS IN ORILLIA.

ORILLIA, Ont., July 5.—(CP)— A definite lead toward Empire economic unity has already commenced as a result of Canada's May-Day budget, and favorable reaction toward the Dominion has already started in Great Britain and other parts of the British Empire, offsetting the uneasiness which arose in England last year following the Canadian wheat tie-up, said Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Finance, speaking here last night before an enthusiastic Liberal gathering.

Mr. Dunning said he freely admitted he had the western wheat crop in mind when fashioning the budget.

Touching upon the unemployment problem the Minister of Finance alluded to conditions in United States. "This country", he said, "which our Conservative friends are so fond of pointing to as an example in the matter are suffering from more unemployment in proportion than is England."

An "empty gesture", he said is what Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative Leader had termed his budget, but Premier Ramsay MacDonald, Rt. Hon. Lloyd George and Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, leaders of the great political parties in Great Britain had all said the Canadian budget—"A great lead by the Dominion toward Empire economic unity".

LIBERAL'S TARIFF ATTITUDE SCORED BY TORY LEADER

Hon. R. B. Bennett Opens His Campaign in Prince Edward Island.

MENTION TRADE TREATIES.

Promises Legislation to Protect Canadian Agriculture and Industry.

SUMMERSIDE, P.E.I., July 5 (By Thomas Green, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent). — Opening his Prince Edward Island campaign tour, Hon. R. B. Bennett here last night caustically referred to the tariff attitude of the Liberal administration, at the same time the Conservative Chieftain voiced his support for a car ferry service between the "Garden of the Gulf" and the mainland. To trade treaties and the development of the basic industry of agriculture, he devoted considerable time.

"Trade treaties—of course we want trade treaties," he exclaimed. "We want markets. How are you going to get them. Well, not the way Mr. King has acted by being frightened of the other fellow.

U.S. Tariff Bill Made Change.

"He said in Parliament, 'Don't provoke them,'" Mr. Bennett went on. "Don't provoke them — the bogey man. That is not the way Laurier talked." But after the Prime Minister had made his "don't provoke" statment in the House of Commons, the Opposition Leader went on, the Smoot-Hawley tariff was put into force with its detrimental effect on Canadian industry. Stressing the necessity for developing agriculture, Mr. Bennett repeated his pledges for a national highway and grants to agriculture. It was a matter of deep regret, he observed, that the population of Prince Edward Island had depleted. "Give Canadians a fair chance," was his motto and at the first session of Parliament after July 28, the Dominion Leader declared, he would see to it, if returned to power, that legislation would be enacted which would protect Canadian agriculture and industries.

HON. J. C. ELLIOTT AT SOO LAUDS BUDGET FEATURE

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., July 5 (C.P.).—This present tariff was better designed to meet the needs of the country than any tariff Canada ever had, said Hon. John C. Elliott, Minister of Public Works, here last night, addressing a meeting in the interests of A. E. Whytall, Liberal candidate in the present election campaign.

The British preference, the iron and steel tariff and other features of the Dunning budget were mentioned by the speaker.

"If you believe in this city—a city where there is more capital invested than in any other in the province, except two, and which has been aided by this budget—I urge you to support the King Government," said the speaker.

The chairman of the meeting, Dr. J. A. Shannon, announced at its close that Premier W. L. Mackenzie King would visit the Sault and address a meeting here, July 17.

American exports of industrial machinery in the first four months of this year totaled $87,533,000, a gain of $3,122,000 over the same period of 1929.

Fire Burns Home; Lad Of 9 Is Hero

KINGSTON, Ont., July 5. (Special to The Examiner). They took hold of each others' nighties, the oldest boy of nine carrying the baby, and leading them through dense smoke from the burning building on Thursday morning, was the way Mrs. Charles Gales, Barrieffield, told the heroism of Delbert Cole in saving his four brothers and one sister, all under seven, when the house they were sleeping in caught fire. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cole, parents, were off at a dance. They left a burning coal oil lamp on the table and at midnight a child seeking something to eat, upset the lamp on the bedclothes. The fire ensued. After getting the little folks out Delbert raised the alarm. Nothing was saved.

CIVIC WELCOME IS EXTENDED TO BISHOP O'CONNOR

Illuminated Address is Presented to New Bishop By Mayor Denne.

HARMONY NOTICED.

Bishop O'Connor in Reply Speaks Most Fittingly of Peterborough.

The Rt. Rev. Monsignor Denis O'Connor, new Bishop of Peterborough, became a full-fledged citizen of the city last evening on the grounds of St. Mary's Convent at a large Civic Reception tendered in his honor.

LITTLE FORMALITY

There was little formality but much sincerity and warm-heartedness to Peterborough's civic welcome to His Lordship. Citizens in every walk of life and of every denomination joined in the reception and with warm handclasps pledged their cooperation and deep respect to Bishop O'Connor.

The city was fully represented at the happy gathering by Mayor Denne, members of the City Council and leaders of the industrial, religious, so-

NEW BURGLARIES LAID TO WILSON

ESCAPED JAIL TWICE.

TORONTO, Ont., July 5.—(C.P.) — New exploits of James Wilson, who twice escaped from Napanee jail within a few weeks and is still at liberty, are being unearthed at Acton, Beaverton, Barrie and Allandale. His second escape, which took place two weeks ago, was accomplished after he had been brought back from Winnipeg, had been sentenced to 12 years in Kingston penitentiary and was under a special guard.

How he came to get away the second time while a guard was supposed to be on watch is now being investigated by the officers of the Provincial Secretary's Department.

Jail officials say he was kept there after sentence because he had the right to remain for 30 days, during which time he could make an appeal.

VISITORS CROWD HIGHWAYS TO U.S.

Traffic Over Peace River Bridge Sets New Record With Holiday Traffic.

NO MOTOR FATALITIES.

TORONTO, Ont., July 5 (Canadian Press). — Thousands of United States visitors thronged Ontario's highways and byways last night as they returned homeward following the celebration of their national holiday on Canadian soil.

At Fort Erie the greatest movement of traffic ever recorded occurred and it is estimated more than 100 persons crossed the Peace River Bridge to celebrate on this side of the border what the customs men termed the "Laborious Fourth."

At the Ambassador Bridge at Windsor the third busiest day since its opening was experienced by the bridge officials. Steamers plying between Canadian and United States ports were crowded with visitors, while even the airports on this side of the border were far busier than usual.

Despite the influx of visiting motorists no highway fatalities were recorded.

OTONABEE GIRLS CAPTURE TROPHY AT BIG FIELD DAY

HASTINGS BOYS WIN.

Peterborough County girls, represented by the 6th Line Keene Softball team brought back the coveted softball trophy from the fourth annual Central Ontario Junior Farmers' Field Day, which was held at Presqu'ile Point yesterday, by getting the best of the argument in the finals with Hastings, thus accomplishing the feat of having won the cup each year with the exception of 1928 when they were beaten in the finals by Lennox and Addington.

Hastings Boys' team also batted their way through to victory in the finals, against Northumberland Maple Leafs, and by their 13—9 score, carried off the second of the softball trophies presented by the Central Ontario Junior Farmers' Associations, and incidentally obtained the signal distinction of having won the honors four years in succession.

Although no official announcement was made concerning this year's holders of the silver cup donated by "Farm and Dairy," Peterborough, which is awarded to the county securing the highest number of points in standard events, it is presumed, from the showing which they made in the athletic events that Northumberland County will secure the coveted prize.

Keen Competition

An exceedingly large gathering of young farmers, fully representative of six counties, including Peterborough, Hastings, Northumberland, Prince Edward, Addington and Lennox, and Durham entered into the spirit of the occasion with abandonment, having set out with the determination to enjoy themselves, yet at the same time a remarkable earnestness and enthusiasm was evidenced in the large number of entires for the sporting events—an earnestness which fully demonstrates the pride which each individual farmer holds for their respective communities.

Various Attractions

Presqu'ile Point, a gem of a peninsula jutting out into the waters of beautiful Lake Ontario, was again unanimously chosen as the scene for the field day, which constitutes one of the largest events of its kind in this section of Ontario. Ideal weather conditions favored the participators in the outing, and farmers who came from far and near began to arrive on the grounds in a steady stream shortly after nine o'clock. Softball play-offs occupied the time until the picnic lunch, which was held at noon, after which the time preceeding the athletic program was spent in various ways which best suited the inclinations of the individuals. The crystal clear waters of the channel tempted many bathers, while the shoals of fish which could be discerned on the unruffled waters of the lake, brought forth many fishing lines complete with hooks and bait, which spelled disaster for many of the perch and bass. Two cruisers, the Shur and Saucona, displaying the Stars and Stripes at the stern and which rode at anchor, were also the objects of much favorable comment and interest. Airplane trips in a machine which had been flown from Leavens Brothers Air Service headquarters in Belleville by Pilot L. W. Hicks, were also a popular feature of the day's attractions, while a dance which was staged in the pavilion proved to be equally strong as a drawing card.

The Committee

The committee under Manager Joseph Wilson, left no stone unturned to make the affair one of the best yet held. J. B. Nelson, agricultural representative for Peterborough County, was the announcer, while the umpires were Ray Atkin, Stirling; Ralph Morden, Belleville; George Wannamaker, Rednerville; William Balance, Napanee. Judges—H. B. Cowan, Peterborough; Professor C. B. Sissons, Orono; W. J. Bell, Kemptville; Carman Stothers, Picton; William Know, livestock field representative for Peterborough County; Colonel J. W. Odell, Cobourg; Harry Sirrett, Brighton; R. S. Duncan and Mr. Murray, both of Toronto. Clerks—A. D. Runions, Napanee; Morley Webster. Local Committee—W. H. Smith; J. Y. Kellough; Joseph Wilson and F. J. Webster.

Softball Results

The men's softball games resulted as follows:—

Hastings 17, Prince Edward 3.
Northumberland 11, Durham 7.
Lennox and Addington 25, Peterborough 4.
Hastings 34, Lennox and Addington 4.

In the final, Hastings line-up was as follows:—L. Bateman, 1b; W. Warrenfi rf; Jeffs, 2b; A. Warren, 3b; G.

CLAIM BRITAIN WILL ENTER CONFERENCE UNPREJUDICED

LONDON, Eng., July 5 (C.P.).—The British Government intends to enter the Imperial Conference free and unfettered by prejudice or bias, declared Right Hon. J. H. Thomas, Secretary for the Dominions, in an address yesterday.

"Ought not the rationalization of the Empire to be under consideration?" Mr. Thomas asked. He proceeded to discuss the unemployment problem.

As he had examined it, everything the United States possessed in material resources wealth was possessed within the ambit of the British Empire.

HON. MR. BENNETT IS CHALLENGED ON LABOR ISSUE

Premier King Asks What Has Conservatives Done For Labor Men.

RECORD OUTLINED.

Party Opposed Old Age Pensions in House and Senate.

REVELSTOKE, B.C., July 5 (By Ray Brown, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).—The first speech of Premier Mackenzie King in the Province of British Columbia contained a challenge to Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative Leader.

"I challenge Mr. Bennett to tell the country what the Conservative party has done for Labor in all the time it has been in office," asserted the Prime Minister from the platform here.

Mr. Bennett had been talking a good deal about Labor, said Mr. King. "Let him reveal the record. He was quite ready to tell the country the record of the Liberal party in regard to Labor," said Mr. King. It was a Liberal Government which had established the Department of Labor.

Pensions Returned.

It was a Liberal Government that hda put through the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act. It was declared the Prime Minister, a Liberal Government which had seen to it that the employees of the old Grand Trunk Railway who went on strike and were deprived of their pensions had these pensions returned.

Many other accomplishments on the behalf of Labor which he claimed were due to Liberal governments were instanced by Mr. King.

The old age pensions had been introduced and passed by this Government, and, declared Mr. King, when the Old Age Pensions Bill was brought into Parliament by Dr. King, it was opposed by the Conservative party in the House of Commons. It had also, he said, been thrown out by a Senate in which the Conservatives had a majority.

Speaking for himself, said Mr. King, Labor questions had always been his chief interest, and he expected they would be throughout his life.

AUSTRALIAN COMMISSION LAYS GRAVE CHARGES

BRISBANE, Australia, July 5. — (C.P.).—The Brisbane Royal Commission appointed by the Government of the State of Queensland to enquire into the circumstances connected with the purchase of the Mungana Mines by the Labor Queensland Government, headed by Ernest G. Theodore, who is now Treasurer of the Commonwealth, makes grave charges in its report.

Among the main conclusions the Commission finds that Hon. Mr. Theodore and W. M. McCormack, another former Labor Premier of Queensland, together with Peter Goddard, mines manager at the Chillagoe Mines, and Fred Reid, of the firm of Goddard and Reid, were guilty of fraud and dishonesty in procuring for the State the purchase of the Mungansa Mines for £40,000.

More than 5,000,000 acres in Hungary are devoted to grape culture this year.

THE TIME HAS COME

The time has come the Walrus said,
To talk of many things—
Of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—
Of cabbages—and kings
—Lewis Carroll.

Among the new translations of the Bible I notice there is one into the artificial language, Esperanto. The inventor of Esperanto hoped to make it a universal language and thus remove one of the barriers which separate races one from another. The attempt has not been very successful, and now that the first wave of enthusiasm has died down Esperanto has become, with most people, only a memory.

It is interesting to recall that the New Testament was first written in a "universal" language. This was Greek, which as Lew Wallace truly remarks in Ben Hur, was the language prevalent in the politer circles in Judea at the time of Jesus. The Old Testament first became known to the Christians in a Greek translation from the Hebrew.

With the rise of Rome, Greek became replaced as an official language by Latin, and the translation of the Bible into Latin, known as the Vulgate, became the standard. The early churches attempted to do with Latin what the promoters of Esperanto tried to do, and they were more successful. For centuries, the fashionable language in Europe, the language of the scholars, was Latin. A new translation from the Vulgate into the Italian language is about to be published.

The Bible, they tell me, has been translated in part or in its entirety into over 600 languages, and it was "a miserable old enthusiast," as a pastor called him, who is largely responsible. This was William Carey, the cobbler, who learned six languages while he was mending shoes, thus illustrating a striking fact of psychology: that it is possible, through habit, to do two things at once and do them both well.

STRANGE LOOKING LETTERS.

Carey one day saw some strange looking letters, and grew very curious about them. The only man who could enlighten him about them lived six miles away, so he walked over to see him. He discovered the letters were Greek, and resolved to learn the language in which the New Testament was written. He walked to and fro six miles until he had mastered it.

When he arrived in India as a missonary he had to set to and learn the many languages of this strange country. But his enthusiasm and his ability were so great that he learned them quickly, amazing the natives. He had only been in India a little over a year when he was preaching in one of the native languages. When he had learned one new tongue he started translating the Bible into it, and before he had finished the Word was available in 34 new languages.

OLD LADY'S ENTERPRISE.

What a wonderful effect Carey's labor has had upon India! Truly we can say that his work was a leaven which leavened the whole.

THOUGHT ROMANS WERE HINDUS.

One of the languages into which he translated the Bible was Sanskrit, which to-day has somewhat the same relation to the languages of India that Latin had to the European and English languages. Thus the Bible was brought before the scholars of India, the priestly caste known as the Brahmins. The words of Jesus have made a great impression upon such national figures as Mahatma Gandhi.

One day, Dr. Joseph Chamberlain was reading the first chapter of the epistle to the Romans before some natives in an East India city. After the service an intelligent Brahmin came to him.

"That chapter," he said, "must have been written by one of your missionaries about the Hindus. It describes us exactly."

This was very candid, for the passage is not at all complimentary to the Romans. But the words were written about two thousand years ago by St. Paul. The remark of the Brahmin illustrates that wrong-doing is the same in all ages and places.

BREECHES OR APRONS.

In printing the Bible great care is taken, and the text is checked and re-checked, so that there can be no possibility of errors. But mistakes have crept into some editions which are (such is human perversity) sought after by collectors.

But not all unusual renderings of passages are really mistakes. There is, for instance, the famous Breeches Bible, which was printed nearly 300 years ago. It was really no error which led the editor to write of Adam and Eve that they "sewed figtree leaves together, and made themselves breeches." This quaint rendering can be traced much farther back than the so-called "breeches edition." In Wycliffe's Bible the word "brechis" is used, which is only another spelling. In the Authorized version the word is "aprons," and in Dr. Moffatt's recent translation it is "girdles."

SHOCKED GOOD PEOPLE.

There are biblical expressions which are rather surprising when they are taken from their context. A short time ago a minister in Toronto shocked some well - meaning people who did not know their Bible thoroughly by announcing that he would preach a sermon on the subject, "When God Shaved with a Borrowed Razor."

The idea of God shaving, and with a borrowed razor at that, called forth protests. But the minister had only changed the wording of Isaiah 7:20 slightly. This verse reads, "In that day shall the Lord shave with a razor that is hired." It is one of the striking figurative expressions with which the Bible is crowded, and which enforce the message of the passage by vivid similitudes which appeal strongly to the imagination.

The British and Foreign Bible Society celebrated its 125th anniversary this year, and the event synchronized with the appointment of a new secretary to the Upper Canada Bible Society. The newcomer is Rev. J. R. Armour, whose grandfather was a Canadian, though he himself is the son of a Presbyterian minister in Ireland.

OLD LADY'S ENTERPRISE.

Few realize the extent of the work done by the Bible Society in Canada. There are no fewer than 111 different translations of the Good Book in use in the Dominion, I am informed. The colporteurs of the society brave the lowest temperatures to carry the Word to distant pioneer settlements.

But we do not think any colporteur of the Canadian society has an experience similar to one which befell an old lady near Fitchburg, Mass., two years ago.

With commendable enterprise she stationed herself at a construction detour nearby and sold Bibles to motorists. We may safely hazard the guess that to most of them she offered something they did not have with them. But her activities came to an end. In the Christian country of the U. S. A. she was convicted in court of selling biblical literature without permit.

How To Worship

In Great Britain, Canada and the United States church attendance is increasing, and, unquestionably, advertising has helped. But does this increased attendance mean an enhanced interest in spiritual things?

I once heard the late Studdard Kennedy—better known, perhaps, as "Woodbine Willie"—preach to a congregation so large that the people stood in the aisles and sat in the chancel. They came to hear a famous man, burning with religious zeal, and he addressed them with the fervour of a prophet.

He went right to the heart of the problem of the church, and the heart of it is not to be found in the membership roll, nor on the collection plate.

This king's chaplain pleaded with his listeners not to go to church "to hear an eloquent preacher nor to listen to beautiful music, but to worship.

But here is the difficulty as I see it. What is the use of telling a man to worship if he does not know how? Many of the present generation have either forgotten how to really worship or have never learned the way.

A London-Scotland air service is being promoted.

FREEDOM BY THE TRUTH

The Son of Man did not come to free the world by legislation. It might be done by civilization. Civilization does free—intellect equalizes. Every fresh step of civilization contains victory over some lower instinct. But civilization contains within itself the elements of a fresh servitude. Man conquers the powers of nature and in turn becomes their slave. The workman is in bondage to the machinery which does his will; his hours, his wages his personal habits determined by it. The rich man fills his house with luxuries, and cannot do without them. A highly civilized community is a very spectacle of servitude. Man is there a slave to dress, to hours, to manners, to conventions, to etiquette. Things contrived to make his life more easy become his masters. Therefore, Jesus did not talk of the progress of the species nor the growth of civilization. He did not trust the world's hope of liberty to a right division of property. But He freed the inner man, so that the outer might become free, too. "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."—Sermons on Religion and Life, by F. W. Robertson, English divine, known as Robertson of Brighton (b. 1816-d. 1853).

The Question ? ? Box ? ?

In this corner the enquiries of readers on Biblical and religious problems are answered. Address "The Q. B. Editor c-o The Examiner.

—A Causerie by "Auditor"

QUES.—Who were the Christian Fathers?

ANS.—The Christian Fathers, or, as they are often called, the Church Fathers, were the earliest expounders of the teaching of the apostles. The word "father" means, here, "a teacher of spiritual things." There is a doubt as to who should be included in the term. St. Bernard is said to be the last of the Church Fathers, and the Venerable Bede of England is sometimes named as another. Those who lived in the first century have been distinguished as the Apostolic Fathers. Among the most famous of the Church Fathers were Tertullian, the earliest church writer of the west; Clement of Alexandria, a great Christian philosopher; Origen, who "sold" Christianity to the cultured people of his day, and Lucian the martyr. Lucian was tortured and starved to death, refusing to satisfy his hunger by food which had been offered as a pagan sacrifice to idols.

QUES.—What is religion? A friend of mine says it is only church organization, but I maintain it is really belief in God.

ANS.—In the talking picture, "The Broadway Melody," there is a very human scene which touches the deeper meaning of religion. One of the Mahoney sisters, in grief and despair, sees the other plunging into the dissipation of night life in New York. In her agony, she throws herself on her knees by the bed and begins to pray.

That is real religion: the turning to the spiritual consoler, Christ, who is ever near us, in sincerity and real devotion. Most of us have felt, at one time or another, the presence of God, who is Spirit. At that moment we are really religious.

It may be in church, or when we are alone in our rooms or with nature, or when we have prayed deeply for the welfare of someone we love. Suddenly we have a "feeling" of peace, which too often, alas, fades away quickly.

The word religion has a wide meaning and the two definitions you give are both right in the larger sense, but I think you come nearer to the original meaning which is a "turning back" to God.

QUES.—Why are Negro spirituals called spirituals?

ANS.—Because they express the religious feelings of the Negro, but spiritual is only one of the names given to them. They are also called jubilees, melodies, folk songs.

The spiritual originated in the south. They are the spontaneous expression of the religious sentiment of the "darky" and musical critics have been greatly struck by the sympathy between the words and music of the spirituals.

They were very popular in the early seventies. A book of 140 spirituals was published at that time, and it is still on the market. A band of Negroes traveled round to obtain funds for a Negro university singing the old plantation melodies or spirituals.

They were not at first written down and as the Negro moved from one place to another he changed the words and melody slightly, adapting them to changing conditions, stressing the sadness of the melody or its gladness to correspond with his feelings. So there are to-day various versions of the same spiritual.

cial and political life of the municipality.

Mayor Denne read and presented Bishop O'Connor with a beautifully inscribed illuminated address of welcome and His Lordship in his reply won the hearts of all his hearers. The reception took place on a platform, which was appropriately decorated with Union Jacks, red, white and blue streamers, and the yellow and white of Papal Flags. Rev. Paul Costello, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, accompanied the Bishop and introduced the citizens to His Lordship. The priests of the city were present.

The Mayor's address read as follows:

"To the Right Reverend D. O'Connor, D. D., Bishop of Peterborough.

"May it Please Your Lordship:

"I desire, on befalf of the Council of the City of Peterborough, to give you a very cordial welcome to this city.

"We wish to welcome you as one who after occupying a prominent position in another city has come to make his home here and to become a member of this community, and as a distinguished scholar who is known for his accomplishments in the field of learning.

"We also welcome you as the head of the Peterborough Diocese of your church. The position to which you have been called is a very important one, and we are pleased to know that one of your reputation for scholarship and leadership has been promoted to administer the affairs of the Diocese and be one of our citizens.

"We hope that you will not feel that you are a stranger among us, but that you will, even though having come here so recently, at once feel that you are a welcomed citizen of Peterborough and member of this community.

"We are pleased to be able to tell you that in Peterborough the best of relations exist between all the citizens, and that all co-operate in the friendliest manner for the promotion of the material and moral welfare of the city, and we feel assured that nothing can arise to in any way disturb this good feeling.

Again we assure you of a hearty welcome.

Bishop Replies

"Mr. Mayor, alderman and fellow citizens of Peterborough—citizens of no mean city", began Bishop O'Connor in reply.

"I am greatly indebted to you Mr. Mayor for this reception which you have tendered me. I thank you and all your citizens for its sincerity and cordiality.

"This is not the first time," continued the bishop smiling, "that I have met with Peterborough citizens, for at the time of my reception on June eleventh I felt the warmth of Peterborough's handshake and not only it warmth but its strength as well. For several days after my hand was well nigh useless and if such should occur again tonight I shall call medical aid and send the bill to the City Council.

"I hope you will find me a satisfactory citizen. For 17 years I lived in the city of London and during that time there were only three persons whose acquaintance I did not make. They were the Court Judge, the Magistrate and the Chief of Police.

"I hope it was not a sinister omen that the very first layman I should meet in Peterborough was in the sanctuary and that the Crown Attorney. And the very first mail I received bearing a Peterborough post mark was a tax bill. However, I hope I can bear my share of the social overhead and that communication was quite welcome.

"During my stay in London I never quarreled with anyone and I am leaving behind me not one enemy within or without the fold of the nine counties composing the Diocese of London. I am going to remain with you in Peterborough 17 years and, perhaps, 27 years, because the O'Connors are a long-lived race, and I sincerely hope my stay shall be long among you. Now Mr. Mayor we are going to be with you across the years of the future.

"I fancy you are proud of Peterborough at this time, I know I am. Proud of its schools, its churches, its hospitals; proud of all its institutions. For all these fine institutions I thank the people.

"I wish to express my love and appreciation for my predecessor, Bishop O'Brien. I met him in Toronto and I told him then that I was not afraid of Peterborough but that I was going to find things in such good shape as to cramp my style.

Peterborough Must Progress

"But we must make further development; we must press on in Peterborough. My priests, my people and I will set foot with he who goes furthest in the progress of Peterborough. In our schools and in our churches we are not conspiring against anyone. Our children from their earliest years and in their first catechism are taught the meaning of civic beauty. These small children you see about you, we teach them to obey the law not only in fear but in conscience.

"Peterborough is strategically located; it may be called the hub of things. I have been around a bit and have seen the fertility of your soil and I have also seen your rolling hills and sparkling lakes, everyone a Killarney. I am taken with your many factories, your industrial stability, your trees the beautiful homes and cleanliness of your city.

"I am impressed with the spirit of your people. There is no quarreling here. All work together in harmony for the betterment of the community and the realization of high ideals. Please permit me to state in the language of a commercial man that I am sold on Peterofough.

"Again I thank you for this reception and when I look over these fine-looking people gathered here I am reminded of the manner in which Daniel O'Connor used to begin his speeches. He would say, 'I have travelled across the countryside and into many towns and market places but never have I seen a finer, more decent or a cleaner gathering of people than before which I now stand. Cross my heart that's no blarney'.

"Now", concluded Bishop O'Connor "I welcome the opportunity to meet you each individually."

The citizens formed in a long queue which slowly passed up the steps to the raised platform where the bishop stood with a welcoming smile. Each citizen was introduced by Rev. Paul Costello and each received the warm hand of friendliness by the new Bishop of Peterborough.

During this time the Rangers Band under the direction of Lieutenant W. H. Peryer, which was seated on the grounds, played many numbers which added much to the spirit of the occasion. While the citizens were gathering for the reception the band played softly "In a Monastery Garden", making a lasting impression upon the listeners.

The beautiful illuminated address presented to His Lordship is the work of E. W. Glover of the Trent Canal staff here. It was bound in soft white calf skin fired with gold lettering.

ALL NIGHT SEARCH FOR LAD PROVES IN VAIN

KAPUSKASING, Ont., July 5.—(C. P.)—Flashlight and other artificial illumination last night were employed in the search for six year old Victor Gareau, missing since Monday afternoon in the bush country adjacent to the family home where the distracted mother awaits the result of the fathers dogged but hitherto fruitless search for the boy.

Obsessed with a desire to hide when anyone approaches on the part of the boy is believed to make the work of rescue more difficult.

SCHOOL PICNIC IS BIG SUCCESS

Fairmount Pupils Enjoy Pleasant Afternoon—Races Are Run Off.

Fairmount School under the supervision of Miss Helen Staples, the teacher, closed a successful year's work with a most enjoyable picnic, which was given on Monday afternoon to a happy crowd of children, with their parents and friends numbering around sixty-five.

Boy's race, under five years, Bobby Allin.

Girls 5 to 8 years, Betty Allin, Boys, 5 to 8 years, Allan Downes. Girls, 8 to 12 years, Jean Hanbridge. Boys, 8 to 10 years, Norman Earle. Boys, 10 to 12 years, Clairemont Morgan. Boys, jumping race, Harold Hooten. Young ladies race, Miss Rose Hall. Married ladies race, Mrs. Kerr. Girls three legged race, Edna Morrison, Mary Staples. Boys three legged race, Joe Fair and Harold Hooten.

An exciting tug-of-war and ball games closed the numerous events of the day.

Just before the satisfying picnic supper was served, order was called and Miss Staples was presented with a handsome clock by her pupils and the following address was read:

Fairmount, June 30, 1930.

Dear Miss Staples:

We the pupils of Fairmount School would like to take this opportunity of expressing to you our appreciation of your services as our teacher during the past two years.

It was with regret that we learned of your leaving us and we ask you to please accept this small gift as a slight token of our love and esteem. We wish you every success in your new school.

Signed on behalf of the pupils,
Jean Handbridge.
Edna Morrison.

Miss Staples briefly thanked the boys and girls for this very tangible evidence of their appreciation and love, after which the service of sandwiches and cake, lemonade and ice cream proved to be the end of a perfect day.

CHRIST CHURCH HAS FINE GARDEN PARTY

Many Attractive Booths and Good Music Draw Crowd at Campbellford.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 5 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — The annual garden party of Christ Church (Anglican) was staged on Thursday on the grounds of the Parish Hall, when many people took advantage of the very attractive lunch that was served, and the fun that was going.

The band of the Northumberland Regiment was in attendance, and under the baton of Bandmaster W. Pierson rendered a splendid program of popular music.

The grounds for the occasion were illuminated with electric light, which made a pretty picture reflecting on the gay decorations of the different booths. Every one wore a flower favor from the flower booth, and many of the younger generation, as well as some of the elders, paid great attention to the hot dog stand. There was also ice cream and cake, candy, cold drinks and strawberries and cream for young men to treat their ladies too, and a fortune teller who appealed especially to the fair sex.

Under the auspices of the A.Y.P.A., a short play was staged in the hall during the course of the evening, which delighted a goodly number of people, and proved profitable to the general fund.

FIELD BATTERY

Major. Besides the five officers there are 34 sergeants, N.C.O.'s and other ranks in the Battery.

The Battery will get its practical artillery training for the year at the annual artillery camp at Petawawa, where actual firing will be done. The men will entrain for this camp on Monday, July 14, and will be drilled under conditions approximated as closely as possible to those of war on the expansive camp ranges. The camp will last until July 23, and a large representation from the local Battery is to take advantage of it.

Nearly a half-million dollars worth of American surveying and engineering instruments were shipped to other countries in the last 12 months.

In the burrow near Ballater, Scotland, King George's gamekeepers recently found a fox and two cubs and a rabbit and four young living together.

NOT FIT TO DRIVE.

If there is one class of motorist who should be permanently deprived of the right to drive an automobile, it was represented by the drivers who shortly after 10 o'clock on Thursday night raced up Water street side by side at a speed estimated by competent drivers as at least 50 miles an hour.

The two cars thundered up intersections for several blocks at the same wild pace, while those who watched the crazy race waited for the crash that seemed inevitable.

Had another car entered Water street in front of this wildly speeding pair of high-powered machines or had a pedestrian, miscalculating the speed of the oncoming cars and ventured out into the roadway, the result would have been an appalling accident.

Fools who drive like that deserve no second chance; their licenses should be lifted, and lifted for good.

There is some excuse for the motorist who drives too fast on a provincial highway, but there is none for people crazy enough to drive as this pair of scatter-brained motorists did on a heavily travelled city street on Thursday night.

STRENGTHENING THE FAMILY CHAIN.

There has been a noticeable increase in this district in the number of family picnics in which the members of the clan come together to renew old acquaintances and re-cement drifting relationships.

In the last few days several of these interesting events have been held, bringing together in each case several hundred people of the same blood ties, many of whom had not had a chance to see each other for years.

Such occasions should be encouraged, for in these days when families drift apart and relatives are scattered all over the continent there is a very real benefit in making possible a re-union, if only for a short time, of the members of the family when the new arrivals and the "in-laws" can be introduced and the whole family structure strengthened and developed.

As a contemporary points, these family re-unions are serving something more than a mere social purpose, they are forging new links in the family chain.

When the connection between scattered units of a family becomes one of thought only and social intercourse is impossible, there is not that welding together that can be accomplished by assembling the various members at a huge re-union, such as have been successfully arranged by several district groups.

THE HORTICULTURAL SHOW.

The Horticultural Society of the Canadian General Electric Company is to be commended upon what it is doing in the direction of making Peterborough a city of more beautiful homes.

The Horticultural Show, which the organization has announced for the middle of August, is designed to stimulate general interest in the growing of flowers and in the beautifying of gardens and lawns.

This is not a money-making endeavor on the part of the society—in fact, the proceeds are to be turned over to the Canadian Legion to assist that body in its splendid work of looking after returned soldiers.

The only object in arranging such a show is, as has been said, to encourage citizens generally in improving the appearance of their homes and grounds and in taking a deeper interest in flowers.

This undertaking, which will make a valuable contribution toward bringing about that more beautiful city which everybody desires to see, should have general support, and both the entry list and the patronage should be sufficiently large to justify the making of this Horticultural Show an annual affair.

BRITISH SPORTSMANSHIP.

British sportsmanship at its finest and best was revealed in the incident during Thursday's sculling race at Henley when J. D. Beresford, the English rower who was opposing our own Joe Wright, refused to take advantage of a momentary mishap to his Canadian rival.

Early in the race Wright "caught a crab," and Beresford, who was in the lead at the time and could have materially increased the margin separating his boat from his adversary's shell, rested on his oars until Wright had recovered his position in the boat.

Eventually Wright succeeded in overhauling and passing his gallant opponent and in winning the race, but in the eyes of the world that loves real sportsmanship Beresford won a moral victory that will be remembered long after the name of the winner has been forgotten.

There was nothing in the rules requiring Beresford to stop when his rival was in trouble; it was simply that feeling inherent in the true British sportsman that to take advantage of a mishap is not cricket that compelled the English oarsman to give Wright a chance to recover.

Love of sport for sport's sake, and not the will to win, is the distinguishing characteristic of British sportsmen, and there never was a finer illustration of that fact than was furnished by J. D. Beresford at historic old Henley-on-the-Thames the other day.

THE SOCIAL FARMER.

Last January one of the leading farm journals made an editorial announcement addressed to farmers as human beings. It must have come as a pleasant shock to people accustomed to being approached as producers, as a class sadly in need of Government help, as unenlightened stepchildren in the national family. The farm paper proclaimed a change in its own point of view to reflect the altered feeling of its million and a half readers. It will hereafter recognize that farmers and their families have "interests and capacities that they are even more anxious to develop than their material interests and capacities."

This is taken by Charles Josiah Galpin as one piece of evidence that farmers have in the last year become uncomfortably conscious of their place in the kitchen. He is the contributor of the chapter on rural life in "Social Changes in 1929," edited by William F. Ogburn. Every chapter is filled with facts of the greatest interest and significance, some of which received a certain amount of publicity during the year, others virtually unknown. None is more important than the brief discussion by Mr. Galpin of what is happening to the awakening farmers.

They are weary of their position in the social scheme. For so long a time that the attitude became traditional, they strove for happiness by concentrating on the land which was theirs or which they hoped to own. When agricultural colleges offered instruction on ways of improving the soil, increasing the crops, scientifically breeding and husbanding cattle and hogs, they absorbed knowledge as the desert takes up rain. Agricultural schools have been and still are filled with eager students and enthusiastic teachers, and the farmer has learned to produce. He will not drop what he has acquired, but if present indications are a true forecast, he will stop thinking that his whole aim lies in working hard, saving, owning his own farm and producing as much as he can.

Mr. Galpin says that most farmers have already become convinced of the social futility of such an ambition. One reason is the easy, rapid interchange of communication between farm and city people. The drift of population is from the country to the towns, but there is a considerable interchange. In 1928, for example, 1,960,000 persons left the farms for the cities, but 1,362,000 persons the same year came to the country from towns. There is so much movement back and forth that every farm family has a representative in a city, and every farm neighborhood has a city family recently won to agriculture. The larger and more stable farm element has observed the difference in incomes and in standards of living. Farmers are not so much troubled by the cash difference in income, for they realize the expense of living in the city, but they are distressed by the uncertainty of their reward and particularly by the facilities for easier living, for social intercourse, for cultivation of the mind and heart enjoyed by city people and not available to them. If they have lost faith in the old doctrine of hard work and big crops, they are bound to seek a new goal. A comparatively new subject, rural sociology is being taught in more than 500 colleges. This may be an indication of the road the farmers intend to follow. —New York Times.

SCOTLAND TO WINNIPEG BY AIR.

The leader of the British Arctic Air Route Expedition, H. G. Watkins, which sails from the Thames for Greenland on Thursday, makes out a good case for air travel from Scotland to Winnipeg by way of Greenland. On the line lie the Faroe Islands and Iceland. Nowhere are there more than 300 miles of water to be flown. But two doubts arise: the handicap of sea fog and the obstruction of the Greenland ice cap as a hazard to flying. The American Army aviators were much troubled by fog, as Mr. Watkins admits, on the sea legs to Greenland. It took them nineteen days to traverse 1,700 miles from the Orkneys to Frederiksdal, on the south coast of Greenland. Bad weather and the difficulty of finding suitable landing harbors on the east coast accounted for much of the delay. Last summer Captain Ahrenberg was a month flying from Denmark to Greenland, and in the end had to give up his attempt to proceed by an Arctic route to New York.

These experiences give the British party pause without discouraging them. It is calculated that seaplanes could be guided by wireless directional beacons from the Orkneys to the Faroes, to Iceland and the east coast of Greenland. The Air Ministry is making a survey of flying conditions between the Faroes and Iceland. It is planned to make non-stop flights from Reykjavik to the Greenland ice cap and land there on skis. The main work of the British expedition will be to study the ice cap, but also a "geographical and ground survey of a large section of the east coast of Greenland" will be made. West of Greenland co-operation by Canada is assured. It is expected that the air will be clearer at Angmagsalik and over the ice cap than is the case going from that settlement down to the southern coast.

There is much testimony that the ice cap is usually free from fog. A winter is to be spent on the highest part for meteorological research. The theory that a depression in the ice cap all the way across Greenland exists will be tested in the hope of finding an easier line of flying than over the high cap. Canada will be expected to supply details about the crossing of Davis Strait to Baffinland and the feasibility of a route thence to Southampton Island, Hudson Bay, down to Fort Churchill, and thence on to Winnipeg. The Canadian record for flying in sub-Arctic and Arctic territory is admirable. If the Greenland ice cap presents no serious obstacle to aviators, the prospects for an air route from Scotland to Winnipeg will look brighter. Mr. Watkins predicts that "what we shall do in Greenland will be novel and exciting work." It is a great adventure which will be well worth reporting.—New York Times.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The happy thought for to-day is that the Federal election has only a little more than three weeks to run.

Attention of local motorists is called to the fact that drivers who crowd too many people into their cars are being fined in New Toronto and other places.

It begins to look more like an election. Here is Hon. Peter Heenan accusing the Ontario Government of coercing Northern voters.

But where in this campaign is R. J. Dearchman, the demon statistician of the Consumers' League?

Radio election broadcasts, it is admitted, would be much more effective in winter weather. Only the hardshells stay indoors these warm summer nights to listen to political addresses.

A fierce battle was fought by Mike Park's foot soldiers at the rifle ranges, east of here, Monday nite, but the enemy was repulsed just when the good folks in Ashburnham was packing up their things ready to get out.

Dominion Day was an exciting day in the village, what with a parade of milk wagons and bread carts in the a.m. and a thunderstorm in the p.m.

A miniature golf course was opened here this week so Joe Wearing, our demon golfer, expects to have a lot of fun just as soon as this here election is over.

The paving operations on Main St. is drawing better mattinee audiences these days than the talkies.

According to Ham Burnham, Mr. De Valera of the Irish Free State, east of here, is going to enter into the election campaign. Ham didn't say exactly when he would be here but it won't likely be on the 12th, say we.

Neither Ed. Peck nor Joe Duffus is using flying machines to tour the northern part of the riding, horseless carriages being good enough for them, say we.

From the No. of stout women in golf pants what was glimpsed on Main St. this week we suspect the tourist season has started to commence.

A Thought

LUXURY.

When I behold a fashionable table set out in all its magnificence, I fancy that I see gouts and dropsies, fevers, and lethargies, with other innumerable distempers lying in ambuscade among the dishes. Nature delights in the most plain and simple diet. Every animal, but man, keeps to one dish. Herbs are the food of this species, fish of that, and flesh of a thirdd. Man falls upon everything that comes in his way; not the smallest fruit or excrescence of the earth, scarce a berry or a mushroom can escape him.

Common sense is the gift of heaven; enough of it is genius.

THE GRINGO PRIVATEER

By PETER B. KYNE

CHAPTER 7.

"Well, my father was always a bit stingy with me. He made me work for every dollar of spending money I ever fingered. Consequently, I yearned to take ten thousand dollars away from him and after a while I figured out a way to swindle him. I bet six thousand against his ten and reduced the bet to writing so there wouldn't be any argument about it afterward, because I knew my father would crawfish on me if I gave him a real opening. So I carefully stipulated every rule—and they were hard rules, for the old man saw to that.

"We argued so much about relaxing the rules that I got his mind off one important point and he signed up without noticing his error in failing to stipulate the place of execution. That left me free to choose it, so I chose the dry, sandy river bed of the San Ardo. The old man made no objection. He figured I'd picked the sand of the river bed to save myself from being as badly hurt, when I was thrown, as I would be on the hard ground of the corral. Anhow, I was his son and he was willing enough that I should have the best of it in falling; so he sat his horse and grinned like a fool while a couple of the boys helped me saddle the outlaw.

"Now this was not to be a rodeo ride, where you start out of a chute and finish when the pistol goes off, which is when the judges figure you've done your best and the horse has done his worst. This was to be a contest to a finish, winner take all. Fortunately I knew this horse's habits. When you first forked him he'd make four broad jumps, with his back arched, and come down hard each time. If that didn't do the trick he'd stop and do his stuff within an area of twenty feet. He's let you get comfortably set in the saddle if he was kept blindfolded. So I faced him in the direction I desired him to buck, an assistant removed the blindfold and we were off.

"On the second broad jump he was off the firm sandbar and into the stream, where about two inches of water flowed over something my old man didn't know existed at this spot—and that was a patch of quicksand about eighteen inches deep. A sensible horse would have whirled out of it the moment he felt his front feet going down, but this horse was a lunatic and a creature of habit, besides. He just had to make his four broad jumps or bust, so he made them—and discovered I was still aboard. So he stopped and started to work on me in earnest, only to discover I'd outfoxed him as well as my old man.

"That horse just couldn't do his stuff because, in that shallow quicksand, he couldn't get any traction, and in about a minute he was blowing and sweating and trying to climb out. I wouldn't let hm, and there he worked until all the ambition was out of him and I scratched him fore and aft util he stood still under it and just bawled like a spoiled baby.

"Of course Father screamed murder and tried to make a charge of swindling stick, but he couldn't go back on the written bet, so finally he paid it. Years later he admitted I'd saved him a million dollars by giving him a liberal education in the matter of covering all the possible contingencies in a contract."

"As I called Frandfather," Muriel retorted, "he was a ten-minute egg and you're just like him. I went you to give that Ken Burney a good job on one of your California ranches. You have no right to permit him to risk his life in your employ here."

"But don't you realize, Daddy, that you're just suborning murder by employing him?"

The king was irritated. "There's entirely too much to-do made over the blood of rascals these days," he growled. "A lot of loose thinking and sticky sympathy wasted on the killer but none on his victim. This boy, Ken Burney, can kill Martin Bruce in cold blood and then, with my money and political influence back of him, he can plead not guilty by reason of insanity and a jury of twelve good boobs and true will turn him loose to kill somebody else. Of course, just to appear orderly, they'll send him to an insane asylum, where he can catch up on his neglected reading for three months; then the doctors will examine him, declare him sane and he will go back to his friends and be congratulated on two counts—one for going insane and the other for recovering."

His mood changed suddenly. He chuckled. "And that young idiot tackled Martin Bruce in his own bailiwick. Lord, what a lion-tamer the boy would make!"

"He isn't an idiot," the girl defendded.

"I don't understand his modus operandi," the king continued. "I gather that he took Bruce by surprise, disarmed him and then made a monkey out of him. Undoubtedly, at real fist fighting, he could have stretched Bruce in half a minute, yet he preferred to annoy him, to humiliate him by slapping him, to enrage him, to so imbue him with hatred and a yearning to even the score as to make a killing inevitable the first time they meet. I'm certainly stuck for that boy's funeral expenses unless he consents to listen to reason."

The girl was exasperated. "But you're encouraging him not to listen to reason," she protested. "How can you be so inconsistent?"

"I'm not inconsistent. That young fellow has made up his mind to bring himself forcibly to my attention by doing for me something he knows will please me very much. He's heard some gossip around cow camps, has put two and two together and made four. I don't know what his plans are, but I suspect they will be very beneficial to me; I suspect that the first point called for in his plans was the rough-housing of old Martin Bruce, but whatever his plans are, they're his and I have no business to interfere.

"You forget, my dear child, that I started young and that I'm an old man now. All of my lieutenants who started with me are old men, too. Old age in the executives is what atrophies a business and I'll be shot if, when I pop off, I'm going to leave you an atrophied business, to be handled by old men. I need new blood in my business. Young blood, bold blood, clean blood.

"I'm going to start with Kenneth Burney and give him a try-out; notwithstanding the fact that I have known him but two hours, he's my idea of a general manager for El Ranchito. He fascinates me, Muriel. Of course I could send him away to another ranch where his life would be as peaceful and safe as a monk's in a monastery. But I don't want to and I know he wouldn't accept such a job, because he'd feel he hadn't earned it and that I was trying to be nice to him as a sop to my conscience for closing out his father's cattle.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

What To-day Means To You

"CANCER."

If July 5 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8 a.m. to 9:15 a.m., noon to 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 5 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 10 p.m. to 11:30 p.m.

Astrological influences have not changed on this date—prayers and desires will be answered, if you accept the answers. Treasures are still hidden, and you must dig, if you find them. Beneficial to health. Do not be careless with letters!

The child born on this July 5 will have a gentle and kind disposition; a reserved and controlled nature, but will be sociable and friendly— also popular. Literary ability is shown, and it will be an inveterate reader. It should have good health as regards nutrition and digestion.

You have natural gifts and marked ability, but you are lacking in ambition and have little "push." It is so easy for you to slack, and to let your talents go to pieces for lack of hard work. You are satisfied with half their economic value, or to remain without "accomplishments." You have a quiet and reserved nature, a quick and short temper, an impatient disposition and are rather distrustful.

Difficulty is shown in acquiring or retaining wealth, although the latter part of your life shows prosperity and success. If you have children, they will be the cause of many discords in your life, and financial losses. They will be of little comfort to you, except in your advanced years. The signs do not counsel marriage for you, and hold out little happiness therein. Servants will always be a source of worry to you. Your imperative need of friendship and attachment constantly impels you towards new scenes and relationships, although disillusionment will usually follow each new association.

You have a sensuous, but refined nature, and you have a very clean mind. You have a much stronger character than appears on the surface; you rather try to impress others with superficialities—you do not put your best foot forward. Fight against your jealousies.

"CANCER."

If July 6th is your birthday the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. ,to 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. and 10 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 a.m. to 9:40 a.m. and 9 p.m. to 10 p.m.

There are special warnings for this date. Difficulties augured through family quarrels. Avoid the opposite sex! Dangers abroad—stay at home and make your own peace! Your own company is the safest.

Children born on this July 6th will be fond of adventure and travel, and will have enterprising natures. They will be too pleasure-loving for their own good. They will be very fond of school sports and games, and will excel in them, rather than their studies. They will have a delightful sense of humor.

You are a gentleman (or woman) in the highest sense of the term, whose gentility has nothing to do with birth or any other status in life. Rich or poor, you never lack friends, and you will never be lonely. Your temperament is of a gay and an optimistic sort. You are a purveyor of good cheer and friendly smiles, so why should there not be a beaten path to your door of the right sort of people, of every creed and class? You have a gracious, affectionate way of speaking to everyone, and you are infinitely compassionate for the incompetent and the weak. There is nothing bumptuous about you.

You are not only sweet, kind and gentle, but you are smart in respect to intellect. You can do and say clever and original things. You have considerable ingenuity and you never stay in a tight corner for long; nor do you need to be rescued by another. When it comes to business you are shrewd. But oh! so honest and just. You will not do another, and few are quick enough to do you. It would be impossible for anything or anybody to make you lose your head, or spoil you. You do not care a bit about money, position or fame; you do care, however, for your friends and you love your home and for these you will fight.

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake

Don't Envy a "Pull"

Says Charles M. Schwab:

"The man who starts out with a pull is under a severe handicap. He has to do his work twice as well to get recognition for a job well done."

Here is something which those who are continually envying men who begin life with a 'head start' should remember.

When the son of the boss comes into a business organization his fellow workers take it for granted that he has secured his job by being born lucky, and therefore will not amount to much.

He must do his work very well indeed before they will allow that he has any brains.

Sons of famous and brilliant men are under an equally severe handicap.

Constantly they hear from their employers:

"If you are as good a man as your father you will be all right."

But there is always something in the statement which convinces the young fellow that nobody expects him to be as good a man as his father.

In fact, if he is not twice as good as his father nobody will allow that he has any ability at all.

I know that being born with a silver spoon in one's mouth, or being injected into a soft place by paternal power, stirs the envy of many young fellows who have their own way to make.

But the "fortunate" ones are rather to be pitied than envied.

Most of the sons of rich and influential fathers are spared all the hard going and hard work that made their fathers rich and influential.

Look through the list of captains of industry and you will find that more than half of them worked their way through college, if they got through at all.

Maybe they didn't have as much fun in their youth as did their more wealthy companions, but they have plenty of time for fun now, and most of them have learned how to take it.

Two presidents of the United States, Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Hoover, worked hard in their college days, or they would have been without that kind of an education.

Neither ever had a "pull" or ever needed one.

Education is easier to come by to-day than it ever was before.

Trained minds make competition more keen, but they do not make it impossible.

With a motive in life and abundant determination, there is still plenty of chance for young men and young women, and they will be better off if they start without the handicap of wealth and influence.

When Mr. Schwab spoke the words we quote he had neither, so he knew exactly what he was talking about.

TWO BODIES RECOVERED

BROCKVILLE, Ont., July 5 (C.P.) —The hull of drill boat J. B. King began to yield its ghastly cargo at noon yesterday when Diver Geoffrey Skinner of Toronto, after several descents brought to the surface the body of a man identified as Archie Kerr, aged 22, of Kemptville, Ont., who was sleeping on the craft at the time of the explosion last Thursday. Another body was located by the diver in the course of his examination of the sleeping quarters aboard the drill boat, and it will be brought up this afternoon. Kerr was a driller on board the boat. The list of missing now stands at 26.

FINANCIAL NEWS

WIDE RANGE IN PRICE OF EGGS

Butter Was 34 and 35 Cents on Farmers' Market.

NEW POTATOES APPEAR.

The price of eggs had a wide range on the farmers' market this morning. They brought prices anywhere from 28 to 40 cents a dozen, depending on size and grading.

Butter was 34 and 35 cents a pound, cream was 39 cents a pint and broiling chickens were 30 and 35 cents a pound.

Last Fall's chickens sold at 20 cents a pound and hens were 24 and 25 cents. Little live White Leghorn chicks, whose shrill pipe was heard all over the basket section, were 15 cents apiece. Small spring ducks were 35 cents a pound and older members of the orange-billed family were 30 cents a pound.

Beets and carrots were selling at three bunches for 25 cents. Small Yorkshire pigs were $14 and $15 a pair.

Red and white currants were 15 cents, in quart boxes.

There were plenty of flowers on the open market and in the basket section. Black-eyed Susans consorted with sweet william; there were purple and yellow velvet pansies in little bunches, bowls of pale pink roses and tall vases filled with yellow-hearted daisies.

FURTHER DROPS IN WHEAT PRICE

Bright Outlook of Crops in Canadian West Helps Values Down.

EXPORTS SMALL.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 5 (Canadian Press). — At the end of a week of small price fluctuations, wheat last night showed net losses of 1½ to 1¾ cents a bushel. The more violent declines of past weeks were checked and the market reacted temporarily to reports of better foreign demand, but the general prosperous outlook on crops in the Canadian West had the effect of keeping values down.

The July future, at the close of trading yesterday, was quoted at 96½ cents. October sold from $1.00¾ and December at $1.02.

Scattered showers during the week accounted largely for the lower level of values, while the continued slowness of export demand was also a factor. Traders could find nothing in the news either at home or from abroad to encourage the buying of wheat, but there was also a notable lack of selling pressure with none prepared to take the short side to any extent. The uncertainty of the outcome in Western Canada held speculative trading in check and apart from a little spreading between Winnipeg and Chicago there was practically nothing in the shape of outside interest.

Export sales reached a small total and clearances of wheat and wheat flour from North America this week are again expected to be disappointing.

Advices from France and Italy have estimated the new wheat crops in these two countries at 130,000,000 bushels less than was harvested a year ago. This is quite a serious reduction.

ARTICLE LXII.

Q.—What are the general characteristics of Irrigation Bonds?

A.—Irrigation bonds are classed as industrial bonds because they contain certain elements of risk that are attached to industrial bonds. The elements of uncertainty attach themselves to the dam or pumping station, the uncertaitny as to whether or not the land is worth irrigatting and the question as to whether or not settlers can be attracted to the land in sufficient numbers to make it a successful commercial enterprise.

If these qualifications are undisputed the bonds can be made attractive.

Water rights should be well determined. The right to take the water—to take a fixed quantity of water and the right to take it indefinitely, is of great importance. The source of supply is of course important. Its flow and continuance must be certain.

If large successful crops can be made to grow on land that would otherwise be useless, the importance of the undertaking is unquestionable. This is especially the case where land is scarce.

The security of irrigation bonds is a first mortgage on land that can't be destroyed, although it may be almost useless. It is not only a first mortgage on the land, but on the crops and irrigation plant and the whole project.

Irrigation bonds are usually issued in serial form and the investor has a choice of various maturities. The security increases on the outstanding bonds as the earlier issues mature.

Their yield is usually quite high although they do not possess a great degree of marketability.

Their value depends upon the success of the project, the value of the land after irrigation and its ability to produce—upon the population and secure taxation—upon good markets and marketing facilities and upon the reliability of the house sponsoring the issue.

Of the three classifications of irrigation securities, the Carey act bonds possess the most desirable features. In this event the settler is guaranteed a perpetual water right and he pays for the irrigation in serial payments. Until the payments are completed he gives a mortgage on his land. This is under state supervision in the United States. When the project is completed and the bonds redeemed, the irrigation plant belongs to the settlers of the district.

The second classification is where the irrigation is controlled by a private company beyond state control. This is as a rule, less desirable.

The last classification is that where the municipality levies a special assessment on the farmers to cover the cost of the project. This is under state legislation and is more desirable than that of a private company. As in the first case, when the project is completed and the bonds redeemed, the irrigation plant belongs to the settlers of the district.

SWING OF OPINION

fully offered to this constructive vision can hardly hope to maintain itself longer against the grand alliance of finance and industry.

Commander J. M. Kenworthy, Labor member, thought the manifesto would "help the Laborite policy of Inter-Empire trade by bulk purchase, import boards and the direct exchange of commodities.

Sir Lambert Ward, Conservative, Kingston-upon-Hull, said dryly that few of the bankers had fought elections and they could not realize the great prejudice against protection in the country. The merest whisper of food taxes had cost the Conservatives thousands of votes in the past and mgiht cost thousands more.

Move Towards Conclusion.

And Lord Melchett, the former Sir Alfred Mond, Britain's greatest industrialist, welcomed the bankers' resolution showing financial opinion was moving towards a conclusion accepted long since by the industrialists.

But none of the leaders of the three Parliamentary parties have commented on the manifesto.

STALEMATE ON STOCK EXCHANGE MAKES PREDICTION DIFFICULT

Public Will Neither Buy or Sell —Are Awaiting Breaks.

TOO MUCH PESSIMISM.

(Special to Examiner, Copyright, 1930).

TORONTO, July 5. —Over-pessimism is as much to blame for the condition of the Canadian stock markets to-day as was over-optimism last Autumn. The trading public likes to follow the crowd and when prices advance most are optimists, but when something happens to change the state of affairs, the same public goes to the opposite extreme and become pessimists. While business in the the Dominion for the first half of 1930 does not present as favorable a picture as for the corresponding months of 1929, the situation is not as bad as it is painted. True there is a depression, but in this respect our country is better off than all others and sight should not be lost of the fact that such depression must come to an end sooner or later and signs are not lacking that the present period is drawing to a close.

The stock market has well discounted the falling off in industrial operations and the probability of lower earnings for a number of theDominion's corporations but has failed in recent weeks to show signs of recognizing that improvement can take place quickly. This is due to the attitude of the public who have taken a position on the sidelines and show no intention of participating in the market until definitely assured that there has been a turn for the better. Accumulation of securities, that usually follows a protracted decline, is not in evidence. The markets have reached a stalemate. Liquidation has fallen off until offerings of securities are less than normal but the same is true of buying demand. Buying orders for a few hundred shares of any security would result in price appreciation as selling orders would result in depreciation. For the moment the public is neither buying or selling and under the circumstances it is next to impossible to predict the immediate trend of the market. Prices can go lower quite easily should the public again be inclined to sell and as there is no evidence of increased buying demand the best that can be hoped for is a quiet market until such time as matters straighten out of their own accord.

Of recent weeks executives of Canadian companies have written reassuring letters to stockholders that indicate the first half of the year was not such as to cause concern over the continuation of dividend payments.

C. H. Carlisle, president and general manager of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of Canada, writes to say that general business conditions have not improved since April and are not likely to show any marked improvement during the remaining part of the year. However, in comparing Canada's business conditions with those of all other countries this country has little of which to complain. Mr. Carlisle goes on to say the nine months operations of Goodyear should be considered satisfactory when compared with the available business. During the period $400,000 was added to reserve for depreciation; net current assets stand at $10,250,000; gross fixed assets are valued at $12,000,000 and surplus is over $8,000,000. Goodyear has a large cash balance and no indebtedness other than accounts not due for payment. Taking the increase in surplus the company earned the preferred dividend for the entire year, three times over in the nine months and the balance was more than double the three quarterly dividend payments on the common stock.

Executives of no less than three Canadian oil companies reported increased sales, J. C. Millar, treasurer of British American Oil, speaks of "our constantly increasing business in the face of much competition is evidence of the public's goodwill and satisfaction." J. G. Thompson, of Supertest Petroleum Corporation, wrote to tell shareholders that directors met early in June to review the statement for the first quarterly period ending March 31st and the general feeling was one of entire satisfaction with the progress that has been made. Much of the development work undertaken by the corporation during the past couple of years is now bearing fruit, and sales and earnings for the quarter were on a gratifying basis. "At a time when many industrial concerns are reporting lower earnings, it is very gratifying to be able to advise our shareholders that earnings of our company for the year to date have been substantially in excess of any similar period," was the message received by stockholders of Thayers, Limited, from president J. L. Thayer. Mr. Thayer went on to say that volume of business has been largely increased for the first five months of the current year, and this increase is attributable almost entirely to the company's established stations.

President W. Garfield West, of Weston, Limited, has informed shareholders of a considerable increase in sales for the first five months of 1930, as compared with the corresponding months of 1929. E. C. Lindsay, secretary-treasurer of Honey Dew, Limited, officially stated that sales for the first five months of 1930 increased by $53,534 and earnings by over $42,000 for the same period and that the period has been highly satisfactory from the standpoint of both sales and earnings.

De Forest-Crosley Radio Corporation is officially reported to be operating on good schedules with sales for the first six months of 1930 ahead of the same period last year. Sales for the month of May alone, were in excess of the first four months of 1929.

DECORATION DAY TO BE HELD SUNDAY

Oddfellows to Hold Annual Service at Little Lake Cemetery.

Oddfellows of Peterborough will unite on Sunday afternoon for the annual Decoration Day ceremonies, when the sacrifices made by the noble dead will be fittingly commemorated by the placing of a wreath on the Cenotaph by two noble grands of the local lodges.

Headed by the Salvation Army Band, the procession will leave the Oddfellows' Hall at 2.30 (D.S.T.), and after the ceremony at the Cenotaph the parade will proceed south on George Street to Romaine, where a brief halt will be made in order to allow others to fall in line, who have previously driven their cars to King Edward Park. The parade will then continue on Romaine Street and along Crescent Street into the Cemetery.

The Peterborough Male Voice Choir will take part in this ceremony, also Rev. J. L. Harton, who will deliver a brief address.

Brother Col. J. W. Miller, who has led the parade on numerous occasions, will be unavoidably absent this year.

There will be ample parking space on both Princess and Aylmer Streets, sides of King Edward Park, for members of the Order and the general public who are desirous of witnessing the ceremony at Little Lake Cemetery.

REV. DUDGEON GIVES FAREWELL SERMON

Both Services Crowded to Hear Stirring Address of St. James' Pastor.

The words upon which Rev. J. H. Dudgeon based his farewell message in St. James' United Church on Sunday morning were chosen from Deuteronomy 1, 6: "Ye have dwelt long enough on this mount." As the physician sends his patients to the mountains to regain health where they may have the benefit of the best air and sunshine, so the Great Physician uses the mountain as the symbol of the Christian experience. Mountains have a large place in the Bible, and make a most interesting study if you wish to learn what wonderful things God has done with mountains. For the keeping power of God, go to Mount Ararat with Noah. If you doubt your consecration take your Isaac, your greatest idol to the top of the mount with Abraham. If you want to learn your sins, climb Mount Sinai with Moses. For the blessedness of Christ we go to the Mount of the Beatitudes. On Mounts Carmel, Calvary, and Transfiguration, and at Olivet, we will find different experiences of Christian life.

Work for Every Child.

Religion divorced from employment soon loses its brilliancy and deteriorates. God has a work for every child of His, and we must seek to find out His plan and be ready to go at His word. At the foot of the mount there may be some one needing you. Very often God takes strange ways of moving people, as in the case of Joseph, who never lost his consciousness of God.

In relation to his own removal from St. James, Mr. Dudgeon asked his people to accept it as a call from God which would lead both himself and his people out into Canaan.

Parting Message

At the evening service the speaker chose two texts which he wished to impress as his parting message, Exodus 14:13 and 15 "and Moses said unto the people 'stand still and see the salvation of the Lord', and the Lord said unto Moses, 'Wherefore criest thou unto me? Speak unto the children of Israel that they go forward. A lecturer once spoke of the mistakes of Moses, and people resented this, yet Moses did make mistakes as does every one. Pointing out a few of these mistakes of Moses, the pastor emphasized the one mentioned in his text, that of telling the people to 'stand still', and see the salvation of the Lord. In every age there is a tendency to do this. In the 1900 years the church should have moved forward. Moses confounded the beginning with the completion of emancipation. If you ever expect to obtain God's blessing you must be active, just as Moses had to climb Mt. Nebo in order to see Israel's inheritance.

Happiest Years in Ministry

Rev. Mr. Dudgeon in closing said that he rejoiced in the privilege of serving in St. James. The three years just past were among the happiest in his ministry. He thanked the official board, the two choirs, the Sunday School teachers and all who had so loyally supported him in his work. In his pastorate 196 new members have been received, 96 of these on profession of faith. He has also officiated at 59 funerals and 47 weddings.

He assured his people that he would remain close to them in spirit, watching for progress in this life and hoping to see every one in the kingdom. He also said he would covet their prayers and hoped that God would abundantly bless them.

In the words of St. Paul he brought this inspiring farewell sermon to a close. "Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith". By request of the pastor, the hymn, I want to see Jesus, don't you? which was his testimony was sung by Mesdames Monks and Kitney. During the offertory, Misses Dorothy Dudgeon and Marion Wood sang "Lift Up Thine Eyes".

As a parting tribute to their pastor unusually large congregations were in attendance at both services.

Kingsford-Smith Prepares For Wedding in September—Fliers Part.

PLANE SOLD ON BLOCK.

OAKLAND, Cal., July 5 (C.P.). — Shedding his role as round the world flyer, Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith to-day became very much the prospective bridegroom, eagerly completing arrangements for his return to Australia and his fiancee.

Kingsford-Smith's career as an aerial globe circler came to an end here yesterday at 2.36 p.m., when he and his flying companions, arriving from Salt Lake City, landed the Southern Cross where it took the air for the world flight in May, 1928.

The landing was the signal for the parting of long time flying partners. As the Wing Commander arranged his trip home, the famous old patch-work monoplane, with its history of Pacific and Atlantic flight was wheeled in a hangar to be sold on the block.

Give Canada a Chance

In the hope of blurring the crucial issue of this campaign which is whether Canada is to be given a chance to prosper under the vigorous, courageous policy of Hon. R. B. Bennett or to languish under the facilitating, wavering, and log-rolling administration of Right Hon. Mackenzie King, the electors of West Peterborough are being deluged with an avalanche of speeches.

The Prime Minister himself, and the only woman senator have already been here; the Minister of Labour and the Chairman of the Advisory Tariff Board are billed. Others no doubt are in the offing

To the worker who is without work or working short hours; to the manufacturer whose orders are dwindling; to the merchant who finds business bad and collections worse; to the farmer whose products are being marketed with difficulty and at sacrifice prices, the general tone of these Liberal Campaign speeches is disheartening, discouraging and barren of hope. Neither the tornado of words from the lips of imported speakers nor the efforts of the local twin battery of letter writers whose effusions supply a comic strip character to the campaign, can stem the tide of feeling that will engulf the King candidate in this riding on July 28.

Everywhere people come together the thought is the same, "It is time for a change." This government has had its chance and has failed; now it must give place to an administration that stands for jobs for Canadian workmen and a fair chance for Canadian farmers.

The people of West Peterborough and all Canadians everywhere are no longer to be deceived by pious platitudes or a symphony of misguided statistics.

The truth is too stark—to real.

Mr. King has held office for close on to a decade. It has been a decade in which Providence has blessed Canada with favors vouchsafed to few lands.

Our fields, our mines, our waters, our forests all yielded riches untold; no people on the face of the earth had more chance for material prosperity. And yet notwithstanding all these things, the close of Mr. King's administration finds —what? It finds that in this rich land, with all of its youth and faith and vigour, men are walking the streets unemployed; trade is depressed; agriculture languishes and not even the profligate dissipation of our heritage rescues us from hard times.

That is the record of Mackenzie King—the answer to all his, excuses, pretentions and claims.

It is the explanation of his death bed admission as expressed in his humilitating surrender to the Dunning Budget that all of these years he has been wrong in his tariff policy.

It is the reason for his attempted right-about-face with betrayal of his old allies and all his Party's past tenets to cling to the flesh-pots of power.

No wonder the electors are saying "It is time for a change".

No wonder people everywhere have decided to vote Conservative this time, to vote to give Canada a chance.

No wonder the voters in West Peterborough are rallying to the support of E. A. Peck, Conservative Candidate.

They're tired of words, platitudes and promises, they want action and they believe that they will get it from the Hon. R. B. Bennett and from the Conservative Party.

Vote Conservative--Give Canada a Chance

A Story with a Moral

An energetic Canadian dreamed a dream some thirty years ago. He was in a position to construct a small factory, manned by local workers as yet untrained. In his fancy he saw a great mill, employing nearly 3,000 people, trained and competent.

He might have built his factory, planning it on a small scale. He might, as business expanded, have called in architects to plan extensions. He might, in other words, have embodied his success in a patch-work plant, the creation of many minds and various occasions.

Instead, he planned the great mill. It was designed in units, to be built as circumstances dictated, one by one. Plans were sent to the makers of equipment. They were told to ship as required in the coming years, on the specifications embodied in these plans.

The first unit was small. Its working force was untrained. Its products were of low grade—sometimes of poor quality. But they found a market.

Units have been added, and the great mill is now built. It employs nearly 3,000 people. Its products are of a quality sometimes equalled elsewhere, but not excelled. Its efficiency rests on a simple organization, made possible by the distant vision of the founder.

For the citizens of this country the story has a moral. Planning for the future must be based on knowledge of the long term rate of progress. For Canada will not stand still.

with its 50,000,000 people; than Italy with a population of 40,000,000, and we also are ahead of the Netherlands which used to hold third or fourth place. This means that an enormous production is going on from one end of Canada to the other, and such a business requires a capable and honest government to handle such immense national affairs."

Stating that the national debt of Canada had been reduced during the last five years by $257,000,000, due to the genius of the late Hon. James Robb, Mr. Hall affirmed that the mantle of that great Liberal statesman had fallen upon the capable shoulders of the Hon. Charles Dunning.

"Mr. Dunning came to Canada as an immigrant boy from England," said Mr. Hall, "and when I met him some years ago in Regina I felt certain that he was destined for some high place in this country. Mr. Dunning stands head and shoulders over the vast majority of the leading men of this country, whether they are in politics or out of it."

The Dunning tariff against products of the United States affects their goods to the value of $225,000,000. Mr. Hall continued, and its larger British preference features opened the way for a great increase in trade with Great Britain and the other British dominions.

Response of Goodwill

"When the British preference was first put into effect by another great Liberal, William S. Fielding, Minister of Finance under Sir Wilfrid Laurier, there was an immediate response of goodwill from Great Britain," Mr. Hall recalled, relating how large loans were made to Canada at a rate of interest of only two per cent., and at a time when Canada needed financial help. This money gave a tremendous impetus to Canadian industry. The Conservative government of Sir Robert Borden from 1911 down to the close of the war acknowledged the wisdom of the Liberal policy of the British preference by retaining it just as Mr. Fielding had adopted it.

"To-day, when the Liberals are leading the way to a greater measure of Empire trade by extending the British preference, the leader of the Conservatives, Hon. R. B. Bennett, tells the Canadian people we should drive a closer bargain with Great Britain and our sister dominions," Mr. Hall said. "Mr. Bennett says 'We will blast our way through to a better bargain with Great Britain than you have negotiated.'

"I don't believe the people of Canada will vote for a man who has no more appreciation of the proper way to conduct business negotiations, especially with the Mother Country, than to say that he would blast his way through to trade. Business can be built up only by establishing friendly contacts and relations. Whom do you think should represent Canada at the Empire conference—Mr. Bennett, who talks of blasting his way through to trade, or Mr. King, who proposed to build up friendly relationship with Britain and the British dominions?

"From the information which I have received through business connections and otherwise there is no question in my mind but that Mackenzie King will again be Prime Minister. Mr. Peck has been in the Opposition but the man who will do most for you, and for this riding, if you elect him, is J. J. Duffus."

The Candidate

Mr. Duffus expressed regret that since the last time he had visited Lakehurst, two men of the community, Mr. Clarkson and John Shearer, had died. Their deaths were a reminder that the older generation was passing from the scene, and the younger generation was taking their place.

He first recounted the success of the Liberal government's national railway policy. The railways that were combined in the national system were costing the Canadian people $70,000,000, their losses which the people of Canada had to pay out of their taxes. Mackenzie King placed them under the management of Sir Henry Thornton, with the result that in a few years they began to pay their way and show a surplus. This was only one of the notable accomplishments in the Liberal record.

"The Canadian National Railway system is now one of the great railways of the world," said Mr. Duffus. "It is giving a splendid service to this country. Its management has the full confidence of its employees, and the people of Canada have every reason to be proud of it and grateful to the Liberal government for bringing it to its present position. In that one department alone the King Government saved this country $70,000,000 which was being paid under the Conservative Government out of the taxes of the Canadian people."

Unemployment was to-day a world-wide condition, Mr. Duffus continued. It was caused in Canada by the failure to sell last year's wheat crop when it should have moved into the world market. The crash of the stock market was another cause, and still another was the displacement of workmen by modern machinery.

"Mr. Bennett says he will call a special session of Parliament to talk over the unemployment situation. This session will cost the country at least $2,000,000. Why didn't Mr. Bennett or Mr. Peck bring this question up in the Parliament that only recently dissolved, if they had any suggestion to offer for the good of the country. Neither of them spoke of it, or gave any constructive criticism.

"This is only a Conservative promise to catch votes. Great Britain has a far greater unemployment problem than Canada, and they have a Labor Government in power. If Ramsay MacDonald could do anything by an Act of Parliament to relieve the unemployment situation, you know very well he would do it. But you can't legislate employment, as Mr. Bennett glibly suggests. The only way is to build up the country's trade, and that is the policy of the Liberal Government through its extension of the British preference, by creating a spirit of goodwill and by Canada taking the leadership in bringing Great Britain and all the dominions into a closer trade relationship than we have experienced in the past."

CATTLE, GRAIN, PRODUCE

TORONTO CATTLE.

UNION STOCK YARDS, July 5. — Owing to the holiday on Thursday, shipments were comparatively light at the stock market this week, with receipts totalling only 3,000 head. The downward trend was brought to an abrupt halt, however, due to the lighter supply and the market recovered from 50 to 75 cents a hundred on all grades of killing cattle.

Heavy steers sold at from $7.00 to $9.10, according to quality, with heavy weight steers within practically the same price range. The bulk of the butcher cattle sold between $8.25 and $9.00 and butcher heifers at from $6.50 to $8.75. Fed calves were stronger at $9.00 to $11.00.

Store cattle trade continued quiet with a few loads going to speculators and traders at from $4.50 to $6.75., Milkers and pringers were a light supply with top prices around $90.00.

Calf receipts were 2,000 head. Higher prices on American markets were reflected on local trading. Good to choice calves gained from $1.50 to $2.00 a hundred to close at $10.00 to $11.00. Medium calves brought $8.50 to $9.50, with common downward to $5.50.

Hog receipts were 2,900 head, with 500 billed through Montreal. Buyers were bearish on values, but the outside demand was large enough to hold the market steady throughout the week. Bacon hogs brought $10.75 f.o.b. or $11.75 off cars.

Sheep and lamb receipts totalled 1,800 head. Prices of ewes and wethers jumped $1.50 a hundred and gained 50 cents more on Wednesday. Good ewes and wethers ended the week at $14.00, with bucks at $12. A few fancy lambs made a top of $14.50 on Wednesday. Sheep sold no better than last week at $4.00 to $4.25 a hundred for the best light ewes.

WINNIPEG WHEAT

WINNIPEG, July 5.—Bear traders passed up the Winnipeg market yesterday, with Chicago enjoying a Fourth of July holiday. Business generally was flat, and trading in only light volume found advances of 5-8c to 3-8c recorded at the close. Not much buying power was needed to hoist the market these fractional notches.

Though some 250,000 bushels were reported exported overnight, export demand was flat today. In the cash wheat and coarse grain divisions, interest was very light, and virtually no business was completed.

BUTTER AND EGGS

TORONTO, July 5.—The local produce market finished the week in a comparatively firm position, with the demand for butter picking up considerably on Thursday and Friday. The price of eggs practically remained stationary, but it is the general opinion of the street that, during the coming week, the curtailed production will cause a slight increase.

The unusual heavy demand for butter featured yesterday's trading, all available supplies for straight cars of Ontario No. 1 creamery being cleared up at from 27 to 27¼ cents, with the bulk changing hands at the former quotation.

Small lots of No. 1 also found ready sale at 27 cents, while top score No. 2 was in good demand at a cent easier than on Thursday. Low score No. 2 and No. 3 were not wanted.

During the past few days, there has been a noticeable shortage, as far as one or two brokers are concerned, of Ontario butter. One stated that he was of the opinion that this was due to some quiet export orders.

There was a better inquiry for eggs throughout the afternoon, but buyers were unwilling to follow up the prices. Graded fresh extras brought 29 cents per dozen, while fresh firsts went at 27 cents and seconds at 24 cents.

Ungraded were steady at from 27 to 28 cents for fresh extras, cases returned. Fresh firsts brought from 25 to 26 cents and seconds from 21 to 23 cents.

Churning cream also closed unchanged, the special being called at from 27 to 28 cents and No. 1 from 26 to 27 cents, and No. 2 from 23 to 24 cents.

SAUVE RIDICULES INDIA WAR SCARE

NO FEAR OF BETRAYAL.

LAVAL-DES-RAPIDES, Que., July 5 (Canadian Press). — The conduct of Arthur Sauve during the Great War was the best guarantee the electors could wish for that he would not be likely to betray his constituents in the case of another war breaking out while he represented them at Ottawa, and was the best answer as far as Laval-Two-Mountains was concerned, to the statements that electing a Conservative for the Dominion seat would be liable to cause their sons to be taken away to fight some imagined war in India or elsewhere, the former leader of the Conservative Party in Quebec Province told a gathering of electors here.

Mr. Sauve stated that during the Great War the King had invited groups of journalists to be his guests in England and to visit the seat of war. "It would have been perhaps the finest trip of my life," Mr. Sauve said. "I was one of the invited guests. So was Hon. Fernand Rinfret. But the man who refused the invitation and preferred to stay at home and look after the interests of the young men of his division was not Mr. Rinfret. It was Arthur Sauve, and after that, they would suggest that because you elect men to represent you at Ottawa, you would expose yourselves and your young men to be involved in war somewhere? Never."

Liverpool, England, has banned Sunday golf, tennis, bowling and boating, but will open 14 children's recreation grounds and gymnasia on that day.

OBITUARY

MRS. W. KILPATRICK.

MADOC, July 5 (Examiner Correspondence).—Mrs. W. Kilpatrick passed away on Thursday morning at an early hour, after a prolonged illness. The funeral will take place this afternoon to the Presbyterian Church, thence to Lakeview Cemetery, under the auspices of Oakdale Rebekah Lodge, with her pastor, Rev. T. G. Marshall, in charge of the services.

Besides her husband, she leaves to mourn her loss, her only son, Clarence, and one grandson, Cecil.

Mrs. Kilpatrick was a devoted member of St. Peter's Presbyterian Church, a member of the Rebekah Order, and a member of Madoc Women's Institute.

DAVID MILLAR.

LAKEFIELD, July 5.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—The funeral of the late David Millar held from his residence in Smith township on Wednesday afternoon was very largely attended by friends from all parts the county. Mr. Millar died after a very short illness on Sunday night and as a member of a pioneer family he was widely known. Probably no man of his age had a wider circle of friends among young people and his appreciation of a party was as keen as in his youth. Possessed of a kindly nature, he was a good neighbor and friend and his passing leaves a vacant place in the social life of the community as well as in his family circle. Thirteen months ago he and Mrs. Millar celebrated their golden wedding.

Mr. Millar was born in Smith township of Scottish parents 74 years ago and spent his life in the same district. He had a large family of sons and daughters. Misses Jessie, Annie and Ethel Millar all at home, and six sons, Melville, Hilliard (Toronto), William (Mount Julian), David B., Zach and Archie.

Mr. Millar was a life-long Presbyterian. The funeral service was in charge of Rev. R. J. Burton, assisted by Rev. J. B. McCormack. Interment was made in the family plot in Lakefield cemetery.

boundary river. Prior to that time he said the Province of Ontario had spent large sums of money in developing power at Niagara and no question had been raised.

It was because the Province refused to have its investment of $300,000,000 in hydro electric enterprises "jeopardized by uncertainty or destroyed by confiscation" that he had joined issue with Premier King. The clause relating to international agreements in the Federal Premiers memorandum he said was a threat of confiscation.

Province Anxious to Settle

The Province he said was anxious to have a settlement of the question so anxious that he and his ministers had kept silent when taunted by Liberal newspapers and speakers and accused of holding up the St. Lawrence development.

"The power business is our business and I am attending to my business when I am in it" he declared. This was his reply to Premier King's reported suggestion that he mind his own business. At the same time he insisted navigation development was the business of the Dominion Government and he challenged Premier King to announce his policy on the St. Lawrence waterways. Then and not till then he declared would he say anything on this aspect of the question and if he did it would be not as Prime Minister of Ontario but as a "humble citizen of Canada."

BIRTH OF NATION CAST IN REUNION

Only Three of Originals Absent at Hollywood—Two Are Dead.

MADE 16 YEARS AGO

An interesting meeting took place last week when some of the members of the cast of "The Birth of a Nation," the old D. W. Griffith film, met at the Breakfast Club in Hollywood. The absentees include Lillian Gish, who is abroad, and Wallace Reid and George Siegman, who are dead.

At the meeting were Mae Marsh, who has resigned from film work; Mary Alden (the mullatoe girl) now a concert singer; Donald Crisp (General Garth), now a Pathe director; Spottiswood Aiken (Colonel Cameron), now in Pasadena; Joseph Henaberry (Abraham Lincoln), now an independent producer; Henry Walthall (the Little Colonel), who is still in pictures; Walter Long (Gus, the colored soldier), now with RKO! Ralph Lewis (the elder Stoneham), now with Paramount; Marion Cooper (Flora Stoneman), still in pictures, and Elmer Clifton (young Stoneman), now a director for a Hollywood film company.

"The Birth of a Nation" is being revised at the Metropolitan Studio by Triangle Film Corporation. It is being synchronized with music and sound effect. A special prologue and epilogue have been prepared and will be included in the new presentation. The original picture was begun sixteen years ago and still is being shown in many parts of the United States.

CLARA BOW LOSES PARAMOUNT BONUS

Unfavorable Publicity Costs "It" Girl Plenty.

Clara Bow's continuous attempts to wash herself up in pictures through such publicity as she has received in the Harry Richman affair and the Texas smeller, if not wholly successful for the lucky girl from Brooklyn, will at least cost her a hunk of dough from Paramount.

The Clara is said to have been named the beneficiary of a bonus of $500,000 at the expiration of the five-year contract Paramount gave her, if she didn't run wild and into such publicity as of late.

However, the "It" girl is reported to have gotten $30,000 on account out of Paramount to square the Texas alienation suit started against her by the wife of the Dallas doctor. But when the affair leaped on the front page and Clara helped to give it impetus, in person in Dallas, Clara counted herself out by the contract's "morality clause" of the half million, with Paramount saving that amount, minus the 30 "grand's" nick.

Clara hasn't been keeping track of the grosses later. They have dropped faster than Wall Street, and the Bow's losses at the box office apparently bumped those for Rishman's U.A. picture also. Many agreed who saw the "Rita" talker it was all right, but not enough saw it, which may be undesirable publicity's kick back double.

SOUTH POLE FILM

Admiral Richard Byrd's Expedition Officially Recorded.

Cutting 30 miles of film down to less than two, Paramount has constructed of the picturization of Byrd's expedition a theme that for continuity and perfection of technical detail is in a class with the best Hollywood-made productions. It is unlike, as a whole, any previous pictorial story of a visit to Antarctica. "With Byrd at the South Pole" is one of those pictures which, commercially, may never stop making money and, historically, it is filmdom's most enlightening and important contribution to government archives.

The photograph is a work of art. Under such trying conditions interior shots of the men in their cabins and aboard ship are as faultlessly lighted as though they were expertly illuminated by studio's sunspots.

Blinding snow during and after blizzards; building of a snow hut over the Byrd plane; sounding the Barrier during the long winter darkness with flares for illumination; second airplane on a scouting tour being temporarily torn from its mooring and crippled by storm—these are a few of the thrill highlights in addition to the big flight.

Bathing in a dishpan; reminiscing about home; conversing with the pelicans and a study of dogs, are among many human interest points.

VALLEE'S FIRST MILLION

NEW YORK, July 5.—The National Broadcasting Co. paralyzed Rudy Vallee when producing accumulated contracts which neither the managing agency nor Vallee had previously translated into currency.

Vallee's contracts are underwritten, and by Dec. 31, 1931, he will be more than a millionaire.

A gross earning power of $650,000 between now and that period will have Vallee an income tax target in the millionaire's division.

Radio is after 1,500 horses for "Cimmaron", but nags are scarce. 500 the limit around Hollywood. Scouts have been sent to Mexico to fill the equine quota.

Authorities are trying to discover what happened to millions which passed allegedly through the hands of Harold Russell Ryder, Wall street broker and familiar on Broadway as a night club habitue and spender. His firm, Woody & Co., failed for $3,000,000. Ryder has admitted a loss of $3,000,000 in the big stock crash last fall. Several Broadway show girls and actresses were dinked by the papers as having received gifts from Ryder in his heyday as a spender. He was one of those $100 tippers on the nite club route.

Florence Vidor, who married Jascha Heifetz and decided to forget the plebian movies, is reported to be expecting a visit from the stork.

Keep your eye on Maureen O'Sullivan. Unless Janet Gaynor decides to forget her grievance against the Fox Company, Maureen will be slipping into her place. Already arrangements are being made to cast her opposite Charles Farrell in "The Prince and the Plumber", the story by Alice Duer Miller. This was originally intended for little Gaynor but Janet hasn't so much as put foot on the Fox lot since she returned from Honolulu.

Nothing has made Hollywood happier than Lew Cody's complete return to health and the numerous jobs he is getting. Lew looks better than he has in years. He has taken care of himself and paid strict attention to staging a return to the screen. In that he seems to be successful, for he has just now been signed by Warners for one of the big parts in "Husband's Privileges." James Hall, juvenile, has the other big lead. Irene Delroy is also in the cast.

A tale of life under the "big top" is that of "Swing High." In this production Helen Twelvetrees is seen in the leading role as Maryan, a trapeze artist, and Fred Scott as Gerry, another member of the troup. There is the story of the heartbreak experienced by those whose "hearts are breaking underneath the greasepaint." The cast includes Chester Conklin, Ben Turpin, Dorothy Burgess, Nick Stuart, Daphne Pollard, George Fawcett, Stepin Fetchit and Gail Starr.

J. Harold Murray and Fifi Dorsay are seen together in "Women Everywhere," a talking picture, concerned with the adventures of various members of the Foreign Legion in Morocco.

John Wayne, who is playing the leading male role in Raoul Walsh's production for Fox called "The Big Trail," was "Duke" Morrison before he was drafted for the films and worked on the Fox lot as an assistant property man. He was first spied by the director carrying a coil of rope over his shoulder and selected for a test after eighty-two Hollywood juveniles had been picked and sorted — out of many possibilities. Mr. Walsh liked Morrison's walk, and after the screen and microphone test, asked him to take his place in the film along with El Brendel, Tully Marshall, Marguerite Churchill, Tyrone Power, Ian Keith and David Rollins. For biographical purposes, Morrison was born Wayne Morrison, was nicknamed "Duke" and played football on the University of Southern California's varsity eleven.

BIG LIQUOR HAUL MADE IN WINDSOR

MAY MEAN LIQUOR PATROL.

WINDSOR, Ont., July 5. (C.P.)—Seizure by Provincial Police of a choice collection of wines, liquors and champagne—most of it bearing the seal of the Quebec Liquor Commission—at a down-river resort has definitely established that the rum-running trade industry is far from being as dead as some people believe.

Incidentally, the seizure is expected to bring about a Governmental order for a minute police watch over Ontario highways on which the contraband liquor has been transported in trucks, much the same as in the days of the O.T.A.

The seized liquor is variously estimated to be worth anywhere from $3,000 to $6,000 at cost prices in Government stores and triple that on American soil.

Should a decision be reached to establish a liquor patrol on the highways, it is probable that only light, fast motor trucks would be stopped and searched. There are scores of this type of machine to be seen every day travelling both east and west, usually with two men with the driver on the front seat, apparently acting as guards, while a third man is seated on top of the load.

Old Melodrama in Talkies by Dwillis Kent.

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—"Ten Nights in a Bar Room" to slow music and dialogue. Can you bear it? Willis Kent, independent producer, plans to put this favorite sob sister into the talkies. Mr. Kent has leased space in the Tec Arts Studios where the first of the old-time melodramas to be given dialogue will be filmed.

William Farnum and Thomas Santschi, who created the famous fight in the silent version of "The Spoilers" are booked for an encore battle.

In addition to Mr. Farnum and Mr. Santschi, who are the featured players, Mary Carr, Claire Dowell, Evelyn Mills and Sheila Manors have agreed to play in this meller drammer. William O'Connor is the director and if this goes, Mr. Kent has several other similar numbers up his sleeve.

BIG TOPS ARE HIT

Only Ringling's Show Making Money in U. S.

NEW YORK, July 5.—Showmen report that the Ringling-Barnum circus is the only one of the big tops in the big money this year. It is headed into the mid-west where conditions are said to be rather gloomy in general business.

All the smaller rail and motor shows are ducking the territory if they can, holding toward the Atlantic seaboard or far west where possible.

Mid-west business slump is blamed on price of wheat which last week was selling around 95 cents a bushel, cheapest since 1926 and within a narrow margin of the low price since the war. Another factor bothering showmen is the condition of Texas in the fall.

Wage reduction have already taken place in the copper districts.

LEO FEIST DEAD

Feist's first song hit in 1895, "Smokey Mokes" was the beginning of a glamorous career in pop song publishing and the founder's enterprise today sees itself among the first-grade firms.

The Feist imprint on songs written and performed by the late Caruso; his $25,000 cash purchase of George M. Cohan's "Over There," and a string of pop song hits have made the founder's name a household trade-mark all over the world.

During the war, as a patriotic gesture to conserve the cost of paper, Feist cut the size of his sheet music publications down to half, printing the text in miniature, and finding that besides rendering a patriotic service he was issuing handier copies.

Given Transfer

Father Leo J. Walter, O. Carm., for the last six years president of Mt. Carmel College, Niagar Falls, Ont., has been transferred to Carmelite House in Chicago. Father Richard, O. Carm., who is succeeding Father Walter, was ordained in Rome, and for some years past has served on the staff of the Carmelite College. It was also announced that Father Simon, parish priest of Our Lady of Peace, has been appointed to the Carmelite foreign mission in the holy land.

PRIZE LIST IS OFF THE PRESS

Industrial Exhibition Will Be Held This Year September 8 to 13.

$12,000 IN PRIZES

Just off the press, the prize list and program of this year's Industrial Exhibition to be held from September 8-13 inclusive, pays tribute to the efficiency and sincerity of the Board of Directors and members of the various committees, who have exceeded all previous endeavors in a united effort to make this forthcoming 'ex' one of the record breakers. A perusal of the prize list justifies the prediction that the entries in all classes will exceed those of previous years, and will thereby tend to attract even larger crowds of spectators.

The varied program further ensures that all tastes and inclinations will be catered to, no matter whether one be a town or country dweller, boy or girl, man or woman.

Horse racing, always a popular feature, will be held on each of the four days, for which prize money to the amount of $2,400 has been granted by the Exhibition Board.

Horses, cattle, sheep and swine exhibits are carefully apportioned into sub-classes for which handsome money prizes are offered and which are open to any member of the Industrial Exhibition. Poultry fanciers, dairymen, grain growers and vegetable gardeners will also find that their needs as exhibitors have by no means been overlooked, while fruit, horticulture, fine arts, ladies' work and domestic science exhibits have received added encouragement in the form of more substantial prizes.

This the twenty-eighth annual Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, under the auspices of the City and County Councils, offers a total of $12,000 in prizes, in addition to which the management have spared no effort or expense to arrange features for the 1930 show which will appeal to all patrons.

A postcard to the secretary, Sheriff F. J. A. Hall, will bring you a copy of the 1930 prize list, which is well worth careful consideration. To the intending exhibitor it will stimulate a desire to compete for the prize money and to the potential crowds it will give rise to the resolve to bring the whole family and to attend each days events without fail.

Visitors are assured of finding on the grounds everything necessary for their comfort and convenience, during the entire day. Ample restaurants and lunch rooms, managed by experienced caterers, and under the supervision of the Board of Directors, will serve meals and refreshments during Exhibition hours at reasonable prices, while complete arrangements have been completed to take care of the heavy number of entries of live stock which are assured.

SHIFTING OF LOGS CAUSED BY WIND

Men in Charge of Drives Are All Experienced River Drivers.

TOURIST REFUSED OFFER.

In Wednesday evening's "Examiner" a news item was published reporting the arrival of the first private yacht on its way from Toronto to Georgian Bay and mention was made of the fact that it was held up for a short time with logs in the lake. Getting further information on the subject this morning the president of the Peterborough Lumber Company, Dickson Davidson, said it was a fact that the yacht was held up for a period of a little more than half an hour but that the conditions were caused by a south wind blowing, which shifted the logs from their regular resting place and that it was a condition that might not happen again during the summer. He further stated that the men in charge of the logs offered to take the boat through protected on one side by a punt and on the other with a power boat but this offer was not taken advantage of.

Experienced Men.

The men in charge of the Peterborough Lumber Company's drive of logs are all experienced river men at all times have done everything possible to protect tourist river traffic. It must also be recognized that river driving is a most hazardous occupation and most difficult to control. Adverse winds, low or excessively high waters being responsible for the control of the situation in many instances.

The government of the provinces collects annually heavy tolls from the lumberman who in turn are permitted to make use of the waters for the purpose of floating the timber to the mills.

Once Main Industry.

The lumber business was responsible in the early days for the establishment of the City of Peterborough and for many years was its main industry. Lumbering is still a most important factor in the industrial life of the city; and excepting, possibly, the City of Ottawa, there is more lumbering carried on in Peterborough with it two sawmills than in any other city in the Province of Ontario. About a week ago the day crew started operations at the plant of the Peterborough Lumber Company Limited and last evening the night crew commenced their season's work, so that at the present time eighty men or more are working day and night in this mill and lumber yard. A greater number still are given employment the year round in the camps and on the river.

Tourists coming to Peterborough by water are greatly impressed by the lumbering operations being carried on and they are at all times assisted and assured by the lumbering companies in Peterborough and district that everything to aid their convenience and to make their stay pleasant is done by the lumber companies for them.

PATEL SCORES INDUSTRIALISM

Claims All Bombay Has Done is Sucked Blood From Poor Agriculturists.

TRADE IS BROKEN.

BOMBAY, India, July 5. (C.P.)—Paudet Ballwbhai Patel, who since the imprisonment of Motail Mehru, has become president of the National Congress, scored the industrialism of Bombay mercilessly in a public address last night in which he dealt with the relation of Bombay to the Satyagraha or civil resistance movement.

The Exchange Telegraph Company's report of the meeting quotes him as saying:

"Some Bombay people have told me that owing to the Satyagraha movement in Bombaly, the trade and industry of the city is almost broken down. But I tell you plainly that I do not feel any regret on that account.

"If Bombay were ablaze from end to end or were absolutely submerged in the sea or if it were destroyed in any other way I for one would be glad because until now Bombay has lived for nothing but to suck the blood of the poor agriculturists of India.

The same report quoted Patel as saying at another point "Set fire to the colleges, break the school to pieces and if you have not the courage come to me. But do not talk to me about trade. Have we done an honest trade for the last 150 years.

ARTICLES OF INTEREST TO THE FARMER

MILK IS RAPIDLY GAINING FAVOR AS DRINK IN HOT SUMMER TIME

From Standpoint of Health Milk Cannot Be Excelled.

BUTTERMILK SPLENDID.

(Eighth of a series of Radio Talks, given over CNRO, Ottawa, by W. F. Stephen, Secretary-Treasurer, National Dairy Council of Canada, on the evening of June 5th, 1930).

As the warm weather approaches, city dwellers think of "babbling and 'shady nooks". These are all right in their way, but something else is required to complete the enjoyment—cooling drinks.

A noted dairy specialist, Miss Helen G. Campbell, says: "There are only two drinks——water and milk—which are suitable for all the seven ages of man. The first—water—quenches thirst, and is a refreshing drink. The second—milk—quenches thirst and also provides nourishment." Water and milk are esentially the drinks of the lower animals—milk being the natural food for the young.

Man, however, has invented many drink concoctions. Some good, some indifferent, some bad. Milk and milk drinks were never more readily available than today. Yet many turn down a milk drink for something less nourishing and less thirst quenching.

I presume nearly all have read of the two ship-wrecked sailors. They had drifted for days on their frail and wretched craft, tossed up and down the Atlantic. To them all seemed lost, when one of them, lifting up his eyes, spied a white figure on the horizon. The question, "Could it be a ship?" came to their minds. Yes, Heaven had heard their cries at last. Now they could get a drink of fresh water. As the crew was letting down the rope ladder for our shipped-wrecked friends to grasp, they heard them faintly beg, "Water, water, for God's sake give us a drink." The answer came back from the men on the deck, "Reach down your hands and drink comrades; You are in the mouth of the Amazon River—you are in fresh water now."

4,000,000 Cows in Canada

Today we in Canada are fortunate to be sailing through the "Milky Way," as the nearly four million cows in Canada provide for us "rivers of milk."

Yet notwithstanding that milk is within the reach of almost every citizen, many will not reach out and help themselves to those delicious, nourishing and cooling milk drinks. On a hot day especially, milk drinks are very refreshing. If you don't think so, just try one. You will want a second one, and more. In the homes where a good supply of milk is kept in the refrigerator, it is always available. In offices and factories here and there, we find milk is kept cold for the mid-forenoon or afternoon refreshment. The vitality of the workers is thereby sustained, and more is accomplished during the hot weather.

From the health standpoint, milk drinks cannot be excelled. In fact they have much to recommend them. The natural flavor of the milk is generally liked. Men are learning that milk is one of the best bracers in the whole line-up of beverages. When the golfer comes in from the match nowadays, he orders a pint of milk, which he sips rather deliberately after his shower. The office man, too, hops on to the milk band wagon, and as he imbibes his brimming glass of milk, has a positive look of satisfaction.

Chocolate milk drinks are becoming popular as one may note if around a soda fountain on a hot day. Many choose a milk drink—chocolate milk, milk shake, or the whole milk, all cooling and refreshing. There are many flavors that can be added to milk as well as fruit juices that may be found pleasing to the taste.

Then we must not overlook that oldest of drinks—buttermilk. Most people are fond of this slightly acid drink. The acid we refer to is lactic acid—that counteracter to rheumatic and other troubles. Medical sciences recognises the value of good buttermilk, and often physicians prescribe it for their patients. Even the digestion of weak babies has been helped wonderfully by the use of buttermilk. The Arabs and hardy races of eastern countries are large users of buttermilk. 'Tis part of their diet, and they are noted for longevity. There is an old saying, "Drink buttermilk and live to be one hundred years old." The speaker has not forgotten his boyhood and early manhood days on the old farm, when buttermilk was the chief drink of the hayfield, and good health was our lot.

Koumiss is another delicious and healthful milk drink that may be made by adding sugar and a yeast cake.

Usually the soda fountain men are kept busy during the hot weather in serving ice cream sodas. It is a fine combination, ice cream and soda water, with the addition of fruit flavouring. Many who find a milk drink a little heavy can usually take an ice cream soda and enjoy it to the full.

Powdered and Condensed Milks.

In making milk drinks, especially if the whole milk is not at hand, milk powder—in its several forms—condensed or evaporated milk may be used. These are easy to prepare. Simply add water as per directions. For the campers, the picnickers, the travellers, these preserved milks are particularly valuable. Yes, even in the home, 'tis a good thing you have a can or two on hand as they keep for a considerable period. These preserved milks contain all the food elements of the whole milk, or skim milk, as the case may be. The processes of drying, condensing or evaporating milk have been so perfected that all the virtue of the milk has been maintained. These preserved milks are a great boon to the campers, travellers and others who cannot readily secure the natural liquid milk. By the way, try some powdered milk in your next bread-making. It improves the bread, as well as cakes. Large quantities of preserved milk is now used in candy making. It makes the candies more wholesome. Evaporated Milk as the source of milk for flavoured drinks is particularly appropriate.

Eating Milk.

Whoever heard of eating milk? Mother used to let us have all the junket we wanted. How we did enjoy a full porringer, (our porridge dish) of it at the hot Sunday midday meal. Any more would have been a super-abundance. This makes a splendid dessert on a hot day—in fact any day. To a child that won't drink milk, just let the mother try a junket. In my own home my Scotch mother called it 'Curds and Cream", because we had lots of cream on our dairy farm, and mother always served the junket with cream. My it was good.

For mothers confronted with diet problems for your children, nothing you could serve builds sturdier little bodies than junket. It takes but a short time to make. Served ice cold, with whipped cream, or even plain cream, and a red berry on top, it is as good to look at as to eat. How to make this junket? To every quart of milk, slightly heated, put in a junket tablet. Allow the milk to cool, and in less than an hour 'tis ready for tablet. (These tablets may be had at your druggists' or perhaps the grocery). Then as we older ones eat the junket, we have a picture of the old farm house, of the lowing cows coming home to be milked, or cooling streams, where life, lived amidst nature's surroundings, is really worth living.

We thank CNRO for the privilege of putting over this talg, and hope you have found it of interest. Good night.

Tips on Farming Burnt-Out Land

Six years of experimental work provide some interesting results as to the possibilities of farming the so-called burnt-out lands of certain Prairie areas. There is estimated to be some 650,000 acres of this type of land, and experts of the Dominion Department of Agriculture are making an intensive study of methods of working it to advantage. Preliminary studies indicate that breaking and levelling form an important part in the rehabilitation of this type of soil, and also that such crops as sweet clover and grasses tend to improve its tilth. Particular attention is being paid to experiments with respect to the time and depth of breaking, the value of back-setting, floating, subsoiling, manuring, liming and similar special treatments designed to improve the tilth of the soil.

LEAF CROPS NEED EXTRA NITROGEN

Celery Crops Show Remarkable Increase After Side Dressing.

MANY TESTS MADE.

In the profitable production of such vegetable crops as cabbage, cauliflower, lettuce and celery, the amount of nitrogen available to the growing plant is of particular importance. This element functions with special efficiency in promoting rapid growth of leaf and stem, which explains why it is soes sential for these crops. Not only is adequate fertilization needed at the time the crop is set out, but the later food requirements of the plants during grewth should be met by side-aressing with nitrogen in a soluble form readily available to the plant.

Examples of the value of this practice are given in the results secured last season on celery, in field tests supervised by the Ontario Agricultural College. Ryerse Brothers of Simcoe, by side-dressing celery with Chilean nitrate of soda at the rate of 400 pounds per acre, increased the yield from 31 tons to 36.4 tons per acre. Where 800 pounds of nitrate was used for side-dressing celery, in the same test, an increase of eight tons per acre was secured. Similarly, William McConkey of Brantford increased his celery yields from 21.9 tons to 26.8 tons per acre by side-dressing with 450 pounds of nitrate in three applications. In the Thedford celery section, where yields were reduced by drought and frost, William Paisley added 3.5 tons per acre to his yield, and James Stubbs added two tons, by side-dressing with nitrate during the growing season. In all cases, of course, the extra return greatly exceeded the cost of the fertilizer.

PLAN WIDE RANGE OF SPORT EVENTS ON FARMERS' DAY

Juniors of 6 Counties Eligible to Compete at Presqu'ile July 4th.

BINDER TWINE IS INSPECTED

Out of 308 Samples Only 8 Fail to Come Up to Length Standards.

THREE CANADIAN MAKES.

Reports of the Inspection Service of the Dominion Seed Branch show that a very high quality standard is maintained in respect to binder twine used in Canada. Out of 308 samples tested only 8 failed to come up to official standards for length, and of these 3 were of Canadian manufacture and 5 imported. Of the samples tested 245 were the product of Canadian factories while 63 were imported.

Under the Inspection and Sale Act, administered by the Seed Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, each ball of binder twine must be tagged to show the length per pound. The usual lengths range from 500, 550 or 600 to 650 feet per pound. The regulations provide that the twine must be within 5 per cent of the length sapped on the ball.

Of the samples tested 30 showed a shortage of between 2 per cent and 5 per cent. of the guaranteed length. Of these 20 were of Canadian manufacture and 10 imported. Slight shortages were shown in 50 other samples but in each case this was less than 2 per cent of the guaranteed length per pound. In this lot 39 were of Canadian manufacture and 11 imported.

The lots of binder twine having shortages in excess of 5 per cent were held for relabelling to show the correct length. In the other cases the shortages were brought to the attention of the manufacturers, who agreed to endeavor to correct the slight irregularities existing.

In 180, or 58.4 per cent of the samples tested there was an average, or more feet of twine to the pound that was guaranteed on the label.

GEODETIC BENCH MARKS

The standard precise level bench mark of the Geodetic Survey of Canada, prior to 1925, was a chisel mark on a ¾-inch copper bolt, cemented in walls of substantial buildings, bed rock, and masonry structures of all kinds. Subsequently a bronze tablet three inches in diameter has been used instead of the older bolt.

RAILWAY PASSES IN THE ROCKIES

The map sheets of the Interprovincial Boundary between Alberta and British Columbia published by the Topographical Survey, Department of the Interior, show the three passes of the Rocky mountains through which railways have been constructed. Crowsnest Pass has an elevation of 4,453 feet; Kicking Horse pass 5,320 feet, and Yellowhead pass 3,711 feet.

HEALTHY BIRDS REQUIRE CLEAN POULTRY YARDS

DIVIDE YARD IN SECTIONS.

Clover Alfalfa and Hoed Crops Prove Excellent Soil Cleaners.

There is no more important factor in the raising of poultry than a clean yard. The work of the Poultry Division at the Dominion Experimental Farm shows that intestinal parasitism causes more poultry losses than any other single factor. It also shows that the best method for the control of this disease is thoroughly clean, disease-free runs.

Mortality figures over a period of five years, taken from the autopsy records of the Poultry Division of the Central Experimental Farm, show 25 per cent of all mortality to be caused by intestinal paratism. The birds from which these figures were prepared come mainly from poultry flocks in the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec, and those entered in the Canadian and Ontario Egg Laying Contests. These figures are regarded as a fairly accurate barometer of disease conditions over Canada.

From this it will be generally recognized that the control of this disease is of great importance to the industry.

Both experimental work and actual practice show the value of yard rotation in the rearing and maintaining of stock free from intestinal parasites. Where possible, the rearing ground should be divided into four or five sections of equal size. While the stock ranges on one section the remaining ground should be cultivated and sown to free growing crops to maintain the cleanliness of the soil. The following season the range is shifted one section and the used land cultivated and put down to crop.

Clover, alfalfa and hoed crops make excellent soil cleaners, the land being used for range following green rather than the hoed crop. The colony brooder house and range rearing coop, plans for which are shown in the bulletin "Poultry House Construction," obtainable from the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, fit in excellently in such a rotation owing to ease of moving and adaptability to rearing conditions. Once reared free froom parasites the maintenance of such a condition is gained by the same treatment.

Permanent laying or breeding houses should have large front and back yards free from interior fences, which may be cultivated in the same way as the rearing land, and alternated between crops and range for the birds.

FARMER BADLY GORED BY BULL NOW ABLE TO DRIVE HIS TRACTOR

SAVED MAN'S WAGES.

It took a mad bull on a ten-minute rampage to put Mr. I. M. Boyer, of Oregon, on the disabled list last fall. The bull did a good job—too good for Boyer. When, with the help of sister, mother, dad and the dog, the bull was finally corralled, the hospital surgeon's check-up showed a broken hip, all of the ribs on one side and four on the other broken, plus a crushed hand.

Did Boyer live? He not only survived the bull's attacks, but after three months in the hospital and one or two in bed at home, he hobbled into his yard on crutches, climbed into his brand new "Caterpillar" Fifteen and began the spring work, says M. E. Storey, dealer for "Caterpillar" Tractors, Combines, and Road Machinery in Toronto.

A hard one to believe, a man driving a tractor when he can scarcely hobble with crutches. But Boyer doesn't take any credit for any superhuman qualities. Here's why he can do it, as he tells it:

"When the Fifteen was brought out to my farm and I saw the tractor pulling three 14-inch plows 7 inches deep in high gear, and then getting onto that tractor myself and riding in that roomy, comfortable seat, I saw that 'Caterpillar' had built a tractor for comfort as well as performance. My first thought was 'Caterpillar' has traction, speed, power and above all, a roomy, comfortable seat, so even in my extreme physical condition, I have found I have been able to drive the tractor myself and save a man's wages."

Mr. Boyer's interest in "Caterpillars" was aroused while convalescing. The dealer in his territory gave him a set of "Caterpillar" literature to help while away the hours. In one of the magazines, Boyer saw a picture of a crippled San Jose orchardist driving his "Caterpillar" and decided that if a man with a hook on one arm and the other arm in splints as well could start, steer and service a "Caterpillar" he could do as well.

Mr. Boyer was a beaming spectator at the recent world's record nonstop run of 481 hours, made by a model Ten 'Caterpillar' under the direction of the Agricultural Engineering Department of Oregon State College to supply the farmer with accurate data on track wear, fuel consumption and tractor farming costs.

Roadside Market Source of Profit

With the advent of the tourist season the roadside market provides a special opportunity for the enterprising farmer. The Dominion Livestock Branch finds that this method of selling is rapidly growing in importance. Visiting tourists require to be fed, and they, with people driving out from cities and towns, appreciate opportunities to buy farm products fresh from orchard, field, pen, or dairy. "Quality" should be the keynote of this new and important market, and it will be found to be the most effective medium for the development of sales.

A REAL NERVE TONIC

Is a Bountiful Supply of Rich, Health-Giving Blood.

Sufferers from nervous debility find themselves tired, low-spirited and unable to keep their minds on anything. They are totally unfit to perform their everyday duties.

Doctoring the nerves with sedatives is a terrible mistake. The only real nerve tonic is a good supply of rich, red blood. To secure this rich, red blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be taken. Enriching and purifying the blood is their whole mission. Concerning them Mrs. Albert Bentley, Bancroft, Ont., writes: "Two years ago I was a complete wreck; in bed for seven months; extremely nervous; had no color. Nothing I tried seemed to help me till I began Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My condition at once improved and to-day I am well and able for anything without fatigue or trouble."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

RAINFALL OVER QUEBEC DAMAGES CROPS HEAVILY

QUEBEC, Que., July 5 (C.P.) — Considerable damage has been caused to crops in the Province of Quebec as a result of heavy rainfall of the past few weeks, according to the official crop report just issued.

The Quebec district has suffered considerable damage from rain during the past three weeks, particularly the low-lying and poorly-drained farms. Orchard conditions are reported generally favorable, while market-gardening has been similarly successful. The area under crops is slightly larger than in 1929, with the exception of the quantity of flax sown.

YOUNG'S POINT W.I. ERECT SIGNS

"Welcome" and "Farewell" Boards Set Out on Outskirts of Village.

INSPIRING ADDRESS

YOUNG'S POINT, July 5. (Examiner Correspondence) Mrs. Thomas Davis was hostess for the members of the Women's Institute for their regular meeting on Wednesday evening. There were eleven members present and a number of visitors. The roll call was answered with economy wrinkles.

Mrs. A. Davis, president of the Lakefield Branch gave a very inspiring address based on the Institute Motto, Home and Country. Mrs. Andrew Wilson reported on the Annual District meeting which was held in Havelock on June 10, and Mrs. Elmer Johnston read the treasurer's report showing a balance of $53.15.

It was decided to give two dollars to help send the lucky girl to the coaching class in Keene to Guelph for the two weeks' course. Sometime ago the Institute passed a motion that one dollar be deposited in the bank for each baby born to an Institute member and also that the gift of a baby book be given to the mother. The first dollar was deposited for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bullock who was born on June 27, 1930.

Mrs. Robert Carter extended an invitation for the Institute to meet at her home in August, when the roll call will be answered by a name for a home.

The Institute is erecting sign boards of 'welcome' and 'farewell' at the entrance to the village. Mrs. F. M. Young and Mrs. Dave Darling were appointed as a committee to arrange for the same.

Mrs. Andrew Wilson and Mrs. Max Kidd were appointed to inquire about the first aid kits for the North School and Young's Point school. Mrs. F. M. Young reported having visited several sick homes and taking fruit, etc., from the relief committee.

The cost of living in the Irish Free State has dropped materially this year.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WEEKLY COLUMN

A goodly thing it is to meet
In Friendship's circle bright,
Where nothing stains the pleasure sweet,
Or dims the radiant light.
No unkind word our lips shall pass,
No envy sour the mind,
But each shall seek the common weal,
The good of all mankind.

MILLBROOK

An "Afternoon Tea" demonstration held recently by an Institute branch featured sandwiches made of white bread, crusts removed and slices cut three-cornered shape, with tomato, and cucumber fillings; also graham bread cut in "fingers" (three of these to a slice), and spread with butter, cream cheese, and then sprinkled with paprika, and parsley cut in tiny bits; the red, green and brown made an appetizing combination and the sandwiches (there was no top slices) were delicious.

When the tea cups were removed sherbet glasses filled with ice-cream topped with fresh strawberries, and two kinds of cake, light and dark, were served. Tiny tea biscuits, cut open, buttered, and with a bit of orange marmalade dropped between, were an accompaniment of the first course along with the sandwiches and brown bread "fingers." The girl members of the branch prepared the various dishes and also did the serving. It was a delightful social afternoon and many of the senior members, some of them tired mothers, did enjoy the treat.

"Whether women should go to the barn to milk" was a live topic discussed at a rural branch, and in no time it seemed everyone wanted to take part, and express he rindividual opinion. It is a suggestion for other rural branches; the general decision arrived at seemed to be that a woman with young children had enough to do in the house and should not be asked to milk; but several of the members averred that, in the very busy season, they helped out with the milking, and were not expected to do this any other time in the year. On the whole, opinion was decidedly against women having anything to do with the milking chore, but it was also conceded that circumstances might, at times, make their assistance necessary. "The woman with no children, and no ties in the house, can help outside if she knows just how much she is strong physically to stand."

"Why not name your farm?" was another topic discussed at an Institute meeting, and this, too, provoked expressions of opinion, feeling indeed running a bit high so the president had difficulty in deciding just who had the right of way in speaking. It was eventually decided that choosing a name and living up to it added interest and pride in the homestead, and worked out to the good of all concerned. "You will make the loveliness if it is not there," one member insisted, "for after we chose 'Silver Birches' for our farm name we just felt we had to make it more attractive both outside and in; somehow people expect a good deal from a home with a name like that."

In England, the discussion developed, it is a common practice to name farms; one member who had come from the Old Country, and who apparently was made actually homesick by the topic and its discussion, advanced some interesting information about the farms in the neighborhood from which she had come; "The most beautiful farms in the world are found in England," she said, " and I think it is because they are all named and so are loved the most."

However, the president gave warning, it is not wise to choose "Roseland," for instance for your farm name if you have only one rose bush on the place; except you immediately begin to live up to the name by planting a rose garden, but that is just where the benefit comes in—you will try and improve the surroundings, and not live and work just to make money, with no enjoyment in your home or your work; beauty and homely loveliness may be made a part of any farm homestead if the right spirit of pride and mutual helpfulness prevails."

CAVAN

During the summer months would be an opportune time for Women's Institutes to consider ways and means for placing a library in their communities and have it ready for use during the long evenings of the fall and winter seasons. We read of many Institutes who already have planned and financed many rural public libraries.

The inspector of public libraries in 1928 reported that fifty-five Women's Institutes in Ontario gave financial aid to that many public libraries in rural communities. The total amount given was about $2,500 or an average of $45 to each. The smallest sum given was $5 and the largest was $200. Women's Institutes are credited with promoting interest in travelling libraries and in the establishment of new rural libraries. Within the last few years Institutes have taken the initiative in building libraries. It is interesting to know we have "All Canadian" travelling libraries now, being works of our Canadian writers selected by the Public Library Branch of the Department of Education.

One branch reports disposing of books to new districts through a key person who could distribute them to advantage. This benefitted both communities interested.

Cavan Women's Institute have taken advantage of the travelling library two or three times and have found them interesting. Our handicap is a place in which to keep the library, which will be convenient for the members. Each time that one has been used a member living in the village which is central for the Institute, kindly offered a room in her home in which to keep the library. This entails a considerable amount of work for the person caring for it and keeping track of the books.

We read in reports of Institute programs that current events are growing more popular. One convenor writes: "We classify them as local, Dominion, U.S.A., and general."

Current events if taken up in an interesting way would help to keep the members in touch with present day history in our own and other countries.

Often, especially in summer, women are too busy to spend much time on the new papers and get out of touch with the current events.

A committee along this line would be educative as well as interesting.

WARSAW

Education is a very important subject dealt with by the Women's Institutes. When one thinks of it that word covers a large range of subjects, practically anything in which our minds may be led forth to think. It deals with the education which continues so long as we live on this earth. It also deals with the schools which our children, and the children of the community attend. The workings of the school are, or should be, of interest to every man anw woman in the section, whether they have children of school age, or whether they have not, or whether or not they ever had children. One reason is they probably pay taxes to support the schools, and they have both the right and the duty to see and know the use to which their money is put.

But a still greater reason is that these schools have much to do with moulding the life habits of the children attending them, and every single person is, to a certain extent, responsible for the up-bringing of the rising generation.

Children should be given a decent school with necessary equipment, and a good schoolyard. The surroundings should be hygienic and beautiful and the children taught to respect these surroundings. Teachers should not only have been good pupils themselves, but have a sympathy with, and understanding of child nature. He should be a person of culture and energy as well as education and training. Parents should visit the school to encourage the teacher, and should ever remember that a child is apt to get exaggerated notions regarding a teacher, and not pay too much attention to talks about the teacher, in fact such should be discouraged. If there be a fault, speak quietly to the teacher. If he be any kind of a man, he will be quite willing to discuss the matter with you. Invite him to your home. Some years ago it was part of the normal school training that the teacher make a point of visiting the homes. Thus the teacher could find reasons why children act in different ways, he would have some idea of home influence. He can easily make a call, and if invited to remain for the evening or a meal, make a point of doing so. It has been found that people are sometimes shy at inviting a teacher to their home, when they want him very much. The teacher who motors a long distance to school and then away as soon as school work is done, not necessarily at 4 o'clock, and never even sees the parents is surely handicapped. The teacher who has a little interest in the community should, other things being equal, have the better influence on the pupils.

Every person in a school section should have an interest in the school, and should attend the annual school meeting.

Warsaw has a handsome new school, comfortable and well equipped. The grounds are being levelled, and will soon be in condition to be used as school grounds should be.

Most Institute branches have a good deal to do with planting trees and flowers in the school grounds. Trustees generally are glad to have them. Home and school associations are a great help and often a school committee is appointed from an Institute branch.

Most branches help the school fair by helping in some way with the prize list. This year Warsaw branch gives a shield to the school sending the winning team in judging in domestic science, the shield to be won three times before it may be kept.

WEDDING BELLS

PARKER—GREASON.

ROSENEATH, July 5.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The marriage was solemnized on Wednesday afternoon at the United Church parsonage by the Rev. M. R. Brown, of Lillian Greason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greason, of Alnwick Township, to Albert Parker, of Hastings.

After taking a short honeymoon trip, the young couple will reside in Alnwick Township.

BRAKE—BUFFAM.

Zion United Church, Lanark, with its beautiful decorations of peonies, syringa and ferns, made a charming setting for the wedding of Mr. Eric Charles Brake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brake, of Peterborough, and Miss Lillian Greta Buffam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Buffam of Lanark. Rev. B. V. McLean conducted the ceremony. To the strains of "Lohengrin's Wedding March," played by Miss Annie Kirk, the bridal party entered the church. The charming and girlish bride, who was given into marriage by her father was daintily attired in a gown of silk net with bodice and flowering skirt, her veil of silk tulle was becomingly arranged with a coronet of orange blossoms and her shower bouquet of Talisman roses, lily-of-the-valley and maiden-hair fern completed the charming ensemble. She was attended by her sister, Muriel, as bridesmaid, who also was picturesque in her peach georgette frock, large mohair picture hat and brocaded shoes to match. She carried an arm bouquet of pastoral shades. Mr. Arthur Clement, of Ottawa, supported the groom and Messrs. Cecil Buffam, of Boston, and Clifford Buffam, of Hamilton, acted as ushers. During the signing of the register Miss F. Barr sang, "I Love You Truly." Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple with their parents received their friends' good wishes at the home of the bride. The tastefully decorated dining-room with its table centred by the bridal cake, presented a happy family gathering. Several toasts were proposed and responded to. Leaving for a week's honeymoon at Timagami Island, the bride travelled in jacket frock suit of pastel pink flat crepe with accessories to match and beautiful silver fox fur, the gift of the groom. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a lovely enamelled mesh bag and a white gold cigarette case to the best man, and white gold cuff links to the ushers. The happy couple left Perth station amid showers of confetti and good wishes. On their return they will reside at Apt. 2, 38 Monk street, Ottawa. The large number of beautiful gifts testified to the high esteem and popularity of the newlyweds.

RADLEY—PACEY.

ROSENEATH, July 5.—(Examiner Correspondence).—A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized recently at the United Church parsonage, Cobourg, by the Rev. W. R. Tantan, when Olive, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Pacey, was united in marriage to Marcus Radley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Radley.

The bride wore a lovely gown of white silk georgette, white silk hose and white kid slippers, with a large picture hat of georgette and carried a bouquet of moss roses and maidenhair fern. The bride was attended by Miss Thelma Mason, of Toronto, who wore a pink satin gown with large black hat.

The happy couple left immediately after the ceremony for a motor trip to Toronto, Niagara and other points west. On their return they will reside in Alnwick Township. The bride was very highly esteemed, being popular in the village and surrounding neighborhood, having held the position of chief operator with the Alnwick Rural and Bell Telephone Companies for nearly three years. Her generosity and cheerful disposition won for her many friends who extend their good wishes.

BREDIN—GALBRAITH.

One of the season's prettiest weddings was held in Melville Presbyterian Church, Brussels, when Wilma Elizabeth (Billie), only daughter of Mr. John H. and Mrs. Galbraith, became the bride of Elliott Hilliard Bredin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Bredin, Toronto. Rev. F. G. Fowler officiated. The church was attractively decorated with palms, ferns and delphinium. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a long, close-fitting gown of lustrous ivory satin made on classic lines. Her tulle veil was held by a crown of seed pearls and she carried a sheaf of calla lillies. The bride was attended by Miss Kathleen Bredin, Toronto, maid of honor; Miss Jean Ferguson, Brussels, and Miss Doris Taylor, New Liskeard, as bridesmaids who all wore close-fitting chiffon gowns in pastel shades, drooping baku hats, and shoes to match. They carried shower bouquets of roses and baby's breath. Little Sally Aileen Scott, Bobcaygeon, was flower girl. She wore a quaint frock of yellow silk net, poke bonnet to match and carried an old-fashioned nosegay. The groom was attended by Mr. Allan Dignan, and the ushers were Mr. Ernest Hessin and Mr. Alex. Thompson, all of Toronto. Miss Leata Chapple, Meaford, played the wedding music from Lohengrin, and during the signing of the register Miss Ethel Peake, former teacher of the bride, at Toronto Conservatory, sang. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Galbraith, the bride's mother, received in a gown of figured chiffon, a large black baku hat and a corsage of roses. Mrs. Bredin, the groom's mother, received in brown lace gown, with hat and shoes to match and wore a corsage of roses. Later, the bride and groom left by motor to take the boat from Toronto down the St. Lawrence. For travelling, the bride wore a covert cloth blue suit, with French model hat, Paisley purse, and navy shoes to match. On their return they will make their home in Toronto. Guests were present from Toronto, Niagara Falls, Peterborough, Goderich, Meaford, Kitchener, New Liskeard, Bobcaygeon and Montreal.

NECKLACE IS GIVEN TEACHER BY PUPILS

Students of S. S. No. 5, Seymour, Honor Their Teacher.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 5 (Examiner Staff Correspondence). — A very interesting function was staged recently when the pupils, parents, and friends of S.S. No. 5, Seymour, spent a social hour with their teacher, Miss Violet Patrick and during the course of the afternoon presented her with a pretty crystal necklace. Helen Peake made the presentation, and the address, which was as follows, was read by Ruth Stephens:

Dear Miss Patrick,—We, the members of your school, realizing that your stay with us is drawing to a close, felt that we couldn't let you leave us without erpressing our appreciation of your stay with us. You have been our teacher for two years during which time you have endeared yourself to us in many ways. Perhaps we have not always done our part, but we hope you will forget our shortcomings.

Before you leave us we ask you to accept this little gift as an expression of appreciation for the time and effort you have spent upon us. In your next school, wherever that may be, we wish you the very best of success, and our best wishes go with you in all your future life. We hope you will not forget your friends at the English Line School, and that we may often have the pleasure of renewing old acquaintances.

Signed on behalf of your pupils,
Ruth Stephens,
Muriel Peake,
Edith Grills.

Miss Patrick, who was taken by surprise, thanked the children for their kindness, and assured them of the pleasure she had experienced while with them.

Miss Patrick has accepted the position of teacher at the Norham School.

Hal: Do you ever think of Myrtle?

Val: Every time I see a shotgun.

GARDEN PARTY IS BIG SUCCESS

Centreville Women Serve Over 700 People at Strawberry Festival.

PLAY IS PRESENTED

CENTERVILLE, July 5. (Special to The Examiner).—A most successful strawberry festival was held on the beautiful lawn of the Centerville Presbyterian church on Thursday night when the ladies of the congregation served between 700 and 800 guests to a bountiful supper. The festival was one of the best in the history of the Presbyterian congregation and ideal weather aided greatly in making the occasion a most joyous one.

After everyine had the inner man well satisfied a splendid program was held on the church lawn. The Carmel young peoples' society presented their play "Cyclone Sally" the cast of which took their parts in splendid fashion. A touch of beauty was added to the occasion by the large maple trees and fields of ripening wheat and alsike in the background owned by J. S. Magill.

OUR CHILDREN

By Angelo Patri

CHILDREN'S WEIGHT

The table of height and weight is good as a suggestion. It is not a law. If a child comes close to the standard, a pound or so either way does not matter, think no more about it. Only when there is grave difference between the child and the table is there any cause for anxiety.

Some children will always be light weight in proportion to their height. This may be inherited tendency. It may be a personal characteristic. If the child is healthy, if he is happy, if he plays hard all day and sleeps well all night there is nothing to worry about even though he may a few pounds off in either direction.

If the child begins to lose weight and becomes fretful and cross something is wrong. Do not experiment with him, but go to the best child specialist you can reach. His diet may be wrong. You may be giving him the diet prescribed by the baby book or the child specialist's article in the magazine and still not have the right diet for your child.

When we write about children we have to talk about the general child and as there is no such thing as the general child you can see that there is room for trouble. Each child is a law to himself in his growth and in order to give the child the bery best chance we must know the individual child in all his vagaries. The general law is good for a start and is all that is needed for the great body of children. But—when a child indicates that he is not of the great group, but is a child apart, take heed and have the doctor see him.

It is a mistake to think that a fat child is bound to be a healthy child. Fat in children is as likely to be an indication of malnutrition as leanness. Take the fat child to the vaby specialist and ask to have him wrong. There is generally something wrong with a very fat child.

Forcing food even when the specialist has recommended it, is not my idea of dieting a child. The specialist does not command, he suggests. Because he says spinach might be good for this child is no reason why it should be forved down the child's throat. Cook it as daintily as it may be cooked. Sprinkle it over with golden yolk of egg, or butter it, or put olive oil on it, or flavor it to the child's taste, but do not push it down the child's throat if he does not take it willingly.

When a child refuses a dish that he been suggested for his diet search for a substitute. Skip a few days and serve something the child likes. If you had to eat the same menu day after day you would be ill. Why worry because the child was the same characteristic?

Experience teaches us that children eat when they are hungry. They like a variety in the menu. They enjoy and they need sweets. They do better by their food if it is presented and served casually—as a matter of course than when eating is made a matter of prime importance.

Watch the weight of the child, but do not be too anxious about it. As long as it is within a pound or so of the standard it is safe. Take the fussy child to the specialist and follow the prescribed diet without anxiety and with moderation and things will be easier.

DELEGATE REPORTS W.M.S. CONFERENCE

Interesting Report is Heard By Women of Fenella W.M.S.

FENELLA, July 5 (Examinr Correspondence)—Miss Gertrude Knox, who was the delegate to the W.M.S. sectional meeting at Camborne in June, gave her very interesting report at the meeting of the Fenella W.M.S. held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Sanderoock on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. H. Macklin read the scriptural lesson followed by the devotional leaflet read by the president, Mrs. A. Nill. It dealt with the temperance quesetion and following this, a special egg collection was taken when each member donated one dozen eggs or the equivalent thereof. This amounted to $3.77. The regular collection amounted to $2.40. A mite box containing $1.48 was also handed in, making the total offering for the day of $7.65.

Miss Knox in her report gave the important happenings at the convention, presenting them to her audience in an interesting and able manner, a vote of thanks being expressed to her at the close.

Mrs. S. Leach, the program leader being absent, the presiding officer continued with the meeting, when leaflets, "Poisoned Arrows" giving many facts and figures on pre and post-prohibition days were read by the Misses Ruth Knox, Florence Macklin, Louisa Clark and Donna Talling.

The next meeting will be held on August 6, at the home of Mrs. James Knox. Mrs. Sanderoock, assisted by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Eric Sanderoock served a dainty lunch at the close of the meeting.

Several visitors were present from Harwood and Roseneath auxiliaries.

Stoney Lake Cottages Are Filling Up Fast

Cool lake breezes are fanning many wearied city folk at the Kawartha Lakes resorts these hot July days, according to F. G. Young, of the Stoney Lake Navigation Company. The cottages and hotels along the lakes are fast filling up with people, and activities are getting into full swing.

The lake steamer, the Islinda, is having a specially busy season carrying passengers to and fro, further reports Mr. Young. In fact everything points to one of the biggest seasons at the neighboring resorts in many years.

Those who have delayed in making early arrangements for renting cottages are finding it difficult to find accommodation, since most of them are already booked for the whole summer.

HOT JULY DAYS HARD ON BABY

July—the month of oppressive heat; red-hot days and sweltering nights; is extremely hard on little ones. Diarrhoea, dysentry, colic and cholera infantum carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they come on suddenly to fight them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during the hot summer as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels and stomach, and an occasional dose given to the well child will prevent summer complaint, or if the trouble does come suddenly will banish it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

AFTER THE BABY WEANS AND THROUGHOUT THE TEENS

The food that has given baby his fine start in life must surely be a food that can continue building his strength, vitality, energy, bone, body and sinew. Don't stop feeding him plenty of Moncrief's milk. Keep it up during the entire period of growth right up to manhood. And even in the adult ages you need plenty of milk to keep building up the tissues that work and activity are daily wearing down. The better milk is Moncrief's.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

IN the winter time we suffer from coal dust from the furnace, and in summer we suffer from dust from the passing motorists!

• • • • • • •

Somehow or other we can't get away from dust! It gets in every crack and crevice and we must be continually chasing it in order to have the house looking as it should.

• • • • • • •

There are some measures that can be used to keep walls from getting soiled and paint from getting dirty, and in the summer time when work is diminished as much as possible it is well to impress upon the family the importance of following certain rules.

• • • • • • •

One thing to impress everyone is to use door knobs when opening and shutting doors, and to avoid putting the hands against the wood. The knobs are intended to be handled, and it is little trouble to wipe them off whenever they get soiled or have a sticky feeling.

• • • • • • •

It is not, however, so easy to wash the woodwork about the knobs. Then too, if the wood has to be washed frequently the finish of the paint is impaired and the dirt adheres more readily.

• • • • • • •

If the baseboards and door moldings are wiped when the rest of the room is dusted, for the dirt is lightly resting on the curves and in the corners and crevices, it will wipe off without extra effort, but if left for a few days it will be harder to get off and it may leave smooches.

• • • • • • •

Another thing which is commonly done is leaning against the walls. Some persons are so careless about this that the finish is entirely taken off the wall paper.

• • • • • • •

It is so easy to rest against the wall by a closet door when putting on shoes, etc., which have just been taken from the closet, or about to be put back in their places again.

• • • • • • •

But, when this occurs repeatedly a wall soon looks as if it needed repapering although in other places the paper is fresh and clean.

• • • • • • •

If a bedstead is against the wall be sure to pull it out far enough when making the bed to prevent brushing against the paint or paper. The whole appearance of the room is marred when the wall is disfigured back of the bed.

• • • • • • •

And just another thing, don't kick a swing door to open it when your hands are full. Push the door with the body and so prevent disfiguring the paint. A brass plate can be attached to get the kicks but it doesn't look very nice.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

THINKING AND ACTING QUICKLY.

For a number of years it has been my privilege to examine amateur and professional boxers before they enter the ring, during the bout, and also after the bout.

The main reason is to make sure that they are in condition to go the three or four rounds demanded of amateurs, or the ten to fifteen rounds, of the professionals.

In all important bouts the amount of 'road' work, slow running on the road, in early morning, is the point we watch most carefully because this means two things.

First: The boxer is in earnest about his training or he wouldn't do this hard grinding run for miles every morning.

Second: This slow running will leave his heart and lungs in such good condition that, barring accidents, he should be able to box the required number of rounds.

However, there is another point of interest to the medical examiner that has not much to do with health, and that is the boxer's ability to strike fast or to ward off a blow fast.

This can only be attained by boxing in a gymnasium, and if we find that he is a little slow in his attack or just a little late in defending a blow, we know that he has not been doing faithful work with his boxing partners.

Because the difference between the trained athlete and one who is not in good condition is just a matter of 'time.'

For from the time that the boxer decides to lead or strike a blow until it is done is just a fraction of a second. By strict training and practice he can reduce the time that this takes so that (unless the other boxer is just as fast), as he sees the blow coming, he will be able to land the blow.

Similarly in defending himself, as he sees the blow coming, his brain tells his arms, legs and body what to do, and he has his defence ready when the blow comes.

His 'mind' is thus trained to think fast, and his body to act fast,as ordered by the brain.

Now why do I talk about this?

Because with your boy or girl, you may be wondering if you are wise in letting them play games.

You admit their value physically, and recognize that they help the girl or boy morally by learning to give and take, and respect the other person's rights, but you've never thought of their value from the standpoint of quick thinking and quick acting.

And it is this quick thinking and quick acting that may mean much to that boy or girl in everyday life. Circumstances may arise wherein that fraction of a second acquired playing games may mean his or her life, or the lives of others.

A quick thinking and quick acting body is a wonderful asset.

MANY ATTEND LAWN SOCIAL

Lily Lake Garden Party is Held at Home of C. J. Hancock.

The Lily Lake Sunday School's lawn social yesterday evening at the home of C. J. Hancock, Smith township was largely attended, with many visitors going out from the city to enjoy the hospitality and the excellent cooking of the ladies of the second line of Smith and the adjoining countryside. Supper was served at six o'clock under the walnut trees of the old Walton homestead. The seasonal dessert of strawberries and cream was an appetizing combination in the abundance of good things with which the ladies loaded the tables. Among those assisting in the service were Mrs. Wm. Steinkrauss, Jr., Mrs. Clarence Ferguson, Mrs. J. A. Mason, Mrs. Geo. Edmison, Mrs. Wm. Saunders, Mrs. Thos. McIvor, Mrs. C. J. Hancock, Mrs. Bert Middleton, Evelyn Mason, Evelyn Darling, Peggy McGowan, Lillian Mason, Mary Middleton, Olive Hancock, Dorothy Rowland and Julia Wright; also Harold and George Middleton, and Clarence, Cecil and Arthur Hancock. The Peterborough Conservatory Orchestra, directed by Mr. Rupert Gliddon, played during supper. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Gillespie, Mr. R. R. Hall, K.C., Mr. J. J. Duffus, Dr. J. J. Craig.

Following the supper, during which the Peterborough Symphony Orchestra played several selections, an excellent program was given for which G. F. Liddle acted as chairman.

The following is the program: Selection by the Symphony Orchestra, under direction of R. Gliddon; chairman's remarks; recitation and encore, Miss Barbara Miller; vocal solo, Miss Mildred Magee; vocal duet the Misses Margaret and Agnes Fife; selection by the orchestra; vocal solo and encore, D. Lucas, accompanied on the piano by Mr. Liddle; instrumental duet, the Misses Ethel Mills and Dorothy Rowland; vocal solo, Mr. Minicola, with orchestra accompaniment; orchestra selection; vocal solo, C. Trotter; recitation and encore, Miss Evelyn Mason; vocal solo, D. Lucas;. William Saunders, superintendent of the Sunday School, made a few remarks, thanking those who had contributed toward the program and those also who had helped to make the evening the success it was.

Following a selection by the orchestra, the program closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Alice Michaelis

MIRACLE

How marvellous, how more than strange
That you and I should meet
Out of a world of chance and change
A myriad hasting feet!

We might have passed so lightly by,
With earth's demands obsessed,
No touch of hand, no glance of eye-
We might have never guessed.

There lies a miracle in this;
Though half the world apart,
You came one day to claim my kiss,
I waited for your heart.

How marvellous, how strange it seems
That it was thus decreed,
With love as perfect as our dreams
Each met the other's need!

It seems a miacle to bring
Our feet so far, and yet
It would have been a stranger thing
If we had never met!

FIRST AID CERTIFICATES PRESENTED AT Y.W.C.A.

C. G. E. DEFEATS COGS FOUR RUNS TO ONE

RED HOLLINGSWORTH'S SINGLE IN SIXTH WITH BASES LOADED GIVES ELECTRICS' EIGHTH WIN

Winners Fail to Connect in First Few Innings of Game.

RALPH LACKS CONTROL.

Jack Crary Pitches Steady and Effective Ball for the C.G.E.

(By F.D.C.)

'Red' Hollingsworth's sizzling single over second with the bases loaded in the sixth inning at last night's East Peterborough League battle broke a deadlock that had lasted from the third and gave the C.G.E team a 4 to 1 win over the Cognawagas. Art. Primeau's unbeaten crew running their string of consecutive victories up to eight.

Despite the fact that Ralph, former Bethany right hander who made his debut with the Cogs last night, lacked control and put no fewer than eight men on the runways by his wildness, the C.G.E. had little success with the willow and it was not until Hollingsworth's clout which incidentally was nicked off Jack Billingsley who relieved Ralph with the bases loaded that the winners took a commanding lead.

Jack Crary turning in his fourth straight win pitched steady and effective ball for the Electricians, allowing the Cripps' crew only two hits and walking—but one man. The losers got only one man on the base paths in the last four frames. Crary had speed and control and outside of one frame when clever defensive work by the C.G.E. infield came to his rescue, was never in trouble.

C.G.E. started the scoring in the third. Rose was hit and was sacrificed to second by Johnston. When Red Hollingsworth also bunted, Ralph threw to first and Rose scored. Beavis beat out a hit to third but Jones struck out and Harmer rolled to Rooke.

Cogs Even Game Up

The Cogs evened up in their half. Macdonald walked and Ralph slashed a single through short. When Cripps rolled to Jones the third baseman made a wide throw to first and Macdonald scored. Billingsley rapped to Rose who held Ralph at third and then tossed out the batter. Then Rooke rolled to Johnston and the veteran who played first for the C.G.E. last night drove Ralph back to third, tagged Rooke and shot the ball to Hatton in time to nip Ralph when he tried to score.

The score was tied until the sixth when Hawley Smith opened up on his old team mate by doubling to left. Hatton got a life when Cuthbertson fumbled his roller, Smith going to third. Hatton stole second. Crary struck out. Rose walked, filling the bases and Billingsley came in from left field to take over the pitching duties. He started well by striking out Johnston who swung and missed after two bunts had gone foul. Hollingsworth however crashed the first ball pitched to him for a clean single over second, scoring Smith and Hatton and when Cripps let the ball roll through, Rose also score and the batter reached second. Beavis filed to Grant to end the frame.

GOLF IN CANADA'S PARKS

Exceptional opportunities are provided in many of Canada's national parks for the enjoyment of the Royal and ancient game of golf. Golf courses are located in three of the national parks in the West, namely: Jasper, Banff, and Waterton Lakes. The first two are eighteen-hole links, while that at Waterton Lakes park is a nine-hole course. All three combine features that appeal both to the golf enthusiast and the lover of scenery. The settings are superb while for sportiness these courses have few equals.

Baseball Gossip.

Games scheduled for next week in the City Baseball League are as follows:

July 7—Classics at Maple Leafs.
July 8—Juvenile, Brownton Royals at Kiwanis.
July 9—Junior, East City Holy Name at Kiwanis.

All these games will be played at James Stevenson Park commencing at 6.15 sharp, and fans are urged to walk over the bridge and give the youngsters the once over. These teams are playing sparkling ball, but they need encouragemnt if Peterborough is to have another O.B.A.A. championship here this year.

Inside Sportin' Dope—By A. Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Ain't prize fighting turned out to be a swell mess, Mac. The latest joke is the decision of the New York Boxing Commission that they ain't to be no more fouls and that the lads can fit where they like, it being up to them to protect themselves with armor or what have you. They might just as well let the boys pack a horseshoe in each mit or equip 'em with a blackjack and sick 'em at each other. The element of sport passed outa prize fighting across the line years ago, Mac, and now it looks like the element of common sense has also went. The ring game is nothing but a racket, and it's about time the long suffering public, which has been laying in its jack at the box office, woke up and boycotted the whole mess of doubtful promoters and sham battlers.

Locally, Mac, they ain't been much since my last except 1 smart ball game Wed. nite with the C.G.E.'s tossing the Crescents for a third loss. The Electricians win 1 to 0, Mister Vinnie Utronki getting his second shut-out in a row. Outside of the fact that the winners, which has copped 7 games in a row, ain't raising much of a row with the bat, Mister Primeau's lads is playing fine ball. Mister Utronki looks like the pitching ace in these parts this year. Mister Crary ain't no slouch either, and the Electricians' defence is airtight. However, the fans don't want to forget there is a play-off in the East Peterborough serious, and that the team what finishes second might quite easily spill the beans when the 2 outfits clash at the end of the schedule. The Cogs and Crescents will have a merry battle for the play-off berth and they oughta be a lotta fun before it's all settled.

In the Lakeshore League, Mac, them Oshawa lads is going along merrily. They ain't lost a game since the Rays took them Victoria Day, and unless Mister Kay's lads trip them up here Saturday it looks like they will top the loop at the end of the schedule. However, the Rays anyway oughta cop 2nd place and give the lads from the town where they used to make motors a real argument in the final serious.

Aint the race in the big leagues a pip, Mac? The Athaletes is still in front in the American—at least they was Thurs. when this was writ—but Mister Mack's lads is finding the fact I called them to win a mighta tough handicap. If them birds can overcome that and win out, Mac, they're some team.

Well, old-timer, the matched race between Joe Duffus and Ed. Peck ain't rousing a great deal of interest so far among the customers, but the interest will likely pep up when the boys swing round the last corner into the home stretch.

Nothing more this time.

Sportfully yours,
A. WISE CRACKER.

FAMOUS SCULLER ROWING 7 YEARS

Guest Made Debut Under Don Club Colors in Canadian Henley.

MOST STYLISH SCULLER

TORONTO, Ont., July 5. (C.P.—Jack Guest, who meets Boetzelen of Germany in the finals for the Diamond Sculls at Henley to-day, is a member of the Don Rowing Club and has been in Toronto for years. But it is not generally known that he is a native of Montreal. He was born there March 4, 1904. His father, John Guest, and his mother brought him here at a very early age.

Guest, six feet three inches in height, made his sculling debut under the Don Club colours in the Canadian Henley seven years ago. He went down to defeat. The next year he rowed in an eights crew for Argonauts. In 1926, he took up single sculling, and he showed promise throughout that year and 1927.

He won the Junior Singles at the Canadian Henley, in 1928 he entered the Diamond Sculls competition along with Wright, and was defeated by Wright in a semi-final. Last year Guest was again defeated by Wright but on the return to Canada Guest triumphed over Wright in the Canadian Henley Singles Championship.

Guest is considered by experts one of the most stylish scullers ever developed, having a beautiful easy steady stroke that carries plenty of power.

THE RESCUE

On Broadway the lights flickered brightly and the blare of the saxophones and the squeal of the suckers could be heard. But in the old Riverside Cemetery all was still and as dark as a blue Monday in a coal mine.

Sexton Berry M. Deep sat at his old rocking-chair smoking his corn-cob pipe and spitting up against the side of the little Gem round oak.

Suddenly the sexton jumped to his feet. He fell short by a scant three yards, but throwing one arm over his left bunion, he dragged himself erect. Peering out of the window, he cried: "Quick, Ike. There's somebody digging up old Minnie Higgenbottem. I can't let anybody do her dirt."

The two old cronies opened the door, (Well, you can't expect them to pass through the side of the building!) and rushing out, knocked the intruder for a GHOUL.

Jersey City Drops Both Ends of Doube-header to Newark.

The International League's program of Fourth of July double-headers was marked principally by a severe check to the Rochester Red Wings in their fight for another pennant.

The Red Wings dropped both ends of a bargain bill to Toronto, 4 to 1 and 7 to 4, while Baltimore, already half a game in the lead won two games from the hapless Reading outfit 13-10 and 3-2. To-day Baltimore led the Red Wings by two and a half games with Toronto only two games further back.

Baltimore and Reading put on a demonstration of the new and then the old-fashioned type of baseball. Six home runs were hit in the opening conflict, three by each team, as 32 hits rattled off the fences or over them as the case might be. Only eleven hits were made in the second game as Baltimore barely nosed out a 3-2 decision.

Newark Takes Two.

Newark showed further improvement and took two games from Jersey City. Fine relief pitching by Jess Petty enabled the Bears to win the opener 6-3. The Skeeters were leading 3-2 when Petty stepped into the box at the start of the seventh inning. He held the enemy to one hit over the last three innings while Newark was pounding Bream and Hopkins for three runs in the seventh and another in the eighth. Bobbie Stevens, Newark shortstop, hit his first home run of the year in the eighth inning of the second game to give the Bears victory.

Buffalo finally broke a five-game losing streak by downing Montreal 5-4, in a night game after dropping the afternoon battle 6-9. The Royals won the afternoon game on home runs and Williams' misplay paved the way for the other two Montreal runs in the fifth inning. Buffalo got to Herb Thormahlen for eleven hits but the Royal ace was strong in the pinches. The night game was a close and hard fought struggle that saw Montreal score two runs in the eighth to tie the score at four-all only to have the Bisons score one in the last half of the tenth to win. Buckalew went the route for Montreal, but Levebiet, Bison hurler, was relieved by Mills in the eighth.

ATHLETICS SPLIT DOUBLE-HEADER

RACE IS CLOSE.

The traditional mid-season date for determining pennant winners, July 4, is past with the Philadelphia Athletics and Brooklyn Robins at the top of the American and National League standings, but their margins of leadership are so slim that the tradition must be discounted considerably if it is not to be tossed into the discard.

Brooklyn's margin daily grows slimmer as the Robins and the Chicago Cubs add more games to their totals without advantage to either, while the Athletics lead was cut to almost nothing yesterday when they split a double-header with the Boston Red Sox, while Washington registered the day's most important gain by taking two games from the New York Yankees.

As Sam Jones and Fred Marberry hurled a pair of fine games to defeat the Yankees 8 to 0 and 7 to 3, Washington moved up in the standing to a place just one game and one percentage point behind the leaders while New York dropped to 3½ games back of the Senators.

The Athletics got only ten hits off Boston's pitchers in their two games, but Ed Rommel held the Red Sox in the second to win 4 to 2, where four Philadelphia mound aces had failed to keep the Sox from gaining a 7-6 victory in the opener.

Brooklyn's margin in the National League was cut to the small fraction of ten-tenis of a percentage point and as games are counted, the Robins remained a half contest behind, while both leading contenders divided their twin bills. The Robins dropped a 5—4 decision to the New York Giants

Tennis Star

Marcel Rainville, of Montreal, Canadian Davis Cup player, won double honors in the finals of the province of Quebec tennis championships when he captured the singles crown with a straight-set victory over C. W. Aikman of Montreal, and then went out with his young partner and protege, Roland Longtin, of Montreal, to vanquish Aikman and his team-mate, N. A. Burrows, also of this city, in five sets. The score in the singles was 6-2, 6-3, 8-6; in the doubles, 3-6, 6-1, 6-1, 3-6, 6-4.

connected with one of Vance's tosses in the eleventh inning to drive in the deciding run. But they came back in the afternoon to gain a 5 to 2 victory behind Bill Clark's effective pitching.

The Cubs reversed the process; battering out a 10 to 1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates before lunch but failing to hit Kremer in the afternoon and losing 5 to 1.

The St. Louis Cardinals, pounding the Red hurlers to the tune of 15 to 4 and 6 to 2, placed themselves only a half game behind the third place Giants, while Cincinnati dropped into another of those disputable positions, a half game behind the Phillies and a fraction of a percentage point ahead of them. Philadelphia took the first game from the Braves, 7 to 3, but lost the second 9 to 7.

Tigers Win Double Bill

Detroit's Tigers also gained the honor of winning two holiday games but they had to go overtime both morning and afternoon. The Tigers required 10 innings to down Cleveland 5 to 4, then went 12 frames to gain a 4 to 3 decision in the second game. The principal achievement of the Chicago White Sox was that of making six errors in their one game and winning it. The misplays came in their second contest, when Al Thomas held the St. Louis Browns to four hits for a 6 to 4 victory after St. Louis had pounded out 15 blows and an 11 to 3 triumph in the opener.

CLEVELAND GIRL SETS NEW RECORD IN THREE EVENTS

Two Girls at Athletic Meet at Dallas Break Five World Records.

FIRST YEAR ON TRACK.

Milrose A. C. Team Breaks Relay Record Set By Toronto Girls.

DALLAS, Texas, July 5 (Canadian Press). — The flying feet of Stella Walsh, Cleveland flash, and the strong right arm of Mildred ('Babe') Didrickson, 17-year-old Dallas star, sent five world's athletic records for women tumbling into the discard in the National A.A.U. track and field meet at Ownby Stadium here.

Miss Walsh set new international marks in all three events in which she competed, the 100 and 220 yards dashes and the broad jump. In skipping the century in 11 1-5 seconds, she defeated the former record-holder, Betty Robinson, of Chicago, by a scant two inches. The previous record was 11 2-5 seconds.

The Didrickson lass, competing her first year in track and field, wrecked the former world's marks both in the javelin and baseball throws and finished second to Miss Walsh in the broad jump. She threw a standard baseball 268 feet 10¼ inches to beat the former mark by more than 10 feet.

A sixth world record out of the eleven events on the program fell to the speedy 440-yard relay team from the Milrose Athletic Club, New York City, which sped the distance in 49.4. The former record of 50 seconds flat was set by the Toronto Ladies' A.C. in 1927.

Softball Notes.

Harrison's swamped C.G.E. in a free-hitting softball match by 18-6 at Central School Grounds last night.

Montgomery twirled great ball for Harrison's, while Richmond and Nicholls for C.G.E. did not fare so well.

Playford and Lebarr were the fielding stars for Harrison's while Webb and McLeish looked good for the Generals.

The line ups:

C.G.E.—Webb, lf; Wilson, 2b; Gore, c; Griffin, cf; Miller, rf; Calladine, ss, 2b; O'Toole, 3b; McLeish, 1b; Richmond, p; Nicholls, p; McDonough, rf.

Harrison—Playford, cf; Dobson, c; Lebarr, ss; Montgomery, p; Crary, 2b; Smith, 1b; Willshaw, 3b; Clark, lf, French, rf.

Score by innings:

transferred to the display advertisement department. Our advertising man, Mr. Mowry, took the advertisement as it read in the newspaper. He was under the impression that it was a long distance call, as the party telephoning stated that it was the British American Oil Company, and the advertisement was to be charged to the British American Oil Company, Royal Bank Building, Toronto. It is evident that the telephone call was made from a pay station, as somewhat similar connections are made from pay stations as there are from long distance calls. Mr. Mowry took the copy, wrote it up, and then endeavored to get in touch with Mr. Adams, the local manager of your oil plant here. This he was unable to do, as he was advised that Mr. Adams was out of the city. This rather confirmed him in the opinion that the telephone call was from outside, and in an effort to serve as he thought the British American Oil Company, the advertisement was rushed, and inserted in the paper. In order to further serve the British American Oil Company, the News Department gave a reader of the cut in price, which appeared on the front page. Then when efforts were made to procure gas and it was found that no instructions had been given to the local dealer to sell at the figure, a doubt arose as to the advertisement being authentic. From this time until late on in the evening endeavor had been made to confirm the copy, and trace the source from which it came. This, we have been unable to do, as above stated, as the message apparently was from a pay station where it is impossible to get a record. The advertisement appeared with the reader in our evening edition. Instructions were given by our management that it was not to appear in any further editions until confirmed, and as a consequence it did not go into our Noon Edition which goes to rural route readers and subscribers in the small towns and villages in this district, possibly one-half the circulation, of which the total is 10,000.

To-day we have done all we could to rectify the matter, and have inserted the reader which is to be found on the front page of to-day's paper. We are sending you by this mail copies of last night's Examiner containing advertisement on the last page, and reader on front page, and we are sending you copy of our Noon edition of to-day, which shows the advertisement without figures, and without the insertion of the reader, and also copy of our 4 o'clock edition to-day, which contains the explanation of the affair.

We regret the insertion of the advertisement as much as anyone could, and have endeavored to rectify the annoyance that has been caused, to the best of our ability, and we trust that what we have done will be satisfactory.

Yours very truly,
The Peterborough Examiner Limited,
R. M. Glover, Managing-Director.

LADS RUN RAPIDS OF LONGUE SAULT

Pair in Frail Canoe Miss Entrance to Canal—Feat Never Done Before.

3 MILES WHITE WATER.

CORNWALL, Ont., July 5 (C.P.)—By accident rather than by design two Montreal youths last night succeeded in shooting the famous Long Sault Rapids of the St. Lawrence River in a light canoe and live to tell the tale. The youths who performed a feat which has been considered to be impossible by experienced boatmen of the St. Lawrence are Jack Walker and William Savage of Montreal.

Savage and Walker were en route from Ottawa to Montreal in a sixteen foot canoe and were proceeding east along the St. Lawrence River, missing the entrance to the Cornwall Canal at Dickinson's Landing, which would have carried them safely past the three miles of White Water. Savage and Walker were drawn into what is known as the Big Sault. Buffetted by waves four and five feet in height, scraping upon rocks hidden just beneath the surface and travelling all the time at the speed of an express train while completely beyond the control of its occupants, the canoe plunged through the main rapids and within ten minutes entered the comparatively quiet waters of Robinson's Bay.

BANTAM AUSTIN CAR COMING TO CANADA

Former Peterborough Man, E. P. Clarkson, Managing Director of New Firm.

Announcement has been made of the arrival in Canada of the American Austin, described as the "bantam car." This is a product of the American Austin Car Co., Inc., Detroit, Mich.

A Canadian company was formed recently under the name of the Canadian Austin Car Company, Ltd., with premises at 297 Campbell Avenue, Toronto. E. P. Clarkson, formerly managing director of Dodge Bros. of Canada and Graham Bros. of Canada, has been appointed as managing director of the new firm. The Austin car will be assembled in Toronto as soon as possible and it is planned to later manufacture the cars in Toronto also.

Mr. Clarkson was formerly a resident of Peterborough.

CALEDONIANS PLAN FIELD NIGHT ON 18TH

Club Will Go To Cobourg For Anual Civic Holiday Picnic.

The monthly business meeting of the Caledonian Club was held last evening in the Woodmen of the World Hall, with W. Petrie, president, in the chair. An unusually large number of members were present, and the usual business was transacted.

A report was given on the Dominion Day excursion, which proved a success in every way.

On the 18th of this month the Club has decided to hold a field night at Nicholls Oval, when an attractive program will be staged chiefly for the members' children.

It was also decided that the picnic which the Club holds annually on the Civic Holiday will be held at Cobourg this year.

After the business was transacted, the executive served light refreshments, and a social hour was spent in dancing to the music of W. Dougal on the piano.

WORK WANTED FREE.

Next week, July 7 to 12, The Examiner is presenting a "two for one" service in its want ad columns, that will give everyone a chance to try out the wonderful pulling power of the classified section. During the six days, all who order and pay for one, two or three insertions of a want ad, will be given FREE as many additional insertions as are paid for, up to three. Anyone looking for work will be given one insertion up to 20 words, WITHOUT CHARGE, during this six day special offer.

Big Opportunity

Now is the time to clear the attic or home of any unnecessary articles, or find, at a reasonable price some used article that will serve the purpose as well as a new one. It's a chance to get a roomer for that spare room, a few boarders, perhaps a companion, or dressmaker, a housekeeper or a maid a gardener or furnace tender The Examiner can find what you want. If you want to rent a house or find a more suitable home for rent try the classified column. If you want to sell or buy a home The Examiner has 30 to 40,000 readers, and some of them are sure to be ready to meet your wishes in a satisfactory way.

The Examiner classified column is the best read part of the paper. Those in need of anything, look there first. It's the exchange mart of the community.

If you are willing to make exchanges, advertise that way and we will make a special exchange column for your offering.

While this "two for one" campaign is on, we advise Examiner readers to pay special attention to the want ad page, because hundreds of opportunities are going to be presented and exactly what YOU want may be there. Six days of it—July 7 to 12.

GRAVE WARNING OF WAR SENT TO UNITED STATES

BOURNEMOUTH, Eng., July 5. — (C.P.)—A grave warning that the international atmosphere is "poised with mistrust and suspicion" was delivered to the United States.

"Peace is by no means secure. In spite of treaties, man has not yet given up the idea of war. Preparations are going on in every country of the world. There are more men trained for war in Europe, Asia and America than before the great catastrophe of 1914."

All Are Preparing

"That is going on in every civilized land on earth. It is really time the church took this thing in hand. I don't know who else can do it.

"The international situation is bad. We're building up barriers against each other; putting up fences against each other and restrictions against each other. We are blockading each other, and we are trying to starve each other. Trade is treated as if it were contraband. The atmosphere is poisoned with suspicion and mistrust.

"Let us have brotherhood. It is only the Christian churches that can do it. It is for you to do it?

Bishops Sent Resolution

A resolution adopted by the council was sent to the Archbishop of Canterbury "praying for the day when difficulties in the way of complete fellowship would be removed". Another resolution sent to him and to the bishops assembling for the Lamberth Conference read.

"We have prayed that out of your deliberations there may come decisions which shall be for the good not only of your own great church but for the blessing of christendom.

The resolution further dealth with the subject of unity.

centrated yesterday, as in the two previous years, in the New England, Middle Atlantic and Middle Western States. These sections also had lengthly lists of injured. In New York city, where the sale of fire works is forbidden 275 persons were treated for burns from bootleg firecrackers, Roman candles, pin wheels and rockets. At least 17 persons were seriously injured in Chicago, where celebration of the day with firecrackers went on virtually unrestricted.

Taking the census in England next year is expected to cost $2,000,000.

Boxers Completely Sold on B.C. Boy

Billy Townsend, Vancouver, the Canadian lightweight champion not only made a knockout impression on Jack Pervis in the western-eastern debut, but sent the crowds home from Arena Gardens in Toronto absolutely amazed at the powerful blow which broke Pervis' jaw in the third round. Eastern boxing critics are completely sold on the B.C. boy, and have gone so far as to pick him as the next world's lightweight champion. Next Saturday in Los Angeles the Blond Cougar springs into action against Joey Medill of Chicago, who received honorable mention from the seventy-five leading boxing critics of the States for his work this year. Although he doesn't rank among the first ten in the lightweight division, he carries a notable fistic record for his four years in the ring, having won two of his sixty bouts by KO's, thirty-three by decision, and having lost only three. He himself was KO'd once. After this bout Townsend will go into action again in the east on the 22nd of this month against an as yet unnamed opponent, possibly the Eastern English sensation "Red" Berg. As the Queen City fight plans are still going forward, no doubt this bout will be one of the high light boxing attractions of the year in Canada. Rumor has it that a further bout will take place with Sammy Mandel, the world's lightweight champion in the near future in Chicago, with however no title involved.

A BEDTIME STORY

by Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY'S SKY ROCKETS.

"Unkie Wig!" called Baby Bunty, the little orphan rabbit child in a very small voice one morning. "Say, Unkie Wig!"

"Yes, Bunty, what is it?" asked Mr. Longears laying aside the morning paper he was reading to see whether it was going to rain or shine. "What do you want, Bunty?"

"Couldn't we, please, just have one teeny weeny little sky rocket for Fourth of July?" asked Bunty. "Just a wee one?"

"Ha! Ha! Why do you ask me that, Bunty?" chuckled Uncle Wiggily. "Didn't I say we would have no fireworks for fear you children would get burned? And didn't I go to the swamp to gather cat tail plants, which, when they dry, I am going to light for you as fireworks?"

"Oh, yes, I know all that," said

She put her paws around Uncle Wiggily's neck and squeezed him.

Bunty. "And you tied a cat tail on the end of the Bob Cat and the bee stung him. That was wonderful! But Jingle and Jangle and Buster and Custer told me to ask you if we couldn't have just one sky rocket on Fourth of July? Couldn't we?"

"So the other Bunnies sent you to ask me this; did they, Bunty?" inquired Mr. Longears.

"Yes, ma'am—I mean yes, sir," Bunty answered, trying to be extra polite and nice.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny gentleman. "I guess they thought I would do almost anything for you, Bunty, because I love you. And so I will! Tell Jingle and Jangle and the others that I have changed my mind, and we shall have some sky rockets this Fourth of July."

"Oh, how wonderful! Goodie! Goodie! Goodie!" cried Bunty hopping up and down. Then she put her paws around Uncle Wiggily's neck and squeezed him until he grunted like Mr. Twistytail the pig gentleman.

"Why, Wiggy!" exclaimed his wife as she came out of the hollow stump bungalow while Bunty ran to tell the others the good news. "You don't really mean you are going to shoot off sky rockets for the children on Fourth of July night; do you?"

"Why, yes, my dear, I think so," was the answer.

"Dear me! I can't make you out!" murmured his wife. "The other day you said the children could have no fireworks on Fourth of July for fear they would get hurt. And now you promised poor little Bunty there would be sky rockets and the dear little orphan has gone to tell the others. They'll be so disappointed if you don't have the sky rockets now, and yet I don't see——"

"You shall see very soon, my dear," promised Uncle Wiggily. "Tonight, after dark, I will give you and Nurse Jane a private exhibition of the kind of sky rockets I am going to send up for the children on Fourth of July. And you shall see there will not be the slightest danger of anybody getting burned or scorched."

"Well, I don't see how you are going to do it if you use those whizzing sky rockets," squeaked Nurse Jane.

"Come down to the meadow after dark," whispered Uncle Wiggily and then he hopped away. He was very busy all the rest of the afternoon. Soon it began to get dark. The bunny boys and girls were so excited by what Bunty had told them about Uncle Wiggily going to have sky rockets after all, that they could hardly go to bed. But at last they were asleep and Uncle Wiggily whispered to his wife and Nurse Jane, to come down to the meadow with him.

"Stand here," he told them, pointing to a tree, "and watch." Then the rabbit gentleman went a little farther into the meadow and Mrs. Longears and Nurse Jane heard him talking to some one. Pretty soon the uncle bunny called: "All ready, Twisty!"

Up in the air, curving like a baseball going over the fence, a ball of red fire whizzed toward the sky.

"Oh, how pretty!" cried Nurse Jane.

Up in the air went a ball of green fire. Then one of blue, and then pink, purple, yellow and strawberry colors.

"Why, they're just like shooting sky rockets, but I don't hear any whizzes and bangs," murmured Mrs. Longears. And then, as more balls of colored light shot up into the air, making a fine Fourth of July display, Uncle Wiggily came running back to his wife and Nurse Jane.

"Can you guess how I made sky rockets that aren't dangerous and that will burn no one, even when they come down?" asked the rabbit uncle. Nurse Jane and Mrs. Longears couldn't so Uncle Wiggily said: "Mr. Twistytail and I caught a lot of lightning bug fire flies and put them in colored glass bottles—red, blue, green, yellow and pink. Then we tossed the colored bottles of flashing fireflies up in the air and caught them when they came down, and they looked like sky rockets; didn't they? Ha! Ha!"

"Indeed they did. How clever of you! The children will love them!" squeaked Nurse Jane. Then they all went to bed.

TIN IN CANADA

Considerable interest has been aroused by the discovery of stannite, a tin-bearing mineral, in a vein in the Snowflake deposit situated in Columbia. In composition and geological associations this and other veins in the deposit closely resemble those of Potosi, Bolivia. Both are in old slates or argillites associated with comparatively young granodiorites and granites, and the minerals found in one are almost the same as those found in the other.

U.S. SENATE PASSES LOWER PENSION BILL

Hoover Law Enforcement Commission Granted $250,000 to Continue Study.

WASHINGTON, July 5 (C.P.) — Congress adjourned last night in the fighting, snarling mood that has characterized the almost 18 months of continuous session since the advent of the Hoover administration.

An all day attack by Senate Democrats and Republican Independents against the President and the House for their insistence upon the lower pension rates in the World War Veterans Bill help up the adjournment.

Shortly after 9 p.m. the Senate finally approved the bill as demanded by Mr. Hoover and overwhelmingly voted by the house.

The roll call was 48 to 14 for the measure in the Senate.

After the Veterans Bill was disposed of, the Senate quickly gave final approval to the second deficiency appropriation bill carrying emergency funds to meet newly authorized projects.

By a vote of 37 to 22 the Senate gave to the Hoover Law Enforcement Commission another $250,000 to carry on its general study of endorcement of criminal statutes. Senator Watson announced last night that the Rivers and Harbors Bill would be signed by President Hoover today.

Two-thirds of all automobiles manufactured in Hungary in the last 12 months were taxicabs.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

HEENAN'S ADDRESS TO BE BROADCAST

Big Hook Up of Ontario Stations Will Be Used To-night.

The Honourable Peter Heenan is delivering a speech on Saturday night from the Peterborough Opera House, which will be broadcast throughout Ontario from 9 to 10 p.m. (daylight saving time) over the following chain of stations:—CFRB, CKNC and CFCA Toronto; CJGC, London, CNRO, Ottawa.

Mr. Heenan has been in Northern Ontario since the last Session, and will tell over the radio of certain conditions that exist in the northern ridings.

Voice of the People

Letters to be printed in the Voice of the People column must be received at The Examiner Office on the day before it is desired to have them published.

The following appears in Saturday's Mail and Empire:

"Stand of Bankers Causes Sensation"

LONDON, July 4 (C. P. Cable) — The resolution urging expansion of inter-Empire trade by reciprocal arrangements, even at the expense, in the case of the Motherland, of imposing duties on foreign foodstuffs, which was adopted last night by a meeting of the most powerful bankers of the country, has become a political sensation."

Britain in the past has been all for Britain.

Mr. Bennett says: "Be warned in time. There is but one issue, a Greater Canada."

(Empire League).

J. H. BURNHAM.

Johannesburgh, South Africa, will build a public library.

TENDERS FOR CHURCH DECORATION

Sealed Tenders will be received by the undersigned up to and including July 19th, 1930, for the interior decoration of the Regent Street United Church, Lakefield.

Ceiling to be painted, walls muresCoad and panelled, woodwork, except the seats, varnished and put in a first-class condition, material included.

The work must be done through the month of August, and all material and scaffolding removed by the 30th day of August.

The key of the church may be had, in order that prospective applicants may look over the interior, and any further necessary information furnished by applying at the Parsonage beside the church.

the speaker went on to describe the descent of the Black Shirts on Rome, after the country had become tired of rotten politicians and corrupt government. To Naples came these hordes of the followers of Mussolini and he, in a dramatic gesture, sent them back home to await his signal.

"The sardonic realist that Mussolini is realised well, arch disciple of Neitzche and of Machiavelli that he is, that the time had not come, and he prepared them for the supreme moment."

But the moment did come, in October of 1922, when Mussolini and his hordes of followers marched into the Eternal City and took it in a bloodless revolution. Once again, having no means of looking after them, he sent his followers back to their homes, swearing allegiance and obedience to his command. The cry of "Avante, Mussolini, a Roma," (on, Mussolini, to Rome) with which they had spurred him on, was changed to shouts of triumph over their victory. They retired to wait for his signal.

So for over seven years he has ruled over the people of Italy with an iron hand, punishing his enemies with quarts doses of castor oil that, when they do not take all life from them, reduce them to abject submission; driving out the grafters in high places; reorganizing the army and navy and the public works; taking away the freedom of the press; signing the Concordat that brought peace to the Vatican and the Quirinal; taking from the people as a whole their individual freedom of action and word and almost thought. The shadow of Bolshevism lay over Italy, and, after her, over the whole of Europe. Mussolini removed that menace and Italy idolizes him, in consequence.

A Demagogue

"He is the God of the Italians. The beggar women throw kisses at his shadow as it passes. He is a demagogue. He slaps the Italian people on the back until their ribs rattle. He knows well how to mix religion with politics, and so he signed the Concordat. Like Caesar of old, he crossed the Rubicon. He terms the Mediterranean an Italian lake. And we are at Gibraltar! I think that sometime the ghost of Horatio Nelson will rise up and slaughter him for that!"

"He is romantic and picturesque and colorful. It is true that he flies his own aeroplane, he makes a pet of a lioness. These are touches of romance and again, he has been in jail. That is romantic, if you become great later on. But he is nothing more than a buffoon, a clown. He is a politician and an opportunist. This idea of dressing in black alone, from head to foot, his playing with the lioness; his imitations of Julius Ceasar—they are pure tomfoolery. He forgets that there is more than Italy to the world."

With a touch of pure histrionis ability that made the scene live and throb before his listeners' eyes, Mr. Skeyhill described in detail the scene in the Chamber of Deputies, when the Prime Minister and his companions were assembled to wait for Mussolini to come and ask them for a vote of confidence.

Instead, the Dictator came, accompanied by fifty thousand of his Blackshirts, and, smashing the gavel with mighty blows—"dynamite in his blood and lightning zigzagging through his brain" he defied the assemblage to ask for a vote of confidence. Instead, he demanded it, and got it, at the point of a mailed fist, and with the threat of his armed Fascisti behind the demand.

Then the speaker pointed out the manner in which the Dictator has throttled initiative and freedom in the land which he saved from Bolshevism, only to place it under the weight of an iron hand. And he pointed out also the like danger threatening any country that fails to measure up to its responsibilities.

"We demand certain privileges, but we will lose them if we refuse to accept the responsibilities which accompany those privileges. The Italian people wanted the right to vote, but they were too lazy to exercise that right at the polls. They wanted the right to make their own laws, but they broke them as fast as they made them.

"We must not make the mistake that the Italian people made, or we will get a Mussolini or worse."

Mr. Skeyhill concluded an inspiring address with a plea for higher ideals of citizenship and the acceptance of its responsibilities and also for the training of the youth of the land in these ideals, and a recognition of the duties which appertain to citizenship.

Musical Program.

The musicians of the day, who provided the concert program of the afternoon and the musical prelude to the lecture in the evening, were three charming, youthful damosels, whose skilful playing and dainty stage presence brought them renewed applause. They were a trio of very fine musicians, the sisters, Elisabeth and Yalanda Garay, string artists on violin and violoncello, and Miss Helen Lindsey, solo pianiste and also an accompanists of exceptionally high order.

Their program was of the popular classical type that always wins such favor from audiences fond of good music.

In the afternoon, the trio played the Meditation from "Thais" (Massenet); Estrellita, that haunting, liquid love song; Autumn and Winter, from Glazounov's Seasons, with its swift, vital tone and its flying pizzicati; the negro spiritual, Deep River, arranged for the three instruments; Brahms' Hungarian Dance No. 6; Anitra's Dance, from the Peer Gynt Suite, by Greig; Londonderry Air, that farewell to Cucullain, the legendary Irish chieftain, with its heart-throbbing melody; the Serenade Badine, with cascades of fairy-like plucked notes, and a stirring and forceful conclusion in Liszt's Second Hungarian Rhapsodie, with its temperamental vigor and charm brought out by the temperamental handling of the stringed instruments.

For 'cello and violin, there was Chopin's Raindrop Etude, with (its reiterated monody, and a Russian Gavotte. The solo violinist played Hejre Kati (Hungarian Boy), a composition that abounds in difficult and sustained harmonics. The solo 'cellist gave Rubenstein's Melody in F, with smooth, round, plushy tone, and a dainty Gavotte. And the solo pianiste played two Chopin numbers, A flat Ballade and the Butterfly Etude.

In the evening, the charming young musicians appeared in national costume, the dress of the Hungarian peasant, its flowing white skirt and blouse and its bolero jacket heavily embroidered in red and green and yellow flowers.

The young ladies were accorded enthusiastic and repeated applause. Their final scheduled number and the drawing of the curtains brought such an outburst of repeated and sincere appreciation that they came back again for an encore. This was repeated once more, the audience trying to bring another number, which was acknowledged with smiling appreciation by the charming trio.

They played, in trio, some lovely selections from Mascagni's opera, "Cavalleria Rusticana", including the famous Intermezzo; Liszt's Liebestraum with its haunting cadences; a Hungarian folk dance, or csardas, in which all the resources of the three instruments were called into play in the swift, vital, throbbing music; a Hungarian Fantasie, and the beautiful Blue Danube Waltz of Strauss. Their encore was Lehar's Frasquita".

The violinist, whose playing was the premier motif of the evening's music, had a solo number in Sarasate's Gypsy Airs and in Dvorak's Humoresque and the 'cellist played the Song of the Evening Star, from Tannhauser, and a gay Scherzo.

This evening, the Martin Erwin Players present the comedy-drama, "Pollyanna", and on Monday, the concluding day of the series, Vierra's Hawaiians will provide the music of afternoon and evening, and Elliott James will give a lecture-demonstration, "Liquid Air", in the afternoon.

TARZAN OF THE APES No. 3 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Black Michael was even quicker than the brute who had attacked Lord and Lady Greystoke with an axe, and the sailor went down with a bullet in his back. "I'm the captain of the ship now, an' what I says goes," said the mutineers' leader, looking threateningly on his fellows. "These here are my friends. Don't touch 'em."

Following the murder of the officers, land was sighted, and they learned they were to be put ashore with their belongings. Remonstrance against the inhumanity of landing them upon an unknown shore, to be left to the mercies of the savage beasts, and possibly still more savage men, was absolutely useless.

Before dark, the barkentine lay peacefully at anchor in a land-locked harbor. The surrounding shores were beautiful with semi-tropical verdure, while in the distance the country rolled from the ocean in hill and table-land, almost uniformly clothed in primeval forest. No signs of habitation were to be seen.

No pleas, threats, or promises of reward could move Black Michael. "I'm the only man on board who would not rather see you both dead; but you saved my life once, and in return I'm going to spare yours. We put you ashore to-morrow." The deep roar of a lion came from the dark shadows of the distant jungle! As darkness settled upon the earth, the mother shrank closer to the man in terror-stricken anticipation of the horrors lying in wait for them in the awful blackness of the nights to come, when they two should be alone upon that wild and lonely shore. What treachery awaited them in that dark, mysterious tropical forest?

PRESIDENT OF U. S. SIGNS RIVERS, HARBORS BILL

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(C.P.)—President Hoover has signed a Rivers and Harbors Bill which in his own words authorizes a larger project than the Panama canal.

In a statement issued after he had attached his signature the Chief Executive enumerated three prospective benefits which may come from the measure.

"It will provide employment for thousands of men. It should be fruitful of decreased transportation charges on bulk goods, should bring great benefits to our farms and to our industries. It should result in a better distribution of population away from the congested centres."

The present measure has reached $145,000,000. One hundred and seventy projects are given Government approval under it. The work is to be done over a period of from one to 15 years.

Student Flier Killed at Camp Borden

PLANE GOING UP STRUCK BY ONE ABOUT TO LAND

Ontario Pilot Lying Seriously Injured in Camp Hospital.

OFFICERS HOLD PROBE.

Closeness to Earth of Accident Prevented Use of Parachutes.

Camp Borden, Ont., Jul 7.—(C.P.) — Two student flyers, both in their twenties, were the victims of a crash here to-day, when their planes collided a short distance off the ground.

Sorensen is Killed.

E. W. Sorensen, New Westminster, B. C., is dead, and G. D. Pooler, Woodroffe, Ont., is in a serious condition in the Camp Borden hospital, while a court composed of the officers of the camp is sitting in an effort to discover the cause of the tragedy.

Eye witnesses are not available to the press as they have been summoned before the court, but according to the Adjutant at the camp the crash occurred as one plane was taking off and the other was attempting to land. As they neared one another the situation evidently got beyond the control of Sorensen and Pooler, who had only five months experience behind them as pilots. The closeness of the point of accident to the earth prevented their using their parachutes, in the opinion of the Adjutant.

Sorensen, who was killed, was only 20 years of age. Pooler was 24. Both men were taking a course in flying here. Sorensen had had one month's experience, while his companion had been four months at the work.

EMPIRE SHOOTING OPENS AT BISLEY

Queen Mary Competition Starts Amid Glorious Weather.

NANY CANADIANS PRESENT.

BISLEY CAMP, England, July 7 (C.P. Cable).—The Bisley "hooter" rang out loud and clear over Bisley Common to-day, and the 67th annual meeting of the National Rifle Association got under way. Hundreds of crack marksmen from all parts of the Empire have been practicing on the ground for some time, including 18 Canadians, selected by virtue of their performances at the meeting of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association on the Connaught, Ottawa, ranges last summer. The meeting will end in two weeks, after numerous historic contests have been decided, with the final shoot for the King's Prize, the highest award an Empire marksmen can win.

Glorious weather favored the opening. Brilliant sunshine beat down from a clear sky. And immediately the "hooter" had sounded, every type of firearm was in use on the famous ranges.

While the heavies and most important part of the program does not start until near the end of the first week, the program has been switched around somewhat and the Queen Mary, Southern Railway and Whitehead matches were down for decision to-day.

Two legless war veterans were among the competitors in the Queen Mary competition, a service condition shoot with service rifles. These conditions are 10 shots at 600 yards, deliberate, 10 at 600 down to 100 yards, fire with movement; 10 rapid fire at 300 yards, and 10 snap shots at 300 yards.

Seek Lost Airmen In Burman Jungle

RANGOON, Burma, July 7. (A.P.)—Belief that the British airmen, Hook and Matthews, crashed in a wild, tiger-infested jungle a few miles northeast of Taungup, to-day was heightened by reports of villagers who stated that they saw airmen flying very low, in difficulties, toward the jungle.

The district is one of the wildest in Burma, uninhabited and without roads.

The Government to-day organized a searching party from Taungup but progress is likely to be slow because of floods.

LONDON, July 7. — Winifred Brown, 22-year-old girl, on Saturday won the King's Cup air race, beating the best of England's race pilots around the 750-mile course. Miss Brown's average speed was 102.7 miles an hour.

Miss Brown is the first woman to win Great Britain's most important air race. The Prince of Wales' Hawker Tomtit, piloted by Squadron Leader D. S. Don, and Prince George's Hawk Moth, piloted by Flight-Lieutenant E. H. Fielden, were among the contestants.

Eighty-eight planes, six of them piloted by women, took off from Hanworth Park, Feltham, on Saturday afternoon.

The planes took off in handicap order, the first up being W. H. Sutcliffe, piloting a Cirrus Moth. The Prince of Wales' plane had the No. 33, and Prince George's was 74. The course was by way of Bristol, Manchester, to Newcastle, returning over Leicester to Hanworth.

A. S. Butler finished second, while Flight-Lieutenant H. R. D. Waghorn, last year's Schneider Trophy winner, came home third, followed in fourth place by Mrs. A. S. Butler.

Prince George's plane finished seventh.

TENSE SITUATON RISES IN POONA WHEN POLICE HALT INDIAN PARADE

Troops Held Ready as Magistrate Rules Procession Unlawful.

PESHAWAR ACTION UPHELD.

POONA, Bombay, India, July 7. — (C.P.).—A tense situation prevailed here to-day, with a procession of 8,000 Indian Nationalists held up a half-mile from the Council Chamber by a cordon of armed police. Troops were held in readiness for any emergency.

The disturbance developed early in the day when the District Magistrate declared that all processions and picketing would be illegal in the city and cantonment area because of the clash here Saturday night.

Members of the League of Youth, in spite of the restriction, organized a procession with the object of preventing members of the Legislative Council from attending a session due to open this afternoon.

Riot Action Sanctioned

SIMLA, India, July 7. (C. P. Cable via Reuters).—Action of the civil and military authorities during the recent riots at Peshawar was upheld in the official report just published. The report has been accepted by the Government of India. A British despatch-rider was beaten to death, an armoured car carrying several soldiers was halted and burned, and a number of natives lost their lives in the rioting.

Sir Sulaiman Indian member of the committee, dissents to the extent of finding that events before the second firing on the natives did not justify firing to the severity resorted to. The other members however, declare the firing was justified. The Government accepted the latter view, but has given assurance that the points raised by the Indian member will be carefully considered.

Sulaiman expressed a belief that some persons had been run over by the armoured car before the despatch rider was attacked, and said that otherwise the situation would not have become so serious. The main report however, says the evidence does not justify his conclusion.

The government has agreed to consult military authorities in regard to the danger of using armoured cars in quelling civil disorders.

INFANT'S BODY FOUND IN TUB

Discovery at Home Near Cornwall Solves Police Mystery.

MAY LAY MURDER CHARGE.

CORNWALL, Ont., July 7. (C.P.)—The discovery on Saturday night of an infant's body in a few inches of water in a washtub at the home of Mrs. Roy O'Neill, five miles north of Cornwall, is believed to have provided the solution to a mystery upon which the provincial police have been working since Wednesday.

Brought to the Cornwall general hospital on Wednesday, after she had been found in an unconscious condition at her home, Mrs. O'Neill told the doctors that she had given birth to a child, and had buried it in the garden. Police found a newly dug trench at the place indicated by the woman but no body. After searching the surrounding district for a new grave or traces of the body they turned their attention to the house last night and found a wash tub containing the body in an upper room.

Coroner C. J. Hamilton and Doctors J. E. Talton and M. A. Kelly conducted a post mortem and decided that the infant had been drowned. The police have stated they will lay murder charges against Mrs. O'Neill.

SMITH HANGS TOMORROW

HAMILTON, Ont., July 7. (C.P.) Arthur Ellis, official hangman, arrived here to-day to supervise final preparations for the execution tomorrow of Mike Smith, condemned to die for the murder of John Iwantz, Winona farmer. The heavy guard which has been keeping watch in the death cell will be reinforced to-night.

Smith's wife and several children, from whom he has been separated for several years, are living on a farm near Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

TOURIST TRAFFIC IS INCREASING

1,372 American Tourists Are Estimated to Have Entered City Last Week.

163 CARS ON 4TH.

Tourist traffic through Peterborough is rapidly increasing, according to figures compiled by the attendants at the Automobile Club's information bureau on the corner of Charlotte street and Monaghan road. Since Monday, June 30, when there opened an accurate count of all American cars passing into the city from the Port Hope highway has been kept.

On June 30 only 22 cars bearing American license plates entered. The following day the number increased to 31. On July 1st, there were were 54, and 73 on July 3. On the fourth of July the total was more than double at the figure 163. Allowing 4 persons to a car as an average it is estimated that 1,372 American tourists entered the city by the Port Hope highway between June 30 and July 4 inclusive.

FOURTH OF JULY ARGUMENT ENDS WITH SIX DEATHS

Two White Men and Four Negroes Slain as Strife Wages Back and Forth.

3 Day Man Hunt in Vain.

Alabama Governor Posts $300 Rewards For Four Negroes at Large.

EMELEE, Ala., July 7. (C. P.) — Rifles and pistols were sheathed to-day and this strife-torn village completed the burial of its dead—two white men and four negroes—slain in disorders arising from an Independence Day debt dispute. Four other negroes, each with a price of $300 on his head, still were at large, but virtually all of several hundred white possemen had given up a three day man hunt, instituted after a negro family engaged in a gun fight with a white family over the sale of an automobile battery.

Rewards for all Connected.

Official rewards which have been posted for the four negro fugitives, Governor Bibb Graves said at Montgomery, "are not merely for negroes who killed white men, but would be paid for the arrest and conviction of anybody—white or black—responsible at Emelee."

"I am going to go to the bottom of this business and anyone implicated is going to be prosecuted," he asserted.

An unidentified negro man, and Viola Dial, a negro woman, were shot to death early on Sunday morning, when the commands of white searchers were not obeyed. Previously Grove Boyd and Charlie Marrs, both white men were killed, and in turn a negro was lynched, and another fatally shot. Both of the negroes were kinsmen of Tom Robertson, who with three sons, fled and has not been apprehended.

The unidentified negro shot to death yesterday, officer said, replied with bullet and wounded Clarence Bush, a white man, upon being ordered to submit to a search at a railroad depot at Markee, Miss., ten miles west of here.

The negro woman was slain when her husband failed to halt his automobile at the command of possemen.

Reclaimed Battery.

On Independence Day, Tom Robertson and his sons attacked Clarence Boyd after he had reclaimed an automobile battery for which the negroes had failed to pay him.

A crowd gathered, lynched Jacob Robertson, who had participated in the attack, fired the home of John Roberstson, a relative, and shot him to death when he killed Charlie Marrs, a white posseman, and wounded Jim Ayers, another white man.

TWO MOTORISTS SLIGHTLY HURT

Car Overturns on Port Hope Highway Near Springville.

GOING TO PORT HOPE.

At the height of the storm, somewhere around Saturday midnight, four Port Hope pepole, homeward bound by automobile, were involved in an accident which fortunately did not result in any fatal consequences. The car, a sedan, contained John Gattys, Mrs. E. N. Winn and Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Bell, skidded when on Green Hill, a mile-and-a-half this side of Springville, turning over in the ditch on the east side of the road and facing in the opposite direction, from that in which it had been travelling.

Despite the seriousness of the smash and the fact that the passengers were dragged from the roof of the wrecked car, only two of them were detained at Nicholls Hospital, namely, Mrs. Bell, who although badly bruised, fortunately did not sustain any fractures, and Mr. Gattys, who complains of leg injuries.

Mr. Bell, who is the Port Hope manager of the Bank of Montreal, and Mrs. Winn were able to proceed home after slight wounds had been dressed, and it is also expected that the other two will be able to leave Nicholls Hospital to-day.

Motorists who were on the scene shortly after the accident, which is believed to have been caused by the slippery pavement, state that the engine of the wrecked car was still running. The automobile was lying on its left side facing Peterborough, and the passengers were released through the roof and immediately conveyed to the Standard Medical and Surgical Clinic.

Addresses Liberal Rally in Peterborough

HON. PETER HEENAN, FEDERAL MINISTER OF LABOR, who addressed a large audience in the Grand Opera House on Saturday night, on behalf of J. J. Duffus, the Liberal candidate in Peterborough West. Considerable part of Mr. Heenan's address was devoted to the unemployed situation in Ontario and Canada.

UNEMPLOYMENT IS MAIN ISSUE SAYS E. A. PECK

Conservative Candidate Scores Government on its Attitude to the Unemployed.

SUPPORTS NEW HIGHWAY.

Free Trade Policy of Government Blamed For Industrial Depression.

"Unemployment is the most important question before the country to-day," declared E. A. Peck, Conservative candidate for West Peterborough, speaking at a largely-attended rally in the Conservative Committee Rooms on Saturday night.

Mr. Peck felt that the Liberal leader was avoiding the main issues of the campaign. "Mackenzie King won't admit unemployment," stated Mr. Peck. "He speaks of 'unparalleled prosperity' and 'the greatest period of progress Canada has ever known.' But everybody else knows there is unemployment. The man walking in the street knows it; his feet are on the ground. Only Mackenzie King, with his head in the clouds as he thinks of the presperity he has brought to Canada, doesn't know it."

On the day following the Premier's "Five-cent speech," the Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor, spoke for three hours around unemployment "without saying anything on the subject," declared Mr. Peck. "He is speaking here to-night. What will he tell the man on the street who is looking for work?"

Agricultural Depression

Dwelling on the subject of agricultural depression, which he also felt the Premier had avoided, Mr. Peck stated: "By the New Zealand Treaty the government stuck a knife in the back of the Canadian dairy industry. In a large degree the Liberal administration has been responsible for the present agricultural depression."

Mr. Peck felt that industrial depression could be laid at the door of the free trade policy of the Liberal Government. For five years, he said, Canada had been laboring under a tariff much lower than that of the United States. In the past year Canada's imports from the States had exceeded her exports to that country by three million dollars, and there had been no effort on the part of the government to check it. With the further raising of the U. S. tariff wall, declared Mr. Peck, the Canadian government had at last realized its position and had made a slight effort to better the condition in the Dunning budget.

"But," asserted the speaker, "there is nothing in the new tariff to stem the tide of American manufactured goods."

Mr. Peck scouted Liberal talk of recent tax reductions. "What they

Welshman's Plane Crashes in Start Across Atlantic

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., July 7 (Canadian Press). — The tiny De Haviland "Puss Moth" in which Captain C. S. Wynn-Eyton was to attempt a trans-Atlantic flight, crashed and burst into flames at Harbor Grace Field when taking off, and the plane was completely destroyed by fire.

Wynn-Eyton was badly burned about the face and was rushed to the hospitl at St. John's. Captain Wynn-Eyton had announced to the hospital at St. John's, Cap-Harbor Grace to Croydon, London. The plane was one of the smallest cabin monoplanes in the world.

NEWS EXCHANGE EMPIRE REALITY

Each Dominion to Contribute Quota of News to Central Clearing House.

CANADIAN SUGGESTION.

MONTREAL, Que., July 7 (C.P.).—An Empire news exchange system based on the method of operation of the Canadian Press in Canada will be the most tangible result of the British Empire Press Union conference held recently in London and Edinburgh, according to four members of the Canadian delegation arriving here yesterday.

John W. W. Dafoe, managing director Manitoba Free Press; Victor Sifton, managing director Regina Leader; B. Nicholas, managing director Victoria, B.C., Times, and E. Roy Sales, of the Renfrew Mercury, led the return of the Canadian delegation, which consisted of 24 members, the balance having stayed in England to return later.

Interviewed in a group on the deck of the liner, the Canadian newspapermen spoke briefly of the conference. The Canadian delegation, they said, brought up the question of a more adequate distribution of Empire news within the Empire, and the outcome of the discussion which followed was the endorsement by the conference of the principle of co-operative exchange of news between the Dominions and the Mother Country by a method similar to the Canadian Press in Canada. Each Dominion will contribute its quota of news to a central clearing house, probably in London, whence it is to be sent to its destination, the whole scheme to be operated absolutely independent of any Government subsidy. Details have yet to be worked out by those Dominions which have not the machinery already in operation.

CLAIMS HON. PETER HEENAN AT LIBERAL MEET IN OPERA; HAWKES SUPPORTS DUFFUS

Toronto Tory Who Supported J. H. Burnham in 1911 a Liberal Speaker.

UNEMPLOYMENT DISCUSSED.

Minister of Labor's Address is Broadcast Over Provincial Wide Hook-up.

Declaring himself to be in a similar position to that of J. H. Burnham in this election, Arthur Hawkes, a Toronto journalist of English birth who assisted the Conservative party in West Peterborough during the campaign in 1911 in which Mr. Burnham won the riding from the Hon. J. R. Stratton, was one of the speakers at Saturday night's Liberal meeting in the Grand Opera House with the Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labour, J. J. Duffus and R. P. Hall K.C., chairman.

Mr. Heenan's address was broadcast by station CFRB, Rogers Batteryless of Toronto, in a provincial radio hook-up with four other stations. The Minister discussed at considerable length the current trade depression and unemployment which he said was world wide in its effect and existed in countries that ranged from free trade Britain to the United States with its extremly high tariffs. He contended that in comparison with these countries Canada's condition was very favorable, but was being seriously affected by the "blue ruin" utterances of the Hon. R. B. Bennett and other Conservative leaders including the Hon. G. Howard Ferguson.

Mr. Hawkes proclaimed his support of the Dunning budget, which he said, was the true fruition of the British Preference inaugurated by Sir Wilfred Laurier in 1897. The theme of his appeal was the promotion of the sense of Canadian nationhood as an increasing power in the British Empire, and the preservation and extension of the British channels of commerce upon which, he affirmed, the prosperity of Canada was founded.

Mr. Hall' Introduction

R. R. Hall, K.C., in introducing the Honorable Peter Heenan to the radio audience said: "Ladies and gentlemen we have the great pleasure of having with us to-night the Hon. Minister of Labour. There is no question that those who have followed his course since he has been Minister of Labour know that success has marked every single course he has taken. We find that there have been fewer strikes and lock-outs

A. CONAN DOYLE NOTED AUTHOR DIES IN LONDON

WAS 71 YEARS OLD.

Last 11 Years of Life Sir Arthur Spent in Studying Spiritualism.

LONDON, Eng., July 7.—(C. P.) — Sir Arthur Conan Dyle, creator of "Sherlock Holmes" and widely known spiritualist, died at his home here today of heart disease.

Sir Arthur was 71 years old. With him were Lady Doyle, two sons and a daughter.

Ill Two Months.

The great novelist and exponent was stricken seriously ill about two months ago and his condition had become more aggravated recently although his death to-day had not been anticipated.

Sir Arthur's sudden death took his family greatly by surprise. He had been under a physician's care during the last six or eight months. His weakened condition was thought to have been brought on by his series of lectures last October to Scandinavia, in behalf of the cause of spiritualism.

Until two days ago it had been thought he was getting steadily better. Then he contracted a severe cold. His sons, Dennis and Adrian Conan Doyle and his daughter, Jean Conan Doyle were with their mother at his bedside. His end was peaceful, a family announcement stated.

MORE M

Exponent of Spiritualism

Sir Arthur was one of the most noted exponents of spiritualistic belief, co-operating frequently in experiments with Sir Oliver Lodge and the late Harry Houdini. He resigned in March from the Society for Psychical Research.

As simply A. Conan Doyle he was widely known for his Sherlock Holmes stories, which rank among the world's noted mystery and detective tales.

Sir Arthur was 71 years old. He was born at Edinburgh May 2, 1859, the son of Charles Doyle, grandson of John Doyle, best known as "H. B."

WILLIAM TAYLOR RESCUES PLANE

Former Peterborough Man Who Lost Both Legs Rescues Plane From Lake Ontario.

DRIFTING IN THE LAKE.

COBOURG, July 7 (Examiner Staff Correspondent). — William Taylor, veteran fisherman of this town, formerly of Peterborough, where he had the misfortune to lose his legs in a railway accident some years ago, accomplished a remarkable feat of endurance over the week-end, in which single-handed he was able to salvage a seaplane which had drifted three miles out into Lake Ontario.

The plane, a DeHaviland Moth owned by William Christie of the Christie Biscuit Company, Toronto, had flown from Toronto earlier in the day, and the owner was visiting with Bennett Oliver, a Cobourg summer resident, while his machine was drifting.

Mr. Christie had anchored his seaplane, near the east pier, by a 15-pound anchor, which proved to be too light when the wind changed from the southwest to the northwest.

Warned of the mishap by his 15-year-old nephew, Bernard Taylor, he launched his boat and went in pursuit of the drifting plane. Handicapped as the result of his unfortunate accident of some years ago, he nevertheless managed to secure the machine which he towed back triumphantly to the pier. He was assisted to some extent by the calm sea which ran on Sunday.

MONTREAL SCRAP ENDS IN SHOOTING

Fruit Store Owner Kills Man, Wounds Companion Over Nickle.

WINDOW BROKEN.

MONTREAL, Que., July 7 (C.P.)—A victim of a dispute which, police declare, occurred over the price of an empty bottle, Alexander Monette, 32, died in hospital to-day from a bullet wound in the abdomen. His companion, Armand Piche, 29, was wounded in the chest and leg and is in hospital in a serious condition.

The shooting, according to his own admission, was done by Mario Lipari, proprietor of a fruit store on Notre Dame street.

According to Monette, who made an ante-mortem statement, he returned a bottle to the dealer yesterday, but could not get the five cents due on it because he did not bring the ticket. A quarrel followed and a window was broken. Lipari took a gun from a drawer and fired at the two men, hitting them both.

Premier's Train is Delayed by Fire

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 7 (By Ray Brown, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent). — A fire at Harrison Mills, which destroyed the station and other buildings, held up the train on which Premier Mackenzie King was travelling from Chilliwack to Vancouver for some time last night. The Prime Minister was on his way to keep a speaking engagement at Victoria when news of the fire was received. He proceeded as far as Harrison Mills, but there a number of trains were delayed owing to the extent of the fire. It had burnt down considerably, but there were still flames and embers over a large area.

BUFFALO CHEF DIES IN EFFORT TO RIDE FALLS

Barrel Held 18 Hours in Eddy Before Being Thrown Clear.

WOODEN WALLS CRUMPLE.

Victim Lived Six Hours Before Being Suffocated—Not Drowned.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 7.—Five people have gone over the Falls in various craft, but only three have survived the plunge.

The second unsuccessful attempt was made on Saturday afternoon when George Stathakis, 46, Greek chef of Buffalo, perished in his barrel as it was held in the giant grip of the waters of the Niagara at the foot of the Horseshoe Falls. Held by the terrific force of the water, it was only after more than 18 hours that the barrel with its suffocated occupant was thrown clear into the great eddy between the two falls.

It was five hours after it was first seen before the barrel could be grappled to shore and the end opened to permit the removal of the body. There was considerable water in the barrel, which had been splintered by contact with the rocks, but Coroner Dr. Thompson gave the cause of death as suffocation, and stated that Stathakis might have lived for six hours in the barrel. That would set the possible time of death as 9 o'clock on Saturday night, five and a half hours after he had made the fatal plunge over the cret.

William "Red" Hill found in the barrel a live turtle which had been taken by Stathakis. The turtle was alive and seemed none the worse for its long incarceration in the barrel.

Oxygen Exhausted.

A huge crowd watched the progress of the barrel. Stathakis and his craft were taken to the lee side of Navy Island where the last preparations were made for the trip. A mattress was stuffed inside and appeared to have acted as a buffer for no bruises or broken bones appeared on the body. A tank of oxygen placed inside had been used and was exhausted when the body was removed. Dozens of bolts fastened down the end of the barrel and a patent airtight cover was clamped down above Stathakis, fastened with 16 bolts. At 3 o'clock the motor boat, with the barrel in tow, appeared from behind the shores of Navy Island and started down the river. A few hundred yards above the Cascades, the beginning of rough water, the barrel was set adrift. Quickly it gathered speed and soon was being pitched and tossed in the great breakers. At times it was thrown clear of the water and was again lifted and carried irresistibly down the river. For a time it looked as if it was to be thrown with terrific force against the great steel scow stranded on the rocks in the upper river, but it veered around, perhaps grazing the rocks. From that point the barrel lay noticeably lower in the water.

Exactly ten minutes from the time it was set adrift the barrel disappeared over the Horseshoe. Thousands of waters folowed the progress of the barrel through the rapids and over the falls, but once over it was lost to view. It was not thrown clear of the crest, as has been the case with those who have been successful, but dropped through and behind. The crowd anxiously watched for the reappearance of the barrel, and "Red" Hill, himself a daredevil of the Niagara, waited for half an hour, hit boat almost at the foot of the falls, and then gave it up. He cruised

TWO LADS DROWN IN RIVER ROUGE

Father Nearly Third Victim as He Attempts to Save Sons.

POOR SWIMMER.

TORONTO, July 7.—Swollen and treacherous with the rains that had flooded it little more than 12 hours previously, the River Rouge in Pickering township claimed the lives of two young boys yesterday evening, when Stanley Jansen, aged 9, of 57 Carlton street, and his brother, Ernest, aged 7, were drowned.

While their father struggled to save them, almost losing his own life in the battle with the swift flowing current, the two boys were swept far beyond his reach. Divers later recovered their bodies from a deep hole.

The boys were wading in shallow water, hanging onto a waterlogged tree branch. The swift current pulled them away from shallow water into a wide, deep hole. Unable to swim, the boys drowned without a cry. While the father splashed about and swam a few strokes in shallow water, Stanley and Ernest struggled helplessly in the grip of the current.

Nearly Third Victim

When he could not see the boys after scanning the water, Mr. Jansen at first came to the conclusion that they must have left the water, and this thought was strengthened by a nearby swimmer saying that he had seen them doing so. Arriving at the parked automobile, the father learned, to his consternation, that they had not been there.

He rushed back to the water's edge and dived in. Unable to swim more than a few strokes, he was soon in difficulty and would have been a third victim had not swimmers gone to his rescue and pulled him out. Even then the distracted father struggled with his rescuers to get back in the water.

Royalty Celebrates 37th Wedding Day

PORT DALHOUSIE CHIEF IS INJURED IN MOB SCUFFLE

"Billy" Is Used on Unruly Toronto Youth and Crowd Attacks.

CHAIR TOSSED OFF BOAT.

Call For Help Sent to St. Catharines When Chief is Downed.

ST. CATHARINES, July 7.—Victor O'Donnell, aged 25, who gave his address as Shaw Street, Toronto, is in the General Hospital here, suffering with scalp wounds, and Chief Constable George Middleton of Port Dalhousie is confined to his bed at his home, as a result of an unpleasant affair on the Port Dalhousie wharf Saturday evening.

According to what the police could gather, O'Donnell came over from Toronto on the steamer with a picnic. As the boat was about to tie up, it is said, some one threw a chair overboard, and officers of the boat, it appears, accused O'Donnell of being to blame and demanded that he pay for it. When he refused, they called the Lakeside Park policeman and demanded the arrest of the Toronto youth The policeman was unable to do anything, as O'Donnell was surrounded by friends, so Chief Middleton was called on. He placed O'Donnell under arrest on a charge of being intoxicated and started for the lockup, followed by a crowd from the boat of about 150.

O'Donnell, police say, fought the officer, who was finally compelled to use his "billy," a short leather instrument filled with fine shot. Evidently the raw edge of the "billy" cut open O'Donnell's head, for blood flowed.

The crowd, police claim, closed in on Middleton and his prisoner, and the officer was knocked down and kicked. As he lay on the ground Middleton was kicked in the body by some of those nearest him, police say they were told. A hurry call was sent to St. Catharines for aid.

WINNIPEG WOMAN SHOT BY BANDITS

THREE MEN ESCAPE.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 7. — Shot as she tried to slip out of a downtown drug store late on Saturday night, which on entering a moment before she found being held up by a trio of armed bandits, Mary McCarthy, a Winnipeg dressmaker, is in a serious condition in hospital. The bullet entered her abdomen. The police are searching for the three men who made their escape after the shot was fired.

Miss McCarthy found the gunmen in charge of the store when she entered, and C. W. Campbell, the proprietor, and a junior clerk, with hands up, at the rear of the long room. Excited, she disobeyed a command to "stay right there," and was backing out of the door to the street when one of the bandits fired.

Miss McCarthy dropped into a chair as the bullet struck her and the robbers swept past her in a rush to escape. They took about $75 in cash, scooped from the store's till, with them.

CONFEDERATION PARK WINS FIRST PRIZE

Miss Clara Bonner Wins Final Photograph Contest.

A picture of the Confederation Square in Peterborough, during the month of May, and taken by Miss Clara Bonner of R. R. No. 1, Millbrook, won first prize in the final week of The Examiner's Amateur Photograph Contest. Several pictures of the park were received showing the beautiful tulip beds and the well kept grounds of the park. Second prize went to Miss Helen Rogers, 6 Aberdeen avenue, and third prize to Beatrice Florence, 298 Elias Avenue.

The final week's entries were the largest of the campaign and many beautiful flower beds were exhibited. The four weeks' contests have been most enthusiastically entered into by the residents of Peterborough, and surrounding counties, and The Examiner is hoping to have another contest next year.

Kraft mills, which were introduced into France as an experiment two years ago, will produce 50,000 tons of paper this year, some of which will go to Egypt, Algeria and Morocco.

PLANE PLUNGES TO LAKE IN FOG TWO PILOTS DIE

Machine Nearly Strikes Canoe of Girl in Crash.

LANDS IN LAKE MICHIGAN.

One Body Recovered — Fellow Fliers Seeking For Other.

SOUTH HAVEN, Mich., July 7.—Bert E. Kogle, Kansas City, and Duane L. Heller, Chicago, lost their lives when an eight-passenger Travelair plane, Kogel was piloting, plunged into Lake Michigan, five miles south of here, yesterday. Heller was the relief pilot.

The machine, which belonged to the Continental Air Lines Company, Chicago, was en route from Chicago to Mackinac Island. It was wrecked during a heavy fog.

The accident was witnessed by a girl canoeist who was out on the lake. The plane plunged down so near her that her small craft was nearly capsized.

Kogel was identified by his pilot's license. His body was found in the cabin of the plane. It is believed Keller was thrown from the plane and drowned. Captain William Fisher of the South Haven Coastguard, aided by aeroplanes, is conducting a search for the body.

The girl canoeist, Miss Mary Boetticher, was living at a summer cottage along the shore. She was the only witness to the accident.

According to the girl the plane came down about 200 feet from the shore.

She said she saw the ship circling above her canoe, then make a sharp turn outward, barely missing her craft, dived nose first into the water. When the plane was found the nose had been torn off and both wings were broken.

GANGSTERS SHOT UNDER COVER MAN

WIFE LOOKS ON.

DETROIT, July 7.—Barney Roth, undercover man for the Hamtramck police, and Johnny Mietz, a bootlegger, were shot to death by gangsters in Roth's home at 12,128 Mitchell Avenue on Saturday. Mietz was sitting on the front porch of the house waiting for Roth, who was to accompany him to the Federal Court, where Mietz was to go on trial on a liquor charge.

Two men came to the back door and entered the house. Roth was in the kitchen and his wife, Annette, was in a bedroom adjoining the kitchen. She told police she heard the men talking to her husband.

"I can't do anything for you, and I've told you that before," she said he told them.

Then, she said, there was a roar of shots and she ran to the door and saw Roth fall. When Mietz heard the shots he ran toward Roth. The two men then went out the front door, climbed into an old auto which they had parked half a block away, and escaped.

FIFTY YEARS OF CONSTANT ENTERPRISE

EVERYBODY KNEW THE OIL PEDLER

The house-wives of the 'eighties knew the oil-pedler. He used to call around every day or so selling kerosene for oil lamps.

Imperial Oil was a new company in those days, with one small refinery at Sarnia, Ontario. Its chief effort was to make a good, pure, safe kerosene. The oil-pedler was an important part of the distribution system.

He is only a quaint memory today. In his place Imperial has now a vast service system reaching into every corner of Canada—on both seaboards—in every town—across the Prairies—through the mining camps—in Arctic caches for northern fliers.

The supply comes from Imperial's six great refineries by miles of Imperial tank cars—by its lake boats—by hundreds of its trucks—by dog team trails. To bring the finest crude petroleum to its refineries. Imperial has derricks in Peru—pipelines through Colombian swamps—its big tank ships on the Atlantic and Pacific.

Imperial has grown in this way by constant enterprise and effort to achieve the perfection of gasoline and lubrication on which modern transportation and industry depend. It has grown because people have learned to buy Imperial Oil products with confidence.

Marvelube is Imperial's finest motor oil.

Which means that nothing finer can be put in your car.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

BUTTONS DO NOT SEEM to be as popular now as they were some years ago. Of course, one sees plenty now but they are not used nearly as much.

• • • • • • •

Some one told me recently that buttons are out of style now, so now is the time to put those you have to unusual uses.

• • • • • • •

In their new guises they may be ornamental or eminently practical. Some of the buttons may be fancy and have shanks. Some may be covered, and some may be flat, and pierced with two or four holes.

• • • • • • •

Let us tell you of a few uses to which buttons may be put.

• • • • • • •

The most novel purpose, perhaps, to which buttons recently have been put was to protect the tips of nails that protruded below a shelf.

• • • • • • •

The board was so loose a fit for its supporting cleat that nails were driven through each side close enough to the end to insure the shelf fitting right.

• • • • • • •

To protect the tips, velvet covered button molds were hammered on to the points, giving a neat finish also. This same idea can be used to protect any nail point.

• • • • • • •

The advantage of using a button mold instead of a bit of wood is that the mold is smooth and well finished while it would require fine cabinet work to put the same finish on the bit of wood.

• • • • • • •

Large fancy buttons make good shoe buckles, hat and dress ornaments. For shoes, cut steel buttons and those set with rhinestones are good counterparts of buckles themselves.

• • • • • • •

Button molds make fine standards for individual table favors and place cards. The molds can be painted any color, or be given a coat of metal paint, gold or silver preferably.

• • • • • • •

Smart summertime place cards can be made by cutting out gay flowers from magazines or florists' catalogues, advertisements, etc., and backing them with white paper.

• • • • • • •

Between the two layers of paper thrust a short length of green wire for a stem. Gather the stems together, twisting them into a coil.

Put the tips into the hole in a button mold and secure with a bit of glue, paste, sealing wax, or paraffine.

• • • • • • •

Arrange the flowers as a little nosegay or else have them all face one way, spreading out a little in a fan shape. Tie a small name card of pasteboard on each. A set of these make an attractive bridge prize.

• • • • • • •

These sets are recommended for donations to fairs and sales. They cost almost nothing to make and take little time to do. If the flowers are nicely hand-painted instead of being cut outs, they can be beautiful.

• • • • • • •

Buttons also make eyes for rag dolls. The shoe button eye is one of the old time inventions of ingenious mothers. To-day the buttons frequently are black bone buttons that lie snugly against dolly's face.

• • • • • • •

PARISIAN FOIBLES

In this simple afternoon coat of fancy grey woolen, Lucien Lelong has endeavored to create a model which would be acceptable in any wardrobe

A GREY COAT IS ALWAYS APPROPRIATE.

In this simple afternoon coat of fancy grey woollen is a model which would be acceptable to rich and poor alike. In the wardrobe of a fashionable woman with many coats, a grey one can always find a place, and for the woman with only two, grey adter black or navy blue would be a good choice, as it is less apt than most colors to become a tiresom sight. Grey, too, is almost always appropriate and conservative without being sombre or sasd.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

HEALTH AT MIDDLE AGE.

You are reading almost daily about the way some families, some communities, some nations, seem to resist various ailments.

There is no question but that some families have more cases of tuberculosis than do others; some have more cases of heart disease; others more cases of apoplexy and so forth.

Then there will be other families who have fewer cases of any one of these ailments, than the average for the community or nation. Some families will show a number of members, generation after generation, who have attained the age of 85 to 95 years of age.

The explanation given is that some families have passed through all these different types of ailments, and the ones who did not die established a resistance toward them that has been passed down to their succeeding generations.

Measles on an island that has never known measles causes a tremendous number of deaths, but where measles has existed for centuries, the death rate is low.

And so as you approach the middle age period you may be wondering what is likely to be your lot in life from the health standpoint.

Now the above facts cannot be thrown aside because heredity is a big factor in all life, but after all, it is only one factor. Another factor equally important is your circumstances, your surroundings, and your knowledge that was unknown to generations that have passed on.

You will remember the man of 72 who was asked why he was the only member of his family that had attained such an age, all the others had died before 50 years of age of apoplexy, heart and kidney ailments. His reply was 'Well you know I always had a poor appetite.'

Almost 4 out of every 10 children formerly died at birth, or before they reached the age of 12 months, and now only one in 10 dies, because of care given them—they are certainly no stronger than the babies of previous years.

Similarly with you, if you approach middle age using care not to eat too much, care to sleep enough, and care to get outdoors as much as possible, with a little light exercise, your life can be prolonged just as have the lives of the children, despite any hereditary or 'germ plasm' tendencies in your family.

The very fact that there are tendencies should really be of help to you in retaining good health.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Alice Michaelis

BRAVE HEARTS FORGET

Brave hearts forget and leave the past
To sink in time's abysses vast;
They greet each morn
With hope new born,
Find each day lovelier than the last.

Brave hearts ignore the griefs they knew
And in the dawning's rosy hue
They read aright
The promise bright,
New dreams to dream, new deeds to do!

Brave hearts cannot be satisfied
To linger where hope bloomed or died;
For they must climb
Fresh heights of time
That their desires be not denied.

Brave hearts heave longing and regret
Behind, when each day's sun has set;
They only see
Glad hours to be—
Brave hearts, how wisely they forget!

OUR CHILDREN

By Angelo Patri

DISORDERLY CHILDREN

Children are not born neat. They do not know what we mean by order. Disorder about them does not trouble them as it does us. They drop what they have in their hands when they are finished with it because they do not look forward as adults do. The present moment is as far as a little child lives. What are we to do to train him?

First keep order in our own departments. Keep all our own things in their proper places, and in shining order. Our tools, our books, our clothes, all in their places, all attractively set in order. The picture of an orderly shelf or drawer stays with a child. It colors his background a little each time he sees it. By and by background is strong enough to demand action on his part and he becomes orderly as you are orderly. That is usually in the early years of adolescence. Not before.

And what is to be done before that time? Teach him steadily to be neat and orderly. It is not enough to say to a child, "Never throw your things on the floor." You will have to go to the child and help him pick up what he has thrown down, help him to put it away, and do that again and again until he gets the idea.

It is well to have a time in the afternoon when you and the child pick things up and replace them. So this before the hour of his weariness. A little observation will teach you what time that is. Stop what work you are doing, draw his play to a close, have an afternoon tea, you and the child, and then, do the picking up game.

That will do away with the evening scene. That comes on because the children are tired, the mother is tired, everybody is tired. Get in the teaching before that time comes. It is necessary to teach little children this way so that by the time they are eight and nine, on up to early adolescence, they will be able to take a direction about the matter without personal follow-up.

Even when the children are older the general direction will not do. Instead of waiting until company comes into a littered room, check up on each child's belongings. "Hang your coat and hat up now, Mary. Put your books on the shelf, Dick. Come along, everybody. Pick up your things and we'll tidy the room before we have our afternoon snippet."

It takes about fourteen years of such training to make a child conscious of order. That is a staggering statement for the parent who believes in saying a thing once and having it last a lifetime. You see saying a thing once to a child means just nothing at all. He obeys you and hangs up his hat. True, But only his body obeyed you. The dent you made in his mind, the change you made in his mind, was so slight as to be nothing in effect. You will have to do that again and again through the years until a definite change has been made in the child's mind and he is orderly.

That holds for every sort of habit. Again and again, patiently through the years.

GIRL INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE

Dorothy Hood is Knocked Down on Hunter Street East.

INJURIES NOT SERIOUS.

Dorothy Hood, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hood, 236 Woodbine avenue, was severely injured Saturday evening when she was knocked down on Hunter street east by a car driven by Dr. F. C. Neal. She was conveyed to St. Joseph's Hospital and attended by Dr. Neal and Dr. W. A. Baker, injuries being to her forehead and knees.

The little girl ran in front of the car, according to an eyewitness, S. Killingbeck, 70 Hunter street east. She was walking along the south side of Hunter street with her mother, when apparently she thought she recognized a friend in a passing car. She darted from behind two parked cars across the road right into the path of Dr. Neal's car, Mr. Killingbeck stated. Dr. Neal stopped his car in its own length.

The mother also stated that the accident was no fault of Dr. Neal, and that he could not avoid hitting the child.

LARGE CONGREGATIONS ATTEND INITIAL SERVICES CONDUCTED BY THE REV. A. E. MOORHOUSE

Delivers Appropriate Sermons at Both Services in St. James' Church.

STRESS NEED OF WORK.

Special Musical Numbers Rendered By Members of Church Choir.

Rev. A. E. Moorhouse delivered his two initial sermons to large and deeply interested congregations at both morning and evening services in St. James' United Church on Sunday. His morning subject, "Working Together with God," was appropriate and impressive. This was based upon II Cor. 6: 1, "We then as workers together with Him, beseech you also that ye receive not the Grace of God in vain."

Mr. Moorhouse impressed upon his hearers the dignity and necessity of work. In almost all kinds of industry teamwork is what counts. So it is also in social and religious enterprises. Each has his own place to fill in life, and must not pick and choose, but is chosen according to his ability to fill any certain position.

In finding one's place in Christian work, self must be submerged in the will of God.

Working together with God lifts life to a higher plane and is more than a human relationship. In concluding, Rev. Mr. Moorhouse appealed to the people of St. Janes' not only to work together but to link up their lives with Him, "that ye receive not the grace of God in vain."

Evening Service

"Faith" was the theme of the inspiring evening message taken from Hebrews 11:29, using the Israelites crossing the Red Sea as a symbol of this.

In the familiar story we are told of the successful crossing of the Israelites, who were but a band of poor slaves, while the well trained armies of Egypt were drowned in their attempt. Why? One had faith and the other had not.

Faith is man spiritual attitude toward life. Every day we are confronted with seemingly impossible problems. The only hope of meeting these is when they can be interpreted by faith.

It was said, to be impossible to build either a bridge or tunnel between Detroit and Windsor, yet both had been accomplished by men who had vision and faith.

David Livingston crossed the desert which many found impassable. The difference between David Livingston and the others, was "Faith."

Faith creates faith. It is that which changes everything. A thing of infinite possibilities. Some think faith is a mere fancy and others are laughed at for their faith, but it can do the impossible thing, for Jesus honors our faith as He did that of the Israelites. It is faith that alone can sustain the missionary be he in our own Canadian West or in China.

So it is when sorrow sweeps down upon us, that Faith in God is our only comfort. God calls us to work today, which seems as impossible as crossing the Red Sea. Shall we answer it with faith?

Prayer is what we need for God is waiting to reveal Himself to you and me. He always shows Himself in our need, for by Faith the Israelites crossed the Red Sea.

Harold Kitney officiated as organist for the day, and special vocal numbers were rendered in duet by Misses Aileen and Jean Rose, who sang "Sweeter as the Years Go By," and in the evening, Mrs. E. Kitney and Miss Robinson contributed "The Lord is My Shepherd."

If you buy out of town, and I buy out of town, and all our neighbors buy out of town, what in thunder will become of our town? Ever think about it?

MONDAY, JULY 7, 1930

IT WILL WARM UP AFTER WHILE.

With voting only three weeks away it cannot be said that so far as this city and district is concerned the election campaign has succeeded in arousing a great deal of excitement.

True the rival political organizations are at work, going through the regular routine preparatory to the battle of the ballots, but the air is not yet full of election talk and the street corners are singularly free of election arguments.

The weather mitigates against the efforts of the party organizations; in these long, bright, daylight saving summer evenings it is difficult to persuade people to visit committee rooms, attend mass meetings or even stay indoors long enough to listen to radio addresses.

Yet this is a most important election with issues of vital moment to the people of Canada, and when the time comes The Examiner is satisfied that the vote polled will be large enough to show that the apparent indifference before the election was merely reluctance to get too much involved in a hot weather political campaign.

The battle will warm up gradually until by the 28th most of the electors will be found ready to do their duty and exercise their franchise.

KEEP YOUR EXCITEMENT UNDER COVER.

A "musky" weighing almost 20 lbs. and caught near Buckhorn caused a mild sensation when put on display in front of a local business establishment on Saturday night.

The big fish was surrounded by a crowd all evening, and while it supplied visible evidence that angling in the Peterborough district still brings its prizes, the reaction of the onlookers to the huge "musky" was not the best advertisement in the world.

Instead of taking a casual glance at the fish and marching on as if to say "That's a fair-sized lunge, but nothing to get excited about," everybody stopped and stared as if they had never seen such a "musky" before.

Neighbors, that's the wrong attitude, particularly in the presence of our tourist friends.

Never get excited over a big fish—or, at least, never let your excitement become apparent.

Just stroll up, look at the display coldly and saunter away as if such fish were every-day events.

Whatever you do, never let our visitors get the idea that big lunge are a novelty in this part of the world.

Keep cool—even if you never saw a big one before—and if you have had no better luck than some folks who could be mentioned, the chances are you never did.

Don't let the visitors suspect that there is anything unusual in the sight of a good-sized "musky."

TO DRIVE SAFELY.

A list of sixteen suggestions for safe driving, prepared and published by the Canadian Automobile Underwriters' Association, are well worth the thoughtful consideration of every person who drives an automobile. Here they are:

3. Take no unnecessary chances—drive with care at all times.
2. Always keep your car under control.
3. Watch for danger signs—and obey.
4. Signal whenever necessary.
5. Approach turns and intersections cautiously.
6. Do your braking gradually.
7. Keep firm hold on the steering wheel.
8. Don't pass cars on curves or approaching brow of hill.
9. Stop on both red and yellow signals—you can only proceed on green.
10. Keep on your side of the road.
11. Give the pedestrian the right of way.
12. Drive at a reasonable speed when conditions demand it.
13. Obey traffic rules.
14. Remember—gasoline and alcohol do not mix.
15. Drive right—forget right of way.
16. Show your breeding through your driving.

Drive with care, courtesy and common sense.

JACK GUEST'S TRIUMPH.

The clean-cut victory of Jack Guest of Toronto in winning the Diamond Sculls and bringing to Canada for the third time the honor of claiming as a citizen the Empire's premier oarsman has delighted all sport-loving people in this country.

There is a natural delight that a Canadian should have prevented the title from going outside the Empire, and this satisfaction is increased by the fact that Guest, after two gallant tries has finally succeeded in bringing about a decisive victory.

His determination as well as his ability as a sculler, his faculty of accepting defeat cheerfully and victory modestly, his sportsmanlike bearing on every occasion, all have combined to make the 1930 winner a prime favorite not only in his home land but in England, and it is safe to say that his win on Saturday was almost as popular among British sportsmen overseas as it is among Canadians.

Jack Guest's success as an oarsman, following the exploit of Joe Wright in winning the sculls two years ago and Percy Williams' outstanding showing at the Olympic Games, will do much to advertise Canada as the home of great athletes.

The Diamond Sculls' winner is assured of a great welcome when he returns to Canada—and he has earned it.

CONTAMINATION WITH PITCH.

The frenzy which the Chicago newspapers worked themselves into over the murder of Alfred Lingle, a reporter who specialized in underworld doings, seems largely to have been a waste of righteous indignation. Lingle had been on the staff of the Chicago Tribune for years, and was a trusted employee, and when he was shot by a gangster, it was felt that this was an attempt to put the fear of death into the hearts of other newspapermen in the city who might be tempted to "put in the papers" things which the Capones and Morans did not want uncovered.

But now it transpires that Lingle was hand in hand with the gang leaders, and while he appeared to be doing his duty honestly toward his employers, he no doubt so colored his news that the particular crowd he was in with found him a valuable ally.

The old adage that one cannot touch pitch and not be defiled, seems to apply in this case. Lingle was unquestionably a square-shooter when he began to work for his paper. That work brought him in personal contact with the gang grafters of the underworld. He knew how easily they made money. Their doings made good "copy," and he made the most of it without giving them away. He dare not, in fact, give them away in the columns of his paper because they were bound to know who wrote it. Gradually he got entangled in the net himself, taking his share of the plunder under the cloak of a bona fide newspaperman, and in the end the same Nemesis overtook him that has overtaken so many of the tribe.

Lingle was perhaps a victim of circumstances. He was playing with fire all the time and got burned. It may have been hard to resist temptation, but, knowing the way of the underworld, he would have been wise if he had asked to be removed from these assignments, or sought work in another city.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

ARE WE REALLY BANKRUPT?

Over in Old England the Reverend J. D. Jones, a celebrated divine, has been posing as a Jeremiah. Discerning a "moral revolt," he told a gathering of churchmen that this rebellion is—

"bold, brazen and unashamed. It scoffs at old reticences and decencies. It repudiates all old conventions and taboos and allows itself freedom in speech and conduct that shocks all who have been brought up in the old traditions."

Dr. Jones went on to say that many young people refused to consider themselves bound by the old laws and that it was a fact that sexual indulgences, "freed from certain social consequences" had led to an alarming increase of secret immorality.

Such talk, we venture to think, is just eternal nonsense. The truth is that men have been talking that way for hundreds of years—youth has always been going wrong. If the Reverend Mr. Jones will look up his Burke he will find that that great orator and political reformer once said the things he is saying now, only said them more forcibly and far better.

There is folly in the world to-day, and evil; but, to hold that it is not overwhelmed by good, that there is not more of goodness and charity and mercy and pity than at any time in the world's history, is just to show ignorance of the human story. Nor have our young people all gone to the dogs. Wild and reckless some of them are, but to hold, as this alarmed prophet seems to hold, that all the fine, healthy, clean-limbed young men and women that one meets with these days are "bold, brazen and unashamed" in their immorality, that they "scoff at all reticences and decencies"—that is just nonsense. Far from being morally bankrupt, this old world has more moral assets, more of true goodness and decency in it, than most of these reformers suspect.—Ottawa Journal.

COMMUNISTIC TEACHINGS.

The other night the citizens of Brantford, who were interested from any point of view whatever in hearing an exposition of the teachings of Communism, had the opportunity at a meeting held in the Market Square, where one of the advocates of this doctrine tried to persuade his hearers that it was the remedy for all the existing ills which confront the social organization. Thus, the doctrine of Communism, which is destructive, and which advocates the wrecking of orderly parliamentary government, proposes to remedy existing evils by the overthrow of institutions which have taken centuries to develop in their present form.

It is somewhat difficult to understand how intelligent persons can be carried away by these teachings. Certainly they have not so far succeeded in appealing very strongly to English-speaking people, who have been accustomed for a long time to self-government and the removal of existing abuses by orderly democratic methods. It seems to appeal more strongly to those new Canadians who were reared under despotic governments in Europe, and who imbibed the idea that liberty could be obtained only by the destruction of the organized institutions. The speaker at the Brantford meeting, in reply to a question declared that the Soviet Union was not persecuting the church in Russia, provided it confined its efforts to religion only. Then he went on to explain that the Soviet authorities opposed religion because it was "the opium of the people." And closed churches at the request of the majority of the population only and instructed the youth in anti-religious principles because that was the most wholesome attitude to take.

The statement, that religion is "the opium of the people" is nothing but nonsense. The student of history knows that the Christian religion has been the precursor of democratic institutions and that wherever it has been taught and its principles adopted, it has overthrown tyranny and brought its people into a new era, as in Britain, the United States, Canada, South Africa and Japan. The doctrines of justice, equality, goodwill, brotherhood, and the sanctity of human life, property, and the marriage bond, invariably bring a condition of social happiness that is not known where the eternal laws of justice and righteousness are not observed. Speakers of the type of the Communistic worker who harangued his audience in Brantford will have a hard time to overthrow these doctrines in Canada.—Brantford Expositor.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Three weeks from to-day will see the end of the political campaign. It's about time the battle began to warm up.

A British girl flyer won the King's Cup, defeating a large field of men. That is something for male aviators to laugh off.

Now that the Hunter boys are down from the air perhaps it will be possible to get some of the politicians to come down, too.

American tennis players monopolized the finals in the British championships on Friday and Saturday. It looks as if the Motherland had better abandon free trade in sport.

Now that Tommy Church has received a nomination in another Toronto riding there is a distinct falling off in the number of flattering things said about him by his opponents. Politics are responsible for many paradoxes.

What To-day Means To You

"CANCER"

If July 7 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8 a.m. to 9:30 a.m.; 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. and 10 p.m. to 11 p.m. The danger periods are from 11 a.m. to noon, and 6 p.m. to 7 p.m.

A trying time is predicted for this date, and there will be a tendency to be dissatisfied with everything and to view everybody with suspicion. It will be difficult to make satisfactory business terms. A few more hours will bring you under more auspicious influences—hold on!

The child born on this July 7 will ever make you lose your zest but its development should be retarded and not pushed, for the sake of its mental and physical strength. It will be high strung, sensitive and temperamental. It will be proud and ambitious to a marked degree.

You are a keen liver; nothing will ever make you lose your zest for life, and the simple things will never cease to attract you. Your sense of gratitude will never be dulled. You appreciate every little courtesy, every little gift, and kindness bestowed upon you. You feel yourself a most humble person, and it surprises you when the lamps of Fortune shine in your direction. It is a pleasure to do things for one of your type, for you never take undue advantage of your privileges. You are too afraid of making yourself a nuisance; you do not let others ease your life as much as they desire. You are too independent in this respect for your own good. You do not let others do unto you as you are anxious to do unto them.

There is a great deal of love in your nature, and very little hate or resentment. "Hate blinds people. Love can read the writing on the remotest star." You are happier than the average individual because you are seldom at war with yourself, other people, or conditions. You take your sorrows and disappointments philosophically. You are spiritually big, although you may have just an ordinary, rather plodding mentality. It is your splendid attitude toward everything, including your work that makes life worth while to you.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

THE GRINGO PRIVATEER

By PETER B. KYNE

CHAPTER 8.

"I'm curious about that boy. I want to see him in action. I've got to test him out, even at the risk of his life, for if I do not test him out how am I to discover whether he is or is not worth two hoots in a hollow; Somebody has to step into my boots some day, Muriel. Whom have I got? A lot of fine, capable, aging men who each year pass more and more of their responsibilities down to their irresponsible inferiors.

"What's the use having sharp teeth if you're going to be fed on spoon victuals? I size up that Burney boy as one who, in playing poker, plays table stakes; in rolling the bones he prefers one flop and have it over with, his creed is to take a chance, to let the tail go with the hide—and cultured, educated, highly intelligent gentleman who abide by that code are as scarce as the dodo. They're the sort of leaders I'm looking for. I want men who are smarter than myself—and I'm nobody's fool."

"And to-morrow night," the girl murmured absently, "he'll be berthed in the bunkhouse with his mental, moral and intellectual inferiors.- Yes," she added, "and his social inferiors."

"But not his professional inferiors," the king reminded.

"It will be very hard on him, Dad. Why don't you make him assistant general manager and let him occupy a room in Mr. Graydon's house?"

"His latent qualities of leadership will develop more quickly in the bunkhouse," "His Majesty, in his wisdom defended. "I graduated from a bunkhouse and he can do the same or get out—provided, of course, that to-morrow I conclude definitely to let him in . . . I'm sorry I forgot he was a a cowboy and invited him to dinner here. That was a tactical error."

"Why not? He's a gentleman also. I found him charming, delightful and very amusing and you know, Dad, good company is scarce here. May I not invite him to dinner again?"

"If you care to Muriel. As a usual thing you have your own way with me."

Ken Burney rose at dawn, bathed, made his way silently out of the king's house and over to the corral, where he found his horses. His outfit was piled neatly on the ground just outside the gate, so he extracted from it a clean shirt, a change of linen and socks, a brush and comb, a small mirror and shaving outfit, tootbrush and paste. In the shelter of the closely boarded corral he changed his linen, at the watering trough he shaved, brushed his hair and teeth, and his toilet completed, performed a grooming service for his horses, after which he sat on the top rail of the corral and waited for the ranch cook to ring the breakfast bell. And when that 'tocsin of the soul" resounded over El Ranchito, Mr. Burney slid precipitately from his perch and joined the rush with some forty other men.

Entering the mess hall, he slid into the nearest seat, nodded, murmured "Howdy" to the men nearest him and fell to, in silence, like the others. Nobody paid any attention to him; with them eating was a sacred function, to be gotten over as quickly as possible, Burney ate leisurely, however, lingering to smoke a cigarette over his second cup of coffee, with the result that he found himself alone in the mess hall when Art Graydon, the general manager, entered and took his seat at a small table in a corner. A red tablecloth gave indication that this table was sacred to him.

Graydon was a tall, slim, iron-gray man with iron-gray eyes that had acquired a permanent squint, due to forty years of sunlight and snowfall. He glanced inquiringly at the stranger as he entered, whereupon Ken Burney stood up, bowed and wished him good morning.

"You're hellish polite for a cow-waddy' Mr. Graydon observed casually. "It ain't necessary to stand up when I come around. Them courtesies is reserved for the king." A mildly humorous gleam came into the squinty eyes as his straight glance roved over Ken Burney. "Come over to show my boys how the rough ones should be ridden?" he asked.

"No, sir. I came over to see you for a riding job, but while I got into the right church it seems I stumbled into the wrong pew. I met his Majesty first. I thought he was you and asked him for a job. However, he thought I'd better pass my entrance examination before he recommended me to you."

"Good old King Bardin," Mr. Art Graydon murmured appreciatively and smiled a thin, small smile of inward satisfaction.

"So," Ken Burney continued, "if it's all the same to you, Mr. Graydon, I'll be glad to show you what I can do. I understand from the king that he'd like to see me ride a horse called Geronimo."

Again Mr. Graydon smiled the small smile of inward satisfaction. "The king must have a grudge against you, mister. And, come to think of it, when'd you talk to him? 'Taint't usual for him to pile out this early."

"I dined with him and Miss Muriel last night and slept in a very lovely-guest-room with a bath."

Art Graydon paused, apparently paralyzed, in the act of spearing a strip of bacon. "You et with the king?" he demanded.

"He was gracious enough to invite me and I was hungry enough to accept. Besides, I got in rather late and dinner was over here."

Evidently this information did not sit well on the Graydon stomach, and Burney was sufficiently quick-witted to realize this. "I hope you'll hold my delinquency against me, Mr. Graydon," he begged. "Credit me with having sufficient good taste to slip out of the castle before the family was up and come here for breakfast. I know my place."

"Glad of it, son. If you didn't I'd show it to you." Graydon added a moment later: "The old man doggone seldom forgets his. Reckon he had his reasons this time. What's your name, mister?"

"Kenneth Burney, sir."

"A mite inclined toward the dark meat, eh? we'll just call you Smokey an' that'll do until you have to sign the payroll. Of course I ain't sayin' I'll take you on, although I could use a good top-hand just now, but if I do take you on, you remember to keep away from headquarters until you're sent for, and then don't linger to pick wild flowers on the way. The king ain't none too patient. His middle name is Speed. We got to have some discipline here an' handshakin' the king don't go. I play no favorites."

This pronouncement. Art Graydon made without cancor, without brag or bounce. He meant no offense and Ken Burney understand the thoroughly.

Breakfast was prolonged two hours this morning, a order to ac o mmodate a dozen or more riders who drifted in from neighboring ranches with their bucking horses. From the bench in front of the bunkhouse where he sat smoking, Ken Burney observed a dozen automobiles arrive and deposit their passengers in front of the king's house, and presently the king and the princess appeared, leading their guests down to some raised benches set out under a fringe of box elders on the edge of the field where the rodeo was to be held. A stout fence protected them from injury in the event that a wild horse or steer should attempt to stampede in among them.

CATTLE, GRAIN AND PRODUCE

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, July 7.— Crop reports from Western Canada as well as from Europe were constructed as bullish on Saturday. But fractional losses were recorded at the close of the Winnipeg Grain Market. Export business was limited, and reports told of English purchases of cheap Russian wheat, tending to offset any inclination toward advance. Losses were only ¼c or ⅛c.

Little trade was done in cash wheat or coarse grains. In the former market, interest was meagre; in the latter, some attention to low-grade oats was unavailing, due to the small supply. Pit trade was dull throughout the short session.

WEEK-END TOLL TAKES 13 LIVES

Warm Weather Causes Record Traffic to Lakes—Six Drown.

TORONTO, Ont., July 7. (C.P.)—After more than a week of cool weather summer returned to Ontario over the week-end to send the mercury soaring and citizens scattering to beaches and shady parks for relief from the heat. As a result of the record traffic to lake and river resorts, Ontario's fatality list again jumped into the double figures, 13 dead being the toll, with scores suffering injuries as the result of drowning and motor-car accidents.

Six persons lost their lives while bathing and boating, five were killed in auto crashes, and two were fatally hurt in railway mishaps. The dead.

Doreen King, aged 4, Hamilton, struck by car.

Stanley Jansen, aged 7, Toronto, drown in Highland Creek.

Albert Jansen, aged 9, brother of Stanley, drowned in Highland Creek.

George Peddie, Toronto, killed in motor collision.

Elmore E. Rall, Pittsburg, drowned off Port Rowan.

Herbert Almond, aged 20, of Riverside, drowned in Detroit River.

KING TO EQUALIZE FREIGHT RATES

Liberals will fight Till it is Accomplished Premier States on Coast.

TAKES UP NATIONAL STATUS.

CHILLIWACK, B.C., July 7 (By Ray Brown, C.P. Staff Correspondent).—The Liberal Government intends "to keep up the fight for equalization of freight rates until it becomes an accomplished fact. So asserted Premier Mackenzie King before a huge audience here Saturday night.

A clear distinction between Conservative and Liberals on the question of Canada's national status was down by the Prime Minister. The people of Canada, he insisted, must determine at the coming election, whether they were going to send to the Imperial Conference those men who believed in and worked for the view that Canada was a nation, or those men who had ridiculed the efforts of the Government in this respect the Conservatives, he declared, had opposed the Government when it opened legations in Washington, Paris and Tokio.

Touches on Budget

Unemployment, return of the natural resources to the Western Provinces, the Budget, and Canada's representation at the Imperial Conference, were all touched on by Mr. King. He asserted that the Government might have continued in office for a year and a half longer, but, he said, when the Conservatives began to make the Budget a matter of political controversy it became essential that the people should decide the issue. The Government must have the verdict of the Canadian people on its fiscal policy before it went to the Imperial Conference. The attitude of Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, was referred to by Mr. King as "bargaining with a stick of dynamite in your hand."

Mr. King said this was not the attitude of his Government. He believed that goodwill and friendliness was better in trade negotations with the Mother Country.

around all night until 5 o'clock this morning, when he went home. At 6 he was notified that the barrel had been thrown clear. He went back to the scene and it was five hours later that the barrel was brought inshore and the dead body removed. When first grappled the barrel was tapped, but ino answering signals were heard.

Tragedy Predicted.

Hill and their rivermen had predicted such an end for Stathakis and his barrel. The construction was wrong, it was claimed. Ten feet long, with steel ends built to withstand the terrific impact when it went over the falls, it splintered and permitted water to enter.

Stathaki is the second person to die going over the Horseshoe in a barrel.

Comment on Morning Stock Market over Biggar and Crawford wire:

Quiet trading again prevailed on the Toronto Exchange this morning. Int. Nickel led in activity and was fractionally lower at $33½. Brazilian was also safe at $38½. Canada Malting was moderately active and off while Service Stations and the oils showed mild strength and were slightly higher.

Selling orders accumulated in good sized volume over the week end in New York. U. S. Steel started at $153½, off 2½ points, while Case slumped $4½ to $165. Motor stocks were in supply at fractional recessions. Vanadium was under pressure, but after the first hour offerings appeared to have been cleaned up and trading volume slumped with prices steadier.—Biggar & Crawford

FOREIGN EXCHANGES

NEW YORK, [illegible] July 7 (C.P.)—Prime mercantile paper 3 3-4 per cent.

Foreign exchanges steady, demand rates (Great Britain in dollars, others in cents) Great Britain 4.86 3-8 (France 3.93 5-16; Italy 5.24 15-16; Germany 23.85. Canadian dollar at par.

RAILWAY EARNINGS DROP.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 7 (Canadian Press). — Canadian railways in April earned $36,835,035, as against $45,083,764 in April, 1929, and $39,242,955 in April, 1928, according to a review issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The decrease for the month compared to last year was $8,235,578.

LIGHT TRADE ON STANDARD

Nordon and Acme Oil Both Suffer Slumps From Last Week's Activity.

GAINS FOR CALMONT.

TORONTO, Ont., July 7. (C.P.)—Light trading, accompanied by softness among the majority of stocks, marked the mining market during the early period to-day. Some attention was directed towards the oils, but it appeared to be mostly of the selling kind.

Nordon and Acme oil, active issues for some time, were both off 5 at the noon, the former dropping to $1 and the latter to 46. Calmont managed to gain 5 to $1.10, but Chemical Research was off a half to $5.75. Home oil a point to $3.99 and Ajax and Alberta Pacific, 4 each to $2.46 and 76 respectively.

Oriole met with some demand after a quiet opening; gaining 3 to 78 at midday. Big Missouri which moved up last week, was off 5 to 65, and Abana dropped a like amount to 40. Pend Oreille strengthened 5 to $1.15. Lindsleys were quiet, Sudbury Basin, up 10 to $1.75, showing the only important change.

Firm at the opening, Nickel turned easier towards noon, selling off 65 from last Friday's close at $23.50. Noranda held unchanged. Hudson Bay failed to put in an appearance, but the rights sold fractionally higher at 2 1-8. Lake Shore, off a quarter to $22, and McIntyre and Wright-Hargreaves, down 5 each to $18.05 and $1.84, respectively, were the only golds to move.

GENERAL GAIN IN THE FALL

Improved Sentiment Towards Mines in Evidence on Toronto Markets.

FAVORABLE REPORTS.

TORONTO, July 7. (Special to Examiner.)—A somewhat improved sentiment towards mines reported to be in evidence just at present and the market is looking forward a little more hopefully. Though no rapid recovery is anticipated a gradual renewal of public interest in the profit possibilities of the market is expected with the fall season picked as the time for the actual return of general participation. Quiet demand for stock of coniaurum mines, the operation of which was recently taken over by Ventures, is understood to be present in the market just now, and has resulted in the price rising from around 11 cents to 20 cents bid early to day. Reports from the camp are favorable and word that extensions of the gold veins have been encountered is believed to indicate increases in both tonnage and grade at the property.

Considered one of the most interesting development efforts under way just at present, Central Patricia is carrying out lateral work following the completion of the shaft to the 500 horizon, and information regarding the cutting of the main vein on at least two levels—125 and 250—is expected daily. Drilling showed the vein dipped away from the shaft at depth so word from the upper levels should be available first.

Copies of the report to stockholders of Pend Oreille mines and metals, almost fully covered at the time of the meeting on June 24 were received in town to-day, with regard to the Reves-McDonald property it is stated the long river haulage tunnel was extended to the 3,896-foot point, and the Reves ore body tapped a depth of 1,185 feet below the apex. It was found to be of about the same area and metal content as in the upper workings. This ore body, calculated to contain 2,000,000 tons above the river tunnel, is perhaps not more than one fourth of the indicated ore in other sections which remain to be opened up.

Zinc statistics for June, showing stocks of slab zinc of all grades at the end of the month totalled 109,578 tons compared with 102,775 tons at the end of May and and 38,832 tons at the end of June, 1929 indicate conditions in the industry remain approximately the same. The Dominion Bureau of Metal Stafistics' index of metal prices for June, published to-day, was the lowest seen since the index was first established in 1913.

The conference of Zinc producers to be held in Europe in the near future is expected to stablize the market to some extent, but any important recovery in price must await improvement in general industrial conditions. Producers of lead and copper appear to have the situation fairly well in hand though any turn for the better in this direction is also dependent on increased demand for the metals. Copper statistics for June should be available any day now.

LADY M. ROBINSON DIES.

MONTREAL, Que., July 7. (C.P.)—Lady Mary Robinson of Toronto, widow of Sir Frederick Robinson, died in a hospital here yesterday—the Royal Victoria Hospital. Although she had sustained an accident nearly three weeks previously, Lady Robinson, despite her advanced age, had been making good progress towards recovery, and her death was unexpected. She was 82.

FURTHER DROP LIGHT TRADING AT NEW YORK

Considerable Accumulation of Selling Orders Develops Over Three-day Holiday.

CALL MONEY HIGHER.

Future of Market Looked Upon By Commission Houses as Uncertain.

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 7. (A.P.)—Only the bears seemed to have gained any strength from the triple holiday as trading in stocks was resumed to-day. The uncertain trends of last week gave way to an emphatic downturn. Important shares generally sold off 3 points or more. Trading, however, was in light volume, although nearly twice as active as during the closing sessions of last week, when the market was close to a standstill.

Speculators for the decline were cautious last week, not knowing what bullish development might appear during the three-day suspension, news over the week-end contained nothing disconcerting to the short interest. Although nothing but reports of summer slackening of activity might be expected, some more long holders of stocks appeared finally to have grown discouraged, and there was a considerable accumulation of selling orders at the opening.

Several commission houses continued to urge accumulation of stocks, but it is generally acknowledged that the near future, at least, remains uncertain. The average yield of loading stocks has now exceeded the commercial paper rate by more than one percent, which has been regarded in the past as an indication that the market has reached a buying zone. The average yield of 90 issues used in the standards statistics averages is now in excess of 4¼ per cent, while commercial paper is mostly moving at 3¼.

Investment buying however rarely makes the trend of the market, and the re-investment demand from the mid-year interest and dividend payments has been distinctly disappointing. The mid-year settlement period was reflected by another tightening of call money to-day, which renewed at 2 per cent, and mounted to 2½, then 3. The effects of a settlement date are sometimes not felt until about a week later particularly when a holiday intervenes to delay the return of cheques. Furthermore, lenders who placed funds in the market for employment over the week-end did not find the renewal rate of 2 per cent very attractive.

UTILITY STOCKS ON DOWN TREND

No Pronounced Swings in Evidence During To-day's Trading on Toronto Exchange.

BELL TELEPHONE DOWN.

TORONTO, Ont., July 7. (C.P.)—Still fluctuating idly with no pronounced swings in evidence, the market on Toronto Stock Exchange gave an unimpressive demonstration to begin the week Some of the leaders notably International Nickel and Brazilian Traction, eased from their opening and below the close of last Saturday and utilities as a whole followed their lead, but elsewhere there were scarcely any changes, or if there were, they followed no definite direction.

Brazilian at mid-day was selling below 39 and Nickel had eased off below 24. BellTelephone was down ½ point, C.P.R old down one and the new off ½. The oils were quiet, B. A. oil ¼ below its previous close, the great unchanged. Ford was firm but quiet, the implement stocks did nothing for did the steels or foods. Walkers came out slightly lower, but sold at 9 before the end of the Second hour. Canada Malting was down 1 point.

Tip Top Tailors made a small gain to add to its recent additions and at 37 was only 2 points below its record high for the year.

YOUTH ARRESTED AFTER SHOOTING

SUICIDE PACT.

PATERSON, N.J., July 7 (Canadian Press). — Suffering from a bullet wound in the head, Roderick Meakle, 28, violinist, and son of a Paterson, N.J., banker, was under arrest in a hospital here to-day, charged with the murder of Miss Jennie Brauer, 22, who won prizes as a swimmer before coming from Germany two years ago.

Police accused Meakle of killing the girl then shooting himself in a suicide pact into which the couple entered because another woman stood in the way of their marriage.

Miss Brauer's body was found on Saturday in an automobile parked in a lane between Butler, N.J., and Pompton Lakes. Meakle was discovered yesterday wandering in a dazed condition through the woods nearby.

Two notes found in the car indicated that the couple had agreed to die together.

ARTICLE LXIII.

Q.—What special features do Timber Bonds present which often make them desirable investments?

A.—Timber issues possess special features which often make them attractive.

The bonds are secured by a first mortgage on the timber lands, railway lines and milling equipment, the value of which can be easily determined. Their resources are not hidden as those of a mine.

A trustee is usually appointed who receives each month from the company a sworn statement of the amount of timber cut and of the company's operations. He keeps a close supervision to see that the outstanding bonds are well protected in accordance with the company's agreement. As a rule at the end of each year a percentage of the bonds are retired and the equity of the remaining bonds steadily increases until they are all retired. These bonds are retired out of a sinking fund which is also guaranteed in the trust deed. This sinking fund is usually calculated on the basis of the number of feet of timber cut.

The timber industry is an old established one and its costs of operation are well known. The demand for lumber is greater than the supply and at the present rate of consumption its value should increase. There is no depreciation on timber, and it is insured against fire. In some cases it is immune from fire. At any rate the loss due to fire is negligible and especially so where fire patrols are used.

The earnings of such companies are often unusually large, often being four times interest and sinking fund requirements.

The operations of such companies are not subject to unfavorable government control as are those of corporations and public utilities.

By means of timber cruizers, the value of the timber can be accurately determined.

DYNAMITE RAZES NEW B. C. SCHOOL

Act in Doukhobor Colony Follows Burning of Brilliant School Friday.

POLICE INVESTIGATING.

NELSON, B.C., July 7 (C.P.)—An all brick school building built last year at the Doukhobor colony at Glade, about 17 miles from Nelson, at a cost of $17,000, was a mass of ruins following a dynamite explosion in its interior Saturday.

The wrecking of the Glade School following the burning of a new school at Brilliant Friday night. This building was valued at about $6,000.

The Glade all-brick school was a two-roomed building full and modernly equipped with living rooms for the two teachers. The Brilliant school was a one-roomed building with teacher's quarters at the rear. It, too, was modern in every way.

The dynamiting of the Glade school occurred while Provincial Police officers from Nelson were in Brilliant investigating the fire there. It is situated across the Kootenay river from the Provincial Highway and was threatened some weeks ago when dynamite is reported to have been found in the basement.

Over a month ago the summer residence of E. C. Wragge on the west arm of Kootenay Lake, near Nelson, was wrecked by dynamite. At that time anonymous letters were received in other quarters that buildings were to be dynamited.

Almost at the same time that the Wragge residence was destroyed, the school and public hall at Slogan Park went up in smoke and the sawmill situated a few miles distant at Koch's Siding, operated by the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, was destroyed by fire.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND BRIEFS

A SPECIAL SERVICE TO THE EXAMINER

Considering the precipitate falls in New York and the reaction on European courses, the comparative steadiness of the London stock exchange is noteworthy", states Vickers, Da Costa and Co., of London. This house then goes on to say the idea is gaining ground that the London market will soon resume its independence. Certain aspects of recent events throw into prominence the fact that British methods have been built up to take downs as well as ups in the normal march of events. The almost complete segregation of the stock exchange and the money market is a specially valuable safely device in such times as the present.

London brokers are taking sly digs at their American cousins and two market letters to hand to-day point out the failure of artificial methods in the United States. Belisha and Co. say in America the depression is worse than in Great Britain, mainly because during the boom in the states, prices were carried to much more exaggerated lengths, and more over when the slump came artificial methods, such as the giving out by bankers and politician of unjustified "bullish" interviews, and the raising of dividends on a falling tide of earnings brought about a premature rally. The letter goes on to speak of the reduction in the inauguration of the reserve banking system, as having been made for the purpose of restoring market confidence but failed of its object. This unusual course, however, does not affect the fundamental fact that cheap money is one of the greatest aids to a trade recovery. The medicine, however, may be slow in the working, where as it would seem that prices of many American shares are still higher than is warranted by the current outlook. The markets go down to business to-day following the extended holiday and, although nothing broke in the way of disturbing news over the week end. Quotations were lower in trading in anticipation of poor second quarter reports due to make their appearance shortly. It is generally understood that American companies did not do so well in the second quarter of the year and that the earning statements for the period will not make as favorable comparison as did those covering the first three months of 1930. There is hardly a brokerage letter from New York to-day that does not mention quarterly reports and the effect they will have on the market. The next week or so will provide a real test for Wall Street and the best that is hoped for is that trading will continue dull and prices stay close to present levels. Canadian markets are still under the influence of the bigger board, although there has been a tendency of late of not going to the same extremes. Unfortunately for the Dominion markets Canadian companies fail to provide their stockholders with quarterly earning profit and loss fibures and those issued by American concerns are all that market followers have to go by. It is generally conceded that conditions in Canada are much better than across the border and were earning figures of industrial corporations here available there is little doubt but what they would present a favorable comparison with America. Tip Top Taylors common is one stock that is displaying strength in the present market with the shares to-day selling only slightly below the high for the year.

That this company is enjoying better business in 1930 than in 1929 is indicated by the official sales figures for the first 5 months of the year. In the period total shares were valued at $1,993,992 against $1,823,744 for the corresponding months of 1929, an increase of $170,420. In the fiscal year ended December 31 1929, profit available for distribution on the ordinary shares was equal to $4.17 a share. The original amount of the preferred issue outstanding has been reduced from $1,500,000 to close to $1,300,000, by the redemption of $73,000 up to the end of 1929 and over $100,000 in the current year to date. President D. Dunkleman, in his annual report to shareholders, touched upon dividends on the common stock and stated that directors felt it would be in the best interests of shareholders to defer action for a few months.

Much speculation is taking place in the rights of International nickel and traders are buying the rights rather than the stock, hoping the market improves before the time comes to take up the new shares.

TWO CHARGES FOLLOW PORT DALHOUSIE FIGHT

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., July 7. — (C.P.). — Chief of Police George Middleton of Port Dalhousie, Ont., said to-day charges of drunkenness and resisting arrest would be laid in connection with a melee at the docks here on Saturday night in which, it is said, Toronto excursionists took a prominent part. When the steamer Northumberland docked here the officers noticed a deck chair had been thrown into the water. They called the Police Chief to take action, and when he attempted to persuade a man with his "billy" the Chief was so badly injured by sympathizers that he spent some hours in St. Catharines hospital. So did the man he tried to arrest. The Chief of Police has been given two weeks' holidays to recover.

SACRED HEART SOCIAL TUESDAY

Social Has Become Somewhat of a Landmark in Peterborough.

GAMES OF ALL KINDS.

The Examiner to-night carries an advertisement announcing that Tuesday, July 8th, is the day for Peterborough's greatest annual social, when the people of Sacred Heart Parish, together with the Reverend Father John O'Brien, will act as hosts for the people of the city and surrounding district.

The Sacred Heart social has become somewhat of a landmark in this city, and to its long line of successful socials, it is about to add another. The Sacred Heart social is a mid-summer social event that has seemed to grow with each succeeding year, and with the effort that has been put forth by the members of the parish, under the leadership of the energetic and genial pastor, there is every reason to suppose that this year's social will eclipse all others.

The spacious grounds surrounding the church lend themselves most favably to an event of this kind, and are at the moment in beautiful condition. A visit by the writer to-day showed that many and varied are the attractions for young and old. Games of all kinds, including bingo, the cat game, the bottle game, horse races, to try the skill of the adult, and the fish pond to satisfy the curiosity craving of the little ones. Of course the usual successful and well-laden lottery booth will be in attendance.

These indeed are attractions of merit, but to the vast majority the one great appeal that the Sacred Heart social has to both young and old, and which possibly is the reason for its years of success, is the bountiful supper which has always been a feature.

The Rangers Band will again on this occasion provide excellent music during the entire evening.

It is to be hoped that good weather will prevail, and that this annual community social will be as successful and attain the results which it rightfully deserves.

GIRL ONLY SURVIVOR OF CRASH

RUTHVEN, Iowa, July 7 (C.P.)— A 17-year-old Girl passenger was the only survivor to-day of an airplane crash in which two young pilots were killed when the plane hit a telephone wire.

The dead were Kenneth Wilson, 24 years old, and Ernest Southworth, 18, both of Sioux City. The girl, who was critically injured, is Miss Vera Hughes of Ruthven.

CHARGED WITH SERIOUS OFFENSE

MILLBROOK, Ont., July 7. (C.P.) Basil Richards and Hilliard Bristow, this town were arrested Saturday, charged with a serious offense against two girls under twelve years of age. Both men are married.

BITTER BATTLE BEING WAGED IN NORTH NORFOLK

Lady Noel Buxton, Labor, is Opposing T. A. Cook, Conservative.

VOTING ON WEDNESDAY.

Premier MacDonald and Lord Beaverbrook Take Active Parts.

NORWICH, Eng., Juil 7.— (C. P. Cable.)— The by-election campaign in North Norfolk warmed up to fever heat to-day with polling taking place on Wednesday. Lady Noel Buxton is the Labor candidate and T. A. Cook the Conservative, no Liberal having been nominated. Conservative and Labor alike are making the most of the two remaining evenings. The whole constituency is being covered by a net work of campaign meetings and hardly a village, however small, will escape enlightenment on the political questions of the day. Rt. Hon. A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, and Rt. Hon. Margaret Bondfield, Minister of Labor, are aiding Lady Buxton by speaking at Cromer to-night.

Beaverbrook Takes Part.

As in at least two previous by-elections, Lord Beaverbrook and the Empire Free Trade issue have become dominant in North Norfolk, Lord Beaverbrook last night issued a statement to the electors dealing particularly with the effect of Empire Free Trade on Agriculture. He said the recent bankers' manifesto, favoring development of inter-Empire trade by reciprocal government arangements, as a mighty declaration for the cause.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald has taken part in the fight with a clear outline of the Labor Government's accomplishments and aims in agricultural matters, and with a declaration that the Conservative party's agricultural program, calling for fixed prices for agricultural products and prohibitive tariff on French and German subsidized products, would not remedy the farmers' plight.

Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Conservative leader, meets this challenge today with the remark that Cook, the candidate, has expressed personal agreement with views which seem in some respects to go beyond the official party program, but that at the same time Cook has made it clear he has loyally accepted the policy which Mr. Baldwin is advocating.

Fighting For Unity.

"You are fighting to secure the safeguarding of our home industries from unfair foreign competition," Mr. Baldwin writes to Cook. "You are fighting a battle for Empire economic unity," an ideal the Conservative party has aimed at since the days of Joseph Chamberlain. I am convinced that by the active prosecution of the measures alone, can we find hope for a restoration of better times. I trust the electors of North Norfolk will return you to Parliament and thus bring us a step nearer the day when we can put them into effect."

The by-election is necessitated by elevation of Rt. Hon. Noel Buxton, former Minister of Agriculture, to the peerage. In the general elections he was elected with 15,444 votes to 12,661 for Cook and 3,403 to Mrs. C. F. Hoffman, Liberal.

TWO DIE IN MEXICAN CLASHES.

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, July 7. — (C.P.)—Two persons were killed and five wounded in clashes last evening here growing out of the Mexican Congressional elections.

Reports from over the country told of other clashes, but none appeared serious.

PORTUGUESE ROYALIST HELD UP

LISBON, Portugal, July 1 (C.P.) — Colonel Almeida, prominent Royalist, and several civilians were lodged today in Portuguese jails after discovery by the Government of a movement for its overthrow.

UNEMPLOYMENT MEET

REGINA, Sask., July 7 (C.P.) — Western Provinces' representatives will meet July 16 to seek a uniform means of dealing with unemployment according to Hon. J. A. Merkley, Minister of Labor in the Saskatchewan Government. Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Albert and possibly British Columbia, he said, would be represented.

The Hungarian Government is frowning on agricultural labor-saving devices because it is feared they will affect the employment situation in the country.

Great Britain's safest place, as regards road accidents, last year was the Isles of Scilly, where there was not a single casualty.

RICHARD HALL LIMITED

CONSERVATIVES ARE EXPLOITING UNEMPLOYMENT SAYS HEENAN

during the time he has been Minister of Labour than at any previous time in the history of the Dominion of Canada. When we look at the frequency of strikes and lock-outs that occurred in the last seven or eight years before he became Miniser of Labour we find seven to one less strikes now than there were at that time. That shows the saving in the waste of capital and waste of labour, the benefits he has brought to manufacturers and the working man. I could have no greater pleasure," concluded Mr. Hall, "than in introducing the Hon. Peter Heenan, the 'peace maker of Canada'."

Hon. Peter Heenan.

A feature of this campaign, said Hon. Mr. Heenan opening his address, was the failure of Hon. R. B. Bennett and other Conservatives to discuss the issues upon which the Government had gone to the country, and also to bring forward any federal policies of their own. No one had challenged the Liberal Government's financial record of debt reduction and taxation rate decrease.

"Who has challenged the Government's proud record of success in labour and social matters? No one. Who has challenged our record on returned soldier legislation? No one, though the Tories feebly claim credit, thereby admitting that they dare not criticize."

Neither had there been any challenge of the Government's efficient management of the Canadian National Railway, and the record of the Government for its fair and honest administration, Mr. Heenan said.

"Can Mr. Bennett go into the iron and steel districts of Algoma and Nova Scotia and oppose the Budget," Mr. Heenan asked. "Not consistently for his own followers in the House of Commons from those districts voted for Mr. Dunning's proposals. The Dunning Budget provided encouragement for iron and steel. The Conservative members from those districts affected recognized this and voted with the Liberals. Mr. Bennett voted nay, and now, in these cases, finds himself in a position where he can not support his own followers.

Does Mr. Bennett say the cut in sales tax made this year was a bad thing? No, but he says it should have been made sooner, and so it would have, but for the extravagance of Mr. Bennett and his colleagues when in office before 1922.

On the third issue in this election, that of Canada's representation at the Imperial Economic Conference, Mr. Bennett has yet to show where the Liberals will not better represent Canada's needs than the Conservative could hope to."

Effect of Machinery.

Conservatives were doing their best to exploit the unemployment situation, Mr. Heenan continued, but every person realized that the introduction of labor-saving machinery since the war was a pronounced factor in the cause of unemployment.

"The Right Honorable Arthur Meighen, in speaking recently on the subject of unemployment, blamed a great deal of it on the introduction of new machines. This is not a new cause of unemployment, for it was very common in England a hundred years ago, when steam was first coming into its own, but the full force of this cause did not make itself felt again until recent times, more particularly since the war, when inventions have been so numerous.

I need only refer to two or three common examples of the effect of machines on employment to show clearly what I mean. The introduction of the combine-reaper has severly reduced the number of harvest workers required each year for the harvest in Western Canada, the total reduction being estimated at anything up to 20,000 men. The extension of the use of such machines as steam shovels has caused a decrease in the demand for day laborers which cannot be estimated."

Speaking at Regina Mr. Bennett said there should be no unemployment in Canada with the proper fiscal policy. In other words, if Mr. Bennett's tariff policies were put in force unemployment would not exist in this country. Mr. Bennett did not tell why the Untied States, with tariffs higher than those of any other nation, is today suffering greater unemployment than we in Canada have ever experienced. He did not tell why Australia, another example of a country with a high tariff policy, should to-day have an unemployment situation which has reached proportions that have attracted world wide attention.

Employment Statistics.

Figures collected by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics show that for every hundred workers employed in manufacturing industry in Canada in 1926, 113.6 were working on June 1st this year. For every hundred workers employed in the United States in 1926, 87.7 were employed during May this year. Will Mr. Bennett explain how high tariff protection will keep our people working when relatively the United States with extreme tariffs, is so much worse off than we here in Canada? If any one industry in the country benefits by tariff protection it is manufacturing. If manufacturing in the United States gives over 12 per cent less employment this year than it did on the average in 1926, with increasing tariffs to protect it, it is difficult to see how he could expect different results if these high tariff measures were applied to Canada.

The Conservative party offers no program to alleviate the unemployment situation which they blame on the Government, no policy which holds out the slightest hope of any improvement in the employment situation throughout Canada either on a temporary or a permanent basis, except such as might be argued on the basis of the tariff, which must be heavily discounted in view of the experience of the United States which I previously mentioned.

But after talking in a general way of the evils of unemployment—evils which will be readily admitted by any persons who is at all familiar with the workers' problems—Mr. Bennett, speaking in Edmonton on June 14th, stated that he would summon Parliament and that when it meets he would present a program for the immediate relief of unemployment. The serious question that voters must ask themselves is, what is Mr. Bennett's "program for immediate relief of unemployment"? It is not contained in his pledge to increase drastically our tariff, if United States' experience counts for anything. It is not contained in his eight pledges which Mr. Bennett has given to the people of Canada. If Mr. Bennett has a program which will relieve a situation which governments the world over have found themselves baffled with, he should make his program known to the people of Canada, as a patriotic duty, so that this problem might be grappled with immediately.

Did Not Mention It.

Last winter the problem of unemployment was discussed in the House of Commons at considerable length. Mr. Bennett was present in the House and did not even speak during the discussion. If he has a program to relieve unemployment, why did Mr. Bennett not tell Parliament about it during the past session, particularly when the matter was up for consideration. If Mr. Bennett has a policy to relieve unemployment, why did he not include it among his pre-election pledges? If Mr. Bennett has a program, why does he allow unemployed persons to continue to suffer, until the indefinite date when he might find himself in office? These considerations justify one in assuming that Mr. Bennett refrained from discussing unemployment in the House of Commons, that he refrained from mentioning unemployment in the party program, that he now proposes nothing more definite than Parliament, simply because he has nothing concrete or definite to offer to Canada on this important question.

Recalls 1896 and 1921.

If the Conservative policy is to cure unemployment by increases of tariff, Canadians may well judge what hope that policy holds out by casting their minds back to 1896 and 1921. In both of these years trade in Canada was stagnated, and unemployment was rife. Yet, 1896 followed on several years of Conservative Government and high tariff policy, and 1921 followed ten years of Conservative administration. Conservative policies and high tariffs did not prevent the depressions of 1896 and 1921, the latter of which was the most severe depression Canada has ever experienced. Such being the case, the experience of high tariff countries like the United States and Australia being what it is, thinking Canadians will readily see that high tariff is the natural road to unemployment and the distress that follows.

If Mr. Bennett summons Parliament to deal with unemployment, it would be interesting to know what he would propose to do. The falling off in our wheat production last year, the fact that we have not succeeded in selling such wheat as we did grow in 1929, and the effects of the stock market crash have combined to cause much of the unemployment we have to-day Parliament cannot pass a bill which will guarantee a uniform heavy wheat production year after year, regardless of the weather

Parliament's Limitations

Parliament cannot repair the effects of the stock market crash by passing an Act Nor can Parliament stop the invention of new machines, inventions which throw literally thousands out of their old jobs each year, to await other jobs which industry has to develop Nor can Mr. Bennett start public works that will guarantee full time employment to all workers otherwise not engaged at all times.

Financial considerations places some limits on the numbers that may be employed by a government. To exceed that limit means embarassment in public finances which must be relieved later by increased taxes, which, in turn, will surely result in less employment rather than more at a later stage. Of course Conservative administration invariably means increased expenditures and higher taxes; it takes several years of careful Liberal government to bring back to normal the country's finances after a decade of Conservative administration, as has been proven by the work required on the part of the Liberals to overcome the evil effects of Conservative mismanagement during the war and immediately afterwards."

Mr. Ferguson's Surplus.

What works did the Province of Ontario carry out to relieve unemployment?

Responsible Ministers of the Ontario now claim in political speeches that Ontario should receive Federal financial assistance for road building. On the other hand, much capital has been made by the Ontario Government administration of the fact that in the past fiscal year they had a substantial cash surplus in excess of $2,000,000. If roads are needed in Ontario—and they are in the Northern sections particularly—and if "stagnation" alleged to exist by Premier Ferguson does exist, in view of this handsome surplus, why does the Province of Ontario not give the necessary roads, and give the necessary employment, in preference to damaging Canada's reputation by preaching blue ruin? But the relatively generosity of the Conservative Government in Ontario and the Liberal Government of the Dominion may be judged by the handling of Old Age Pensions question. Old Age Pensions are primarily a provincial responsibility, but the Federal government undertook to pay 50 per cent of their cost. The Ontario government, on the other hand, only undertook to pay 30 per cent of the cost, assessing the municipalities for the balance of 20 per cent necessary.

Unemployment Insurance.

Unemployment insurance is a matter that must always be mentioned in connection with any consideration of the general question of unemployment. Those in touch with the situation know that the day must eventually come when the public authorities responsible for the matter will develop a system of insurance against the hazard of unemployment to protect the wages of workmen in dull times. The government has encouraged the House of Commons in studying this matter, with the result that a comprehensive report was adopted by the House in the session of 1929, a report which had the full concurrence of the government. This report, after reciting and agreeing with the opinion of the law officers of the Crown that the matter was a provincial responsibility, stated that the principle was approved and that the matter should be discussed between the dominion and the provinces at a Dominion-Provincial conference. Later the provinces were officially advised of the attitude of Parliament in the matter and they were asked for their views. And here let me mention the attitude of the Prime Minister of this province who now says that there is "stagnation" in the land! He was communicated with regarding unemployment insurance and supplied with the report on that subjected adopted by the House of Commons. He was asked if he would be good enough to forward his views in the matter, it being considered advisable that we should ask this, particularly in view of the suggested Dominion - Provincial conference. Since Mr. Ferguson was asked for his views on the subject he has not yet thought fit to even acknowledge receipt of our communication, and this lack of action on his part must be interpreted as indicating that he has no views on the subject.

Already there are some evidences of improvement in the unemployment situation in Canada. The index number of employment in industries generally throughout the country showed a recovery from 111.4 to 116.5 from May 1 to June 1 that date, with June 1 showing a more favorable situation than they did in any other year back to 1921 with the single exception of June 1, 1929. Wheat is moving more freely and the Western crop outlook for this year is better. The effect of the fall in stock values is gradually disappearing. The Dunning Budget with its sales tax cuts, its encouragement to the iron, steel and coal industries, is bound to have its effect.

In order that no opportunity may be overlooked of stabilizing employment and avoiding insofar as may be possible the temporary depressions which cause misery and suffering, the government is going to call together later this fall, the captains of industry, the leaders of labor, the mayors of our cities, representatives of our provinces and representatives of the Dominion government, to confer on ways and means of stimulating and regularizing employment."

J. J. Duffus

In being called upon to speak J. J. Duffus, Liberal candidate for Peterborough West, expressed his regret at the unavoidable absence of the Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., and W. H. Moore, ex-chairman of the Tariff Advisory Board, who will address a Peterborough audience at some future date.

In stating his policy Mr. Duffus said "I am impelled by one motive—service—and pledge myself if elected—and I feel confident that I will be (applause)—to give the utmost service to every man, woman and child in the constituency. I intend to stand four-square behind the policy of the Right Hon. Mackenzie King," he continued, "and to support the policy of Empire trade and closer contact gith the motherland; furthermore, I will stand behind the Dunning budget."

Mr. Duffus instanced the serious condition which is apparent in Great Britain, adding that in spite of the fact that a Labour Government is in power they have been unable to introduce legislation which will deal with the unemployment question.

"Bennett says further that in order to relieve the situation he is going to push through the completion of the St. Lawrence waterway, although he knows the present administration is carrying on this work as fast as money and conditions will permit." Mr. Duffus pointed out that the Welland Canal will be finished this summer and that the great elevators at Prescott are being rushed to completion. "How does Bennett think to improve the unemployment situation" asked Mr. Duffus. "He knows, as well as any man in Canada that Mackenzie King and his colleagues are doing all that can be done to further this matter and further, that it will be prosecuted as far as possible with their return to power on July 28th."

Arthur Hawkes

"What governments do is really in fulfillment of the genius embedded in the heart and soul of the country and one thing we must do is to get rid of the petty issues and give our decision on a broad and high consciousness of what it means to promote Canadian business and the trade of the British Commonwealth" said Arthur Hawkes in the course of his speech, marked with originality and punctuated with wit and humour.

Mr. Hawkes recalled the fact that the last time he spoke in Peterborough was from the very same platform in the Opera House. "This is the first time I have ever spoken in support of a Liberal candidate in a Federal election" said the speaker, adding "how is it that such a one as I find myself supporting the Mackenzie King government and the candidate you have in this city. If confession is good for the soul I propose if you will allow me, to give my reasons as a person in pretty much the same position as 'Ham' Burnham. He thought that the policy of British Preference would permit sons of Canadian nationality to have increasing power in the British Empire and secondly would preserve the extended Canadian and British channels of commerce on which the prosperity of the Dominion was founded.

"Having always been an advocate of British Preference" he exclaimed. "I don't know if there is any virtue in having said twenty years ago, what other people are saying today."

He thought that the first fruits of the Dunning budget were that it has placed us in a position entirely in accord with Canadian history and the genius which made Canada what it is to-day, placing it in front of the nations of the world.

"The great vice of Canada" the speaker thought, "is that of modesty. If the people of Canada knew how great they are, they would be indefinitely more assertive about it."

Mr. Hawkes continued to speak at length about the pride which the Britons take in tradition. He said there is one thing in which a particular pride is taken and that is that no slave can set foot on English soil. They speak of the freeing of slaves as if that measure was undertaken by England, but that is not so. The speaker continued to explain that such leadership began in Upper Canada, when a law was passed in 1793 by which legislation Canada took the first step on the road to national supremacy among the nations who owe allegiance to His Majesty the King.

Mr. Hawkes touched upon the way in which Canada has risen in status from being a mere colony, and how on July 1st, 1927, for the first time in history, the Governor General of Canada became true regal representative of the King.

There was a genius in this evolution of Canada that put out its antennae and felt that it must be co-operation in economic development become an important part of the British Empire and British Preference as set up in 1897 which has had it's true fruition in the Dunning budget.

drop in direct taxes, they pick up in indirect," he declared. "During the last five years of Mackenzie King administration, there has not been a single cent's reduction in taxation."

Regarding the trans-Canada highway, Mr. Peck pointed out that in 1928, Rt. Hon. Mr. King had discontinued the government contribution of a million dollars a year for highways which a Conservative government had instituted for ten years. The Premier had denied support to the project of filling the gaps remaining in the Halifax-to-Vancouver highway, which would obviate the necessity of the Canadian motorist's detouring into the United States.

Mr. Peck also decried the government's failure to renew the grant to technical education.

"The question now before us is just as important as any question that has ever been before the people of Canada," concluded Mr. Peck. "Mackenzie King has been put in office and he has failed. He has done nothing to relieve unemployment or the depression of business and agriculture. Mr. Bennett offers to remedy the condition. Give him a chance."

Intended to Keep Out

Colonel Charles Ackerman was introduced to the meeting—to speak, he declared, "not as an officer of the Canadian Legion but as a private citizen." He stated that it had been his intention, in view of his position as provincial head of the Legion, to keep out the campaign, but that he felt that Major Power's action in entering the political fight in Ontario had justified his speaking.

Recent ex-service legislation had been entirely non-partisan, he asserted. It had been the result of four years' careful preparation of men well versed in the task.

"I hope that so far as the pensions program goes, no person in the heat of this campaign will attempt to take any kudos upon his party for it," stated Colonel Ackerman.

J. F. Strickland, M.P.P., agreed with Colonel Ackerman when he declared: "The Conservative Party has nothing to be ashamed of in respect to its allegiance to the British Empire." Empire trade must be brought about by inducements to the individual members of the Empire, he asserted; and this was the Conservative policy, despite Liberal allegations to the contrary.

Mr. Strickland scored The Toronto Globe for recent editorials, feeling that they would be of doubtful assistance to the Liberal cause.

Speaking of the "vote-catching budget" as a realization that Liberal policies of nine years had not proved successful, John Corkery, the first speaker, stressed a national unemployment roll of 200,000; depression; an adverse trade balance; and the annual exodus to the United States of Canadian youth on whose education millions had been spent. He decried local business and agricultural conditions, stating that even so they were better than obtained elsewhere in the Dominion. Farm values had decreased, he said, and ten years of immigration had not strengthened Canada's population as had been expected.

"Can Canada in the next nine years stand such a decline as she has experienced in the last nine years?" demanded Mr. Corkery. He stressed the Conservative leader's promise to call a special session of Parliament to deal with unemployment and kindred problems.

Mayor Roland Denne also spoke, stating that there was "something wrong when Canada can't guarantee every working man good pay and a full dinner pail."

Gordon Matthews, who held the chair, outlined local Conservative organization and welcomed constructive criticism.

Descendants of the Late James Pentland Hola Re-union

110 YEARS AGO JAMES PENTLAND CAME TO CANADA

Descendants From All Parts of Canada Gather in Peterborough.

SETTLED IN CAVAN.

Purchased a 100 Acre Farm in 1839 For Sum of $90.00.

A great family reunion was held in Peterborough last week by the descendants of the late James Pentland, who emigrated to Canada from the Emerald Isle in the year 1820, making his home at Kingston, later moving to Millbrook about 1839, to a farm which he purchased at the remarkably low price of $90 for one hundred acres. Incidentally this farm is considered to be one of the best in Cavan township at the present time.

James Pentland, who married a widow, Mrs. Ann Hamilton of Kingston, had three children, James, George and Jane. The former, who died in 1855, was the father of Dr. J. B. Pentland of this city, who along with his sister, Mrs. Fanny Baker of Toronto, is the only survivor out of a family of nine.

George Pentland was a sailor on the Great Lakes, and was never married. He disappeared about the year 1859, and it was presumed that he had been lost at sea.

Jane married Benjamin Chestnut in the year 1834 at Kingston. There were eight children of this union, all of whom are dead. Many descendants of the Chestnut family were present at the reunion, having come from Port Hope, Toronto, Hamilton and this city and district.

Came 2500 Miles.

Others who made up the large family gathering were direct descendants of James Pentland, many of them having travelled from the far West, a distance of some 2500 miles in order to participate in this unique celebration.

Thursday was what might be termed gathering day, when all concerned met at the Exhibition Grounds and spent the day in social intercourse. Pictures of heirlooms still in the possession of the family were the object of much interest and included that of James Pentland's watch, made in 1822, and which is now the prized property of George Pentland, of Fenelon Falls, a charm for the watch chain, which was probably a souvenir given to James when he left his native shores, is in the possession of Mrs. Wm. Baker of Toronto. Other pictures showed a view of the old Pentland home at Kingston, and also a photograph of Jane Pentland and a facsimile copy of James Pentland's signature attached to a deed, in 1837.

Friday was given over to a tour by motor of the old family haunts and included a visit to Port Hope, where the old Chestnut home is situated, and the cemetery where Jane Chestnut is buried. The party had lunch at the first Pentland farm about two and a half miles south of Millbrook, at present occupied by William Bristow, after which they drove to the old farm in Manvers, where the family lived for some years after James Pentland's death, then on to cemetery where his remains are laid to rest. Fourteen cars were needed to transport the party over the route to the scene where their ancestors had lived out their allotted span of life in useful and industrious endeavor, and it was a happy little party which finally drew into Peterborough city late in the evening.

Saturday was "farewell day," when newly - formed friendships were clinched with a hearty and sincere send-off as each family dispersed to take up their usual activities in various parts of the Dominion, after an interlude which will live long in the memory of all concerned.

Some of Those Present.

Included among those who registered at the gathering were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Pentland, Anglia, Saskatchewan; their daughter Ruby, and son Arthur Pentland, M. A., Ph.D., of Kimberly, B.C.; Mrs. Robert Buckingham, Mr. Harry Buckingham, and Mr. James Buckingham, all of Winnipeg; Mrs. William Brown, Headingly, Manitoba; Mrs. George Drayborough and son Keith of Winnipeg; Mrs. Lily Norman, and Miss Elsie Norman of Yorkton, Saskatchewan; Mr. Wilbert Taylor and Miss Murine Taylor of Aberdeen, Saskatchewan; Mr. Wilbert Pentland and son, Bob, of Holland, Manitoba; Mr. Leslie Pentland, Souris, Manitoba; Mr. George Pentland, Rosebank, Manitoba; Mrs. Herbert Baker, Lansing, Michigan; Mrs. Fanny Baker; Mr. and Mrs. Will Best, and their children Dorothy and Burdette; Mrs. Charles Lawrence; Mrs. David Laughlin; Keith Cambden; Miss Isabel McMaster; Miss Dorothy McMaster; Mrs George Emmerson, Miss Dora Emmerson; Miss Annie Chestnut, all of Toronto; Rev. R. Morton; Mrs. Morton and son Lawrence of Alliston; Mr. and Mrs. George E. Pentland and sons Ernest and Percy of Fenelon Falls; Mr. and Mrs. John Jordan and daughter, Mrs. Spicer, all of Campbellford; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crowhurst; Mr. Will Martin; Mrs. Martin and son, Charlie; Mr. and Mrs. Will Chestnut, all of Port Hope; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heard and Miss Ida; Mrs. Dr. Wightman, Mrs. Theodore McWilliams and son Bob; Mrs. Charlotte Killingbeck and her daughter; Mrs. Cecil Gertley and children, Margaret and Arthur; Dr. Joseph Pentland, of this city; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Chestnut, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chestnut of Brooklyn, N. Y., and their two sons, Murray and Howard.

Letters and telegrams expressing regret at their inability to be present were received from Edward J. Pentland, New Westminster, B. C., and Edward Baker, Markdale.

ODDFELLOWS HONOR THE MEMORY OF THEIR DECEASED BRETHREN

Annual Decoration Day is Held at Little Lake Cemetery.

REV. HARTON SPEAKS.

Countless thousands of blossoms flowered in yesterday afternoon's sparkling sunshine as Otonabee Lodge No. 13 and Peterborough Lodge No. 111, of the I.O.O.F., decorated the graves of their dead at the annual Decoration Day observation in the Little Lake cemetery.

"This is not a Decoration Day of Death, but a Decoration Day of Life" declared the Rev. J .L. Harton, of the Park street Baptist Church, speaking at the service held on the plot before the Little Lake Chapel. The founders of the I.O.O.F. had been prompted, by the deeper secrets contained within the teachings of Christ, he believed.

The Rev. Mr. Harton counselled his hearers, whether Oddfellows or not, to keep constantly in mind the I.O.O.F. teachings of friendship, neighbourliness and love. The word "friendship," was one to be turned over and over in thought, he declared, until its full meaning had entered the soul. As for neighbourliness, there was no limit to its meaning. The man who followed the teachings of Christ allowed nothing to circumscribe his conception of the implications contained within the word, "neighbour." Love, Mr. Harton stated, was the mystic power which bound together the hearts of men.

Lay Wreath on Memorial.

The lodges left the I.O.O.F. Hall at 2.30, and proceeded in march formation up George street behind the Salvation Army Band to the Civic War Memorial, on which wreaths were laid as a silent tribute to the heroic dead. Retracings its steps southward, the procession marched to the Little Lake Cemetery.

The service there was opened with the hymn, "Nearer, my God, to Thee," sung by the entire gathering, accompanied by the Salvation Army Band. The Peterborough Male Voice Choir, under the leadership of Martin B. Chenhall, A.R.C.O., sang unaccompanied the psalm, "Unto the Hills."

Prayer was offered by Noble Grand E. H. Bartlett, P.G., P.D.D.G.M., after which the Salvation Army Band was heard in the hymn, "Love Divine." Following Mr. Harton's brief address, the Male Voice Choir sang "Abide with Me." The hymn, "Blest be the Tie that Binds," was sung by the entire gathering.

The Chaplain, J. H. Price, P.G., D.D.G.M., offered prayer and pronounced the benediction. This was followed by a final choir selection, "When We Stand Before the King."

During the playing of "How Firm a Foundation," by the band, the members of the I.O.O.F.scattered throughout the cemetery to lay their floral offerings of remembrance upon the graves of their beloved dead. Gold and blue, the waters of Little Lake danced beside the green plots containing so much of memory and abiding affection. Throngs of people covered the grass in all directions, as if to say that the living would never forget.

The members of the Male Voice Choir repaired to the grave of one of their late members, Walter Northrop, to present their tribute of flower and song.

LEGION HONORS MEN WHO SLEEP IN ST. PETER'S

War Veterans Decorate Graves of Comrades in Monaghan Road Cemetery.

MANY ATTEND.

Sacrifices of Those Who Served Recalled in Fitting Addresses.

"Sleep soldiers! still in honored rest,
Your truth and valor wearing;
The bravest are the tenderest—
The loving are the daring."

Hallowed memories of the sacrifices made in the Great War by the honored legion of the dead were tenderly reawakened at the annual Decoration Day parade held to St. Peter's Cemetery yesterday afternoon by members of the Canadian Legion local branch, which was largely attended by members of the general public and civic officials.

Over the dais erected under the spreading branches of a grove of trees in the "hallowed acre" proudly floated the flag emblematic of the great Empire for which these men paid the supreme sacrifice. Grouped around the platform were the members of the Canadian Legion, with their president, Captain Jamess Abraham, and Standard-bearer Comrade A. Gash, the bandsmen of the Peterborough Rangers Regiment, and a large concourse of people, many of whom were in deep mourning, suggesting that the day held special significance for them also.

The gathering was addressed by Rev. Captain Paul Costello, Dominion Chaplain of the Canadian Legion; Captain James Abraham, His Worship Mayor Roland Denne, E. A. Peck, ex-M.P. and J J. Duffus.

Marching from the Canadian Legion Hall the parade was headed by the standard-bearer and the Rangers Band, in the rear of which came the ex-service men and a long procession of automobiles.

At the service in the cemetery the band, under Lieut. Peryer, rendered a program of sacred music which included the hymns, "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "Meditation." The Last Post and Reveille was sounded by Lieut. Peryer.

Included among the ex-service men was a special detachment from Peterborough Fire Department under Comrade T. Hatley.

Captain J. Abraham.

"The outstanding feature of this parade is to keep green the memories of those who are left behind on the battlefields of Europe, stated Captain J. Abraham. The Legion has lots of work to do and the accomplishments of the Canadian Legion in the latest amendments at Ottawa are going a long way to aid the problems of the returned men. However, despite the many new steps taken there is still much to be done, and every returned man should be willing to turn in and help, and carry on, serve in every possible way.

Mayor Denne.

"There is plenty of work to do, and it is up to all of us to do our bit," said Mayor Roland Denne. We are here to-day to decorate the graves of those who have fallen, given their lives in the supreme sacrifice for their country—a small token, a gesture in honor of that sacrifice on our parts.

The Canadian Legion has helped to make the city what it is to-day, and every bit of co-operation from the ex-soldiers and men of the city is needed. Peterborough is in a slight depression to-day, but it will come out of it—it has in the past, and it will again.

Mayor Denne congratulated the Legion on the fine work it has done and is doing, and made a strong plea for all to get in behind and help the dependents of those who have gone before. "We owe it to them and it is our duty. I will do my part and the City Council will do its part, and the Legion is and has been right along doing its splendid work. It is not those who are sitting around that are accomplishing anything but those who are around acting and that's what is needed—action not delay, for there was none when it came to make that sacrifice that so many of our boys did in France."

E. A. Peck, ex-M.P.

"We all recognize the importance of service in community life," said E. A. Peck, ex-M.P., "and we are here to do honor to those who fell on the battlefields over yonder—what higher service than that is there? It is our desire and should be for every one of the citizens to do their little bit for those left dependent by the boys who 'paid.' In placing these tokens on the graves of the fallen, we are making but a small expression of the tribute that is felt.

There is a distinct class of citizens, and they are those who are sleeping in France to-day—most all of us did our little bit, but they did more than the ordinary citizen for Canada and the Empire, and I sincerely hope that it will be many years before this touching ceremony is discontinued."

J. J. Duffus.

"We do well to keep green the memories of the sacrifices the men who fell made on behalf of Canada and the Mother Country," stated J. J. Duffus. "No finer body of men went forward nor had any a greater spirit of loyalty to the Empire. They covered themselves with unfading laurels—the shock troops of the British Empire, and nothing has done more to cement the feelings of Canada and Great Britain. In small part for that great service of those who we are here paying tribute to to-day we should all help to aid those left dependent."

Rev. Paul Costello.

Rev. Captain Paul Costello stated that there could not be enough done for those left behind. "There are many who think that the man overseas indulged in pleasures and dissipation, but that is not so; they all drank the cup of terror and horror, and so it is that anything we do is not too much for their dependents. The occasion carries with it a note of sadness when we remember that 60,000 stalwart Canadians, the pick of the Dominion, lie in France, and since then another 12,000 have passed Beyond.

Rev. Costello stated that it was a mark of public sympathy and showed the feeling behind the Legion to see so many attending the ceremony.

Decoration of the graves followed a Meditation by the band and the Reveille.

Those whose graves were decorated are:

Pte. John Gorman, Sapper John Mahoney, Pte. Norman Peters, Pte. P. Burke, Pte. David Wheeler, Driver J. McCarthy, Pte. Pat Hanlon, Pte. J. Scully, Gunner V. Grady, G. Tucker, R. Oshawa Arabs Winning Streak Stopped at Seven Games

RAYS' PLAY HEADS-UP BALL TO HALT ARABS' VICTORIES AND BOOST FLAG CHANCES

Smart Fielding Turns Back Oshawa With But Three Hits.

RAYS 5, OSHAWA 0.

Winners Collect Hits in Clusters to Bring Winning Results.

Oshawa Arab's string of straight wins in the Lakeshore League was soundly stopped at seven by the Raybestos ball team, when the Rays on Saturday afternoon at Exhibition Park defeated the circuit leaders by a cool 5 runs to 0. The victory for the Rays boosts their stock much higher, not only bringing them closer to the Arabs in the team standing but also indicating that the Brakeliners will have an even chance of winning the championship when they meet Hank Cohen's hopefuls in the playdowns. Further the victory evens the series with Oshawa, each having defeated the other twice. The locals are one game behind the Arabs now.

The Rays encountered little difficulty in turning the trick on Saturday. The Arabs appeared to be a chastened nine after the first few innings, when they found that all their clouts were being handled in big league style by the Rays' fielders. While the losers hit the ball hard and often during the first part of the game they could could not get it past the Rays' defence. Their hits were limited to a meagre three and they never succeeded in getting a runner past second base.

Hits in Bunches

On the other hand the winners gathered hits in clusters, going several innings without any and then suddenly breaking forth with the willow to bring results. Nine hits were the Rays portion, Rus Kitchen and Jimmy Hall leading the way with two apiece. It was Al Heckman's double in the second innings that started the Rays on their path to victory.

Kitchen worked on the rubber for the Rays. At the start off the Arabs warmed to his delivery but he improved with work and toward the end was going along smoothly. He whiffed seven batters and allowed but one walk.

Gower, a hard-working left hander, started for Oshawa and he lasted until the sixth when he gave way to Knox, a youngster with a burst of speed but still comparatively fresh at the pitching game. Gower used a fast-breaking curve as his best device and he bothered the Rays considerably until his arm weakened.

Heckman's Starting Hit

As stated before Al Heckman, who covered first sack faultlessly for the winners, shoved the Rays off on the right foot in the second innings, when he crashed out a double into centre field. Hope followed him with a bunt down the third base line and both runners were safe. After Mein had struck out and Rogers had raised a foul which Gower took, Kitchen came through with a smart rap through second that scored both Heckman and Hope. Hall followed with another single, but Nicholls fanned to make the third out.

Again in the fifth the Rays returned to add two more to their score. First up, Kitchen nailed the horsehide for a single and went to second on a wild pitch. Hall rapped a single down the third base line, reaching second while Kitchen halted at third. Nicholls filed out, but Moore scored both runners on a single back of short. He was out at second on Hillier's grounder to second. Heckman was walked and Hope was thrown out on a fly to third.

The other run came in the eighth. With one out, Mein singled into centre field and went to second on a balk by Knox. Rogers walked. Kitchen rapped a grounder at Gummow, who forced out Rogers and then threw wild to first in an attempt at a double play. Mein scored on the throw. Hall made the third out on a roller to third.

Al Heckman acted as a steadying influence on the Raya' infield and all played smart ball. Hall in left field turned in some of the fielding features and Hillier polished off several hot ones in faultless fashion at short.

Box score.

Oshawa Vs. Campbellford In Lacrosse League Game

CAMPBELLFORD, July 7. — (By Examiner Staff Correspondent.)—Playing in the Intermediate group, O. A.L.A., Campbellford will clash with the Oshawa squad here on Wednesday afternoon, July 9th, in a lacrosse league fixture. This is expected to be a closely contested game, as Campbellford held Oshawa down to a score of 2-1 on ther own ground on July 25th, and since that time have been perfecting themselves on the practice field. The line-up has also been strengthened by the addition of Fox, Sanders, H. Ingram and F. Ingram, and this should make a formidable front for the visitong team to face.

Campbellford are also scheduled to play Millbrook in a league game on Monday, July 7th at Millbrook. This should be an easy win if the Campbellford boys are playing up to form.

Forward Pass Again Topic for Much Discussion at C.F.U.R.C. Meeting

TORONTO, July 6. — Meeting here on Saturday, the Canadian Football Union Rules Commission wrote into the records rules and regulations governing the forward pass, and stepped along smartly in the proper direction regarding the use of this play. Hereafter it will be possible for the attacking team to use this pass with effect, and not, as formerly, as a means of handing the ball to the opposition. The Canadian Union had voted to eliminate the play at the annual meeting of the Rules Commission, but Western Canada officials rose up to disagree, and it was also hinted that the Ontario Union might give the pass another chance, in the event that new rules were formulated. So now it is strictly up to the various leagues and unions to make their own decisions. If they want the pass, they can have it, but it will not be forced on any of them until such time as it has received the trial that its sponsors claim it merits. Last year it was not possible to do this, with only juniors in the East and seniors and juniors in the West using the play. There was much confusion, and opposition arose, the contention being that Canadian football was good enough without having to legislate the pass into the constitution. There is little doubt but taht the forward pahsh is a er rd-pleaser, and had rules similar to those in the United States been used last fall there might have been no need for the Commissioners to take the action they did at the annual gathering.

TORONTO CLUB SPLITS WEEK-END GAMES

SENATORS PACE WITH ATHLETICS

Take Fourth in Row From Yankees—Athletics Beat Red Sox.

BROWNS BLANKED 7-0.

BOSTON, Mass., July 7.—The Athletics made it three out of four in the current series by defeating the Red Sox, 4 to 3, here yesterday at Braves' Field.

What proved to be the winning run was scored in the ninth inning on the combination of Cochrane's walk, Simmons' single, and a force play at second. Webb, for the Red Sox, and Dykes for Philadelphia, each hit home runs.

Philadelphia	011000011—4 10 2
Boston	001001001—3 9 0

Earnshaw and Cochrane; McFayden and Heving.

SHIRES DRIVES IN WINNING RUNS.

WASHINGTON, July 7—Art Shires, pinch-hitting for Spencer, singled in the tenth inning with three Senators aboard and Washington made it four in a row from New York by taking the final game of the series yesterday on the long end of a 3-2 score.

Although Spencer had won the game for the Senators Saturday on a single in the ninth, Manager Johnson pulled him out yesterday for the newcomer, Shires. Judge had beat out a hit, West and Bluege were walked, before Shires singled to centre.

Washington	1000000002—3 5 0

Sherid, Johnson and Dickey; Hadley and Spencer.

HOYT HARD TO HIT.

CHICAGO, July 7.—Waite Hoyt had seven hits waiting for the White Sox yesterday, and after a listless afternoon Detroit walked away with a 5 to 2 ball game. It was the opener of a five-game series and attended by 6,500 people.

Draxton started out for the Hose, but in the fourth he was relieved by McKain, who allowed but one hit the rest of the game. Stone hit a home run in the fourth inning.

Detroit	002300000—5 9 2
Chicago	000000002—2 7 2

Hoyt and Hayworth; Braxton, McKain and Tate.

BROWNS BLANKED 7-0.

CLEVELAND, July 7.—The Cleveland Indians yesterday batted out a 7-0 victory over St. Louis in the opener of a four-game series. The Tribe sewed the game up in the fifth on three singles, a walk and an error and forced the retirement of Gray. Averill, Cleveland centrefielder, drove in a home run.

St. Louis	000000000—0 7 1
Cleveland	01003120x—7 11 0

Gray, Kimsey and Ferrell; Brown and Myatt.

BROOKLYN CLUB IN TOP PLACE; REDS BEAT CUBS

Double Defeat For Chicago Sends Club Into Second Position.

PAIR FOR CARDINALS.

Ike Boone Makes Debut as Robins Subdue Boston Braves 10-4.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 7. — The Cubs fell back into second place in the National League race yesterday by dropping both games of a double-header to the Cincinnati Reds, 5 to 4 and 8 to 7. The Brooklyn Dodgers, by virtue of a triumph over Boston, eased back into the lead by the margin of a few percentage points, since they have played fewer games than the Cubs.

First game:

Chicago	000112000—4 10 1
Cincinnati	011000003—5 11 0

Blake and Hartnett; Frey and Sukeforth.

Second game:

Chicago	000100420—7 11 1
Cincinnati	04100201x—8 10 0

Bush, Sealey, Nelson and J. Taylor; Rixey, Benton, Johnston, and Sukeforth, Styles.

BOONE MAKES STARRY DEBUT.

BROOKLYN, July 7. — Ike Boone made his debut with the Brooklyn Robins against the Boston Braves yesterday and starred, as the Robins pounded out a 10 to 4 victory. Boone hit a single and a home run in the first inning and he caught Walter Berger's bid for a home run, and held on to the ball as he fell head first into the left-field bleachers.

Boston	101200000— 4 8 1
Brooklyn	21201022x—10 18 1

Selbold and Cronin; Elliott and Lopez.

GIANTS DEFEAT PHILLIES.

NEW YORK, July 7. — The Giants took a double-header from the Phillies by scores of 10 to 8 and 6 to 2. Pete Donohue, who hurled the second game, settled down after a poor start and held the Phillies in check, while the Giants hit Willoughby at opportune moments. Lindstrom and Leach both hit home runs, the latter coming with a man on base.

First game:

Philadelphia	010101005— 8 12 1
New York	02012131x—10 17 2

Second game:

Philadelphia	200000000—2 6 3
New York	10300200x—6 12 0

Elliott, Willoughby and McCurdy; Davis, Donohue and Hogan.

CARDS WIN PAIR.

ST. LOUIS, July 7. — The Cardinals defeated Pittsburg in both ends of a double-header yesterday, although they made only two hits in one of the games. The scores were 2 to 1 and 12 to 4.

First game:

Pittsburg	000100000—1 7 1
St. Louis	0010[illegible]001—2 2 0

Spencer and Hemsle ; Haines and Wilson.

Second game:

Pittsburg	101010100— 4 12 4
St. Louis	10210305x—12 15 2

Brame, Chagnon and Bool; Grimes and Mancuso.

BENNETT CLOSES MARITIME TOUR

Calls on Premier King to Repudiate Back Door Canvass.

DEPLORES MONEY PROMISES

(By Thomas Green

Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., July 7. Closing a whirlwind campaign tour of Prince Edward Island, Hon. R. B. Bennett on Saturday called upon Premier King to repudiate "back door canvasses" regarding the treatment to be accorded ex-service men. Again the Conservative chieftain in a trenchant attack criticized the course of the Liberal administration on the Duncan report on Maritime rights. "A back door canvass," Mr. Bennett exclaimed, "is being made by one of the Liberal candidates on this island among the families of soldiers who fought overseas. Give me, he says, a letter, sign a paper, and I will send it to Mackenzie King and see that you get $2,000. Men and women, if that sort of canvass continues to be made on you by any candidate, show him the door. He is no friend of Canada or the families of returned men, who does that sort of thing. "The Opposition leader proceeded, "When I heard of a Liberal candidate doing that I made up my mind that Canada could hear of it. I call upon the Prime Minister of the country to repudiate canvasses of this nature. It is not decent that it be done."

Discreditable Canvass

Continuing, Mr. Bennett declared he wished again to deprecate the bringing into politics of matters affecting "those who fought for us and their dependents" the subject was above the realm of politics, he warmly remarked, and canvass of returned soldiers on the basis of benefits to be received was "discreditable."

Mr. Bennett asserted 75 per cent. of returned men in the Commons sat on the Conservative side of the chamber, and in their hands the treatment of returned soldiers could be safely placed. He recalled, Mr. Bennett said, asking two sessions ago that the benefit of the doubt be given to ex-service men on pension applications, but the Government had refused and he was compelled to introduce an amendment to this effect which was voted down by the Government and accepted this year. All parties in the Commons last season, the Dominion leader emphasized, had unanimously supported the returned soldier legislation which was enacted as the unanimous report of a committee of all groups in the House.

SHEEDY'S TRIPLE IN THE 11TH GIVES LEAFS 5-4 VICTORY IN WEEK-END TUSSLE WITH ORIOLES

Birds Stage Two Count Rally in Ninth to Tie the Score.

Red Wings Take 3-2 Decision From Leafs on Saturday Afternoon.

BALTIMORE, July 7—Extra innings were required yesterday afternoon for the Leafs and Orioles to decide their one-game series, Toronto winning after eleven sessions, 5 to 4. The Leafs went into the ninth inning leading 4 to 4, but the Birds staged a rally to tie the count after two were down and none on the bases. Richardson walked in the eleventh, and Clayton Sheedy sent him across with a lusty triple to right.

Up to the ninth Frank Barnes hurled splendidly, being very effective and not passing a batter. Page, who relieved him in this frame, completely baffled the Orioles, turning them back in order in the tenth and eleventh.

The Orioles used Roy Werts, Coumbe and Edwards in a vain effort to land the game. Roy, who allowed a pinch-hitter to bat for him in the eighth, showed the best form.

Joe Rabbitt covered himself with dust and glory as the game got under way. He singled sharply to right on the first ball Roy pitched and took second as Richardson grounded to Hauser. Ruble was issued a ticket. Just as Harris hit a feeble grounder to Roy, Rabbitt legged it for third, and as Roy tossed to first and retired Harris, Rabbitt rounded third and dashed for home, reaching it by an exhibition for fine sprinting. Burke hoisted to Solters for the third out. Barnes retired the Birds in order in their half of the first.

WINGS RALLY TO WIN

ROCHESTER, July 16—Strategy frolicked through the grounds in heavy measure in the ninth inning Saturday afternoon, as the Rochester Red Wings pounded out three runs and defeated the Toronto Leafs 3 to 2 as a fitting climax for a most exciting afternoon of baseball. The strategy system found Billy Southword the victor over Steve O'Neil, as Howard Williamson doubled as a pinch-hitter to send home two runs and win the game, once well considered last by many of the fans, a large number of the crowd of close to 6,000 being on the way home when the Wings put on their smashing attack.

Nick Harrison was on the mound for the Leafs. He was effective for a full eight innings, during which the Wings packed away for only four hits. The Wings had a man on third base in the first, another in the fifth and one in the sixth, but two of them were stranded and one, Paul Florence, was caught between third and home as he tried to score on Anderdeson's dinky roller to Harrison. That was the limit for the Wings until the ninth.

SCOTS WHACKED BY ELECTRICS IN SOCCER TIE

SCORE 9 TO 2.

Caledonians Failed to Show Any Opposition Against an Invincible Eleven.

With an entirely different team that did duty on Wednesday evening, the Canadian General trotted a bunch of players that obliterated the Caledonians from the Phelan Charity Cup on Saturday afternoon, to the tune of nine goals to two, before a good attendance.

First Half

The opening exchanges were interesting until the break away by the Canadian General right wing caused the Scots' defense to be in a mix-up. The ball travelled across to perfection to the waiting centreman—B. McMaster—who sent in a first timer that completely got the custodian unaware of the shot. Occasional visits by the Scots never became dangerous owing to the close tackling by the half-back line of the C.G.E. Whenever they did get the chance to count, they missed the mark by shooting wildly. After ten minutes play, the Scots full backs permitted the C.G.E. right wing to penetrate inside the goal area. This allowed the rest of the forwards to be ready for the centre that Stan Keill shot across. It was headed over to the left by a Scot, Jack McMaster met it with a right foot lobb into the far corner of the net from the custodian. Five minutes later, he repeated the same performance to get the third counter. It was evident that the C.G.E. were put to make amends for the trouncing they received on Wednesday evening. At this point, the Scots were at sixes and sevens, owing to the accustomed positions of the players that could not get away from business. Cook, Emery and T. Craig being compelled to attend to business and the substitues filling in the gap. Individual tactics carried the attack against the Caleys when Quinn dribbled his way through the defence; he made a feint move that took the opposition by surprise, thereby giving the chance to beat Ward from close range. With only a short spasm to go in the first half, Robb concentrated in shooting the ball up the centre to B. McMaster, whose solo effort finished when he put his brother Jack in possession with only the custodian to beat. He went right in to send a low grounder along the ground that the goalie failed to hold, and registering six goals to nothing at the interval.

C.G.E. 6, Caledonians 0.

Second Half

A re-arranged team faced the Electric Boys in the next period. The Scots players being changed into a more favorable position that they were acquainted with. Pottie falling back to replace Agnew on the full back division when he occupied the former's place. Give and take play held sway for a while until Dan Curtain reduced the lead by a clever piece of maneuvring inside the goal territory. No sooner had this taken place when Keill tore along the wing to the other end. The defence tried to stop his progress, but it was too late before they realized the danger, as Jack McMaster took the measure of the Scots' custodian from close range. All interest in the play fell away considerably when Darling added two more to make the count stand at nine to one. But to show his worth, Curtain got the better of the argument against the C.G.E. defense just before the final whistle. As a matter of fact, the C.G.E. overwhelmed the Scots in every department. Canadian General 9, Caledonians 2.

Goal scorers—J. McMaster 4, B. McMaster 2, Darling 2, and Quinn, for C.G.E. Caledonians, D. Curtain 2.

Caledonians—J. Ward, goal; S. Agnew and A. Bogie, full backs; D. Best, J. Pottie and R. Clyde, halves; W. McCracken, D. Millar, D. Curtain, T. Williams and A. B. Coyle, forwards.

Evidence of Baseball Trades Seen In Duel Between Senators and Macks

A large part of the first half of the major league baseball season has been spent in strenuous efforts on the parts of various managers to strengthen their clubs for the latter part of the year, and the success of their efforts is quite evident in the current standings of the clubs.

Washington's big deals with the St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox turned out to be important factors in making the American League campaign a duel between the Senators and the Philadelphia Athletics. The acquisition of Heinie Manush gave them some batting punch where it was needed, while Al Crowder has turned out to be an effective pitcher in Washington. Art Shires and Dave Harris, formerly of Chicago, also have helped improve the Senators' batting average.

The result is that the Senators and the Athletics to-day are tied for the league lead, although the deadlock may not last long in the quick shifts of the standing brought about by the fact that Philadelphia has played more games It was Shires who brought about the tie, coming through with a pinch single with the bases full in the tenth inning to beat the New York Yankees 3 to 2.

Washington now has won 15 out of 16 games, shoving the Yanks 5½ games into third place by sweeping the series, and by pitching all of yesterday's game, "Bump" Hadley made it 14 out of 16 pitchers who have finished the games they started.

BILL TILDEN WINS WIMBLEDON FINAL

Mrs. Moody and Miss Ryan Take Women's Doubles Title.

WIMBLEDON, England, July 7.—Wimbledon's tennis fans will reassemble to-day for one match—the all-United States struggle for men's doubles championships.

This battle will pit Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryan against George Lott and Johnny Doeg.

Originaly the championships were to have closed Saturday, but Allison upset the arrangements by reaching the final round of singles, where he was beaten in straight sets Saturday by Bill Tilden, 9-3, 9-7, 6-4. The doubles were postponed until Monday to avoid the necessity of Allison playing two hard final-round matches in one day.

Another for Mrs. Moody

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, who won the women's singles crown for the four consecutive time, by beating Elizabeth Ryan, paired with Miss Ryan to win the women's doubles by defeating Sarah Palfrey and Edith Cross, 6-2, 9-7. Miss Ryan then paired with Jack Crawford, Australia, to win the mixed doubles championship, 6-1, 6-3, from the Germans Daniel Prenn and K CC lein Krahwinkel.

Tilden's tremendous speed from service served him well. In long games Allison was fighting to save his service, while Tilden's smashing service aces always were in reserve to be unloosed in the moment of crisis. Allison's speed at times was more marvelous than Tilden's. From his almost frail physique he drew shots that left his tall opponent standing.

In the second set the Texan made his greatest fight and clear to deuce ten games went on service, four of them from Tilden's racquet were love games, an indication of the value of Big Bill's cannon-ball delivery. Then Allison, at the critical moment, was penalized for foot-faulting, and this momentary lull relieved the tension of the Texan's defenses just long enough for Tilden to pierce them. The third set saw Tilden calling the turn and Allison responding magnifently, but Tilden's rush to victory could not be stopped.

WIN TENNIS TITLE

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 7. (C.P.) John Van Ryan and Wilmer Allison, young American tennis stars, won the British men's doubles championship to-day for the second successive year, beating their countrymen, John Doeg and George Lott, in straight sets in the final.

"Wara Wara," the national motion picture being shown in Bolivia after three years of production, is said already to have made a profit.

ANNUAL PICNIC MUCH ENJOYED

Sunday School Members of St. James United Church Hold Jolly Outing.

AT HARWOOD POINT.

(Contributed.)

Great was the bustle and excitement about George Street Wharf as the folk, both young and old, made ready to embark on the annual Sunday school picnic of St. James' United Church on Saturday afternoon. Lunch baskets, baby carriages and cardboard boxes littered the cabin of the Stoney Lake in wildest profusion, while the boys and girls in summer attire crowded the rail on deck.

All went well as far as Harwood, where the picnic was held, though a little drizzle of rain came up out of the west. The boat docked at a few minutes to five and everyone hurried on shore to find a comfortable place to eat, and in a short time the entire landscape in the immediate vicinity of the wharf was literally covered with gay kiddies and smiling people of almost every age.

Lunch was finally finished and with many exclamations and looks of surprise, those who had partaken rather heavily, awkwardly managed to gain their feet.

The races were run off in great style on the only available stretch of land which could be found. The men and boys ran their races under the admiring glances of the ladies and girls. One of the contestants in the married men's race must have become somewhat embarrassed, for he hesitated right near the finishing tape and began to dig a hole in the sand with both knees of his trousers.

The ladies also showed unlooked for fleetness of foot and the onlookers, fearful lest they might be run down, beat a hasty retreat and left the runners a clear track.

An unofficial race in which all members of both sexes participated was staged, when a tiny cloud suddenly decided to pour forth its contribution of liquid refreshment at about 5.45. The goal in that race was the boat and shelter. Everyone re-embarked at 6.15 and the homeward journey was begun.

The sports committee took up a position amidships and with a large crowd gathered about them, proceeded with the distribution of prizes.

The boat docked at George Street Wharf at 9.30, and everyone made his way home, tired but happy.

POLLYANNA IS WELL RECEIVED BY AUDIENCE

Plays Presented Annually on Chautauqua Provides Excellent Entertainment.

By Martin Erwin Players.

Sue Hastings' Marionettes Feature Saturday Afternoon's Program.

Pollyanna and the famous "Glad Game" provided the bill of fare of entertainment at the Chautauqua tent on Saturday evening. There was a good attendance and the bright 3-act comedy drama that was dramatized from Eleanor Porter's noted novel "Pollyanna," was watched and listened to with manifest appreciation by a very much entertained audience.

The plays presented annually on Chautauqua programs invariably provide excellent entertainment and this year's offerings have proved to be exceptionally good. The cast was splendid, with Sylvia Meredith in the stellar role, playing the part of Pollyanna herself with a great deal of histrionic ability and a spontaneous enthusiasm that put it over in large style.

The part of Pollyanna's aunt, Miss Polly Harrington, was taken splendidly by Adeline Wycoff, while the role of Nancy, the good looking Irish maid, was adequately portrayed by Peggy Gearish.

In the masculine roles, Cyril Duckworth, with a notably attractive voice, scored as John Pendelton, the old grouch of the first acts, and the cheerful philanthropist of the last scenes, after Pollyanna and her magic formula have been at work on him.

Charles Gearish was Dr. Chilton, the friend of Pendleton, who had been in love with Miss Polly for many years, but was prevented from marrying her by an old family feud. He was very real in the part, doing the friendly family physician act to perfection.

Donald Sommers did some very fine character work in the role of Mr. Carroll, the neighboring and inquisitive visitor, who is characterized by Pollyanna as Mr. Ladies' Aider," after she discovers his interest in foreign mission work. He also doubled as Bleeker, the butler. William Athe was Jimmy Bean, the nice-looking lad who comes in as a homeless orphan in search of a family and makes for himself a fine home with Mr. Pendleton. A very surprised-looking cat, along with a tiny cuddlesome kitten and a mischievous little dog, were the animal actors, "Sodom and Gomorrah," of the production.".

Pollyanna and her incurable optimism, dominate the play, which centres about the glad game and its unfolding. Pollyanna has been taught that there is some element in every situation, no matter how sorrowful or tragic, that may be turned into gladness. The Scripture enjoins on its readers, no less than eight hundred times, she declares, the command to "be glad," so she goes ahead and inoculates her soured aunt, the forlorn Jimmy, and the old grouch himself, Mr. Pendleton, with the virus of gladness. Eventually the play works out to a very glad conclusion, with everybody sentimental and smiling. It was well done, with very fine staging, considering the limitations of the Chautauqua platform, and excellent costuming.

This play, like the preceding one last week, was presented by the Martin Erwin Players.

Afternoon Program.

The program of the afternoon, designed mainly for the children, had a large attendance of juniors and adults alike, who enjoyed to the full the whimsical entertainment provided by Sue Hastings' Marionettes, a group of extraordinarily lifelike little dolls, who sang and danced and cut up generally, for the benefit of their audience.

They were manipulated by dozens of tiny strings, cleverly jerked at the right moment by the skilful hands of Miss Sylvia Meredith, who was in charge of the clever little show, assisted by several willing hands and voices back stage, because the little folks talk as well as act, and provided plenty of amusement in this way as well.

The Marionette program opened with a three act Peter Rabbitt show, in which the well known cotton-tail and his family caper in cunning fashion, along with Miss Mouse. Then came Sue Hastings' Puppet Follies, a miniature musical show with song and dance numbers, a pickaninny selection and bits by Raggedy Ann and Andy, pressed into service in the puppet show.

The Gooseberry Mandarin was a Chinese fantasy designed for the edification of the grown-ups. Two minature people riding tandem, in the style of 1900, displayed the first pair of bloomers in that giddy decade.

Then came Katisha, from the first Chauve Souris brought to America, and then two comical clowns, Sneese and Wheeze, doing a clog dance much to the entertainment of the juniors and seniors in the audience.

To-night, this year's Chautauqua series concludes with "An Evening in Hawaii," presented by Vierra's Hawaiians, described as a very clever and beautiful musical production.

SOCCER MEETING TO-NIGHT.

After Years of Darkness

Thirty years after being stricken blind on his honeymoon, J. F. Fish, of Chicago, has had his sight restored to him. The appearance of motor cars, radio sets, and aeroplanes amazed him, but seeing the wife who has been his guide and companion for three dark decades, gave him the greatest pleasure of all. Mr. Fish is shown being congratulated by members of the staff of the business college, which he built up and operated with his wife's help.

JORDAN OF NEWARK LEADING BATSMAN

Orioles and Red Wings Continue to Set Fast Pace in International.

NEW YORK, July 7. — Rochester and Baltimore, the leading contenders for the top of the International League standing are becoming more and more the only serious contenders for slugging honors in the circuit. The Orioles and the Red Wings have almost a monopoly on long-distance clouting and are far ahead of all rivals in placing men on the list of individual hitting stars.

The averages just released, which include Wednesday's games, show four Rochester batters and two Orioles among the first ten, although the honor of leading the pack still belongs to Baxter Jordan of Newark and team batting honors still remain in the hands of the Buffalo Bisons.

Jordan has held his average up to the even .400 mark to show the way to his batting rivals. Pepper Martin of Rochester is second, with a .396 mark, and behind him come Head, Montreal, .380; Scott, Reading, .371; Southworth, Rochester, .370; Tucker, Buffalo, .367; Stroner, Baltimore, .366; McGowan, Baltimore, .359; and Collins, Rochester, .357.

Joe Hauser, of Baltimore and Jim Collins of Rochester, lead in dividing the slugging honors between the two teams. Hauser tops the scoring column with 78 runs and Collins is second at 75. They also run one-two in home run hitting Hauser with 25 and Collins with 20. Collins holds first place in triples with 14 and in runs batted in with 82, while Hauser has been responsible for 80 tallies.

McGowan of Baltimore has made the most hits, 110, and also leads in doubles with 24, two more than his teammate, Gill. Thomas of Buffalo, breaks the monopoly at this point, coming in second with 109 hits and 11 triples.

Montreal tops the league in two respects, due to the efforts of Hinkey Haines and Roy Buckalew. Haines has stolen 19 bases, five more than Stevens of Newark, while Buckalew leads the league's pitchers with a record of nine straight victories. Carlisle Littlejohn of Rochester, has won four in succession, while Stuart Bolen of Baltimore is third with 11 victories and two defeats.

Converted Record Ship

A. E. Barret, instructor for National Aircraft, Toronto, who converted the City of Chicago, the Hunter brothers' endurance record aeroplane, from a standard model into a refueller. He is a skilled wing builder and engine installer. He will supervise the mechanical preparation of a similar plane for a shot at the new record, to be made in Toronto, Canada.

Rosenberg Asks Bonus To Play With Giants

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7. — Graduated to the big leagues after only three months in professional baseball, Harry Rosenberg, San Francisco Missions outfielder, sold last week to the New York Giants, refused to report until assured of a part of his purchase price.

The 21-year-old player had been instructed to leave to-day to join the Giants in Philadelphia next Thursday. Rosenberg demands a $5000 bonus and says he does not care who pays it.

Wade Killefer, president of the Coast League club, said he had advised McGraw, Giants' manager. Killefer added the Missions will not pay any part of the bonus.

FOUR U. S. YACHTS IN TEST TRIALS

Series Held to Pick American Opponent of Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock.

NEWPORT, R.I., July 7. (C.P.)—Four of the finest racing crafts ever launched were to go to the starting line shortly before noon to-day to compete for the honor of defending the greatest of all yachting trophies, the America's cup. They were Whirl-Wind, Weetamoe and Enterprise of New York, and the Yankee of Boston.

The race was to open two-week observation series to be followed next month by a ten-day series. Through the two series the selection committee will decide which boat shall meet Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock V next September. No race committee has ever had a greater responsibility, for the four boats represent an outlay of approximately $3,000,000. With the selection of the defender the value of the other three will dwindle amazingly.

Voice of the People

A CHALLENGE.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—If I could get hold of the scavengers who whisper slanders about my political integrity I would deal with them otherwise, but as they take care to keep on whispering, so I suppose that I shall not hear them I am at a disadvantage, and must ask your help. It must be plain to anybody that if the evidence of my perfidy existed and could be produced, it would wipe me and my efforts of the slate. But it is not produced because it cannot be produced. For example, it was charged during the last Federal campaign that I offered to support Mr. Peck, but my offer not being accepted I opposed him. The truth is that I did offer to support him until Meighen came out with his anti-British policy, when I wrote Mr Peck that I was sorry but I could not support him as a supporter of Meighen. I have no doubt the same thing might have happened at this time also for I am very friendly with Mr. Bennett but when Mr. Bennett became anti-Empire I had to drop him. If I had written to Mr. Peck before that what would have been wrong about my changing when Bennett changed? I would have been crooked not to have done it. Conservatives and Liberals both subscribe to my Empire League Fund. Nothing wrong about that is there? Just let me say one word more. No gentleman would repeat a statement which he is afraid to back up.

I may say that at no time is any money received by me or arranged by me in this connection for any other purpose than to pay expenses as of printing, conveyances to outside meetings, hotel bills, etc., etc., for I cannot do the research work and writing or speaking and pay all the expenses, too. For my opinions, I receive nothing. They are not for sale. It is an old trick to try to discredit a man even in a good cause when you cannot answer him and is probably to be expected. Nor did I ever act for both sides and take pay from both sides.

It was probably too much to expect of them to think of charging me with being a disappointed job-hunter or office-seeker, but it is serious oversight.

J. H BURNHAM.

After travelling from Long Beach, Calif, alone, Miss Mary Mercer Wilson, eighty years old, whose father, the late William Mercer Wilson, was first grand master of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Canada, is in Toronto for the Grand Lodge meeting, about July 16.

TRAMPLING ART FOR PROFITS

FOR all its virtues, modern industrialism can run amuck under the spur of greed for profits. Witness, the ruin threatening the Art of Music.

300 musicians in Hollywood supply all the "music" offered in thousands of theatres. Can such a tiny reservoir of talent nurture artistic progress?

The true function of the machine is to increase the value of the product fed into it—not to debase it. Therefore mechanical music, as a substitute for Living Music, is a spurious form of progress—Like a loom converting good wool into shoddy.

The grind organ, however operated, is a grind organ still. For music is an emotional art, a form of social intercourse, and hence dependent upon human contact.

Who profits by the elimination of genuine music from the theatre? Not the music-loving public!

If you agree that theatre patrons are entitled to real music—in addition to talking and sound motion pictures, for the price they pay—HELP SAVE THE ART FROM RUIN. Enroll with millions of others in the Music Defense League. When the public's voice is raised its will must be served!

Gentlemen: Without further obligation on my part, please enroll my name in the Music Defense League as one who is opposed to the elimination of Living Music from the Theatre.

ORANGEMEN ATTEND CHURCH

Rev. Dr. C. V. McLean Addresses Members of the Orange Order.

AT TRINITY CHURCH.

Nearly five hundred strong, members of the Loyal Orange Lodges of Peterborough County paraded last evening to Trinity United Church and heard a stirring sermon preached by Rev. Charles V. McLean, Ph.D. pastor of St. Andrew's Church.

The great career of William, Prince of Orange, who later became King of England, was reviewed by Dr. McLean. The Orange Order was founded by those who shared William's spirit and set him as their example in their efforts to secure tolerance in religion and to maintain the unity of the British Empire, stated Dr. McLean.

"The work of those early pioneers of the Orange Order is not yet completed. There is still room for volunteers in the campaign against intolerance, which after all is due to pride. Despotism also still exists in the world and will so long as self reigns strongest in the heart of man. Nor will men ever learn to cooperate cordially one with another until they have adopted the entire program of Jesus, who came to bind all men together in a great co-operative commonwealth, which He designated the Kingdom of God."

Robert Ritchie, Marshall

The large parade of Orangemen was marshalled by Robert Ritchie, County Marshall, at the Orange Hall corner of George and Brock streets, and headed by the Lakefield Citizens Band, marched to the Church. In the parade were the three lady lodges of Peterborough, Vimy Ridge, Eastern Star, and Star of Bethlehem. Lakefield Lodge, Nassau Lodge, Lord Nelson Lodge, L.O.L. 2440, May's School House), Colonel Saunders' Lodge, L.O.L. 321 (Downer's Corners), the Juvenile Lodge of Peterborough and also the three large city lodges. Officials of the Orange Order in the parade were: Arthur Holden, W. Chambers, and R. Webster, the district masters, Frank Millard, county master, and Fred Sanderson, deputy-county master.

The Orangemen filled the central portion of the church, which had been reserved for them, and also filled many pews on the side aisles.

"Replacing Broken Pillars" was the subject of Dr. McLean's address, and he took his text from Psalm 11, verse 3, "If the foundations are destroyed what can the righteous do."

The writer, stated the speaker, felt that he was living in a false world of oppression and that society was weak. In the 16th Century a young man looked about him and also found that there was religious intolerance, despotism in government and petty competition in commeroe and industry. This man was William, Prince of Orange. Orange was a small city in the south-east corner of Holland and much silk was manufactured there. William was schooled in Brussels and was raised as a devout Roman Catholic but because of the misery about, he was convinced that a change was necessary.

Through his efforts for the common good he brought upon the illwill of Charles Fifth, the great monarch of that day, and he was forced to flee to Germany. Later, however, he returned and organized a movement to bring about tolerance in religion, democracy in government and co-operation in commerce and industry. Because of his sincerity and ability the name Orange shone with special lustre throughout Europe.

When Great Britain needed a king William was chosen and he became William the Third of England. He found in England opponents to his rule and principles and 240 years ago the Battle of the Boyne was fought, which Orangemen all celebrate on the twelfth of July.

The Orange Order was founded by men instilled with the same spirit as King William.

and a nephew of Punch's celebrated Richard Doyle. All three of these were widely known artists and characturists.

Played Many Roles.

Arthur Conan Doyle, latterly Sir Arthur, played many roles in his life and most of them famously. He was a physician. He was a sensationally brilliant novelist in the 90's. So notable were his contributions to popular fiction that to-day any detective feels flattered upon being called a veritable Sherlock Holmes.

After the dawn of this century Sir Arthur exerted his literary powers in placing before Europe the facts of the Boer war and for this he was made a Knight of the Realm.

In the Great War, when his own son lost his life, Sir Arthur delved deeply into spiritualism, through that medium seeking to detect the world beyond with all the zeal that he had put into his previous fictional writings.

When he was 60 Sir Arthur announced his retirement from writing to devote the remainder of his days to the study and expounding of spiritualism. He thereafter wrote books about the occult, crossed oceans to lecture and gave the world superb assurance of his faith by announcing he and Lady Doyle were fully convinced they had communicated with their dead son and that the son had replied and the father's ears had heard his voice.

For all his fame as a writer, Sir Arthur was unsuccessful as a politician. He twice ran for Parliament but each time was defeated.

He was married twice, first to Louise Hawkins, in 1885 She died in 1906. The next year he married Jean Leckie, daughter of James Blyth Leckie, of Blackheath.

Communicate with Family

The family of Sir Conan Doyle to-day expressed the belief that their father would communicate with them from the spirit world as he had promised.

Adrian Conan Doyle, son of the novelist and spiritualist, asked if his father had spoken of communicating with his family after his death, said:

"Why, of course, my father fully believed that when he passed over he would continue to keep in touch with us. All his family believe so, too.

"There is no question that my father will often speak to us just as he did before he passed over. We will always know when he is speaking but one has to be careful, because there are practical jokers on the other side, as there are here. It is quite possible that these jokers may attempt to impersonate him. But there are tests which my mother knows, such as little mannerisms of speech which cannot be impersonated and which will tell us it is my father, himself who is speaking."

ASKS SUPPORT OF CITIZENS

C.G.E. Horticultural Society Co-operating With Canadian Legion to Stage Flower Show.

BENEFIT TO CITY.

An appeal is being launched by the Canadian General Electric Company Horticultural Society for the support of the citizens in promoting the success of their first annual flower show which is to be held in the Canadian Legion Hall from August 14-16.

The show will be held in conjunction with the local War Veterans, who put forth the proposal to stage a flower show some years ago. There are numerous ex-servicemen and C.G.E. employees who are keenly interested in horticulture and when the proposal was brought to the notice of James Abraham, president of the local post of the Canadian Legion, he took the matter up with the members, with the result that this year the show will become a reality and will do much to further the cause of horticulture in this city.

In addition to the privilege of viewing a wonderful array of flowers, patrons of the show will also be materially furthering the work of the Canadian Legion.

The president of the C.G.E., in launching his appeal for support, states that ticket solicitors will shortly be canvassing the city. A splendid program of amusements and refreshment booths at the show will be in charge of the War Veterans.

Choir Pays Tribute To Former Member

At the conclusion of the program arranged by the I.O.O.F. at Little Lake Cemetery yesterday (Decoration Day), and in which they took part, the members, to the number of fifty, of the Peterborough Male Voice Choir quietly moved off to the southern section of the cemetery. Their object was to show respect to the memory of one who had been on the active roll of the choir for a number of years—Walter Northrop, who died on May 6, 1930.

When the choir had encircled the grave, the secretary, William Fletcher, on behalf of the organization, placed a bouquet, as a simple act of remembrance to one who spent many pleasant hours in the ranks of the Male Voice Choir he loved.

An added touch was given by the choristers, under the direction of Martin B. Chenhall, A.R.C.O., the conductor, singing two verses of the selection, "When We Stand Before the King," which concluded the quiet and appealing ceremony.

TARZAN OF THE APES No. 4 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Early next morning Lord and Lady Greystoke's chests and boxes were hoisted on deck and lowered to waiting small boats for transportation to shore. There was a great quantity and variety of stock, arms and ammunition, as they had expected a possible five years' residence in their new West Coast African home.

The man shuddered as he meditated upon the awful gravity, the fearful helplessness of their situation. But it was a merciful providence which prevented him from seeing the hideous reality which awaited them in the grim depth of that dense jungle. They silently sat, each wrapped in gloomy forebodings, wondering.

They had escaped death at the hands of the mutineers, but they were faced with far graver dangers. Alone, he might hope to survive for years. But what of his wife, and that other little life so soon to be launched amidst the hardships and grave dangers of a primeval world? His heart sank in despair, considering their future.

Having filled the ship's casks with fresh water, the small boats moved slowly over the water to the ship. As the Fuwalda passed out of sight beyond a projecting point, Lord Greystoke and his wife—in breasts of both, a feeling of impending disaster and utter helplessness—bravely stood, silently watching.

And behind them, over the edge of a low ridge, other eyes WATCHED THEM — close-set wicked eyes, gleaming beneath shaggy brows!

Whether caused by moral turpitude in the asparagus bed or merely excess of zeal, a freak asparagus tip has found its way into The Examiner's George Street window by virtue of the fact that it measures two-and-a-half inches across and fills enough space to satisfy three ordinary stems of asparagus.

The curiosity grew in the garden of Alec Miller on Lansdowne Street. Mr. Miller, a member of The Examiner technical staff, has been raising fine asapargus for some time, but disclaims any responsibility for the present offspring.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM CHARLES PICKENS.

HASTINGS, July 7 (Examiner Correspondence). — The death occurred in Toronto General Hospital recently of William Charles Pickens, after a short illness of two weeks, at the age of 52 years 11 months.

The late Mr. Pickens carried on farming in Percy Township for a number of years, up till a few years ago when he gave up farming and went to Toronto to reside. The deceased was a member of the Presbyterian Church and the Masonic Order.

The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon from the residence of Mr. A. C. Copperthwaite, Dartford, to Trent Valley Cemetery, Hastings. The funeral was under Masonic auspices, and was attended by members of Norwood, Warkworth, and Hastings lodges. Rev. D. A. Thomson, D.D., had charge of the service.

JOYS OF YOUTH

To the accompaniment of phonographic jazz, a flotilla of rowboats and canoes bearing girls of the Y.W.C.A. Outdoor Club, journed down the river Saturday night from Rye's Boat House to Crawford's Grove. A swim, a campfire supper, and a sing-song comprised the program at the latter point.

Miss A. Littlefield, in charge of the group, announces another excursion tomorrow night, and welcomes all senior girls of the city. A junior group is mooted.

Because of poor handling of good-sized crops in the last two years, farmers of Hungary are in a serious financial condition.

FINE ENTERTAINMENT.

Hawaiian Artist From Chautauqua Circuit Contributes Splendid Program.

Chairman of the various Rotary committees for the year were announced to the Peterborough Rotary Club at the weekly luncheon to-day by President-elect Bob Abbott, who occupied the chair for the first time since his election to the office.

The list is as follows:—
Vocational Service—T. O. Donaldson.
Classification and Membership — Fred L. Roy.
Program—R. F. Downey.
Athletic and Entertainment—C. G. Graham.
Attendance—James Juby.
Fellowship—W. F. Butcher.
Music—John Crane, Herb. Gillespie.
Bulletin—Herb. Gillespie.
Boys' Work—Claude H. Rogers.
Rural-Urban Fellowship—G. A. Gillespie.
Inter-City—Tom Dutton.
Crippled Children—Dr. A. Moir.
Students' Loan—H. R. H. Kenner
International Service — W. R. Morris.
Canadian National—Dr. M. A. Morrison.

President Abbott gave a few impressions of his visit to the convention of Rotary International at Chicago and announced that a fuller report would be given at next Monday's meeting.

Rotarian John Crane, a past president and charter member, who has been in charge of the music at the Rotary luncheons since the club was organized, to-day was unanimously made an honorary member as a mark of appreciation of his services.

Miss Hyndman, of Canadian Chautauqua, was introduced by Rotarian George A. Gillespie, who stressed the value of Chautauqua to the community and urged Rotarians, to interest themselves in the institution.

Miss Hyndman echoed the invitation and expressed appreciation of the assistance given by Rotary, especially in making it possible for old people from the various institutions to hear some of the programs.

"Wicky Bird," Hawaiian entertainer, who is a prominent member of the company which will present "An Evening in Hawaii," tonight, delighted Rotarians with his musical contributions to the program. Opening with a number from "The Desert Song" Mr. Bird followed with a yodelling lullaby, then a Hawaiian number and finally sang "Happy Days Are Here Again," and "Should I," this varied list demonstrating the artist's versatility and ability as a vocalist.

There was no doubt of the enjoyment of his audience.

WEDDING BELLS

CLAPPER-BAKER.

Hastings, July 7.—Examiner Correspondent.—A very pretty, but quiet wedding took place at the Manse Hastings, on Tuesday, July 1st, when Kathleen Winneta, eldest daughter of Mr William Clapper, Jr., former residents of Hastings, was united in marriage to Mr. Gerald A. Baker, of Cobourg, by the Rev. D. A. Thomson, D.D., of St. Andrews Church. The young couple were attended by the bride's brother and sister, Aubrey V. and Miss Marion Clapper.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker left on a motor trip for points east, and on their return will take up residence in Cobourg.

China has accepted the proposal of the German Government to establish a wireless telephone service between the two countries.

OFF TO CAMP.

A happy group of Boy Scouts—members of the 3rd Peterborough Troop, under Scoutmaster Frank Taylor—left the city today fully equipped for a week's camp at Chemong Lake. The boys, typical representatives of Canadian youth, made a pleasing picture as they scrambled aboard a motor trans port outside the C.P.R. depot, smiles wreathing their countenances, in happy anticipation of the joys of camping which lie ahead of them.

TO TOUR NOVA SCOTIA.

Following his address here on Saturday evening the Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labour, was motored to Cobourg by J. J. Duffus, Liberal candidate for this constituency, where he caught the train for Montreal en route to Springville, N.S., where he is to address another meeting in support of the Liberal cause.

Previous to his Peterborough visit Mr. Heenan spoke at Stratford on Friday, travelling up to Toronto where he was met by J. J. J. Duffus and motoroded to this city.

A GOOD DAY'S CATCH.

With triumph glistening in their eyes, George Robertson, Arthur Blade, and several other local men returned last night from a fishing trip at Rice Lake bearing 22 trophies of their skill with rod and reel. Their catch included 16 pickerel, three bass and three lunge.

The largest lunge was landed by Art Blade. It weighed 16½ pounds, and the doughty fisherman was seen this morning getting his picture taken while proudly holding his finny prize.

PROMOTED TO MAJOR.

District Orders dated June 30, issued by the D.O.C. M.D. 3, contain the following promotions in the local militia units:

Peterborough Rangers — 2nd Lieut. (Bvt.-Captain) R. A. Sheehy is transferred to the reserve of Officers (C.A.D.C.), 31st March, 1930.

4th Machine Gun Battalion—To be Major: Captain J. A. Dewart, M.C., 1st April, 1930. To be Second Lieutenants: John Francis Rogers, 16th April, 1930 George Harlad Giles, 23rd April, 1930.

THE FIRST GLADIOLI?

Bob Carr of 486 Bonacord Street, an enthusiastic amateur horticulturist and member of the City Fire Department, is the proud possessor of numerous gladioli which he declares are possibly the first in bloom in the city. He has had a great showing of flowers and vegetables this year, and his gardening skill has incidentally found an outlet for expression on what was formerly a waste plot of ground on the north side of the Fire Hall.

BEAUTIFUL FLOWER BOXES.

Flowing blooms, in artistic green window boxes, which adorn the exterior of the City Fire Hall, are the cause of a great deal of favorable comment, from citizens and visitors alike. Members of the Fire Department wish to take this opportunity of expressing their thanks to the following local florists who have made such a beautiful display possible: The Peterborough Floral Company, Sam Jordan, Art Blade and Dave Jordan.

18 HOLES IN 44.

The best score made on the Mite-Tee Green, miniature golf course, last week was made by H. Hunter, C.G.E. test, who made the 18 holes in 44.

A LITTLE PRAISE.

George J. Moore, telegraph operator in the Dayton, Ohio, Fire Department, was an interested visitor at the local Fire Hall this morning.

"What do I think of your Fire Department? Well, it is just about one of the best equipped stations to be found anywhere in a city of the same size as this," he exclaimed.

Mr. Moore has a family connection in this city, his grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. George James Moore having lived here for many years, and who are laid to rest in one of the city's cemeteries. He is spending a few weeks' vacation with his aunt, a Mrs. Succe, in Monaghan Township.

'MUSKIE' WEIGHING NINETEEN LBS. LANDED BY F. REVOY AT BUCKHORN

Big Fish Put Up a Forty-five Minute Struggle in Water.

OTHER LARGE ONES.

The fish story season is doing nicely. Several specimens that would commend themselves to the shade of I. Walton have been reported of late in this community, and George Street neighbors related another Saturday night, to the effect that Fred Revoy had landed a 19-pound "muskie" at Buckhorn after a 45-minute struggle.

Mr. Revoy was using a steel pole, silk line and a pikie minnow, according to various details that are in general agreement, and the big fish was displayed Saturday night at George Robinson's barber shop. Four Philadelphia tourists who saw, almost refused to trust their sight, and when finally convinced they decided to give the Buckhorn waters a thorough trawling.

Art Blade tells this one. Four tourists left their home in Pennsylvania Thursday night, arrived at Curve Lake Friday and were on their way home Saturday night with a catch of bass and thoroughly satisfied with their outing. They travelled 1,000 miles on the round trip and managed to crowd into their short stay a profitable fling with rod and line.

This party of tourists came to the Curve Lake section on the strength of a doctor friend who spent a holiday here last year. He told them there wasn't a white man within miles of Whetungville and the fish were so ravenous that the doctor had to hide behind a tree to reload his hook with worms. This last detail sounded too much like Munchausen for four smart Pennsylvania men, but they were inclined to believe the forest-primeval story.

And just to put these northern lake people in their place, Bert Adams of Hiawatha is credited with a 28-pound "muskie" last week, and the same day a 29-pounder was caught in the same part of Rice Lake.

A 21-POUND MUSKIE.

A 21-pound maskinonge was the prize of the basket brought home from a day's fishing in the waters of Pigeon Lake yesterday by C. Sharpe and Al. Graham of this city. While by no means a record for the Kawartha Lakes, the "muskie," measuring 45 inches, proved a beautiful catch. "He sure put up a great fight," was Mr. Graham's comment. "It took us half an hour to get him in the boat."

The two fortunate fishermen were guests at the Bert Graham cottage over the week-end.

Mr. Graham, asked whether he expected to have his Pigeon Lake catch stuffed and mounted, remarked that he would have to land a bigger "muskie" than that before he would consider diverting its course from kitchen to table.

Four Are Killed in Egyptian Rioting

TROOPS UNABLE TO SUBDUE MOB IN BITTER SCRAP

Resigned Premier, Nahas Pasha, in Midst of Fighting.

NOTORIOUS STRONGHOLD.

Wafd Executive Body Uses Delata Railway Despite Gov't Orders.

CAIRO, Egypt, July 8.—(C.P.) — Two policemen and two rioters were killed to-day at Mansouah in a furious and prolonged encounter between armed forces and followers of the recently resigned Premier Nahas Pasha. The police fired into the mob which offered stubborn resistance.

A pitched battle was raging in the centre of Mansouah, which the police and a detachment of troops appeared unable to end.

The Nahas Pasha, who was in his motor car, was in the thick of the fighting.

Mansouah is a notorious Wafd stronghold. The Wafd Executive committee held a meeting last night to discuss its future program. The members decided to proceed by ordinary train over the State railways by way of Tantah this forenoon.

A prominent member of the Wafd executive body informed the newspapers that the Wafd would do its utmost to hold its meetings in Mansouah notwithstanding a prohibition by the government on the use of the Delata railway.

KEEWATIN POWER LOSES ITS DIVERSION APPEAL

LONDON, Eng., July 8. (C. P. Cable)—The judgement of the Appellate Division of Ontario is confirmed by the judicial committee of the Privy Council to-day in the Lake of the Woods water diversion case.

Their Lordships of the judicial committee dismissed the appeal of the Keewatin Power Company, in which the Lake of the Woods Milling Company and Keewatin Flour Mills Company were respondents. The Power Company had sought to prove there was wrongful diversion of water.

Their Lordships expressed their judgement went to into the whole matter from beginning to end, but it really does no more than concur "in the very able judgement of the Court of Appeal."

THOMAS TO BRING UP IMPORT CONTROL BOARD

LONDON, Eng., July 8. (C.P.) — The highly important matters of a Board to Control Imports and schemes for bulk purchases of agricultural commodities, will not be overlooked whe nthe Imperial Conference assembles in London in the coming autumn Right Hon. J. H. Thomas, secretary for the Dominions, assured a questioner in the House of Commons today.

These questions which have been under discussion in British politics for some time, have not been placed on the agenda. Mr. Thomas explained the agenda for the conference was a matter on which agreement must be reached between the governments taking part. He gave assurance the qestions would not be dismissed without consideration.

The questioner probably had in mind the suggestion that a board should be set up to regulate imports of grain.

Doyle Family Awaits Word From Spiritualist

CROWBOROUGH, Sussex, Eng., July 8 (C.P.).—The family of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle to-day awaited word from him that he, whose mind was the parent of Sherlock Holmes, had solved the mystery which always interested him most—death.

His son, Adrian Conan Doyle, declared: "My father fully believed that when he passed over he would continue to keep in touch with us. All his family believe so, too.

"I know prfectly well that my father will often speak to us just as he did before he passed over. We shall always know when he is speaking, but we shall have to be careful, since there are practical jokesters on the other side, just as there are here."

Man Kills His Wife, Then Suicides

After shooting and killing his common-law wife, Gertrude Seguin (1), Eloi Meloche (2), of Timmins, turned his revolver upon himself and ended his own life. First, however, he wounded the woman's companion, Emile Grouix. The double-slaying occurred in a log-cabin (3) on Goodfish Rd., Kirkland Lake. Police found the woman's body at the door, with that of Meloche lying nearby. The coroner's jury has placed the blame on Meloche. Jealousy was given as the motive.

KEY TO ELECTION RIDDLE IS HELD RIGHT IN ONTARIO

Both Parties Agree Main Battle Will Be Won and Lost in Province.

ESTIMATES DIFFER WIDELY.

Saskatchewan Next in Uncertain List—New Party Has Small Sway.

(By George Hambleton, C. P. Staff Correspondent.)

OTTAWA, July 8. — Ontario holds the key to the riddle of the general election campaign. There, in the opinion of Conservative and Liberal campaign headquarters alike, the main battle will be lost and won. Its 82 seats are the prize for which both organizations are striving to the uttermost.

Results Differ.

And with the 58-day campaign entered well into the second half of its course, both sides are beginning to balance their chances and both in their estimates of the Ontario results differ widely.

Liberals think they may lose a few seats here, gain a few seats there, and in the upshot come back both from Ontario and the Dominion as a whole about as strong as they came out.

Conservatives believe they will make heavy gains in Ontario.

3 CANDIDATES FOR CARLETON

N. M. Cummings Nominated By Liberals Against W. L. Gourlay of Carp.

MAY RUN INDEPENDENT.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 8 (Canadian Press). — A three-cornered contest was assured and a four-cornered contest was suggested as a possibility to-day in the traditionally Conservative riding of Carleton after the Liberals had yesterday nominated N M. Cummings of Westboro as their candidate, and R. O. Morris, of Hintonburg, announced himself as a "straight Conservative candidate" at their nomination meeting on Saturday ,the Conservatives nominated W. F. Garland, who has been the sitting member since 1921.

The Liberal candidate was chosen last night at Carp in a straight contest against W. L. Gourlay, of Carp, who announced there was a possibility he would run as an Independent.

CHINESE GOV'T TO RENEW WAR

Prepare to Retake Shantung Province After Long Retreat.

REBELS FALTER.

SHANGHAI, China, July 8 (C.P.).—Nationalists are preparing a counter-offensive in Shantung Province in the hope of regaining complete control there from northern rebels, despatches to-day from various Shantung localities indicated.

After the Northerners occupied Tsinan, Shantung capital, June 25, they quickly advanced southward along the Tientsin-Pukow Railway to Yenchow and eastward to Tsinan along the Teinanfu-Tsingtao Railway as far as Weihsien, meeting little Nationalist opposition.

This permitted the Northerners to establish a great semi-circular battle line from Yenchow to Weihsien. Recently, however, the Northerners have failed to follow up the advance, allowing the routed Nationalists to reorganize in Southern and Eastern Shantung.

Nationalsits to-day claimed enough power to renew their advance toward the Yellow River and expected to retake Tsinan and the Shantung Railway.

Tsingtao advices said the warring forces had clashed again near Weinsien with no decisive result, although the hostilities caused Japanese residents of that city to leave. Reports from Suchow, Kiangsu, said President General Chiang Hai-Shew had reorganized the Nationalists in Southern Shantung, using Eastern Honan troops for reinforcements, and had taken position south of Yenchow "preparatory to a general advance along the entire line extending northeastward and reaching Eihsien."

Other reports said major hostilities were expected in a few days.

SEE GENERAL ELECTION IN ENGLAND, NOVEMBER

LONDON, Eng., July 8 (C.P.). — The London Daily Mail, an Independent Conservative newspaper, said this morning that a general election in November in England was regarded as certain as a result of three pending challenges to the Government.

Each of these challenges, the Daily Mail said, held the threat of defeat of Premier J. Ramsay Macdonald's Labor administration, in office a little more than a year.

DOUG. HARNOTT LOSES HIS LIFE IN TRENT RIVER

Toronto Man is Drowned While Bathing in River at Hastings.

ON A HOLIDAY.

Body is Recovered and Inquest Considered Not Necessary.

HASTINGS, July 8 (Examiner Correspondence). — Douglas Harnott, aged 42 years, of 453 Queen Street E., Toronto, met his death by drowning in the Trent River here last evening, bringing to a sad and tragic termination a camping holiday which he had been spending with his wife and friends, Mr. and Mrs. McGregor, also of Toronto.

Efforts Unsuccessful.

Repeated and heroic efforts to rescue the victim were made by Tony Philips, a resident of Hastings, who dived three times in an unsuccessful effort to locate the body.

It is learned that the late Mr. Harnott had been camping on Striver's Camping Ground during the past week in company with his wife and friends. The holiday was to have come to its normal conclusion to-day. The holiday had been spent in fishing, motoring, and bathing. Yesterday afternoon, shortly before five o'clock, deceased went bathing in company with Malcolm and Melville, two small sons of the Mc-Gregor's. He had only been in the water a little over five minutes when he suddenly disappeared, and on the alarm being raised by the two youngsters, Tony Phillips, with commendable presence of mind and disregard of danger, plunged into the water in an unsuccessful attempt at rescue.

Almost the entire populace of Hastings watched the efforts of the willing band of citizens who dragged the waters in the immediate vicinity for several hours. The body was recovered last night at 7.40 o'clock.

Coroner Dr Loucks of Campbellford decided that an inquest would be unnecessary being of the opinion that it was a clear case of accidental drowning.

Harnott was born in England and came to this country before the war. He was employed as a driver by the T. Eaton Company. He had no relatives in Canada, the only survivor being his wife.

WOULD CONDEMN POLICY OF BISHOP

Loyal Churchman's Union Makes Appeal to Lambeth Conference.

PRAYERBOOK CONTROVERSY.

LONDON, England, July 8 (C. P. Cable).—An appeal to the Lambeth Conference of Archbishops and Bishops to "bear witness for the truth against errors which threaten the very existence of the Church of England as a national church," has been made by the Loyal Churchmen's Union, with the approval of the Church Association.

The Conference is asked to condemn the "fatal policy of Bishops who do not keep faith with their church or their country, and not only defy the law themselves but make the clergy follow their example."

The appeal, of course, is directed against the revised Prayer Book, which was twice rejected by Parliament, and the practises endorsed in this Prayer Book. "They (the Bishops) have promoted the sale and circulation of a prayer book which no clergyman of the Church of England can use without guilt and dishonor; and to gain their own ends they seem ready by inviting disestablishment, to sacrifice the highest interests of the Church and of the Nation," the Loyal Churchmen's Union declares.

"The loyal minority of Bishops are helpless, the appeal goes on. Who but members of the Romanizing faction are now promoted to the Episcopate? The position of the faithful clergy and laity is fast becoming intolerable. What we ask of you is not any interference with administration, but faithful and outspoken condemnation of perjury, lawlessness, heresy and indolatry."

King and Queen Attend St. Paul's

The above picture was taken on the occasion of the thanksgiving service at St. Paul's Cathedral, London, at the completion of the restoration work which has taken more than twenty years. Their Majesties, accompanied by the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York, are here seen driving up to the main entrance of Sir Christopher Wren's masterpiece.

NEW INDIA HOUSE IS OPENED WITH KING OFFICIATING

His Majesty Expresses Hope For Emergence of India From Troubles.

SIX MINUTE ADDRESS.

Beautiful Structure Will House Various Trade Interests of Country.

LONDON, England, July 8 (C.P.)— A new India House was opened in London by King George to-day with an expression of hope for the emergence of India from the present troublous era into days of peace and contentment.

The restoration of a true understanding of the unity of the greater commonwealth of which India is a part, King George said, "would aid in solving India's destiny."

The building, a beautiful new Governmental structure in the heart of London, will house the various trade and commercial interests of India, as Australia House on the Strand long has those of the Australian Commonwealth.

Beginning of New Period

"At this critical period of India's history, when the thoughts of all who love that country are centered upon constructive effort and upon laying well and truly the foundation of India of the future," King George asserted, "I regard it has a happy

GERMANS STUDY BRIAND'S SCHEME

Rumored Reply to "U. S. of Europe" is Affirmative With Reservations.

REVISION OF TREATIES.

BERLIN, Germany, July 8 (C.P.)— Revision of treaties by which Germany was bound after the war and a formula of equality for all nations were made known to-day as stipulations the German Foreign Office would make for consideration of France's proposal of a "United States of Europe."

The German reply to the memorandum of Foreign Minister Briand was the subject of a debate to-day in the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Reichstag, at the close of which it was said in semi-official circles that a majority favored an affirmative answer with reservations.

Whether stipulations other than those reported had been raised as Germany's co-operation provision was not revealed.

$690,000 Gems Lost In Prague Hotel

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, July 8.—(C.P.)—Jewels worth $690,000, according to the police, were stolen in the night from the suite of Mrs. Clara Hyman, of Chicago, in the Imperial hotel here. A $290,000 pearl necklace was among the articles taken.

The stolen articles, the police reported, aside from the rope of 190 large pearls, comprised platinum and gold rings with diamond settings.

The robbers escaped without leaving a clue, according to the police and it was the theory of the officers that they probably had crossed the frontier.

LAKEFIELD TRAIN HITS TOURING CAR

No One is Injured When Automobile Hit By Train on McDonnel Street.

WHISTLE BLOWING.

"I consider the driver of the car one of the luckiest men in Peterborough," exclaimed an eye-witness to the accident at the Canadian National Railway crossing at Bethune and McDonnel Street, in which a touring car was struck by train number 371, Peterborough to Lakefield, this morning.

According to the informant, who works in a nearby office, Engineer Avery kept up a continuous blast on his whistle all the way from Murray Street. The whistle was so insistent, he stated, that I came to the office door to see what was the cause. I saw a blue touring car approaching from the west at a speed of about thirty miles per hour. The driver was apparently unaware of the approaching train until he was nearly on top of it. In an effort to avoid a collision he swerved to his wrong side of the road and attempted to cross in front of the engine. He was struck on the right rear wheel by the cowcatcher, which caused the car to be pitched on to the north-east sidewalk and to face in the opposite direction. The driver was uninjured, and, according to the witness, regarded the matter very lightly and nonchalently.

The conductor of the train was Conductor Halpin, who turned in a report of the accident to Assistant Superintendent Burns of Lindsay.

This crossing is safeguarded by a single sign bearing the words "Level Crossing" in black letters on a white ground, which is situated on the south-east side of the crossing. There is also a small poster attached to a telephone pole immediately to the east of the larger sign, bearing a graphic picture of a level crossing smash and bearing the warning "Cross Crossings Carefully."

Mayor Denne Casts The Deciding Vote At Council Meeting

City Council Decides To Do Further Paving in East City This Year and Lets the Contract to the Warren Company at $3.94 Per Square Yard.

ALDERMEN ARE DEADLOCKED ON QUESTION OF PAVING JOB IS LET TO AID THE UNEMPLOYMENT IN CITY

Hot Debate Takes Place at Council Meeting as Aldermen Discuss the Paving and Unemployment Questions in the City of Peterborough.

Mayor Denne cast the deciding vote last night that carried the motion for the extension of paving this year through the City Council.

The motion provided that Armour Road from Park Hill Road to Munro Avenue, and Park Hill Road from Water Street to Armour Road be paved, and that the contract be let to the Warren Bituminous Paving Company.

Five aldermen voted against the paving and five aldermen supported, causing a deadlock which was broken when Mayor Denne raised his hand in favor.

An agreement with the paving company was also passed, and the necessary by-law, the same aldermen voting against and in favor, and Mayor Denne in each case casting the vote that carried the paving through.

Those supporting the paving were: Aldermen Phelan, Cotton, Fitzpatrick, Macdonald, and Haffman and Mayor Denne; and those who were against were: Aldermen Stocker, Holland, McIntyre, McNabb, and Tuggey.

The estimated cost of the paving as given by City Engineer Parsons was $31,000. This is at the Warren Company's price of $3.94 per square yard, which is three cents a yard cheaper than the cost of the previous paving done by the company.

Again it was stressed that the additional paving was a measure only brought forward in an effort to relieve unemployment in the city, and the clause was inserted in the agreement with the Warren Company that only men who had secured a certificate from the City Engineer that they were residents of Peterborough could be employed, except for the foremen and keymen necessary on the job.

A long discussion was given the paving and unemployment questions by the aldermen, which were thrashed out from every angle.

In beginning the discussion on the

HOSPITAL MOTION PASSES COUNCIL

City Council Recommends the Favorable Approval of By-law By Ratepayers.

SEEK CHANGE IN ACT.

The City Council last night carried a motion fully endorsing the efforts of the Nicholls Hospital Trust to secure the needed increased accommodation at the hospital. The motion, which carried unanimously read: "That this Council fully recognize the necessity for increased accommodation being provided in the Nicholls Hospital, and recommend the favorably approval of the Protestant ratepayers of the city of Peterborough to the by-law when presented, on condition that the Hospital Board secure authority from the Ontario Legislature at its next session for this Council to appoint four members, in addition to the Mayor, to the Hospital Board."

In moving the motion, Alderman Macdonald stated that the Council appreciated the work being done by the Board and desired to express their approval of the effort to secure the much needed addition.

Vincent Eastwood, of the Hospital Board, pointed out that that addition and improvements to the hospital was a great need. He stated that an accident on the Port Hope two injured persons, a man and a woman, had been brought to the hospital and it was found necessary to operate on the woman in a waiting room and to operate on the man in a men's lavatory, because of lack of accommodation.

INDIAN TRACKERS SEEK LOST LAD

Chief Fears Victor Gareau Will Be Found Dead After Long Exposure.

TRACKS TRAMPLED DOWN.

KAPUSKASING, Ont., July 8 — (C.P.)—That Victor Gareau, 6-year-old lad who has been missing from his home near here for over a week, is now dead, is the fear expressed by Chief John Neegan of the Mattice Indians. The Chief, whose expert Indian trackers have now joined the search for little Victor, is confident that they will find his body in two or three days.

"I do not think the little fellow can be alive now," said the Chief today. "He has been worried by flies, starved with nothing to eat but grass and leaves and exposed to the cold weather of bush nights and soaking by a constant rain."

The search was considerably delayed, in the opinion of the Chief, by the white men who tramped down the boy's tracks within several miles of his home before they called in the Indian trackers.

CIRCUS WAGON KILLS YOUTH AT BROCKVILLE

BROCKVILLE, Ont., July 8 (C.P.) —Harry Hartnett, Boston, Mass., was killed here to-day when he was run over by a circus wagon belonging to the Sheeley Shows. Hartnett, who was about 20 years of age, was employed as a cook by the show company and was evidently sleeping under the wagon when it was shifted to another part of the grounds.

MISSING BANKER FOUND IN RIVER

Told Bank Official He Was in Trouble to Extent of $25,000.

LEFT NOTE TO WIFE.

OMAHA, Nebr., July 8 (C.P.)—The body of Edward L. Droste, missing vice-president of the First National Bank of Omaha, was found floating in the Missouri River yesterday near Dakota City. The body was identified as that of Droste by E. F. Jepsen, his brother-in-law.

Droste disappeared from Omaha early Wednesday morning and was last seen in Sioux City at noon the same day.

Jepsen also identified the signature found on a receipt check for a car rented in Omaha on July 2 and a note written on the back of the receipt as being in Droste's handwriting. The note read:

"Grace, darling, forgive me. God bless you—Dad."

Grace is the given name of Mrs. Droste.

Droste, the night before his disappearance had revealed in conversation with Denman Kountze, also an official of the bank, that he "was in trouble to the extent of about $25,000."

Radio Fans Hear King George Speak

Peterborough radio listeners heard with great clarity to-day the voice of His Majesty King George V. as it was broadcast from England this morning in the formal ceremony of opening India House at Aldwych. It was 7.10 in the morning when the speech was received here.

As the address of the Prince of Wales at the National Union of Students in the Savoy Hotel, London, was broadcast yesterday at 4.25 on an international network, this is the first time a King and his heir have been heard in such a manner within 24 hours.

TRADE TREATIES ARE UNDER FIRE AT TORY RALLY

Australian and New Zealand Treaties Called 'An Insane Idea' By E. A. Peck.

SPEAKS AT VILLIERS.

Candidate Claims Agricultural Interests Being Sacrificed By King Government.

"An insane idea," was the way in which the Australian Treaty and the New Zealand Order-in-Council were characterized by E. A. Peck, Conservative candidate for Peterborough West, speaking at Villiers last night.

"Why," demanded Mr. Peck, "did the Mackenzie King administration take that deliberate step to injure the dairy industry in this country?" While the Premier's avowed intention had been to build up a trade in certain Canadian manufactured goods, Mr. Peck did not feel that the agricultural interests of the country should be sacrificed for such an end.

Must Protect Farmer.

Declaring that the 17 hundred million dollars annual production of Canadian farming made it the nation's leading industry, the speaker stated that it was the duty of the Government to see that the farmer was protected. "I do not know," he said, "of anything the Mackenzie King administration has done to help the farming industry—but I do know of something definite it has done to harm the dairy industry."

Mr. Peck cited an open letter to the Canadian farmer from Dr. Grisdale, Deputy Minister of Agriculture at Ottawa, in which it was stated that Canada was rapidly losing ground in the export of farm, dairy, and live stock produce. This situation was decried by Dr. Grisdale, asserted Mr. Peck, although he was a member of the Liberal administration whose nine years in power had left such a condition.

The Australian Treaty of 1925, and the subsequent New Zealand Order-in-Council promulgated under that treaty's authority, declared Mr. Peck, had resulted in the flowing of trade "all one way" so far as Canada and the Antipodes were concerned. The one-cent-a-pound protection had permitted New Zealand butter to be dumped on the Canadian market. Climate and similar factors permitted New Zealand to produce butter more cheaply than it could be produced in this country, he maintained. Leading agriculturists had protested, but to no avail. After four years of unfavorable trade balance, Mackenzie King had finally given six months' notice of expiration of the treaty.

What Are Terms of New Treaty?

Mr. Dunning had promised that a new treaty would be devised after October 12. "What will the terms of this treaty be?" asked Mr. Peck. "I sincerely hope a Mackenzie King Government will not have the power to negotiate it," he said. "There was no guarantee that the Liberal Party would suddenly decide to help the dairyman."

The Premier's brief had been prepared at Brantford, Mr. Peck stated. He himself had listened to the right hon. gentleman's speeches both there and at Peterborough, and he admitted that Mackenzie King had made out for his policies the best possible case. "But I heard nothing to justify another term," declared Mr. Peck. Mr. King had denied the existence of unemployment and depression. "What are you going to

PLAN COMFORT ON C.P.R. TRAINS

All New Equipment to be Fitted With Rubber Shock Absorbers.

LESSEN NOISES.

MONTREAL, July 8.— Successful experiments have been concluded by mechanical experts of the Canadian Pacific Railway, under the direction of H. S. Bowen, chief of motive power and rolling stock, in the use of a specially manufactured rubber product as shock-absorber and noise eliminator on both passenger and freight equipment. All C.P.R. equipment constructed this year is fitted with this new article. High quality composition rubber and steel pads, specially manufactured by a British firm, are placed on the car trucks wherever the motion of the car causes metal to come into contact with metal. Such sources of noise and jars, chief among which are the side bearings, centre plates, buffer stems and coupler shanks, are all being silenced by this recently-discovered shock and noise absorber.

Noise caused by the car trucks passing over bridges, cross-overs and switches is effectively muffled in this manner, and another great source of noise and shock, caused by the constant motion of the car couplers and buffer stems between two cars, is dealt with effectively.

TWO TOURISTS DROWN

BALA, Ont., July 8 (C.P.)—A double drowning occurred at Black Lake on the Gibson Reserve near here yesterday, it became known to-day. The victims were John S. Roll, 23, and Lionel White, 22, of Pittsburg, Penn. Their bodies were recovered several hours after by Indians working nearby.

Storm Does Heavy Damage Over West

WINNIPEG, Man., July 8 (C.P.)—An electrical storm, accompanied by hail and winds of cyclonic force, swept a wide stretch of territory from Manitoba to Alberta last night and early this morning.

Heavy damage to crops, farm buildings and communication services was reported, and for a time, Winnipeg was isolated from the West when the storm headed eastward, struck Brandon, causing havoc to telegraph services.

TO HELP CANADA IS KING'S SLOGAN

Premier Believes Western Provinces Should Stretch to Arctic.

WISHES UNITY FIRST.

(By Ray Brown, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.)

VICTORIA, B. C., July 8. — A crowded theatre and an overflow meeting in the Chamber of Commerce, faced Premier Mackenzie King here last night. The Royal Victoria Theatre was filled before Mr. King arrived, and those turned away were directed to the Chamber of Commerce.

He wanted, said Premier King, in opening his address, to deal with an issue which was one of the most important, not only to Canada, but to all the Empire. He wished that the electors could divest themselves of political bias and consider the great matter which he proposed to discuss merely from the point of view of Canada's good and the good of the British Empire.

The all-important matter was trade development.

"To my mind, the first duty of a government is to bring about unity in a country," said Mr. King.

This had been the view of his government, and therefore upon attaining power he had gone ahead to redress grievances in various parts of Canada. The claims of the Maritime Provinces had been dealt with, and he believed that the Maritimes had never been more happy and prosperous than they were to-day. The natural resources had been returned to the three Prairie Provinces and this week the transaction would be completed. Even now necessary legislation was passing through the British Parliament.

And finally the claims of British Columbia to the lands in the railway belt and the Peace River block had been recognized and these lands given back to the Pacific coast province. And, said Mr. King, in every case the government continued paying the subsidy which it had given in lieu of the resources. Another thing remained to be done in connection with the Western Provinces. He proposed to suggest to his colleagues in the Cabinet that the government take up immediately the question of including the great stretches of northern country within Provincial boundaries. "My own opinion," said Mr. King, "is that the Western Provinces should stretch up to the Arctic. Thus we would be rolling back the map of Canada to the region of the Northern Lights."

BENNETT SCORES COAL IMPORTING

Tory Leader Speaks in Heart of Maritime Coal and Steel District.

WILL BOOST INDUSTRY.

(By Thomas Green, C.P. Staff Correspondent.)

SYDNEY, N.S., July 8.—In the heart of the steel and coal district of the Maritimes, Hon. R. B. Bennett spoke last night. Here the Conservative Leader spoke at a late hour, and earlier at Glace Bay.

"Yonder," the Opposition chieftain declared, "is the great steel industry. What has happened in the last eight years? Receivership, reorganization, slackening of employment and no present likelihood of an improved situation under the present Government," Mr. Bennett went on: "We sent a million dollars a day to the United States for iron and steel products. How many tens of thousands of American workmen are living on Canadian money to-day?"

Coal Industry

Touching upon the coal industry, Mr. Bennett exclaimed: "What we want to do is to back this industry with all the might and power of the Canadian people." He referred to the appropriation made at the initiation of the Government last session of $10,000 to investigate the possibilities of fuel in Nova Scotia. "Why," the Opposition Leader remarked, "$10,000 would not pay the salary of one scientist. It is an act such as would be laughed out of court."

He deprecated the large importations of coal from the United States, amounting to $50,400,000 for one year, coke from the American Republic to an annual amount of $6,500,000 and the sending of more than $300,000,000 annually to the same country for iron and steel products.

Losses Computed

"Do you know," Mr. Bennett proceeded, "how much you lost in this Island of Cape Breton, according to the best computation, because of irregularities in employment in a year?" Since the King Government came into power there was lost through irregularities of employment about $40,000,000. The Dominion Leader condemned the tariff attitude of the Liberal Government since 1921, and criticized the importations of Russian coal and United States coke now being advertised for sale in Canada.

DR. A. MOIR SAYS DUFFUS WORTHY OF CONFIDENCE

Liberal Candidate Holds Meeting at Braley's School, North Monaghan.

QUOTES COL. COCKSHUTT.

National Debt Has Been Reduced While Ontario's Debt Doubled Speaker Says.

"I consider that we are exceptionally fortunate in West Peterborough in securing a candidate like J. J. Duffus," said Dr. A. Moir at Braley's school in North Monaghan last night. "His integrity is beyond question, and that is a most important feature. If we have such men at Ottawa we cannot go far wrong in our national affairs.

Mr. Duffus was brought up on a farm in this county, and since coming in to Peterborough he has always been connected with farm interests. He has built up a large business in Peterborough, and has proved his ability as a business man. He has been an alderman and mayor of this city, and has taken an active part in many community services. In all these matters he has discharged his duties with efficiency. In Mr. Duffus we have a representative of whom we will be proud and who will look after the interests of Peterborough in the best way possible. It is a great pleasure to me to come here and speak for him tonight, because he is our candidate and also because we are proud of the record of the government of Mackenzie King."

Dr. Moir stated that the record of the King government was not excelled by any other government since Confederation, and he did not think it had been equalled. The last seven or eight years have been the most prosperous Canada has ever experienced.

Dr. Moir declared that one of the outstanding successes of the Liberal administration was the upbuilding of the Canadian National Railway system from a heavy liability upon the people of Canada when Mr. King took office to an asset today estimated to be worth $200,000,000. The appointment of the Tariff Board to investigate from a non-partisan standpoint all applications for tariff changes was another accomplishment Dr. Moir emphasized.

Quotes Col. Cockshutt.

Reviewing the tariff history of Canada the speaker dwelt upon the Dunning budget which he said was the most important of all the tariff changes and the central issue of this campaign. As an evidence of its possibilities Dr. Moir quoted the following Canadian Press Des-

Detroit Chair Factory Owners Slain While Cleaning ing Car.

GUNMEN ESCAPE.

Third Double Murder Inside Week—May Have Been in Racket.

DETROIT, July 8.—Two brothers were shot to death by gangsters yesterday while they were working on their automobile in the yard of a gasoline station at Mount Elliott and Mack Avenues. The two gunmen escaped in an automobile in which two other men had waited for them.

The victims of the shooting—the third double slaying in Detroit since last Thursday—were Joseph and Samuel Gaglio, who have been operating a chair factory.

Witnesses of the slaying pursued the gunmen, but lost the trail after a few blocks. The men were in a car bearing license plates issued to a man living in River Rouge.

Joseph Gaglio, who was 32 years old, came to the United States from Italy a number of years ago. He was arrested a number of times on various charges, but was never convicted.

Samuel Gaglio arrived here from Italy two months ago. Detectives of the Black Hand squad said neither was known in the city's underworld. The only indication that they might be connected with a racket lay in the fact that bankbooks found in their clothes showed daily deposits ranging from $10 to $150 over a considerable period of time.

Ontario Completes Party Nominations

TORONTO, Ont., July 8 (C.P.)—All party nominations for Ontario's 82 constituencies in the forthcoming Dominion election, have been completed. Official Liberal candidates total 80 with one unofficial candidate running. There are 82 official Conservative candidates and four unofficial.

Of the other parties there are two Communists, one U.F.O. and one Progressive.

Three-cornered contests will not be as numerous as early developments indicated. Only five ridings remain where three-cornered battle loom as probable. These are Carelton, Lambton East, Fort William, Nipissing and Lanark.

Care is Asked in Trimming Trees By Water and Light Commission.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 8 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—The regular meeting of the Campbellford Town Council was held last night in the Public Library, Mayor C. H. Davidson in the chair. Those present were Reeve J. M. Bygott, Deputy-Reeve J. N. Stone, and Councillors H. N. Carr, W. S. Wiggins, J. R. Batisby and J. O'Sullivan.

The correspondence included a letter from the Associated Quality Canners, Ltd., of Toronto, in regard to the establishment of a cannery in Campbellford, and asking the town for information in respect to locations and labor with a view to a survey of the district. Councillor Carr stated that he had replied to this communication and the matter was filed.

Another communication came from C. Payne, lawyer, of Belleville, in regard to the conviction of two young men by the Campbellford magistrate under the Liquor Control Act, last May.

A request was made on behalf of one of the convicted persons that the fine be refunded as the conviction was illegal. This letter, on motion, was tabled.

Tax Exemption.

C. O'Keefe, of the St. Lawrence Hall Hotel, appeared before the Council, asking for an exemption of the business tax. This had been granted to the previous owner on condition that the toilets were open to the public.

HIGH TARIFF IS NOT SOLUTION CRERAR SAYS

Will Only Make More Unemployment As It Is In United States.

DAIRY INDUSTRY GROWING.

Claims Unemployment Disappear if Wheat Crop is Normal.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., July 8. (By Frank Flaherty C. P. Staff Writer)—Unemployment and New Zealand butter are the only two issues the Conservative party has been able to find in the present election campaign, Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Railways and Canals, said here last night. The Conservative solution of the unemployment problem was a high tariff which would make more unemployment as it was doing in the United States. The New Zealand butter issue was ineffective because the dairy industry had expanded rather than declined since the treaty came into effect. Moreover, the Liberal Government planned to revise the Treaty this fall.

First Speech in East

It was the first political speech Mr. Crerar had made in Eastern Canada since his entry into the King Government. The former members of the Union Government and Leader of the Progressive Party said he had no apologies to make for the Government of which he was a member. Its financial police had led to the reduction of the national debt and its fiscal policy had enabled Canada to avoid the more serious depression which now prevailed in the United States and other countries.

A great deal of the unemployment in Central and Western Canada Mr. Crerar attributed to the small wheat crop last year and its failure to reach the markets. If there was a normal wheat crop this year unemployment would disappear he predicted.

The proposal of the Government in connection with unemployment, he went on, was to call a conference of all Provincial Governments, municipalities, railway and construction companies. This conference would be held this fall and would consider practical means of meeting not only the present situation, but any future situation.

MRS. FAIRBURN DIES SUDDENLY

Lakefield Woman Passes Away While Attending Bridal Shower For Daughter.

FROM HEART ATTACK.

LAKEFIELD, July 8. (Examiner Correspondence) Mrs. Richard Fairburn, aged 50, was seized by a heart attack last evening at her home on Prospect street which resulted a few minutes later in her death. A bridal shower for her daughter, Frances, who was to marry Arthur R. Boyce within a few days, was in progress in the house at the time. The Ladies Aid of Regent Street United Church were giving the shower, and Mrs. Fairburn had appeared to be in her usual good health and spirits when she welcomed the ladies in her home.

The deceased was born in Smith Township, the daughter of Frank Pearson, who is a resident of Lakefield. She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Hilliard McCracken and Frances; a step son, Clarence Fairburn; and two brothers, Frank and George Pearson.

The funeral will be held from the family residence at 2.30 Wednesday afternoon to the Lakefield cemetery.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

CRERAR TO BROADCAST

The Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Railways, will deliver an address in the Armouries at Simcoe, on Wednesday evening, July 9th, from 9 to 10 p.m. Standard time, 10 to 11 p.m. Eastern Daylight Saving Time, which will be broadcast over an Ontario-wide chain of radio stations.

Mr. Crerar in addition to having the Portfolio of Railways is probably the best informed man on the grain situation with its effect on the industries and employment in Canada.

His speech will be broadcast over the following stations: CNRO, Ottawa; CFRB and CFCA, Toronto; CJGC, London; CFCO, Chatham.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, July 8. — Values in wheat cracked yesterday under the strain of adverse week-end advices. At the close of the Winnipeg market quotations were down 1⅞c to 2¼c, the widest break in several days. Apathy of overseas buyers, coupled with weakness at Chicago and Liverpool, occasioned the recessions. Only December finished above the dollar, and that future by only ¼c to ⅜c.

Trading in cash grains was very small. Interest in spot wheat and coarse grains was light, and business was confined virtually to a few scattered cars of low-grade feed oats for domestic use.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 8—Thousands of carloads of wheat arriving from the harvest fields and piling up the visible supply sent wheat values downward yesterday. Receipts of wheat at 10 points in the Southwest yesterday totalled in excess of 5,000 cars, and the domestic stock of wheat in sight piled up a 3,478,000 bushel increase for the week, with virtually no wheat taken by exporters during the last three days. Wheat prices reached fresh low-price records, and also oats.

The wheat market closed nervous at but little over the day's bottom figures, 2¼c to 2⅞c a bushel lower than Thursday's finish. Corn closed ⅞c to 1⅝c down; oats, ⅞c to 1¼c off, and provisions varying from 20c decline to a rise of 15c.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, July 8—Prices of oats were reduced 2 cents per bushel on the Montreal cash grain market yesterday.

Butter, cheese and old potatoes were higher in price, while eggs and new potatoes were steady. Trading in all lines was rather quiet.

The butter market was ¼c higher than the close of last week, being 27c for Eastern Townships No. 1 pasteurized creamery, wholesale. Prices to retailers were unchanged. Receipts were 617 boxes.

Cheese was advanced, following the higher country boards over the week-end. Receipts were 2,928 boxes. Asking prices for Ontario cheese were 16¼c to 16⅜c per lb., compared with 16 at the close, while dealers were asking 15½c to 15⅝ for Quebec cheese, ⅛c higher than last week.

Old potatoes were advanced 15c to 25c for 90 lbs. in bulk, the new price being $2.00. There was an insufficient supply of old potatoes to meet demand. New potatoes were unchanged. New potatoes from the Montreal district were bringing $2.50 per 80-lb. bag.

patch from Monday's papers:

"Montreal, July 6.—'Of $8,000,000,000 worth of imports into the various componenet parts of the Empire only $2,500,000,000 comes from countries within the Empire,' said Colonel W. F. Cockshutt of Brantford, former Conservative M.P. to reporters when he arrived here on the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of York, on his return from the Congress of the Federated Chambers of Commerce of the British Empire, which concluded in London recently.

'With such stupendous figures facing us, there is no wonder that I appreciated the honor of seconding the resolution concerning intra-Empire trade that made such an impression at the meeting" he said Out of five days of discussion, two were devoted to this topic.

"If, by any means we could keep only 25 per cent of that five and a half billions now going to foreign countries within the bounds of the Empire, it would make an enormous difference to the economic situation of the Empire,' Colonel Cockshutt said."

Less Unemployment In Canada

When Mr. Peck says that unemployment is the chief question in this election he is really paying a compliment to the King government, for Canada is suffering less from unemployment than practically any other country in the world. Recent statistics show that in Canada there is only 8 per cent unemployment as compared with 14 per cent in Great Britain and 21 per cent in the United States. Mr. Bennett tells us that the remedy is higher tariffs, but the United States with one of the highest tariffs in the world has 21 per cent unemployment to only 8 per cent in Canada; so that argument falls down badly. The financial condition in the United States is not so good as our own.'

Dr. Moir quoted the following figures for 1922 the last year of the Conservative government under Hon. Arthur Meighen and the last fiscal year under Mackenzie King: The total exports in 1922 were $754,000,000 and for 1930 the total is $1,145,000,000; the Federal government's expenses in 1922 were $463,500,000 and for the last year $402,000,000.

"In other words," said Dr. Moir, "it would have required 61 per cent of our exports in 1922 to pay the tax bill of the country as compared with less than 36 per cent for 1930.

The total value of manufactured goods in 1922 was $2,482,000,000 and $3,769,000,000 in 1928.

Compares Governments.

The King government reduced the national debt by $258,00,000 and at the same time reduced the federal taxes, but during the same time the debt of the province of Ontario has doubled and is $450,000,000 today, or $150 for every man, woman and child in this province. At the same time the taxes in Ontario have been going up. The Ferguson government last year with a revenue of $64,000,000 added $30,000,000 to the debt of the province."

Dr. Moir quoted what he described as the optimistic statement of S. H. Logan, general manager of the Bank of Commerce, including the following index of Canada's position among the nations of the world: First in the production of wheat; second in the amount of manufacturing; second in hydro-electric generation; third in the production of gold and silver; third in the production of paper and aluminus; fourth in the production of copper and lead; fifth in the production of rubber; sixth in the production of zinc.

What Ferguson Said.

"Premier Ferguson speaking Sept. 19 last said there was no more prosperous section in any part of the work." Dr. Moir concluded. "Mr. Ferguson at that time stated the value of Ontario farm lands had increased from $400,000,000 in 1923 to more than $500,000,000 in 1928, and for the first half of 1929 the building records totalled $170,000,000. 'Will anyone say that we are not making rapid strides?' Mr. Ferguson asked seven months ago, but now he is trying to make it appear that this wealth and progress has suddenly disappeared."

The Candidate.

Mr. Duffus reviewed at length the record of the King government and explained the significance of the Dunning Budget which he said had been supported by three Conservatives in Parliament, and one of their representatives, he said, was actually supporting the Budget in this campaign.

"None of the Conservatives can point a finger at any member of the King government, nor at its financial record, its railway administration nor at the Tariff Board," said Mr. Duffus. "Manufacturers, bankers, the heads of the railways and financial concerns are deeply concerned about the success of the Dunning Budget."

Mr. R. T. Lillico was chairman of the meeting, and the Peterborough Cheerio Entertainers played a group of musical selections.

Tidbits, Interesting and Humorous
CAMPBELLFORD

The "Yanks" have come to town, house and all. So it appeared on Monday, when a Chevrolet car with a tin house surmounted, pulled into town enroute for a camping location. Bearing an Ohio number plate, it was the complete thing, with beds, a stove and pipes complete, and lots of accommodation.

The garden party staged by Christ Church last Thursday netted in the vicinity of $210,00, a goodly sum, and one that speaks well for the efforts of the members of that congregation.

The Rev. Dr. W. J. Mark was a visitor to Peterborough on Friday, when he brought Mrs. Mark back with him from the hospital. Mrs. Mark is progressing favorably after a minor operation.

Mr. H. Nelson, warden of the United Counties, was a visitor to town on Monday.

Mr. J. C. Anderson leaves this week for Ottawa, where he will take a course in horse judging.

Mr. J. I. Adams, was a visitor to Trenton and Cobourg, last Friday.

During the months of July and August, the services at Christ Church will be shortened to one hour.

Mr. N. A. MacColl, local lawyer, will be absent from his office for the next ten days, while attending camp with the Northumberland Regiment.

Mr. John S. Wallace motored to Toronto on Saturday to meet two of his nieces from Francis, Sask., Miss Mildred Hay and Miss Ruth Hay, who will spend a vacation with him in town.

Mrs. Mary McArthur, of Rochester, N.Y., is spending the American holiday with her sister, Mrs. J. I. Adams.

A Conservative meeting is scheduled for Thursday of this week in the Committee Room, Turner Block, when Milton Maybee and Major Belford will address the gathering.

Visit Cloth Company's Plant and See Material in Making at Campbellford.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 8. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent.)—The weekly meeting of the Campbellford Rotary Club, under the presidency of H. N. Carr, was featured this week by the adjournment from the St. Lawrence Hotel to the Campbellford Cloth Company, Ltd., when under the direction of S. Sykes, superintendent of the plant, many of the club members were shown over the factory and saw cloth in the making.

Mr. Sykes ably explained the different processes that the material went through during the course of its manufacture, and discusses briefly upon the uses of the different machines and their method of employ.

This proved a very interesting visit and a change from the regular routine of the club program.

WALLACE BLOCK IS BEING RENOVATED

Part of Building Not Damaged By Fire Receives Attention.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 8. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent.)—With the completion of the exterior of that part of the Wallace Block that was destroyed by fire early this spring, it has now been decided to renovate the exterior of the balance of the stores in the block.

This includes the raising of the roof parapet wall to the height of the new section, and facing it to make it conform in appearance and design to the new building.

Work commenced on that section of the block that faces on Front Street, on Monday morning. The stores in this section of the building include; L. B. Glover, men's furnishings, J. L. Doherty, barber, the Vitali fruit store, and Simbrow Bros., ladies' dress display. It is expected that the two stores on Bridge street that are not in conformity, the Haboco, and the old J. C. Birmingham hardware, will also receive attention.

A. H. McKeel, local contractor, is in charge of the work.

PIMPLES GONE
She's Beautiful Now

You girls who've given up all hope of ever clearing your skin of unsightly pimples—

Just see what a joyous surprise even one application of powerfully soothing and antiseptically healing Peterson's Ointment has in store for you.

Mild pimples disappear overnight and 3 days faithful treatment so magically clears the most eruptes skin of blackheads and pimples that you'll be positively amazed at your beautifully smooth, velvety soft complexion.

A 50c box proves it—all druggists.

Miss Emma Butler writes: 'I have always been troubled with pimples on my face. I saw Peterson's Ointment advertised so I got a box of it and in a few days my skin was clear and delightfully smooth — just like a school girl's."

Peterson's Ointment Co., Bridgeburg, Ont.

IS DUTY TO TELL OTHERS, SHE SAYS

MRS. BEATRICE BROOKS.

"The wretched health I endured the past three years seem almost like a 'nightmare,' but the improvement Sargon gave me is simply marvelous. "The misery I went through with rheumatic pains in my arms and lower limbs is hard to describe. I had terrific attacks of indigestion, my liver was so inactive I was always bothered with constipation, my nerves seemed right at the breaking point and my nights were restless and miserable. I made a special trip to town to tell of the remarkable results Sargon gave me, for I feel like it is my duty to others suffering like I did. Six bottles of this wonderful medicine corrected every last one of my ailments and built up and strengthened my whole system.

"I've never taken laxatives that worked as mildly and at the same time as effectively as Sargon Pills. They stimulated my liver and completely overcame my constipation."—Mrs. Beatrice Brooks, Sussex Court Apartments, Toronto.

Sargon may be obtained in Peterborough at Bond's Drug Store.

Moira Lake Yields Thirty Pound 'Muskie'

MADOC, July 8.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Tuesday, July 1, saw many anglers depart for the lakes and fishing grounds of North Hastings, and many are the reports of good catches, and excellent fishing luck.

Mr. Hugh Kellar caught a thirty pound lunge in Moria Lake and his son landed a smaller one.

Several good catches have been made, both in Upper and Lower Lakes, and those fishing in more northern waters are also reporting excellent catches.

CHAUTAUQUA'S SUCCESS.

It is generally agreed that this year's program of the Canadian Chautauqua was one of the finest ever presented here under similar auspices.

There will be a general hope that the financial returns of the enterprise were in keeping with the excellence of the fare offered by Chautauqua.

Public-spirited citizens who have worked long and faithfully to keep Peterborough on the Chautauqua circuit and give this city the benefit of the educational and entertaining features of the Chautauqua programs deserve general thanks.

Each year the institution makes new friends, and there is every reason to believe that on future occasions it will be possible to stage a Chautauqua week in Peterborough without too great a burden upon the time, energy and purse of such citizens as George A. Gillespie, who is rightly entitled to be known as the father of Chautauqua in this community.

MORE DEADLY THAN DIPHTHERIA.

"You newspapers seem to have nothing to talk about except automobile accidents," complains an Examiner reader, who seems to think that the press of the country is devoting too much attention to the question.

The Examiner has no apology to make for hammering away at the necessity of developing a greater measure of safety consciousness.

The seriousness of the automobile traffic situation is ample justification for the space given to the question by papers who feel a sense of responsibility to their readers.

Read these figures if you need any proof of the acuteness of the problem.

According to the New York State Department of Health, automobiles killed 18.3 persons per 100,000 population in New York City and in the rest of New York State 26.6 per 100,000.

Yet such a disease as typhoid fever in the same area caused a death rate of only 2 per 100,000, measles had a rate of only 7 per 100,000, and diphtheria's death rate was only 13.6 per 100,000.

In a word, the automobile traffic was ten times as deadly as typhoid fever and nearly twice as deadly as diphtheria.

Is it any wonder that newspapers continue to emphasize the need of better conditions?

GOOD BUSINESS.

The large number of American license markers noticed on Peterborough streets these days would seem to indicate that those who predicted a bigger influx of visitors than ever despite the depression across the border were not far off the mark.

These various State license numbers mean increased business for the merchants of the city and district, as well as for hotel and summer resort proprietors, restaurant keepers, owners of service stations and other people with services of various kinds to sell.

Many of the visitors are here for the first time; it would be good manners as well as good business to treat them courteously and to provide good service at reasonable prices.

Upon the impressions they form of this district a great deal will depend, for hospitable friendly treatment will mean not only their return in other years but it will ensure the coming of other visitors from their respective communities.

A few years ago a little party of visitors from a town in New York State, not much bigger than Peterborough, visited a Stoney Lake resort and they took back with them such glowing reports of their experience that last summer some sixty people from that one community spent their holidays at Stoney Lake.

It's good business to treat our visitors well.

NO RED TAPE HERE.

The Warren (O.) Chronicle, under the heading, "New Tourist Rules for Canada; Birth Certificate Now Demanded," publishes an article complaining of red tape added by the Dominion Government to the schedule of U. S. visitors.

As a matter of fact, there is nothing in the complaint, as the following wire received by E. A. Peck from the Deputy-Minister of Immigration clearly shows:

"Immigration regulations do not call for production of any special documents by tourists to secure entry in Canada from United States. Law provides for entry of this class. We welcome tourists from the United States and immigration officials extend all facilities and every courtesy possible."

The Ohio paper has been misled by instructions issued by the Canadian authorities, which not only tell tourists what to do on entering Canada but also advise them as to the procedure in re-entering the United States.

The reference to birth certificates, etc., is merely advice to the tourists so that they will have no difficulty in passing their own immigration offices in returning home.

So far as entrance into Canada is concerned American tourists will find as little difficulty as formerly and need fear no "red tape" on the part of Canadian immigration or customs officials.

FRUITS IN ONTARIO.

Do the people of Ontario require to import and use all the foreign fruits they consume? The answer of the best authorities is that they do not. Two or three articles have appeared in recent issues of the Sault Ste. Marie Daily Star discussing this subject from the angle that the people of the Province would be better off, as regards health, from using the fruits and vegetables grown here in their own climate.

There may be something in the opinion of medical men who say that people here would be the better for using the fruits and vegetables grown here in our own air and sun.

Apart from that there is, as our Soo contemporary says, every reason for absorbing in the home market those home productions which meet our needs. But there needs to be a much improved system of marketing, the curious fact being that, as regards apples, for instance, few are offered attractively to the public except those who have been shipped a thousand miles or so. Those to be offered for sale locally or semi-locally are tumbled up any old way and people can take them or leave them. Those that have come from a distance are daintily wrapped in paper and sorted in boxes. Possibly Ontario apples when shipped abroad are sorted and wrapped in that way, but they do not dress up for the home market. When one sees the display of fruits and vegetables at the Canadian National Exhibition and the Winter Fair in this city one feels that Ontario can compete with anything in the world.

The medicinal virtues of the orange have been advertised and boosted in all sorts of ways, and the peach and the apple of Ontario crowded out of place. The orange, however, is becoming a victim of its own popularity. It is being pulled off the tree too green in both California and Florida and too often the skin of the fruit when cut emits the odor of some wash used as a preservative. It seems to be assumed that every orange will be cut in half for its juice. It is not easy to get good oranges to peel and eat or slice. The orange is so popular a seller that the product does not have to be kept up to the mark. The green orange has crowded the ripe orange off the scene, although cold storage should have prevented this.

No doubt much progress has been made in the handling of fruit crops in the Niagara peninsula in recent years. But no doubt there is room and need for a lot more of it if Ontario is to hold her own as regards fruit.—Star Weekly.

JULY ELECTIONS.

Ever since the date of the election was announced, comments have been made on the unusual decision to hold it in July. The opinion has been expressed all over the country that an election in mid-summer, when so many people are away from home on vacation, will result in a much smaller vote than if it had been held at any other time of the year. In this connection, the Stratford Beacon-Herald has been doing some interesting research work, and it has discovered that, since Confederation there have been very few summer-time elections.

The first two elections after Confederation were conducted on a system whereby voting was spread over a period of some weeks, the 1867 election dating from August 7 to September 20, and that of 1872 from July 20 to October 12. These years were the only ones in which there was a really close approach to a July election, and in only one year, 1896, was the election in June, the voting in that election being on June 23. April and May have been entirely overlooked in fixing election dates, for since 1867 there has never been a federal election in these months. There has been one in January, in 1874; one in February, in 1884; one in March, in 1891; one in August, in 1878; two in September, in 1911 and 1926; two in October, in 1908 and 1925; two in November, in 1900 and 1904, and two in December, in 1917 and 1921.

This record shows that Prime Ministers have shown a great partiality for the fall months, and have, as a rule, steered clear of the summer vacation season. This will make the voting on July 28 all the more interesting from the standpoint of the percentage of the possible vote polled.—Oshawa Times.

HECKLING PUBLIC MEN.

Out in the "wide open spaces" where "men are men," Mr. Mackenzie King is being severely heckled. So tumultuous did this become at Calgary on Thursday night, or so tempestuous did it sound to the Premier, Mr. King threatened to abandon his speech. Said he wouldn't go on.

Perhaps most of our public men, including Premier King, are not used to real heckling. Don't quite know how to cope with it. The reason is that Canadian politicians are rarely subjected to the withering cross-fire that is directed at election speakers in England. Heckling, in England, and for that matter in Ireland, has been reduced to an art. They used to heckle Gladstone and Disraeli; they mercilessly heckle Lloyd George, Winston Churchill, Ramsay MacDonald, Mr. Baldwin. Often as not they get back more than they give.

"Where is my loose-tongued friend now?" asks Lloyd George, driving home a point.

"I'm right here."

"I don't think you're quite all there," shoots back "L. G.," and the heckler subsides.

A turnip is hurled at Tim Healy, falls upon the platform at his feet.

"My friend down there has lost his head," says Tim, solemnly, picking up the turnip.

"Why should I pay an education tax?" shouts a grimy-faced miner at Winston Churchill.

"For the same reason that you pay a water tax—though you don't seem to use that," comes back Winston; and the crowd roars.

So it goes, all through a British campaign; a cut and slash of repartee and debate, with nobody allowed to "get away" with anything, and mere hollow verbosity smitten unmercifully by the hecklers.

It is not a wholly bad thing. For one thing it is a check upon the politician with a propensity for meaningless platitudes, likewise a terror for the politician who is glib with half-truths.

There is, of course, a limit. Nobody wants to have a public man, and least of all a Prime Minister, subjected to interruptions that interfere with free speech. But, on the other hand, politicians should not consider themselves sacrosanct, above being challenged by a citizen. Respect for authority and high position is one thing; dumb acquiescence in platform nonsense is quite another.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

If these big fish stories continue to crowd in, how is anybody going to get interested in elections?

Going over Niagara Falls in a barrel is a type of suicide that the authorities on both sides of the line should assist in suppressing.

A real patriot is the fellow who stays indoors these nights and listens to both parties' campaign speeches over the radio.

Road and water took another heavy toll in Ontario over the week-end. The lesson of being careful evidently has not yet been learned.

Letter-carrier service commenced in Sudbury yesterday just in time to let the electors get their election propaganda conveniently.

After all the possibility of war in India is a queer issue to cut any figure in a Canadian election. Have some of the campaign orators nothing better to talk about?—The Globe.

There are some grown men who can eat almost as much as a small boy.—Chicago Daily News.

A Thought

CONTROVERSY

I cannot fall out or condemn a man for an error, or conceive why a difference of opinion should divide affection; for controversies, disputes and argumentations, both in philosophy and in divinity, if they meet with discreet and peaceable natures, do not infringe the laws of charity. In all disputes, so much there is of passion, so much there is of nothing to the purpose; for then reason, like a bad hound, spends upon a false scent, and forsakes the question first started. And this is one reason why controversies are never determined for though they are amply proposed, they are scarce at all handled; they do so well with unnecessary digressions, and the parenthesis is often as large as the main discourse upon the subject.—Sir Thomas Browne.

What To-day Means To You

"CANCER"

If July 8 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to noon, 4 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. to 9:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 5:30 a.m. to 7 a.m. and 1 p.m. to 2 p.m.

Better astrological influences will make the world take on a brighter aspect for you on this date. Nearly everything that you touch will flower. The birth of a new and profitable idea, which must not be discarded—work for its development! Personal relationships harmonious.

Children born on this July 8 will be very easily influenced by others, and until they reach years of discretion, they may easily be led into folly by wrong associates. They will be warm hearted, and generous—affectionate and demonstrative.

You have a very expansive, broad, liberal and magnanimous nature; a very strong individuality and character. You are not bound by the senses, you live more in the mind and higher emotions, the subjective world being of more importance to you than the objective. Reflection, thoughtfulness, and will-power are stronger than your desire and impulse. It is often difficult for the more material minded to understand your motives and actions, as you do not live on the same plane of development. You do not worry about the sins of the flesh. It is the sins of the soul that you combat. The gold in your heart is of the finest and purest. You are more interested in the laws of God and nature than in the laws of man.

You are too generous with money matters, so one hundred per cent honest, that you will probably never have large material accumulations—and you do not desire them. Although you are imaginative and allow your mind to dwell in your castles you can "come to earth," and do some clear concise thinking. You are methodical in your work, and it must be done well to satisfy your love nature, warm and sincere. It is more on a mental and spiritual plane than a physical one. It would make you very unhappy to be married to one of a grosser nature.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Brown and son of New Haven, Conn., are visiting relatives in the village. They have taken the Fitzgerald cottage at Sandy Point for July. Dr. Brown is a professor in Yale University.

Miss Theima Carveth of Kinmount is spending the vacation at her home in the village.

Miss Elsie Northey of North Smith was in the village last week visiting friends.

The picnic of the Canadian Legion held to Sandy Point on Tuesday, July 1, was a great success in spite of the showers which fell in the afternoon. The children had a delightful time at that "children's paradise", for Sandy Point is an ideal place for youngsters. The attendance was not as large as was hoped for but those present had a real good time.

Miss Alice Gallagher of Peterborough accompanied her grandmother, Mrs. E. E. Cox, to the village on Friday last.

THE GRINGO PRIVATEER

By PETER B. KYNE

CHAPTER 9.

To Burney presently came Art Graydon. "The king says him an' his guests will be honored if you start the fireworks on Geronimo," he announced solemnly.

"The king hath spoken," the victim remarked blithely. He picked up his saddle and walked out on the field where two cowboys were holding a big black gelding. He sighed. He had never known a good bucker that wasn't a black or a bay. As he approached, a mounted man rode up, drew Geronimo's head across his mount's neck and seized the outlaw by the ears, while another man blindfolded him. The horse submitted to saddling without unusual protest, and when he was ready to be mounted, Ken Burney turned to Art Graydon inquiringly.

"You ride him with the headstall an' halter shank," that grim individual informed him. "One arm free an' raised above your head at all times an' if you pull his head down so he can't buck proper you'll be disqualified. You scratch him forward on the first three jumps an' rearward on the next three: you don't claw leather an' you stay with him until the gun goes off an' the hazers pick him up."

"Association rules. I know them backwards. By the way, does His Majesty offer a prize for this?"

"Sure does, Smokey. Nothin' cheap about the big boss on the Fourth o' July. A hundred dollars special if you win, nothing if you lose—an' you pay your own hospital bill, if any?"

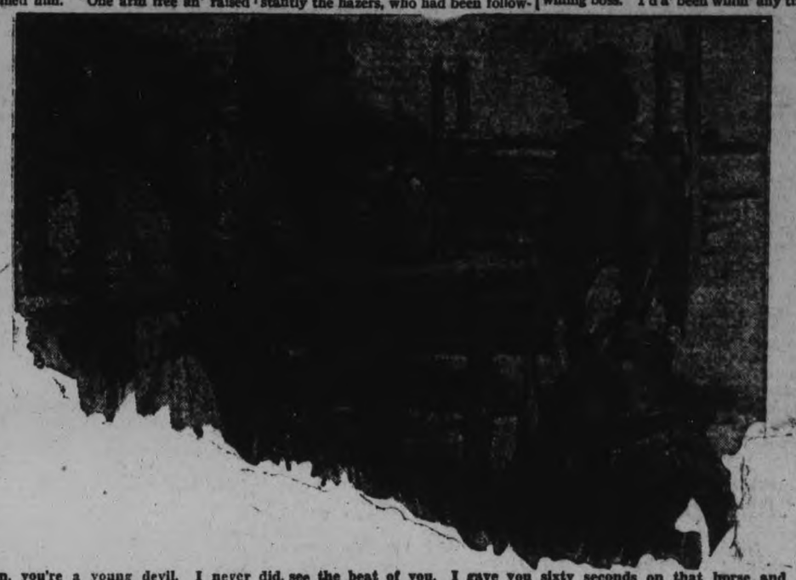
"A hundred dollars special prize, eh? Well, Mr. Graydon, you trot over, please, and tell the king I'm riding special—an exhibition ride for the sport of kings—and not in open competition. Say to him, please, that if I win I desire the prize to go to the pot as added money in the bucking contests to follow. Tell him the mail-order-cowboy is quite content to ride for a job."

Art Graydon immediately rode across to the king's bench and delivered the message. "There's a true-blue sport for you," Muriel Bardin cried, and applauded. But the king wrinkled his nose. "Grandstander playing to the gallery," he sneered. "He's pretty well convinced he'll be thrown, so he's saving his face and making a big I am of himself. I don't like his methods."

"How ungenerous of you, Dad," the girl charged. "You know very well Geronimo has never been ridden. Bet you a hundred dollars my known knight rides him to a bawling finish."

"Taken," said the king. Then Art Graydon blew a whistle and Ken Burney vaulted into the saddle. Instantly the blindfold was withdrawn and the show was on. Across the field the outlaw bucked madly, but the rider stayed, his right hand uplifted, his legs scratching three times forward and three times aft. Suddenly the horse changed his tactics and leaped sideways at least a dozen feet. That trick had never failed him previously, but strangely his rider swayed with him and stuck.

Promptly Geronimo tried sunfishing. Still pitching, he metamorphosed himself into an equine pin-wheel. But still his rider stuck—and suddenly, in rage and chagrin, Geronimo squealed—and commenced running, with only an occasional pitch—and the king nodded to Art Graydon, who fired his six-shooter. Instantly the hazers, who had been following the outlaw, ranged in alongside of him and picked him up; Ken Burney slipped from Geronimo's back to a seat behind the saddle of the near hazer and thence to the ground, where he stood for a moment weaving on his feet, slumped to his hands and knees, remained there a few seconds and then pitched forward on his face. But nobody paid any attention to him and in about three minutes he rose, stripped his saddle off Geronimo and started wearily to retire. But a shout from the king halted him; the kingly command to approach was evidenced by a peremptory arm signal.



"Son, you're a young devil. I never did see the beat of you. I gave you sixty seconds on that horse and ten would have been a passing mark."

With his saddle in hand Burney reported. "Son," said the king, "you're a young devil. I never did see the beat of you. I gave you sixty seconds on that horse and ten would have been a passing mark."

"Yes, it was fifty seconds too long, sir. You embarrassed the horse and me."

"A bit dirty of me, I admit. But you're on the payroll. Art Graydon has been over asking for you."

"I thank Your Majesty.

His Majesty glowered and would, in all probability, have scolded him for employing the kingly form of address had not Muriel interrupted. "Why didn't you remain for breakfast, Mr. Burney?" she demanded.

"If you will ask your father that question, Miss Muriel, he will answer it correctly," he replied. "And, by the way, Mr. Graydon has changed my name. Hereafter, I am to be known as Smokey."

He doffed his sombrero and turned away. "See what you've done to him," the girl charged the king quaveringly. "He's bleeding from each nostril and each corner of his mouth."

"So I observed," His Majesty replied carelessly. "These roughriders get more or less shaken up on occasion, but they get over it." His hand closed over his daughter's. "Honey, I've been a long time looking for that man," he whispered. "How badly I need men who aren't afraid to bleed in my service! An exhibition ride, eh? And he declined the hundred-dollar prize—with three dollars in his pocket. Something magnificent about that young man!"

"I'm sorry for him, Dad," said Muriel. "There's something pathetic about him, with all his bravado."

"Gentlemen down on their luck are always more or less pathetic," he reminded her.

The rodeo dragged on. At twelve-thirty the barbecue was served and Muriel saw her knight squatted on his heels on the outer fringe of the barbecue ground, gnawing industriously at a fat rib of beef. When her sympathetic nature suggested to her that she approach him and make polite inquiry as to his possible internal injuries, he rose and walked away to join a group of other riders, and her father, noting this, grinned maliciously at her. "His name is Smokey now," he reminded her. "He's out of your social circle now, my dear, and, consequently, out of your life."

She bit her lip and favored him with a glance of profound irritation, whereat he laughed, for well did he love a kingly jest.

In the afternoon, on his horse Rowdy, Ken Burney roped and tied a calf in sixteen and a quarter seconds and won first prize. Then he gave an exhibition of fancy roping and trick riding that won the plaudits of guests and competitors alike. And when the rodeo was over he found a vacant bed in the bunkhouse and retired, supperless, to collect his badly scattered internal economy and be prepared, at least to simulate earning his wages next day.

After dinner that night the king sent for Art Graydon to report at his castle. "Well, Art," he began without any verbal fencing. "What do you think of that dude cowboy, Smokey?"

"He'll make a top-hand, sir."

"What have the men got to say about him?"

"He's won their respect by proving he knows his business, and they like him because they suspected maybe he'd be a bit on the high an' mighty an' he ain't."

"That's good. Art, how old are you?"

"Fifty-six."

"You've been with the Bardin Land & Cattle Company since you were sixteen and you've spent the last twenty years on El Ranchito. It hasn't been an easy job."

"Well, it does seem to carry a lot more worries, lately, boss."

"That's because you're not so young as you used to be, and managing El Ranchito is developing into a young man's job. Art, you've got a wife and four children and it isn't to be presumed that you care to take the chances you used to grapple with as a single man. Kind of lonely here on El Ranchito, too," the king went on musingly. "Your children are getting to high school age and there isn't a high school in this country.

"Art, I'm going to divorce you from hard work and worry. You're assistant to the president of the Bardin Land & Cattle Company, which means that I'm going to shove half my job on to you. You'll reside in San Francisco and your job will be to drift around among the Bardin ranches, keep in touch with what they're doing, do some cattle buying attend to the land leases, make land appraisals—oh, there are any number of important jobs for you to do. Still, I want you to take it easy. Executives should let the other fellow do the hard work. Pack up as soon as you can and drag yourself and family out of here—at the Bardin expense."

Graydon favored him with a grateful glance and a deprecatory smile. "I'm willing boss. I'd a' been willin' any time since I turned the fifty post. Who're you going to put in my place—if that's any o' my business?"

"Your salary is raised five thousand a year, Art—forgot to mention that—and Smokey takes your place. I don't like that name Smokey. It fits his complexion but he isn't the sort of man to labor along under a familiar nickname. Hereafter his names is Mr. Kenneth Burney."

Art Graydon was amazed. "How long have you known this boy, boss? Somehow, I got the idea you never met him before last night."

"Which you're right, as usual, Art. I'm just playing a hunch that he'll do."

"Well jhe's got sand an' he can ride an' rope with the best. If he knows cattle—"

"Idon't give a hoot if he doesn't know a cow from a sheep. We've got old Martin Bruce to the north of us and Miguel Gallegos to the south of us and at least Burney knows that. He's got to get rid of those two hombres, in order to hold his job. He can't manage El Ranchito for me and operate in red ink, and he realizes he can never operate very deeply in blue ink while those two skunks continue to annoy us. By making him general manager, I automatically hand him a problem he's got to solve or quit. The job's worth fighting for, isn't it?"

Graydon nodded. "But, boss," he protested, "if he's a professional killer, why don't you just pay him for both jobs, after you're sure he's done them, and let him go? What's the sense makin' a killer your general manager?"

"We had a nice little rodeo to-day, didn't we?" said the King.

But Graydon was not to be sidetracked so easily. "Well I reckon you can pay for your pleasures," he began, but the king, with a winning smile, interrupted:

"How about a little sustenance, Art? One drink to the new assistant to the president and another to my new general manager of El Ranchito!"

Art Graydon subsided, for he knew that when the king had exhausted a subject he dropped it as if it burned him.

"By the way," the king continued, "where is my new general manager?"

"In the bunkhouse, I s'pose, sir."

The various departments of El Ranchito were connected by telephone, The king therefore, rang up the bunkhouse and got Tom Bledsoe, the riding boss, on the phone. "Tell that new man, Smokey, to report to me at my house immediately," he ordered.

"You'd better take him in hand tomorrow, Art," the king suggested, as he resumed his seat. "Tell him now you're running the ranch, explain your system to him, show him the map of El Ranchito and ride over the range with him and show him the boundaries. Put him on to all the details of your job for about two weeks. After you're gone he can continue to absorb information from the riding boss, Tom Bledsoe."

"I don't know as Tom's liable to be very communicative, boss. He's in line for promotion an' he's always had a hunch that when I moved on he'd get my job. Tom'll be right disappointed."

"At the present time the job is too big for him. After Ken Burney has ironed out the situation Tom can handle it, but not until then. You tell Tom to keep his nose clean and he'll get ahead in the world a whole lot faster."

UNEMPLOYMENT.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Re unemployment, no government can stop it, but there are two ways of doing it. The first and best way is birth control and the second is an eight hour day, or a six hour day and stop overtime.

Yours respectfully,
ARNOLD BILLINGSLEY.

Prime Minister MacDonald and his daughter, Ishbel, attended a special service in St. Giles Cathedral, Edinburgh, Scotland, in connection with the recent General Assembly of the Church of Scotland.

Comment on the morning stock markets over Biggar and Crawford wire:

Nothing happened over night to change the character of the New York market and the stocks in early dealings continued under influence of unfavorable trade factors. U. S. Steel, Westinghouse and other leaders were in supply at low levels. Air Reduction and Johns-Manville were exceptionally heavy. Before noon a distinct rally set in which carried pivotal issues above their opening prices. The volume was lighter than on Monday being down 8 per cent. in the first hour.

Trading on Toronto market was at low ebb again to-day with little change in prices. Canadian Pacific lost some of the gain registered while Int. Nickel, Brazilian and Noranda were fractionally lower. Tip-Top was the outstanding strong spot, gaining a point to $38½ on fair volume.

PRICES NEARING NEW LOW LEVELS

Issues Continue Their Slow Decline on Toronto Stock Exchange.

TIP TOP TAILORS STRONGER.

TORONTO, Ont., July 8. —The market on Toronto Stock Exchanges continued its slow decline this morning with prices scraping perilously near their low levels for the year. The decline was not accompanied by heavy liquidation, the volume remaining at the same low levels but Sellers were forceed to make concessions as prospective purchasers withdrew bids or else lowered their price as the commodity markets gave another unimpressive display at the opening.

Brazilian Traction, Nickel, Noranda, Gypsum, Ford of Canada, Service Stations and most of the foods lost less than a point, Brazilian selling just above 38 and Nickel slipping below 23. The oils were mostly unchanged as were the liquor stocks.

Slow buying of Tip Top tailors resulted in a further strengthening in that issue, the price reaching 38 to-day.

PRICE CHANGES ARE DOWNWARD

In Most Cases Changes Fail to Reach Important Proportions.

HOLLINGER IS OFF 10.

TORONTO, Ont., July 8. (C.P.)—Price changes on the mining market prior to noon to-day were practically all in a downward direction, though, in most cases, they failed to reach important proportions. Trading, largely characterized by scattered liquidation; was light throughout practically all parts of the list.

Nickel and Noranda were fractionally below last night's close, but Hudson Bay managed to hold unchanged. Teck Hughes, following the declaration of the regular quarterly dividend, gained 5 to $6.50 but Hollinger was off 10, Kirkland Lake gold 5 and Howey a couple. Lindsleys were a soft group, Sudbury Basin receding 9, and Falconbridge, Sherritt Gordon and Ventures 5 each.

Last week's strong members, Big Missouri and Oriole, were under pressure to-day: the former easing 5 to 60 and the latter 15 to 51. Pend Oreille dropped 7 to $1.05. and Abana and Amulet were off a point each. Waite-Ackerman which has been quietly moving up for the last day or so, gained another 15 to $1.71.

Ajax Oil came to line with renewed selling to-day, the price falling from $2.35 at the opening to $2.30, a net loss of 7. Calmont was off 5 to $1.05. Acme 3 to 45, and Nordon was merely holding at $1.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 8.—Stocks again drifted about on the feeble currents of the rather bored operations of floor traders and thefew professional operators who were not driven from Wall Street by the warm weather to-day.

With little character of their own, stocks were inclined to follow the trends in the leading commodity markets. A sag in cotton and wheat during the morning was accompanied by a substantial drop in share prices, but with the rally in the grain market during the early afternoon, stocks firmed up considerably. Activity in stocks afain dwindled to a mere trickle of orders.

Rail shares shows little response to the interstate commerce commissions granting of increased class rates on certain.

WOMAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., July 8 (Canadian Press). — Mrs. Harry Caldwell is being held by the city police on a charge of attempted suicide. Mrs. Caldwell was seized by employees of the Great Lakes Power Company as she was crawling through the railing of the bridge over the tailrace below the power house, at the spot where Annie Boychuk, a 15-year-old girl, committed suicide a month ago. The woman said she was only trying to "cool off."

NIAGARA MAN KILLED.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., July 8 (Canadian Press). — John W. Munn, 42, a resident of Niagara Township, near St. David's, was almost instantly killed an the Niagara Highway last night by a motor car driven by Percival Skinner, of St. Catharines. Brought to St. Catharines Hospital Munn was identified by papers in his pockets and pronounced dead. Coroner Jory will hold an inquest on July 17. The body will be taken to Hamilton for interment.

ASSETS OF BANKS SHOW DECREASE

Liabilities Also Reveal Decrease is Monthly Report.

CREDIT IS STRONGER.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 8. (C.P.) Decrease in the assets of Canadian Banks during the month of May of $45,838,462, and a decrease in liabilities of $40,837,333 are noted in the monthly bank statement issued by the Department of Finance here to-day. Assets in April 1930, totalled $3,275,932,394 and in May had dropped to $3,230,093,932. Liabilities in April amounted to $3,251,963,434, and in May they were $3,211,126,101.

Demand deposits decreased during the month under review from $644,067,699 to $574,067,632, a decline of $69,400,067; while notice deposits dropped by $8,686,812, from $1,441,141,712 to $1,432,425,960.

The credit to the Canadian banks in the central gold reserve rose from $43,780,866 in April to $45,680,866 in May.

TECK HUGHES REMAINS FIRM

Few Specialties Which Have Been Mainstay Show Some Liquidation.

MINING NEWS.

TORONTO, July 8 (Special to the Examiner.)—To the accompaniment of an almost entire absence of news, the Mining Market reflected softness on other exchanges and seasonal dullness in light turnover with selling predominating. The few specialties which have been the mainstay of the list for several weeks appear to be under some liquidation just at present, and the fraternity is now waiting patiently for activity to break out in a new place. The recent upward movements, generally conceded to be the result of professional interest, have been shortlived and indicate only a slight and nervous participation by the general trading public.

Teck Hughes was one of the few firm members of the list, the strength being largely due to the declaration of the regular quarterly dividend of 15 cents a share, payable August 1, to shareholders of record, July 17. The company is estimated to be earning in the neighborhood of 65 cents a share annually, and it is expected a substantial increase in the rate of profits should be realized when more higher grade from levels below the 1,000 is put through the mill some time this fall. Another advance is also anticipated when the additions to the mill are ready next spring.

According to reports from the north concentrator construction at the Abania mines progressing favorably, the question of profits from operations at this property is being discussed on the street, and while it is believed average grade of ore through out the mine could not be handled profitably at present, one of the higher grade shoots may be drawn upon at the outset, providing no change has taken place in the base metal market situation up to that time. Officials declare copper at 12 cents per pound may be handled profitably from this one shoot of limited size.

The placing of the new International Nickel smelter to treat Frood ores into operation merely two months ahead of schedule should have an immediate effect on the quantity of copper being produced in this province. Nickel will also show an increase, but the cutting down of shipments of ores of high nickel content to make way for the Frood metals will change the ratio of production of the two metals to some extent. It is stated production at present is at the rate of 90,000 tons of ore per month.

Early estimation Lake Shore production in June appear to indicate a record for the mine, unofficial forecasts placing it in the neighborhood of $83,000. Lake Shore's fiscal year ended June 30. Production in the first three quarters amounted to $4,575,000 to which approximately another $2,000,000 may have been added in the last quarter. Giving a total for the year of around $6,575,000. If their are no extraordinary write offs net profits after all charges may probably run close to $30,250,000 or $1.62 a share, compared with dividend requirements of $1.20. Last year's earnings were at the rate of $1.27 a share.

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, July 8 (C.P.)—Sir Joseph Ward, former Premier of New Zealand, who resigned a few weeks ago owing to ill-health, is dead.

Sir Joseph, who was known as "the Grand Old Man" of New Zealand, was 74 years of age.

Sir Joseph Ward resigned the Premiership on May 15, and was succeeded by Hon. G. W. Forbes, who was Minister of Lands.

TASCHEREAU SURPRISED.

QUEBEC, Que., July 8.—(C.P.)—On his return to Quebec from a holiday trip Premier L. A. Taschereau expressed surprise over a Washington despatch of July 3 which described certain recommendations made to the United States' Senate by the United States' Federal Trade Commission in regard to meeting competition from Canadian newsprintmills. Premier Taschereau declared: "I haven't been advised that such an increase in price as described in the despatch has been made.

ARTICLE LXIV.

Q.—What are the chief points to be considered in selecting Timber Bonds?

A.—The chief points to be considered in selecting timber securities are tabulated below.

1. The amount of the issue should not be more than one-third to one-half the market value of the timber.

2. The mortgage and trust deed must contain every kind of safeguard. The issue should be secured by a first mortgage on the timber, land, mill and equipment, railway, if any, etc. The titles to the property should be clear. The taxes and insurance must be paid. The company's books should be examined by outside auditors. The balance sheed and earnings should be favorable. The trust deed should restrict the cutting of timber in proportion to the sinking fund payments. The amount of money placed in the sinking fund per 1000 feet should well exceed the amount of the loan on same. This trustee should receive sworn statements monthly re cut and sinking fund payments.

3. As an investor can't as a rule examine these points himself, he should purchase such securities through a reputable house.

4. The company should be under a capable and honest management.

5. The timber must be in an accessible position and within the reach of a ready market. Timber on flooded lands or in rocky districts is often valueless. The actual amounts and varieties of timber should be checked up by expert cruisers. The timber should preferably consist of valuable trees.

6. The mill should be well situated so as to guarantee low operating expenses.

7. The timber should be well insured against loss by fire.

OXFORD BATSMEN PLAYING BETTER

Score is 170 For 6 Wickets Against Cambridge at Lord's.

MAKE NEW RECORD.

LONDON, England, July 8.—Oxford batsmen became steadied to-day in the first innings against Cambridge at Lord's, and at lunch time had brought their score up to 170 for 6 wickets. Cambridge yesterday were all out for 288.

When stumps were drawn last night Oxford were 68 runs for three wickets. The over-night not outs, Moore and Ford, put up 100 runs in an hour and a half batting on a good wicket in dull weather before a large crowd. Moore's was a patient innings lasting 2 hours and 25 minutes, while Ford was hitting with great style. They made a new record for a fourth wicket partnership in inter-Varsity cricket.

Moore, who scored 50, was caught by Rought-Rought and Ford, 53, by Human. Brown caught and bowled Melville for three runs. At lunch Garland-Wells and Hill-Wood were at bat.

GLOUCESTERSHIRE WINS

LONDON, Eng., July 8. (C.P.) — Gloucestershire defeated Hampshire by 241 runs in their county cricket match at Gloucester ended to-day. Surrey won from Yorkshire by an innings and 22 runs at Sheffield. Sussex defeated Kent at Folkestone by two wickets.

PASSES 288 SCORE

LONDON, Eng., July 8. (C. P. Cable).— Oxford University to-day passed the 288 scored by Cambridge yesterday in the first innings of the 92nd Inter-Varsity cricket match at Lords. The Oxford team were all out for 314 runs. Cambridge then went to bat in their second innings.

LOST CARRIER PIGEON.

NORTH BAY, Ont., July 8.—(C.P.) —Seemingly strayed from its intended course, a carrier pigeon flew into the office on the local branch of the Department of Mines last evening.

It was made a "jail bird" when turned over to the city police. The bird wears a leg-band with the inscription August 29, D-4624.

THEODORE DEMANDS GOV'T LAY FORMAL CHARGE AGAINST HIM

Resigned Queensland Treasurer Wishes Chance to Defend Himself.

BACKED BY LABOR PARTY.

CANBERRA, Anstralia, July 8 (C.P. Cable via Reuter's).—A scene of intense drama was witnessed in the Federal House of Parliament to-day when Hon. E. G. Theodore, who resigned as Federal Treasurer following charges of a Royal Commission against his former administration of Queensland; made a clear-cut statement in defense of his honour.

A former miner who became active in Labor affairs and entered the political arena in 1909, at the age of 25, Hon. Mr. Theodore was intensely earnest as he made his stand to-day. He demanded the present Queensland Government to make a formal charge against him, or else in some way enable him to appear before some unimpeachable tribunal to defend himself against "calumnies and doubtful charges."

Kept Hands Clean

"If I am guilty I am unworthy of membership in this House. If I am innocent, I am entitled to a name clear from tarnish," declared Mr. Theodore. "I have given half my life to public service. I have maintained exalted ideals and kept my hands clean from anything unworthy of my position of trust."

The present situation has monopolized the attention of all Australia. A Royal Commission appointed by the present Queensland administration investigated the purchase of the Mungana Mines by the former Theodore State Ministry, and declared there were evidences of fraud and dishonesty. Hon. Mr. Theodore, W. M. McCormack, another Labor State Premier; Peter Goddard, mines manager, and Goddard's associate, Fred Reid, were mentioned in the report. The mines have caused the State of Queensland a loss of at least $5,000,000.

The Labor Party, industrially and politically, is solidly in support of Hon. Mr. Theodore. He entered the Commonwealth Parliament in 1927 and became Treasurer when the Labor Party was victorious in last year's general elections.

TENNIS WINNER SAILS FOR HOME

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody Well Pleased With Wimbledon Tournament.

CARRIES ONE CHAMPIONSHIP

LONDON, July 8 (C.P.) — Mrs. Helen Wills Moody to-day ended a successful tennis tour of Europe, when she sailed homeward from England with the Women's Wimbledon Singles Championship and a share in the Women's Doubles Crown.

Mrs. Moody was presented with two gold medals, at the station, by the vice-president of the British Lawn Tennis Association.

"English tennis is improving," Mrs. Moody asserted. "You did not win any titles at Wimbledon but that was just bad luck," she told a London newspaper interviewer.

"I always enjoy Wimbledon more than any other tournament and my final match against Elizabeth Ryan was splendid. I tried to get her into the American Wightman Cup team but, as you know, I could not manage it."

Mrs. Moody said her lawn tennis plans for the next year were not settled. "I never plan that far ahead, she declared. "I want to come over again next year and probably shall."

NEW COLLEGIATE ADDITION.

NORTH BAY, July 8. (C.P.) — Concluding negotiations which have been in progress between the City Council and the Collegiate Board for more than two years, the former body last night passed a bylaw authorizing the issuance of debentures for the amount of $285,000 with which to build a technical branch to the Collegiate Institute on the composte bass.

FRANK SMITH IS REMANDED.

TORONTO, Ont., July 8 (C.P.). — Frank M. Smith, brought here from New York City after a lengthy battle against extradition, to face ten charges of fraud and 25 charges of theft and receiving, was remanded until July 16 when he appeared in Police Court to-day. Following his arrest over a year ago, Smith jumped his bail of $30,000 and fled to New York, where he was re-arrested.

ELECTION LOOMS IN NEW ZEALAND AS PREMIER DIES

Only General Reluctance On All Sides Apparently Prevents Action.

LIBERALS SHAKY.

During Last Months Sir Joseph Able to Act Only in Advisory Way.

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, July 8. (C.P.) — Death having completely removed from the scene one of the strongest political figures New Zealand has ever known, Sir Joseph Ward speculation turned to-day on the prospects of another general election.

The United Liberal party under Premier G. W. Forbes, remains in office by virtue of Labor and Independent support, against aggressive opposition of the Reform party under former Premier J. G. Coates. Only general reluctance on all sides apparently prevents a new election.

Sir Joseph was 72 years of age in 1928, when believing he had written finish to a long and active political life, he went on a holiday in Canada. But the newly formed United Liberal party made a good showing in the elections of that autumn, and he was offered, and accepted, the party leadership. This turned into the premiership after he had returned and the Coates government had been overthrown.

Illness Prevents Activity.

His last term as Premier was far different from that of the active six years he spent in that post, from 1906 to 1912. Age and infirmity combined to cut his activities to the minimum. For the last few months in fact he was able to do little more than act in an advisory capacity, furnishing freely of his mature wisdom and experience to his younger and more energetic cabinet colleagues. For weeks at a time, ill-health forced him to leave the capital for the Rotorua resort.

A few weeks ago Sir Joseph found the burden too heavy and resigned the premiership, the mantle falling on G. W. Forbes, Minister of Lands. Sir Joseph had been in politics for 43 years and had at one time or another held almost every post in the cabinet. He had represented New Zealand on the Imperial War Cabinet in the critical months of 1917 and 1918.

$20,000 Damage Done To Business Block

OWEN SOUND, Ont., July 8 (Canadian Press). — Fire damage to the extent of about $20,000 was caused by a blaze which completely destroyed a shoe store, a pool room, and a tobacco store at Wiarton shortly after 2 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

The fire was discovered by some tourists who drove into the town, and soon the whole town was aroused, and it was only the great work of the volunteer Fire Brigade which prevented the destruction of the main business section.

Mr. and Mrs. Hahan, owners of the tobacco store, escaped with difficulty through the back sheds over the roofs, and Chief of Police Shute succeeded in getting other occupants of the buildings safely out of danger.

INJURED PILOT MAKING STRUGGLE FOR LIFE

CAMP BORDEN, Ont., July 8 (C.P.)—Provisional Pilot C. D. Pooler, Woodroffe, Ont., is making a "magnificent fight" for life at the Camp Borden Hospital, authorities there stated to-day. Pooler is still in a critical condition from injuries received yesterday from an airplane collision in which Provisional Pilot E. W. Sorensen, New Westminster, B.C., was killed.

Pooler's parents and sister arrived at his bedside to-day.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND BRIEFS

A SPECIAL SERVICE TO THE EXAMINER

TORONTO, July 8. (Special to the Examiner.)—Comparative calm prevailed on the local market in the forenoon to-day with prices slipping fractionally below those of the previous close and the volume very light. The Toronto Exchange is working under several handicaps. The weakness in Wall Street, the decline in commodity prices and the general attitude of the public is not conducive to active trading and strengthening of prices. However, all the liquidation that has taken place in the past few months has been absorbed but at price recessions only. This denotes investment buying and the accumulation of speculative holdings that had followed all other reactions is absent on this occasion. Speculators can find no encouragement at present and are on the sidelines leaving the market to those who are investing their funds more or less permanently for the income return and the hope that capital appropriation will follow in due course. With money 7% carrying charges mount rapidly and there is no inducement to take on commitments on the long side that may have to be carried for months before an opportunity is afforded for profit. Canadians are adverse to operating on the short side of the local market and although the short interest has increased somewhat it is still negligible and amateur rather than professional. Selling is coming more from tired holders than from short operations and purchasing by investors is gradually depleting the floating supply of the better type of securities.

Shareholders of merchandising organizations need not be disappointed if the next months should witness a decline in the dollar volume of sales. For the year to date sales of chain stores compare very favorably with those for 1929, but the drop in commodity prices simply means that the unit volume will have to be increased if the dollar volume is to equal that of 1929. A drop in the dollar volume of sales does necessarily mean lower earnings. Take for instance, the candy manufacturer who has standardized the price of his product.... Yet has the benefit of lower prices for sugar, chocolate, etc. The grocery chains have increased their sales fairly well in the first six months of the year and all have effected economies in operation that should permit of a profit ratio to gross sales equal to that of former years. Lower prices for a great many commodities has resulted in increased demand and as the merchandise handled in staple and essential there should be no great falling off in sales for the balance of the year.

HORTICULTURIST STAYING IN CITY

R. G. Kneller, Son of Sir Frederick Kneller, Finds Himself Without a Job.

LANDSCAPE GARDENER.

Buffeted about on the sea of circumstance, R. G. Kneller found a temporary haven at the Y.M.C.A., here last evening, having cruised all over the Dominion in search of employment and despite qualifications of the highest order, has been unable to weather out the storm.

Mr. Kneller, a fine type Englishman is a professional horticulturist and landscape gardener, who after having completed an extensive training in the Old Land under his father, Sir Frederick Kneller, who has charge of the Rothschild estates in England and also with Messrs. Cutbush and Sons of Highgate, London, and Messrs. Sutton and Sons, The Royal Seedsmen of Reading, came to Canada in 1909 to find outlet for satisfactory expression of his life work—horticulture.

He was seed inspector for D. M. Perry, seedsmen of Windsor and laid out the Harper Sidley estate next to the Prince of Wales' ranch in Alberta. Furthermore he designed the Winnipeg city golf course, 18 miles out on the Lord Selkirk highway and also designed the layout for the great amusement park on Victoria Island built in conjunction by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and the city of Victoria.

"An extensive jobbing connection from coast-to-coast was shattered by the war" said Mr. Kneller in conversation with The Examiner. "Joining the R.A.O.C. I served in the Canadian forces from 1914-1919 and my army service has created an appreciable gap in my life. I wish to make it quite clear" he explained, "that I am willing to accept anything to do until I am again able to find employment in my own profession, whether it be cooking a first-class dinner or driving a tractor or typewriter."

"My training has entailed the study of insects, minerals and land survey work" concluded Mr. Kneller, who is a husky type of man ready and willing to tackle anything if given the opportunity. Employers wishing to get into communication with him, may do so by writing, calling, or phoning the Y.M.C.A.

NEW INDIA HOUSE

augury to be able to open a building which marks the end of one period of advancement and the beginning of a new.

"But Indian House stands for more than that. As I look around me I see the emblems of the religions, the provinces and states of India. This building which contains them surely testifies to the unity of India in herself. The position of Indian House among those of the sister nations here in the centre of my capital, further symbolizes the unity of the great Commonwealth of which she is a part. For a deeper realization of that two-fold unity I most earnestly pray."

"During recent months I watched with anxious heart the troublous passage of events; trusting in the Divine guidance; I hopefully await the day that shall restore the gift of true understanding and thus unite every race and creed in one desire to bring peace and content to my Indian people.

Congratulates Designer

"On the successful issue of your plans, I congratulate you, Sir Atul Chandra; and all those who have been associated with you. Foremost amongst these was Sir Herbert Baker, who has impressed his genius upon so many continents as the architect of more than one of the great buildings in the imperial capital at Delhi. It is most appropriate that he should also be the designed of this India House in London.

"I have now much pleasure in declaring India House open, and I trust that it may not only serve the material progress of that country but by spreading sound knowledge may it foster between the peoples of India and Great Britain that wider sympathy for which I have pleaded many years and plead again to-day."

The address of the King lasted just six minutes.

KEY TO ELECTION

tario returned 53 Conservatives and 25 straight Liberals. A year earlier Conservatives had taken 68 Ontario seats; Liberals only 12.

In the present campaign, Conservatives are estimating a net gain of 17 Ontario seats, giving them a total of 70—two more than they had in 1925, and only four less than the Union Government secured in the general elections of 1916.

After Ontario, Saskatchewan.

The province of the western plains, in the opinion of organizers, ranks next to Ontario, as the province of uncertainty. There, again, party estimates differ widely. Neither Liberal nor Conservative headquarters expect that the new Progressive movement in Saskatchewan will be likely to make its influence seriously felt in the Saskatchewan returns. Conservatives estimate that they will at any rate re-capture the nine Saskatchewan seats they held in 1925, and lost in 1926. And again Liberals express confidence that they will hold their own.

Tories See 32 Seat Gain.

Taking the Dominion through—with election day still three weeks off — both parties are claiming control of the next Dominion House of Commons. Conservatives estimate from the reports they have received up to the present time, a net gain across the Dominion of 32 seats. This would give them a total of 122 seats or (after a Speaker is elected) two short of an absolute majority. But to these 122 straight Conservatives, they add a few Progressives of Conservative leanings on whose support they feel they will be able to count. Liberals estimate that they will return as strong as they came out—namely 123 straight Liberals, with the addition of the nine Liberal-Progressive seats.

By pamphlet, radio and speech, the fight is raging in every province in the Dominion. Its 58 days of campaigning make it one of the longest — if not the longest — in Canada's political history. It has still nearly three weeks to run.

"A hard battle," commented Senator Raydon, chief of the Liberals' organization to-day.

And with that Conservatives frankly agreed.

GRAPE GROWERS SEEK REVISION OF TARIFF

OTTAWA, July 8. (C.P.) — A fairly large delegation from the grape growing districts of Niagara Peninsula were present to-day when the Tariff Advisory Board opened its hearings on a request for a revision of the tariff on grape juice imported in bulk for wine making. This was the first sitting of the board since the resignation of W. H. Moore, chairman, who is running as a Liberal candidate in the present general elections.

MAYOR CASTS DECIDING VOTE FOR MORE PAVING IN CITY

paving, Alderman McIntyre, who was not present when the matter was brought before the Board of Works on Thursday evening, stated that when the re-surfacing and paving of Simcoe and Queen streets was passed in the Spring, it was understood by the whole Council that that was to be all the paving work for the year 1930. If the word had to be done, he strongly favored concrete and that the city do the work, so that every dollar spent would remain in Peterborough. "I want to assist in giving work to the unemployed," stated Alderman McIntyre, "and I think the city should do all the construction work possible at this time."

Alderman Macdonald, as seconder of the motion, stated that at the time Alderman McIntyre spoke of employment conditions were much better than they are at the present time. He stated that he would be willing to pave with concrete providing it could be shown that concrete served as well as asphalt. "I am not particularly favorable to the Warren Paving Company," he declared, "but I do not believe that concrete is anywhere equal to bithulitic."

Alderman McNabb stated that he had been opposed to the Construction Bylaw, but later had voted for it when a gentlemen's agreement had been reached. He also favored helping the unemployed, but was strongly opposing to giving any paving company $40,000 for such a job as the one in East City.

Mayor Denne, interrupting, stated that City Engineer Parsons had estimated the cost at $31,000.

Alderman McNabb: "I am opposed to letting a contract without first calling tenders." Continuing, he stated that he was positive that 21 men on the present paving job were not local men. He figured that on the job in East city at 40 cents an hour with all local men employed, $6,000 would be left in the city.

Alderman Cotton: "Are you counting in materials?"

Alderman McNabb replied that he wasn't and went on to state that in various sections of the city concrete paving had stood up well. "I'm giving warning that never will I support another Construction Bylaw as long as I sit in this Council," he continued. "I feel that I have been tricked on this one."

Alderman Huffman: "Alderman McNabb has made some serious statements, especially that one about being tricked." Alderman Huffman pointed out some of the difficulties that would be encountered if the city did the work, and stated further that there was no preliminary surface work needed on either section of Armour Road or Park Hill Road, where the paving was to be put down.

Alderman Phelan: "About Alderman McNabb saying he's been tricked. Well, the Construction Bylaw stated asphalt is to be used. We have already borrowed money on the debentures and we can't change now, but he wants to; he wants pavement. The only question is whether to do the work now or next Spring. I say, do it now."

Alderman Tuggey stated that the unemployment was now acute in the city, but while he had nothing against the Warren Paving Company he did not favor allowing them to do this work. "Let them get their Polacks out of the city," he stated, "and then we'll start in and give the money for the work to our own people, who need it."

Alderman Holland stated that as a resident of East City he was naturally enthusiastic about securing paving for that part of the city, but in order to keep faith with those who supported him on the Construction Bylaw he favored that the work be delayed until 1931, the time agreed upon, when the bylaw went through.

Alderman Fitzpatrick stated that he knew perhaps better than anyone how bad financially the working men in the city were off at the present time. He wanted the work done now to relieve the unemployment. "If it is proved that cement is good, then I am favorable to it. All I want to see is that the men get work and have an opportunity to earn a living rather than being forced to accept charity. But I know that cement hasn't been satisfactory."

Alderman Cotton stated that for the past two or three years residents of East City had continually complained to him that the streets in that part of the city were not being paved. He said he wanted to satisfy those people now. "You'll spend more this year in keeping that road up than the interest on the money will cost you," he advised. "I think it is in the best interest of the city to do the work at the present time."

"I think Alderman McNabb made an unfair statement when he quoted those figures about the paving," charged Alderman Cotton. "Did you figure the cost of materials?"

Alderman McNabb replied that he hadn't, but he was merely trying to show how much money the workers of the city would gain by the job.

"What you should have got was the cost of materials and then your figures would have meant something," stated Alderman Cotton.

Alderman Macdonald asked: "Mr. Parsons, as City Engineer, which do you consider the best pavement; asphalt or cement?"

Alderman Stocker: "Why ask him; he's married to those people.

Mr. Parsons: "Mr. Mayor, do I have to stand for that?"

Alderman Stocker: "He's married to them I say; married to them."

Mayor Denne, "That's not fair."

Mr. Parsons: "I ask you to retract that statement."

Alderman Stocker: "I won't retract anything."

Mr. Parsons: "You're not man enough."

Alderman Macdonald: "I have confidence in Mr. Parsons, and I asked him that question."

Mr. Parsons: "I think both asphalt and cement are good, but I much prefer asphalt."

Alderman McIntyre suggested that George street, from Park Hill Road to Argyle street be paved with cement, and Alderman McNabb stated that he would support him on that suggestion.

Alderman Huffman pointed out that that section of George street could not be paved because the storm drains would have to go in first and it would take a year for them to settle. "It would be absolutely impossible to do George street this year," concluded Alderman Huffman.

Alderman Macdonald: "The whole question is: Do circumstances warrant going on with paving? If so, go on with it."

Discussing the amount of work now in hand by the Board of Works, it was stated that there are now 117 men on the Board's payroll and there was sufficient work to keep that number busy until Fall."

The vote on an amendment opposing the paving motion was taken, and lost with Mayor Denne's vote.

Alderman Stocked wanted to know if the Council were paying anything for overhauling in the drawing of materials for the work, pointing out that the short hauls would balance up the long ones, and that the city should not have to pay for the long hauls.

Alderman McNabb again stressed that he opposed letting a contract without first calling for tenders.

This closed the paving debate and bylaws were passed for curbs, sewers and building sidewalks.

At the invitation of Kitchener's Council a motion was passed recommending to the Dominion Government that one Sunday be designated as Decoration Day in cemetries throughout Canada, and that the day selected be at a time when flowers were plentiful.

Tom McMurray, president of the Carpenters' Union, asked that in every contract let by the city the Fair Wage Clause be inserted. This was agreed to, although it was pointed out in discussion that the city always had its contracts read not less than 40 cents an hour for laborers.

Eating house licenses were let to following: J. R. Paquette, A. M. Ward, Mrs. E. LeBarr, Canadian Department Stores, J. Dean, Sidney Crowe, S. Levine, Smokes and Tackle Services, F. G. Greatrix, W. S. Bogue, Joseph Kelbrick, McDermid Drug McDermid and Jury, Mrs. F. Marino, G. Trennum, George Dormer.

C. PAYNE ASKS FINE REFUND

As Mr. O'Keefe had not only conformed to this agreement, but had made the addition of a ladies' toilet and rest room to the hotel, it was agreed that the clerk be asked to advise the tax collector to arrange for the old agreement to stand in the case of the present proprietor.

Mayor Davidson brought up the matter of a Mr. Bailey of Stirling, selling cars in Campbellford and not paying a tax for the privilege. After some discussion, it was decided, on motion, that the Mayor, the Chief of Police and the town solicitor form a committee to investigate the matter and report back.

The by-law calling for the installation of a sewer on Palliser Street, petitioned by W. Scott and Mr. and Mrs. W. Jones, with the cost thereof, and presented by Deputy-Reeve Stone, was read three times, passed, signed, sealed, and carried.

The cost of this construction amounted to $185, the petitioners to pay a yearly tax of $5.50 each, covering a period of 15 years, and the town to bear the cost of $76 of the work.

Roll Corrections.

The clerk brought to the attention of the meeting the fact that many of the connections for water and sewer on Centre street had not been assessed, owing to the fact that the roll had not been corrected. This had been a mistake on the part of the engineer and had come to the notice of the clerk when checking up. This matter was gone into and it was agreed that the clerk go into the matter and make the proper corrections so that the assessments would be made in order, and refunds, if any, corrected.

Councillor O'Sullivan brought to the attention of the council the fact that some pedlars had been permitted to sell inferior articles on the streets of the town without paying the proper tax. This matter was threshed out, and a motion was passed to notify the Chief of Police of the by-law governing hawkers, that he might act accordingly

Councillor Battisby brought up the matter of a Campbellford woman who had been reported to him by the Metropolitan Insurance Company nurse as dying for want of care. This matter had come before the Charity Committee on a previous occasion and it was thought best that the clerk write to the Children's Shelter in regard to hte family, and that the woman be brought to the attention of the local Board of Health. This was passed on motion.

Councillor Carr addressed the meeting in regard to the Water and Light Commission trimming the trees in town, and in some cases doing damage that was irreparable. It was thought that this should be stopped, and a resolution was presented and passed that the Commission be asked to take every possible action to prevent trees being desoryed by wires.

The monthly pay sheet amounting to $864.51, was presented and passed.

TARIFF TO FORE

LONDON, England, July 8 (C.P.)—Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, former Prime Minister and Conservative Leader, and Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Minister of Health in the late Baldwin Government, have brought the tariff question politically to the fore in Britain by giving notice of a vote of censure on the Labor Government for failure to provide safeguarding duties.

The motion will be debated soon.

WM. TAYLOR LEGLESS FISHERMAN RESCUES 2ND PLANE AT COBOURG

Tows Seaplane Five Miles and Rescues Lives of Toronto Couple.

MADE FORCED LANDING.

WILLIAM TAYLOR OF COBOURG.

COBOURG, July 8. — William Taylor, legless fisherman of Cobourg, is again the hero of a daring rescue of a party of Toronto aviators forced down on Lake Ontario On Sunday, Taylor towed back an empty seaplane which had been carried far out on the lake, but yesterday he not only rescued the plane, but also brought its passengers back to safety.

The plane, bearing Mr. and Mrs. William L. Christie, 2 Chestnut Park Road, Toronto, was forced down on the lake through broken struts shortly after it had risen in a take-off for Toronto. Taylor saw their distress signals. The craft was in a sinking condition due to waterlogged pontoons, when Taylor, who went to them in a motor launch, after four attempts, got a line to the imperilled Toronto couple.

The seaplane was towed some five miles back into the Cobourg Harbor, where it was beached, and is being repaired.

TRADE TREATIES

do with a man like that? Do you want to give him four or five years more in charge of the treasury benches?"

Little Protection All Around.

Mr. King had been told of the heart-breaking unemployment situation in the cities, and the hopes of unemployment insurance had been the only reply he could offer. Mr. Peck scouted the idea, declaring that the thousands of unattached men the Dominion Immigration Department had dumped in the West would only be one group of those whom such insurance couldn't possibly benefit.

"What we want is a little protection all around," he asserted. It would, he maintained, do much to clear up the problems of unemployment and farm depression.

For each business day of the past fiscal year, Canada had piled up a debt of a million dollars with the United States. Canada's exports to the U. S. had totalled 500 million dollars for the year; her imports from that country had amounted to over 800 million. Much of the 500 million had been free in the form of raw materials, such as pulpwood and minerals, which protection would have permitted to be manufactured here.

"We are a wealthy country. What I am questioning is the government's attitude, not Canada's resources."

Better Out of Politics.

In conclusion, Mr. Peck stated that he resented statements from the ranks of his honorable opponent to the effect that "Peck did nothing for his constituency." A seat on the Conservative government benches at the next session would change the situation, said Mr. Peck, declaring that he had done his utmost to attend to business at Ottawa, that he was always at the service of any constituent, whether Liberal or Conservative. He resented, he declared, the "secret missions" of his opponent during past sessions. "Your member would have been only too glad to help," stated Mr. Peck. He felt that such matters as the proposed Fife Experimental Farm were better handled outside the realm of politics.

James Matthews, who addressed the meeting prior to Mr. Peck, declared that Canada's importation of butter for the year ending March 31 of this year had totalled 42 million pounds, as against a consumption of 37 million. The surplus of 5 million pounds had forced prices down, he asserted—"and the low price has come out of your pocket.

"The farmer's pocket is being tapped," maintained Mr. Matthews. "The dairy industry does not lose; we can force prices. It is the farmer who loses."

Why, he asked, had it taken Mr. King four years to discover the unfairness of the New Zealand tariff situation? What was Mr. King's answer to the flood of cheap imported butter which would inundate the Canadian market between now and October 12 when the treaty went out of effect?

Dr. Morrison, final speaker of the evening, asserted that even the mismanagement of a Mackenzie King administration could not hold Canada back. He scored the Government's 53 foreign treaties and expensive embassies. The Liberal Party had been stampeded into a summer election a year and a half before it was necessary, he contended, by the hope of a snap judgment in its favor with a good harvest in prospect.

M. E. Smithson, ex-Warden of Peterborough County, spoke highly of the candidate, and felt that, as in 1921, the time had come when a

IT will be many, many months before even the first of the new Goodyear Heavy Duty Tires will have run their total mileage.

In fact most cars on which they are used will have changed ownership long before the tires are worn out. Again Goodyear offers you still greater mileage but with no increase over former Heavy Duty prices.

1. Tread design carried down sidewall giving greater protection against wear.
2. Heavier tread, giving longer life and greater freedom from puncture.
3. New tread design, giving greater traction in the centre of the tire—and giving this traction throughout the life of the tire. The All-Weather Tread Goodyears have traction in the centre of the tread where it belongs.
4. Thicker sidewalls for longer life. Ribs on sidewall add further protection against curbs and ruts.
5. Tread design spreads road shocks over the carcass.
6. Specially built, stronger, heavier Supertwist carcass to stand up under high speeds or heavy loads.

CHILDREN THRIVE ON KLIM!

Absolute purity and uniform quality make Klim the ideal milk for children. All the cream, all the valuable body-building elements of fresh, wholesome, dairy milk are embodied in Klim in readily-assimilated form. Yet, by special process of removing the natural moisture, Klim will keep fresh, without ice, until you are ready to use it.

At the summer cottage, or in districts where a safe milk supply is not available, Klim is positively indispensable. Specialists in infant and child welfare recommend the use of Klim whole milk and have worked out correct formulae for the feeding of children of all ages. Write for helpful information, enclosing 10 cents for trial-size can of Klim.

These Strange Guns of Peace explode wheat and rice

Giving Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice the rich nourishment of hot cooked cereals

FLAVORY! Crunchy! Meltingly good to eat. That's Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice Grains ... "grains shot from guns"!

Choice, plump grains of wheat and rice are actually sealed in shining bronze guns. Then the guns are revolved in fiery ovens to develop all the natural rich grain flavor. When the guns are fired, 125 million explosions occur in every grain. This breaks open every one of the millions of tiny food cells. The grains become as completely digestible as though they had been cooked for hours. That's why Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice are rated "virtually as nourishing as hot cooked cereals."

And these dainty nuggets of nourishment have all the rich flavor of new nut-meats. All the buttery crispness of fresh toast. You never tasted grain foods in a more enticing form. Serve with fruit and cream for breakfast. As an easily digestible luncheon dish for children. Crisp in butter to make a delicious new kind of popcorn. Order Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice from your grocer today. The Quaker Oats Company. 5758

DISTRICT NOTES

From Villages and Towns in District

BY CORRESPONDENTS OF THE EXAMINER)

HAVELOCK

Miss Marjorie and Mr. Keith Bound of Detroit are guests with their grandfather, Mr. Charles Armstrong, and their uncle, Mr. Albert Armstrong.

Miss Almeda Clarke of Rochester, N.Y., is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Howe.

Miss Gladys Melville and Mr. Percy Melville of Toronto are visiting Havelock relatives and friends.

Mr. Gould, the new manager of the Havelock branch, Bank of Toronto, is now with his family, established in the apartments over the bank.

Miss Marie Bedford and Miss Marion McCann motored to Peterborough Friday.

Mrs. M. McCann and Mr. Raymond McCann visited Havelock friends on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Longmuir and little daughter, Bernice, motored to Peterborough on Friday last.

The pupils of Miss Jean Anderson and Miss Jeanette Wright were in Peterborough Wednesday last, trying music examinations at the Conservatory. Miss Anderson and Miss Wright accompanied them.

The Order of the Eastern Star ladies' annual picnic outing was held on Wednesday last at Chard's Bridge when a large number of the members, their families and friends spent a most enjoyable afternoon in boating, bathing, and small field sports. Long tables covered with snowy cloths, and laden with delicacies from many baskets contributed a large share of the afternoon's enjoyment.

Mr. John Armstrong had the good fortune to land three nice lunge on Tuesday morning, the first of the game fishing season. It is said that many anglers at Trent River had similar good luck.

Misses Dorothy and Barbara Watson were the charming hostesses on Friday evening last when they entertained the choir members of Knox Presbyterian church at a social evening in honor of Mr. Wright who left last week to assume his new duties with the Newmarket branch of the Bank of Toronto. Games and music was the order of the evening, and just before lunch was served Mr. Wright was presented with a handsome fountain pen and pencil set, a small token of appreciation of his services in the choir, of which he has long been a valued member.

At the midnight hour, a dainty lunch was served, and at the close of the evening Mr. Wright received the best wishes of his fellow members.

MILLBROOK

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Duncan, Miss Marguerite Duncan, and Mr. Ray Myers motored from Cleveland and spent the holiday week-end guests of his father and sister, Mr. G. A. and Miss May Duncan. The party returned to their home in the States on Sunday, visiting relatives at Buffalo en route.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Williamson, and two children, Norma and Donald, of Leader, Sask., are holidaying with her mother, Mrs. G. Locke, and other friends in Millbrook and Cavan.

Misses Elvira and Pearl Davis, of Toronto, were week-end guests of their mother, Mrs. Lila Davis.

Mr. E. Weldon, Mrs. Weldon, Senior, and the Misses Weldon, of Lindsay, were guests of Mrs. (Dr.) Rae over July First.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Loomis and son of Peterborough were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Wilkinson on Dominion Day; also Mrs. Wilkinson's three sisters of Peterborough, Mrs. F. Raines, Miss Nellie Duncan, and Mrs. Gillespie.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Wilkinson motored to Omemee on Friday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Moncrief.

The many friends of Miss Eva Howson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Howson, King street east, will regret to learn that she has been ill for some time, having to give up her position in Peterborough, and expecting to have an extended convalescence at her home here before being fully restored to normal health again.

Miss Margaret Lang, of Toronto, is holidaying with her grandmother, Mrs. G. Locke; her aunts, Mrs. J. McKnight and Mrs. J. Perrin, and other friends.

Miss Ida Sprague of Hamilton is visiting Mr. and Mrs. William G. Pendrie.

Miss K. Southerton and Miss Marie Kenyon of Toronto spent the Dominion Day week-end guests of Miss Marjorie Sayles.

Mr. Aylmer Lefroy of Toronto is visiting his uncle and aunt, ex-Warden W. T. and Miss Margaret Wood.

Born.—At Dr. H. A. Turner's private hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Willard Waterman (Renette Taggart) a daughter.

BRIDGENORTH

The B.Y.P.U., of Gilmour Memorial Baptist Church held its annual strawberry social on Wednesday evening. A radio was kindly loaned by Clifford Jackson, of Peterborough for use during the supper hours. The program was under the direction of the Kiwanis Club of Peterborough.

Mr. Ernest Blewett, of Lindsay made a business trip through this district on Friday.

Mr. Esmond Storey, of Buffalo was a visitor in this district on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Milburn and sons, Mrs. T. Milburn and Miss Margaret Milburn, of Smith motored to Sarnia to visit Mrs. T. Milburn's daughter, Mrs. Henry Stubbs.

Mr. Earl Mann, of River Rouge, Michigan, was a recent guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Mann.

Miss Isabelle Mann, of Ottawa spent the week-end with Miss Margaret Mann.

Miss Mildred Archer, of Toronto, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Archer, of Smith.

Mr. Smith Kelly, of Whitby spent a few days with friends in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Norval Ireland and family, of London are visiting at the home of Mrs. Ireland's sister, Mrs. J. Jopling.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Kelly and family, of Peterborough have moved to their summer home in the village.

WARSAW

The Rev. Hinton and Mr. Treneer called on friends in Warsaw and district on Thursday.

Mrs. Thomas Cooper returned from Lindsay on Thursday.

ANNUAL STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL IS GREAT SUCCESS AT ROSENEATH

Rev. M. R. Brown Presented With Chair By Alnwick Athletic Association.

SPLENDID PROGRAM.

ROSENEATH, July 7.— (Examiner Correspondence.)—The annual strawberry festival of the United church has been an event of outstanding interest in the community on account of the very high order of the entertainment and bountiful meal prepared by the ladies.

The supper was served in the Agricultural Hall, where the tables were laden with abundance of delicious things. A new and pleasing feature was the smart attire of the waitresses and decorations on their tables, each waitress wearing a dainty little head-dress to match the table she was waiting on.

The characteristic combination of the participants made a colorful scene, adding to the effectiveness of the whole.

The Program.

The delightful program this year was quite as enjoyable as that of former occasions. It was given from the band stand, with the crowd either sitting on benches or in their automobiles near enough to listen in.

Rev. M. R .Brown acted as chairman and opened the program with a general chorus by singing Lead Kindly Light,' followed by Mr. Lousie of Campbellford, who gave a baritone solo, "Friend O' Mine," accompanied by Rev. M. R. Brown.

Mis sSmith, of Belleville, was the elocutionist for the evening. Her first number was "Lavinsky at the Wedding." A solo by Miss Marguerite Burrison, "The One Sweetest Rose of All"; a trio by Messrs. George Turner, Wilfred Davey ant Lewis Roberts, "Mowing the Meadow," and for their encore sang "The Old-fashioned Toothbrush," both selections bringing much applause. A humorous number was given by Miss Smith, entitled "In the Kindergarten Room."

Pastor Presented Chair.

At this period Mr. C. W. Varcoe, president of the baseball league, came to the platform and in a few words on behalf of the Alnwick Athletic Association, thanked Rev. M. R. Brown for the great interest he had taken in the society, in helping to make the skating rink a success; also the pleasure the young people had enjoyed having their pastor join them in all their sports. Rev. Mr. Brown was then presented with a beautiful Chesterfield rocker. Mr. Brown replied briefly, saying he had tried to be a pal with all the boys. "I appreciate this more than any of you know, for there is a great place in my heart for the people of Roseneath and surrounding country and may God bless you every one."

The program continued with a duet by Lewis Roberts and Wilfred Davey, 'In the Rockies," which was received with loud applause and their encore was "Give His Nephew None."

Mr. Lousie's solo, "The Old Regrain," was well rendered, accompanied by Mrs. C. W. Varcoe at the piano. Mr. Wilfred Davey furnished the music on his banjo for the song selections.

New Pastor Introduced.

Rev. Mr. Brown spoke a few words in regards to his succesor, Rev. W. R. Paton, and extending a hand of fellowship, he presented Rev. Paton to the United church congregation of Roseneath, Centenery and Fenella. Rev. Mr. Paton's words were few, other than he hoped to meet with success that he and his people would work together for the love of God who created all things.

Miss Smith recited "A Hindu Paradise" which was much enjoyed.

A song, "In the Big Rock Candy Mountain" by Wilfred Davey brought roars of laughter. He responded and sang "My Little Brother Joe." This did not satisfy the people and he was clapped back to the platform the third time when he sang "Casey's Car"

Mr. Lousie pleased the audience by singing "Jennine."

Rev. M. R. Brown brought the program to a close when "Blest Be the Tie" was sung in unison.

Proceeds of the event amounted to $160.

SOCIETIES HOLD SOCIAL EVENING

Havelock Junior Institute and Agricultural Society Enjoy Gathering.

HAVELOCK, June 8 (Examiner Correspondence).—The Junior Institute and Agricultural Society held a jolly social evening and dance in the Town Hall, Belmont, on Thursday last, the date of their regular meeting. Isaac Anderson was the capable floor manager, and music was furnished by Miss Anderson and Harry Anderson and other members of the combined societies. Members of the Havelock Women's Institute chaperoned the young folks, and all had a thoroughly enjoyable time. At the midnight hour a dainty lunch was served by the girls, and dancing was afterwards resumed.

Members of the Junior Institute were in Keene last week for the judging competition there. Miss Gladys Anderson won the award of ten dollars towards a trip to the Royal Winter Fair, donated by Reeve Hawthorne of Warsaw for the junior girl scoring highest points in the competition. A number of boy members of the Junior Agriculture Society were also present, and among these Austin Wilde scored the highest for grain judging.

In the evening the young people attended a dance in the Town Hall at Keene.

Large congregations at all four services in the mission charges of the Belmont Circuit of the United Church, on Sunday, June 30th, greeted Rev. A. Joblin on the occasion of his farewell services in the various churches in his charge. At 11 a.m. Mr. Joblin preached to the congregation at Victoria Church, and expressed regret at leaving his many friends there. In the afternoon he conducted the service for the L.O.L. and L.O.B.A. at Blairton, and said farewell to his people there. The service at Rush Point Church was held at 4 o'clock, and in the evening Mr. Joblin preached at the United Church at Cordova Mines.

At all services the departing minister expressed his gratitude for the many kindness he had received from his parishioners, appreciation of the assistance given him by those active in church work at the different points. Always the best feelings have existed between minister and people, and his congregation heard with genuine regret of his intended departure to continue his studies. He will be succeeded here by Rev. Mr. Spencer, who takes his first service on Sunday next.

Springville United Church Hold Strawberry Festival

SPRINGVILLE, July 8.—(Examiner Correspondence).—A delightful and successful strawberry festival was held on the lawn of Springville United church Wednesday, July 2, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of that church.

The tables were prettily decorated with white linen, flowers and sumptuously laden with dishes piled high with strawberries, bowls of sugar, big pitchers of cream, pies, cakes, tarts an an abundance of good biscuits and bread and butter. Although the strawberry season is gone for another year the committee in charge of that part of the supper were able after much searching of the country, to secure an abundance of delicious berries for the event.

After supper a good program was enjoyed consisting of vocal and instrumental music, readings and recitations. Artists who took part were: Mrs. Daisy M. Westington and Miss Alma Blanchard, soloists; Miss Dorothy Hall, elocutionist; Mr. R. J. Soden and Rev. Kinley, while Mr. M. Westington and Mrs. (Rev.) Moyer were accompanists. Coldsprings orchestra were in attendance and the numerous orchestral numbers added a pleasant and enjoyable variety to the program. Rev. Mr. Moyer, pastor of the church, acted as chairman for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Kennedy attended Ebenezer garden party Thursday evening.

PASTOR INDUCTED IN WOOLER CHURCH

Rev. Edward Poulter to Take Charge of United Church Here.

WOOLER, July 8 (Examiner Correspondence).—On Friday evening a large company of United Church members gathered to attend the service of induction of the pastor, Rev. Edward Poulter. Rev. Tait of Campbellford presided, with Rev. McTavish and Rev. Clare on the platform. The choir rendered an anthem, then Rev. McTavish addressed the congregation, and Rev. Clare addressed the pastor. The induction service took place, with two laymen of Cobourg Presbytery, F. A. Dorland and Mr. Davey of Hilton, as representatives. The congregation and pastors were invited to the basement, where a dainty lunch was served, and a social half-hour was spent in getting acquainted. Many members were present from Tabernacle Church.

M. C. Afternoon Tea.

The Mission Circle invited their mothers and members of the Women's Missionary Society to an afternoon tea served on the lawn, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Terrill.

The afternoon was balmy and the spacious lawn was inviting. The tables were a profusion of flowers.

Miss Grace Mutton, vice-president, presided over the meeting. After the devotional and business period, a "Pageant" was beautifully given by the Circle girls. The address of the afternoon was given by Mrs. (Rev.) Neal—"The Fountain Head of Missions."

PRESENTATION MADE TO DOURO TEACHER

Miss Mary Tobin, Teacher of S. S. No. 4 for Past Four Years.

DOURO, July 8—Miss Mary Tobin, who has been the popular teacher at S.S. No. 4 Douro for the past four years, was presented with a beautiful French ivory set as a slight token of appreciation of her work and services among the pupils and parents.

The presentation took place at the close of the school on Friday and an appropriate address accompanied the gift, signed by Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Hayes on behalf of the parents and pupils of the school.

Miss Tobin, although taken by surprise, thanked those present for their kindness and also for the co-operation they had so readily given for the past four years. She assured the pupils that she would ever cherish fond memories of the pleasant hours spent with them at S.S. No. 4.

FINE PAPERS GIVEN AT OMEMEE W. M. S.

Treasurer's Report Shows Half Year's Allocation Already Raised.

OMEMEE, July 8 (Examiner Correspondence).—The July meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Trinity United Church was held at the home of Mrs. W. Brown on Thureday afternoon, with an attendance of thirty-six ladies and six children. Mrs. Blanchard, the president, conducted the meeting, which opened in the usual manner, followed by a short business session.

The treasurer's report showed that one-half the allocation for the year has been raised.

The Watch Tower was responded to as follows: Honan, Miss Lillian Race; Temperance, Mrs. L. A. Mahood, and Central India, Mrs. J. Eggleston.

The program for the day was on Temperance, and the Devotional leaflet on that subject was read by Mrs. W. Brown.

A pleasing vocal solo was rendered by Mrs Harold Laidley.

The topic for study was entitled "Poisoned Arrows" and after the introduction had been given by the leader, papers were read by Mrs. C. L. Morcombe, Mrs. R. Bradley and Mrs. F. G. Sandy. These were followed by a rousing hymn, "Rescue the Perishing," which was in keeping with the program. Prayer was then offered by Mrs. R. Poast.

On behalf of the society, Mrs. Blanchard extended a vote of thanks to Mrs. Brown, who had so kindly opened her home for the meeting.

The hostesses were Mrs. H. Laidley, Mrs. R. Bradley and Mrs. W. Brown.

Mlle. Carron, the mannequin bride of the Aga Khan, wore a Paris gown of white and silver brocade with a court train lined with silver lace when presented to the King and Queen of England recently.

Lakefield W.M.S. Hears Report of Presbyterial

LAKEFIELD, July 8.—(Examiner Correspondence).—On Friday afternoon last the W.M.S. of the Presbyterian church met at the home of Miss McKibbin and a very enjoyable and profitable time was spent. Mrs. E. E. Cox, who was a delegate to the Provincial Conference held in Toronto and also to the Presbyterial held in Bowmanville for St. Paul's church, Peterborough, was present at the meeting and gave the reports of both meetings. Mrs. Cox is an observant and attentive delegate and her address was worth hearing. A specially thoughtful touch was given in her having a copy of neatly compiled newspaper clippings regarding the work of the officials and also copies of two reports to be passed around to the shut-in members of the Society.

Mrs. J. W. Ridpath, president of the local branch was in the chair. Mrs. R. J. Burton read the Scripture lesson and Miss Duff gave the closing prayer. Mrs. Chaplin sang a solo which was much appreciated.

A hearty vote of thanks was given Mrs. Cox for her visit and her reports which were of great value and encouragement.

An address, signed on behalf of the pupils, by students of the Senior Room: Kenneth Jakins, Mabel McCauley, Jean Munro and Russell Greystock, was read and signified in very complimentary terms the respect and love in which his pupils held their teacher. They said in part: "By precept and example you have inspired us along the ways of uprightness and truth. You were patient when our mental dullness was surely irritable to you, and your genial jokes turned away many of our natural tendencies to feel irritated when chastised."

The Macdonald Cartier Club (Young Conservatives) of Peterborough, staged a very successful dance at Rye's Pavilion last evening, with several hundred young people present. The pavilion was very attractively decorated for the occasion and there were numbers of favors given out by the energetic committee, headed by their president, Mr. Bernard Park. Splendid music for dancing was provided by Carman Gay's Gypsy Band of Girls. One of the members sang a solo and also gave a charming solo dance during the evening. Besides the members of the committee of the Macdonald Cartier Club, the president of the men's organization, Mr. Gordon Matthews, was present and made a few remarks, calling upon the provincial member, Mr. J. Ford Strickland, to address the gathering, which he did in his usual eloquent and easy manner. Later Mr. E. A. Peck came in and made a few remarks. Members of the Ladies' Conservative Organization were present and assisted with the evening's entertainment. Prizes for the novelty dances were won by Miss Olive Crough and Mr. Max Clark and the birthday dance, which was July 28th, by Misss Heffernan. The prizes were presented by Mrs. Gordon Matthews. FASHION SERVICE

3282

A stunning outfit for deb and the little sub-deb who follow closely in the styles of her debutante sister.

Style No. 3282 is printed tub silk that would appeal to any smart miss in its attractive dusty-pink tones.

The shoulder and hipline bows are of plain faille ribbon in the deepest shade of the print.

The long-waisted bodice is caught with plaits at left hip beneath the bow, which makes the right side quite deep emphasizing its diagonal line. The gathered tiers of skirt are decidedly youthful.

This versatile model comes in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20 years.

Wool challis prints, printed dimity, printed batiste, pastel flat washable crepe silk, printed lawn and printed voile are smart.

Pattern price 15 cents. Be sure to fill in size of pattern. Address Pattern Department. The Summer Fashion Magazine contains most interesting styles for adults for town or vacation wear. Also darling styles for the kiddies. It is 15 cents a copy, but may be obtained for 10 cents if ordered same time as pattern.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

THERE IS SOMETHING distinctly refreshing about a pungent taste to cold beverages or ices on hot days. It may be just a suggestion of pungency, but it relieves the pure sweetness which seems a bit cloying sometimes.

• • • • • • •

Mint adds a delicious flavor of this sort. It is put into iced tea for this reason and because it supplies a delicate aroma that is satisfying.

• • • • • • •

Just a leaf of mint is sufficient for a glass of iced tea. This herb is also put into lemonade sometimes.

• • • • • • •

Mint sauce over chocolate ice cream is "something different."

• • • • • • •

The sauce can consist of sugar and water boiled to a syrup with mint leaves, or the flavor may be obtained by an essence.

• • • • • • •

The sauce can be slightly thickened with a little corn starch, and have a little cream added to supply the right texture and creamy look.

• • • • • • •

Be careful though, to have the flavor of this mint very delicate. It should not be like the pungent mint sauce for meats, but have a hint rather than a marked flavor of this mint.

• • • • • • •

Ginger ale served over ice cream makes a delicious home prepared sundae.

• • • • • • •

For an ice cream soda nothing can be simpler than adding a tablespoonful of vanilla ice cream to a small glass of ginger ale. For a goblet of ginger ale the quantity should be doubled. The proportions for the ginger ale sundae and the ginger ale soda is what makes the difference between the two.

• • • • • • •

Just a little ginger ale should be used for the former.

• • • • • • •

A wonderful ginger sundae is made from water and sugar syrup with small pieces of preserved ginger boiled in it. The syrup should be heavy, and the bits of ginger plentiful.

• • • • • • •

Zest is given iced tea by adding a little lime juice instead of lemon slices. Clean iced coffee with lemon and sugar is preferred by some to iced tea with lemon.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

FEET THAT PERSPIRE TOO MUCH.

One of the conditions that often become aggravated by the hot weather is perspiring feet.

Despite frequent washing often two to four times a day the feet perspire most profusely to the great embarrassment of the individual, especially when an odor accompanies this excessive perspiration.

Although various causes are given for this condition—too rapid decomposition of the sweat, and the presence of a little organism—it must be admitted that the exact cause in all cases is unknown.

Where frequent bathing with tar, carbolic, mercurial or other soaps do not help to allay the condition, various powders have been used such as equal parts of bismuth subnitrate and chalk dusted into stockings and shoes, or boracic acid in powder form. Boracic acid is the basis of many proprietary powders, extensively advertised.

Cork soles, or sheets of blotting paper, soaked in boracic acid solution—a teaspoonful of boracic acid to a pint of water—then dried, should be worn inside the shoe.

Several sheets of blotting paper could be soaked at one time, dried and kept ready for use. Another method is to apply glycerine to the feet immediately after they are bathed, before putting on the socks. The glycerine is put on soles, sides of feet, and in between the toes.

Dr. Althoff of Berlin some years ago recommended the use of formaldehyde in these cases. Formaldehyde, as you know, is the basis of nearly all proprietary medicines used to destroy body odors.

The feet should first be thoroughly washed with warm water and soap. Then the soles and the skin between the toes are painted with equal parts of 35 per cent. commercial formaldeyhde and distilled water. The solution should dry before the foot is covered. This treatment should be repeated three days in succession. The effect is prompt and lasts for four to six weeks, when the application should be repeated.

The sweating and the odor are often permantly cured.

X-ray treatments by a competent specialist has been of help in some cases. The use of the X-ray by other than an expert may give serious results.

I trust these little time suggestions may be of help to any afflicted readers.

OUR CHILDREN

LEFTBACK CHILDREN.

That last day of the term is a day of tragedy for the children who have been left back. That left-back decree causes more suffering than ever ought to be inflicted upon long suffering childhood. The class arrives dressed in their best, intensely excited. "You going to be promoted? I know I'm going to be left back."

Don't be deceived. Only the child certain of promotion ever says that. The failing child is tense with fear and silent as a stone. He knows that when the teacher calls the roll and the proud "promotions" march out of the room, he will be left sitting there in humiliation and loneliness. Shame on a system that allows such sorrow to fall upon a helpless child.

The worst possible method of promotion is that which calls for the reading of the names of the class in order of standing, their percentages following each name. "Donald Morgan, number one, ninety-four and four-tenths per cent. On line Donald." Donald swaggers to the head of the line taking his post by the door, trying not to look too puffed up. On through the list until the last seventy-five has been pronounced and only the left-backs have been omitted.

"These pupils will remain in their present classes: James Montgomery Alabama, forty-nine per cent." A half shocked, promptly suppressed giggle passes through the class as cold winds pass through dry thistles. Poor James Montgomery Alabama lays his head upon his arms and prays for the mountains to cover him. And the sky does not fall upon the teacher.

There is a better way than this. No child need be shamed and destroyed before his master like that. The teacher ought to know month by month, yes, week by week, which child is gaining and which is falling behind. She should take measures to help the failing child and when she knows that he must repeat his grade, or part of it, she should explain the situation to the child, to the class, to the child's parents, so that by term end, either the child has been prepared to go on with his mates or he has been prepared to repeat his work. There should be no apprehension, no worry, no dread about the last school day. Everybody should know how long beforetime what to expect and to be ready for it.

The last day ought to be a glad day. There should be a special program with pieces, and a play and gay costumes. There should be refreshments, simple, but pleasing to the children. Lollypops and, of course, ice-cream. Then there should be a set of cards, the same card for each child, on which is plainly written his term's report, the class and the grade and the room for next term. These are in envelopes and handed to the children as they leave for the term. Of course they know what is on the card but it is a record for the parents. It is most unwise to allow children to take home a report by word of mouth. The card is the official record. Children sometimes promote themselves when the teacher has seemingly overlooked them. The card precents such accidents.

Whatever you do, have no tragedies Do not disgrace the school by sending a heartbroken child out of its doors the last day of the term.

RED IS ALWAYS A FASHIONABLE COLOR.

Red, in one shade or another, has always been fashionable, and this afternoon dress of crepe de chine exploits a dark shade which should be very popular for autumn wear. Its length is typical of the daytime lengths of my current models, the belt is red deer-skin and fastens with a small gold buckle.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Alice Michaelis

THE CIRCLE

Life is a circle,
A shining ring
Of changeful seasons
From Spring to Spring.

Summer and Winter,
Zephyr and gale,
Sunlight and shadow,
These tell the tale.

From youth's sweet rapture,
A fleeting thing,
Men's steps fare forward
Aroud the ring.

All those before us
Went as we go,
All who will follow
This way must know.

First, childhood's hours;
Years fly, life's wane
Soon ends the circle . . .
Childhood again!

Yet this God grants us:
To make life's ring
A shining circle,
A golden thing!

Leafs Defeat Orioles and Strengthen Position

O'NEILL'S HIT GIVES TORONTO OVER ORIOLES

Leafs Gain Full Game on Two International League Leaders.

BEARS TROUNCE WINGS.

Bears Two-All Tie With Four Run Splurge—Royals Are Beaten.

TORONTO, July 8.—Toronto crept closer to the pace-setting Orioles and Red Wings, by taking a 2 to 1 verdict from Baltimore in the opening game of the series at Leaf Stadium yesterday by 2 to 1.

The Maple Leafs gained a full game on the two teams above them and further tightened an interesting pennant struggle.

Manager Steve O'Neill delivered the blow that spelled defeat for the Orioles and spoiled an otherwise fine pitching effort by Beryl Richmond, youthful Baltimore southpaw. It was O'Neill's single in the fourth that drove in Toronto's two tallies. The bases were full at the time, thanks to some loose playing by the Baltimore infield, a bad peg by Catcher McMullen, who tried to head Joe Harris off at third base on Sheedy's bunt, being one of the contributing factors in Baltimore's downfall. O'Neill's hit was the last one of five which the Leafs garnered from Richmond's flinging, but no other was needed.

BEARS TROUCE WINGS

ROCHESTER, July 8.—Rochester lost to Newark yesterday afternoon, 6 to 2, to remain one and one-half games back of the Baltimore Orioles, who lost to Toronto again. Four runs in the ninth trimmed Rochester and broke a tie of 2—2, which the Bears had gained by Windle's homer in the eighth. All four of the Bear's runs came off Ira Smith after Anderson had booted a grounder off Layne's bat, one that was an easy double play for the third out with no runs tallied. After that two hits, a base on balls and sacrifice made the scoring easy. "Lefty" Fischer allowed ten hits.

ALLEN TOO GOOD

MONTREAL, July 8.—Johnny Allen, young Black Cat hurler, gave the Royals but four scattered hits yesterday and Jersey City romped off with the third game of the series, 8—2. The Black Cats shelled Vangilder, Holsclaw and Smith for 14 solid smashes, but most of the damage was done at the expense of the big Dutchman in the fifth and sixth innings. The Cats buncher four blows in the fifth for three runs and duplicated this feat again in the sixth. Pittenger, West and Wera were prominent in the Jersey attack. Wera got two doubles and a single in four times up. Allen had a no-hit game up till the sixth inning.

READING WINS NIGHT GAME

BUFFALO, July 8—The ninth-inning home run made its appearance again last night and took another game from the Bisons for the Reading Keys, 5 to 4. With the Herd leading 4 to 3 entering into the ninth, Tom Loftus sent his club into the lead with a shot over the right field wall with Judges on base as the result of a pass. Those runs settled the issue, as the Bisons were handicapped by Herman in their half.

The game offered a remarkable contrast in crowds, as 5,000 persons turned out, several thousand more than attended a Saturday afternoon game last week.

FOREMAN STOPS SAMMY HACKETT

Impressive Showing By British Champion in Toronto Bout.

GOOD BOXING CARD.

TORONTO, Ont., July 8. (C.P.)—Al Foreman, Montreal, lightweight champion of Great Britain, knocked out Sammy Hackett, local aspirant to Leo "Kid" Roy's featherweight crown in the second round of their scheduled 10 round main bout at the Shamrock A.C.'s boxing show here last night.

In the semi-final Jackie Johnston, Toronto featherweight scored a second round knockout over Pat Rooney, Dublin, Ireland.

One of the best bouts on the card was the "grudge" match between Bobby Crothers, crafty Sarnia featherweight and Vince Glionna, Toronto. The former won after six exciting rounds of milling when he rallied strongly in the closing rounds to wipe out a lead Glionna had secured earlier. In their previous meetings here Crothers won from Glionna on a foul giving him three victories to one over the local boxer The weights: Crothers, 124¾; Glionna, 126.

DETROIT BREAKS EVEN

CHICAGO, July 8—The White Sox took advantage of poor Detroit fielding to win the second half of a double-header, 9 to 5 yesterday, after losing the first game, 3 to 2, to Earl Whitehill's fine pitching.

The Tigers out hit the Sox, 12 to 11, in the second game, but Pat Caraway managed to outlast Art Herring and Sullivan who worked for Detroit. Whitehill gave the Sox only four hits in the first game, while "Dutch" Henry was rapped for 12.

BROWNS BEAT INDIANS

CLEVELAND, July 8. — The St. Louis Browns took the Indians over the coals without much effort in the second game of the series yesterday, 6 to 1.

They lambasted the offerings of Pete Jablonowski and Belvidere Bean, both right handers, to a finish. It was a good day for George Blaeholder, and the issue was never in doubt.

Campbellford-Oshawa Game Postponed Until July 11th

CAMPBELLFORD, July 8 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—Owing to the fact that Oshawa are unable to meet Campbellford on Wednesday, July 9th, in the Intermediate lacrosse schedule fixture, the game has been postponed until Friday, July 11th.

The teams will take the field at the High School grounds, Campbellford, on that day at 5.30 standard time.

U.S. IDEAS IN AUSTRALIA

Latest American ideas and equipment have been used in the $2,500,000 addition to a leading chain of variety stores in Australia. The innovations were adopted after the architect had toured the United States in quest of ideas. The cafeteria, seating 1,000, is American-equipped, even to the facing of the building with rose-pink, white and blue terra cotta, and the interior with tile and marble in modernistic color arrangements — a radical change in conservative Australia.

Warsaw Ball Tangle Ends In 22-22 Count

WARSAW, July 8—(Examiner Correspondence).—A baseball game between Warsaw and a picked team from Lakefield ended in a tie 22-22 on Friday evening.

SAM MANDELL NATURAL BOXER

Art of Fighting Instinctive to Lightweight Champion of World.

HAD LITTLE COACHING

ORANGEBURG, N.Y., July 8.—Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion of the world, who defends his crown against Al Singer at the Yankee Stadium on July 17, represents one of those stellar figures in boxing that comes along at rare intervals.

For, to Mandell, boxing is the most natural thing in the world. Almost from the first time he raised his hands against a schoolboy adversary on the streets of Rockford, the art of fisticuffing seemed to him an instinctive thing. The perfected use of the left hand was perhaps the most unique phase of Mandell's early fighting makeup. Most youngsters entirely forget they posses a left hand in an endeavor to knock out opponents with the trusty right.

But Sammy, by the fact that he employed, the left hand in skillful use of the jab, was a boxer from the very beginning of his career. Sammy won nine out of his first eleven professional fights by knockouts but the feat was due mainly to the fact that his left hand completely bewildered his untried opponents and left them open to any punch the future champion elected to throw.

It is remarkable to note in perusing the career of Sammy Mandell that only one tutor ever worked with him. That was Jack Blackburn, a former star, who taught Sammy one or two matters about the game over a period of about two weeks.

Aside from that and what Sammy's brother, Joe, tried to show him of glove art, Mandell gained success in his chosen profession by virtue of his own natural ability. Sammy learned a great deal, it is true, by watching other men of the ring perform but he was never one to essay the style of another.

Sammy from the start of his fistic career found that he had his own style. It was a boxing style and it came quite easy to him to do just the right things when facing an opponent. As instinctively as you will close your eye against a flying speck in the air Sammy just as naturally dodged and avoided punches even in his early days in the ring.

Today, as champion, Mandell takes rank as one of the cleverest men the ring has produced.

Sammy Mandell's measurements reveal that the lightweight champion is now a fully-grown young man of 26. When he steps into the ring on July 17 to defend his titular honors he will represent the tallest lightweight champion the division has embraced.

Madell now stands five feet eight inches in his stocking feet. The tallest champion before Mandell was Oscar Battling Nelson, who measured five feet seven and a half inches in height. Freddie Welsh stood five feet seven inches, and Jack McAuliffe, Frank Erne, Ad Wolgast, Willie Ritchie, Benny Leonard and Jimmy Goodrich were each five feet six inches. Joe Gans, the old master, was a half-inch taller than the above six named.

Rock Kansas, from whom Mandell gained the title, stood five feet five inches and George Kid Lavigne the second lightweight champion the world knew, was the shortest, being five feet three and a half inches in height.

Softball Notes.

Tonight at Central School grounds Belmont Club and Harrison will hook up. This should be a good game. Harrison's seem to have finely hit their last year's stride, and are out to win the second half. Belmonts have a good team lined up and are also anxious to get away on the right foot in the second half. Fans can be assured of a good battle. The game will start at 6.30 sharp.

Wednesday night C.G.E. play Brintons on the Brinton grounds.

BY NO MEANS

The stage is all set for what may be the greatest come-back of the cinder tracks. Percy Williams Canada's first ranking sprinter, tasted his second defeat right in his own back yard on Dominion Day, handed to him by his old rivals, Eddie Toland, the Michigan Express, and George Simpson, the Ohio State bullet. Yet only three yards separated the first man from the third in a hundred and ten yards. What was the reason many ask? Some say it was Williams' bad leg. But when a sprinter is only trimmed by three yards it is more than likely due to a bad start, and it is rather hasty to assume that although he was trimmed decisively by Toland he is not by any means finished. Without making any alibis for Williams, his defeat did not surprise critics of the game. Lack of competition, of which Williams has had none for the past year, more than likely had a great deal to do with his defeat. Toland and Simpson have been competing regularly against the best sprinters in America and therefore are keyed up to a supreme effort. Williams will be at Hamilton for the British Empire games next month and with a few hard races tucked under his belt will probably be back to his Olympic form. In the International meet which follows at Chicago, the Canadian star will be able to show our American cousins how he beat their best at Amsterdam in 1926.

LOCAL BOWLERS FAIL TO QUALIFY

Strong Rinks Beaten in O. B. A. Tournament—Downing Wins First Game.

MAYNEORD LOSES 15-7.

HAMILTON, July 8. — The lawn bowlers, representing the best clubs in the Province, are at Roselawn Club, Gage Park, attending the forty-second annual tourney of the Ontario Lawn Bowling Association which opened here yesterday and will continue until Thursday when the finals in all three events, the Ontario Trophy, Ames Trophy and Niagara Trophy will be played. In the absence of civic officials, L. J. Harrington, president of the association, welcomed the bowlers, and in his opening remarks congratulated the Roselawn Club officials for having the greens in perfect condition for the big event.

A quartet that is expected to make a strong showing in the tourney is one skipped by W. J. Johnson, Buffalo, N.Y. The Bisons arrived yesterday morning, making the trip by air from the American city, and in their first round game against H. Nagel, Toronto High Park, they were returned winners by three shots.

Although the first round only got properly under way many surprises were furnished in the early play. J. Mayneord, Peterborough; J. H. Heighton, Toronto Canada's; H. C. Salisbury, Toronto St. Matthew's, and W. J. Ashplant, London, were some of the strong rinks who failed to qualify for the premier trophy yesterday.

A. Downing, West Toronto, winner of the Ontario Trophy last year, began just where he left off by defeating W. L. Ross, Hamilton Fernleigh, by a score of 24 to 10.

80 MILES ON CRUTCHES

A. Frost, a one-legged soldier, has completed a journey of more than 80 miles on crutches in a week. He started from Swindon and ended in London, as a gesture to the public. "Surely if I have the endurance and strength to walk 80 miles on crutches I should be capable of doing work," he said. Frost lost his leg in France while serving with the Royal Naval Reserves. He is the only one left of 10 brothers who served in the world war.

CUBS DROP THIRD STRAIGHT GAME TO CINCINNATI REDS; DODGERS STRENGTHEN LEAD

Wheetamoe and Yankee Win Trial Yacht Races

NEWPORT, R.I., July 8. — Wheetamoe whipped Whirlwind yesterday, but that was expected. Yankee and Charlie Adams whipped Enterprise, and that was not a foregone conclusion.

So ended the first of the observation races, which, with another series next month, will determine the defender of the America's Cup against Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock V. in September.

Whirlwind, in all previous races, followed the other three defender candidates home, so Wheetamoes' victory yesterday was scant cause for elation.

But this was the Yankee's first victory, and something to jot down in the logbook. In winning over the enterprise she defeated a boat which took three straight races in the recent Eastern club series.

EIGHTH VICTORY FOR SUGAR BOWL

Candymen Score in First and Third Frames to Gain 15-7 Decision.

SOME HEAVY HITTING.

Scoring three runs in the first and seven in the third Sugar Bowl gained a lead large enough to win from C.G.E., and came through with a 15-7 score. It was the eighth straight win for the Sugar Bowl and gave them a good start in the second half of the softball schedule.

Both teams treated the fans to some heavy hitting and also some sparkling fielding, for although the score was large the runs were scored on good solid hits.

Dormer, who was on the rubber for the Candymen, won his fifth straight victory. He has yet to lose a game. He was touched for nine hits, but was backed by good support, and turned in a nice fielding performance himself.

Martin started on the mound for the C.G.E. and was hit hard. He was relieved by Richmond, who twirled nice ball and kept the Sugar Bowl batters in check from the fifth inning on.

Max Wilson was the outstanding fielding star, making several great catches. Bradshaw also turned in a nice fielding card.

Harold and George Dormer with four hits apiece did the heavy artillery work for their team.

The line ups:

Sugar Bowl—Westbrooke, 3b; H. Dormer, p; Weese, 2b; Gillespie, cf; G. Dormer, ss; Dallin, lf; Bradshaw, 1b; Connors, c; Burke, rf.

C.G.E.—Millard, lf; Griffin, 1b; Wilson, 2b; Routley, c; O'Toole, 3b; Miller, ss; McDonough, cf; Martin, p, rf; Richmond, rf, p.

Giants in Slugfest.

PHILADELPHIA, July 8. — A slugging orgy, during which eight pitchers were pounded for 38 hits, resulted in a 13-to-12 triumph for the New York Giants over the Philadelphia Phillies yesterday.

The Phillies outhit the Giants 22 to 16, but the New Yorkers made their blows count and also took advantage of Philadelphia's four errors. Five pitchers saw service on the mound for the Giants, while the Phillies sent three out to stop the visiting sluggers.

Cardinals' Streak Ends.

ST. LOUIS, July 8. — The St. Louis Cardinals' winning streak was stopped at five games by the Pittsburg Pirates with a 9-to-5 defeat here yesterday. Herman Bell started the game for the Cards and help the Pirates helpless until the seventh when he was removed for a pinch hitter. Pittsburg nicked Haid and Lindsey, who followed for eight of their nine runs in the last three innings. Haid was charged with the defeat. "SunnyJim" Bottomley and Suhr, first baseman for the Cards and Pirates, both hit home runs.

League to Consider Caledonian Protest on Wednesday

SATURDAY GAME SET FOR FRIDAY

Packers and Brintons Tangle Promises Entertainment For Socer Fans.

GAME ON WEDNESDAY.

To-morrow evening at the Brinton Ground, the Canadian Packing will meet Brinton Athletic in the semi-final of the Phelan Charity Cup. Referee Jack Hodson. Kick-off at 6.45. Linesmen, Jack Cairns and Alexander McKinley.

Whenever these two teams meet there is always a good crowd and they have split even in the number of games won. The winner will meet the Canadian General in the final game for possession of the trophy. If the protest of the Scots is upheld by the directors, it will put a different aspect on the situation.

Canadian Packing executive have chosen the following team: C. Griffin, goal; Jack Wade and A. Downer, full backs; J. Buchan, J. Wilshaw, and A. Bromley, halves; N. Downer, A. Beggs, T. Foster, J. Cross and J. Preston, forwards. Reserves, George Logan and W. Rickard.

Special Meeting.

A sensation was caused at the P. and D.F.A. meeting last night when representative of the Caledonians informed the association that they had forwarded a protest to the secretary according to the rules, and also complied with the declaration that they notify the opposing team. Robert Gilmour intimated that they had posted a registered letter to the escretary, who stated he had not received same. After keen debating, the board finally arrived at a decision to hold a special meeting of the board of directors on Wednesday evening in the Chamber of Commerce Rooms at 8.30. The protest will be heard by the executive, and all club representatives are requested to be present.

Game on Friday Night.

Owing to the Twelfth of July celebration, the members present thought it was advisable that they forego the tussle for Saturday and play the league game on Friday evening. All clubs please notify the secretary as to their opinion so that the matter can be considered on Wednesday evening, when the date will be settled.

League Standing.

Two points for a win; one for draw.

Position given according to goal average.

Referees Please Attend.

J. C. Russell sent in his written application to the board as an official referee under the jurisdiction of the local association.

The executive have decided that all referees undergo the test, except where they can show their credentials from any other organized body affiliated with organized soccer.

Jack Hodson, James Hawthorne, and J. C. Russell will attend the meeting of directors in a formal manner and comply with the rules and regulations.

Ernie Hanson was the only player registered with the Brinton team. James Quinn and F. Flynn were registered with the Canadian General.

League Scorers.

R. Curtain, Caledonials, 5; N. Downer, C.P.C., 2; J. McMaster, C. G.E., 2; Best, Caledonians, 1; Willshaw, C.P.C., 1; Beggs, C.P.C., 1; James, Brinton, 1; B. McMaster, C. Boggie, through his own goal.

Twenty-four goals have been scored in the league.

Meeting on Wednesday.

Arrangements have been completed whereby the executive will meet in the Chamber of Commerce Rooms at 8.30 prompt, when the Caledonian protest will be considered relative to the Phelan Charity Cup tie in which C.G.E. took part.

TWO-BALL FOURSOMES BECOMING POPULAR

Leading women golfers in Canada are taking up a two-ball foursome competition that is the first of its kind to be played by Canadian women golfers. The competition is 18 holes medal play and is of a type that ranks high in English golfing circles. On the left above are shown Miss Maude and Miss Cecil Eustace Smith, who were prominent in a competition of this description recently, and at the right, Mrs. S. G. HAWAIIAN MUSIC BRINGS TO END CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM IN CITY

Albert Vierra and His Troupe Entertain Largest Audience of Season.

CLEVER MUSICIANS.

Hawaiian music provided the closing item on the bill of fare for this year's Chautauqua programs, which concluded in the big tent last evening after a most successful series of entertainments that commenced last Wednesday evening. Last night saw an almost capacity crowd of over seven hundred people in attendance.

Albert Vierra and his troupe played the languorous, crooning, haunting music of the South Sea Islands, as a portion of their program, the main part, however, being renditions of the music that is so very familiar to lovers of the radio and the phonograph; the choppy brisk music that has graduated from jazz into something else again, just a little more syncopated and hard to follow. They had plenty of applause for their afternoon and evening entertainments, which were pleasing and very skilfully done.

These cheerful, brown-skinned people of the far-away islands of the Pacific are clever musicians and they radiate an atmosphere of cheerful and youthful vitality that makes their performances spontaneous and very jolly. Last evening, their background was extraordinarily effective, even more so than the setting contrived for their appearance here three seasons back, on the Chautauqua platform. They had a back drop that simulated a tropic sea, blue-green in its ultramarine brilliance. A volcano that was in action during the moments, when with lowered lights, it did its stuff through electric manipulation, provided a realistic bit of staging, and there was a tiny lighthouse that winked electrically out and on throughout the evening, with a wonderfully real electric moon riding high in the blue tropic sky. The stage, with its rose-shaded lights, its pavilion with rose-shaded lights, its and its white-clad musicians whose necks were draped with bright leis or wreaths, added the last touch to an attractive scene.

Clever Musicians

The quintette of clever players include a pianist who did some interesting pianologue work and played the violin very skilfully, as well; Albert Vierra himself, the possessor of a splendid baritone voice and skilled in several stringed instruments; a vivid player on the steel guitar; a small man with shining, jolly face and swift fingers and fine tenor voice, who told jokes to the children and finally went into a yodel as a last bit of versatile entertainment, and a little, rotund pianist whose cheerful manner and good playing brought his much applause. There was also Mrs. Vierra, giving an eloquent account of her return to her beloved South Sea Islands, after an absence of ten years, and enthusing her listeners with some of her own love for her far-away tropical home.

The South Sea Isles.

Mrs. Vierra, the possessor of a charming personality and a voice whose accent betrayed at moments her French strain, gave a very interesting account of a trip back home to her beloved islands. Her interest in them is manifestly intense and she drew a vivid word picture of that glamorous land where the volcanoes and their eruptions are sources of great entertainment to the islanders, and where the temperature, in its variations, has all the charm of a whimsical and beautiful woman.

Honolulu, with its 180,000 people; the sugar plantations from which 72 million dollars worth of sugar went out last year, and the pineapple groves that provided 21 million dollars worth of exports in the same twelvemonth; Waikiki, with its marvellous beach and the tropically warmed waters where one can swim in comfort for three hours at a stretch; the miles of beautiful highways, "with not a billboard in sight," the volcano that is called "The House of the Sun," with its head well above the clouds; Hilo, principal city of the Island of Hawaii; the word picture of the lava overflow that sends its seething fire into the ocean to cook fish three miles out; Kilauea volcano, four thousand feet above sea level, where the wild blows viciously cold and yet, on the outer side of the crater, steam issuing from the crevices causes flowers to bloom in profusion; the welcome and farewell of the Hawaiian Islanders to their visitors, these were all described in fascinating terms by the eloquent speaker.

Last evening also, Miss G. Hyndman, superintendent of this year's Canadian Chautauqua series, appeared for a brief space to thank all those who had helped in any way in making this series so successful.

Liquid Air Demonstration.

In the afternoon, a most interesting demonstration of liquid air and its vagaries was given by Elliott James, in a bit of scientific entertainment that provided an unusual contrast to the musical program of the afternoon.

Mr. James made his scientific experiments very clear and simple, and his demonstration proved very fascinating. His ethereal substance, contained in special glass jars, was three hundred and twelve degrees below zero, but with it he managed very quickly to boil a kettle in which the stuff had been placed, by putting it on a block of ice.

Then he manufactured a candle of kerosene with a wick which he lighted when the air had reached the proper degree of chill to convert it into a means of illumination. He froze mercury and made it into a little hammer and he froze alcohol into real 'hard liquor."

MARQUETTE HONORS CANADIAN FOR THIRD CONSECUTIVE YEAR.

NEW YORK, July 8. — The Marquette University track team in 1931, will be captained by Arnold P. (Pete) Walter of Listowel, Ont, a member of the 1928 Canadian Olympic track squad and three quarter mile star of Marquette's undefeated medley relay team this year. He is a law student and his brother Jack also is a track star at the university. The election of Walter marks the third consecutive year that a Canadian will lead a Marquette varsity team. Clarence (Pudge) Mackenzie of Calgary captained the 1929 Marquette hockey team and Donnie McFayden, also of Calgary, piloted the 1830 championship sextet.

Sarnia Will Take Team If League Finances It

SARNIA, July 8.—Despite report from Ontario League headquarters to the contrary, nothing has been done locally regarding placing a team here for the balance of the season to take the place of the defunct Hamilton team which folded up its wings at the end of the first half after vainly trying to get anything like an even break with the amateurs of Hamilton in the matter of dates.

CAMBRIDGE ELEVEN OUT FOR 288 RUNS

Oxford Scores 68 For Three Wickets in Annual Inter-Varsity Match.

LONDON, July 8.—The ninety-second inter-varsity cricket match began at Lord's yesterday with Cambridge winning the toss and batting first. The light blues scored 288 runs, all out, and Oxford were 68 runs for three wickets when stumps were pulled.

Of the 91 games played, Cambridge have won 43 and Oxford 36, with the remaining 12 games being drawn.

The opening pair for Cambridge, G. D. Kemp-Welch and E. T. Killick, quickly ran up the score, making 60 in the first hour and 100 in 90 minutes. Killick was bowled by Peebles when he had scored 75, which included eight 4's. After lunch the fielding improved. The 200 was put up after three hours' batting, a partnership between Brown and Morgan producing 66 runs in an hour and five minutes. Brown had 5 hits for 4 runs each.

Oxford started disastrously, losing the first wicket without scoring. Crawley attempted an impossible run. The Nawab of Pataudi, hero of last year's drawn game, did not get comfortable set, and was bowled for 5 runs.

LEAFS OUTHIT RIVALS TO DEFEAT CLASSICS

Calladine Has Total of 17 Strike-outs—Final Count 16-2.

The Maple Leafs outhit their rivals the Classics, 16 to 2, at James Stevenson Park last evening and defeated by the lopsided score of 17 runs to 3. While there were few errors on either side, the losers just couldn't get hold of the curves of Calladine. Leaf's hurler, who whiffed 17 of them on strikes.

CHAUTAUQUA LEAVES CITY

Big Tent Was Pulled Down Some Time During the Night.

UNDERGRADUATES.

Between the hours of 11 last night and 2 this morning, 3 men and a volunteer squad of boys performed the task of striking the big Chautauqua tent, dismantling all equipment and piling it preparatory to its being loaded on trucks.

The three men, whose strength appeared to be that of the poetic ten, were all University of Toronto undergraduates, carrying on the tradition of the virility and versaltility of the men of that university—and, incidentally, relieving the strain on the family exchequer by earning their tuition and board for next year. They explained to The Examiner that they slept on cots outdoors or in convenient nooks to save hotel bills.

Everard Nash, in charge of operations, hails from Vancouver and is a medical student. He hasn't been home since last summer and counts on his present job netting him enough to cross the continent in September so that he can spend a few weeks with his family before term opens.

MASONS DEFEAT LANG 10 TO 7

Few Errors in Softball Fixture Played at Keene Recently.

HEAVY HITTING.

KEENE, July 8.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—Hooking up in a softball fixture at Keene recently, the Masons took the Lang squad into count for 10-7 decision. Errors were scarce but four being chalked up altogether, one for the Masons and three for Lang. The box score:

O'DOUL GAINS IN BIG SIX CIRCUIT

Slugging Philadelphia Outfielder Boosts Batting Average to Even .400.

TORONTO, July 8.—The National League half of baseball's "Big Six" had things all their own way yesterday, but only Frank O'Doul managed to improve his average. The slugging Phillies' left fielder was at bat four times in the clubbing fest with the Giants and pounded out two hits, one of which was a home run, to boost his batting average to an even .400. Although "Chuck" Klein hit his twenty-fourth home run to tie Hack Wilson of the Cubs for the league leadership, he lost one percentage point when he got only two hits in six times at bat. Paul Waner went hitless against St. Louis pitching, while Ruth, Gehrig and Simmons were idle as their teams had an off day in the schedule.

A Second Carnera Arrives In U. S.

NEW YORK, July 8. — A rival of Primo Carnera, in size at least, has arrived in the United States, for a whirl at the boxing business as it is conducted here.

Jose Santa of Portugal, arrived on the Olympic yesterday. He is six feet eight and one-half inches tall, he confessed, weighs 255 pounds, has a reach of 80½ inches, and wears size 13 shoes. Sartorially, Santa is not particularly modest. He affects bright colored suits, and wears a large purple felt hat.

CRUCIAL GAME ON WEDNESDAY

COGS VS. CRESCENTS.

Cogs meet Crescents in a very crucial fixture to-morrow evening at Exhibition Park at 6.15. Cogs need this game as another loss will put them further in the cellar and almost spoil their chances. They have Vannest, Ralph and Macdonald primed for the occasion, while Manager Brioux will likely rely on Jeff Hardill.

Interesting Games In Bantam Schedule

The Bantam City League schedule for the remainder of the week is as follows:

Thurs., July 10—Maple Leafs at Dare Devils.

Friday, July 11.—Classics at Kiwanis.

Both games will be played at James Stevenson Park, commencing at 6.15 and both games should commend themselves to fans who are desirous of learning the manner in which baseball is being played by the youngsters in the city.

DRAGOONS LEAVE FOR BARRIEFIELD

Mounted Regiment Goes to Camp With Strength Complete.

AWAY 12 DAYS.

One hundred and twenty men comprising the rank and file of the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons, entrained at noon to-day en route to Barriefield Camp, where the next twelve days will be given over to intensive military training, by the local men in conjunction with the 2nd Mounted Brigade of which they are an integral part, and which also includes the Princess Louise Dragoons, Ottawa and the 4th Hussars of Prescott.

Presenting a smart and healthy appearance, the citizen soldiers, under the command of Lieut.-Col. E. W. Powell will arrive in camp this evening to find everything in readiness for their two weeks' life under army conditions, the advance party which left here on Monday morning having attended to that.

Ninety-six horses, procured locally by the Department of National Defense, have been commissioned for the training period. The regiment, which is making remarkable progress, goes to camp this year up to full strength and efficiency. It is worthy of note that there is a large waiting list for entry into this splendid corps, many men having been refused enlistment this year. Such a state of affairs has had a marked effect on the efficiency, as it has meant that careful choice has been made as to the type of recruit whoch is accepted, while the standard which has always been high is possibly more so now than at any other period in the regiment's recent history.

The regiment goes into training this year under the following officers: O. C. Lieut.-Colonel H. W. Powell; A Squadron (Norwood), Major M. R. Sloan, Lieuts. A. Johnson, B. Dawson, J. Payne, Newman: B. Squadron (Millbrook), Capt. E. G. Johnston, Lieuts. Nolan, R. Stewart, Hughes; C Squadron (Peterborough), Captain C. H. Stuart, Captain Frank G. Stinson, Lieuts. E. F. Sheehy, A. McNab, J. D. Fanning.

Headquarters, Adjutant, Captain H. G. Mason; Major Rogers, Veterinary Officer; Major E. H. Wood, Medical Officer; Chaplain, Captain Rev. J. Douglas Paterson, Captain Cutmore, Paymaster; Lieut.-Col. T. D. Johnston, Quartermaster, and Lieut. Goheen.

36 CHARGES ARE FACING BROKER

F. M. Smith Appears in Toronto Court After Lengthy Fight.

$125,000 INVOLVED.

TORONTO, Ont., July 8. (C.P.)—When Francis McLean Smith, stock broker, brought to Toronto last week from New York city, appears in Police Court to-day, 36 different charges involving $125,000 will be read against the accused.

Smith, a citizen of the United States, jumped bail of $40,000 two years ago, and was later arrested in New York city. For nearly a year Smith fought extradition in every court in the United States.

Thousands of dollars were spent by the defense and the local Attorney-General's Department in the fight to have the broker deported to face the charges.

Smith took over the business of the Toronto Securities Limited, after the Janis brothers disposed of their interests and left the city.

The Janis brothers were brought from New York and are at present serving terms of three years each in Kingston Penitentiary. Of the 36 charges, 25 are of theft, 10 of fraud and 1 of receiving.

A Bedtime Story

by Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY'S THREE ADVENTURES.

Many adventures had come to Uncle Wiggily around the fourth of July. The old rabbit gentleman had helped his little bunny boys and girls celebrate with skyrockets made by putting lighting bugs in bottles of red, blue, green, pink and yelllow colored glass. Then Uncle Wiggily and Mr. Twistytail, the pig gentleman, had tossed the bottles of fireflies up in the air after dark, and the bugs, flashing their lights, made it seem as if skyrockets were being shot off.

"And the best of all our first of July was that nobody got burned," said Uncle Wiggily when it was all over.

"Well, what are you going to do next?" asked Nurse Jane, as she saw Mr. Longears putting on his tall, silk hat.

"I am going to look for more adventures," answered the rabbit uncle. "I must have adventures. Good-by, Nurse Jane! Here I go!"

With that Uncle Wiggily began to hop over the fields and through the woods. He twinkled his pink nose and whistled a jolly tune for the sun was shining and it was a lovely day.

All of a sudden there was a noise in the bushes back of Uncle Wiggily and, looking around between his ears the rabbit gentleman saw the Woozie Wolf coming after him.

"Here is where I must hop faster!"

thought Uncle Wiggily. "Lucky for me he is a good ways off!" So the rabbit began to hop and the Wolf began to run, and Mr. Longears felt so jolly and strong after the first of July that soon he had left the Wolf a long way behind. "That was adventure number one," chuckled the bunny gentleman as he hopped slower for the Wolf was no longer a danger.

On and on went Uncle Wiggily and after a while he heard another noice back of him. He looked between his ears and saw the Fox.

"Here is where I must hop fast again!" thought Uncle Wiggily. So he hopped and the Fox ran to get a rabbit lunch and soon there was a race. Bute UncleWiggily felt so jolly and strong and swift after his 4th of July that he could keep ahead of the Fox, though it wasn't so easy for Mr. Longears as it had been to run away from the Wolf.

But after a while the Fox was so far behind that he knew it was of no use to keep up the race any longer so he turned about and went to join the other Bad Chap.

"That was adventure number two," chuckled Uncle Wiggily as he hopped slower to catch his breath. "I wonder if I shall have any more?" He did not have long to wait, for soon after that, out from the bushes hopped the BobCat with his own silly, little tail. He had lost the brown cat tail that Uncle Wiggily had fastened on him with sticky juice from the milkweed plant.

"Ha! Here's where I pay you back for giving me a tail that would not stick!" howled the Bob Cat, and he started to chase Uncle Wiggily.

Now the rabbit gentleman was tired from having been chased by the Fox and Wolf, so he could not run as fast this time. The Bob Cat was fresh and came closer and closer to the rabbit. Uncle Wiggily ran past a farmer's barn, in front of which stood some big, empty tin milk cans, larger than a baby carriage. Near them was a cow lady waiting to be milked. And when she saw poor Uncle Wiggily being chased by the Bob Cat the cow lady said:

"Quick, Uncle Wiggily, jump in one of these empty milk cans and hide from the Bad Chap."

"Good!" cried the rabbit. "I'll do it!" The Bob Cat was just around the corner, out of sight for the moment. Uncle Wiggily jumped up in the air and came down in an empty milk can as large as a baby carriage. With a twist of her horns, the cow lady flipped a cover on the can and so Uncle Wiggily was well hidden by the time the Bob Cat got there.

"Where's Uncle Wiggily?" mewed the Bob Cat to the cow lady.

"I don't see any rabbit," she mooed calm like and chewing her cud. Truly she couldn't see Uncle Wiggily who was inside the can.

"Fooled again!" growled the Bob Cat as he slunk away.

The cow lady was going to lift the can cover off with her horns, so Uncle Wiggily could hop out and go home when, all of a sudden, down to the barn came the Farmer himself.

"I dare not let you out now, Uncle Wiggily," whispered the cow lady to the bunny in the milk can. "The Farmer might not like to see you in one of his cans. Wait until he goes away and I'll let you out."

"All right," whispered Uncle Wiggily. But the Farmer, instead of going away went right up to the can where Uncle Wiggily was hidden and, all of a sudden took off the cover. The rabbit thought the cow lady had done it, so of course out he popped.

"My! My! What's this? A rabbit in my milk can!" cried the Farmer. "What's the big idea?" But Uncle Wiggily did not stop to tell him. Home the rabbit gentleman hopped as fast as he could go.

"That was adventure number three!" chuckled Mr. Longears as he reached his bungalow. "And it was the best of the lot!" So his busy day came to an end

Mechanic Improves.

Michael Wilcox, the mechanic who survived the motorboat crash that claimed the lives of Segrave and his senior assistant, is progressing favorably and will soon leave the hospital. The speedboat, "Miss England II," under the command of Sir Henry Segrave, had just broken the world's record for motorboats when it struck a piece of driftwood and turned turtle, killing the famous speed king and one mechanic.

It was recently stated in the English Parliament that Home Secretary Clynes refused to sanction the holding in London of a conference arranged by the International Committee of Negro Workers in America, a Communist organization.

Decided to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Moncton, New Brunswick—"Before my last baby was born I was very weak, nervous and discouraged. I saw an advertisement in the paper about a woman who had been like me so I bought a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took three bottles and it carried me safely through that critical time. I have three children to care for and I feel well and strong. I have told two other women about your medicine."—Mrs. Gus Arsenault, 82 Albert Street, Moncton, New Brunswick.

Madoc Sunday School Picnics At Moira Lake

MADOC, July 8.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Wednesday afternoon, July 2, was observed by the members of Trinity United Sunday school as the annual Sunday school picnic. This was held at Ozone Park, Moira Lake, and cars were provided to take all wishing to go. Soon after one o'clock, the usual crowd was gathered at the church, and all were soon transported to the picnic grounds.

Swimming, boating, swinging, and ball games occupied most of the busy crowd for a few hours, after which races were run by all. There were tiny tots' races, primary races, junior boys, junior girls, intermediate races for boys and for girls, and for older boys and older girls, races for married folk, and then many free-for-alls.

Lunch time followed, and all were served from the bountiful supply provided by the ladies, and many indulged in sports and games until time for home again arrived.

The superintendent, Mr. James Keene, and his staff of capable teachers, and the pastor, Rev. G. W. Rivers, are to be heartily congratulated on the success of the day.

Voice of the People

Letters to be printed in the Voice of the People column must be received at The Examiner Office on the day before it is desired to have them published.

MR. PECK'S BLUFF.

Mr. Peck persists in his attempt to bluff off the real issue of this campaign. He insists that unemployment is the issue. I have quoted repeatedly Mr. Bennett's own words in which he proclaimed: "We warned in time. There is only one issue at this election, a greater Canada," with much more to the same effect. I can't make Mr. Peck respect his leader's words, but I will bet Mr. Peck any reasonable sum (to go to charity) that I can prove that he is denying the statement of the one issue of this campaign made by his own leader. That, I hope, will bring matters to a head.

Surely when Mr. Peck insists that unemployment is the chief issue of this election, he shows a strange and callous disregard of this critical and perhaps last attempt to form an empire.

TARZAN OF THE APES No. 5 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Now that the horror of absolute solitude was upon them, Lady Greystoke's overwrought nerves gay way, stoke's overwrought nerves gave way, the horror of it. What are we to do? If it were only you and I," she sobbed, "we could endure it, I know; but, the baby—". His great heart yearned to comfort her.

After calming her, he opened the box containing his rifles and ammunition, that they might both be armed against possible attack. His first thought was to arrange a sleeping shelter for the night; something which might serve to protect them from prowling beasts. Together they sought a favorable location.

Four trees were selected which formed a rectangle, and cutting long branches securely to the trees by means of rope, a quantity of which Black Michael fortunately had furnished him from the hold of Fuwalda.

During the day the forest about them had been filled with excited birds of brilliant plumage, and dancing, chattering monkeys, who watched these new arrivals and their wonderful nest-building operations with every mark of keenest interest and fascination. By dusk the snug shelter was completed.

A sharp lookout was kept while they worked, and once they saw their little simian neighbors come screaming over the nearby ridge, and casting affrightened glances over their shoulders, evincing as plainly as though by speech that they were fleeing some terrible thing which lay concealed there. What was it?

DOWNINGS BEATEN IN THIRD ROUND

Last Year's Ontario Trophy Champion Lawn Bowler Defeated at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, July 8.—(C.P.)—The defeat of Arthur Downings' strong West Toronto rink, winners of the Ontario trophy in 1929, was one of the few upsets in the third round of the feature offering on the Ontario Lawn Bowling Association program this morning, and strange to relate the rink that defeated Downing was none other than the one skipped by Bob Graham, Toronto High Park, the rink that Downing defeated in the final last year.

AGRICULTURE SHOW VISITED BY PRINCE

Great English Exhibition Includes 3,137 Livestock Entries.

MANCHESTER, Eng., July 8.—(C.P. Cable).—Prince George, youngest son of His Majesty, flew from London to Manchester to-day for the opening of the Royal Agricultural Society's show, the greatest event of the year in the British agricultural world.

Ninety acres of land have been converted into a town of wooden buildings, holding the best of everything in English livestock and agricultural produce and farming implements. The show, it was seen to-day, has shed none of its traditional importance, even though the area is somewhat smaller than usual.

The entries, including 3,137 of the finest specimens of live stock, are fewer than at Harrogate last year, probably because Lancashire is a smaller agricultural area than its neighboring county, Yorkshire. From the financial standpoint, however, the present show seems likely to surpass most of its many predecessors, especially if brilliant weather continues.

FERGUSON SAYS THREE TO FALL IN KING CABINET

Denies Charge That Ontario Gov't to Blame For Waterway Delay.

'HEENAN TO BE DEFEATED.'

Refers to Industries of Several Ontario Ministers in Own Ridings.

PICTON, Ont., July 8 (C.P.) — Sharp criticism of the attitude of the Dominion Government regarding the Ontario Hydro Electric System and of Premier Mackenzie King because the latter had not, he said, declared himself on the St. Lawrence Waterways development, marked the address here last night of Premier G. H. Ferguson. He spoke before an audience of more than 2,000 Conservatives who had previously nominated John Weese as candidate in the forthcoming Dominion election.

Answers King's Statement

Answering Premier King's statement that the Ontario Government was largely responsible for the delay in the St. Lawrence development, Premier Ferguson said, "It is the function of the Dominion Government and of Premier King. It is not the function of the Provincial Government. Never until the present Liberal Government came into power had any Federal administration challenged the Provinces' rights to water power development. "To-day," he continued, "the King Government is endeavoring by every means in its power to destroy the ownership of the Province of Ontario, to destroy your proprietary rights in this great asset we have in the Hydro system."

Including The Toronto Globe in his charges, Mr. Ferguson asked why that newspaper did not declare itself on public ownership and also ask Premier King "to give us a pronouncement on how he proposes to develop the St. Lawrence. I say that were it in my jurisdiction to develop the St. Lawrence," he continued, "I should tell you how I would do it in a very few minutes.

Foresees Fall of Three

Bringing Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor, within range of his sweeping attack, Mr. Ferguson said he felt sure three if not four of Ontario's representatives in the King Cabinet would meet defeat in the election. Of these Mr. Heenan, he said, is one. He humorously referred to the industry of several Ontario Cabinet Ministers in their own ridings, while Quebec Ministers, he said, were carrying on the burden of the election generally. In this, Mr. Ferguson said he saw an omen of defeat for the present Government.

STILL A PROTECTIONIST W. COCKSHUTT STATES

BRANTFORD, Ont., July 8 (C.P.). —W. F. Cockshutt, ex-M.P., who has returned to the city after attending the Empire Chambers of Commerce gathering at London, commented:

"Some of my friends, reading a newspaper despatch yesterday, might be led into the error that I was shifting my political views I am just as strong a Protectionist as ever, and at the same time just as true an Imperialist as ever. There is nothing contradictory in being a Canadian first and an Empire man to the full extent of Empire trade, without sacrificing the vital interests of the Dominion.

Retired British naval officers are adopting many and varied vocations, from teaching school, selling insurance and running boarding houses to breeding rabbits and peddling coal.

NIPPED IN THE BUD

Fire, believed to have been caused by sparks from molten metal broke out in the roof at the Hamilton Foundary last evening shortly before seven o'clock. Members of the City Fire Department in dealing with the trouble, found it necessary to tear off a strip of metal roofing at the seam, for a distance of eight to ten feet in order to apply chemicals to the seat of the outbreak. Little damage was caused.

BURNHAM ON AIR TO-NIGHT.

A grisled campaigner of many election fights, J. H. Burnham, former Conservative member for this constituency, will face the microphone to-night for the first time in support of W. P. Mulock, the Liberal candidate for North York riding.

The monster Liberal rally will open at 8 o'clock, daylight saving time, and will be held at the Mechanics' Hall, Aurora. The address of Mr. Burnham will be broadcast over station CFRB at 9.00 o'clock.

DRAW IS MADE.

The drawing for prizes given in connection with the recent social of St. Vincent's Orphanage took place last evening.

The doll was won by Douglas McDonald of Crescent Street, and one of the sisters in the House of Providence won the luncheon set.

LIBERAL MEETINGS.

Liberal meetings in the riding this week take J. J. Duffus to Villiers on Wednesday evening with G. A. Gillespie and Dr. J. J. Craig; and on Thursday there will be a joint meeting by Mr. Duffus and M. J. Holman, Liberal candidate in Durham, in the Orange Hall at Fraserville.

CURTIS BRICKS ARE ON DISPLAY

Beautiful Fireplace is on Exhibit in The Examiner Window.

NEW BRICK PRODUCTS.

Bricks that are like marble in their veined finish, and that have that antique look that is so prized at the present time, when brash, new things have lost their charm and drawing power, have a place in the north window of The Examiner offices, where a fireplace has been constructed to demonstrate the Curtis' Brothers' recently patented new brick and clay products.

The formula for this brick has been the pet work of George Curtis for some years, and it has just been patented. It comes in any color and can be made to harmonize or match with curtains or hangings of any type. It has a tapestry-like quality that makes its use very effective in interiors. There are deep blues that resembled lapis lazuli; greens of soft type, and the many browns that combine so well with any color.

The bricks of this type are guaranteed to last indefinitely and to withstand any climatic test. They are really the ordinary bricks made by the Curtis Company for many years with the addition of colored materials that give them a unique and very attractive appearance.

CANADIAN CUSTOM AUTHORITIES REQUIRE NO BIRTH CERTIFICATES

U. S. Tourists Are Able to Enter Canada Under No Identification Restrictions.

U. S. REGULATION.

Misunderstanding concerning certain instructions to residents of the United States, recently issued by the Department of National Revenue concerning entry into the Dominion of Canada, is apparent in an article contained in the "Warren Tribune Chronicle", Ohio, which alleges that an unnecessary amount of red tape will be connected with annual tours into Canada.

Provisions made in the instructions relative to the presentation of birth certificates when applying for entry to the Dominion, seem to have caused our neighbours to the south some surprise, although it is pointed out that such a measure is made necessary, to prevent possible difficulty in re-entering the United States and is not intended to cause any embarassment or delay to northbound tourists.

Article (C) of section 2 which is entitled "Leaving Canada" contains the following paragraph: "To prevent possible difficulty in re-entering the United States, native-born citizens should be prepared to present birth certificates or credentials from responsible persons proving United States citizenship; naturalized citizens of the United States should be prepared to present their certificates of naturalization; alien residents of the United States should be prepared to present proofs of legal entry into the United States not longer than six months without losing their status as residents."

It will be readily recognized that the provision does not call specifically for the production of birth certificates, but for proof of citizenship which the United States emmigration officials demand, and in antithesis to the allegations made by the "Warren Chronicle" that "more red tape has been added by the Dominion Government" it is stated by W. J. Egan, deputy Minister of Inland Revenue that, "Immigration regulations do not call for production of any specific documents by tourists to secure entry into Canada from the United States. The law provides for entry of this class. We welcome tourists from the United States" emphatically states Mr. Egan, "and our immigration officers extend all facilities and every possible courtesy."

The above pronouncement from Mr. Egan was obtained from the Deputy Minister at Ottawa, by E. A. Peck, and was obtained in the hope of making the position perfectly clear to Canadians and to all American guests at present in our midst.

MIKE SMITH PAYS DEATH SENTENCE IN HAMILTON JAIL

Slayer of Winona Farmer Walks to Scaffold With Firm Step.

PRIEST ALMOST FAINTS.

Prisoner Has No Ill Feelings — Hangman Ellis Taken Ill.

HAMILTON, Ont., July 8 (C.P.) — Whatever his past record may have been, much of which was disclosed in his recent trial here for the murder of John Iwantz, Winona, Mike Smith convicted of that murder for which two others also faced trial, went to his death shortly after midnight, with a calm air and stating he had no ill feelings against those with whom he had previously shown enmity.

Slow, Firm Step

Smith mounted the steps of the scaffold with Father O'Shaughnessy, with a slow but firm step and was heard to mutter what sounded like "Jesus loves me," as Hangman Ellis sprang the trap which sent Smith into eternity.

The Priest, visibly moved as he repeated the Lord's Prayer, almost collapsed and leaned against the railing for support. Later, Hangman Ellis was taken ill but quickly rallied; it being explained that he suffered a mild attack of indigestion.

Smith spent the last few hours of his life with Rev. Father W. J. O'Shaughnessy and when County Police Chief Clark empanelled the jury, Coroner Dr. George S. Rennie, the jail officials, police and a few visitors filed into the death chamber. At 12.10 o'clock the body was cut down and Smith was officially pronounced dead by Dr. James Roberts, Medical Officer of Health. The coroner's jury returned the following formal verdict: "We, your jury empanelled to inquire into the death of Mike Smith, find that Mike Smith came to his death by being hanged by the neck in accordance with the law, at Hamilton, Ont., July 8, 1930, at 12.04 o'clock in the morning."

The crime for which Smith was hanged to-day was committed early in the morning of November 26th when John Iwantz, an elderly Polish farmer living near Winona, was shot through the left thigh by a gunman who demanded money. Iwantz fell, or was kicked down the steps leading to the cellar and died from loss of blood before his wife who ran to neighbours could get help. Mrs. Iwantz was threatened by the killer and eventually escaped through a second storey window.

On February 15th five men were charged with the slaying, on February 6th charges of murder were laid against Smith who was originally arrested on a robbery charge. Joe Mikulsgky and Martin Shawira. Shawira and Smith were sentenced to hang to-day but Shawira secured a reprive and will be tried at the Fall Assizes here. Mikulsgy was acquitted on the murder count two weeks ago but is held in custody on a robbery charge.

To the last, Smith declared that it was not he who fired the shot which ended the farmer's life.

FIVE MISSING AS GERMAN PLANE CAPSIZES

BIG FLYING BOAT FORCED TO LAND UPON ROUGH SEA

Two of Victims Were Americans on Way to Stockholm.

WING CRUMPLES IN GALE.

Girl's Life Belt Parts While Being Hoisted on Rescue Ship.

BERLIN, Republic of Germany, July 9 (Canadian Press)—Five persons, including Miss Ruth Patricia Northrop, 25, of Philadelphia, and John L. Burkholder, of Mount Pleasant, Penn., were believed to-day to have been drowned in the capsizing of the German flying boat D-864, which made a forced landing off the coast of Denmark in a rough sea yesterday.

Wing Crumples

The flying boat left Stettin, Germany, yesterday afternoon in the Kalmar Stockholm service. A gale came up and crumpled the left wing forcing the pilot to make an emergency landing in the sea near the island of Bornholm, Denmark.

The pilot, mechanic and one passenger were rescued by the Danish ship Maja which had taken the plane in tow, but the other five passengers disappeared in the sea and the plane capsized. Efforts to rescue them were made by several other boats which had rushed to the assistance of the plane, but so far as could be determined none of the five still missing was picked up although Miss Northrop was reported to have missed rescue only by a hand's breadth when her life belt parted as efforts were being made to hoist her aboard the steamer Spaes.

Meanwhile to-day the German cruiser Heimdal, several German destroyers and several Danish and German airplanes were scouring the Baltic searching for the missing passengers.

Rescue Efforts Fail

Pilot Kuring of the flying machine, in a report to the Lufthansa Company, said that he believed that the Spaes had picked up several passengers. The captain of the Spaes, however, reported that rough seas had baffled all his attempts to approach the distressed plane and rescue the five persons clinging to it.

Miss Northrop and Burkholder both arrived in Berlin on July 1 and were booked for passage to Stockholm.

Air Mail Fliers Are Forced Down In Mid-Atlantic

DAKAR, Senegal, Africa, July 9. (A.P.) Jean Mermoz, French air mail flyer and two companions enroute across the South Atlantic from South America to Africa made a forced descent on the sea to-day because of trouble with their oil line. All were saved.

The flyers, who left Natal, Brazil yesterday afternoon, came down at 10.20 o'clock this morning after completing more than half of their flight across the Atlantic to Africa. The mail aboard their ship also was saved.

THREE CHILDREN ALONE AT HOME BURNED TO DEATH

Mother With Six-Year Lad Getting Milk at Neighbors.

FIREMEN TOO LATE.

Victims' Father Selling Hot Dogs at Unemployed Booth in Calgary Fair.

CALGARY Alta., July 9. — (C. P.) — Alone in a blazing house, three children perished last night when fire completely gutted their home here. By a stroke of fate, an older brother was absent from the home when the fire broke out.

The Dead.

Birdie Gillard, four years.
Eileen Gillard, two years.
Allan Gillard, 10 months.

While their children died in the flames, their father Henry Gillard, was selling "hot dogs" at the unemployed booth at the exhibition grounds.

No cause for the fire has yet been determined.

Mrs. Gillard left her home to go to the nearby residence of R. H. Reid to obtain a supply of milk. Her son, aged six, was playing about the house at the time, and after begging to be taken along, was allowed to go.

A few minutes later a neighbor saw the house on fire. Mrs. Gillard was summoned and frantically cried that her children were in the home. The three children had been left at home in their bedroom on the upper floor of the two-storey frame structure.

Volunteers Work in Vain.

Volunteers tried in vain to enter the house to save them, but they were beaten back by the raging flames and the terrific heat.

When the fire department arrived on the scene all chance of saving the children was gone. Handicapped by lack of water, the firemen deluged the flames with chemicals and then turned to hand pumps.

Betty Carstairs Prepares to Race in Harmsworth Cup Series

Miss M. B. Carstairs, Britain's most popular woman motor boat racer, has arrived in Canada to tune up her two speed boats in preparation for the Harmsworth International Trophy Race at Detroit next month. Betty has brought over the Saunders-Napier boat, Estelle IV., in which she made an unsuccessful attempt to beat Gar Woods last year, and a new mystery boat, Estelle V., in which she hopes to exceed one hundred miles an hour. The group above shows Miss Betty Carstairs (in the centre) with the members of her crew.

C. P. C. MANAGER ANSWERS GORDON ON BUTTER ISSUE

Meet Shortage Last Year New Zealand Butter Was Imported, Matthews Says.

MRS. FALLIS SPEAKS.

Mr. Peck Scores Hon. Peter Heenan's Avoidance of the Unemployment Issue.

Replies to two questions recently directed toward him in an open letter from the Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., were made by Gordon Matthews, President of the local Conservative Association and manager of the Canadian Packers Limited, speaking in the Conservative committee rooms here last night at a rally which was also addressed by Mrs. Howard Fallis, J. F. Strickland, M.P.P., and E. A. Peck, Conservative candidate for Peterborough West.

'We refuse to be sidetracked," asserted Mr. Matthews, declaring that he failed to see why the Hon. Mr. Gordon was dragging him into a fight which must be decided between the local candidates of clashing parties.

In reply to Mr. Gordon's question, however, as to how much New Zealand butter Mr. Matthews' company had purchased "and labelled it so that the people would think it was Canadian butter when they bought it," Mr. Matthews stated that in order to make up a shortage of Canadian butter last year New Zealand butter had been bought by packers throughout the country and retailed in their usual trade-marked wrappers. He admitted that his company had followed this procedure, along with all its competitors.

Why Did He Not Use His Influence.

"If the Hon. G. N. feels so strongly on the point, and if he has as much influence with the Liberal government as he is supposed to have," demanded Mr. Matthews, "why doesn't he see to it that a law is passed making it compulsory for all butter wholesalers to mark New Zealand butter as such?" Only in this way, asserted Mr. Matthews, would the liability

Wily California Bandit Robs Bank As Ranchmen Innocently Stand Guard

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 9 (Canadian Press). — A bandit with a flair for showmanship moved his company into the lobby of the First National Bank of Artesia yesterday, and staged a performance for which he exacted a fee of $750.

"I have a gun on you. Five men within and three outside," read a note he handed the cashier. "Hand me all the money you have. My men will stay here for half an hour after I leave."

The robber took $750 and departed. His men strolled in silence about the bank until the police arrived.

"He hired us at an employment agency to work on a ranch," the leader explained when informed he had been an accomplice in a bank robbery. "He told us to follow him to the bank where he would get payroll money."

FERGUSON IS IN BELLEVILLE

Grand Parade Was Held From Market Square to Fair Grounds.

TO HOLD BABY SHOW.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., July 9. (C. P.) —The first big shot in the election campaign for Hastings South was fired this afternoon when Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, premier, spoke in the interests of W. E. Tummon, the Conservative candidate. Associated with the Premier were Leslie G. Bell, K. C., of Montreal, and the candidate, W. H. Ireland, M.L.A. for West Hastings presided as chairman, and Mr. Tummon introduced the principal speaker. The Ontario Premier discussed the question of the St. Lawrence waterways.

Although rain threatened early today a large number from the riding was present, and followed the parade, headed by the Argyll Light Infantry Band, from the market square to the fair grounds where a large marque was erected and upon which amplifiers were placed. Following the address a baby show was held and also a ball game between Nationals of Belleville and Kingston Ponies, Central Ontario League entrants.

In the evening a dance will be held at Johnston's Academy, which the Premier has promised to attend.

ELECTION JOBS GIVEN TO CROOKS

Chicago Citizens Petition For Removal of Election Comsioners Chairman.

211 OTHERS NAMED.

CHICAGO, July 9.—Throwing an illuminating light upon Chicago election disorders and the ability of known crooks to get into public office, from minor positions to the State Senate and the Bench, a supplemental petition was filed yesterday before County Judge Edmund V. Jarecki, asking removal of Fred V. Maguire as a member and chairman of the Board of Election Commissioners.

The petition names 211 men and women, alleged to have police and criminal records, who have been appointed as election judges and clerks. This petition, signed by a large number of reputable voters, follows one filed last month in which 275 judges and clerks were named as having police or prison records and most of whom are well known in hoodlum and gangster circles.

Attorneys employed by the petitioners say the names of those persons, all with shady records, were handed to Maguire by political leaders known for years as responsible for election frauds, and that they were appointed as judges and clerks without any investigation. Men and women judges and clerks with clean records were displaced to make room for the list handed in by the political bosses.

BENNETT LOST BIG OPPORTUNITY SAYS BURNHAM

J. H. Burnham, Ex-Conservative M.P. For Peterborough, Addresses Liberal Rally.

FOR EMPIRE POLICY.

Pictures Premier King as Fighter For Empire Trade.

(C. P. and Special.)

AURORA, Ont., July 9. — Upholding the Mackenzie King Government's move toward greater Empire trade, and declaring Hon. R. B. Bennett, leader of the Conservative party, had lost the greatest opportunity of his political lifetime by failing to endorse the Dunning budget, J. H. Burnham, Peterborough, former M.P., yesterday pledged himself to support the Liberal policy in the present election campaign.

Speaking in the interests of W. P. Mulock, Liberal candidate in the riding of York North, Mr. Burnham said: "Possibly the stand taken by Mr. Bennett and his colleagues represents the stand of the people of Canada, but I do not think it does, nor do I think it represents the feelings of the Conservative party."

Appeals to Conservatives.

"I never appeared on a Liberal platform before," said Mr. Burnham at the outset, "and I am here tonight to lay before the Conservatives who may be present the conditions they should consider in the best interests not only of Canada but the Empire and the World."

The former Conservative member of Parliament went on to recall how at Confederation Hon. George Brown, "one of the greatest leaders of the day," had sunk political differences in order to combine wit Sir John A. Macdonald to effect Confederation. Brown, he said, very properly withdrew after the work had been effected in order to press his own political point of view. But the Conservatives, by reason of that temporary alliance had no just cause to-day for continuing the name Liberal-Conservative party, for the Liberals had withdrawn from the coalition.

Country Must Secure $150,000,000 From Overseas Soon—Aim of Tariff Boost is to Induce Outside Manufacturers to Place Plants in Australia, Thus Overcoming Unemployment.

CANBERRA, Australia, July 9. — C. P. Cable via Reuters.)—A high protective wall will be erected around Australia and drastic increases will be made in internal revenue scales, in an endeavor to recover the substantial loss shown in the budget statement to-day.

The Budget, delivered by Prime Minister James Henry Scullin, before a packed house of Representatives, revealed a shortage of revenue amounting to £14,038,000 (about $68,000,000). New taxation announced at the same time is expected to yield £12,550,000 (about $60,500,000.)

Features of the new customs increases are additional levies of six cents a gallon on gasoline, 12 cents a pound on tobacco, 24 cents a pound on cigarettes, about $2.50 a pound on cigars, two cents a foot on moving picture films, $5 per ton on newsprint, and four cents a gallon on beer.

Adopts Canadian Plan.

Australia will adopt the sales tax on the Canadian plan, only certain being exempt. Income tax is increased by from 10 to 15 per cent. Postage is increased from three to four cents. A primary customs duty of 2½ per cent. will be levied on all imports.

The increases announced to-day are in addition to the various increases in customs tariffs effected within the past few months, in an endeavor to overcome Australia's great economic depression which was hastened by the big slump in world prices of wool, her greatest product.

Temporary Aid Arranged

Temporary financial accommodation had been arranged for to meet overseas commitments, but a permanent solution of Australia's financial position in the London market must be found by securing another $150,000,000 from overseas very soon, the Prime Minister declared. This would have to be a long term loan.

RECORD MUSKIE FOR U. S. VISITOR

D. C. Eells, Sebring, Ohio, Lands Big Lunge at Bradley Bay.

WEIGHS 35 POUNDS.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 9. — We hear much talk of fish stories, but here is one, and all the way from Campbellford.

A visitor from Sebring, Ohio, and one who does not aspire to be a master with the rod and line, by name, D. C. Fells, with a local resident, Alfred Potts, has caught one of the largest muskies that has been pulled from the waters here.

While fishing from a boat yesterdty in Bradley Bay, these two fishermen got a bite. After pulling their captive for over a mile, they were able to land it, but not being equipped for the occasion, and the lunge freeing itself as soon as it was out of the water, feet were used to kick it into the grass, where it was despatched with a stone. On examination it was found that the fish weighed 35 pounds, measured 53½ inches from nose to tail, and had a tail span of a little over 11½ inches.

SIX BOYS DROWN WHILE BATHING ON SEACOAST NEAR BLACKPOOL

Were Swimming With Teacher in Camping Party of 91.

TWO SAVED.

BLACKPOOL, Lancashire, England July 9 (Canadian Press). — Six boys of a party of ninety-one bathing on the seacoast between St. Ann's and Blackpool, were drowned to-day.

Two Are Rescued.

The boys, coming from Farnworth had been camping in the neighborhood, and were taken out for a swim by their principal teacher. Several got into difficulties and their call for help brought assistance. Two boys were rescued. When the others came out of the sea, the teacher called the roll, but found that six lads were missing.

The bodies later were brought ashore, but artificial respiration which was tried for over an hour was unsuccessful.

ROUND TABLE CONFERENCE WILL ENJOY FULL FREEDOM OF ACTION

Viceroy Irwin Announces Gov't Decision to Indian Legislature.

HOPES FOR SUCCESS.

SIMLA, India, July 9 (C. P.). — Viceroy Lord Irwin, addressing both Houses of the Indian Legislature this afternoon, declared that after careful consideration, His Majesty's Government had decided that the forthcoming Round Table Conference in London on Indian constitutional questions would enjoy full freedom of action.

"The conference," the Viceroy said, "would in accordance with a previous statement made last November 1, be free to approach its task greatly assisted by, but with its liberty unimpaired, the report of the Simon Statutory Commission.

Solution Possible.

"It is the belief of His Majesty's Government that by way of conference it should be possible to reach solutions that both countries and all parties and all interests in them can honorably accept any such agreements at which the conference is able to arrive will form the basis of proposals which His Majesty's Govern-

MISFORTUNE WORKING OVERTIME ON FAMILY

Father, Mother Sick; Son Drowns; Neices Bitten by Cats.

TORONTO, Ont., July 9 (C.P.) — A series of mishaps has dogged the steps of the Fedorchuks, a local family. Recently E. Fedorchuk, the father, was confined to hospital for a month. On the night of his return from hospital he learned that his son had been drowned. Affected by the shock of her son's death, Mrs. Fedorchuk became ill. She stated today that she had lost 45 pounds in six weeks.

Mr. Fedorchuk's sister has also been ill and the family bad luck was climaxed yesterday when her children, Lois and Fay Lerard, and their cousin, Howard Berard were attacked and badly bitten by cats affected by the heat.

EX-M.P. ALLEGES COMBINE IN CANADIAN BUTTER TRADE

Investigation Under the Combines Investigation Act Sought In Quebec.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 9. (C.P.)—Charges that a combine exists amongst certain produce companies with a view to depressing the price of butter to the producers may be ventilated under the Combines Investigation Act, at least in one section of Canada if the representations of Jean Francois Pouliot, former Liberal Member of Parliament for Temiscouata, Que., are prosecuted to their ultimate stages. Mr. Pouliot in a communication to the Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor, has enclosed a copy of a newspaper circulating in his constituency wherein the assertion is made that the wholesale dealers keep the market prices low when they purchase butter and accumulate it in cold storage for some time, selling it at an exorbitant price to the consumers later. They thus deprive the farmer of his legitimate profits, says Mr. Pouliot.

The former member asked the minister to intervene under the Combines Investigation act, seeking an investigation of the alleged combine.

LABOR GOVERNMENT WINS OVER COMBINED OPPOSITION

LONDON, Eng., July 9.—(C.P.) — The MacDonald Government scored an initial success in to-day's critical debate on the Finance Bill which some Parliamentary commentators have expressed belief might entail a Labor defeat.

On an amendment moved by the Liberal member, Major H. Nathan and supported by Conservatives proposing that the rate of income tax on company reserves invested in plant machinery, land or building should be at the rate of four shillings instead of four and six pence. The Laborites had a comfortable majority of 3.

SOUTHERN CROSS THROUGH FLYING

Famous Globe Circling Monoplane May Go in Museum.

NO DECISION MADE.

SANTA MARIA, Cal., July 9 (C.P.). —While its commander and crew spent a brief holiday at San Simeon, Cal., final disposition of the globe-girdling monoplane Southern Cross to-day occupied the attention of G. Allan Hancock, financial backer of the ship's famed Pacific flight. Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith and his two flying mates formally returned the craft to Hancock yesterday.

Hancock said he planned to put the Southern Cross on temporary display at an aeronautical college he founded here, and later might place it with some museum. He said the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, D.C., had been suggested as the final resting place for the plane, but added he had made no decision or arrangements.

ADMIRALTY ASKS ADDITIONAL $1,000,000

AMOUNT USED ON SUB BUILDING ALLOWED BRITAIN UNDER TERMS SET BY LONDON NAVAL TREATY

Pact Leaves England Just 22 Cruisers For Service Over Empire.

REPLACE 4 YEARLY.

Alexander Claims in 1940 Only 23 Existing Cruisers Be Under 20 Years Old.

London, Eng., July 9. (C.P.)—The Admiralty to-day published additional estimates for naval construction for the current finanial year in which 208,200 pounds (about $1,000,000) is asked. The amount will be used for construction allowed Great Britain under the London Treaty. Of the supplemetnary estimate, 183,600 pounds is required to meet the costs to be incurred this fiscal year on three submarines of the 1929 program construction of which had been deferred pending conclusion of the naval treaty.

Balance spent in 1930.

The balance of 24,600 pounds will be devoted to the new construction program for 1930.

The expenditure called for to-day is for previously announced construction, including the 1930 program made public on May 25.

In the course of a lengthy statement by A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, an outline of the use to which the money will be put was made. He gave an explanation of the 1930 naval construction program announced in the House of Commons May 25, consisting of three six-inch gun cruisers, one flotilla of destroyers comprising a flotilla leader and eight destroyers, three submarines, four sloops and one net layer.

"Under existing international conditions and for the strictly limited period covered by the Naval Treaty," he said, "fifty cruisers have been accepted as meeting the requirement of all the members of the British Commonwealth, provided in this number there is a proper proportion of new construction and that the other powers reduce correspondingly their projected programs.

"This number, it should be emphasized, represents the peace requirements and was plainly stated to be so."

22 For Service Abroad.

Mr. Alexander pointed out that after provision for the minimum number of ships necessary for duties with the fleet and training establishments there will be left 22 cruisers for service abroad throughout the world. During the next ten years 36 of the existing cruisers will disappear from the navy list and in 1940 of the existing cruisers built and building, including those of the 1929 program, only 23 will remain under 20 years of age.

"If, therefore, looking ahead over a period of ten years, provision is to be made for this number of fifty by means of a steady replacement program with all the advantages from the labor and production aspects which this gives over spasmodic building, it will be necessary to spread 27 cruisers over the 1930-36 program years. That is between three and four cruisers a year. It is for this reason that His Majesty's Government proposes three cruisers in the present program year and provision for such construction is made under the terms of the London Naval Treaty."

29 Destroyers in 1936 Under Age.

Mr. Alexander said that the destroyer position at the end of 1936 would be that only 29 destroyers under age wold be in effective existence with a total tonnage of 39,161, and that a maximum tonnage figure of 150,000 for Great Britain was agreed to at the naval conference. If the destroyer tonnage at the end of 1936 was to consist of underage vessels, it would be necessary to lay down 110,839 tons new construction in four programs of 1930-33, or more than two flotillas yearly.

Gov't Pays Indians To Hunt Lost Boy

TORONTO, July 9. (C.P.)—The Ontario Attorney-General's Department has become interested in the starch for six-year-old Victor Gareau at Kapuskasing.

Instructions have been sent to the northern Ontario town that the Department will provide $500 for the engagement of 20 Indian trackers to assist in the search for the lad who got lost in the bush near his home.

NANKING, China, July 9 (C.P.)—A shifting of Nationalist troops from the Honan front to the war theatre in Shantung Province was indicated to-day in military dispatches.

Suchow reports said 30,000 Nationalists were being withdrawn from the Haichow-Tungkwan Railway front to take up positions again the Northern rebels, who have seized Tsinan, Provincial Capital.

Chiang Kai-Shek, Nationalist President-General, was said to have left his Liuho, Honan, headquarters for Yenchow to direct operations for the re-capture of Tsinan. The Nationalists' forces along the Haichow-Tungkwan Railway meanwhile were expected to remain on the defensive.

Rebellious Northern forces around Yenchow were estimated as numbering 50,000. The number of Nationalists concentrating in South Shantung for an attack on the Northerners was estimated in excess of 50,000.

Northern Alliance troops along the Haichow-Tungkwan Railway have been estimated at 200,000, and Nationalists in that area 300,000.

FATHER DROWNS SAVING DAUGHTER NEAR PICKERING

A. E. Weaver, Birch Cliff, Sinks Before Aid Could Reach Him.

AT FRENCHMAN'S BAY.

Five Year Girl Shoved to Safety —Wife and Five Children Survive.

PICKERING, July 9.—Albert Edward Weaver, aged 30, of 57 Medford Avenue, Scarboro' Township, father of five children, lost his life by drowning at Frenchman's Bay, late yesterday afternoon, after he had successfully rescued his daughter Peggy, who had got into difficulty while bathing.

Weaver had taken his wife and children for a picnic with a number of Scarboro' friends from the Gospel Mission, Birch Cliff, and shortly after 3 o'clock the children went bathing. The father's attention was suddenly attracted by a cry that his daughter was in danger, and without hesitating he went to her rescue, and with the aid of some of the party she was brought safely to shore.

A few moments later the father himself apepared to be struggling for his life, and before help could reach him he sank. Two ocal men named Mansfied and Avies, made gallant but unsuccessful attempts to save him.

The two men immediately secured hooks and dragged the spot for the body, which they recovered twenty minutes later. Coroner Dr. G. V. Cartwright of Pickering was summoned, and for an hour worked in an effort to bring about resuscitation. His efforts, however, were in vain, and the body was released and brought to Toronto in McDougall & Brown's ambulance.

After investigating the circumstances and being satisfied that it was purely an accident, Coroner Dr. Cartwright decided that an inquest was unnecessary. Weaver was employed as a clerk with the Royal Securities Corporation, Toronto.

EAST PROMISED MORE RAILROADS

Bennett States Party Will Develop Agriculture and Fishing Industry.

IRON, STEEL NEGLECTED.

(By Thomas Green Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)

INVERNESS, N.S., July 9. — In clear-cut and emphatic terms, Hon. R. B. Bennett here last night and earlier at St. Peter's, dealt with railway facilities on Cape Breton Island, the fishing and agriculture industries and the protection of Canadian labour, at the same time, he renewed his pledge for a National fuel policy and the development of Canadian trade through Canadian ports. "These old provinces, these old communities," the Conservative Chieftain exclaimed, "must not be neglected in the providing of railway facilities, they must be provided, because you have a right to them. You have maintained the faith and contributed to the national wealth, and if elected to office we will provide the facilities necessary for you to compete on even terms with the nations of the world. That is my culture, Mr. Bennett declared, "the collective power of the Dominion must be put behind the development of the agricultural and fishing industries because they are the great food industries upon which lives depend.

Home Market Taken Away

The unemployment caused by the neglect of the iron, steel and coal industries, the Conservative Leader asserted had deprived fishermen and agriculturists of Cape Breton especially and of the Maritimes of their "home market."

The whole fiscal policy of the Liberal Government, Mr. Bennett declared, had "made it easier for the product of cheap labor and longer hours of foreign countries to get into this Dominion, made it easier for the United States to dump the surplus of its mass production into Canada," this was most unfair, he emphasized, to Canadian Labour. At the Winnipeg convention of 1927, the Conservative Party had pledged itself to a fuel policy and the policy of "Canadian goods through Canadian Ports," both these pledges, he declared, would be carried out by his party.

MISSING BANKER FOUND IN RIVER

Told Bank Official He Was in Trouble to Extent of $25,000.

LEFT NOTE TO WIFE.

OMAHA, Nebr., July 8 (C.P.)—The body of Edward L. Droste, missing vice-president of the First National Bank of Omaha, was found floating in the Missouri River yesterday near Dakota City. The body was identified as that of Droste by E. F. Jepsen, his brother-in-law.

Droste disappeared from Omaha early Wednesday morning and was last seen in Sioux City at noon the same day.

Jepsen also identified the signature found on a receipt check for a car rented in Omaha on July 2 and a note written on the back of the receipt as being in Droste's handwriting. The note read:

"Grace, darling, forgive me. God bless you—Dad."

Grace is the given name of Mrs. Droste.

Droste, the night before his disappearance had revealed in conversation with Denman Kountze, also an official of the bank, that he "was in trouble to the extent of about $25,000."

DAVID H. MOORE DIES AT PRESTON

Veteran Underwriter Underwent Operation at Preston Springs on Monday.

WORTHY CITIZEN.

D. H. Moore, one of the oldest and most widely known and respected Life-underwriters in this district, passed away at Preston Springs following an operation which he underwent last Monday.

For over twenty years the late Mr. Moore had represented the Sun Life Assurance Company in this district and his passing deprives the community of one of her worthiest citizens—a man who was ever mentally alert and efficient in business, a good sportsman whose keen joy was to trundle bowls along the greens of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club of which he was an old-standing member, in the company and fellowship of his numerous friends. In religion the deceased was an ardent Presbyterian and attended regularly at St. Paul's Church, where he was one of the leading members of the choir for many years, and an elder. He was also well advanced in the Oddfellows Order, having held some of the highest honours of the Order in this district.

Previous to his operation the late Mr. Moore had enjoyed a full measure of good health, and following the operation of Monday last, he appeared to be making satisfactory progress on the road to recovery, but suffered a relapse and passed away with tragic suddenness on Tuesday night.

The late Mr. Moore retired from active business about eight years ago, after having completed twenty years' outstanding service with the Sun Life Company, previous to which he was Crown Timber Agent in this city. His passing will be the cause of genuine regret in this district, in which possibly no man was held in higher esteem by his fellow citizens.

His wife predeceased him some years ago and he leaves one son, E. V. Moore of Montreal and a daughter, Mrs. F. H. Orr of Vancouver; also three sisters, Miss Catherine Moore and Mrs. V. Best of Brock street and Mrs. Fred Weir of this city.

The funeral arrangements, which are not yet complete, will be announced later.

NEW ZEALAND IS BEST CUSTOMER

Canada's Exports to the British Dominion, $24,000,000 in 1929.

$16 SPENT PER HEAD.

TORONTO, July 9.—That the Dominion of New Zealand is Canada's best customer within the Empire was the statement made by J. W. Collins of Wellington, N.Z., newly appointed trade commissioner to Canada, who arrived in Toronto yesterday to take up his duties.

Mr. Collins explained that in 1929 Canada's exports to New Zealand were valued at approximately $24,000,000, which meant that New Zealand purchased $16 per capita per year. "This fact cannot be too greatly emphasized," said Mr. Collins. "It shows that New Zealand is on a population percentage Canada's best customer either within or without the Empire, and I would like to say that C. M. Croft, Canadian trade commissioner at Auckland, who has proved to be a courteous, competent and hard-working official, has had much to do with the success of Canada's trade."

"For the last five years New Zealand sold to Canada over $43,000,000 worth of goods and Canada has exported more than $90,000,000," said Commissioner Collins. "In 1925 New Zealand imported to this country about $2,100,000 worth and in 1929 this amount had increased to $16,500,000. The trade on our side has been influenced not only by the splendid advertisements given our products at the Canadian National Exhibition but also by the establishment of a regular steamship line between the two countries by Canadian authorities. These steamers ply between five ports in New Zealand and Halifax and Montreal and have greatly benefitted both countries."

SASKATCHEWAN FIRE LOSS LIGHT

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., July 9.—Loss from Northern Saskatchewan's 1930 forest fires, halted by recent rains, is estimated by Dominion forestry officials at $138,929 in 195 of 355 fires reported. About 21,000,000 board feet of saw timber went up in smoke in addition to 100,000 cords of fuel and pulpwood. Settlers caused 91 of the fires; campers and travellers, 43; and 34 were of incendiary origin, officials estimated.

Mr Burnham said he had "no apologies" to make for speaking on behalf of Liberal policies. Both Mr. Mulock and T. Herbert Lennox, former M.P., he commended as estimable men, and the riding electors could find no fault with either candidate. But policies were what counted in this important day. And he stressed the intelligent viewpoint being taken by the women electors, who, he said, would make or break a candidate's political chances. He appealed particularly to the Conservative women to-night.

"Thunderstruck" At Failure.

"How do I come to support Mr. King? Mr. Bennett and I are the best of friends. He is a fine gentleman, a man of the first order. But I was thunderstruck by Mr. Bennett's failure to appreciate the fact that the issue before this country is the Empire."

He recalled the previous Empire conferences, called by Conservative statesmen overseas, and said that Premier King and Hon. Ernest Lapointe, had they desired to play politics with such an occasion, could have done so. They could have said they must go to the people to find out what they should do.

"But Mr. King and Mr. Lapointe stood politics aside and took a firm stand at the conference to build up Empire trade. They were both loyal to Great Britain and the country they represented. And they promised that at the first opportunity they would bring down a budget which would express the sentiment and feelings of the conference—a co-operative budget. And that is what they brought forth."

He referred to the reception accorded the budget by the English people, saying that even the Morning Post had said it was a marvellous budget. "Now, having brought forth this budget, Premier King very properly is going to the people to see if they want this co-operation."

Chance of a Lifetime.

Referring to Mr. Bennett's House of Commons budget reply, Mr. Burnham said: "To my horror Mr. Bennett got up and said, 'I am for Canada first.' There was not a word about the Empire." Recalling Mr. Bennett's declaration that a dollar spent in the West Indies was no better than a dollar spent in the United States, Mr. Burnham added: "That statement of Mr. Bennett's was to flout the Empire and say we don't want the Empire. He should have said, 'I am speaking for Canada first and then the Empire, and if I can do anything to serve Canada and the Empire I will be very pleased to do so.' But from start to finish there was but bare mention of the Empire. He had a chance given few men. He could say it was a wonderful budget but it didn't go far enough. He could have said it tended toward developing the Empire but it didn't strengthen it. He had the chance of a lifetime to outbid King, but he turned and fought him, which was a cardinal blunder. Is it possible that Mr. Bennett would sell out and smash the Empire?

Must Extend Trade

Mr. Burnham quoted part of an editorial which recently appeared in The Mail and Empire. "The Mail and Empire, as its name indicates, supports the Empire with all its power and force," he said. "I get most of my points from reading The Mail and Empire."

The speaker continued to criticize Mr. Bennett for what he said was the latter's failure to realize the immense importance of closer imperial relations. He compared the attitude of the two Federal leaders. Premier King, he said, never failed to consider the Empire when speaking of Canada's destiny, but Mr. Bennett never mentioned the Empire in his speeches.

Turning to the question of unemployment, Mr. Burnham ascribed it largely to the use of labor-saving machinery. He cited instances of large factories in the United States installing machinery which could do the work of thousands of men, and much more efficiently and cheaply.

"What are we going to do: scrap the machines or extend our trade and thus create more employment?" he asked. "The development of Canada will solve this problem. And the way to develop Canada is to increase trade within the Empire and not, as Mr. Bennett would want us to do, confine our trade to Canada only."

"We can't extend our trade by trading among ourselves. What kind of madness is this? Mr. Bennett, by some strange lapse, insists that we do this. If he thinks that by ignoring the British Empire he is doing the best thing for Canada, I am quite sure the people of Canada will disabuse him of this idea on July 28."

An appeal to the Conservative women, who, he asserted, were not bound by political prejudice as were the men, was made by the speaker.

MOIRA CAMP BOYS ATTEND SERVICE

Rev. G. W. Rivers Delivers Address in Madoc United Church.

MADOC, July 9. (Examiner Correspondence.)—The boys from Community Camp, Moira Lake, attended service in a body at Trinity United Church on Sunday morning, July 6th. The preacher was Rev. G. W. Rivers, who took as his subject "The pre-eminence of Christ." In speaking to the Young Worshippers who were present, Mr. Rivers dwelt on the subject of conscience. "His Master's Voice" used as an illustration.

At the evening service, the theme was "The Life That Counts."

At St. John the Baptist Church, evensong was at 7 p.m., owing to the pastor, Rev. P. G. Reynolds, having to preach to the Orange Order at Queensboro and at Hazzards during the day.

SCHOOL EXTENSION STILL UNSETTLED

Considerable Trouble Arises Over Improvements to S. S. No. 10, Seymour.

TRENT RIVER, July 9. (Examiner Correspondence.)—The adjourned meeting of the ratepayers of S.S. No. 10, Seymour, was held Friday night, July 4, at the school. There were about thirty in attendance. The meeting was called to order with Harold B. Wood, chairman, and Mrs. Thos. J. Brown, secretary.

The object of the meeting was to hear the report from the committee appointed at the previous meeting, re the estimate for an additional room to be built to the present school. The extension called for a building 24x27 basement, wall concrete or stone, building of brick veneer, not including furnishings, or heating system, the cost would be $2,885, this was the estimate from a local contractor, the other necessaries to complete the building would total the amount to upwards of $4,000. The matter of renting the Orange hall for the junior classes was brought up and considerable discussion was brought up, this hall would have to be altered and improved to meet the demands for school work to be carried on. Reeve George Vanvolkenberg was present and addressed the meeting in reference to a new school, he would prefer a building, one to be proud of rather than seeing the present building patched up and costing considerable which amount would be wiser spent towards a new school. The repairing of the old school could not be completed in time for the opening of the fall term. The first step to be taken for a new school is to be built is to secure the probable entire cost than take the ratepayers into consideration by polling the section. The idea of enlarging the present school was done away with Reeve Vanvolkenberg moved an amendment that the matter be left to the Trustees to take some time to consider and secure estimates, also the matter of hiring two teachers, was thought advisable. A vote was put and the amendment carried. Reeve Vanvolkenburg moved the meeting adjourn and another meeting of the ratepayers to be called later.

CLUB PLANNING STREET CARNIVAL

J. L. Rutherford Gives Address on Finance at First Club Dinner.

MADOC DISTRICT NEWS.

MADOC, July 9. (Examiner Correspondence.)—Madoc Community Club held its first club dinner in Blue's dining room on Monday, June 30th, with an attendance of 27. J. L. Rutherford was the speaker, and gave an excellent address on Finance.

The club decided to take over the opening of the streets which are being paved, and a street carnival of some kind will be held in the near future.

A committee was appointed to make arrangements for a regatta to be held at the Lake, the latter part of July.

The signs on the Belleville Road were discussed and the Warden of the County and the Ontario Motor League will be interviewed.

Miss Ruby Nicholl, of Madoc, visited Cooper friends over the week-end, before leaving to resume her work in Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ferguson and little daughter, Joyce, of Hamilton, and Mr. Lawrence Ferguson, of Toronto, are spending their holidays with Mr. and Mrs. George Ferguson, of Cooper.

Miss Mary Gillen, of Kingston, has returned to her home in town for the holidays. She expects to enter Hotel Dieu, as a nurse-in-training, early in August.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Caskey, of Bobcaygeon, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Caskey, in Madoc. They will also spend some time with friends in Sulphide.

Mr. Caskey will attend summer school at Kingston.

Miss Lillian Rivers, B.A., left on Wednesday to take a summer course at the Ontario College of Education, Toronto.

Mrs. Herity, of Saskatoon, Sask., is the guest of her brother, Mr. S. S. Ashley, in Madoc.

Mrs. P. C. Dustou, of Sarnia, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dustou and family, of Dresden, Ontario, spent Dominion day with the former's brother, Rev. G. W. Rivers, at Trinity Parsonage.

Trent River

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Linton and family, of Campbellford, are at "Whoopee" for the entire season.

Mr. and Mrs. West, of Toronto, are in the Neale cottage, making the trip from the city in their motor boat.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Wilson and family of Oshawa, are at the "Liberty" cottage for a month.

Mr. Harold Cotton was successful in landing a ten pound lunge.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ellis and family, of Havelock, are enjoying camp life on Mr. John Sedgwick's property.

Master Keith Palmer, of Toronto, is holidaying with Albert Tyler.

The Misses Flossie Boyd, Gertrude Robson and Mary Robson, of Marmora, were visitors Thursday, with Mr and Mrs. John A. Ruttan.

Miss Ruth Fairbrother, left Friday, after spending a week with her mother at their summer home.

Miss Eva Inkster is in Toronto, where she will be engaged for three weeks, marking departmental examination papers.

Miss Alice Tedal, an Anglo-Italian, recently arrived in Cyprus to begin oyster farming for pearls on the island.

—if it were a liability—be equal. He claimed that it was not the New Zealand butter used to fill the shortage which had hurt the producer, but the 5 million surplus which had gone to depress the market.

The Hon. Mr. Gordon had also asked the question: "Would you mind also asking him (Mr. Matthews) if the Matthews company ever paid to an active and dangerous competitor, in business, certain sums, over a period of years, to keep out of the hog-buying business in this district, so that his company could purchase hogs for less from the farmers, and expand the company's profits, by eliminating competition, which the farmers had to pay for, and the people of this city who bought the pork products also shared in the payment."

"The answer to that," declared Mr. Matthews, "is just 'no'!"

"Mr. Burnham says," finished Mr. Matthews, "that in the light of these questions either I must resign or G. N. must go. Or did he say 'go to jail' that time? Well, I guess the Hon. G. N. Gordon will have to go."

Addressed 21 Meetings.

Mrs. Howard Fallis returned to Peterborough last night after several weeks in Western Ontario, during which time she had addressed 21 meetings.

"I find in the rural districts that the farmers are exceedingly dissatisfied," said Mrs. Fallis. "Strong feelings prevail in traditionally Liberal ridings. I foresee in the coming elections an increase in the number of Conservative seats in Western Ontario."

Serious discrepancies in statements recently made by Mackenzie King were seen by Mrs. Fallis. He had blamed Premier Ferguson for the failure of the St. Lawrence project, and, following the publication of the entire correspondence in the case and the subsequent offer of Mr. Ferguson to participate in any conference the Dominion Premier might call, Mr. King had promised to consider the matter, but had done nothing since. Mrs. Fallis scouted the Prime Minister's assertion at St. John that the Liberal Party had given women the vote and drew attention to the fact that the women of Liberalism's strongest province could not vote in provincial elections. Mr. King had also denied his "Five-cent Speech," claimed Mrs. Fallis, although the text of it had appeared in Hansard.

"One great issue in this campaign," declared the speaker, "is whether or not the Prime Minister is a man of his word."

The Great Conversion.

Mrs. Fallis characterized the alleged Liberal swing to Conservative policies as "the great conversion." But would the farmers take protective promises from a free trade party of nine years? she asked.

Old age pensions and the National Highway were among the conversions, maintained Mrs. Fallis.

She declared that it was amusing to see Mr. King as the champion of Empire rights. Mr. Dunning has pointed with pride to the British reception of his Budget. But mature thought had changed the opinion of leading Britons. They saw now what Mr. Bennett had seen at the first—that Empire welfare was bound up with the welfare of each individual member of the Commonwealth. This had been formulated in the British Bankers' Manifesto. Reciprocal treaties characterized the difference between Mr. Bennett's brand of Imperialism and Mr. King's.

Comparison Is Unfair.

Mr. Peck addressed the meeting briefly, scoring Mr. Heenan's avoidance of the unemployment issue in his Peterborough speech. Comparisons between current conditions and those in 1921 were unfair, asserted Mr. Peck. The war had left industrial paralysis; the nation was trying to absorb the returned men. "They must get better arguments than that," declared Mr. Peck.

"Grossly unfair," was the candidate's characterization of Mr Heenan's assertion that unemployment was a provincial matter. Trade and commerce were a Dominion problem. "The Dominion Government can't free itself of the liability of unemployment," he said.

Mr. Strickland, the concluding speaker, felt the necessity for getting the vote out and saw an increased majority for Mr. Peck at the polls.

"The campaign is not an issue between G. N. Gordon and the Canadian Packing Company," he declared "The respective merits of party platforms must decide. Don't let anyone confuse the issues."

Many Persons Are Fined In Campbellford Court

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent.)

CAMPBELLFORD, July 9. — Before Magistrate G. A. Payne in police court yesterday, several persons were charged with violation of the Highway Traffic Act, Chief G. C. Bromley laying the charges.

Those answering to a charge of speeding and receiving a fine of $5 and costs were James A. Millan, of Bonarlaw, D. McArthur and Gordon Mitchell of Campbellford.

Sandford Lindsay was charged under the Liquor Act for being in an intoxicated condition on the public highway on Saturday last, and was fined $14 and costs.

Jacob Daynard was also fined $3 and costs for not producing a permit while driving a car.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, July 9. — Bears looked on a hail-beaten weather map of the Western wheat belt yesterday and took the day off as prices advanced 1¼c to 1¾c on reports of extensive damage by hail to crops in all three Prairie Provinces. One of the strongest markets in some time was held in check only by the United States interests, who "hedged" quantities of U.S. wheat on the Winnipeg market during the day.

The bullish weather brought speculators into the pit for the first time in weeks and heavy offerings were absorbed without difficulty. Trade was active.

Sales of cash wheat were confined to odd lots, with spreads being about ¼c better. Coarse grains were featureless, all commodities advancing in sympathy with wheat.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, July 9. — Black rust menacing United States wheat and curtailing wheat yields in France did a good deal to bring about higher prices here yesterday for wheat. The rise in wheat values, however, was preceded by a new smashing of low-price records cutting down materially the 10-cents-a-bushel difference that until yesterday had separated recent bottom levels from the lowest reached seventeen years ago. Breaks in stock exchange quotations were largely blamed for yesterday's fresh downward swing of wheat prices, but enlarged export buying of wheat was afterward a factor in turning the wheat market upward.

Closing quotations on wheat were firm at nearly the top point reached, ⅝c to 1⅝c a bushel higher than Monday's finish. Corn closed at ⅝c to 1½c advance, oats ⅛c to ¼c up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5 cents.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, July 9. — Butter prices tended upwards yesterday. Other products on the Montreal markets were unchanged.

The butter market was 27c to 27¼c per pound wholesale for Eastern Townships No. 1. It was the first time in practically a month that prices were over the 27c figure. Word that butter coming to Halifax on the ss Huntingdon from New Zealand was to be taken to England instead of being unloaded at the Nova Scotia Capital, was a bullish influence. Receipts yesterday were 560 boxes. The prices to retailers were unchanged.

Cheese Is Unchanged.

The cheese market was unchanged, with buyers reported to be reluctant at the asking prices announced on Monday. Arrivals were 11,322 boxes.

On the egg market it was stated that the second experimental shipment of eggs from the West by dry ice refrigeration turned out better than the first, there being no frozen eggs this time. Prices here were unchanged with receipts at 4,174 boxes.

The potato market was about steady at Monday's prices.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, July 9.—Trade continued active at the Union Stock Yards yesterday, with all supplies offered disposed of. Some late arrivals were held for Wednesday. Handy butcher cattle ranged from $6.50 to $9.25 a hundred, with the bulk between $7.50 and $8.60. Heavies sold at from $7.50 to $9.25. Fed calves were a small supply at $9.50 to $11.50, with one at $12. Cows were active at $6.75 to $7.25 for choice, with plain killing cows downward to $5. Bulls were very scarce. Speculators picked up a few store cattle at $5.25 to $6.50 a hundred. The general quality of the cattle offered was below normal for the season, though some good heavy steers arrived late and were not offered.

Calves were strong, with spots 25 cents higher. The bulk of good to choice vealers made $10.25 to $11, with a full load at $11.25. Exporters were active. Common calves were downward to $7.

Hogs were unsettled with a stronger feeling. Prospects are that bulk will sell around $11 f.o.b. for bacons or $12 off cars, with spots a shade higher to outsiders.

Lambs were steady at $14 for the bulk of good ewes and wethers, with a few fancy lambs up to $14.50. Bucks took the usual $2 per cwt. discount. Sheep were slow at $2 to $4.50 a hundred, with a few choice ewes at $5.25. Cull lambs, $10 to $12.

TORONTO, July 9.—The good demand for butter continued yesterday, and prices remained firm at 27¼c to 27½c for Ontario No. 1 and 26¼c to 26½c for good-scoring No. 2. Available supplies were pretty well cleaned up, and dealers could have made more sales if they had been able to acquire supplies. Many creameries have stored butter during the past week, and have decided to hold on for a better market, evidently, as receipts locally have decreased, though the market is stronger.

More New Zealand?

The English market continues to show a strong tone, and the prospects are that a good deal of the New Zealand shipments will find a market there instead of in Canada. The S.S. Huntingdon is due in Halifax about the last of this month with 68,000 boxes of New Zealand butter for this country; but if the English market is much stronger than Montreal it is altogether likely that this shipment will go on to that country.

Cheese

The Cheese Board showed a firmer tone, and this firmness was reflected in higher prices on the local market. New, large was quoted at 16½c to 16¾c; twins, 16¾c to 17c and triplets, 17c to 17¼c. But prices to retailers were unaffected.

Eggs

Receipts of eggs were clearing well yesterday, and the opinion of several dealers was that the market would be stronger in the near future as supplies were not sufficient to meet the demand. The percentage of extras in receipts is becoming less, and the tendency is to firmer prices for extras.

Graded eggs, free cases, were quoted at 29½c for extras, 27½c for firsts, and 24½c for seconds. Country shippers were offered 27c for extras, 25c for firsts, and 20c to 21c for seconds, ungraded, delivered, cases returned. Retailers were quoted 33c for extras in cartons, 31c for extras loose, 29c for firsts loose, and 26c for seconds, loose.

Poultry

The consumptive demand for poultry has shown some improvement during the past few days, and fresh receipts are clearing much better. Brokers seem to be a little more hopeful as to the movement of storage poultry. Stocks, however, are heavy, and will take some moving, now that the new crop is coming on the market more freely.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 9, 1030

THE PAVING PROGRAM.

If the additional paving program decided upon by a majority of the City Council will supply a reasonable amount of employment for local residents at present out of work there is not likely to be the volume of opposition toward the undertaking that would possibly have otherwise eventuated.

The circumstances are such that most people feel that it is better business to provide work than to have to dole out charity, and while there are many citizens who object to any further paving expenditures for the present, the factor of furnishing jobs may overcome those objections.

In the contracts that are to be let it is to be hoped that every care will be taken to see that as many bona fide citizens are employed as is possible.

The value of experts is admitted, but it sometimes seems as if it is possible to put too much stress upon the necessity of "key" men to the exclusion of residents who are in need of work and should be taken care of if any way can be found to do it.

Money spent now may help in materially improving conditions next winter, as well as in relieving the present emergency.

THE MENACE OF THE WATER.

Two things are suggested by the large number of drowning accidents that have occurred throughout the Province during the past few weeks.

In the first place, there is the obvious conclusion that everybody who has a chance to learn to swim should do so, and, secondly, there is a very plain warning to non-swimmers not to bathe in water where the conditions are unknown to them.

There are so many chances for young people, especially in urban sections, to learn the art of swimming under safe conditions that there is really as little excuse for children not learning to swim as there would be for them not learning to walk.

As to the second point, the reports of many recent drowning accidents show that they were caused by people who did not know how to swim venturing into a river or lake about which they knew little or nothing.

The folly of such a practise should be apparent to everybody.

A bather unable to swim has no business risking his life in places where unexpected holes, a swift current or a quick deepening of the water may mean death.

Non-swimmers should keep out of the water unless they know that the conditions are such as to ensure safe bathing.

MERELY MORBID.

According to reports, the authorities were deluged with applications from people who wanted to be present at a hanging in Hamilton yesterday.

No wonder a contemporary remarks that we are not greatly different from the folks who lived back in the days of Nero and took a delight in watching the suffering of the victims in the arena.

Why people should desire to be witnesses of a legal execution is something that defies explanation.

There was a time when hangings were a public ceremony and crowds attended as they would a circus, but in later years the attendance has been wisely confined to the necessary officials and the press—and there have been occasions when even the reporters, by their own choice, have been missing.

No necessity exists for making a public spectacle out of the carrying out of the death sentence, and it is hoped that applicants in this particular case whose only motive was one of morbid curiosity were denied in language that left no doubt that their request was regarded as an absurd one.

It all gets back to The Examiner's contention that hangings should be centralized.

The penitentiary is the proper place for the execution of the death sentence.

USEFUL FLYING.

As a sample of the sort of useful flying that is being developed in Canada, the flight now being undertaken by Flight Lieutenant F. J. Mawdesley of the civic aviation branch of the Department of National Defence may be cited.

Using two planes, Lieut. Mawdesley and three companions will travel by easy stages far into the North, their ultimate destination being somewhere in the barren lands in the Arctic Circle.

They will inspect gasoline caches left some time before and make a general inspection of the whole country over which they fly, the area they will survey by air stretching almost from the western shores of Hudson Bay to the heights of the Rocky Mountains, west of the Mackenzie Delta.

That is an epic journey, as a consequence of which results of primary importance to the development of Canada's Northland will be certain to follow.

Their long air voyage is typical of the manner in which aircraft are being used along Canada's northern frontier where day after day gallant flyers whose names rarely get into the newspapers are doing, merely as a piece of work, feats of flying worthy of front page headlines.

GOOD SENSE CONCERNING INDIA.

(Editorial in New York Herald-Tribune)

From the point of hard reality Britain's flag will almost certainly fly over the Indian sub-continent for years to come. Reasonableness and common sense are therefore on the side of the Simon report, with its recommendations for a federation of Indian states and for increased native participation in the routine work of government. These things are to the advantage of the British, but if followed in the spirit in which they were written, would probably bring the native much nearer to self-government.

But naturally enough the Indian agitator and his followers are unwilling to see the plan in that light. Native participation in government routine would inevitably lead to that political moderation which responsibility always brings. And moderation would mean a long postponement of the movement for independence. If it is independence you want it is probably more effective to stay on the outside and throw in bricks. It is easier not to play ball at all. That seems to be the view of those Indian leaders who are now saying that India will not attend the forthcoming conference in London if the Simon report is to be used as a basis of discussion. Some have said that they would not attend the conference unless it were moved to Delhi.

While this is going on in the east, Sir John Simon, in London, broadcast over the radio the principle that the King's government must go on and that the recommendation in his report would grant increased responsibilities to the natives. He speaks good sense, although he is not always as tactful as he might be. Certainly here were portions of his report which seemed gratuitously condescending to the Indians.

The interests of the world are on his side, as the interests of the world are on the side of peaceful progress. Whatever else may be said, it is certainly true that Americans have nothing to lose from a breakdown of law and order in India, and that the increasingly large number of Americans who depend for their livelihood on trade with India would have a good deal to lose. It is certainly to be hoped that leading Indians can be persuaded to co-operate under the terms of the Simon plan with equally high-minded British officials.

WAR CASUALTIES.

Two visitors from United States, while in Stratford, were discussing the number of United States soldiers killed during the Great War, and their belief was that the figure amounted to 114,000. In fact, they were quite certain about it, as they had seen it published a good many times. The figure, we know, was put forward as correct at one time by a French authority and received very wide circulation, but it is very wide of the mark.

The correct figure, we believe, was furnished by General Peyton March, chief of staff of the United States Army, who placed the figure at 50,000, and did so after a very exhaustive check-up of all the men who had served. The United States soldiers went into action not many weeks before the conclusion of the war, so it is indicated that during the time they were in the war they were taking their part well; the number of deaths in so short a time points to that conclusion. The United States casualty list was less than that of the Canadian losses.

Prior to the World War there was not a very definite system of keeping records of those killed, wounded or missing. During the 1914-18 struggle the business was reduced to a science; figures were continually revised as prisoners were returned or as wounded men died.

The greatest previous casualty list in any war was that between the North and South where in killed alone the figure reached 700,000.

* * * *

In former years it appears that there must have been a great deal of estimating done in regard to the number killed and injured in battle. The number of lives taken from sickness and from injuries that were not properly cared for was also very high. It is quite possible that sickness and poor medical service—or none at all—accounted in many cases for more lives being lost than the war itself.

At Waterloo the British lost 13,000 killed, the Prussians 7,000, while the death list in the French army on that event was 37,000, making a total carnage of 57,000 in that historic battle.

The British, in the Crimean war, lost 17,000 men, and it was there that disease and infection made heavy inroads on the lives of men, who, under the treatment available to-day, would never have died in the area.

In the Franco-Prussian war the Germans lost 18,000 killed and 96,000 were wounded, and the losses of the French were higher than that, although it is an open question if the accurate figure has ever been given. It may never have been definitely known. The war between Russia and Japan was even worse than that in men killed and wounded. It has always been the case that as the weapons of death were made more perfect the number of casualties increased. That may be the basis for the warning that if there is another war the death list of combatants and civilians will probably show a ghastly increase over anything that has ever taken place in the past.

* * * *

One notable thing in the late war was the number of British officers who were killed in action. There was one officer killed for each group of 15 men, and one for each 20 wounded. The ratio when the army went into action is about one officer for each 30 men. It is a plain indication that the British officer is always in the thick of the fight.

It is notable, too, that the percentage of deaths in a naval action is higher than in any part of the service, the figure being 80 in the navy and 35 in the army. Civilians in Britain suffered in the late war, too, the total loss being 5,692. That includes those who were victims of bombing raids, who were on boats sunk in submarine warfare, or who met death in other ways from war causes.

Some of the battles took a heavy toll of life. At Mons 186 officers and 4,939 men were killed; the first battle of Aisne took 561 officers and 12,980 men, while the first battle of Ypres showed a British loss of 40,000. At Neuve Chapelle there were 13,000 killed. The landing at Gallipoli took the lives of 600 officers and 13,000 men. At the Battle of Loos the British lost 60,000 in killed and injured. Staggering is the figure for the action around Ypres area in 1917 from July 31 to November 18, for the total loss there was 258,637 officers and men.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

At least the political leaders have no personal unemployment problem. Mr. Bennett addresses ten and Mr. King six meetings this week.

The election campaign has failed so far to settle the old argument as to whether strawberry short cake should be "cake" or biscuit.

If the Canadians at Bisley do as well as Jack Guest did at Henley there will be no complaints on this side of the Atlantic.

Empire trade may be an interesting topic in the Old Country, but it is a safe bet there will be a little interest left for the third Test match which begins on Friday.

Nominations in Ontario are complete, but the headquarters organizations may iron out a few wrinkles before election day.

A Thought

SMILES

There has been a lot said about the value of smiles. We all like to see them on others. Let's begin right now giving smiles to those we meet. It is the best investment in the world. It makes other people happy and it makes us happy too. And, mind you it costs nothing. All that is required is a cheerful disposition which is something anybody can have if they will. Let us start in right now to giving smiles, pleasant looks, kind words to others. Be kind to everybody you meet. Look so pleasant, and greet them so cordially that they will think you have just heard some great news, or inherited a fortune. And good fortune indeed has come to you if you will smile, and make others happier.

What To-day Means To You

"Cancer"

If July 9 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 6 a.m. to 7.30 a.m., 2 p.m. to 3.30 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. The danger periods are from 11 a.m. to noon, and 4 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Providence will play more than a minor part in your life on this date, and must be reckoned with in most of your plans, many of which will be altered to suit her likes and not yours. Neither borrow nor lend, and make no uncertain investments.

The child born on this July 9 will have a daring nature, will be full of pranks, and a desire for adventure. It will cause its parents much worry, but it will be sure to come through with flying colors. It will have considerable pluck and ingenuity.

During the days of your youth, you were probably classed by your elders as one of the "bright young people." You may even have been the leader of a gang, who were harmlessly out for adventure, and got it. You shocked your less daring associates, or maiden aunts. You had, and still have, a super-abundance of pluck, and the possession of good nerves. You are a concocter of brilliant ideas, which you move heaven and earth to make realities. You have a flair for "getting away with things," which might be described as personality.

To achieve the impossible has always been your aim, and to do things which other people cannot do. You have a spirit which does not give a hang for anything, and which enables you to overcome apparently insuperable obstacles. You play a hard game of life, but a square one. Your nerves are of steel, but your heart is of gold. You do not even mind being "worked," by those whom you love—but others had better not try it. You have never been obsessed with the serious things of life. You want color, life, laughter and fun. You want nothing, however, at another's expense. Your friends are legion. They are your biggest asset. You are willing to gamble away your own life, but you try not to "rope in" others.

MOCCASINS FROM SCOTLAND

That thousands of moccasins sold in the United States as Indian souvenirs are manufactured in Scotland, has just been revealed by Arthus Wilson, managing director of a large Glasgow firm. "Tourists in the United States buy Indian moccasins as souvenirs of the land which was once peopled by Redskins," said Wilson. "They are not made on Indian reservations at Niagara, as tourists probably suppose, but in Glasgow, and exported to the number of about 2,000 pairs a month. They are made exactly as by the Indians on the reservations, but in lots of thousands."

"There was a couple that moved from a bungalow to a two-storey house," says frivolous Flo, "but that's another story."—By Gettler.

THE GRINGO PRIVATEER

By PETER B. KYNE

CHAPTER 10

A half-hour passed. "The new general manager is taking his time about reporting to me," said the king presently. "He'll have to learn to report on the jump when I send for him, so we might just as well start his education here and now."

He called up the bunkhouse again. 'Bledsoe, I sent word half an hour ago, through you, for that new man, Smokey, to report to me. Has he started ? . . . No. Why not? . . . Hum-m-m! Says he gave the day to me free gratis but the night belongs to him . . . The pup! Tell him if he isn't over here in ten minutes to look for a riding job somewhere else to-morrow morning. Deliver that message now. I'll wait on the line for his answer."

The "Princess."

Two minutes passed, then Tom Bledsoe came on the wire again. "He says he never allows no man to threaten him, boss," Bledsoe reported. "He says he's a danged sight more important to thee thany thy ridin' job is to him, that thee know it an' to quit botherin' him until he can untangle his lights from his livers. Personally, boss, I think he aches all over."

"Tell him he's fired for impertinence and insubordination," the king roared, and hung up.

"Well," said Art Graydon, "you hired him over my head, boss, so it's just as well you fired him, too."

"Don't get peeved, Art," His Majesty implored, for he knew Graydon was jealous of his prerogatives as general manager. "It's the general manager's privilege to hire and fire his inferiors, but it's the president's privilege to hire and fire the general managers."

"A general manager ain't got no right to sass the boss."

"I'm not so certain of that, Art. It just happens that I never been sassed heretofore by a general manager. Somehow I find the experience exhilarating. Must a man crawl on his hands and knees just to hold down one of my jobs? I don't blame him for being peevish I'd have felt outraged, too, if he'd forced me to wait as long for the gun as I forced him this morning. Time certainly does drag when a fellow's giving an exhibition ride on old Geronimo!"

Art Graydon knew better than to argue with the king. "Well, then, I reckon you won't be promoting me for a while yet," he suggested.

"Oh, yes... My program stands. Ken Burney will be the personal manager to-morrow morning just the same. I've just fired him from his riding job."

"Oh Bradley Bardin, you darling!" a voice cried ecstatically, and the king suddenly found himself being embraced and kissed by his sole heir.

"You been spying on your old man," he charged.

"Keep quiet—you! And you're going to take him out of that awful bunkhouse, darling?"

"Of course, of course. Art, to-morrow morning you move the sulky pup into decent quarters!"

Graydon promised and shortly thereafter took his departure. At eight o'clock next morning he telephoned the king. "Smokey's gone," he announced.

"Gone? Gone where?"

"Nobody knows. Tom Bledsoe says his bed was empty when the outfit rolled out this morning; his stock ain't in the corral, so it sort o' looks as if your new general manager just naturally saddled up an' drifted on account o' him takin' you serious about bein' fired. You know he wasn't informed that he'd been fired from one job to take over a better one."

"The ungrateful young pup," His Majesty shouted. "I'll teach him his place. Art, you put a couple of good men on his trail, follow him as far as he goes and tell them to bring him back if they have to hog-tie him. I want him back, understand. No substitute will do. He's the only man in my employ who never took me seriously."

"I'll go myself," Art Graydon promised, for it had been his business for forty years to see to it that the king got what he wanted, when he wanted it. On occasion, too, he had been wont to kowtow to the princess!

Shortly after noon he reported to the king as the latter sat at luncheon with his daughter: "I found Burney, sir."

"Good. Bring him back with you?"

"No, sir. He promised he'd come back when he got good an' ready."

"What'd he run away for?"

"He said the princess objected to his hair and he was on his way to town to get it cut."

"Har! Har-har!" laughed the king. He had a habit of bleating like a sheep when aroused to sudden mirth. "So she did, Art. So she did. He must have overheard her. Har-har!"

The nearest town to El Ranchito was Huachita, a straggling adobe municipality that squatted athwart the boundary between New Mexico and Mexico. At the barber shop in the International Hotel, Ken Burney secured his much-needed hair-cut and shave, and while he lay in the chair, being shaved, Martin Bruce, the grizzled owner of the Triangle B ranch, entered and slipped into the adjoining chair. Burney, his face covered with lather, had fallen into a doze and not until Bruce's rough voice, ordering a close shave, reached him, was he aware of the proximity of his enemy.

"Didn't recognize me with riding breeches on and soap up to my eyebrows," the young man reflected. When the barber turned his head sideways, Burney saw that Martin Bruce had closed his eyes as the barber commenced lathering his face; hence the former decided that the danger of being seen and recognized by Bruce was negligible. Burney would be shaved first and out of his chair while Bruce's barber still scraped away at the old cattleman's three-weeks-old growth of beard.

"Once over," he whispered to his barber. "I'm in a hurry and I don't want a close shave."

When the barber tipped him out of the chair he went at once to the end of the shop to arrange his necktie, in order to avoid the hazard of Martin Bruce opening his eyes and seeing, in the mirror in front of him, the reflection of his youthful enemy standing just behind him. When he was ready for the street Burney sat down and lit a cigarette.

'I thought you was in a hurry," the barber commented.

"Not now," Mr. Burney replied softly. "A little later perhaps."

He reached in under the left front of his light whipcord coat and eased his pistol in the holster that hung there from his shoulder, then waited until the other barber, having washed Martin Bruce's ruddy face and powdered it, tilted him upright in his chair, asked him what, if anything, he would have on his head. And at that moment Ken Burney spoke.

'Good morning, Mr. Bruce."

Martin Bruce jerked his head in the direction of the voice; then, with an alertness one would never have suspected in a man as old and bulky as he, leaped out of the chair and reached under the clinging barber's apron for his artillery. But the hand did not come out for the very excellent reason that he saw Burney had him covered—and the enveloping barber's apron had Bruce at a distinct disadvantage.

'If you move your right hand the fraction of an inch, I'll kill you." Ken Burney warned, and walked swiftly toward him. He circled around in back of his victim and with a quick twist removed the apron. In Martin Bruce's right hand reposed a single-action .45, with a four and three-quarter-inch barrel—and the gun was already cocked. With the finesse of the old-time gunman Bruce had cocked it even as he drew it from the holster. With his own pistol barrel pressing against the back of the old man's head, Burney reached down an and removed the pistol from the latter's hand, thrust it into his rear trousers pocket and then ran his left hand over Bruce's person, feeling for another gun. He found it—a smaller weapon thrust down the band of the latter's trousers—and appropriated that, also.

"Will you be good enough, Mr. Bruce," he requested politely, "to sit back in the chair and permit the barber to comb your hair?"

"You'll notice it ain't standin' on end," the grim old wolf replied easily.

"Oh, there will be no killing to-day, Mr. Bruce. Of course I could have killed you, with three barbers to bear witness that I shot in self-defense. I trusted to the apron to handicap you and permitted you to reach for your weapon before I pulled mine. To me, however, your elimination, no matter how desirable, would have been grossly inartistic under such circumstances. I prefer more finesse when I turn killer."

Martin Bruce sat back calmly in the chair. "Gimme a shampoo," he ordered the barber. "Nothin' like lookin' pretty when a feller's in danger o' dyin' with his boots on." He smiled almost approvingly at his youthful enemy. "You took a long chance, son."

CODRINGTON LODGE ATTENDS SERVICE

Rev. Dr. R. Clare Delivers Impressive Address at Annual Church Parade.

NORHAM, July 9.—(Examiner Correspondence)—Codrington Orange Lodge marched to Codrington United church for divine service on Sunday conducted by the pastor, the Rev. D. R. Clare, B.A., B.D.

The choir rendered an anthem, "Be A Volunteer."

Mr. Clare's text was taken from I Sam. 25-29: "The soul of my Lord shall be bound in the bundle of life with the Lord my God." He told the story of David and his appeal to Nabal and Nabal's refusal to give aid, also of Abigail's efforts to pacify David.

His first thought was that we cannot live to ourselves alone. Just as an individual stick is easily broken while a bundle of sticks is strong and able to put up a big resistance so the church, the lodge, the commercial life, the amusements should work together for in unity, is strength.

Bennett Scott, author of the popular song, "Take Me Back to Dear Old Blighty," died recently at East Ham, England.

An American plane will be used in the Spanish service which will be operated between Madrid and the Canary Islands.

Voice of the People

Letters to be printed in the Voice of the People column must be received at The Examiner Office on the day before it is desired to have them published.

OPEN LETTER TO MR. PECK.

Sir,—You announced that you are in favor of some items of the Dunning Budget and opposed to others, but you have been afraid to declare the items of which you are in favor, and those to which you are opposed.

Will you deny that under Conservative legislation over forty million pounds of oleomargarine displaced the butter made by the Canadian farmers through the failure of your political friends to protect the Canadian dairyman?

Your leaders voted in favor of maintaining the importation and manufacture of this butter-like grease, and they were the ones who were sticking the daggers into the back of the butter-making industry, because the packers were making huge profits at the cost of the Canadian farmers. Will you deny this statement?

I also observe that you say you are in favor of Mr Bennett's proposal to build a motor highway across Canada, for which the farmers and the working men of this country will be compelled to pay to the tune of some $150,000,000. This highway would shorten the working hours of every railroad man in Canada and building an automobile trunk line at the cost of the Canadian people would compete with the railroads in carrying merchandise across the country.

Your former leader, Mr. Meighen, has declared time and again that we have had too much railway expansion with the three transcontinental lines, and now you demand the building of this motor highway across Canada to put the railway men out of work and thereby reduce their earning power and ability to purchase as freely as they do to-day. This would also adversely affect all the merchants.

Every railroad man that I have seen is opposed to building a motor highway across Canada, and this is another instance where you are fighting against the interests of the working men and trying to increase the taxation of the Canadian people.

Yours truly,

G. N. GORDON.

ONE-MAN SPEED TRAP READY

A one-man speed trap for reckless autoists has been invented by a police inspector at The Hague, in collaboration with the director of the State Marine Institute at Leiden, and is ready for the market. The new instrument resembles a single opera-glass, with a circular base from which certain finger stops protrude. As the speeding car approaches, the traffic officer focuses his glass on it and starts a stop watch contained in the instrument. Afterwards he gets the time from the watch and by referring to a chart can ascertain the speed of the car.

Comment on Morning Stock Market over Biggar and Crawford wire.

Bullish sentiment in New York, created by the market's resistance to bear attacks on Tuesday, was increased by a gain in freight loadings, which caused a brisk demand in early dealings for standard rails.

New York Central gained over $2 while Chesapeak and Ohio and Pennsylvania gained $1. The industrial issues also scored moderate advances. Rallying tendencies gained vigor and U. S. Steel mounted to a new high on the move at $158. Other leaders to show improvement were American Can, Vanadium Corp., General Motors, Radio Corp., and Standard Oil of New Jersey.

Trading was very quiet on the Toronto market this morning but the leading stocks were firm. Int. Nickel, Noranda, Brazilian and Walkers, all gained fractionally while the oils were steady to fractionally higher. Tip-Top lost most of its gain registered earlier in the week and sold off to $35½. Weston lost one point while Ford of Canada recovered ½.

LIGHT DECLINE TORONTO CURB

Market Lapses Into Monotonous Trading of Earlier Sessions Following Firm Opening.

FOOD STOCKS QUIET.

TORONTO, Ont., July 9. (C.P.)—Firmer at the opening, stocks sold off fractionally in the second hour of trading on Toronto Exchange to-day as the market lapsed into the same monotonous trading of previous sessions this week. Issues which had sold higher reached under profit taking. Most prominent in this group was Tip Top Tailors, which this morning was down to a small fraction above 35. This compares with a recent high above 38, which was less than a point from the record price for the year.

Brazilian and Nickel got down to or below the level of Tuesday night's closing and about the same price at which they had left off Monday. Ford did not do much, the foods were quiet, Walkers scarcely changed and the oils quiet and within a small fraction of their previous final.

SEAWAY REPORT MISSES MOST IMPORTANT QUESTION

TORONTO, July 9. (C.P.) — All considerations put forward by the engineers against an all-Canadian development of the St. Lawrence must bow to the sovereign necessity of preserving Sanadian control of any canal system devised for the International section of the river, Premier G. Howard Ferguson declared last night, commenting on the report made public at Ottawa.

One most important question was not touched at all by this report, the Premier pointed out. That was the qestion of water power ownership, which he, contending that the provinces are sole owners, has made an issue in the present election campaign.

ISSUE DECLINES FOR LOSS OF 37

Heavy Liquidation Among Few of Specialty Stocks Provides Excitement From Opening.

FALCONBRIDGE OFF.

TORONTO, July 9. (C.P.)—The mining board, as a whole, wasrather dull during the early period of to-day, but heavy liquidation among a few of the specialty issues provided some excitement right from the opening.

Ajax Oil took the centre of the stage in the first few minutes of trading, dropping steadily throughout the period to stand at noon at $1.80 for a new loss of 37 from last night.

Falconbridge, due to reports of a continued shut-down owing to lack of power, was off 19 to $2.25, and Sherritt Gordon and Sudbury Basin eased 9 each to $1.36 and $1.41, respectively. Ventures held firm, gaining 5 to $1.15.

San Antonio, which is reported to have encountered important high grade on the 975 level, strengthened a couple to 24. Howey was up a like amount and Teck Hughes advanced 5 to $5.46. Other golds were irregularly lower, unusual selling in Wright-Hargreaves driving the price down 10 to $1.75.

Nickel was off approximately a half to $23.25, but Noranda gained a fraction to the same level, and Hudson Bay sold up a quarter to $8.25. Hudson Bay rights saw relatively heavy trading but were soft in price. Waite-Ackerman added another 4 to recent gains to stand at $1.75.

Nordon recovered 4 to $1 and Home Oil was up 3 to $3.95 but Chemical Research was off 40 to $5.10.

450 CHILDREN TAKE ADVANTAGE OF PLAYGROUNDS

City Children Are Taking Full Advantage of Playgrounds This Year.

CONGRATULATES BOARD.

Four hundred and fifty children took eager advantage of the facilities of the Board of Education's supervised playgrounds during the first two days of their operation here this summer, according to James Abraham, who is in charge of the playgrounds again this year.

So anxious are the children to make use of the city's two playgrounds that, as one of the supervisors remarked, "They are here waiting for us when we get down to open in the morning." There are two sessions—morning and afternoon—held daily at both the Central School playground and the King Edward School playground.

Two softball games were in progress when The Examiner's errant reporter visited the Central School yesterday, as well as a beehive of activity around the swings, chutes, sandpiles, and volley-ball nets. The opening games of the boys' and girls' softball leagues, composed of picked teams from the rival playgrounds, will take place on Thursday, he was informed. The winning teams receive crests. Swimming classes will be held on Tuesdays and Fridays at Inverlea Park, in charge of expert swimmers.

Miss Clara Patterson and Howard Macdonald are the supervisors at the Central Grounds, and Miss Ruth Sutton and Alexander Rogow at the King Edward Grounds.

A list of safety rules is shown to the children at the beginning of each session, Mr. Abraham pointed out. The aim of the playgrounds, he declared, was to keep the children off the streets and away from more dangerous diversions by providing for them the opportunity to play organized games under the charge of capable but friendly supervision.

But without the co-operation of parents, Mr. Abraham declared, the authorities could do nothing. He was sure that as more and more parents realized the beauty of the playground idea, more and more they would see to it that their children were allowed this form of summer recreation.

"The Board of Education," one interested onlooker remarked, "is to be congratulated for this work."

That sports do not constitute the only form of activity was emphasized by Miss Patterson's assurance that sewing classes opened next week, and by a fragment of conversation overheard by the reporter.

"Do you think," demanded one diminutive eight-year-old miss of another, "that my dress is too short?"

"No," returned the other, "I should say it was just about right. But I do prefer the high waistline; don't you?"

CREERAR HAS LARGE MEETING

CHATHAM, Ont., July 9.—(C.P.)—Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Railways and Canals, addressed the largest meeting of his Western Ontario tour here last night, expounding the tariff policies of the Government. He spoke in support of Dr. J. W. Rutherford, who is seeking reelection as a Liberal in Kent.

Already, he said, the increase in the British preference contained in the 1930 budget were having the effect of turning trade from the United States to Great Britain.

TRADE NEWS SHOWS SOME LIGHT IMPROVEMENT ON WALL STREET

Weekly Report of Freight Car Loadings Displays Gain of 16,000 Cars.

STEEL REVIEW VAGUE.

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 9.—(A.P.)—Becoming bored with pessimism, some traders endeavored to stir up a little bullishness in to-days stock market, but found the speculative fraternity inclined to be suspicious and apathetic. The short covering which appeared yesterday was carried further, and share prices generally made fair progress, but trading progressed at a snail's pace.

Traders disposed to try their luck on the long side of the market, after the meagre success of operations on the short side during the past few days, found new developments, while not very conclusive, largely in their favor. The commodity markets gave a better account of themselves, particularly grains, and trade news showed few further reductions and some light improvement.

The weekly steel trade reviews were rather vague. "Iron Age" said the immediate prospects were not promising, but estimated that steel production had returned to 56 per cent. of capacty, as compared to recent estimates of a curtailment to 48 per cent. late last week.

Loadings Increase.

The weekly report of freight car loadings covering the week ended June 28, showed a gain of nearly 16,000 cars over the previous week, but the movement continued well under the like period of recent years.

Call mony held at 2½ per cent.

In the rails, Chesapeake and Ohio, Rock Island Chesapeake Corp., Missouri Pacific and Union Pacific mounted 3 to 5, or more, other shares gaining about 5 points included Safeway Stores, Auburn, Allied Chemical, and Eastern Kodak. Such shares as U.S. Steel, American Telephone, and American Can, sold up about 2 to 3, and Radio and General Electric worked a little higher.

During the early afternoon, oils turned upward with a gain of more than 2 points in Standard of N.J., reflecting the American Petroleum Institute's weekly figures, showing a reduction in crude output and a good drop in gasoline in storage. Also President Hoover signed the Bill to encourage unit operation of oil pools, which is expected to aid in production control.

BIG PART PLAYED IN NORFOLK FIGHT BY BEAVERBROOK

Newspaper Magnate Makes Whirlwind Tour Supporting T. A. Cook.

ONLY MEANS TO END:

LONDON, England, July 9 (By Thos. T. Champion, C. P. Staff Correspondent).—Voters in North Norfolk went to the polls to-day after the most exciting by-election campaign ever known in that 400 square miles of rural East Anglia. The result will not be declared until tomorrow afternoon.

Regular party fights were all eclipsed by the whirlwind tour of the riding by Lord Beaverbrook, Canadian-born newspaper magnate who, by his fervent support of the Empire Free Trade ideal, inspired political writers to-day to wonder whether he would not become leader of the Conservative party after all.

Beaverbrook Backs Cook

Lord Beaverbrook nominally was speaking on behalf of T. A. Cook, Conservative, opposed by Lady Buxton, Labor. But as in previous by-elections with Lord Beaverbrook, the candidate was the means to an end, and the end was the adoption by voters of the principles of Free Trade within the Empire and tariff barriers against foreign produce.

"If Cook is elected, it might very well be the end of Stanley Baldwin," said the special political correspondent of The Manchester Guardian today, after a tour of the riding. Westminster would have the opportunity of seeing Cook, but all England would see Beaverbrook returning in triumph to London—not seizing the Crown but perhaps being proffered it by the Conservatives, who as their history proves, are much more inconstant in support of chosen leaders than any other party."

More than sixty meetings were held last night and Lord Beaverbrook was in the fray to the last minute. He encountered uproarious opposition during an impromptu meeting in railway yards at Molton Constable, when he spoke from his train to an assemblage of railway workers. George Dallas and J. A. Alpass, both Labor Members of the House of Commons, led the heckling and were eventually invited to step up on to the chief crusader's travelling rostrum. They did so and after half an hour's thrust and parry between Lord Beaverbrook and the two M.P.'s for the edification of the grimy but very much interested workers, a station buzzer sounded and the audience went back to work. Whereupon Dallas moved thanks to Lord Beaverbrook and all three shook hands.

Amery Makes Speech

To what extent Lord Beaverbrook has seized the imagination in the by-election may be guessed from the fact that the only regular note of Conservative support for Cook, was the regulation letter from the party leader, and a speech by Rt. Hon. L. C. M. S. Amery, former Secretary for the Dominions, who said that Mr. Baldwin's motion of censure on the Government made it perfectly clear "that on Empire Free Trade Baldwin and Beaverbrook stand together."

The by-election was necessitated when Rt. Hon. Noel Buxton, Minister of Agriculture, was elevated to the Peerage. The present Labor candidate is his wife. In the general elections the vote was 14,544 for Buxton, Labor, 12,661 for Cook, Conservative; and 3,403 for Mrs. F. Hoffman, Liberal.

WEATHER IS FAIR AT BISLEY CAMP

Team From H. M. S. Pembroke Wins Canadian Challenge Shield.

RESULTS FOR TO-DAY.

BISLEY CAMP, England, July 9 (C.P.)—Glorious weather continues to favor the great meeting of the National Rifle Association, the heat being tempered by clouds and a pleasant breeze. Marksmen, here from all parts of the Empire, are hoping the favorable conditions will rule when heavy shooting commence in the great events of the meeting late this week and continuing through next week. Results to-day were:

Cheylesmore Memorial Cup, rapid fire at 200 yards—Won by team from H.M.S. Pembroke.

Canada Challenge Shield, for teams of four shooting in the Queen Mary Service Rifle Competition—Won by H.M.S. Pembroke.

Yeomanry Inter-Regimental Challenge Cup, also connected with the Queen Mary Shoot, won by the Royal Wiltshire Regiment.

Brinsmead Challenge Shield, in connection with Imperial Tobacco Aggregate—Won by the Marines' team.

Lewis Gun Match—Won by the Rifle Brigade team.

Territorial Championship—Won by Sergt.-Major Williams of the West Kents' Regiment.

The above events were all for members of His Majesty's Forces shooting as units, except the Territorial Championship.

LINDSAY PLANNING BIG CELEBRATION

Monster Parade To Leave Victoria Park, Lindsay, at One O'clock, E.S.T.

Final arrangements for the annual Orange Celebration, which is to be held in Lindsay, on Saturday, July 12th, are practically completed. Brass bands from Cobourg, Oshawa, Haliburton, Port Hope, Lindsay and Peterborough will take part in the monster parade which leaves Victoria Park at one o'clock standard time.

Speeches will be made in Kawartha Park after which baseball and softball games will be played in the Agricultural Park. Residents of Lindsay are asked to cooperate by decorating their premises especially along the route of the parade, and, if possible, to have a supply of cold drinking water in front of their residences to attend to the needs of the paraders.

ARTICLE LXV.

Q.—(a) What is the process by which Federal Reserve notes are issued and why does this process tend to make our currency more elastic?

A.—Since there is great irregularity in the demand for money, currency should expand and contract in response to those requirements. By means of the Federal Reserve Act, the scattered reserves of thousands of banks are made available for any one bank at any one time. The Federal Reserve enable banks to bring out new Federal currency when it is needed, and retire it when money becomes easy, thus allowing business to expand.

The notes that are presented at the banks should be based upon the shipment of commodities, or upon current commercial operations from which cash will be realized in the ordinary course of business.

If A ships goods to B and draws on him for payment by means of a draft which B accepts, A can take this draft to his local bank and get cash for it, less discount and charges. The local bank in turn presents it to the Federal Reserve bank for rediscount and issues new currency for it, receiving the draft in exchange. When B pays the note, the Federal Reserve Bank can retire the currency and surrender the draft.

The fact that the local banks can turn such drafts into cash encourages the banks to buy commercial paper and thus stimulate commerce. Previous to this system the local bank held these drafts finil due as so much frozen assets. There were times when it dared not extend any more credit. Money used for trade and commerce was curtailed and placed on the call loan market in New York where it could be had by speculators and used for less legitimate purposes.

Federal Reserve banks can discount ordinary commercial paper issued for ninety days, and commercial paper for farming purposes up to six months (with certain limitations.) Thus we see that the new system fosters legitimate business. Instead of the banks tightening up on loans when restrained by limitations of a fixed reserve and therby causing a panic, we have them advancing credit to meet the demand. Thus rates are more stable and our currency more elastic. Although the new system does not eliminate hard times, periods of depression and prosperity are less marked.

(b) When and how will they be returned?

A.—When the Federal Reserve bank presents the rediscounted notes to the Federal Reserve agent he has reserve notes issued. When the draft has been paid off the money is sent through the member bank and the Reserve bank to the Reserve agent. The latter surrenders the accepted draft and locks up the money for future requirements.

Since Reserve notes are not legal reserve for member banks, they are usually forwarded without delay to the Federal Reserve bank. When notes of one Federal Reserve bank are received by another, it has to pay a tax of 10%. Thus notes are returned quickly to the issuing bank.

Fine Results From Classified Advertising

James Brown, Contractor, Always Well Pleased With Advertising in Examiner.

James Brown, contractor, called at The Examiner Office yesterday to give his experience as to the results obtained from classified advertising in the Examiner. Every now and again he uses the classified columns. This summer he has already wrecked two buildings and has used The Examiner to sell the material. In these, as in other cases, he has been successful and on each occasion recognized new and different purchasers as the result of the advertisement.

Mr. Brown is a great believer in classified advertising for articles for sale. You can get the buyers through the advertisement and you can see if the material or article is reasonable and the values to the public all right.

KING IS GREETED BY RECORD CROWD IN WESTERN PORT

Unemployment Relieved By Peace River Railway Premier States.

HIGHER TARIFF BAD.

New Feature is Reference to Need of Better Communication With Orient.

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 9 (By Ray Brown C.P. Staff Correspondent).—In Canada's great western seaport Premier Mackenzie King last night discussed unemployment. His Vancouver audience was the greatest indoor gathering which he had addressed thus far. Platform and floor of that part of the great arena which was used, were filled, and the crowd rose tier on tier in the high galleries at the sides and rear of the rink.

On the platform were gathered those prominent in Liberal political ranks here. The speech was broadcast from the platform.

Peace River Railway.

Of particular interest to a Western audience was the Prime Minister's statement that the construction of a railway outlet from the Peace River district might furnish employment for many now out of work. He had personally seen the presidents of both great Canadian railway systems in an effort to ascertain the reasons for delay in going on with this project, he said.

"What we have said to each of them is that the people of Western Canada are interested in the construction of this road," asserted Mr. King with emphasis. "We have told them—and this was some time ago—that we think six months is long enough to decide the route, and we have told them that if they have not discovered a route in six months, then the Government will find a way to construct a road.

The Prime Minister demanded to know the policy of Hon. R. B. Bennett, with respect to unemployment. "The Conservative leader was proposing to call another session of Parliament. "But," added Mr. King, "he gives no indication of what his policy is to be when Parliament meets. What is it that he is proposing? He says he is going to raise the tariff. If raising the tariff is a remedy, why is that in the United States, where they have a high tariff, there are from three to four million people out of work?"

The Premier criticized a statement attributed to L. J. Ladner, ex-member of South Vancouver, that the Government had "done nothing" to meet unemployment.

"When Mr. Ladner says that, he is saying what he knows is not true—and that is not the way to deal with any problem in any place at any time," declared the Prime Minister.

Salmon Treaty Mentioned.

The Sockeye Salmon Treaty was mentioned by Mr. King and he blamed the Conservatives for delay in the passing for this treaty. Millions of dollars had been lost, he asserted, through the delay, and the Conservatives must account to the people of British Columbia.

A new feature of the Prime Minister's speech was a reference to the need for better and cheaper means of communication between Canada and the Orient. Why should there not be wireless telephone communication between Canada and Tokyo, he asked. One of the first subjects which the Government proposed to take up if it was returned to power was this matter of direct communication between Canada and the Orient.

The Government of to-day was simply following along lines laid down by the previous Conservative administration in respect to unemployment relief, said Mr. King. He quoted from order-in-council which was passed in 1921, during the Meighen administration, which laid down the principle that unemployment was primarily a municipal and provincial responsibility, and that the Federal Government acted only in cases of emergency.

RETURN DOLLAR TO SHRINE HOSTS

Toronto Committee Will Give Back Fee Paid To Entertain Visitors.

OVER $8,000 DEFICIT.

TORONTO, July 9. (C.P.) — Between 7,000 and 8,000 Toronto householders, who paid a dollar to be made "official hosts" or "hostesses," for the recent Shrine convention will receive their money back if they apply to the Shrine committee, stated W. H. Shaw, a member of the committee to-day.

Mr. Shaw said that the Shrine was not legally bound by the contracts to repay the money, but had decided to do so in answer to complaints that money had been expended in anticipation of the arrival of delegates who proved to be fewer in the reality than in the advance estimates.

Mr. Shaw confirmed a previous report that the Shrine would incur a deficit of from $8,000 to $10,000 on the convention.

Songs of the nightingale were recently broadcast from its haunts in the woods of England.

TWO-STAGE PLAN IS BEING FAVORED FOR WATERWAY

Engineers Would Abandon Ogden Island For Crysler Island.

COST $274,000,000.

Ontario Hydro Engineers Participate With Federal Representatives.

OTTAWA, July 9 (By W. W. Murray, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent). — A double-stage deep-water nagivation and power development, costing in the neighborhood of $274,020,000 (or $281,963,000, according to certain alternative features of the project) is envisaged in the report of the conference between the members of th Canadian Section of the Joint Board of Engineers and representatives of Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, who investigated the deep-water navigation and power possibilities of the St. Lawrence in the international rapids section of the river.

The Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission was represented at the conference by Dr. F. A. Gaby, chief engineer, and Dr. T. H Hogg, chief hydraulic engineer. The Canadian members of the Joint Board were D. W. McLachlan of the Department of Railways and Canals, Brig.-General C. H. Mitchell of Toronto, and O. Lefebvre. The report, which was the unanimous recommendation of the conference, was made public from the Prime Minister's office here yesterday. It is dated December, 1929, and has been studied by the Governments concerned for the past few months.

To Examine Difficulties.

The conference was called with a view to examining the engineering difficulties involved in the deepening of the St. Lawrence and the development of power thereon. Its report, while adding little that is new to what has already been published in this connection, nevertheless makes definite recommendations as to the practicability and cost of the project. It is a compendium of information assembled for the purpose of enabling the Dominion and Ontario Governments to make their decisions in the light of the engineering problems involved.

The development recommended in the present conference report differs in some minor respects from the double-stage scheme suggested by the Canadians in their conferences with the United States Section of the Joint Board several years ago, and which was embodied in the main report published in 1927. In that particular report, the Canadians submitted two schemes — one in the main body of the report, and another as an appendix thereto. The first of these contemplated a double-stage development scheme, with the first stage at Ogden Island, near Morrisburg, Ont., and the lower one at Barnhart Island, about two and a half miles above Cornwall, Ont. Subsequent investigations were prosecuted, however, and as an appendix the Canadians submitted the alternative project of installing the first stage at Crysler Island, about three miles downstream from Morrisburg. The present conference report now definitely recommends the Crysler Island development in preference to the Ogden Island one. The second stage remains as before, at Barnhart Island.

ROUND TABLE CONFERENCE

ment will later submit to Parliament."

The Viceroy said that it was clear from such definition that the Government conceived the conference as a joint assembly of representatives of both countries and that the Government hoped all schools of Indian thought would be ready to share in this constructive work.

"I see no reason," he continued, "why, from frank discussion of all sides, a scheme might not emerge for submission to Parliament which would confound the pessimism of those who tell us that it is impossible for Britain and India or for various interests in India to reach an agreement."

Decisions Not Anticipated.

The Viceroy described the Simon report as a "weighty constructive contribution to a most difficult problem," but said that it was neither the desire nor the function of the Commission to anticipate decisions of the Government reached after conference with representatives from India or Parliament itself.

"The Government of India," he said, "has only tentatively examined the report, but will discuss the subject with non-official Indian opinion. He said that he hoped to have occasion to do this with the ruling princes and representatives of the India States next week.

CANADA GROWS OWN TOBACCO.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 9.—Canadian farmers are producing practically all the tobacco manufactured in this country, Dr. E. S. Archibald, Director of the Central Experimental Farm, told 150 Departmental judges who are here attending a two-day course in judging livestock and field crops. Dr. Archibald claimed that the Canadian grown tobacco was of a choicer quality than the imported variety.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND BRIEFS

A SPECIAL SERVICE TO THE EXAMINER

Some brokers are prone to speak with a rush of words and by their manner as much as what they have to say create an atmosphere of feverish intensity, giving the impression that whatever is to be done, be it the purchase or sale of stocks, must be done immediately this is especially true of United States brokers, applying in much less degree to Canadian houses. Recent advices from New York have begun to talk with more assurance of an upturn in business before the end of the third quarter, or at latest in the fourth quarter, and there are those brokers who would prevail upon the public that now is the only time to purchase stocks that another two months, they even speak in terms of weeks, will be too late that the markets then will have advanced away beyond present levels, discounting the improvement in business.

Such tone trends to work up a sort of hysteria, the impressionable person rushes to purchase, then faces a long period of aimlessly drifting markets, grows weary of the inactivity and relinquishes his holdings, perhaps at a loss, while purchasing sound stocks returning a good yield and putting them away in the strong box for the long time bull is not to be condemned, bullish enthusiasm is unwarranted at the present time. The fact might as well be faced. Business will recover but it will not do so in a day. Even after the turn comes, it will be a slow uphill process. Covering a period months before gaining noticeable momentum. The nervous system of the entire world has been disrupted and while improvement may come in one country first, it nevertheless will be dependent upon world conditions. Intending investors should make a careful selection before purchasing and should do so with the knowledge the dawn is a gradual awakening, that quick appreciation is not to be expected.

Call Loans Increase.

An increase of over $2,000,000 in Canadian call loans for the month of May comes as a surprise. Call Joans in New York have been dropping each week and it was anticipated that the Canadian total would show a decrease rather than an increase. In the first week of May the stock market turned reactionary and there was considerable liquidation of speculative accounts. Two theories are advanced for the increase at this time. It is thought the drop in security prices, which marked the first drastic reaction of the year, created a demand for securities on the part of those who held the opinion the level touched would be bottom for 1930 and therefore provided an accumulation point.

On the contrary the market has been reactionary since and the resistance point struck early in May long since passed through. June was another month of declining prices and liquidation and it may that the figures for this month will show the expected decrease. The other theory is that the increase was due to undigested securities. Bond financing for the first half of 1930 has been the heaviest in years and it is quite possible dealers were obliged to carry securities on their shelves over the month end.

TORONTO PASTOR SPEAKS IN KEENE

Rev. W. H. Avison, Former Keene Boy, Conducts Anniversary Services.

RECALLS BOYHOOD

KEENE, July 9.—(Examiner Correspodence).—Rev. W. H. Avison of High Park United church, Toronto, conducted the anniversary services at Keene United church on Sunday

Rev. Mr. Avison is a former Keene boy who lived in the village about thirty-four years ago, during the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Liddy. He was welcomed by numbers of his friends who delighted to recall incidents of his boyhood.

In the morning the choir sang the anthems, "God Who Made Earth and Heaven", and "The Roseate Hues of Early Dawn", while Miss Bryce sang a solo, "God Hath Been Merciful To Me."

The speaker urged his congregation to have a sense of what is vital in life, not be petty, but to have the true vision that the only thing worth cultivating is the divinity which God has placed in our souls.

In the evening the choir sang, "At Even Ere the Sun Was Set" and "Saviour When Night Involves th Skies" and Miss Bryce and Mrs Eason sang "Face to Face."

The text was "Seek ye first the kingdom of God" when the reverend speaker exhorted his hearers to put first things first in their reading, in their homes and in their businesses. He showed himself a keen student of World affairs and a close observer of the tendencies in modern life which are undermining the influence of the church.

WEDDING BELLS

HALLIDAY—YOUNG.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MILLBROOK, July 8. — A wedding of local interest took place at St. John's Evangelical Church, Toronto, on July 1, when Williamina, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Young, Glasgow, Scotland, became the bride of Mr. James Halliday, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. James Halliday, of Bealon avenue, the event occurring on the 25th anniversary of the groom's parents.

Rev. William Stoddart, pastor of Bonar Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony, the bride, who was given away by her father's intimate friend, Mr. James Mair, Toronto, being exquisitely gowned in ivory georgette, with white silk lace, and veil, with coronet of orange blossoms, her bouquet being of cream and pink Ophela roses, lilies of the valley and baby's breath.

Miss Margaret Halliday, sister of the groom, was the bride's attendant, her dress being of pale pink georgette, with picture hat in a matching shade, and her flowers pink carnations, with snapdragon and maiden hair fern. The groom was supported by Mr. David Nichol; Miss Lilias Brown played the wedding march and during the signing of the register Miss Margaret Young, sister of the bride, sang.

Following the ceremony at the church, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Pucker, Leuty avenue, 60 guests being in attendance. A pleasing feature of the wedding dinner was the presentation of gifts to Mr. and Mrs. Halliday, Senior, by their family and friends, in recognition of their silver wedding anniversary. Later in the evening the bride and groom left on ther wedding trip to the United States —Mrs. Halliday travelling in an ensemble suit of poudre blue crepe de chine, with hat to match. On their return they will reside in Millbrook.

To increase congregational singing the Church of Ireland is holding a series of musical festivals in leading cities of the Irish Free State.

OBITUARY

CHARLES WALTER HICKS

(Examiner Correspondence.)

ROSENEATH, July 9. — The funeral of the late Charles Walter Hicks was held on Friday afternoon from the residence of his brother-in-law, Austin Lean, lot 10, concession 3, Alnwick Township. Mr. Hicks was 70 years of age, and unmarried.

The services at the house and the graveside were conducted by Rev. Mr. Bell of Hastings, who spoke from the words "If a man die shall he live again?" Speaking of the deceased who was a quiet man of noble character, and his reserved disposition, one would never know the depth of his religion. Rev. Mr. Bell mentioned of those who make gods of everything of their world's possessions, and make a big noise, that we cannot tell just how near anyone may be living in secret to our Lord Jesus Christ.

In the passing of Mr. Hicks he leaves to mourn one sister, Mrs. Austin Lean, who faithfully cared for her brother during his illness.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Robt. Hicks, George Greer, Clarence Thackeray, James Timlin, Edward George.

ROBERT ADAMSON

KEENE, July 9.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The funeral of the late Robert Adamson, whose death occurred recently, was one of the largest ever conducted in this neighborhood.

The late Mr. Adamson, although of a retiring nature, had the reputation of never refusing a request for help.

The pall bearers were five sons and one son-in-law.

Mrs. Harold Robb and Mr. Gardiner Adamson of Belcarres, Sask., arrived home for their father's funeral on Sunday afternoon.

Evangelist Meetings Held At Roseneath

ROSENEATH, July 9.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—The Campbellford district of the Free Methodist church are holding their annual camp meetings in the beautiful hardwood grove belonging to Albert Halstead, bordering on two of the main roads and easily accessible by auto from either.

Rev. Foreman Lincicome of Gary, Indiana, U.S.A., is the special speaker and noted evangelist at these meetings, assisted by Rev. F. A. Daw of Campbellford, Rev. S. B. Griffith, Warkworth and other speakers. Large crowds have been in attendance every afternoon and evening.

MINISTERS TOUR WEST

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 8 (C.P.) —On their way to Peace River and determined to see as much of Canada as possible en route, a party of nearly 200 Eastern Canadian ministers and adherents of the United Church in Canada, touring under direction of Dr. S. W. Fallis of Toronto, reached Vancouver yesterday.

INTERNATIONAL PAPER and POWER COMPANY

Owned, including subsidiaries, by 79,000 shareholders in Canada, Great Britain and the United States. The Company's securities are listed and traded in on the Montreal and New York Stock Exchanges.

EVEN balance between pulpwood resources and mill capacity is a fixed policy of International Paper and Power Company. New capacity is installed only when backed by timber resources sufficient to supply the mill in perpetuity.

International's forest conservation policy, equally important, is to utilize every means at the Company's command for greater efficiency in logging operations, including the employment of trained foresters responsible for the development and application of scientific measures insuring the maximum future crop.

In addition to co-operating with the various Canadian forest fire protective associations, International maintains its own fire protective system, perhaps the most extensive operation of its kind in effect by any private agency. Average expenditures of the Company in protecting its forest reserves are approximately $400,000 a year.

These policies, while involving large capital expenditure, interest and maintenance charges, insure the permanence of the Company's operations, guarantee the future requirements of its customers, protect the interests of its security holders, and safeguard the future of the communities relying upon the Company for regular employment.

What International Paper and Power Company is, who owns it, what are its policies and where and of what nature its undertakings, is being told in a series of advertisements, of which this is the fifth.

HARVEY COUNCIL HEARS APPEALS

Adjourned Court of Revision is Held by Township Council.

PERMIT TIMBER SALE

HALL'S BRIDGE, July 9 (Examiner Correspondence).—The Council of the township of Harvey met recently as the adjourned court of revision.

Charles McL. Oliver appealed against his assessment as being too high. The assessment was lowered $100. The clerk was instructed to assess all churches, schools and public buildings as in 1927 and place the assessment on the roll for 1930.

Following the court of revision, the regular meeting of the council was held. The clerk was instructed to write Mr. Parlour that the council would allow him to do his road work on the concession line under the supervision of the roadmaster.

Mr. Hall was authorized to sell the timber on the 15th concession opposite lots four and five. The following accounts were ordered to be paid: W. R. Thompson, $300; Richard Davis, $200; Robert Fawcett, $200; Rollie Stockdale, $200; Harry McIlmoyle, $300; A. Bolton, $210; Thomas Gordon, $200; H. Gwin, $200; J. Beatty, $200; William Moore, $200; Cecil Crowe, $200; Alex Tate, $400; W. Finlay, $24; W. R. Thompson, $28.70; W. R. ORANGE PARADE AT MILLBROOK

One Hundredth Anniversary of Founding of Order Observed By Lodges.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE.

MILLBROOK, July 9.—(Examiner Correspondence).— The one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Orange Order in Canada was observed by the Lodges of the district by attendance at divine worship, on Sunday, July 6, at 7.30 p.m., at St. Thomas' Anglican church, the annual parade leaving the L.O.L. Hall headed by the Durham Regimental Band, and marching to the place of service.

Brother W. W. Williamson acted as Director of Ceremonies, and the standard bearer, Brother George Thorne, bore the large flag up the church aisle after the choir and clergyman, during the processional hymn, "Unto the Hills Around"; it was then deposited in the chancel until the service closed, when it was again carried at the head of the parade back to the L.O.L. Hall. A number of other, smaller flags were used for decorative purposes along the centre aisle to the chancel.

The Order of Service, in printed form, was placed in all the pews, convenient for use, and the band, at the conclusion of the opening prayers, played the National Anthem. The sidesmen for the service were T. J. Lang and A. J. Fallis, and Miss M. L. Collins presided at the organ. Unfortunately the vocal solo which Mrs. W. McKee Bingham was to have contributed, had to be omitted owing to the absence of Mrs. Bingham at her summer home.

The sermon was preached by Rev. P. W. A. Roberts, clergyman in charge of the parish, who extended a warm welcome to the visiting Order, on behalf of himself and the officials of the church, expressing regret that the thorough renovation of the interior of the church now under way, and in the hands of a Toronto firm, made necessary the scaffolding everywhere in evidence as well as other unusual features, which, however, it was hoped would not interfere with the solemnity and helpfulness of the service.

Improved Lighting.

Mr. Roberts also gave some interesting information regarding the improved lighting system to be installed, the fixtures required being given by members of the congregation in memory of loved ones gone on before, an "In Memoriam" brass tablet to be inscribed with the names thus lovingly recalled, and placed on the rear wall of the church auditorium. Until the renovation scheme is completed service will be in the Sunday school hall, and through the summer months continuously at 7.30 p.m.

The text chosen, "Pursuing," from a clause in Judges viii., 4, formed the basis for a very fitting and inspiring discourse, peculiarly appropriate to the Orange Order, the minister stating that this single world would have proven suitable to engrave on Gideon's coat of arms, because it represented the manner of his life, had heraldic devices been in use at that time.

Commenting on the good generalship which Gideon had shown in getting rid of the "fearful and afraid" soldiers in his army, and dividing the three hundred into three companies leading up to a glorious victory for Israel, the speaker went on to point out that this keenness in pursuing an objective is a fine example to be followed today. "We live in perilous times today, and perseverance is not one of the outstanding virtues; we need to come out boldly and bravely on the side of God, and not stand on the side of the multitude where there is no God. Faint, Gideon and his band may have been, but they were always pursuing, standing steady and firm in the face of opposition, and of all their enemies."

Noting that the first to discourage Gideon were his own countrymen, and that some are always ready to prevent us in carrying out our ambitions, Mr. Roberts spoke of the biting scorn shown in the Bible toward those who are fearful, who sit still and look on while the battle rages, who do nothing at all to help Christ and His cause.

Going on to speak of the church of Christ being hampered in her great task for lack of workers, "to put it in agricultural phraseology, summer fallowing for lack of men to put in the crop", the minister mentioned in detail the symbols on the sashes worn by members of the Orange Order as all being connected with religious principles, "and furnishing a good reason for every Orangeman to be found active in church work." "No other institution is protesting, pursuing, or doing any work comparable to that of the church of Jesus Christ, and there is no provision whatever made for a lone Christian. Dare to carry on in the pursuit of righteousness; under our Great Leader there is no doubt as to the issue; opportunities for service were never greater than they are today, and if you shrink, and become faint-hearted, to you will be not the credit, but the shame."

The Durham Regimental Band gave a concert on the street in front of the Armouries after the service, and the usual votes of thanks were passed upon return to the Lodge rooms. The Lodges of the district expect to march in Lindsay, in the annual Orange Walk, on July Twelfth this year.

INSTITUTE PLANS COACHING CLASS

Mrs. L. Nixon Entertains Members at Regular Meeting of Roseneath Society.

ROSENEATH, July 9.— (Examiner Correspondence.)—Mrs. L. Nixon entertained a goodly attendance of ladies of the Woman's Institute on Thursday afternoon.

On motion it was decided to send a layette and other useful articles for infants to the Cobourg General Hospital. Mrs. John A. Nichol and Mrs. g. Crego are in charge of the committee.

Miss Hopkins of the Department of Agriculture will be in the town hall to organize and instruct a coaching class, on Tuesday, July 15th, at 10 a.m. and from 1.30 p.m. All members or anyone interested is cordially invited to attend this class.

Mrs. Lily Turner and Mrs. Marcena Davey were a volunteer committee for the August program.

Mrs. Delbert Brisbin gave an excellent paper on 'Why I am glad I live in Ontario," bringing out the many beautiful sceneries ,also the trade and commerce, climate and a great many other points, that no doubt the discontented person will now realize there is no place on all the earth any greater than Ontario.

Mrs. Bart Thackeray read a very favorable report from the district annual convention held at Harwood in June.

The president then had the roll call, each one answering by asking a question, some were humorous and all were very interesting.

Miss Charlotte Crow of Alderville, was present and favored the gathering with an instrumental selection.

A vote of thanks to the hostess and singing God Save the King brought the meeting to a close.

Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Nixon and her daughters after which the ladies heard a real treat from Miss Crowe when she played several instrumental pieces and also sang in English and then in Indian, "Rock of Ages."

After a half hour or more of entertainment by Miss Crowe the crowd dispersed to their numerous homes.

Deaf Hear Again Through New Aid

Earpiece No Bigger Than Dime Wins Enthusiastic Following Ten-Day Free Trial Offer

After twenty-five years devoted exclusively to the manufacture of scientific hearing-aids, the Canadian Acousticon Ltd., Dept. 173C, 45 Richmond St. West, Toronto, Ont., has just perfected a new model Acousticon that represents the greatest advance yet made in the re-creation of hearing for the deaf. This latest Acousticon is featured by a tiny earpiece no bigger than a dime. Through this device, sounds are clearly and distinctly transmitted to subnormal ears with wonderful benefit to hearing and health alike. The makers offer an absolutely free trial for 10 days to any one person who may be interested, and a letter will bring one of these remarkable aids to your home for a thorough and convincing test. Send them your name and address today!

DEYELL FAMILY HOLDS REUNION; CAVAN PIONEERS

Over 100 Descendants of Late John Deyell Gather at Wallace's Point.

PLANNING MEMORIAL

Brief Review of the Pioneer Days of Deceased is Read at Banquet.

More than one hundred descendants of the late John Deyell and his wife, Margaret Lancashire, pioneer settlers of Cavan Township, gathered at Wallace's Point recently for the second annual re-union. Many of the Deyell clan were prevented from attending, otherwise the gathering would have been much larger.

A memorial to the memory of the Deyell pioneers was suggested at the re-union last year, and the president of the descendants, Robert Deyell, of South Monaghan, reported that considerable progress had been made on this plan. All present expressed the belief that this laudable effort should be brought to a successful conclusion during this year.

All the business of the clan was discussed around the great banquet table at the conclusion of dinner.

Nephew Honored Guest

The honored guest of the afternoon was Robert Deyell of Port Hope, a grand nephew of the late John Deyell. He recalled some of the highly interesting highlights of life in the early days.

J. W. Deyell, of Lindsay, and H. Deyell, of Omemee, also spoke briefly, and three Deyell brothers of Reaboro, John Robert and Wesley contributed old time vocal selection with violin accompaniment.

Miss Esther Deyell, of South Monaghan, read the following brief review of the pioneer days of the Deyell grandparents:

An Irish Immigrant

John Deyell, who came from County Monaghan, Ireland, in 1816 and settled on a farm less than one-half mile south of the village now known as Centerville on the Provincial Highway, was one of the pioneer settlers of Cavan Township. This, however, was not Mr. Deyell's first visit to Canada, as he was a veteran of the War of 1812-14. Two years later with his wife, Margaret Lancashire, and two sons, he returned to the New World and took up land in Cavan Township.

The task of the pioneer was one of danger and hardship. With the crudest of implements he hewed for himself and his family a home in the virgin forest.

Helped to Make First Survey

Mr. Deyell assisted a Mr. Wilmot in making the first survey of these townships and to him was given the honor of naming them. Though his intention was that the one now known as Cavan should have been Monaghan after the county in Ireland from which he came, somehow the names were reversed and when registration was made Mr. Deyell's land was recorded as being in Cavan Township.

Although the first mill for grinding corn was owned by a Mr. Thorne, John Deyell, who had for years carried his grist upon his back through the woods to Smith's Creek, now Port Hope, to be ground, erected the first grist and saw-mill in the township. From this little mill on the brook, the present village of Millbrook was named. Later on the same site, Needler's large flour mill was erected. To-day the chopping mill and grist mill owned by Attwool and Sheppard is operated there. The first millstone was a common field boulder dressed for the purpose by a stone-cutter.

The first school-house in the township for which Mr. Deyell granted a half acre of land was built on his farm. He also gave the land which is to-day the site of the Presbyterian Church and Cemetery at Centreville.

Erected First Lodging House

The first hostelry or lodging-house in the township was built by Mr. Deyell on his farm. For nineteen years there hung out in front of it a sign bearing the words, "Live and Let Live,"—a motto which the pioneer had brought from Ireland and which he consistently reflected in his life and conduct.

This motto is the key to the character of the old pioneer. He was a man of strong convictions and rigid principles. The outstanding traits of his character are to be found reflected in many of his descendants. He died in 1887 in his one hundred and fourth year. A marble tablet marks his resting place in the cemetery at Centreville. His family consisted of nine children: five sons and four daughters. They were Robert, William, Samuel, John, Thomas, Margaret, Eliza, Esther, and Mary Jane. The daughters' married names were, respectively, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Hutchinson, Mrs. Ryan (later Mrs. Barrie) and Mrs. Lancashire.

These settled in different parts of the country and were pioneers in most of the districts in which they settled. They made invaluable contributions to the improvement of this country. They were leaders in the thought-life of their communities.

Dr. John Deyell

Through the influence of John Deyell, a young doctor came to Canada, a nephew and namesake in the person of John Deyell, M.D., who practised in Bloomfield, now Bailieboro.

Dr. Deyell was well and favorably known by the early settlers of the community. He died during a cholera epidemic at the age of 35, leaving a wife and three children. His remains now rest in the family pot marked a monument in the cemetery at Centreville, where later the remains of his wife, Elizabeth Hooey, were also laid.

Robert Deyell of Port Hope is the only surviving member of this family. He studied medicine and became a druggist. For forty years Deyell's drug store was well known in that district. Having retired from business some twenty years ago, he is to-day in his 81st year—active and pleased to be present. Mr. and Mrs. Deyell have a home in Port Hope but spend part of the time with their family, who are business men in the city of Toronto.

John Deyell, who in his later years had acquired some land across the Otonabee River, was also among the men who succeeded in getting a bridge—a wooden structure—known as Hale's Bridge, built across the river. Many interesting tales could be told of the days when they had to swim the horses and cattle across the stream and the building of this bridge was an important factor in the development of the country.

Many other interesting facts might be told concerning this pioneer, but time will not permit.

The descendants of John Deyell and his wife, Margaret Lancashire, met last year in a family re-union. At that meeting it was decided to hold an annual re-union in order that the family name might long be honored and remembered.

Nothing else Like it!

snap! pop!

No OTHER cereal so crisp. Rice Krispies actually crackle out loud in milk or cream. Children are crazy about them.

And such flavor! The taste of toasted rice. A different treat for breakfast. Wonderful for the kiddies' lunch. So wholesome and easy to digest. Rice Krispies are handy to use in recipes. Take the place of nut meats. At grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

STRAWBERRY SOCIAL IS HUGE SUCCESS

Affair Held Under Auspices of Carmel United Church on Farm of George Paterson.

MILLBROOK, July 9.—(Examiner Correspondence).— Mr. and Mrs. George Paterson generouly extended the hospitality of their comfortable farm homstead, and large grounds, for the strawberry festival held on Friday evening, July 4, under the auspices of the Carmel United church.

The attendance was good considering the fact that every night in the week there were one, and sometimes, two similar gatherings, with the week ahead promising the same conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. Paterson, with their daughters, Misses Jean, Margaret and Edyth, and their son, Will, gave the guests cordial welcome, and there was a small army of assistants serving at the tables, which were laid on the lawn in front of the house, and abundantly supplied with good things to eat. The booth, which apparently did a steady business, was also on the lawn near the tea tables.

Rev. W. W. Jones, B.D., to whose charge the Carmel church belongs acted as chairman for the program which followed the ball game in an adjoining field, the verandah serving as platform, and looking very attractive with its rows of lighted Chinese lanterns, seats for the audience being conveniently located in front.

Among the items on the program were an opening period of community singing, led by Mr. Church of St. James' United Church, Peterborough, and a formal vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Paterson for their generous hospitality, moved by Mr. Geo. Olan, seconded by Mr. D. Olan, and carried unanimously with prolonged applause. Mr. Paterson, on behalf of his wife and family, and himself, replied briefly.

A reading, "The Classical Preacher," by Mr. G. Paterson was much enjoyed, as was also the vocal solo, "Love's Old Sweet Song," by Mr. Church, Miss Estelle Hetherington being the accompanist; as a recall Mr. Church sang very effectively, "The Old Rugged Cross". A violin selection by Mr. Simpson, with Mr. Beggs at the organ, was a popular number with an encore demanded, and Mr. Beggs contributed a vocal solo, "In A Garden", with "Louisiana Moon" in response to the insistent applause. Mrs. Paterson's reading, "The Christening," called forth hearty laughter as the story was unfolded, and the gathering was brought to a close with the National Anthem.

District Churches

MILLBROOK UNITED CHURCH

MILLBROOK, July 9.—(Examiner Correspondence). — There were a large number of communicants for the observance of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper at St. Andrew's United church, on Sunday morning, July 6, a reception service preceding the sermon, when the pastor, Rev. W. W. Jones, B.D., assisted by the elders, received five adults transferred by letter from church homes in former places of residence, and one on profession of faith, who was enrolled on the church register for the first time.

A solo, "Shepherd of the Flock", by Miss Margaret Lang, of Toronto, who is visiting in town, took the place of the usual anthem and was much enjoyed. The sermon was considerably shortened in length because of the sacrament service to follow, the pastor choosing his text from Genesis 48:11, where Jacob, in giving his last blessing to Joseph's sons, says: "I had not thought to see thy face, and, lo, God hath showed me also thy seed," the subject being, "Unexpected good in the life of faith."

For the first time since coming to his present pastorate Mr. Jones declared he was presenting a message especially to the senior members of the congregation stating that there are times when the sun of life is dipping low that folk are inclined to think, with Jacob, that life has been ill to them, and there has been a combined conspiracy to bring down their gray hairs in sorrow to the grave.

Picturing the beautiful scene when Jacob, now at the sunset time, was bestowing his blessing on Ephraim and Menassah, and pointing out that there was no tribe of Israel after Joseph—'he was lost in the blessing of his sons'—the minister went on to speak of the many scenes likely to be recalled to the patriarch's mind, and how he would see that God's presence was with him when it was neither expected nor deserved, and that His mercies had been ever unfailing.

As Jacob chose a song of praise to conclude his life in faith, it was emphasized that the sin of today is that of ingratitude. "Are you in rebellion because of life's experiences? Do you, like mistaken Jacob, declare 'all these things are against me?' Remember your life is still incomplete, and you do not yet know the full circle; some day you will see it differently, all these causes of complaint and bitterness will disappear, and like the apostles you will be 'filled with joy and the Holy Spirit'."

"Be patient; wait upon God, and He will change the wilderness into His promised land; doors of hope will be opened into the experiences of the Christian faith which God has expressly designed for His people; you will know gardens of abundant fruitage and fragrance."

From the four appointments of the circuit members were present to join together in fellowship at the Lord's table.

MRS. C. GARSIDE IS PLEASING HOSTESS

Ladies' Association of Saint Andrew's United Church Holds Regular Meeting.

MILLBROOK, July 9 (Examiner Correspondence).— Mrs. C. C. Garside, president of the Ladies' Association of St. Andrew's United church, was hostess to the organization for its July meeting, a large number being in attendance for the summer gathering, the wide verandah and well-shaded lawn being utilized for the out-of-doors occasion.

Flags, flowering plants, and shrubs and baskets of summer blossoms made an attractive setting for the meeting, the president taking the chair and Mrs. Hilliard Lang reading the Scripture lesson. Reports on the new locks put on the cupboards in the church kitchen were made by Mrs. Garside and the bills for these and other improvements, were ordered paid.

A request from the Fallis Line church for help with the baking for its lawn social, to be held on Monday, July 7, at Mr. Austin Sutton's, was acceded to, those present being canvassed for assistance, and the loan of dishes and cutlery belonging to the Association, being assured.

On motion, it was decided to hold the annual fowl supper in October again this year, the date, program, and other details to be settled later.

Following dismissal with prayer, a social time was enjoyed with a brief program as one of its pleasing features, the items including: Piano duet, by Misses Beatrice and Francis Jones; vocal solos by Miss Margaret Lang of Toronto, "For You" and "In the Garden" as encore; a reading, "Me Raise Canadians", by Miss Jean L. Burnham; piano solo by Miss Estelle Hetherington; and a vocal duet, "There's Four in Our Family", by Misses Phyllis Kidd and Francis Jones.

Daintily-laid tea tables on the lawn and verandah were used for the afternoon tea which was served at the program's conclusion, among those assisting the hostess being Mrs. G. E. Burnham, Mrs. J. McKnight, Mrs. A. J. Henderson and Mrs. J. Albert Brown.

Some of the older members of the Ladies' Association who were present on Friday, and specially welcomed to the gathering, were Mrs. I. E. Needham, Mrs. (Dr.) E. L. Burnham, and Mrs. W. G. Pendrie.

The hostess was given a hearty vote of thanks for her hospitality before the guests dispersed for their several homes.

WARSAW HEARS NEW MINISTER

Rev. Mr. Wilkinson Gives His First Sermon in the United Church.

"GOD'S HAND EVERYWHERE"

WARSAW, July 9 (Examiner Correspondence)—Rev. Mr. Wilkinson preached his first sermon to the congregation of Warsaw United Church on Sunday, when he took his text from 1 Cor. 3, the last three verses, "All things are yours, whether Paul or Appolos or Cephas, or life or death, or things present or things to come. All are yours and ye are Christ's and Christ is God's."

Rev. Mr. Wilkinson was one of the first three in the Bay of Quinte Conference to take the cows of the United Church.

The speaker spoke of the text as made wonderful and beautiful words, giving Christians possessions, socially, morally, financially, mentally and spiritually. These wonderful thoughts should aid in Christian living. "If we look out on the beauties all round us, we will see God's hand is everywhere. Christ can be with each of us always as he was with the disciples on the road to Emmaus.

Life More Than Habit

"Life is more than habit. Success in one's profession does not depend on ourselves. A man may have lots of capital, he seems sure to succeed, but fails. Why? We are here to be shaped into live better characters as the potter shapes the clay.

"We find in Jesus a life of sorrow, a man Who gave His life a ransom for many. Christianity makes life larger and freer. Many fail to catalogue death and fear it. There are many things worse than death. It is what we must pass through to enter eternal life. It shows us the great light and Jesus may reign only when the light is seen. Many have not grasped the spirit of Jesus Christ and are just drifting. Life after death is the fuller life and Jesus has power to overcome death. He has taken away the fear and dread of it by His resurrection.

"Only God knows what is to come, but whatever comes, we are Christ and Christ is ours."

ORANGEMEN HEAR GOOD ADDRESSES

L. O. L. No. 1133 Hazards Attends Divine Service in Queensboro United Church.

QUEENSBORO, July 9.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The members of L.O.L. No. 1133, Hazards, attended divine service in the United church on Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. There was a good attendance. The address was given by Rev. P. Gatley Reynolds, of Madoc. The hymns used were, "Oh God Our Help in Ages Past," "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" and "Fight the Good Fight." The lesson was read from the first chapter of James. Mrs. Reynolds took "Liberty" as his subject and went on to explain that true liberty was concerned with man's relation to man guided by the truth of God. The speaker spoke of the three colors in the Union Jack and urged his hearers to live true white lives. The choir sang, "Unto the Hills Around." Visitors were present from Madoc, Springbrook and Eldorado.

Ladies' Aid Meets.

The July meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the United church was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter Tokley with an attendance of twenty-seven. The president, Mrs. Fred Rollins, occupied the chair. A letter in reply to a message of condolence sent Mrs. C. B. Hamm upon the sudden death of her husband was read. Mrs. Fred Rollins and Mrs. John O'Rourke were appointed to see about purchasing some things for the parsonage and arrange for some decorating. The August meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Sager. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Tokley.

Miss Irene Perras of Montreal is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Giroux, Stewart Street, and will act as bridesmaid at the wedding of Miss Florence Giroux and Mr. Edward Riley, which takes place in St. Peter's Cathedral at eight o'clock to-morrow morning.

Miss G. Hyndman, who has been the popular superintendent of the Canadian Chautauqua series this season, left to-day for Brownsburg, Quebec, to manage another Chautauqua series there. Two series are running in Quebec this year, for the first time in the history of Canadian Chautauqua, which, originally a product of the West of the Dominion, branched out into Ontario for the first time last year. The second Quebec series is superintended by Miss Mary Winspear, who was in Peterborough with Chautauqua last season. It is understood that the Canadian Chautauqua will be in Peterborough again next summer. The popularity of this form of hot-weather entertainment seems to be increasing through the years.

The guests were received by Miss Giroux and her mother, Mrs. J. H. Giroux, and Miss Eileen McBabe ushered them to the tea-room and to the upper rooms, where the trousseau and gifts were on view. These were shown by Mrs. J. F. O'Brien and Mrs. L. A. Picard of Lansing, Michigan (formerly Miss Erneseline McManus). The reception rooms were arranged very attractively with quantities of flowers: pink roses, gallardia, bronze umbel lilies, sweet william, delphinium, Canterbury bells and gypsophila. In the tea-room, the table was charming with a cloth of Chinese lace centered by a large silver basket filled with pale pink Dorothy Perkins roses. The same delicate flowers were in specimen silver bud vases and there were pink candles in silver holders garnished with bows of pink tulle. Pink and white candles were in little baskets of crinkly pink paper. Tea was poured by Mrs. Myles Henry, assisted by Mrs. J. A. Stewart, Mrs. J. J. Southern and Mrs. Cecil Wolff.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

DON'T NEGLECT JAUNDICE.

You have seen an individual with jaundice, that yellow tinging of the skin, and perhaps have wondered what caused this condition.

As a matter of fact there are a number of conditions that may exist. 1st. Something may be pressing on the little tubes that carry the bile away from the liver and gall bladder and so the bile is forced back into the liver, is carried away by the blood and of course goes to all parts of the body, including the skin. This may be caused by gall stones, or by a growth.

2nd. Some infection gets into the blood, and of course goes almost directly to the liver where it inflames the liver cells. One of the jobs done by these liver cells is to take the yellow coloring matter made up from broken down blood cells, and use it to form bile. If however, the liver cells are inflamed by an infection or poison entering the blood they cannot do this work properly, and so this yellow coloring matter remains in the blood and of course tinges everything yellow including the skin. 3rd. Certain other types of infection attack the blood and destroy so many red blood corpuscles, that there is too much broken down substance in the blood for the liver to handle, even if the liver cells themselves are healthy.

Dr. Wm. Magner, Toronto, advises that where there is jaundice, it is well to remember that in the majority of cases it is due to some infection in the system, and the treatment is the same as in any other infection-rest.

Diet is most important, and means that meats and fats, must be cut down, and the starches and sugars increased. In fact sugar is most essential. Plenty of liquids must also be used.

Where the X-ray or dye test meals shows that a stone or growth is present it means operation, although not usually an immediate operation.

The jaundice due to destruction of the blood itself also involves an operation, but upon the spleen, not the liver.

Don't neglect an attack of jaundice, even if you have no pain, no nausea, or no colic.

Get to bed, send for your doctor, and treat the condition as you would any infection.

It may not be of a serious nature, but it is a sign that all is not right, and its causes hould be investigated.

NEW PAVING WILL COST $2.94 PER SQUARE YARD

Price is Three Cents a Yard Cheaper Than Work Now Being Done in Peterborough

The estimated cost of the paving of a section of Armour Road and Park Hill Road, which passed through the City Council on Monday night by a majority of one, is placed at $31,000 by City Engineer, Parsons. In error it was stated in yesterday's Examiner that this was at the rate of $3.94 per square yard. The correct price as submitted by the Warren Paving Company is $2.94 per square yard, which is three cents a yard cheaper than the present work being done by the company on George and Charlotte streets.

Relatives and Home of Six-Year-Old Lad Missing in Kapuskasing Bush

Hundreds of volunteer searchers are combing the country near Kapuskasing in search of six-year-old Victor Gareau, who has now been missing a week. It is believed that the child's extreme timidity has prompted him to hide from searchers making their task the more difficult. Here are shown: (1) Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gareau, parents of missing child. (2) Lumina and David Gareau, young sister and brother of the missing child, and (3) view of Gareau home-stead near Kapuskasing.

CHURCH SOCIAL IS BIG SUCCESS

Sacred Heart Parish Has Good Crowd at Its Annual Social.

GROUNDS DECORATED.

The parish of the Sacred Heart Church, which achieved a reputation years ago for always having a very successful parish social during the summer months, added another successful entry to the credit side of the ledger last night when their 1930 social and supper, the twentieth in the history of the parish, was held on the grounds adjoining the church with a very good crowd of people in attendance, during the evening hours and for the excellent meal which was served from five to eight o'clock from tables covered with white cloths and arranged with pretty vases of flowers.

Men and women of the parish, young and old alike, worked hard and energetically to maintain the successful tradition of this social event of the parish life. They were in charge of the various booths, decorated with colored paper, flags and pennants. The grounds were bright with strings of electric lights that crossed overhead and evening was made very pleasant by the splendid music provided by the band of the Peterborough Rangers.

These were the usual entertainment centres that had a well-sustained patronage throughout the evening. The auction sale of fancy articles was, as usual a drawing card for the crowd, as was the fish pond, which always provides a mecca for the juniors. There were booths for the sale of ice cream, candy, soft drinks and tobacco, while fancy articles and novelties were to be had as well as children's clothing and useful articles for the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Marsh of Montreal, spent a few days recently with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Owen.

Miss Opal Hawkey, has returned to Toronto after spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hawkey.

Miss Lillian Richards, of Toronto, is visiting Mrs. J. N. Richards.

Dr. C. C. Armstrong, Mrs. Armstrong and Alex visited his sister, Mrs. W. Gerow Castleton, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Smale and children of Detroit, Mich., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Smale.

INSTITUTE MEETING

Cooper and Remington, Women's Institute held their June meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank Parks, with an attendance of thirty-four. Roll call was responded to by "A salad recipe". It was decided to give $2.25 to each of schools No. 5 and 6, as 1st, 2nd and 3rd prizes to the pupils for punctuality, attendance and best work.

Clothes were donated for the shelter at Belleville.

Mrs. Geo. Harris gave an excellent paper on "The Things that Money Cannot Buy."

Mrs. Fred Holmes gave a reading on Educational work and a splendid report of the springbrook convention was given by Mrs. C. Bud.

The National Anthem was followed by a social half hour.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

MANY of you readers no doubt read an article in The Examiner a few nights ago telling of a child being knocked down by an automobile, having darted out onto the road in the path of the oncoming vehicle.

• • • • • • •

It is being impressed upon us more and more than parents will have to be constantly alert to keep their children off the roads, especially where there is heavy traffic.

• • • • • • •

The number of deaths caused by autos during the last year is simply appalling. Reckless driving has become a menace.

• • • • • • •

Something assuredly will have to be done and you can do your part by being just as cautious as you possibly can. Careful supervision of children's boundaries in home playground areas must be followed.

• • • • • • •

In many instances we find that children are reckless. But even if they are, it does not prevent the dangers to which they are exposed and to which they expose themselves.

• • • • • • •

It is for the older ones to impress upon the little folks, the possibilities of terrible accidents that may happen on thoroughfares frequented by automobiles.

• • • • • • •

And unless the children are sufficiently impressed, parents will need to take more stringent methods to keep them within bounds, such as watching them closely and keeping them within a fenced off area.

• • • • • • •

One might even have to resort to that old-fashioned method of tying them under a tree.

• • • • • • •

But then accidents often happen when the child is on an errand or out walking, so to speak to them is much better.

• • • • • • •

It must be remembered that motorists are distressed by the liability of accidents that children playing and running back and forth on the street put upon them. Some motorists, of course, are more distressed than others.

• • • • • • •

Very, very often a child has been killed or perhaps severely injured through no fault whatever of the person driving the car, but because a heedless youngster has run directly in front of a car.

• • • • • • •

Not even having excellent brakes could have prevented the dire disaster.

• • • • • • •

Parents can spare themselves and motorists needless worry through taking proper precautions to keep their children off roadways. They can help cut down death and casualty lists somewhat in these ways.

• • • • • • •

Those who make the laws of the country are tryng to do their part, as are those whose business it is to enforce the laws, so let us—parents, brothers, sisters—all do our part.

EXAMINER'S WORK SHOWN IN WINDOW

Splendid Display of Catalogues and Booklets Shown in Window.

An Elizabethan galleon, its sails set to ocean breezes, rides on the crest of a wave. Near it is an old English stage coach that might well have served for a model for those coaches of Pickwickian times that used to call at the Boar's Head and other famous inns. The jolly men with scarlet coats who are mounting its steps resemble strongly the old-time Dickens illustrations and they look as if they had just finished a fine dinner of roast beef washed down with English ale. Even the post boys astride the horses have a well fed, English-dinner look.

Then there is a fat porker companioned by a thoughtful cow, a pair of scarlet fighting cocks with reared heads and wicked spurs, and a red-skinned Indian with breech cloth and feathered crest.

They may be met, along with other specimens of up to date printers' art, in the south window of The Examiner offices, where specimens are on view illustrative of the word of Commercial and Creative Departments of The Examiner Printing Company.

They are used to illustrate the various brochures and booklets and advertising printed matter that The Examiner turns out in large quantities, and they represent the varied tastes of the purchasers and the skill and craftsmanship of these departments.

They come in two, three and four color designs, as well as in water color and oil inks. The stagecoach example, for instance, is developed in four colors and its brilliant crimsons and black stand out in relief against the cream of the background. There are soft browns, like the head of the peaceful Quaker, Benjamin Franklin, that makes a full-face adornment for one cover; warm blues, in the picture of a pleasant motor-boat chugging over rippling waves; cosy trios of tints, like the blue, garnet and grey of another cover, and plain but attractive specimens, in the warm yellow of the Fair prize list and the green, cream and gold combination used for the booklet descriptive of Canada's Diamond Jubilee Celebration.

CHICAGO TOURIST IN COURT.

ORILLIA, Ont., July 9 (Canadian Press). — J. L. Younghusband Chicago, one of the leading members of the local summer colony, has been served with summonses charging him with assault and obstructing a railway employee.

The charge was preferred in connection with an attack upon Watson Walton, Canadian National Railways gateman last Saturday night.

According to Walton he was attacked by a motorist who tried to cross the railway tracks after the gates were down.

U. S. APPLES PROHIBITED.

TORONTO, July 9. (C.P.) — A. M. Wiseman, British Trade Commissioner for Canada in Ontario, has received official information from the British government of an order just issued prohibiting the importation of raw apples from the United States into the United Kingdom between July 7 and Nov. 15.

WOULD HONOR GREAT POETESS

John Nelson Suggests Memorial to Late Isabel Valancy Crawford.

BORN IN PAISLEY

The establishment of some form of memorial in honor of Paisley's poetess Isabel Valancy Crawford is suggested in a letter to the Paisley Advocate. The writer, John Nelson, is one of the old boys who retains a deep interest in his former community. He is now chief of publicity staff Sun Life Assurance Co., at Montreal.

The idea of holding an old-boys' re-union in Paisley has often been spoken of, but so far no organized effort has been made towards doing so.

When the spring of 1931 arrives the 80th year since the arrival of the first white man to settle on the site of that village will be ushered in, and it seems to be the general opinion that the summer should not be allowed to pass, without having an Old Boys' Re-union to mark that period of the community's history.

Referring to an article which appeared in the Advocate on Isabel Valancy Crawford recently, Mr. Nelson says, "It has long seemed regretable that Paisley has never taken steps to identify the life of this gifted woman with the place where most impressionable and formative years of her life were spent. I had reached manhood and left Paisley before I learned (from the late Ainslie Megraw) of her residence there, and I well remember what an access of pride I had from the fact that the birthplace of so many of us had been honored by sheltering for eight years the rare spirit which later immoralized the woods of Greenock and Elderslie in "Malcolms Katie." My information is that Dr. Crawford lived in the brick house once occupied by Mr. Grant, and later by the family of the late Neil McKechnie. A bronze tablet there should constantly recall to all and especially to the rising generation that it was Isabella Valancy Crawford's home. Driving from Peterborough to Port Hope last summer, I saw a similar tablet marking the birthplace of the author of one of the simple hymns which we have at all times sung.

SWEET SISTER

Donald was howling murder. Sister was sitting at the end of the table shelling peas. Mother was beating eggs for the dessert, her lips set and a frown on her brow. Now and then she would turn torwad Donald and say, "Keep out of this room. Don't come in here until you can come quietly. You are a very bad boy."

Donald would retreat, howl viciously a few times and then make a charge toward sister sitting so sweetly shelling the peas. Again his mother would warn him sternly, "Keep out of this room."

"What's the trouble," asked Aunt Mittie who liked Donald a whole lot and had suspicions of Sister.

"Don is being very bad. I'm being good. Mother likes me because I'm good," and she smirked across her shoulder at the raging Don.

"I want to shell the peas. I will shell the peas," roared the frantic child.

"No, Don, you cannot shell the peas because you are being a bad little boy. I'm a good little girl so I can held mother'

Mother glanced uneasily at the good little daughter and back once more toward the naughty Donald. "Sister, let him alone. He is quite bad enoug without making him worse." she said. "Now, Don, you cannot come into this room until you behave yourself. It is not your turn to shell the peas. And you are very naughty to make such a time about it."

"It is my turn. It is my turn. Sister knows it is my turn."

"Never mind, Don. You come along with me and I'll show you something you never saw before in all your life. It's brown and black and it climbs and and—oh, it does lots of things. Just you come along and see."

Donald swallowed a sob and clutched Aunt Mittie's hand. Immediately Sister climbed down from her perch and called out "Wait for me. I'm coming Aunt Mittie. Don'd show it to him without me. Mother, make them wait, mother can't they, mother will you—"

In her haste to get the center of things once more for her own, Sister could not get her words out fast enough. Mother looked at her thoughtfully as though she had never quite seen her before. Then she said very steadily, "No, Sister, you stay where you are and finish shelling your peas."

Now it was Sister's turn to howl an she did it with right good will. "I want to see. Aunt Mittie is mean. I'm good and Don is as bad as he can be. Mother make her."

But mother was deaf. She beat the eggs and held Sister to her chosen task. Aunt Mittie showed Don the new kitten and soon had him smiling again. "Let's show Sister, too," said he.

"Yes," said Aunt Mittie. "By and by when she finishes her work she will be out and then we'll show her the kitty. It would be too bad to interrupt her just now, I think. What shall we call the Kitty, do you think?

Look out for sweet Sister.

Toronto Cuts Orioles Loop Lead to Half a Game

LEAFS SCORE ONE RUN IN 10TH FRAME TO BEAT BALTIMORE 3-2

Cote Comes Through With Winning Counter on Single From Rabbit.

WINGS MAINTAIN LEAD.

Another defeat at Toronto has cut Baltimore's lead in the International League to half a game and lifted Toronto within two and one-half games of the top.

A great pitcher's battle between Guy Cantrell and Foster Edwards yesterday saw Edwards weaken enough in the tenth inning to permit Toronto to score one run and win the game 3-2. It was the Maple Leafs' eleventh victory over Baltimore in sixteen games so far this season.

Edwards was in sensational form through a greater part of the game. He did not permit a hit until the sixth. Going into the ninth Toronto was leading 2 to 1. Cantrell thereupon developed a wild streak. With one down, he walked McGowan and Sand and McMullen then drove McGowan across the plate with the tying run.

In the tenth, Sheedy beat out a hit and went to third on Cote's double. After Phillips had been intentionally passed, Ruble batted for Cantrell and forced Sheedy at the plate. Rabbit came through with a single on which Cote scored with the winning run.

Rochester maintained its two game lead over third place Toronto and advanced to within half a game of the leading Orioles by trouncing Newark 12-3. The Redwings battered Faulkner off the mound in the third inning and pummelled Harvin until the seventh when Chambers stepped in and held Rochester hitless and runless through the last two innings. Anderson and Worthington led the attack for the Redwings, the farmer getting four hits and the latter three. Rip Collins conencted with his 21st homer in the fifth with one on.

The Montreal Royals bunched hits off Moore in the third to score four innings and then coasted in to a 7-1 victory. Griffin went the route for the Royals and held Jersey City safely in hand although he was touched for nine hits. Henry Royal first baseman, collected four singles for a perfect day at bat.

In another night game at Buffalo, the Bisons beat our Reading in a wild game, 14 to 12. Ten pitchers saw service during the long drawn out battle, five for each team. Buffalo piled up 16 safe hits, but failed to rally for three runs in the seventh to win the game after Reading had gone into a two-run lead with six tallies in its half of that frame. Fussell of Buffalo and Greene of Reading, the two final hurlers, stopped the heavy slugging after eight others had failed.

NINTH STRAIGHT FOR SENATORS

Athletics Lose Half a Game By Dividing Double-header With Yankees.

HOMER FOR MANUSH.

Washington continued to lead the American League parade with its ninth staight victory. The Senators, already in first place by several percentage points, beat out the Boston Red Sox 6 to 5, and finally gained a tie with the Athletics for the top where games are concerned. The world's champions lost a half game by dividing their double header with the New York Yankees.

Fred Marberry won his fifth game in Washington's streak of 17 victories in 18 games. Heinie Manush aided him with a homer that produced the deciding runs. George Walberg proved his sore arm something of a myth against the Yankees in the first game, holding them to three hits for a 4 to 0 triumph. Red Ruffing kept pace with him for the last 8 1-3 innings after the Athletics had driven Henry Johnson to cover. The second contest was something of a slugging match with George Pipgras outlasting four Athletic hurlers for a 9 to 4 victory.

Chicago's White Sox rose a notch in the American League standing, going from seventh place to sixth, as Ted Lyons gave them a 3 to 2 victory over Detroit, while the St. Louis Browns were taking a 12 to 6 beating at the hands of the Cleveland Indians. Lyons not only pitched effectively against Detroit but drove in two of the runs with a triple in the second inning. The Indians showed a considerable recovery from their slump by hammering three Brownie pitchers for 14 hits, including two homers, while young Mel Harder pitched with sufficient effectiveness to score his seventh victory of the year.

MARANVILLE STARS AS BRAVES TAKE ROBINS INTO FOLD 4-1

Softball Notes.

Tonight at Central School grounds Brinton Carpet and C.G.E. will be opponents. Both teams are anxious to get in top position in the second half and will be out there battling for a win. The game will start at 6.30 sharp.

Thursday night brings the Sugar Bowl and Belmont Club teams together. Sugar Bowl will be out to make it nine in a row, while Belmonts need a win to get in the second half running. This should be a red hot fixture.

WHIRLWIND WINS YACHT CUP TEST

Weetamoe Wins From Enterprise in Other Match Race.

NEWPORT, R.I., July 9.—Whirlwind stepped out and beat the Yankee yesterday scoring her first victory since she entered competition with the other three candidates for the honor of defending the America's cup.

In the other match race of the day Weetamoe slipped across the line only 26 seconds ahead of Enterprise, thus taking her second straight race in the present official observation series which opened Monday.

Whirlwind's victory came as a surprise, although it was not quite as convincing as her lead of more than seven minutes at the finish line would indicate.

Both Whirlwind and Yankee delayed in getting over the starting line, while Charles Francis Adams, Secretary of the Navy, battled for and won the weather berth for Yankee. He took the Boston boat over the line first, and immediately started to widen out a comfortable lead.

A combined bank and hat manufacturing company in Brazil failed recently with liabilities totalling $1,000,000.

Makes Two Hits, Scores Once and Handles Eight Fielding Chances.

CUT BROOKLYN LEAD.

One of several good reasons why the Boston Braves are still in the thick of the National league battle is to be found in 150-odd pounds of unadulterated shortstop bearing the imposing name of Walter James Vincent Maranville, otherwise known as "Rabbit". This little baseball ancient, who has spent 18 of his 37 summers playing major league ball, is having one of the best seasons of his long career.

When the "Rabbit" was one of the main cogs of Boston's amazing team of 1914, his batting average was only .246 and his mark for his 18 major league years is .262, but this season he is hitting above the .300 mark and is fielding right along with the league's best. When the Braves stepped out yesterday to trounce the league leading rBooklyn Robins, 4 to 1, Maranville merely made two of Boston's nine hits, scored once, handled eight fielding chances without an assist and started three of Boston's four double plays.

The shortstop had some assistance in stopping the Robins and leaving them only a half game ahead of the idle Chicago Cubs. Tom Zachary, who was considered too old for the American league this season, pitched a great game, shutting out the Robins except for Johnny Frederick's homer, while Wally Berger came through with his 24th circuit blow of the year, gaining a tie with Hack Wilson and Chuck Klein for the National league lead.

Completing the National league's day, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia made it a bad day for the first division. The Phillies, with Phil Collins on the mound, humbled the New York Giants, 8 to 1, pounding three pitchers for 14 hits while "Shufflin Phil" held the Giants to ten thoroughly scattered blows. The Pirates kept the St. Louis Cardinals a game and one half back of the third place Giants by slamming out a 10 to 5 victory.

NORSEMAN WINS FIRST 2 RACES

Then the Much Improved Vision Captures Third Test at R.C.Y.C. Trials.

INTEREST IN TRIALS.

TORONTO, July 9.—Just to complicate matters and make more difficut the work for the selection of a Canada's Cup challenger, Vision has rounded into something like her promised form, and on Monday afternoon won two out of three of the trial races sailed over a six-mile triangle. Noresman won the first race, steered by Skipper Wade. In this race each yacht had her own skipper. In the second race, Wade on Vision, Gooderham on Norseman, Wedd on Quest Vision; Vision won, Norseman second and Quest third. In the third race, Wade on Quest, Gooderham on Vision, Wedd on Noresman, Vision again won, Quest second, Norseman third.

In Vision's first win, her long lead was due possibly to her holding a better breeze on the last leg of the course. In her second victory, although last boat on the two reaches, the moment the work to windward began she took the lead helped, it is true, by a northerly shift of wind, and won this leg on account of her fast developing speed, and under Norman Gooderham's careful coaxing. The three yachts were only less than a minute apart at the finish.

So instead of the dissatisfaction that Vision's sluggish work caused her skipper, Rear-Commodore Wedd, and to her many friends, it has now become an assured fact that Wedd, in his preliminary efforts had planted seed that is fast ripening; and that these trial races with Gooderham and Wade both taking their turn in the boat's increasing improvement of action, she will yet—in fact does now—threaten the whole situation.

In the six trials sailed on Saturday and Monday, due to Vision's reversal of form, each yacht had the same number of points to its credit, so when we said the yachts began yesterday's racing is it any wonder that interest of the greatest moment prevailed and the issue of the trials eagerly looked for.

LACROSSE NOT DEAD YET

The national game of lacrosse is a long way from dead, judging from the enthusiaism displayed by the younger fry. The picture above shows Ted Reeves, veteran senior player and coach of the Malvern team, Toronto, giving a couple of his pupils some useful pointers.

MILLBROOK WINS LACROSSE TILT

Good Combination Shown By Campbellford and Home Teams in O.C.M. Fixture.

FINAL COUNT 3-2.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

Campbellford, July 9. — Campbellford and Millbrook met in a scheduled game of the O-C-M Lacrosse League at the Agricultural Park on Monday, July 7, the home team winning out by a score of 3-2.

The line up was:

Campbellford — E. Fox, goal; P. Saunders, point; H. McArthur, cover point; V. Cochrane, 1st defence; L. Bauch, 2nd defence; J. L. Blake, 3rd defence; S. Flint, centre; F. Whitten, 3rd home; H. Ingram, 2nd home; Lloyd Copperthwaite, 1st home; F. Ingram, inside home; B. Jack, home. subs., O. Hendy, H. Lambert and M. Reid.

Millbrook — J. Meyett, goal; L. Lebarr, point; F. Goodfellow, cover point; H. Tate, 1st defence; S. Sloan, 2nd defence; I. Dundass, 3rd defence, K. Donnelly, centre; L. Ingram, 3rd home; E. Nattress, 2nd home; D. Miller, 1st home; B. Fisher, inside home; P. King, home; subs, R. Shaw, C. Caplan, H. Gray, G. Clarke, R. B. Dawson.

It would be rather difficult to say who actually refereed the game as the visitors began by refusing to play if W. O'Brian, who has filled the office so far this season, was to officiate again in that capacity; they were apparently mindful of the penalties Mr. O'Brian meted out on the occasion of their initial game here this summer in the interests of insisting upon clean lacrosse. In the end the manager of the Campbellford team, and of the Millbrook players, with Mr. O'Brian, all appeared to have a hand in umpiring the game.

Good combination was played by both teams. D. Meyett, goal keeper, played his star game of the season, and the Campbellford goalkeeper was the mainstay of his team, stopping some hard shots. Scoring goals for Campbellford were L. Copperthwaite and L. Ingram; for Millbrook, C. Caplan, R. Shaw and P. King.

GUEST ANXIOUS TO MEET PEARCE

Diamond Sculls Winner Will Likely Race at Henley and Hamilton.

"RACE OF CENTURY."

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England, July 9.—(C.P.)—Two of the greatest amateur scullers in the world to-day may clash in the sculling events of the Empire Games at Hamilton, Ont., next August. Jack Guest, of Toronto, 24 year old, six-foot-three winner of the historic Diamond Sculls at Henley last Saturday, told the Canadian press to-day that he was most anxious to meet "Bob" Pearce, great Australian sculler, who won the singles championship at the Olympic games of 1928.

Guest said he had not seen Pearce since the Olympic games at Amsterdam, when he had been great impressed by the Australian's magnificent sculling. The Canadian was asked whether he would take part in the Empire Games, and replied that he had heard nothing official and did not even know the dates of the rowing matches. He was going to find out about it when he returned to Canada shortly, he added.

"I am anxious to meet Pearce," Guest said. "I am sure he will give a splendid account of himself at Hamilton, whoever he meets." Guest and Joe Wright, jr., also of Toronto, were in the sculling events at the Olympic games, but rowed in the doubles as well as the singles and did not reach the finals. Guest, however, has progressed remarkably since then, as shown by his turning the tables on Joe Wright, former Diamond sculls holder, in the Canadian Henley last year and by his performances in the past week.

Longer Playing Season For International Loop

MONTREAL, July 9.—International League club officials are planning to extend the playing season by one week and generally revise the regular schedule, it was learned on good authority yesterday. The league proposes to play the same number of games 168, but instead will extend the season one week longer. It is also planned to provide a schedule whereby each club will visit the other four times a year instead of three. At present, the schedule calls for three visits of each club on foreign diamonds, which this year consists of a five, a four and a three-game series.

Pete Nebo Outpoints Terris in Easy Style

NEW YORK, July 9 (U.P.) — Pete Nebo, 150½, Key West, Fla., scored a ten-round decision over Sid Terris, 132¼, New York, at Queensboro Stadium here last night. Nebo won every round except the ninth and tenth which were even. Terris was down twice in the first round. Sid was in a bad way in the fourth. His left eye was closed. He looked ready to go out a knock-out from the first round until the seventh, but by that time he had weathered the terrific storm engineered by the Seminole Indian.

Vincent Serici, 152, New York, won a decision, in eight rounds over Steve Gotch, 152, Chicago.

Marty Fox, 182, New York, also won an eight-round decision over Ralph Ficcuello, 185½, Brooklyn.

GROCERS BREAK TIE TO WIN 11-7

Numerous Errors on Part of Belmont's Nine Allows Northerners Victory.

PARSONS ON MOUND.

Scoring five runs in the eighth inning Harrison's broke a 6-6 deadlock with Belmont Club and won out 11-7. It was an excellent game up till the eighth inning when numerous errors on the part of the Clubmen with a couple of hits allowed Harrison's to win.

Parsons, an Omemee boy, was on the rubber for the Northenders and twirled nice ball. He was a little wild at times, walking six men, but he turned nine of the Belmonts back via the strike out route and was only touched for eight hits. He received good support from his teammates.

Nobbs was starting pitcher for the Belmonts but was a trifle wild and gave way to Galbraith in the third after he had been touched for five runs. Galbraith restricted Harrison's to three hits for the rest of the game. Errors and a couple of misjudged flys caused six runs to be scored off him. With support he would have had a shutout.

Fielding stars were Holyman and Frick for the Belmonts and Playford and Lebarr for Harrison's.

Holyman and Frick treated the crowd to some great base running in the third, when they stole home in succession.

Smith, Parsons, Playford and Batten all had circuit clouts.

The teams:

Belmont Club—Ward, cf; Haskill, c; Holyman, ss; Frick, 1b; Scates, lf; Galbraith, rf, p; Board, 3b; Nobbs, p, rf; Munro, 2b; Batten, 2b.

Harrison—Playford, cf; Dobson, c; Crary, 2b; Parsons, p; Lebarr, ss; French, rf; Willshaw, 3b; Smith, 1b; Clark, rf.

Score by innings:

Belmont Club	006000001— 7
Harrisons	14010006x—11

Umpires—Weese and Webb.

Ohio Paper Scores Trips Into Canada

TORONTO, Ont., July 9 (C.P.) Efforts of an Ohio State newspaper to discourage motor trips into Canada and to divert tourist business to United States resorts was revealed here by C. C. Hele, Director of Publicity for the Ontario Government.

According to Mr. Hele the paper published articles intimating tourists would meet with "more red tape during their annual tours into Canada this year than ever before." It was also claimed in the article that Americans wishing entry into this country were now required to produce birth certificates at border points.

"This seems to be a deliberate attempt to keep Americans away from Canada this year," Mr. Hele said. "There is absolutely no foundation for such statements."

NIGHT HORSE RACING MEET IS BEING PLANNED FOR JULY 23-24

Exhibition Park Will Be Lighted By Huge Arc Lights.

VALUABLE PURSES.

The world of sport has been treated to some remarkable innovations this year in the way of illuminations that permit ball games and rugby games to be played beneath the bright beams of great arc lamps that light the athletic fields with almost the same clearness as day, and this month Peterborough will see horse racing at night on the track at Exhibition Park.

This new form of entertainment will be inaugurated in this district on the evenings of Wednesday and Thursday, July 23 and 24. Some of the best trotters in the province will be brought to the city to race for the big purses being offered.

Night horse racing was introduced into Canada recently at Chatham by W. C. Crummer, and 12,000 people jammed the park to see the spectacle.

Mr. Crummer has the complete equipment, the cost of which runs into many thousands of dollars, to make this marvellous illumination of race tracks possible. Those who have seen his equipment in operation state that the whole track is brilliantly lighted so that the details of the races can be easily observed.

It is fully expected that this novel event will be looked forward to with interest in this district, not only by those who like horse racing but also by those who desire to see another example of the advance of modern science and ingenuity.

Mr. Crummer was in the city yesterday, when the arrangements for night racing here were completed with Stan. Lowe, chairman of the Racing Committee of the Exhibition Board.

Rainville Is Unable To Compete at Ottawa

MONTREAL, July 9.—Marcel Rainville of Montreal, Canadian Davis Cup player and tennis champion of the Province of Quebest, will not take part in the Eastern Canadian championships at Ottawa this week. He expressed regret on hearing that a misunderstanding had apparently arisen, and that he was expected to compete at the Capital. He never sent in an entry, and informed the committee in charge all along that he would be unable to play.

Rainville spent several months this year in tournament play in the Southern United States getting in shape for the Davis Cup matches, and he hopes to be able to take part in the United States championships in September, and perhaps other invitation events, prior to this, so he finds it quite impossible to leave his work here at this time.

Leroy Rennie Arrives For Tennis Tourney

Semi-finals Expected to be Reached To-night in Eastern Canada Tennis.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 9 (C.P.)—The quarter or semi-final round stage will have been reached by this evening in all five events of the Eastern Canadian tennis championships if light rain which fell this morning at the Rideau lawn tennis club does not halt the play. Six matches are carded for the morning play, in which a number of the seeded players of the tourney will take part.

Leroy Rennie of Toronto, former Canadian champion, arrived late yesterday, a place nevertheless having been found for him in the draws, and he will be in action several times today. Interest increases as the men's singles play narrows down, the play of Walter Martin of Regina, Gilbert Nunns of Toronto and Charlie Leslie of Montreal standing out.

Many interesting matches in the ladies' singles play also are carded, Miss B. Symonds of Toronto, Central Ontario champion, being drawn against Miss Mary Currie of Halifax, while Miss Effie Billings of Montreal is called to meet Miss Jean Burritt of Toronto.

Sir Walter Captures Feature Stake Race

Star Etawah Wins in Straight Heats at Cleveland.

NORTH RANDALL RACE TRACK, Cleveland, July 9.—Sir Walter, owned jointly by W. N. Reynolds of Winston-Salem, N.C., and Henry Knight of Columbus, won the $3,000 Edwards Stakes, feature of yesterday's grand circuit program, and in doing so twice broke the record for the stake. He won the first heat handily in 2.01 3-5 and came back strongly in the second heat, clipping a fifth of a second off that mark, 2.01 2-5.

He was given a gilt edge drive by the Toledo, Ohio, reinsman, Harry Stokes.

Sep Palin, Indianapolis trainer, won the first event, a 2.18 pace, in straight heats, with Star Etawah, owned by E. J. Baker of St. Charles, Ill. He paced the two fastest heats of the meet in the first and third miles, each being negotiated in 2.03 3-5. The only contention came from Betty Symbol, the Tarboro, N.C., owned mare, driven by Doc Parshall.

Standardization of weights and measures of certain commercial quantities is being used in Panama.

THREE MATCHES WON BY GILBERT NUNNS

Ranking Players Successful in Eastern Canada Tourney.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 9.—All the ranking players of the Dominion came successfully through the second and third round of play of the Eastern Canada championships being played here on the courts of the Rideau Lawn Tennis Club at Overbrook. Mrs. Harry Bickle and Miss B. Symonds of Toronto and Mrs. H. L. Beer and Miss Effie Billings of Montreal, reached the semi-final round of the ladies' doubles by straight set scores.

In the men's singles play Gilbert Nunns of Toronto won three matches, defeating J. W. Pitkethly and J. B. Macdonnell, two local players, and L. M. Shettler of Montreal, with but the loss of four games in six sets.

OFFICE TEAM TAKES LEAD

Vanquish Armature Winders 19-14 in Heavy Slugging Duel.

IN C.G.E. LEAGUE.

The Office No. 1 team took the lead in the C.G.E. Inter-department Softball League last night when they met and vanquished the Amature Winders 19-14 in a heavy slugging duel. Well placed hits and hard hit flies which soared over the outfielders' heads gave the Office crew the win, while the pitching of Routley for the winners was also an outstanding feature and resulted in four strike-outs. Powell, twirling for the winders, progressed nicely with his team six runs up until the sixth when the Office batters started their barrage of hits and garnered twelve runs.

Millard in left field for the Winders made a sensational play when he speared Playfords' long drive to left in nose dive style, but came up with the ball. The teams:

All players in all series must sign O.B.A.A. certificates. A charge of twenty-five cents is made for all Senior and Intermediate certificates which is a charge against the Treasury of the individual Leagues and no player is eligible until payment for certificate has been made to the Treasurer of his League.

League Secretaries to forward certificate tax to O.B.A.A. Treasurer on or before July 20th.

All Junior, Juvenile and Bantam players must produce birth certificates in accordance with the By-law in the O.B.A.A. constitution on page 31. Birth certificates to be forwarded to the O.B.A.A. constitution on page 31. Birth certificates to be forwarded to the O.B.A.A. Secretary along with playing certificates of the championship club, no later than August 5th.

Players in all series must qualify under the residence rule in accordance with the O.B.A.A. constitution as stated in Section A. page 34.

No player shall sign a certificate in any League after July 15th, and all players must have taken part in at least three league games for the champion club, in order to be eligible to play in the Ontario championships.

All Senior and Intermediate O.B.A.A. players must hold Amateur cards as issued by the Ontario Branch of the A.A. U. of C.

No player after playing six league games with his club can be released and signed by another club in the same League. The release of players under the above clause shall be subject to the approval of the O.B.A.A. Executive.

Each Association or League affiliated with O.B.A.A. to participate in the play-offs for the Ontario championships must declare winners and be prepared to enter finals (where one league only is operated) on the dates as enumerated in the schedule herewith:

Junior, Juvenile, Bantam, second Saturday in August. (August 9th).

Intermediate, third Saturday in August, (August 16th).

Senior, last Saturday in August (August 30th).

When more than one league is operated additional time to be allowed as follows:

For 2 leagues, one additional week.

For 3 leagues, two weeks.

League Secretaries must arrange their scheduled, play postponed or tie games so as to have their championship club ready to play the first O.B.A.A. championship game starting on the date as stated above, no extension of time will be granted to finish league schedules.

Clubs or players which knowingly play against ineligible players and do wilfully conceal this knowledge from the Association until it shall suit their convenience to use it in any protest which may arise shall be considered equally guilty with the offending club or players and shall be dealt with accordingly.

J. Smith's Ottawa Rink Wins Kingston Tourney

KINGSTON, July 9.—J. W. Smith's rink of Ottawa, composed of R. Yorkston, J. Roe, G. Addison and Mr. Smith, won the Jubilee Trophy in the invitation tournament, held at Queen's Bowling Club late last night, winning four straight games, with a plus score of 26.

J. E. Newell of Kingston, who had on his rink G. Wright, J. B. Cooke and M. Hanahan, won second place, with three victories and a plus score of 29, while F. Tory of Ottawa, playing with J. Gibson, J. L. Payne and E. Connor, took third prize.

SOME OF THE ATHLETES WHO WILL COMPETE AT THE BRITISH EMPIRE GAMES

When the British Empire Games commence at Hamilton, Ontario, in the second week of August, there will be an array of empire athletes never before equalled in British history. Above are five runners and hurdlers who will cime many thousands of miles to prove their mettle. They are, top, left to right: H. W. Payne, one of Britain's foremost marathon runners; Lord Burghley, by far the world's most popular hurdler, at the top of his form at the present time; and C. Ellis, one of the best half-milers in the British Empire, who will be a member of the British team. Botton, left to right: J. E. London, England's dusky sprinter, whom Percy Williams beat at the tape in the Olympic Games 100 metres final; and J. W. B. Legge, of South Africa, who is expected to represent his country in the hurdles events at Hamilton.

MAP OF COUNTY IS COMPLETED

Surveyors Have Been Working in County For Several Months.

PUBLISHED IN FALL.

The field work on the topographical map of Peterborough district, now being prepared by the Geographical Section of the Department of National Defence at Ottawa, will be completed by the end of this month and publication will take place before the end of the year, according to A. E. Attfield, survey engineer in charge of operations here.

Parties of surveyors under Mr. Attfield have been in the field in this section for over two months now. Using the local Armouries as a base of supplies, the men have spread out in all directions from the city, recording every detail—down to the smallest farmhouse, barn, lane, hill, valley, stream, or clump of trees.

A map of such minute detail promises to be of immense interest not only to residents of the district but to the public generally. With this in mind, arrangements have been made Mr. Attfield announced, to place the publication on sale at local bookstores at a nominal price.

Mr. Attfield came from similar activities in Lindsay, Port Hope, and Rice Lake districts. The use of recent aerial photographic maps forms the groundwork for the present survey, Mr. Attfield explained. The Department of National Defence, in cooperation with the Geodetic Survey and provincial authorities, is making a determined attack upon the gigantic task of mapping the entire Dominion down to the smallest detail. The importance of the work for strategic, industrial, and transportation purposes cannot be underestimated, declared Mr. Attfield.

Canada is much behind other countries in respect to mapping, he stated, and it is only one aspect of the present operations to impress upon the minds of citizens that Canada's extent north and south is even greater than her extent east and west.

UNCLE WIGGILY'S RIDDLE

(By Howard R. Garis)

When it rained, so his little bunny boys and girls could not hop out of the hollow stump bungalow to play, Uncle Wiggily asked them a riddle to amuse them. The riddle was this:

"What animal is it that has only one paw, growing out of his stomach and who goes around carrying his house on his tail?"

Neither Baby Bunty, Jingle, Jangle nor Buster could guess Uncle Wiggily's riddle, and he was going to tell them. But they begged him to give them another chance. So now we see the little rabbit children in the bungalow, waiting to go out of doors and play. For the rain had stopped in the night and the sun was shining.

"But we haven't guessed the riddle yet!" said Baby Bunny who was a cute little orphan rabbit living with Uncle Wiggily. "It doesn't seem as if there could be any animal with only one foot."

"Yet there must be," said Buster, "for Daddicums called him Mr. One Paw and he said he'd show him to us if we couldn't guess."

Uncle Wiggily came sliding down the banister railing instead of hopping along the stairs. Seeing the bunnies gathered near the door he called to them, asking:

"Have you guessed the answer to my riddle about Mr. One Paw?"

"No, Unkie Wig," answered Bunby with a cute little lisp. "We can't think of the answer."

"But you said you'd take us out and show us," said Jingle.

"So I will!" promised Uncle Wiggily. "We ought to find Mr. One Paw easily this morning after the rain."

"Does he like rain?" asked Jangle.

"Mr. One Paw is often seen walking with his house on his back after a rain," said Mr. Longears with a smile.

"Oh goodie!" cried Tootsie, one of the newest little rabbits in the bungalow. "I want awfully much, to see such a funny animal with only one paw that grows out of his stomach."

"And I want to see him hump along with his house on his back," cried Buster, a bold little bunny.

"Come on then, all of you!" invited Uncle Wiggily, and with jolly shouts and laughter, the bonny rabbit children hopped out of the hollow stump bungalow, with Uncle Wiggily following after like Mary's little lamb.

"Where is Mr. One Paw? Where is Mr. One Paw?" sang the bunnies, as they hopped on their four paws. They could not imagine how any animal could have but one paw, or foot. All of a sudden Uncle Wiggily pointed to something on the ground and cried:

"There he is! There's Mr. One Paw!"

The bunny children looked and what do you suppose they saw as the answer to Uncle Diggily's riddle? Well, some of you may have guessed since the story of last night. Yes, it was a snail, who was partly out of the shell house he carried on his back.

"Well, I never would have guessed Mr. One Paw was a snail!" said Buster, twiddling his ears.

"He certainly has his house on his back," spoke Jingle. "For a snail lives in a shell and his shell is on his back and he carries it around with him when he crawls. So that part of the riddle is true—he carries his house on his back."

"But I don't see his one paw," said Baby Bunty. "Does it grow out of his stomach, Unkie Wig? And maybe he has more than one paw under him, for he is crawling along just as if he had four legs."

"May I show my bunnies that you have only one foot, Mr. Snail?" asked Uncle Wiggily politely.

"Surely," answered Senor Snail, graciously waving the two things, like horns, growing on top of his head.

Uncle Wiggily found a flat piece of glass and, having let Mr. Snail crawl on this glass, the rabbit gentleman lifted it up so the bunnies could look beneath it. Then they were looking at the underside of Mr. Snail and, truly they saw, through the glass, something like a foot growing right out of the middle of his stomach. And then, too, as Mr. Snail crawled over the glass they could see how he managed to get along on his one paw, without ever lifting it off the glass. It was the same when he was on the ground.

Mr. Snail first raised the back end, or heel of his one paw up a wee bit from the glass and pushed it ahead, just a little way from where it was before. Then he raised the front part or the toes, of his foot and pushed that ahead. So he moved a tiny distance which is enough for any snail. If you will put your hand flat down, if you will push your fingers wrist until your hand is humped up and then after putting your wrist down, if you will push your fingers ahead without moving your wrist and keep on doing this, you will see how Mr. Snail can walk on his one leg.

"That was a jolly good riddle, Unkie Wig!" laughed Baby Bunty as she and the others watched Mr. Snail hitching himself along on the glass with his one stomach paw.

THE MACHINE AND UNEMPLOYMENT

BY J. H. BURNHAM

It is very easy to see what is causing unemployment amongst the workers. If it were lack of production we would say at once that unemployment is due to lack of demand for goods. But production has not fallen off. Taking the world as a whole to-day production is greater by 30 per cent., as the statistics show, than before the war. What is making the trouble then? What has supplanted the workers, the "hands," as they are called? Machines.

Invention of new machines and improvements of those already in existence has been 1000 per cent. greater this last five years than in all history before. Take a few examples. The cotton picking machine has driven ¾ of southern labor out of the cotton fields, and left them on the roadside to starve. In textiles 50 per cent. of the workers have been driven out by machines. Here's a new invention that makes auto bodies from the raw material to the finished article ready for painting, at the rate of 450 per hour. That would take 5,000 men.

Take office work. The new bookkeeping, tabulating and calculating machines are literally driving all the expert and clerical office staffs out into the streets where the big steam shovels are driving the street workers to the sidewalks to look on in idleness.

You say people do not know these things. If not they are surely beginning to find them out.

What is the remedy? Either smash the machines or get wider markets. Trade increases as people's wants increase, and the wider range of consumption, and exchange of products, the more trade. That is what trade is. It is exchange or barter through paper certificates (warehouse receipts, paper money, etc.), or through the equivalent that we know and take as gold and silver. In Russia the workers seized everything, machines and all. They are removing capital from the position of employer, and are doing their own employing and providing. They are helping themselves to what they need. That looks so easy and simple that we lose our dread of the future at once. But wait a bit—who is doing all this for the people? Now the motto of the Socialistic Democracy, such as the Soviet Union (Confederation of district councils or provinces, speaking, and printing 57 different languages for their people. Our one language people in Canada would go crazy in Russia), the motto is, I say: "Let them give according to their abilities, and take according to their needs." What is the key-principle upon which Socialism or Communism is founded? But the giving of ability means control, and control means capitalism—and there they are, and you are, right back where you left off.

Mussolini is not half the despot the Soviet chief council is. He exists by the will of the Italian people. At first the Russian people were against the Soviet, but since the Soviet is handing out work where it is needed, and in a word seeing to the great work of distributing both work and food, they are falling into line. The only improvement over the former condition of economic action is just that—distribution.

Now, distribution, or a fair apportionment of the means of earning a living for the worker is the whole secret of life. You ask why this has not been found out before. It was found out before but the people stood in their own light. They were influenced by ignorance or stupidity, or both, that they employed inferior people to do their governing instead of the best they could get, and as a consequence the same old stupid, selfish, wasteful, unfair methods have continued, and when capitalists are asked why they don't lead the people into better things, they say, and say truly, "Who could lead this bunch anywhere. They haven't sense enough to see their own best interests, and if they had, they are too obstinate and conceited to do it."

There is a lot of truth in that. Our schools and colleges do not teach us how to make the best of life. It is the old helter-skelter way of all past time. When Democracy is prosperous it gets so dictatorial, and so determined to have it own way at the polls (for that is the only place it can get it) that it takes a period of adversity (like this machine age) to bring them to their senses, and now they are going about wringing their hands, and asking what they are to do all the time they are employing and electing representatives to manage the affairs of the nation, who haven't brains enough to tell what o'clock it is.

Hence the capitalist gets angry, and says, "Oh, the people be d——d," and they are in grave danger of being d——d, just as present. What is the remedy? Wider markets, better distribution, and better men at the top.

If half the time and energy spent in trying to make other people do as we order them to do, in private life, were spent in studying the science of the distribution of work and food, what a difference it would make. So you see, that after all it is our own stupidity that has brought us where we are, not the lack of supplies, for the world is full of them, but the plain simple fact of distribution.

SCOUTS DROWN ON CAMPING TRIP

Lad With Cramp Pulls Rescuer Under in Lake Winnipeg.

RESUSCITATION FAILS.

WINNIPEG, July 9.—The summer vacations of George Dickson, 11, and John Sutton, 12, Winnipeg Boy Scouts, ended by death yesterday when they drowned in Lake Winnipeg.

Young Sutton gave his life in a gallant attempt to save his chum. Along with other youths staying at a Boy Scout camp near Gimli, the ill-fated pair sought to escape the oppressive heat of the afternoon in the cool waters of the lake. They were swimming back to shore from a sandbar when little George presumably suffered a cramp and went under. Sutton sped to his aid, only to have his chum clamp on a death-hold that resulted in the pair going to the bottom.

Other Scouts and leaders soon had recovered the bodies, but resuscitation attempts were futile.

TARZAN OF THE APES No. 6 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

In the comparative safety of their aerial chamber, Lady Greystoke suddenly grasped her husband's arm. "Look!" she whispered. "What is it? A man?" Silhouetted dimly against the shadows, a great figure stood upright, as though listening, then turned slowly and melted into the shadows of the jungle.

"What was it?" she whispered. "I do not know," he answered, gravely. "It is too dark to see so far, perhaps only a shadow cast by the rising moon." "No, John, if it was not a man, it was some huge and grotesque mockery of man. Oh, I am afraid." He could feel her heart beat as she clung to him, trembling and terrified.

The night noises of a great jungle teeming with myriad animal life kept their overwrought nerves on edge; many times they were startled by the stealthy movement of great bodies beneath them. He lay facing the opening at the front of their aerie, a rifle and revolvers at his hand.

Scarcely had they closed their eyes than the terrifying cry of a panther rang out from the jungle. Closer and closer it came until they could hear the great beast directly beneath them. For an hour or more it sniffed and clawed at the trees which supported their platform.

At last it roamed away across the beach, where Lord Greystoke could see it clearly in the brilliant moonlight—a great handsome beast; the largest he had ever seen. From the dark shadows of the mighty forest came the wild call of savage beasts—the deep roar of a lion.

NEW BUDGET

He expressed the hope negotiations would prove successful.

The financial depression, the Prime Minister went on, was due to the collapse in commodity values and the cessation of loan receipts from overseas. The time was long overdue when borrowing aboard should be reduced to the minimum, and the domestic market instead should be relied on or the bulk of money necessary for development, he added.

During the past financial year 27,000,000 pounds in gold had been transferred, Premier Scullin said. It might be necessary, in order to ensure future Government requirements in London being met, to invite trading banks to pool their external exchange, and give the Commonwealth and State Governments first call on their London funds.

"The Government is exploring every avenue of economy in administration," Premier Scullin said. He instanced the severe cut in expenditures on defence purposes, and a large number of similar steps. Defence expenditure had been reduced by $2,500,000.

Loan Expenditure Halved.

"Expenditure on loans has been almost halved, and can now be provided almost wholly by the people of Australia," the Prime Minister declared. "Our sinking funds are sound. Effective steps have been taken to reduce imports and stimulate exports. The balance of trade should turn in Australia's favor, thus providing a means of meeting future overseas commitments."

The whole aim in increasing tariffs was to foster the development of Australia's primary and secondary industries, he explained. Australia wanted overseas manufacturers to establish branch factories in Australia, where Australians could secure employment in meeting the demands of the Australian market.

LABOR MINISTRY IS FACING CRISIS

Liberals Open Scrap on Amendment to Finance Bill.

DEFEAT MEANS DOWNFALL.

LONDON, England, July 9 (Canadian Press). — The ministry of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald faced a crisis in the House of Commons to-day when its erstwhile friendly enemies, the Liberals, turned squarely against them in an attack of their own.

Given enough Liberals following the leadership of David Lloyd-George and the usual Conservative anti-Government vote, defeat of the Government would seem inevitable. Tom Kennedy, chief Government Whip, said that such ceefat would involve the ministry's fall.

The question at stake is an amendment to the Finance Bill involving exemption from income taxes on that part of affected companies, profits devoted to re-equipment of factories and replenishment of plant machinery.

ALICE MARY III GOES UP CANAL

Splendid Cruiser Makes Her Third Trip Through the Trent Waterway.

16 ON BOARD.

The 72-foot mahogany cruiser, "Alice Mary III" owned by G. J. Houston of Cincinnati, Ohio, locked through the Lift Lock at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon en route to Georgian Bay. Accompanying the cruiser was the owner's speed boat, "June 13".

The two craft left Hastings yesterday morning, and it was expected that they would tie up at George Street Wharf some time during the afternoon. The owner, however, decided to proceed directly north without putting in here.

Sixteen people were aboard the "Alice Mary III"—including a crew of 5, the owner, and ten guests, all of Cincinnati. This is Mr. Houston's third trip through the Trent Waterway. The "Alice Mary III" was tied up at George Street Wharf for several days last summer, at which time Mr. Houston expressed himself as delighted with the Trent System, the City of Peterborough, and the courtesy which he had found all along the route.

It is understood that the present trip will occupy several weeks, and that the party will return to Cincinnati via Lake Huron.

THOMAS IS GIVEN PAINT CONTRACTS BY SCHOOL BOARD

Demand For Typewritten Copy at Collegiate Institute and Vocational School Increasing.

APPOINTMENTS MADE.

Resolution of Sympathy in Death of Joseph John is Made By Board of Education.

The growing demand at Peterborough Collegiate Institute and Vocational School for typewritten and mimeographed matter and its relation to the duties of the Principal's secretary was the chief theme of discussion at last evening's meeting of the Board of Education, held under the chairmanship of Dr. J. J. Craig.

James Dutton pointed out that Government regulations require that all lesson sheets in connection with aeronautics, must be mimeographed. He thought the same condition obtained in regard to Domestic science lessons. Night class student's employers also look for typewritten reports, and it was Mr. Dutton's contention that such reports should be forthcoming as early as possible, in fairness to the students. He did not suggest that Mr. Kenner's secretary should undertake all this work, but he was of the opinion that provision will have to be made in the interests of the school effeciency and that the secretary should undertake Mr. Moon's official correspondence and should be prepared to work regular office hours, instead of as now only observing school hours. The report of the committee of appointments which recommends an increase in salary for Miss Edith Cottrell the secretary, dating from Sept. 1st, next, was adopted with the motion that the matter of consideration of office work be referred to the supervision committee with power to act.

Work on New Lab. Progresses

Mr. Dutton reported that the work on the new laboratory in the Vocational section, being undertaken by Frank Barrett of this city, is progressing nicely and will be a satisfactory job when completed.

He also reported that it has been decided to mow the grass on King Edward School grounds, in keeping with the splendid condition of the grounds at the DeLaval and Martin-Hewitt factories.

"I would like to see" he stated, "a sum of money-about $350 per annum, set aside to be devoted to taking care of the school grounds. No action was taken on this suggestion.

Resolution of Sympathy

E. F. Reid moved that a resolution of sympathy should be sent from the Board, to the wife of the late Joseph John who was elected to the Board of Education this year. Sympathetic reference was voiced as to his lamented passing. The motion was seconded by James Dutton.

Contracts Awarded

The contract for painting to be done at the city schools during the summer vacation, was awarded to W. D. Thomas for $1,929, his being the lowest tender, while the contract for the fuel supply for the ensuing year was let to the Sanitary Ice Company and the Conger Lehigh Coal Company, the former to supply approximately 600 tons of Pathfinder 2" shaker screened loom loaded coal at $7.48 per ton and the latter to supply approximately 600 tons of 2" Adrian lump coal at $7.45 per ton.

Regarding the purchase of two new pianos it was decided that the proposition of the Heintzman Company, to supply the instruments at $513 each, less a total allowance of $225 for the two old pianos, making a net total of $801, be accepted.

The report of the Supervision Committee which was read and adopted contained the following appointments for supervisors at the Central and King Edward Schools for six weeks commencing July 7th:

	For the term
James Abraham, General Supervisor	$200.00
Howard Macdonald, assistant.	120.00
Alex Rogow, assistant	120.00
Miss Ruth Sutton, assistant..	120.00
Miss Clara Patterson, assistant	120.00

Regarding the matter of establishing Pre-Vocational Classes, the committee recommended that some action be taken on condition that ways and means can be provided.

Reappointments and Resignations

A. J. Weames was re-appointed to the staff of the Vocational School for the year ending June 30th, 1931, at a salary of $2,200, while Miss Moir who has been acting head of the Commercial Department, since the resignation of Mr. Jamieson, was granted a bonus of $100 owing to her additional responsibilities.

Geo. C. Northey was re-appointed to the Public School staff to succeed Mr. Miller as vice principal, salary to be according to schedule and duties to commence in September next.

Miss Francis Bonnycastle and Miss Helen A. Staples were appointed to Public School staff to succeed Miss Anderson and Miss Chambers, who have resigned, the former at an initial salary of $900 and the latter $960, she being the holder of a First Class certificate.

CUSTOMS OFFICER FIRED.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., July 9. (C.P.)—A customs officer and a railway employee have been dismissed at Port Burwell following disclosures made into the recent short circuiting of a car of liquor from that place. The car was seized in Cleveland after waiting a claimant. Originally the car came from a town in Maine loaded with slate for Cleveland.

WEDDING BELLS

MORTON—WHITE.

The marriage was solemnized quietly at St. Andrew's Church Manse last evening, by the Rev. Dr. C. V. McLean, of Summerton William Morton of Peterborough, formerly of Kemptville, N.S., to Lydia Alice White of Halifax, N.S.

After a brief honeymoon spent at McCracken's Landing, Stoney Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Morton will return to take up residence at 255 Reid street and Mr. Morton will resume his duties as accountant of the local branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, with which he has been identified for the past year.

SIMMONS—MUNDEN.

The marriage of Grace Munden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Pilling of 478 Murray Street, to Edward James Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Simmons of 29 Orpington Road, was solemnized quietly at two o'clock on Monday afternoon by the Rev. J. D. Paterson, at All Saints' Church.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a charming gown of blue georgette made in sleeveless style with jacket of georgette and yoke of beige lace. She wore a beige hat, shoes, hose and gloves, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations, gypsophila and maidenhair fern.

The bridesmaid, Miss Mildred Irons, was in yellow and white crepe with matching hat, shoes, hose and gloves. Her bouquet was of white carnations, gypsophila and maidenhair fern.

Douglas Simmons acted as best man for his brother.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, with a wedding luncheon attended by thirty of the relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons left on the afternoon train for Toronto and Buffalo, en route to Detroit, where they will reside. The bride travelled in an ensemble of wool crepe in beige tones, with hat and accessories to match.

RYLEY—McKINNON.

A pretty wedding took place at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the United Church in Bethany, when Helen Kathleen, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. McKinnon of Bethany, became the bride of Alfred Bruce Ryley, only son of Mrs. Ryley and the late Harry Heaton Ryley of Bethany. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. M. Scott, pastor of the church. Floral decorations were in roses, peonies, delphinium, Canterbury bells, palms and ferns. The guest pews were marked off with satin ribbons and roses.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely dress of white crepe romain, made in long princess lines, with overjacket of lace. Her hat of white mohair was trimmed with satin ribbon and she wore brocaded satin slippers, trimmed with silver, white silk hose, and long white kid gloves. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of Sweetheart roses and lily of the valley.

The maid of honor, Miss Marion McKinnon of Peterborough, sister of the bride, was in orchid georgette, with picture hat in matching tones, and bouquet of Talisman roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Muriel McKinnon of Toronto, sister of the bride was in yellow georgette, with matching picture hat, and bouquet of Ophelia roses.

Little Miss Jane McKinnon of Port Huron, Michigan, cousin of the bride, was a charming flower girl, frocked in yellow organdie, with organdie hat.

Ushers were Lewis McGill of Bethany, and James Turnbull of Peterborough.

The wedding march was played by Miss Margaret Werry of Omemee.

During the signing of the register, Miss Jean McKinnon of Bethany, sister of the bride, sang "O, Promise Me." She was dressed in pink georgette with hat to match.

After the church ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where over 50 guests were present, from Toronto, London, Lindsay, Peterborough, Ingersoll, Port Huron, Michigan, Kingston, Millbrook and Bowmanville. Decorations were carried out with a profusion of lovely flowers, and the bride's table was centred by the cake.

The bride's mother wore green georgette with a lace yoke, a hat of green mohair, and corsage bouquet of roses.

The mother of the bridegroom was in navy satin trimmed with beige lace, with hat of beige lace straw, and corsage bouquet of roses.

Later Mr. Ryley and his bride left by motor for a trip through Northern Ontario by way of Muskoka. On their return they will reside in Bethany.

The bride's travelling costume was an ensemble of peach silk crepe with matching baku hat, matching gloves, shoes and hose, and fox fur scarf.

THEY HAVE ARRIVED.

Two girls in pyjamas made a bid to shock local inhabitants this morning by strolling casually along George street. The pyjamas were white with the fashionable green trimmings. The girls themselves, it is reported, were not without qualities to attract attention even without the aid of night apparel.

The effect was somewhat spoiled by partially concealing coats which the threatening rain imposed. Still, there were those who did turn and look.

The two girls were tourists, it is understood. Local girls do not affect this sort of garb until they find themselves in a strange town, one sage remarked.

FAIR TROPHY

Returning with a monster trophy of rod and line—a large lunge caught in the waters of Rice Lake east of Keene—three Cleveland tourists, Messrs. Herbert Knippenberg, Fred Redmond and Sam Rosenberg are having the 'finny' prize mounted, in order that their stories of fishing in this district will be fully credited when they return to the United States.

The fishermen who have been staying at the summer residence of Fred Elmhurst at Rice Lake, have been treated to some real sport. The fish they brought in for mounting weighed 28 pounds, and put up a fierce battle for liberty.

MR. PECK'S MEETINGS

E. A. Peck, Conservative candidate in West Peterborough, has a number of meetings this week. To-night he speaks in Harmony Hall, Douro; on Thursday night in Stewart's Hall, Otonabee; and on Friday evening in the old Town Hall, North Monaghan.

MEETINGS

Gordon Edwards, ex-M.P. of Ottawa, will address a mass meeting in the interests of the local Liberal nominee, J. J. Duffus, in the Memorial Hall at Lakefield, on Friday, July 18. Mrs. Forbes-Allan will also address the meeting.

Last night Mr. Duffus attended three garden parties. From one at the Confederation School he proceeded to the Sacred Heart Social, and thence to Fairview and Smith.

Following the placing of crushed stone and sand, oil has been sprinkled on Murray and Brock streets up the Court House hill. The going was reported to be heavy by one driver, who demanded: "Why didn't they pave this hill while they were at it?"

The season's second outing of the Y.W.C.A. Senior Indoor-Outdoor Club was held from Rye's boathouse to a picnic point across the river last night. The membership of the club, according to Miss C. Littlefield, the leader, is growing. A jazz orchestra has been formed, which last night supplied musical background for the coffee, rolls and bacon around the camp fire, following canoeing and rowing. Next week a trip down the river in Mr. Rye's big boat is planned.

QUEEN CITY RINKS IN BOWLING FINAL

High Park Club Representatives Battling It Out For Ontario Bowling Trophy.

HAMILTON, Ont., July 9 (C.P.)—Two Toronto rinks, and both from High Park club will battle it out in the Ontario Bowling Trophy at Gage Park this afternoon. The Queen City representatives qualified to-day by defeating two rinks from Hamilton, R. W. Graham defeating C. W. Scott of Thistle, 21 to 16, while M. R. Griffith triumphed over W. I. Johnson's Victoria rink by 19 to 13.

Considerable progress was made today, the fourth round in the Ames Trophy and the third in the Niagara having been reached, as well as two rounds of play in the singles championship.

BOY SCOUTS HOLD BIG JAMBOREE

Members of 6th Peterborough Troop Holding Camp at Young's Point.

PLAN BIG NIGHT.

Boys of the 6th Peterborough Scout Troop are holding a field day at Young's Point to-day, which will be brought to a grand conclusion to-night by a sing-song, camp fire, stunts by the Scouts and solos contributed by several local singers.

The efforts of the boys under Scoutmaster Ernest Wolffe will be further enhanced by the engagement of the Caledonian Pipe Band for the occasion.

Invitations have been extended to the Executive of the local Scout Association and to the Scoutmasters of all other troops in the district to join with the 6th, in presenting their program. It is expected that the people of Young's Point will turn out in full force, as during their stay in the district the Scouts have made numerous friends among the residents of Young's Point. Large crowds are also expected to make the journey from this city for this evening's events, which will commence at about seven o'clock.

Pulling of the hair to relieve headaches has been introduced into London from the Far East.

NO NEW LIGHT SHED AT BROCKVILLE INQUEST

Witnesses Testify Every Precaution Taken With Dynamite.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., July 9 (C.P.)—Little additional light was shed upon the circumstances surrounding the disaster which brought about the loss of the drill boat J. B. King, with 30 of its crew, off Cockburn Island on June 26, at the adjourned inquest upon Reuben Arnold of East Jeddore, N.S., one of the victims, held here last night. All of those giving evidence, including several of the surviving crew of the disaster, were unanimous in stating that so far as they knew, every precaution had been taken in the handling of dynamite and in the operation of the craft. All were equally as one in limiting their knowledge of the explosion itself to a flash of lightning, followed by a tremendous upheaval aboard the drill boat.

The coroner's jury, after brief deliberation, returned a verdict setting forth that Arnold had met accidental death by lightning which struck the drill boat.

WRIT ISSUED AGAINST PAVING COMPANY

RESIDENTS OF ENGLEBURN AVENUE SEEK INJUNCTION TO PUT END TO ALLEGED SMOKE AND DUST MENACE

Action is Threatened By Residents of Engleburn Avenue.

PEOPLE UP IN ARMS.

Complaint Is Made Against Smoke and Dust of Paving Plant.

A writ and notice of motion for injunction to restrain the Warren Bituminous Paving Company Limited, from causing or permitting smoke, dust and noxious fumes and gases to escape on to plaintiff's premises situated on Engleburn avenue, East City, was served this afternoon. J. A. O'Brien is acting for plaintiff, a prominent resident of Engleburn avenue district.

Notice Served Yesterday

The writ is the sequel to a notice which was served on the Warren Paving Company by J. A. O'Brien acting for his client, at ten o'clock on Wednesday morning. The notice was couched in the following terms:

"You are maintaining on the west bank of the river a paving plant which is deluging the homes and grounds of residents on the east side of the Otonabee river, with dust and smoke. This is not only a cause of great inconvenience, but is occasioning to the residents across the river from you, serious loss and damage."

"I beg to notify you that unless this nuisance is abated and the noise from the operation of the plant discontinued by noon of Thursday, the 10th instant, I will issue a writ for injunction and damages without further notice."

"This letter is being delivered to you this morning, so that during the interval you may take such steps as may be necessary to discontinue this wholesale distribution of filth and smoke, and the very annoying noise of your plant's operations. J. A. O'Brien, solicitor."

It is learned on good authority that almost the entire populace of the Engleburn avenue district is up in arms against this alleged nuisance,

THREE INJURED ON KEENE ROAD

Automobile and Truck Are in Head-on Collision.

TWO IN HOSPITAL.

I. McNevan and Thomas Roach, of Keene, were detained at St. Joseph's Hospital last evening, as a result of serious head injuries sustained when the touring car in which they were riding was in head-on collision with a truck driven by Jack Walsh, farmer, Otonabee. The third occupant of the touring car, Leo Heard, of Indian River, who also sustained head injuries and cuts to his hands and complained of slight injury to his stomach, was allowed to go home.

The scene of the smash, which occurred at 8 p.m., was on a stretch of the Keene Road which is under construction immediately north of Jack Walsh's house. Provincial Constable Harry Thompson states that the cause of the smash is somewhat obscure, although the surface of the road was slippery at the time.

The touring car was completely wrecked, while the vat truck, in which a load of whey was being transported from Silverwood's Dairy, was overturned. It is stated that the vat was resting on top of McNevan's head as he lay in the roadway after the collision. The three men were employed on the road work which is being undertaken in the vicinity. Leo Heard was driving the car, which was owned by Roach.

The injured men were conveyed to hospital by a passing motorist, and were attended by Dr. F. O'Reilly.

Famous Italian Art Collection is Sold

LONDON, England, July 19 (Caandian Press). — Sir Joseph and Alfred Duveen have acquired for an unstated purchase price one of the greatest art collections in the world, the Gustave Dreyfus collection of works of the Italian High Renaissance period.

The purchase, it was said, was for someone else. Identity of the recipient of the works was not divulged, but it was understood they eventually would go to the United States and join other famous collections.

While the price involved in the deal was kept secret, the Dreyfus family has placed a value of between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 on the properties.

Large Carry-over Foreseen in Wheat

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., July 10 (C.P.).—Another "very large" carry-over of wheat in both Canada and United States is forecast by E. A. Ursell, statistician of the Board of Grain Commissioners. His report for the last month states that, with the end of the season only a month away, there is little doubt of an extensive hold-over, in spite of improvement in export demand during the last two weeks of June.

MR. KING REPLIES TO FERGUSON ON POWER QUESTION

Sets Forth Dominion's Offers on Subject to Province.

STATEMENT ISSUED.

Provincial Engineers Asked to Co-operate in Revising Seaway Plans.

KAMLOOPS, B.C., July 10.— (By Ray Brown, C. P. Staff Correspondent.)—A brief reply to the Kitchener speech of Premier G. Howard Ferguson, of Ontario on the St. Lawrence waterways was issued in the form of a statement by Prime Minister Mackenzie King on his arrival here last evening.

"His speech is merely a repetition of his press statement of June 30, and requires no further comment," said Mr. King. "The public will need no assistance in judging the policy of the Canadian Government from the record of its action and the correspondence as already made public."

Instead of going into the power business itself, the Prime Minister adds, "the Dominion Government had indicated that it would be prepared to agree that a Province or a Provincial agency should secure and utilize the power whether development be made by the Province or by the Dominion.

"It has also set forth an eminently clear, fair and practical basis for facilitating utilizing of power by the province."

The Statement.

The statement follows:

"I have seen to-day the Canadian Press report on Mr. Ferguson's speech at Kitchener on July 4th. I observe that Mr. Ferguson devoted the greater part of his time to assailing the Dominion Government on its position as to development of water powers in navigable streams and has heroically announced his intention to stand on guard in defense of Provincial rights against a wholly mythical attack.

"That record makes clear beyond doubt that the Dominion Government has right along made an earnest effort to reach a solution of the question on a fair and enduring

DRIVER IS FINED $30 IN COURT

Sifroy Goulet Pleads Guilty to Failing to Return to Scene of Accident.

FAILED TO SEE CAR.

Charged in Police Court this morning with not having returned to the scene of an accident in which he was implicated, Sifroy Goulet pleaded guilty and was fined $30 and costs.

The accident occurred on the Chemong Road on the evening of June 28. Goulet, in passing a car driven by James Magee, of Lindsay, struck the Lindsay car, forcing it into the ditch, where it turned over. Mrs. Magee, wife of the driver, and their son, passengers in the car, received cuts and bruises.

Goulet, it was alleged, did not stop, but a passing motorist took his number, which was handed to Provincial Traffic Officer Hornick, who after considerable detective work proved that Goulet was the driver of the car responsible for the accident.

The accused stated in court that he did stop but did not see the car in the ditch. He explained this by saying that another car drove in front of the wrecked car which shut off his view of it.

PREMIER SCULLIN IS OVERWHELMED WITH CRITICISMS

Overseas Manufacturers Protest Customs Are Almost Insuperable.

WILL MAKE UP DEFICIT.

Asserted Budget Will Aggravate Rather Than Relieve Depression.

CANBERRA, Australia, July 10 (C.P. Cable, via Reuters).—Having presented the nation with extremely bad news in the form of a $68,000,000 shortage in revenue, together with drastic increases in customs duties and internal taxes, the Labor Government of Premier J. H. Scullin is being overwhelmed by an avalanche of comment from Australia and abroad. Apparently most of it is adverse comment.

Manufacturers Protest

From abroad naturally come protests from manufacturing elements who find the commodities facing an almost insuperable customs obstacle or perhaps entirely barred. From within Australia many sections have lost no time in expressing their belief the budget brought down yesterday was a staggering blow to the community, and especially to business interests. It is asserted the budget will aggravate rather than relieve economic depression. The introduction of a sales tax, increases in income tax and increases in postages are cited.

In addition to the commodities which figured in customs increases within the past few months, the budget increases the tariff on cigarettes, cigars, tobacco, gasoline, newsprint, beer and moving-picture films.

The increased customs duties and the greater internal taxation are expected to make up almost all the deficit suffered in the past year.

NO BROADCAST HOLD-UP.

OTTAWA, Ont. July 10.—(C.P.) — With regard to the reported refusal of a radio station in Quebec City to broadcast an address of Hon. Richard B. Bennett, Conservative leader, on July 12, inquiries at the Department of Marine elicited the information that Hon. P. J. Arthur Cardin, the minister, has instructed that every facility is to be given for the broadcasting of the addresses of Premier Mackenzie King and Mr. Bennett.

By adding an extra 'plane' or wing to a monoplane being constructed in Holland the machine will have its carrying capacity increased from six to 10 passengers in a few moments.

Happy Couple Wed In Gloomy Don Jail

TORONTO, Ont., July 10 (C.P.) —A quiet wedding was solemnized in the Don Jail here to-day, when Rev. Dr. Tuggis, Swedish Minister of the Church of All Nations, united in marriage a Finnish bride and a Danish groom. Two jail officials stood up with the happy couple. After the ceremony the groom left for Burwash Reformatory, where he will be detained for a year.

PARTY SCORES LLOYD GEORGE

Action on Finance Bill Seems to Have Raised Crisis in Ranks.

ANGERED GOV'T.

LONDON, England, July 10 (C.P.) —By his action in putting the Government to the vote on the Finance Bill yesterday, when the Government was sustained by only two votes, Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George seems to have angered the Government, precipitated another crisis within the Liberal ranks and endangered the prospects of the conversations between the Government and Liberals.

The Laborite organ, The Daily Herald, bitterly labels Lloyd George "The Chameleon of Criccieth."

As Mr. Lloyd George had said in his speech he did not wish to eject the Government but merely wished to help employment, his followers thought he would not proceed to a division. When he decided to put on the whips, the party was hopelessly divided. Perhaps the most significant fact is that one of the absent Liberals was Sir Herbert Samuel, Chief Liberal organizer. It is also stated to-day that Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman, who arrived just too late for the division, had decided to vote for the Government.

CABINET OF SILVER TO BE GIVEN GUEST

TORONTO, Ont., July 10 (Canadian Press). — Jack Guest, Toronto oarsman, who won the Diamond Sculls at Henley this year, will be presented with a cabinet of silver and an address when he arrives in his native city on the evening of July 21.

Controllers Pearce and Summerville and T. A. Murphy, president of the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen, were named to meet Guest when his boat docks at Quebec on July 26 by the Board of Control which made arrangements for the welcome to-day.

FOUR RIVERMEN DROWN IN RAPIDS AS JAM BREAKS

Account of Tragedy Delayed as Storms Cripple Telephone Wires.

MANIWAKI, Que., July 10. (C. P.) — While 200 fellow-workers looked helplessly on, four river drivers were carried to their deaths in the treacherous waters of the Malines River on Tuesday. Word of the tragedy in the Lake Kakabonga district, 90 miles north of here, was delayed by storm crippled telephone services, and reached Ottawa only early this morning.

Six Sent out in Boat.

Six men were sent out in a boat to break up a jam of logs with dynamite. Whether the break up of the jam upset the craft or the strong current in the rapids turned it over is it approached the key log is not known. Two of the men apparently stronger swimmers than their comrades, were able to conquer the turbulent waters and gain the shore. The remainder, their wild cries ringing in the ears of the horrified men on land, disappeared in the roaring current.

They were James McAllister, 41, Maniwaki; L. Riopelee, 23, Bouchette, Que.; O. Lacaille, 19, Red Chute, Que., and A. Dupont, 26, also of Red Chute.

BENNETT RENEWS HIGHWAY PLEDGE

Tory Chiefetain Opens Tour in Native Province, New Brunswick.

DEPLORES BUYING IN U.S.

NEW GLASGOW, N. S., July 10.—(By Thomas Green, C. P. Staff Correspondent.)—To his native province of New Brunswick to-day, Hon. R. B. Bennett will speak at Rexton and Moncton. To railway matters, the Conservative leader will doubtlessly give particular attention in the course of his remarks.

Speaking here last night and earlier at Antigonish, Mr. Bennett referred to the benefits which Canada would derevie from a network of good highways. Repeating his pledge for the construction of a national highway from the Atlantic to the Pacific he continued:: "We will assist in the building of main trunk highways so that the provinces will be able to utilize the money they would have to spend on trunk roads in raising the standards of secondary highways and developing tourist traffic.

The expenditure of millions of dollars annually in the purchase in the United States of iron and steel products, coal, coke and other goods drew forth his condemnation.

"To the extent," he exclaimed, "we bring in one dollar's worth of goods from the United States to replace one dollar's worth of goods that could be manufactured in Canada, we have deprived Canadians of that much work in the development of Canadian industry, so you realize that under the present policy instead of making steel in Canada we have deprived Canadian miners and steel workers of the chance they deserve and we have driven them to other countries."

HON. L. C. BELLEEY DIES AT HIS HOME IN QUEBEC

QUEBEC, Que., July 10 (C.P.)—Hon. Louis C. Belley, who was postmaster-general from September to December 1921, under the administration Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, died at his home here last night. Mr. Belley was 67 years old. He was born in St. Alexis de Grande Baie, Chicoutimi County and was educated at Laval University. He practised law in Quebec and entered politics in 1892 when he was unsuccessful candidate in Chicoutimi-Saquenay in the Dominmion elections. He was successful in the same constituency in 1896. In the elections of 1921 he was a candidate in Charlevoix.

Calcutta Sweepstake Mystery Solved; Seven Workmen Divide Half Million

LONDON, England, July 10 (Canadian Press). — The great Calcutta Sweepstake mystery caused by the telegraphing from Calcutta of conflicting numbers as to the ticket which had drawn the Derby winner Blenheim has been solved at last—and seven Barnstable workmen are happy.

The men who held the ticket which they were told had drawn Blenheim had their happiness dashed soon after the race when they were told there had been some mistake in the number. But to-day the full prize money of something like a half-million dollars was paid over to them by a London bank for division amongst them.

The seven lucky men were Percy Hogg and C. Brent, locomotive engineers; J. Lockie, a road sweeper; W. Welding, an automobile mechanic; E. M. Vanstone and F. Beer, switchmen, and F. Alford, a porter.

FEAR OF SIMON REPORT SHELVING HALTED BY IRWIN, PRESS AGREES

Speech Persuaded Large Part of Indian Opinion Conference to be Free.

HANDS OF NONE TIED.

LONDON, England, July 10 (Canadian Press Staff Correspondent, Thomas T. Champion). — Most responsible British newspapers to-day agree the speech of Lord Irwin, the Viceroy of India, at Simla yesterday, should quieten any fears that the report of the Simon Commission and its recommendations are to be shelved. The Viceroy repeated the good faith of the Imperial Government and the intention of giving Dominion status to India when the time is ripe. He labelled the Simon report a constructive contribution to the problem, but stressed that the forthcoming round-table conference in London should be left with full freedom to discuss precise proposals.

Little Ground for Controversy.

"The broad effect is to suggest there is little ground for the controversy which would divide us all into antagonistic groups," The Times says. "It is safe to say, for instance, the Viceroy would neither challenge the facts nor differ in principle from the fundamental recommendations of the Simon report. He would probably add that both the facts and recommendations might have been presented in a form which would appeal more directly to Indian opinion, and in particular that the ideal of a self-governing Dominion might have been more explicitly recognized throughout the two volumes of the report.

"The answer is that it was not the business of the Commission to be imaginative and their report in fact does point the way—perhaps the only possible way—to the evolution of a Dominion, which has already been proved in Canada, Australia, and South Arfica.

The Times makes generous acknowledgement of the manner in which the Imperial Government has supported Lord Irwin in the preservation of law and order in recent months. It urges the Government however, not to run the risk of placing an unfair burden of responsibility on the Viceroy but to formulate an Indian policy for itself, broadly common to all parties here. The Times commends the Prime Minister's recent initiation of conversations on the Round-Table Conference, with the Conservative and Liberal leaders and urges him to pursue the same course to the end.

CALGARY BLAZE RAGES 3 HOURS

Fire Does Over $72,000 Damage to Downtown Business Block.

THREE FIREMEN HURT.

CALGARY, Alta., July 10 (C.P.).—Firemen fought flames and smoke for three hours last night to save the three-storey Roberts building, in the midst of the downtown section. Half of the topmost floor of the block was ruined and damage was estimated at between $72,000 and $100,000.

Three firemen were slightly injured in the blaze.

It was one of the most spectacular fires in Calgary's history.

The stock of the Gutta Percha Rubber Company was a complete loss and damage was also sustained by the Brunswick-Balke, Warner Brothers, Beatty Washing Machine, and service station supplies companies. The fire broke out in an elevator shaft from an unknown cause.

24,373 U. S. Stills Seized During 1929

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 10 (C.P.).—Prohibition enforcement during the last fiscal year of its operation under the Treasury resulted in the arrest of 68,186 persons and seizure of 24,373 stills.

The arrests showed an increase of approximately 2,000 over the 1929 fiscal year and of approximately 7,000 in the number of stills seized. The figures included the number of arrests and seizures for 11 months of the year and estimated arrests and seizures for June

JONES SHOOTS UNDER THE PAR

Large Gallery Watches Golf Stars Tee Off in Sweltering Heat.

SMITH ERRATIC.

INTERLACHEN CLUB, Minneapolis, Minn., July 10 (C.P.).—Followed by a gallery of 5,000, sweltering in over 100 degrees of terrific heat, Bobby Jones to-day shot his first nine holes in 34, two under par, in starting his defence of the national open golf championship.

Contenders for the national open golf title ploughed forward over Interlachen's heated acres to-day under a broiling sun, with the temperature hovering around 100. Careless of sunstroke possibilities, a large gallery assembled to watch Bobbie Jones, Cyril H. Tolley, the British amateur, and the 140 other entrants swing off the first tee on the first 18 holes of the 72-hole sunbake.

Tolley started with a five and followed with a brace of fours. Horton Smith, a leading threat, was erratic, but came out of the rough in the first and managed a pair of fours.

Jock Hutchison and Jones shipped their drives from the tee as the mercury made an even hundred on the club-house thermometer. Jones was short of the green, but a neat chip and two putts gave him a par 4; Hutchison was 5. The champion missed a birdie on the third, taking 3, but beat old man par for a 4 on the fourth.

Meantime Horton Smith had two birdies and another par on the third, fourth and fifth. Cyril Tolley was having trouble. His line drives were beautiful, but his irons slipped and he was one over par on the fourth and fifth, making it on the sixth.

Jones was in the rough on the sixth but came out brilliantly. He mopped his face and missed a putt, but had a par 4. Hutchison just missed a birdie. Jones was par on the seventh, missing a ten-foot putt for a birdie.

Jones had a tricky 18-foot putt on the eighth, and his ball curled away from the hole, but par was easy. He reached the ninth green, 485 yards, with two sensational shots, and tried hard for an eagle. He had a birdie 4, and a nice nine of 34. Hutchison had 42.

KINSMEN'S CLUBS HOLD CONVENTION IN TORONTO

TORONTO, Ont., July 10. (C.P.) —The ninth annual convention of the Association of Kinsmen's Clubs of Canada opened here to-day. Formation of new clubs at Ottawa, St. Catharines, Peterborough, Windsor, Kitchener and Sarnia was reported by Major S. H. Bantick, President.

More than 200 clerks, waiters and other employees have taken permanent quarters inthe English House of Commons.

LABOR CANDIDATE IS GIVEN NARROW MAJORITY OF 179

Conservative Contestant T. A. Cook Polls 14,642 Votes Against 14,821.

BEAVERBROOK ACTIVE.

Agricultural Riding Proves Fine Testing Ground For New Issues.

AYLSHAM, Norfolk, Eng., July 10. (C.P.)—With a greatly reduced majority, Labor retained North Norfolk in yesterday's by-election. The result announced to-day was 14,821 votes for Lady Noel Buxton, Labor, and 14,642 for T. A. Cook, Conservative.

Majority Lowered.

The Labor majority in the general election had been 1883, when Rt. Hon Noel Buxton was elected. The vote then was 14,544 for Labor, 12,661 for Cook, Conservative, and 3,403 for Mrs. C. F. Hoffman, Liberal.

The by-election was due to the elevation of Mr. Buxton to the peerage, a few weeks ago, when he also resigned the post of Minister of Agriculture.

The great campaign of Lord Beaverbrook, nominally on behalf of the Conservative candidate, but in reality for his own policy of Empire Free Trade, and a tariff barrier against foreign produce, was probably the greatest single factor in the campaign. In the last by-election in West Fulham, Lord Beaverbrook conducted a somewhat similar campaign and the Conservatives wrested the seat from Labor. Consequently there was intense interest in the result of the North Norfolk election.

Agricultural Riding.

The riding is wholly agricultural and thus afforded a fine testing ground for the new issues in politics, Lord Beaverbrook's campaign and the question of tariff protection against subsidized agricultural produce coming in from other countries, notably France and Germany.

"Well, we lost a trick. Let's get on with the game," said Lord Beaverbrook, newspaper magnate and leader of the Empire free trade crusade, when he heard of the result in the by-election. He found the reduction in the majority for Labor cut from 1,883 to 179, a big comfort.

WIND STORM HITS CENTRAL ONTARIO

Trees Crash Down in Oshawa, Causing Heavy Damage.

MANY HAVE CLOSE CALLS.

TORONTO, Ont., July 10. (C.P.) — A terrific windstorm struck Central Ontario last night, causing widespread damage. The storm centred about Oshawa where trees were uprooted in every section of the city. One crashed through the roof of a factory, while another fell across hydro wires and threw one portion of the city into darkness and crippled the trolley car service.

Along the Kingston highway between Oshawa and this city trees crashed across the roadway and several motorists had narrow escapes from severe injury if not death.

In Toronto the wind struck the northern part of the city causing considerable damage. It gained velocity with distance apparently, for east of the city the wind was reported travelling at 60 miles an hour. Many persons were rescued by life saving crews when they were caught out in the lake by the sudden approach of the storm.

UNEMPLOYMENT IS DISCUSSED BY J. J. DUFFUS

High Tariff of U. S. Cannot Be Used as Object Lesson in Unemployment.

HOPE IN DUNNING BUDGET.

Dr. J. J. Craig Asks What Has Ferguson Done to Relieve the Workless.

Employment in Canada is in a more satisfactory condition than in the United States, Great Britain, and in practically all the countries of the world, J. J. Duffus, the Liberal candidate ,asserted in his address at Villiers in Otonabee last night. His assisting speakers were Dr. J. J. Craig and G. A. Gillespie. Stanley Walker was chairman of the meeting.

"Conservatives have been trying to show that whatever unemployment exists in this country at the present time is attributable to the Federal government" Mr. Duffus said. "They are trying to make the electors believe it is a logical condition. As a matter of fact unemployment is a world wide condition with Canada suffering less than practically all the other countries.

The Conservatives would have you believe that a high tariff would be a sort of cure-all, but they do not tell you that the United States, with one of the highest tariff schedules in the world has the greatest unemployment problem. In fact, so many people have returned to Canada from the United States because of the trade depression in that country that their return has become a very considerable factor in our own situation in Canada.

This is one election in which the Conservatives cannot hold up the high tariff of the United States as an object lesson to Canadians. When we look to Great Britain we find there an unemployment problem that is also far greater than ours. They have a Labour government in Britain with Ramsay MacDonald as Prime Minister, who is admitted to be one of the greatest leaders of recent times. Parliament is in session and is still discussing means for relieving the unemployment in Great Britain, but so far they have not been getting anywhere.

Hon. Mr. Bennett, the leader of the Conservative party in Canada, has proposed that he will call a special session of Parliament to talk over unempoyment as if that would provide the remedy. The British government has been trying to find a solution during many weeks of discussion but they have so far failed."

Mr. Duffus said that Mr. Bennett did not need to put the country to the additional expense of $2,000,000 for a special session of Parliament when he allowed the recent session to pass without bringing forward any suggestion of unemployment relief. The speaker said that in view of the present experiences of the United States and Great Britain in their economic depression there was no prospect of relief from a special session of Parliament or from the Conservative policye of a higher tariff.

One of the potent causes of unemployment in Canada, Mr. Duffus continued, was the failure to sell last year's wheat. Germany and Russia sold wheat to Britain on the basis of an export bonus paid by those countries.

Hope In Dunning Budget

"Our great hope this year is that we shall be able to sell our surplus wheat, and that is the bulk of it, to Great Britain" the speaker stated. "That is the hope that is held out to us in the Dunning budget, and I stand four-square behind that budget. I am convinced that it will gain wider markets for our products, especialy through closer trade rela-

144 MINERS DIE IN GERMAN MINE

Only 56 Escape at Time of Blast, Fumes Spread So Quickly.

81 BODIES RECOVERED.

NEURODE, Germany, July 10 (C.P.)—At least 144 persons lost their lives yesterday in an explosion at the Wecslaus Mine. Eighty-one bodies have been recovered, most of them burned badly. No hope is held for those remaining in the shaft.

Of 200 miners in the shaft at the time of the explosion, only 56 escaped, and those were badly injured.

The explosion in the mine occurred when a large gas pocket was suddenly tapped during blasting late yesterday. The fumes spread through the shafts so quickly that there was little chance for anyone to escape.

SEAWAY REPORT SURPRISES U. S. STATE DEPARTMENT

WASHINGTON, July 10. — The State Department has turned over to Major-General Lytle Brown, Chief of Army Engineers, the latest report of the Canadan Joint Baord of Engineers and Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission represenative recommending a double stage deep water navigation and power development in the St. Lawrence river.

Although State Department officials declined to comment on the report, received from the Canadian government a few days ago there was some surprise expressed that the report had been made public at this time.

Family Drugged In Raid on Home

Vancouver, B. C., July 10. — (C.P.) — Victims of a vicious raid on their home here by two unknown men, Mrs. C. H. All three are suffering from the effects of a drug forcibly administered by the marauders, who after the mother lost consciousness, proceeded to wreck the home.

MOORE OFFERS SOLUTION FOR UNEMPLOYMENT

Former Tariff Board Chief Would Have Employment Councils.

"SYSTEM OF WAITING JOBS."

Suggests Dominion Gov't Be Given Power to Raise and Lower Tariffs.

OSHAWA, Ont., July 10 (C.P.) — Formation of local employment councils composed of representative citizens and the granting of power to the Dominion Government, through order-in-council, enabling it to raise tariffs as wen as lower them, were two outstanding suggestions offered during an address here last night by William H. Moore, former chairman of the Advisory Board on Tariff, for remedying the prevalent unemployment problem.

Mr. Moore, who is Liberal candidate for the electoral distrct of Ontario, suggested that each year municipal, provincial and dominion governments set aside revenue in a fund to be expended only in periods of distress, premiums on insurance, a "system of waiting jobs," he termed it. And in connection with this, he continued, the local councils would have influence in determining the systematizing of the "waiting jobs."

Ward Off Unemployment

"Non-partisan body," he went, on, "devoting itself exclusively to warding off the evils of unemployment, your council will seek to suggest the creation of machinery that will render it impossible for governments to proceed prematurely with those works on the eve of an election."

In linking up the tariffs and unemployment, Mr. Moore said he believed if the Dominion Government was given the power to raise the tariffs in addition to lowering them, it should be used only after full investigation at a public hearing, and that the rates so raised remain in existence until 60 days after the meeting of Parliament, when they would expire if not renewed.

Under this arrangement, he believed, the Government would have some means of providing against unemployment and some of the disorganization of industry.

Touching on the influence of United States methods in Canadian industry, and so on Canadian employment, Mr. Moore suggested manufacturers in this country make the best things suited to Canadians and that they be made as far as possible in Canada.

While on this subject, the former Tariff Board Chairman mentioned that when "Mackenzie King substituted the Tariff Board for the Red Parlor, an expert and scientific study of the situation was made. This revealed a number of United States companies operating in Canada which enjoyed high protection and had a high turnover of business, but which did not employ very much Canadian labor.

Denies Charges

In opening his address Mr. Moore refuted charges he was connected with a printing shop at Pickering that had secured tenders for the printing of Voters' Lists. He admitted approving of the plant at Pickering for the work, and said he did so because he did not think it fair large cities should rob small cities and towns, "sapping them of their social life," as far as wages were concerned. The speaker said, employees of the Pickering shop were paid wages as high if not higher than "any other plant in Ontario."

CANADIAN TRADE BEING STRANGLED

U. S. Tariff Bill Assailed as Greediest Ever Made, By Georgian Senator.

SERIOUS LOSS.

WASHINGTON, July 10. (C. P.) — Senator George of Georgia, in a statement issued through the Democratic National Committee, assailed the administration for "strangling Canadian trade with the greediest tariff bill ever enacted."

The tariff, he said, "has squeezed more than a protesting squawk out of our northern neighbor and best customer.

"Unwittingly or not, it has made the Smoot-Hawley-Grund tariff an important issue in the forthcoming general election in Canada, to which country in 1929 we exported $948,000,000 worth of commodities, and from which we imported the same year shipments in the sum of $503,000,000 —a trade balance of $445,000,000 in our favor.

"Obviously, the loss, or the serious curtailment of our trade with the Dominion of Canada is no trifling incident. On the contrary, it presents proportions which in time may assume aspects that will have to be treated as an economic calamity."

STATUS ALTERING BY PREMIER KING HEAVILY SCORED

Provinces Should Be Consulted First, Premier Ferguson Charges.

SPEAKS IN TRENTON.

Advocates Binding Empire Closer Together on Business Basis.

TRENTON, Ont., July 10 (C.P.)— Starting his Eastern Ontario campaign in this district yesterday, Premier G. H. Ferguson declared before large audiences here last night and at Belleville in the afternoon that the Government of Premier King had no right to alter Canada's status within the Empire under the basis of Confederation, unless the Provinces are first consulted.

Challenge to King.

Coupled with this declaration, Mr. Ferguson again challenged Premier King to declare himself on the St. Lawrence River project. Commenting on the report compiled by Canadian engineers after their lengthy study of the project, the speaker said it clearly showed the power and navigation ends of the development.

During his reference to the "changing of Canada's status," the Ontario Premier pictured Premier King and Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, "romping over to England every once in a while to change the country's status. Every time they go overseas they do something more to separate us from the Motherland. I object to them altering the structure of Confederation, which was created and ratified by the provinces, when they never consult the provinces about it at all," he said.

Alluding to the engineers' report on the waterways development, which was released for publication on Wednesday, Mr. Ferguson said the Canadian Premier could no longer "say that he is being delayed in the development of navigation on the St. Lawrence due to any difficulty in connection with power. It is as clear as concrete from that report, and having disclosed it, he has reached the stage where he must announce his policy. What are you going to do about it, Mr. King?" he asked. Adding: The Province of Ontario would see to it that any canalization project was expedited.

The Ontario Premier then chose the Dunning budget as his next target for criticism. "It was unpatriotic and unnatural not to mention poor business" he said. Quoting declarations of bankers at the recent meeting of British bankers, Mr. Ferguson said these men were of the opinion Empire trade should be built on reciprocal trade agreements. This he submitted was what Mr. Bennett urged.

"We are all in favor of closer relations within the Empire" he continued. "I do not know anyone who does not believe in that. We are agreed there must be closer trade relations to consolidate the whole. Where we differ is in how you are going to accomplish those closer relations."

The speaker advocated binding the Empire together on a business basis, just as the British bankers had suggested. He urged building up Canada to build the Empire.

Ties Severed

Premier Ferguson accused the present Dominion Government of severing ties between Canada and Great Britain. "Pretty soon we will get down to the point where the only ties will be the British Governor-General, and some of them now suggest we should pick a fellow here" he went on. He added that a major part of the present Government was opposed to the Privy Council appeal.

Leslie Bell, K.C., Conservative ex-M.P., for the St. Antoine division of Montreal preceded Mr. Ferguson on the platform. Reference was made by Mr. Bell to the statement credited to John R. MacNicol, Conservative candidate in Northwest Toronto in regard to conscription. Stating he brought a message from Quebec, Mr. Bell continued, "we are not today concerned with problems connected with wars or future wars of this country; to-day we are at peace.

"I am here, ladies and gentlemen" he declared, "to tell you as fellow Canadians that I subscribe to a party the Conservative party, and the plank of conscription has never been a plan in the Conservative platform."

AFGHAN TRIBES ARE BEATEN BACK

British Machine Gunners Aided By Friendly Tribes Near Peshawar.

PLANES BOMB CAMPS.

PESHAWAR, India, July 10 (C.P.) —British machine gunners, aided by friendly tribesmen, yesterday repulsed 1,500 hostile Afghan tribesmen and silenced a field gun which they used in their attack. The engagement took place near Saratogha scout posts. The British forces then launched an attempt to clear up the position.

Hostile tribesmen have become decidedly more active in their operations about the northwest frontier province border, and it was reported here that a large force has formed with the intention of attacking friendly native sections.

British airmen flew over their camps Sunday and dropped bombs.

RALLY AT DOURO.

Wheat Exports Have Increased But Livestock Exports Decreased.

"In five years Canada has changed from a butter exporting country to a butter importing country," declared John Corkery, secretary of the local Conservative Association, speaking at Harmony Hall, Douro, last night, in behalf of the candidacy of E. A. Peck, Conservative nominee for Peterborough West. Mr. Peck also addressed the meeting, vigorously defending Bennett's "Canada First" policy.

That during the nine years of Liberal administration Canadian agriculture has been steadily declining until to-day it was in "a very stagnant condition," was Mr. Corkery's contention. Thirty-eight thousand dairy farmers had been driven from the land; and, despite opposition warnings that the New Zealand order-in-council was killing Canadian dairy farming, Mr. King had waited four years before making a move toward amelioration.

Fewer Hogs in Country.

Since 1925 the number of breeding hogs in Canada has decreased by 15 per cent., while the number of breeding hogs in New Zealand has increased by 30 per cent. Although Canada's wheat exports had increased, her exports of live stock had steadily decreased. Last year 41 million lbs. of meat had been imported to this country.

"Denmark had displaced Canada in supplying Great Britain's demands. Canada's 220 million lbs. annual pork export to Britain had dropped to a mere 21 million.

"As for sheep raising," declared Mr. Corkery, "there are fewer sheep on Canadian farms to-day than there were at Confederation."

Industry was paralyzed and unemployment rampant. "Mackenzie King asks for a lease of another four or five years. Does he merit it? I ask you fairly: Can Canada stand this pace much longer?" demanded Mr. Corkery.

Mr. Bennett recognized that Canada's trade divided itself into three parts, continued the speaker: internal, intra-Empire, and foreign. Canada must develop her domestic trade first. It was Mr. Bennett's promise to develop "Canada first, or perish in the attempt."

During 9 years of an unfavourable trade balance with the United States the King government had done nothing but speak of friendship and the inadvisability of a retaliatory policy. In the face of the Fordney-McCumber Tarift, the Liberal attitude had proved "detrimental to the best interests of Canada." Canadian live stock exports to the U.S. had dropped 80 per cent.

"A grand gesture" Mr. Corkery termed the Dunning budget, asserting that the much-vaunted countervailing duties touched only 16 out of 118 items. "If we shut out every dollar of the imports under these 16 heads," he speaker stated, "it will affect only about one and a half per cent. of the total."

The Dunning British preference clauses expressed a mere willingness to co-operate; Mr. Bennett insisted on a reciprocal agreement. "This

CRERAR STRIKES AT MR. FERGUSON

Attitude on Waterway Scheme Comes in For Heavy Attack.

ISSUE CHANGES RAPIDLY.

SIMCOE, Ont., July 10.—(By Frank Flaherty, C. P. Staff Correspondent). —Two Cabinet Ministers yesterday assailed Premier G. Howard Ferguson for his attitude on the St. Lawrence waterway and power development scheme and his activities in the Federal election campaign. They were Hon. E. Elliott, Minister of Public Works and Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Railways and Canals.

"The Prime Minister of Ontario," said Mr. Elliott, "is willing to injure the St. Lawrnce waterway if he can make political capital out of his refusal to accept the fairest possible terms for a settlement of the issue between the Dominion and the provinces."

The Dominion Government, Mr. Elliott maintained, had never as Mr. Ferguson stated, offered to recognize the legal right of the provinces to water power developed in navigable rivers. No government had the power to renounce rights conferred upon it by the constitution. What the Dominion had done was suggest what it considered a fair basis for an agreement for the development of power.

Beat Ferguson To It.

"I heard that Premier Ferguson intended to spend the last week of the campaign in Simcoe and, to use a western expression, I thought I would beat him to it and here I am," said Mr. Crerar at the outset of his speech. "In reading Mr. Ferguson's recent speech the all important issue to his mind is based on a five-cent piece.

And now Premier Ferguson tells us that the St. Lawrence water way is the big issue. It is nothing more than a smoke screen to hide the real issue. I should not be in the least surprised if he finds a new issue on which to appeal to the electors within the next few weeks.

"I have learned that the Ferguson Cabinet has been active in Ontario, particularly in the northern constituencies of Kenora and Rainy River. They have been doing all sorts of road work. Our Conservative friends talk about the five cent speech. Let me say that there is not a five cent piece for anyone suspected of voting for a Liberal.

QUARREL ENDS IN DEATH

DETROIT, Mich., July 10—A man identified as Louis Candea, former hotel proprietor, was shot to death in a saloon on West Jefferson Avenue in Ecorse at 5 a.m., to-day. The slayer escaped.

John Belford, described by police as owner of the place, said that Candea quarrelled with an unidentified man and said that the other man beat him to the draw. Belford was wounded in the hand. He was held as a material witness.

EX-SOLDIERS REMEMBER OFFICER

THREVES, Germany, July 9 (C.P.) —Police armed with tear gas bombs were kept busy all night restoring order in anti-Separatist rioting, in which windows of several shops and homes were shattered and a number of demonstrants arrested.

Former service men, with long memories, meanwhile seised the opportunity to raid a villa on the outskirts of the town not belonging to a Separatist but owned by a cigar handler who as a war-time sergeant, was alleged to have been rough with recruits.

LIBERALS ACTION SAVES LABORITE MINISTRY DEFEAT

Finance Bill Passes By Only Three Majority in British Commons.

VOTE 278 TO 275.

Over 50 Conservatives Wait at Club Before Filing in at Crucial Moment.

LONDON, Eng., July 10. (C.P.)— Prime Minister Macdonald, victor by only three votes in a House of Commons fight yesterday over the passing of the Finance Bill which nearly brought his resignation and precipitated a general election, was believed to-day to be more safely entrenched against the next attack upon his regime. This will come, probably next week, when a motion of censure presented by Stanley Baldwin, Conservative Leader, is up for vote.

There are predictions of a split in the Liberal following as a consequence of tactics of the leader, David Lloyd George, in so nearly forcing an election and ministerial defeat

This reference was to 50 or more witness he did not really wish.

The length to which a section of the Conservative following including many notable younger members, went to bring about the Government defeat, excited almost as much comment at the closeness of the call. Observers termed the strategy "subterfuge" and in some quarters the expression "not cricket" was heard.

Tory Tactics

which he called to high heaven to Conservatives remaining at St. Stephens Club, nearby, until the moment of the division ,as if to infer their absence was genuine and to lull the Laborites into a sense of false security, motivated by which some of them would absent themselves from the House before the vote.

At the crucial moment the Conservatives filed into the anti-Government lobby, along with their fellow Tories of more Conservatives following and with David Lloyd George and many of his Liberals it was an exciting moment and one which had the Laborites badly scared. Four Liberals, realising how close the Government was to defeat, hurried into the ministerial lobby then, and others abstained from voting, resulting in the totals, 278 to 275, favorable to the Ministry.

TORONTO POLICE DENY DISCRIMINATION CHARGE

TORONTO, Ont., July 10 (C.P.).— As a result of allegations made by local Communists to the electoral officer at Ottawa that the Toronto police were interfering with local Communist candidates for Parliament during their open-air meetings in the parks and on street corners, a communication has been received by the Police Commission asking for the facts.

When approached last evening, Chief Constable Draper declined to make a statement, but His Honor Judge Morson of the Commission emphatically denied that any discrimination was being shown among the various classes of candidates.

LIBERALS HOLD BUMPER RALLY AT HASTINGS

Aid to Veterans and Old Age Pensions Among Questions Discussed.

SEVERAL SPEAKERS

Candidate for Northumberland Speaks at Length on New Zealand Treaty.

HASTINGS, July 10.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The Liberals of Hastings turned out in large numbers on Tuesday night for the meeting in the interests of W. A. Fraser. The meeting was one of the largest held in Hastings in some years. Music was furnished by the Excelsior Orchestra.

J. J. Collins, vice-president of the Liberal party for Hastings acted as chairman. In calling the meeting to order the chairman explained its purpose in the interests of electing a man in Northumberland County who will get out and work and fight for the county in which he represents as well as the Dominion of Canada.

Mrs. E. V. Tanner of Toronto was the first speaker called. In opening her remarks she said it was a great pleasure for her to address a meeting which held such a percentage of women, in fact it was the largest meeting she ever addressed. Mrs. Tanner did not make her address to the women as long as she intended to owing to the special meeting called for Wednesday at two o'clock, to address the women and to organize them.

Mr. Mullens of Norwood then delighted the audience with a violin solo.

Popular Candidate.

D. J. Lynch of Campbellford, the next speaker, in a few words urged the Liberals to take off their coats and go to work and make sure of the election of W. A. Fraser. Mr. Lynch expressed his delight at the way the Liberals of Campbellford were organizing, which he was sure was due in no small way to the popularity of Mr. Fraser.

Aid To Veterans.

Major H. P. Snelgrove confined his address mainly to the returned men for whom the King Government had done so much for. The speaker said he could not let the occasion go by without referring to the beautiful war memorial on the town hall grounds on which were the names of boys who went overseas with him in the early part of the war.

In touching on the present depression in the country he said he did not hear Mr. Ferguson taking any blame but during the provincial election of last fall he was after the glory on the good times the country was enjoying. In dealing with veteran legislation, in which the King Government did everything to help the returned men, the speaker told a few of the facts. They have voted $10,000 annually to the Canadian Legion to carry on their adjustment office at Ottawa, had taken away the time limit whereby a pension could be applied for, had also tribunals in which pension cases could be heard.

In closing his address Major Snelgrove brought to the attention of the veterans the fact that during the past four years Mr. Fraser had secured pensions for 112 returned veterans, this being done when he was not a member. Then what would his limit be as a member of the Federal Government.

Old Age Pension Bill.

Gordon Pook of Cobourg, teacher of Cobourg Collegiate, was the next speaker called. In starting his address the speaker referred to an incident that happened during the last provincial election, during which he spoke in the interests of the defeated candidate, Dr. Robertson. On the night of the election the banners and streamers were taken down from in front of the Liberal committee rooms in Cobourg and strung in front of the Collegiate. This time he was not afraid of this happening as he was on the winning ticket.

Mr. Pook dealt at length on the old age pension bill that was brought in by the Liberal Government in 1926 but was turned down by the Senate, brought up at the next session and passed by the Senate in 1927. The speaker could not understand why the Province of Ontario should have been the fifth province to take up the old age pension, and then not until the fall of 1929 during which time the provincial election was held. In closing, the speaker touched on the promise made by Mr. Fraser in the last election that he would get an esplanade at Cobourg, although defeated he went right ahead with his promise and today work is going full steam ahead on the job at Cobourg.

New Zealand Treaty.

W. A. Fraser, the next speaker, received a thunderous ovation on rising on the platform. In opening his address Mr. Fraser stressed the point on the seriousness of the undertaking of being candidate. He thought that his many years of public life, both as mayor of Trenton, as a manufacturer and a farmer he was worthy of the confidence and support of the electors of Northumberland. He assured the voters that as far as himself and his supporters were concerned the campaign would be fought strictly on its merits, and if his opponents did not stick to the same tactics he would not reply.

In touching on a few of the main topics of the election, he thought as Hastings being in the centre of a rural district the New Zealand Treaty would be of interest. This treaty was passed in 1925 when it was found Canada was consuming more butter than she was producing. As soon as Canada got in a position where she was producing more than she was consuming the treaty was cancelled. In explaining a few items on the Budget he showed the farmers present how the King Government was protecting them by the duty on fruits and vegetables. In touching on the unemployment question the speaker was quite sure that there was very little in the County of Northumberland, there was more unemployment in the city of Detroit than in the whole of the Dominion of Canada.

The candidate urged the people not to let their sympathy be lead away by such shameful pictures as has come to his notice of a mother with baby in arms supposed to be starving.

Mr. Faulkner of Toronto, the last speaker, dealt briefly on the subjects of the day as the hour was late and he hoped to address the audience at a later date.

The meeting was brought to a close with the singing of God Save the King.

ST. ANDREW'S STAGE SUCCESSFUL FETE

CAMPBELLFORD, July 10 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Fine weather and a large crowd favored the annual garden party of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Campbellford, held on the grounds of the parsonage on Tuesday evening.

Gaily lit with electric lights, and with a band in attendance, a very pleasing and delightful supper was served on the lawn by the ladies as a preliminary to the fun and social tendencies of the gathering.

The booths were gaily decorated with numerous colors, and there one could indulge in a hot dog, ice cream, cold drinks, or candies. The centre of attraction for the children was the fish pond, which drew a large crowd of children, of all sizes and ages, all evening. Flowers were also very much in evidence, and that booth was well patronized, as well as the children who sold them on the grounds.

The financial result was very satisfactory, the whole fete being voted one of the best ever.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

TORONTO, July 10. — Live stock receipts at the Union Stock Yards yesterday morning were 808 cattle, 558 calves, 1,012 hogs, 1,063 sheep and lambs.

Due to late arrivals on Tuesday night, leftovers on the local market totalled 400 head. Trade is active, with prices steady on all grades. Choice heavy steers brought $9.00 to $9.35, with best handy butchers selling as high as $9.00. Good cows changed hands between $6.75 and $7.40, and fed calves ranged from $9.70 to $11.70.

Calves were firm at 10 and 11 cents for choice, with commons down to 6 cents.

Hogs were steady at $11.00 for bacons, or $12.00 w.o.c. Selects were a $1.00 premium.

Lambs sold 50 more at $13.50 for good ewes and wethers, with bucks a $2.00 discount. Sheep were slow at $4.50 a cwt. top.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, July 10.— The butter market continued the higher trend at Montreal yesterday, with wholesale levels at 27¼c to 27½c per pound for Eastern Township No. 1 pasteurized. The price compared with 26¼c at the close of last week. Offerings were not plentiful. Butter is being stored here for use next fall and winter. Receipts were 132 boxes.

The cheese, egg and potato markets showed no change. Cheese receipts were 1,840 boxes, while 1,338 cases of eggs arrived.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, July 10.— Heat waves robbing the soil of moisture and leaving burnt areas in grain fields over wide stretches Northwest hoisted wheat and corn values yesterday.

Broadened buying of future deliveries both of wheat and corn exceeded any volume attained of late, but the bulge in prices led to heavy selling and the wheat market underwent considerable reaction before the close. Reports of extremely high temperatures and of urgent need of rain were received from spring wheat territory in Canada as well as in the United States.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous, 5-8c to 1 1-8c a bushel higher than Tuesday's finish. Corn closed 7-8c to 1 7-8c advance, oats 1-4c to 3-4c up, and provisions were unchanged to a rise of 17c.

Sheep 400; fat lambs 25.50 higher; bulk better grades 11.50-12.00; common to medium largely 8.50-11.50.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, July 10. — Fear that the current heat wave will take a toll of sun-scorched crops brought another bull movement to the wheat market yesterday. Values marched upward in stride with Prairie thermometers that were well above the 90-degree post for the second straight day. October delivery wheat eased over the dollar line to finish at $1.00½ and net gains in the trading months were 1c to 1¼c.

Exports to foreign countries continued light and cash wheat attracted little attention. Coarse grains advanced in sympathy with wheat.

MUSICAL CONCERT COMPLETE SUCCESS

Program Given by North Smith Silverton Band and Warsaw Talent.

WARSAW, July 10. (Examiner Correspondence.)— The concert given on Friday evening at Glenavy Dun, the home of David Miller, by the North Smith Silverton Band, and some local talent, in aid of the Warsaw Fire Protection Fund, was a complete success.

The ball game was an interesting one and the booth under the management of the village storekeepers netted a fair profit and the Fund had $25 for its share.

Seats were arranged on the lawn for the program, for which Dr. Munro was chairman and opened with a selection by the band, "Colonel Minor." Henry Batten sang, "Lay My Head Beneath a Rose," and Mr. Branscome and Everett Graham gave a cornet and trombone duet, "Militaire."

Mr. Eikenar spoke on co-operation. "Life is co-operation we get out of life just as much as we put into it. The more we put in the more we get out. Therefore, it behooves us to put in all we can. Live to do good and follow the footsteps of Jesus."

The Silvertone Quartette gave the "The Bells of St. Marys," and the Warsaw male quartette gave their pie song. Mr. Branscome gave a cornet solo, "The Trumpeter." The Rev. Mr. Wilkinson who had just arrived in the village spoke of the difficulties of saying good-byes to old friends and hello to new ones; of community work and expressed the hope that all would work socially and spiritually for the progress of the Kingdom of God.

The Silvertone Band rendered "Sweeter as the Days Go By," and E. Graham gave a trombone solo, "Gaiety". Mr. Simpson spoke strongly on community life, as the entertainment was a community work gotten up for the protection of the community. "We are not co-operating with our neighbors if we do not go beyond the limit of the law and simply refrain doing evil, we must do good, have friendships which are natural one with another. God created us to live lives of usefulness and this is possible only if carried out on the principles Jesus laid down."

The brass quartette rendered "Call to Arms," saxaphone waltz, W. S. Anderson recited, "The Owl", and B. Graham gave a cornet solo, "The Hippodrome."

The members of the Silvertone consist of the Rev. Mr. Branscome, Messrs. Bert Graham, Everett Graham and Nicholls, with Miss Nickolls, pianist.

Carroll "Vanities" Raided by Police

NEW YORK, N.Y., JJuly 10.—(C.P.).—The fall of the curtain at yesterday's matinee of the eighth edition of Earl Carroll's "Vanities" was the signal for a police raid in which nine of the production's principals were arrested, charged with putting on an indecent show.

The raiding officers carried eleven warrants, but two of them, calling for the arrest of Carroll and Louis Lotti, treasurer of the New Amsterdam Theatre, could not be served. Carroll was said to be out of town and Lotti was not found.

EDWARDS TO SPEAK AT LAKEFIELD MEET

Director of Canada Cement Company to Support J. J. Duffus on Friday Night.

One of the principal Liberal meetings in this riding outside the city will be held at Lakefield Friday evening, July 18.

This rally in behalf of J. J. Duffus will be featured by an address by Gordon Edwards, ex-M.P., a director of the Canada Cement Company, and Mr. Duffus will also speak.

Saturday night's meeting at the committee rooms in the Duffus building at the corner of Water and Charlotte streets, will present a program of speeches by Mr. Duffus, John Dewart, I. P. McNabb, John Marshall and Joseph Wearing.

GIFT PRESENTED TO REV. W. G. FLETCHER

Pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Westwood, Honored by Congregation.

WESTWOOD, July 10.—(Examiner Correspondence.) — Rev. W. G. Fletcher was presented with a handsome motor rug, the gift of the Women's Missionary Society and the Sunday School of St. Andrew's Church, at the annual Sunday school picnic held at Birdsall on Wednesday.

During the afternoon a farewell address was read by Mrs. John Sargent while the presentation was made by Miss Janet Brackenridge. Rev. Mr. Fletcher replied, expressing his appreciation of the gift in a few words, after which all joined in singing, "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The usual sports were enjoyed and the following are the winners of the various races: Tiny tots—1, Berta Brackenridge; 2, Dorothy Cardwell; 1, Ronald Warner, 2, Jack Warner; 3, Harry Commiskey; 1, Donald Cameron, 2 Vernon Warr, 3 Stewart Commiskey. Potato race —Dorothy Cardwell, Margaret Brackenridge, Berta Brackenridge. Cap race—Donald Cameron, Stewart Commiskey, Vernon Warr. Girls, 8 to 10 years, straight race —Jean Sargent, Edith Mortlock, Isabel Sargent. Shoe race—Isabel Sargent, Edith Mortlock, Jean Sargent. Potato race—Jean Cameron, Irvin Warner, Jean Sargeant. Peanut race—Isabel Sargeant, Edith Mortlock, Dorothy Cardwell. Winners' race—Isabel Sargeant, Jean Sargeant, Jean Cameron.

Boys' races—straight race— Fred Hewie, Fred Clysdale. 3-legged race—Everet Morris and Leslie Sargent; Fred Howie and Fred Clysdale; cap race— Donald Cameron, Fred Clysdale; straight race— Leslie Sargent, Donald Cameron.

Anniversary Services.

The anniversary services of St. Andrew's church were held on Sunday morning and evening. The church which has undergone a complete change of decoration presented a beautiful and pleasing appearance, and Rev. H. Bell, pastor of the new Hastings-Westwood circuit, preached two very fine sermons. A male voice choir at the evening service contributed special music.

DAIRY FARMERS LEAVING LAND SAYS CORKERY

British preference doesn't mean anything" declared Mr. Corkery. "Britain will buy where goods are cheapest."

Farm Depression

Unemployment and farm depression occupied the greater part of Mr. Peck's attention during a 45-minute address.

"It is our duty," asserted the candidate, "to build 'Canada first' as a part of the British Empire. The stronger we are, the stronger the Empire will be." Mr. Bennett was not a foe of Empire, as Liberal speakers were claiming; he had worked in the interests of the British Empire all his life. What the Conservative leader insisted on, was the development of Canada's domestic industries first, and then the giving of the preference to Great Britain instead of to the United States.

Mr. Peck scored the government's foreign preference treaties, asserting that Canada lost in this regard due to the fact that her intermediate tariff rates were fixed, whereas those of most other countries were variable.

For example, he stated, under preferential treaties, Italian and German watches were flooding the Canadian market, while large Canadian factories such as the Peterborough Westclox were forced to close down for a protracted period or continue on part time.

Regarding last year's shortage of Canadian butter, Mr. Peck laid it at the door of the Liberal Government's treaty with New Zealand. There had been, he asserted, a decrease of 140,000 head of dairy cattle in this country since the issuance of the New Zealand Order-in-Council under the Australian Treaty; while New Zealand had registered an increase of 100,000 head over the same period.

"I blame the Mackenzie King policies for unemployment," declared Mr. Peck. "The Government has expended three million dollars every year to bring in people to this country who can't find work when they get here." Mackenzie King's promise to alter the immigration policy was characterized by Mr. Peck as an "election trick."

A gesture towards British trade and slight protection for the iron and steel industry were the best things that could be said for the Dunning budget, Mr. Peck maintained. There had been no added protection for such commodities as clocks and woollens. Liberal policies had made Canada an importer of woollen goods instead of a producer. "If the Dunning budget is a good thing, why wasn't it brought forward years ago," the speaker demanded.

Mr. Peck spoke highly of the personal qualities of his opponent, J. J. Duffus, and expressed appreciation at the way in which the local campaign was being conducted. "My appeal is not on my own merits," he announced; "I offer myself to you because I am opposed to the Mackenzie King policies. Mr. King says Canada is prosperous. I ask you to look about you. Is it prosperous?"

He cited the Grisdale letter announcing that Canada no longer exporter eggs and butter and that exports of other farm products had fallen off until they were almost negligible.

Arthur Carveth of Douro, who held the chair at the meeting, declared that he was "on Mr. Peck's platform with both feet." He had thrown party considerations aside, he stated, because he felt that farm protection was imperative. The Canadian dairy farmer would cease to exist under another year of King butter treaties, he felt.

Sun-tanned, muscled with steel, they drink this fine old ginger ale

THE lithe, active men and women of this country find keenness and exhilaration in "Canada Dry." It is the sportsmen's beverage. For in it sportsmen find the quality of sport itself, the quality of the game well played, basic excellence.

"Canada Dry" has basic excellence. Its very foundation is "Liquid Ginger"—which we make from selected Jamaica ginger root by a special process. This process is exclusively controlled by us and, unlike any other method, retains for "Canada Dry" all of the original aroma, flavour and natural essence of the ginger root. Rigid laboratory control assures uniformity, purity and highest quality. A special process of carbonation enables "Canada Dry" to retain its life and sparkle long after the bottle has been opened.

No wonder this fine old ginger ale has won the approving nod of connoisseurs, the approval of sportsmen the world over. No wonder it is served in countless homes. Serve it in yours, today!

WILL AVERT DAMAGE.

So much harm to tourist trade is likely to develop from the publication in an Ohio newspaper of an article declaring that visitors to Canada must be provided with birth certificates and other documents that the announcement that Ontario Government officials have taken steps to have full publicity given to a denial of this report will occasion considerable relief.

The Examiner called attention to this matter in yesterday's issue.

In some quarters the view is taken that the article was published for the purpose of keeping American citizens from visiting Canada, but probably the mistake was an honest one, arising out of a hasty reading of information promulgated by the Canadian Government for the benefit of intending tourists.

In any case, however, the promptness of Ontario officials in calling attention to the fact that no changes have been made in the regulations governing the admission of tourists will do much to offset the damage done by the circulation of this misleading report.

It is to be hoped in this connection that the Ohio paper responsible for the publication of the story will be given an opportunity to put the truth before its readers.

ANOTHER VETERAN GONE.

Another of the old guard of veteran Peterborough citizens has joined the great majority in the passing of David H. Moore, one of the city's best known residents, whose death has brought sorrow to a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Mr. Moore for many years had been prominent in many lines of local activity, in business, in church work and in sport, and his genial presence will be missed by numerous organizations as well as by individual citizens.

He was one to whom was entrusted the comparatively rare gift of a spirit that remained young despite the passing of the years; he numbered among his friends many young people who whom he was alays able on equal terms so far as cheerfulness and blitheness were concerned.

As a curler and a lawn bowler he was known throughout the country.

His own skill as a player and his unflagging interest in the welfare of the Peterborough Curling Club and the Lawn Bowling Club were recognized on all sides, and by none will his death be more generally mourned than by the members of these two sporting organizations, who will remember Mr. Moore as a comrade and a colleague worthy of the esteem and confidence of all who knew him.

HOW MANY WILL VOTE?

There are over 21,000 voters on the list in Peterborough West for the coming election.

It will be interesting to note what percentage of that number will be registered on July 28th when the battle of the ballots will be staged.

Certain it is that the fact that the election is being staged in the middle of the holiday season will have some effect in keeping down the total vote.

Doubtless the party organizations in checking their lists are discovering that a number of voters upon which they could ordinarily count will be far away from Peterborough on election day.

But making allowance for that condition, there is no reason why one of the largest votes in the history of the riding should not be polled—unless Jupiter Pluvius interjects that rather rare July occurrence, an all day's rain.

Normal summer weather should make it easy to get out the vote, and in that respect the coming election offers an advantage that has been missing from some other political campaigns that were staged in wintery or stormy weather.

It is stated in some sections of the country that fully 40 per cent. of the vote on the lists is usually not polled; Peterborough West can surely make a much better showing than that on this occasion.

TWELVE SAFETY SUGGESTIONS.

The number of drowning accidents reported from all parts of Ontario makes the circulation of the Safety League's annual poster giving twelve suggestions to bathers and canoeists a matter of considerable importance.

There is nothing new in these rules for safety, but apparently they have not yet been generally learned, and there is therefore justification for bringing them again to the attention of the public. Here they are:

1. Learn the Prone pressure method of resuscitation.
2. Bathe in protected areas only.
3. If you have heart trouble do not go in swimming.
4. Wait two hours after eating before going into the water.
5. When diving make sure the water is deep enough to ensure safety.
6. Do not bathe or swim alone. It is safer to have companions with you in case of an accident.

Re canoes:

1. Unless you can swim; unless you can keep a cool head—stay out of a canoe.
2. After starting, do not change seats and do not stand up, in either canoe or rowboat.
3. If you have a passenger who wants to "rock the boat," put him ashore.
4. You take a "fool's chance" if you ride the waves of a steamboat. The chance-taker is the accident-maker.
5. If upset, lay your hands on the canoe or paddle; either will keep you afloat until help arrives.
6. Do not attempt to use a canoe or rowboat in rough water.

If the number of boys selling magazines this summer is any criterion, our colleges are going to have a record attendance this fall.—Guelph Mercury.

SUBMARINE EXPLORATIONS.

Man has done wonders by exploring land. he has explored hitherto inaccessible territory by means of airplanes, and Sir Hubert Wilkins plans to reach the South Pole next year by means of a submarine, and now something is being done to explore the depths of the sea. That is to say, men are now attempting to go further down than it has been possible for them to do before.

Man knows very little about what marine life and marine flora are like. Until quite recent times no diving apparatus has been made which could withstand pressure at a greater depth than three hundred feet. Even then, the diver groped his way about with a lantern which had little penetrative power, and the appearance of the ocean bed beyond such depths has been a sealed book. Drag-nets have scooped up all sorts of queer fish and crustaceans at a depth of six hundred feet, but as to their habits that has been a matter of guesswork.

Remarkable strides have recently been made by the United States navy and by William Beebe, famous American naturalist, explorer and oceanographer. Science has come to their aid, and within the past few weeks divers and Mr. Beebe have been lowered to a depth of over 1,400 feet. These diving suits, are really small steel caissons, fitted with powerful searchlights to illumine the Stygian darkness. Fourteen hundred feet is not much compared with the miles that parts of the ocean bed are known to extend to, but it is a very great advance on previous achievements, and it opens up fascinating possibilities.

Mr. Beebe is an extraordinary man, intensely interested in his work, and he may accomplish more in this line than any other man living. He is a man of amazing courage, as anyone who reads his book, "The Cruise of the Arcturus," will find. He held the theory that sharks are harmless to men unless attacked, and to prove it he descended into shark infested waters in a special diving suit which gave him freedom of action, carrying nothing in his hand except a pronged stick with which to help himself along the bed of the sea. He stood there alone below the water, so close to big sharks that he looked into their eyes and they never touched him. All that happened was that other big marine animals bumped against him and nearly knocked him off his feet.

The sea contains many wonders, some of which will soon be revealed.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

LOOKING FOR WORK.

(Editorial in the New York Times)

To be out of work is no disgrace, though it is very uncomfortable if a man has a wife and family to support and no immediate prospects of employment. But there is still a lingering disapproval among people who have never experienced the economic insecurity of the job-hunting father, of a man who remains out of work for several months. If he had not some defect of character or lack of ability, or if he tried harder, he could certainly get something to do. That has been for many years the feeling of what an anonymous writer in the July Harper's calls "middle-class haughtiness." She is the wife of a man who was out of work for five months, and is no longer in the inexperienced group who say: "Well, if those men really wanted work they could get it."

Her own husband's long failure to find work she attributes to causes over which he had no control. Present-day business, with its mergers and the financial depression of many months, threw him and numerous others in his line out of work. He had been in the advertising department of a manufacturing concern at a salary of $7,000. An upheaval in the organization had forced out the head of the department, and the new director gradually got rid of all the men who had been engaged by his predecessor. Illness the year before had taken all the family savings except $800. The man started to look for work, with confidence that the prestige of his former position and his credentials would enable him to get a comparable place with a good firm quickly.

Some of his friends in the advertising business were also looking for work. One had been earning $8,000, another $10,000 a year. They advised him not to offer his services at a lower rate than his previous salary, as his ability would thus appear questionable to prospective employers. He went to dozens of firms and answered many advertisements, filled out two page questionnaires and did not have a single offer for five months. His wife had worked before their child was born, and she had a number of part-time jobs during his time of unemployment, but the savings dwindled, winter came on, Christmas was marked by news of another friend just fired and nerves grew daily more strained.

The story has a happy ending. The man finally got work by going to the head of a firm with which he had had friendly business relations for some years and telling his story. There was no real place for him, but one was made at half his previous salary, with promise of increase as he fitted into the organization. It is not easy to manage on a salary cut in two, but that is by no means the worst feature of the family's present situation, which seems splendid to them in contrast with the preceding five months. It is the sense of living on the edge of a precipice, common to all the "initiated," that haunts them. Illness and unforeseen circumstances may put them back into the old miserable state of uncertainty. The wife asks: "In a country like ours, where the real wealth is so vast that the liveliest imagination can scarcely comprehend it, is there not enough corporate intelligence and good-will to do away with the mighty load of human misery borne by three million men out of work?"

THE GRINGO PRIVATEER

By PETER B. KYNE

CHAPTER II.

"I agree with you, sir, that, had I not acted with a commendable sagacity, thereby eliminating most of that long chance, I would even now be sitting on the top of a pink cloud twanging a harp."

"I warned you, didn't I?"

"You did—and you meant it and I knew you meant it. We're merely deferring the obsequies, Mr. Bruce."

"What is the big idear, Burney?"

"You owe me two months' wages and I want to collect it from you while you're living. It would involve a year's time and considerable red tape to collect it from your executor."

Martin Bruce's thin smile broadened into an appreciative grin. "Well, there's sense in that, Burney. I never intended beatin' you out of it. You could have had a check the day you quit if you hadn't been in such a hell fired hurry to vamoose."

"A mere tribute to my respect for you, sir. Shall we go over to the bank as soon as you have finished here?"

"Certainly." And five minutes later Martin Bruce, preceded tactfully by Ken Burney, approached the cashier's cage in the bank, where Bruce shoved a check, endorsed by Burney, under the grille. "This is the endorser," the old rascal announced, jerking a thumb at Ken Burney. "I identify him and O.K. the endorsement. Give him the money.

"Burney scooped the bills off the counter and he and Bruce left the bank in the same order they had entered it. "Mind walking down to the livery stable with me?" the young man suggested. "I'm going to saddle up and leave town. After I'm gone you can go back to the barber shop and recover your pistols."

Martin Bruce, for reasons apparent to the reader, offered no objection. He stood around on the livery stable floor while a hostler led Rowdy out and saddled him. Thereupon Ken Burney paid his bill, climbed aboard and raised his hat in courteous farewell to Martin Bruce.

"Just as well you're leavin' the country," the latter called after him. "Take my advice, young feller, an' keep goin'."

Burney pulled up and rode back. "I'm not leaving the country, Mr. Bruce. It requires more moral persuasion that any dirty cow thief can bring to bear to make me lower my tail. I'm on the payroll of the Bardin Land & Cattle Company, and provided by conduct is exemplary, I expect to remain there."

"You called me a cow thief," the old man rasped. "I'll make you prove that, Burney."

I intend to prove it, and when I do, this country will be too hot to hold you, you old wolf. You've got to be taught that the rough and tumble methods of your youth have become declasse. You should reform. Cattle rustling on the scale you practice it went out of fashion quite a number of years ago."

Martin Bruce scratched his head. "Lemme se, now," he said with great good nature. "The Bardin outfit ships from the station in Cochise County, Arizona. I don't know whether you're aware of it or not, young man, but I'm the sheriff of Cochise County, and in my jurisdiction it's against the law to pack a gun, open or concealed, without a permit from the sheriff."

Burney smiled sweetly. "When you frisk me for one I shall not resist—and there'll be quite a number of Bardin riders on hand to take care of you in the event you decide to kill me for resisting the inspection. The trouble with you, Mr. Bruce, is that you take in too much territory. In Arizona you're sheriff with authority to enforce the law, in New Mexico you're a thief with courage enough to defy the law. But remember. You're amendable to New Mexico law, so watch your step."

"I can roll my own hoop," the older man replied, and stalked away uptown with what dignity he could muster. Ken Burney watched him until he turned a corner, then rode back into the livery stable, put up his horse and in the harness room engaged in a game of crib bage with the proprietor for three hours, being careful, however, to sit facing the door.

After a while he strolled up to the bank and requested the paying teller to give him five dollars in brand new twenty five cent pieces in exchange for a five dollar bill. From the bank he repaired to a drug store where he purchased a quart of bichloride solution, a 4¼-by-5¼ inch folding camera and a quantity of film. He then returned to the livery stable, saddeld Rowdy, packed his worldly effects on his pack pony and rode south and east, hoping that his ruse of depar ture earlier in the day had worked on Martin Bruce. In all probability the old sinner would suspect him of having made tracks for El Ranchito.

He rode fast and at sunset was well down in El Cajon Bonita below the international boundary. After selecting a camp in the bed of an arroyo through which a thin trickle of water still flowed, he watered his horses, hobbled them and turned them loose to graze. From his pack he took a skillet, a coffee pot and food and prepared supper, after which he put out his little fire, rolled up in his blankets and slept the sleep of the carefree and innocent.

He was up before dawn and had disposed of breakfast before sunrise. After catching up his horses, he tethered the pack pony in the arroyo,sa ddled Rowdy and with his camera swinging from the pommel and the bottle of bichloride solution in his inner coat pocket, rode out across the valley. Presently he was riding among cattle that wore the brand of the Bardin Land & Cattle Company. In general they were good-grade Herefords with the usual Hereford markings, but from time to time he came cross cows that showed a strong cross of Shorthorn or Durham.

When he found a lusty calf running by the side of such cows and the calf exhibited variegated coloration and was unbranded, he carefully photographed mother and calf from in front and from both sides, then roped the calf, hog-tied it, made a slit about an inch long in the hide inside the left foreleg just above the knee, rinsed his fingers in a dash of the bichloride solution, deluged a new, bright silver quarter piece with it, slipped the coin into the slit and worked it well down in the sheath between the hide and the muscle, after which he cast the calf loose.

By the middle of the afternoon he had secretly tagged with germ-proof silver quarter-dollars twenty head of calves and photographed them and their mothers, so he decided to call it a day and returned to his camp in the arroyo, where he again hobbled his horses and turned them loose to graze, cooked himself an early supper and spent the night in the arroyo.

The following morning he was up and on the road by daylight; late that night he rode into headquarters at El Ranchito. When he repaired to the mess hall to honey the cook into giving him a late snack, he could not help noticing the alacrity with which that harassed individual hastened to assure him of prompt service. Nor did the cook hail him familiary as Smokey. On the contrary, he called him Mr. Burney, with much unction, and fried him a steak, which he served on the private table with the red tablecloth.

Burney immediately carried his meal over to one of the long tables where the help ate. "You're very kind and considerate, cookie, old son," he declared, "but while Mr. Graydon remains on the ranch I think we'll just keep that table sacred to him. If he should invite me to eat there, that would be different. But he hasn't."

His supper eaten, Burney telephoned to the king. "Ken Burney speaking, sir. Mr. Graydon instructed me to report to you the moment I returned to the ranch. I have returned."

"You've taken your sweet time about it. Come over immediately. I'm on the western veranda. Don't bother to announce yourself."

Three minutes later His Majesty was interested to hear a man running at top speed along his veranda. He looked up just as Ken Burney turned the corner, running, and with a broad jump landed squarely in front of him. He greeted the somewhat astonished king with a breezy, military salute.

"The late Mr. Burney reports to His Majesty," he announced.

"What's your mad hurry, you young idiot?"

"Mr. Graydon informed me that speed was Your Majesty's middle name and that whenever you instructed a man to report to you that man had better take it on the run, or get fired."

"You're too doggoned literal," the king laughed in spite of himself. "So you went to town for a hair-cut, eh? Where have you been since?"

"Well, after the barber finished with me I had to collect two months' pay due me from Martin Bruce—"

"You lunatic! What happened?"

"He paid me. Tried to kill me first, but as the ancient philosopher once remarked, 'to be forewarned is to be forearmed.' In other words, I got the drop on Martin and he came through like a sport."

"Tell me about it," the king urged. "Nobody ever tells me anything except hard-luch stories. Make me laugh, son."

So Ken Burney told him in meticulous detail of his encounter with Martin Bruce and the king did not laugh.

"He tried to draw on you and got tangled in the barber's apron. Was his gun in the holster or in his hand when he saw you had the drop on him?"

"It was in his hand."

"For the love of life why didn't you bust him? A clear case of a self-defence. You had three barbers as witnesses that you spoke pleasantly to the man and he attempted to shoot you. Why, the coroner's jury would have exonerated you. Boy, boy, you'll never get another chance at him as lovely as that one. You had a good hand and you played it like a foot. I'm ashamed of you."

"You needn't be—yet. I told you I wasn't hiring out as a killer. Of course I'll kill if I have to—in self-defense, but it's always been my policy to walk around a fight."

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

A Thought

CHEERFUL PEOPLE

If you will reflect a moment you will agree that you always feel yourself refreshed by the presence of cheerful people. Then can not you see that it is almost a duty upon your part to make an earnest effort to confer that pleasure upon those you are with. If you will never allow yourself to see anything gloomy, but will strive at all times to be cheerful you will see that half the battle is won.

What To-day Means To You.

"CANCER."

If July 10 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9 a.m. to 1:50 a.m., 4:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. and 11 p.m., to midnight. The danger periods are from 7 a.m. to 8 a.m., and 1 p.m. to 2-30 p.m.

Business depression is anticipated on this date, and Saturn may be blamed. Take care of the things in hand, and do not attempt a change, or to launch anything new. Do not place too much confidence in friends—you have some false ones.

The child born on this July 10 will have splendid ability, but its success will be impeded by adverse circumstances. It will be a natural history student, and will be interested in architecture. It will have a friendly disposition, and will make friends most readily.

You may be a wizard at figures, but you are no good at the arithmetic of life, which is well worth practising. You are blindly thinking that you are hard done by as far as Fate is concerned. You have never properly added up the good things that have come your way, without the asking; nor have you subscribed from the above what you are pleased to call your ill-luck. The result will show that you have nothing to complain of, and much to be thankful for. You do not realize that much of your life's debit side includes all the chances which you have thrown away. No one knows why you choose to be a "Calamity Jane," instead of a "Polly-Anna."

Your real physical ailments seldom receive sympathy or a proper diagnosis, as both friends and doctors privately call most of your illness neurosthenia, any you may even suffer from "hospitalitis," a most expensive malady. Your habit of exaggeration is a fatal one, and it grows upon you. You like to impress your audience with a real tale. Even white lies are not always harmless.

You seek wealth and position for the power they will give you. You live to have a whip hand over things. Your position in life will either be greatly advanced or injured through a love affair.

TO-DAY'S QUOTATIONS

Closing Figures on Principal Active Stocks

Grain — New York — Mine — Canadian

Comment on Morning Stock Markets over Biggar and Crawford wire:

Abrupt dips, which took place in the principal trading stocks in New York shortly after the opening, were followed by a firmer tone towards the end of the first hour. U. S. Steel rallied to $158 and Westinghouse recovered 3 points to $134. Gillette Safety Razor staged a recovery to $86 up 2¾ points. By declaration of the regular dividend of $1.25, Standard Oil of New Jersey featured the oil group and moved up $69. Volume was low on the early decline but improved considerably as the market moved ahead.

Another quiet session was experienced on the Toronto market this morning but the leading issues displayed firmer tendencies. Int. Nickel and Brazilian were fractionally higher, while Imperial Oil was up ½ to $20½; Walkers was steady at $8 7-8.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND BRIEFS

A SPECIAL SERVICE TO THE EXAMINER

With business slumping to a new low point it seems fairly certain that no substantial and sustained advance in the stock market can get underway immediately. In the opinion of the Brookmire Economic Service, whose latest market analysis goes on to advise "Keep your cash reserves, and do no further buying now. It is the part of conservatism to wait until we have evidence that the market decline is over before using your reserve buying power. There are possibilities of lower prices for stocks. We are of the opinion that the bottom in business will be made during the summer. The extreme low will probably occur in July or August. Meanwhile watch for definite signs giving a cue to the character of the revival to follow." To-day the stock markets are stripped of their glamour of easy money to be made and the present period is most difficult one in which to make profit either on the long or short side. Price swings are back and forth with the market offering much better resistance in the past week. A few days ago the list came dangerously near to touching the low levels struck early in June, but when things looked darkest, support appeared and prices rallied. The consensus of opinion in local circles is that the public will do well to remain on the sidelines and allow the market a period of inactivity that will permit of the correcting of many factors that standing the way of a sustained advance. This advice applies to speculation as the local list to-day presents many attractive purchases for those who wish to invest their funds more or less permanently in well seasoned securities that give fairly liberal income return. General business is expected to show improvement in the fall but the tendency now is to wait until this takes place, rather than to discount it in advance.

Toronto brokers report a tendency on the part of those whose accounts are frozen to pay off the balance with cash and take up the securities while others have arranged for financing through time loans with the banks. Numerous traders who purchased stock at much higher levels than those prevailing to-day have made up their mind that at some time in the future, the market will recover sufficiently to wipe out paper losses and rather than liquidate have made preparations to take up committments and put them away. Money is plentiful and no trouble is being experienced in financing such arrangements. Traders taking this action are improving their position and relieving themselves of day to day worry over price fluctuations.

A slight decrease in daily tonnage and higher mill heads have increased the output of Vipond Consolidated lately, and it is anticipated the output figures for April, May and June, which will be made public shortly, will show a favorable monthly increase, with a total of close to $230,000 for the quarter. Profits are understood to be running close to 30,000 monthly. The physical condition of the property had also improved in the last year, and the forthcoming report for the year ending, July 31, should provide some interesting reading for shareholders.

Real Summer Market.

The summer months of 1930 shape up as the first real summer market for the stock exchanges in some years. Prior to 1929, a period of dull and inactive trading and price changes of little consequences was an accepted fact and the hot weather months were always looked upon as the occasion for an extended holiday by professional operators and brokers. When the bull campaign got underway the general order of things was changed. Volume declined only slightly and those interested in the market found it unprofitable to leave their offices as in the past. Comparing to-day with the corresponding months for past three or four years, the dulness is aggravated, but going back beyond these years it will be found the situation is closer to normal than in the years in which speculation was rampant and the public was buying and selling securities in large quantities. Attracted by stories of money to be made and rapidly advancing prices the stock markets became the play ground of a vast army who hung on until the disastrous break of October and November, 1929, and then came back for more in the recovery that followed in the spring of 1930. May and June were reactionary months in which further deflation of security values has taken place. July bringing evidence that the great wave of liquidation is coming to an end.

REGISTERS SEVEN POINT GAIN AT THE NOON HOUR SESSION

Interesting Action Confined to Half a Dozen Stocks on Standard Exchange To-day.

TRADING AT LOW EBB

TORONTO, Ont., July 10. (C.P.)—Interesting action was confined to a half dozen stocks on the mining market during the early period to-day, the big majority of issues, including most of the interlisted and higher-priced stocks remaining practically unchanged. Trading for the list, as a whole, was at the lowest point in several weeks.

Vipond Consolidated, as a result of reports of improved profits, grade and reserves, was an early leader, climbing to $1.30 at noon, 7 above last night's close. Waite-Ackerman, in spite of reports of curtailed production, was particularly strong and active, moving to a high for the period of $2.20 and standing at midday at $1.95 for a gain of 15.

Changes were few and far between in the general list. Oriole was again being sold, the price easing another 4½ to 13¼, and Teck Hughes dropped 5 to $6.40. Sherritt Gordon was down 4 to $1.36, but Sudbury Basin advanced 5 to $1.50 and other Lindsleys held unchanged.

Ajax Oil recovered more lost ground, advancing firmly to $1.81 for gain of 11 over last night. Alberta Pacific was 5 higher at 75, but Nordon failed to hold yesterday's late recovery, dropping 5 to $1.10. Acme was fractionally lower at 36.

LEADING STOCKS AT STANDSTILL

Price Swings Narrow, Mixed and Without Importance on Toronto Exchange.

LIQUOR STOCKS INACTIVE.

TORONTO, Ont., July 10. (C.P.)—The Toronto Stock Exchange this morning had a languid appearance. Until midday, sales were the lowest of any day this year, something under 2,000 shares exclusive of rights. The price swings were narrow, mixed and absolutely without importance.

The majority of the leaders compared favorably with Wednesday's close. Brazilian, Nickel, Ford were at or above their previous finals. On the whole the oils were firm, though the trading in this section was unusually slow. Massey-Harris was unchanged at 18¼, Tip Top Tailors up ¼¼ at 35¼, Weston's up ½ at 34. Brazilian sold at 39, Nickel at 24 and Ford at 30.

Liquor stocks were inactive, except for Walkers which sold at 8 7-8.

CHINESE BANDITS MENACE SHIPPING

British, American and Japanese River Patrols Launch Attack.

TRY TO CLEAR YANGTSE.

SHANGHAI, China, July 10. (A.P.) — British, American and Japanese river patrols joined to-day in defensive operations as bandits and Communists intensified their firing on foreign vessels on the Yangtse and flaunted a banner reading 'down with imperialism, capitalism, foreigners and religion.'

Marauders continued to fire heavily at all foreign commercial or navy craft operating above Kiuklang and particularly beyond Hankow, where steamers attempting to reach the lower river were reported to have been subjected to showers of bullets from both banks.

KILLED ON LEVEL CROSSING.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., July 10. — J. Harry Leslie, of Markdale, was instantly killed last night at a level crossing a mile and a quarter north of Markdale by a C.P.R. passenger train south-bound. Deceased was unmarried and is survived by his mother.

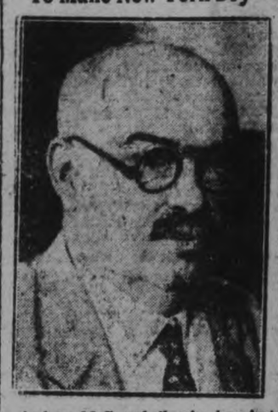
To Make New York Dry



Andrew McCampbell, who has just been appointed prohibition administrator for New York, intends to make the metropolis dry, despite the fact it has now 30,000 or 40,000 saloons. His predecessor, Major Maurice Campbell, in a statement following his resignation, advocated the repeal of the 18th amendment "before the nation is consumed in the fires of its consequences."

C. D. S. CLUB HOLDS PICNIC

Members Go To South Beach, Where Games Are Held.

GO TO MELODY INN.

The Canadian Department Stores Social Club picnic, held yesterday afternoon, although somewhat marred by the inclemency of the weather, provided a happy and enjoyable outing for thirty members of the staff.

Arriving at South Beach early in the afternoon the time was spent in playing softball, and other games, previous to the splendid banquet prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Brooks of the South Beach Hotel.

In the evening the entire party journeyed to the Melody Inn, Lakefield, and concluded the day's program with a dance.

The committee in charge of the arrangements comprised the following: W. H. Turvey, secretary-treasurer, Mrs L. Brown, Miss Marie Madden, Geo. Wemsley and Marion McCarroll.

RAINS PROMISED TO RELIEVE WEST

Heat Wave Which Has Lasted Two Days is Gradually Receding.

TEMPERATURE OVER 90.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 10. — The heat wave, which has scorched the Canadian West for the past 48 hours, was receding a little to-day before cooling winds which brought a promise of rain before nightfall. Thunderstorms were forecast generally for Alberta, Manitoba, and the westerly tip of the Lake Superior area as thermometers, which in many places ranged well above the 90 degree mark, headed downward slowly. Forecast for Saskatchewan was "Fair and warm."

Thirsty grainlands, scorched by the merciless sun, would reap great benefit from showers at the present time. Damage to crops in Alberta, especially in the southern reaches of the province, is said to be great owing to the lack of rains. Other parts of the west, which also lacked adequate sub-soil moisture from last year, such as Southwestern Saskatchewan, were believed hard hit as a result of the blistering heat.

Dry weather such as the west generally has been receiving the last few days, is ideal for the spread of rust damage to grains, and fears that black and stem rust, traces of which have been found in Manitoba, might become more serious with a continued dry spell, are held.

YOUR INVESTMENTS

by R. M. DIXON, B.A. District Representative of BICKLE, CLARKE & CO., LTD. 330 Bay Street, Toronto INVESTMENT SECURITIES

ARTICLE LXVI.

Q.—What is the standing of Commercial paper under the new system?

A.—Under the old system commercial paper often consisted of notes, drafts or bills covering merely investments, or perhaps issued for stock speculation. A merchant might borrow from a bank to increase his stock of goods. Such notes were not as liquid as under the present arrangement. It was therefore necessary for the banks to hold sufficient reserve to cover the credit advanced in the note. To this reserve we apply the term "frozen assets."

Under the new system, the commercial paper when issued for strictly commercial purposes is a secondary reserve and equivalent to cash. The debts incurred are automatically retired by the completion of business transactions. They may be completed by the termination of certain agricultural projects. In either case they are quite liquid and can be converted into cash as easily as bonds or stocks.

Commercial paper by means of the operation of the Federal Reserve system helps to stimulate legitimate business, to foster foreign trade and to assist in the handling of our crops.

basis. First, instead of going into the power business itself, the Dominion has indicated that it would be prepared to accede that a province or a Provincial agency should secure and utilize the power whether the development be made by the Province or by the Dominion. Second, the Dominion has set forth an eminently clear, fair and practical basis for utilizing of power by the Province. The duty of improving navigation initiates a work which results in the development of power. It has indicated its readiness to make the surplus water-power available to the Provincial agency on precisely the same basis as in the first case. Our offer in this regard is as follows: "Should the Dominion Government at any time undertake or authorize any construction of any canal or any water work for the improvement of navigation, it will be prepared to make available to an approved Provincial agency the surplus water-power developed beyond that needed for the operation of the locks and purposes of navigation on a basis equivalent to that which would govern if the Provincial agency had itself undertaken the work as a power development scheme."

"Mr. Ferguson's alternative is as follows: Should the Dominion desire to undertake or authorize any works within its jurisdiction for the improvement of navigation which could conveniently be carried on contemporaneously with the development of power, it will so notify the Province or Provinces concerned. Whereupon each Province or Provinces will be prepared to undertake the development of such waterpower where necessary to facilitate the navigation plans of the Dominion.

"It is only necessary to place these two statements side by side to judge which is the more clear, the most consistent and the more reasonable. Third, we have made every effort to co-operate in the solution of the engineering problems involved, particularly in the development of the St. Lawrence.

"Mr. Ferguson professes to fear that the Dominion Government is proposing to enter into negotiations with the United States on the St. Lawrence development without consulting the Provinces and thus, he state, placing the actual power development anywhere in any section of the river, either on the American or the Canadian side.

"So far is this from being the case that as already stated, the Dominion Government took the initiative in asking the Provincial Government to nominate engineers to co-operate with the Canadian section of the joint board in revising the plans for the international rapids section of the St. Lawrence. In other words, they are asked to report on precisely this question. Where should the actual power development be place? They presented a unanimous report. That report, which was sent to Mr. Ferguson six months ago, together with the plans and estimates which have been since received from the engineers' conference draft are now before the public and speak for themselves."

PAVING COMPANY TOLD TO REMOVE SMOKE NUISANCE

which will result in affidavits being sworn out to-day.

News to C. E. Rice.

C. E. Rice, the Warren Company's local superintendent, interviewed by The Examiner this morning said: "This is the first intimation I have received of any complaint. I have not yet received notice from the solicitor."

He was of the opinion that the work is being completed with the minimum amount of inconvenience to the city and to the residents across the river and that all possible precautions are being taken to minimize the smoke and dust. The plant is equipped with a 20-foot smoke stack and a dust collector, he stated, and has been so operated for the past seven years without any previous complaints.

Mr Rice did not agree that the noise was disturbing the East City complainants, adding that the plant closes down at six o'clock each evening and that during operation makes little more noise than the trains in the yards on the west side of the river.

Writ is Issued

The writ and notice of motion for injunction, to restrain defendants, its servants and agents from causing or permitting smoke, dust and noxious fumes and gasses to escape on to the plaintiff's premises situated on Engleburn avenue, in the City of Peterborough, which said smoke, dust and noxious fumes and gasses are created and generated at a paving plant operated by the defendant on the west bank of the Otonabee River and which said smoke, dust and noxious gasses and fumes enter the land and premises of the said plaintiff and cause damage and injury thereto and to restrain the said defendant from the operation of objectionable noises and to restrain the operation of the said paving plant on the west bank of the said Otonabee River in the City of Peterborough and elsewhere in the neighbourhood of the centre of the said City of Pterborough.

The action will be heard before His Honor JudgeE. C. S. Huycke at 11.00 a.m. on Saturday in the judge's chambers.

FEAR OF SIMON REPORT SHELVING

also thinks Lord Irwin's speech should quieten fears of the shelving of the Simon report, but is emphatic that delegates should not come to the conference bound up by formula. "No conceivable British Parliament would be prepared at this stage to pass an India Act approximating the minimum demands of the Congress leaders and if as is possible such a meeting could only be engineered by some kind of Jesuitical ambiguity of phrase, it would only make Anglo-Indian relations worse" the Guardian concluded.

The Liberal Daily News declares there is nothing in the Viceroy's speech to weaken the Simmon report. "Lord Irwin has apparently succeeded, judging by the first reports of reception of his speech, in pursuading a very large section of Indian opinion that a Round Table Conference will be really free" the News says.

The Daily Telegraph, however, expressed the opinion that Lord Irwin's speech would cause all who believe that sharp precision and iron resolution are most needed at the head of affairs, to suffer a deep sinking of the heart. The Telegraph admits Lord Irwin speaks strongly enough about fighting against civil disobedience. It declares the report which was intended to serve as the basis of a new constitution has been put on the library shelves, where it may be consulted or it may not. "All this fully confirms the instinctive suspicions of those who scented a profound change in plan in November when the Viceroy made his speech which created such a ferment at home and intensified the ferment it was designed to check in India, the Telegraph says. "Lord Irwin's repetition of his declaration will encourage every extremist to renew his senseless clamor for dominion status here and now."

EDWIN L. VICKERY DIES IN OSHAWA

WAS REPAIRING RADIO.

OSHAWA, Ont., July 10 (Canadian Press). — Death came suddenly last evening to Edwin Luther Vickery, well known in the public life of this city. While in a tree which he had climbed to repair the antennae of his radio, the limb on which he was standing broke, precipitating him to the ground. The fall fractured the vertebrae of the neck and death occurred almost instantly.

Mr. Vickery, a prominent man in the business life of the city, was engaged for over forty years in the barbering trade, and at the time of his death was senior partner in the firm of Vickery & Ashton.

He was born at Enfield, in Darlington Township, coming to Oshawa a number of years ago. He was always interested in the public life of the town and later city.

SANDY SOMERVILLE LEADING TOURNEY

Has Par Score of 72 in Qualifying Test of Ontario Amateur Golf Match.

SCARBORO GOLF CLUB, Toronto, Ont., July 10 (C.P.) — With slightly over one quarter of the field through their 18-hole qualifying test "Sandy" Somerville of the London Hunt Club, champion for the last three years, was leading the field in the eighth annual Ontario Amateur Golf Championship with a par 72, while his club-mate, Jack Nash, was running second with a 74. J. R. Curry, of the Scarboro club, had a 75, while four other players, Phil Farley of Cedarbrook; R. M. Gray of Rosedale, the first Provincial champion; Jack Cameron of Mississagua, and Ken Ashman of Lakeview were under 80. With this as an indication of the scoring it looks as if 79's will be doubtful qualifiers for the championship flight.

Sommerville owes his position at the present time to a particularly good second nine. He was out in 39, three over par, but coming home he had three birdies and was even with par for each of the other six. He had three 3's and six 4's in his 33.

LABOR BACKS EULER.

KITCHENER, Ont., July 10 (Canadian Press). — A resolution supporting the candidature of Hon. William D. Euler, Minister of National Revenue, has been passed by the Labor Executive of Waterloo North.

In previous Ontario election campaigns the Labor Executive supported Karl K. Homuth, M.L.A., for Waterloo South, who has invaded the Waterloo North constituency to oppose Mr. Euler, who is celebrating his 55th birthday to-day.

CHINAMAN SHOT IN SHOW

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 10 (C.P.)—A melodrama in real life stopped the show last night at a Chinese Theatre on the Bowery.

An actor portraying the role of a burglar was creeping across the stage when suddenly five shots rang out from the rear of the house. Actors and audience immediately fled, and when the police arrived they found only a dead man in one of the seats and three theatre employees. The slain man was identified as Hung Wah Hung, President of a Chinese merchants' organization.

TWO DROWN ON FISHING PARTY

Believe Elder of Pair Dragged Down Trying to Save 13-Year Lad.

IN WIDOWS LAKE.

KINGSTON, Ont., July 10 (C.P.)—Gordon Meyer of Sharon, Penn., and Lawrence McGonigal of Flower Station, about seventy-five miles north of here, were drowned at Widow's Lake, near Clyde Forks, on Wednesday afternoon, according to information which reached the city to-day.

As far as can be learned, the two men were out fishing from the camp which Meyer and a party from the United States were occupying, and when the rest of the party returned to the camp they found Meyer's hat floating in the water. Help was summoned, and a search was made for the men, with the result that the bodies were recovered in about eight feet of water within half an hour. Dr. Dwyer of Perth, the coroner for the district, announced that no inquest would be necessary. After making his investigation which revealed that very little was known about the accident. The McGonigal boy could not swim, and it is surmised that Meyer, who was a good swimmer, tried to help the younger lad and became exhausted by his efforts, resulting in the death of the two.

Meyer was twenty-nine years of age, and the McGonigal boy was thirteen.

More than $100,000,000 worth of American agricultural implements have been put to work in Argentina in the last five years.

BOY SCOUTS HOLD BIG JAMBOREE AT SOUTH BEACH

18 Members of 6th Peterborough Troop Spent Two Weeks at Camp.

FIELD DAY EVENTS.

Peterborough- Pipe Band Supplies Music at the Evening's Program.

(Examiner Staff Reporter.)

YOUNG'S POINT, July 10. — Original plans for the big gala night at the 6th Peterborough Scout camp here ,though interfered with to the extent that it was impossible to stage the proceedings out-doors on account of the severe electrical storm which was general over this district last evening, were carried through almost in their entirety in one of the spacious rooms of the South Beach Hotel placed at the disposal of the Scouts through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brooks.

The function was attended by the boys' parents and friends of scouting, including Assistant Provincial Commissioner F. C. Irwin of Toronto; District Commissioner J. T. Hornsby; John E. Sullivan, chairman of the local Boy Scout Association; Troop-Leader Eason of Brantford; Dr. M. J. Roche, J. C. Bowen, chairman of the 6th Peterborough Troop Committee, and Scoutmaster G. Johnson of 1st Peterborough Troop.

Members of the Peterborough Pipe Band, under Pipe-Leader Jack Smith rendered a splendid program of music throughout the evening and contributed in no small measure to the success of the event, while Bob Hendry and Jack Smith also made a hit with their fund of wit and humor, which they dispensed freely. Scout songs led by Commissioner Irwin and by Scoutmaster E. Wolff, and a banjo solo by Scout Carol Koster, were also well received.

Order and Efficiency.

Visitors who began to arrive at the camp site early in the evening and before the storm broke, were confronted with a typical scene of Scout efficiency and orderliness. On a spacious clearing at the roadside—a clearing which suggested that it was made for just such a purpose, eight tents are neatly grouped in a semi-circle, hugging the friendly shelter of the tall pines and looking out over a wide expanse of country, clothed in all the splendor of a Canadian mid-summer. The Union Jack and the troop flags occupy a prominent position at the gateway to the clearing. The boys just having finished their evening meal the smoke from the two camp fires lazily curled and eddied around in the atmosphere — the stillness of which warned of the storm's approach.

Under Scoutmaster Wolff eighteen members of the troop, have spent almost two weeks under these ideal conditions, the healthy tanned bodies of each one of them suggesting that the stay has been beneficial in more ways than one. They will break camp on Saturday.

By the kindness of the management of the Peterborough Examiner, it was made possible for eleven other members of the troop, who had been unable to attend the camp, to take part in the evening's fun, by transporting them in the Examiner truck, which was driven by Max Glover.

Daily Routine.

Rising at 8.30 each morning the boys have regularly taken a dip in Clear Lake before breakfast, after which they clean up and prepare for inspection. After an hour's instruction the remainder of the time before dinner is given over to hiking, boating and swimming instruction. Incidentally Hilary Archambault has performed valuable service as swimming instructor and has also assisted the Scoutmaster in numerous other ways.

Following the mid-day meal the boys take further swimming instruction and indulge in other forms of scoutcraft. Supper at 6 p.m., is supplemented by Scout games till dark, and the day's work and play is brought to a happy conclusion around the council fire.

There are two patrols in camp, the Chickadees, under Patrol-Leader Paul Picard, and the Beavers, under Patrol-Leader Claire Sullivan. John Carl has discharged the quarter-master's duties.

Sports Events Winners.

Yesterday afternoon was given over to a field day, the events being staged between the showers. The results were as follows: Signalling contest, G. Sweetman. Message contest: Chickadee Patrol: P. Picard, P.Roche, John Sweetman. Scout baseball: Beaver Patrol: H. Sullivan, G. Sweetman, C. Koster, J. Sweetman, P. Grainger. Running broad jump: Tom Hickson. Javelin throwing: G. Lebarr. String eating contest: H. Sullivan. Soda biscuit contest: John Sweetmen. 50 yards dash: Tom Hickson. Quarter mile race: H. Sullivan.

Following the conclusion of the evening's program, short addresses were made by the members of the Scout Association executive, who all voiced their appreciation of the splendid manner in which the work of the Scout movement was receiving support from the general public, and particularly from those present, in spite of the inclement weather.

Special mention was made of the work of S. M. Wolff, whose task was being considerably lightened by the co-operation of parents and members of the troop committee.

Commissioner Hornsby in the course of a few remarks paid special tribute to the members of the Pipe Band, who had given their services willingly to aid the Boy Scouts. He dealt briefly with the objects of the Scout movement and the value of the camp training, whereby boys are given the opportunity to learn swimming and to come to a full realization of the beauties of nature. He thought that Peterborough might well be proud of her Boy Scouts who are second to none.

Strawberry Picking in Full Swing

BEATTY ADVISES IMMIGRATION BAN

Would Allow Only Britishers Who Have Capital Into Country.

GOOD CROP NEEDED.

TORONTO, Ont. July 9 (C.P.).—Immigration from United States and Europe, should be stopped for the time being at least, said E. W. Beatty, K.C., president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in an interview here today. Mr. Beatty would not include in the ban, however, "those British immigrants who bring their own capital and can proceed under their own steam."

"Unemployment is bad in the building trades, I think, because the usual projectors of big buildings are holding back until the wheat situation clears up. But if we have a normal crop this year and it moves out in a normal way, which it should, unless there is a permanent resistance in Europe, which I doubt, the situation in Canada should clear up," said Mr. Beatty.

"England needs more Empire trade and such trade would help trade expansion and help England to be relieved of part of her Empire burdens," continued Mr. Beatty. Referring again to the Empire trade situation, he said, "You cannot take such a situation away from party politics, but the less there is of party politics in connection with it the better."

CHEMONG PAVILION IS RUNNING STRONG

Wyn Phillips and His Orchestra Provide Toe-tickling Music.

Chemong Pavilion, winking an electric welcome to cottage residents and entertainment-seekers alike, as it stands at the junction of the crossroads that mark the entrance to the popular summer resort of Chemong Park, is running strong these nights. Wyn Phillips and his orchestra provide the toe-tickling music for the patrons of the dancing pavilion and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Forler look after the arrangements generally and run the canteen where almost anything in the way of refreshments may be obtained.

Last evening, Novelty Nite was on at the Pavilion, and tonight is Carnival Nite, with plenty of fun and laughter in a program of novelty stunts, with streamers and horns and noise-makers galore. On Friday, the younger crowd the city, the Collegians, will strut their stuff, with an all-Collegian orchestra, and Saturday is Whoopee Nite, when everyone makes merry. On Sunday at a quarter past nine o'clock, there will be an orchestra concert by Wyn Philips and his band.

Chemong Park has plenty of facilities for amusement and recreation, right at the door of the city. The picnic grounds at the Pavilion are at the disposal of all and sundry, and many jolly parties and family reunion picnics are held there during the pleasant days of summr.

Voice of the People

Letters to be printed in the Voice of the People column must be received at The Examiner Office on the day before it is desired to have them published.

E. A. Peck, Esq.,
Peterborough,

Dear Sir.—I notice that Mr. Gordon Matthews, President of the Conservative Association, contradicts you and says that New Zealand butter was imported by the packers on account of butter shortage in Canada. Either you are right or Mr. Matthews is wrong. Which one is it? You contradict each other very emphatically, so the public should know why, on the same platform, you and the President of the Conservative Association are out of step.

Railway men, in Peterborough, have told me that practically the whole railway vote is against you, and your leader, because you are advocating a hundred and fifty million dollar concrete highway across Canada to compete with the three transcontinental railways and reduce employment for the railway men. The only value this undertaking would be to the Ontario people would be taxation, because Ontario is now covered with highways far into the wilds of New Ontario.

Mr. Matthews asks me why I did not use my influence to have a law passed making it compulsory to mark New Zealand Butter on the labels. The reason I did not do this was because I thought the packers were all honest, but I had anticipated Mr. Matthews' suggestion, and I have already asked the Minister of Agriculture to introduce legislation imposing penalties for the false marking of butter, and, I might also add I, have suggested that when manufacturers of pork sausages shove tripe, and other scrap into it, that this be made a fraudulent transaction, and a penalty be imposed also.

While you are saying the country is being flooded with butter, you must remember that it was men like your President of the Conservative Association who brought it in, and sold it to the public who thought that they were buying fresh Canadian butter, when, as a matter of fact, they were getting packed butter, carted half way round the world in the hold of a ship, for several weeks, if not months. Why do you not frankly tell the public that the use of butter, from 1925 to 1928, increased practically 2 pounds per head, namely 27.36 to 29.31 pounds were used per head, in Canada.

So far you have not answered my questions, and the reason is that you are unable to do so.

Yours truly,
G. N. GORDON.

Peterborough, July 10th, 1930.

6,000-MILE RACE FOR 60 CENTS

On a wager of 60 cents two British autoists, J. A. R. Bromage and S. G. Stubbs, recently drove their cars 6,000 miles from India to London. The journey occupied 73 days, of which 41 were running days and the others rest periods. The men traveled from Lahore to Baluchistan across the Persian Desert to Iraq, thence to Syria, and by sea to Greece, after which they continued through Austria and Germany, and on to Calais, where they crossed the English Channel. Both autoists are in the Indian Government Engineering Service.

C. H. Buskard presented the relief board report for June which showed an unusually heavy expenditure. W. R. Reynolds for the publicity committe said that a new warning sign against speeding had been put up at the north end of Deloro village.

ST. JOHN'S CHOIR HOLDS OUTING

Members Spent Fine Afternoon at Cobourg Beach.

PRIZES PRESENTED.

The annual picnic of St. John's Church choir which was provided through the generosity of the church wardens, was held yesterday afternoon to Cobourg. Choir members and their friends, to the number of 70 participated in what proved to be one of the most enjoyable of these events ever held.

Games of softball and football were indulged in during the afternoon after which a sports program was held at five o'clock.

The ice cream freezer proved to be the centre of attraction, especially for the boys. At 6.30 all adjourned to the St. Peter's church parish house where a most excellent repast had been prepared by the ladies of the Mothers' Union of that church.

Rev. E. R. James presented the prizes to the winners of the sports events as follows: Boys, 12 and over, 1 Albert Stephens; 2 Alfred Pink. Ladies' time walking race: 1 Miss Ruby Quartermaine; 2 Mrs. Eldred. Boys' 50 yards flat race, under 12, 1 Everett Gibbs; 2 Victor Coleman. Ladies' balloon race, 1 Mrs. Eldred; 2, Mrs. Fred Craig. Boys' two-legged race, 1 Roy Pitchford and Walter Howell; 2 Griffen Young and Albert Stephens. Ladies' jumble shoe race: 1 Mrs. Perks; 2 Mrs Eldred. Boys' consolation race, 1 Gerald Perks; 2 Alex Chevas; 3 Don Perks. Gents' time walking race, 1 R. E. Selby; 2 W. W. Gray. Ladies' consolation race, Mrs. L. Groombridge.

The arrangements for the day were under the general supervision of Frederick G. Mann, L. Mus., organist and choirmaster, who was ably assisted by various committees of adult members of the choir.

Mr. Mann expressed his appreciation of the assistance he had received from the choir members and the ladies of St. Peter's church, and all who had loaned cars and donated prizes. Rev. Mr. Westbrook, locum tenens of St. Peter's Parish, responded for the ladies of that church.

Rev. C. V. McLean is Speaker at Meeting of St. James' Auxiliary of W.M.S.

GOOD PROGRAM.

St. James' Auxiliary of the W.M.S. held a very successful meeting on Tuesday evening in the Sunday School Hall. Despite holidays and the many counter attractions there was a splendid attendance.

The program was one of special interest, "Temperance" being the keynote of the whole meeting.

Mrs. E. L. Woodley presided, and as first vice-president of the Auxiliary will carry on the work for the balance of the year, owing to the loss, by removal, of the president, Mrs. J. H. Dudgeon.

Mrs. Armstrong, secretary of Christian Stewarship, after defining the word "Stewardship" gave a brief but interesting reading on the value of this department of W.M.S. work.

A very much appreciated duet, "Beautiful Home" was sung by Misses Marion and Marjorie Baldry, with Ashton Fife accompanying at the piano.

Interesting Address

Rev. C. V. McLean, of St. Andrew's United Church, was the interesting speaker of the evening. He heartily congratulated St. James' Auxiliary for carrying on their work through the summer months. Carrying out the temperance theme, he gave an inspiring and highly educative address upon this question with its many problems.

Dr. McLean compared the poison of the present day alcohol with that used by the Greeks of old, a pot of which was carried with them when going into war. The tips of their arrows were dipped into this poison and the merest scratch upon the body of the enemy would cause fermentation. This poison was called Toxicon and one infected was said to be intoxicated.

The word Temperance has come to have different shades of meaning; from using intoxicants mildly, to prohibition. For two thousand years there has been a continual conflict between those wanting alcohol and other who used their every might and main to get rid of it. Dr. McLean gave several interesting illustrations of the action of alcohol upon the human system. Alcohol dashes against the walls of the stomach, entering the blood stream in an abnormal way, thus setting up irritation. This poisoning process is going on in the social life to a greater extent every day—a man here and a woman there becoming its victims.

Organization Needed

We represent one of the groups who are trying to do away with the evil, and in working, it is well that we know who are our allies and the strength of the foe. Woe to any commander who disregards his enemy. Over optimism is one of the greatest foes we have to combat in temperance work. When the barrooms and saloons were wiped out a few years ago, what happened in our Sunday schools? Temperance lessons were dropped and the idea became antiquated. The enemy was in hiding. When it came out, it found Temperance disorganized throughout Canada. While it is well to be optimistic to a certain extent, over-optimism becomes a foe which will demand careful watching if we hope for success.

The enemy to temperance must be recognized. We must look it in the eye. They are at work day and night. If we hope to overcome it, we must stir up every influence for good.

In closing, Dr. McLean wishes the St. James' Auxiliary every success in this department of their work.

A vote of thanks was tendered Dr. McLean for his splendid address, and also to the Misses Baldry for their beautiful duet.

Prayers were offered during the service by Miss Collins, Mrs. Sollitt and Mrs. Beavis.

On behalf of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Woodley welcomed Mrs. A. E. Moorhouse, the wife of the new pastor of St. James' to the society, assuring her a warm place in the hearts of the members.

Baseball Gossip.

The Kiwanis Bantams will practise to-night at 6.00 o'clock in the King Edward School grounds. Anyone wishing to turn out is still able to do so, but this is the last night, as all players must be signed by the 15th.

MACDONALD SUCCEEDS

TORONTO, Ont., July 10.—Charles Macdonald, Toronto, was elected president of the Confederation Life Association here yesterday, in succession to the late Peleg Howland. Mr. Macdonald, who has been general manager of the company for some years will combine the duties of the two positions.

BOWLING PRIZES ARE ON DISPLAY

V. J. Tully's Jewellery Store Window Displays Tournament's Trophies.

BEAUTIFUL SETTING.

In the window of V. J. Tully's jewellery store on Charlotte Street is a display of silverware captured by victorious bowlers at the first annual bowling tournament played on the lawn bowling grounds.

The display is arranged most attractively on a grass turf mat that stimulates a real bowling green. It has brocaded green curtains that make the back drop against which are placed the large central Stratton Trophy which went to the winning quartette: V. J. Tully, lead; A. Gillies, second; R. Dyer, vice, and J. Cullen, skip.

Around the large silver trophy with its gold lining are grouped the individual tea services in gold-lined silver that were prizes awarded to the four members of the winning rink. In the grass are several large black bowls and a shining white "kitty" or central ball.

Six Local Rinks In Cobourg Tourney

Six Peterborough rinks competed yesterday in the annual lawn bowling tournament of the Cobourg Club at the lakeshore town's greens. In all 33 rinks, representing a wide district in this part of Ontaro competed, but rain made it necessary to postpone the finals to a later date

The Peterborough rinks in the tourney were: Harold Freeman, Jack Bacon, R. F Downey, Ernest Wall, Mark Bredin and J. J. Howden.

Minors Considering Majors' Ultimatum

CHICAGO, Ills., July 10. (C.P.) A new front in the baseball wars took form to-day as the three "Big" minor leagues and two smaller circuits considered an ultimatum from the American and National leagues which demanded that the minors either accept the universal draft or hunt alone for players.

The drastic step taken yesterday at the first joint meeting means that the major leagues will release no more players to the minor groups involved, or buy any players from them.

Suspects in Chicago Reporter's Death

Continuing their war on gangsters, the police, after an extensive search throughout the country, have placed under arrest five men whom they suspect of being implicated in the slaying of Alfred Lingle, Chicago reporter. The arrest was made in Los Angeles. This telephoto shows the prisoners, Marvin Hart, George Davis, Frank Foster, Frank Fisher and Herman Walters.

CRESCENTS MEET C.G.E. ON FRIDAY

Result Will Have Direct Bearing on Fight For Second Position in the League.

After a brilliant 5-5 tie game with Cogs last night, the Crescents tangle to-morrow evening at Exhibition Park with the league-leading C.G.E. team. This game will have a direct bearing on the result of the great fight being staged between Crescents and Cogs for second place in the league. Should Crescents lose it will greatly aid the Cogs' chances of slipping past them into second berth which brings with the right to meet the C.G.E. for the championship.

The C.G.E. won a 1-0 verdict that last time these two teams clashed and with the Brioux clan hitting as they did against the Cogs they have a splendid opportunity to defeat the Electrics. Masterson will be on the rubber for Crescents and Vin Utronki will likely hurl for the C.G.E.

HIGH PARK WINS ONTARIO TROPHY

SEMI-FINALS IN AMES.

HAMILTON, July 10.—Bob Graham and his tourney rink from the High Park Club, Toronto, yesterday captured the Ontario Trophy, though they were forced to beat a rink from their own club that was skipped ny M. R. Griffith.

The score was a poor indication of the play, for it was not until the sixteenth end that Graham won, scoring a six to put victory far out of Griffith's reach. When he scored a single on the seventeenth, Griffith agreed to call it a day, and the final end was not played. Griffith jumped into a lead on the first end, but Graham evened up and from then until the twelfth end the lead see-sawed. In the thirteenth Griffith scored two to even the score, but Graham added one in the fourteenth and three in the fifteenth to go four up, and then came his big six.

The semi-final in the Ames Trophy was reached and two rounds played in the singles championship.

Softball Notes.

Tonight should see a battle royal in softball circles, when Sugar Bowl and Belmont Club hook up. Both these teams are capable of playing good ball and will be right on their toes tonight for a win.

Sugar Bowl are out to make it nine wins in a row, while Belmonts are anxious to get going in the second half to be in the money at the close. Both aggregations will be at full strength and rarin' to go. The game will start at .630 sharp.

On Friday night it will be Brintons and Harrisons.

MEETS WHIRLWIND

NEWPORT, R.I., July 10 (C.P.) — After having met and vanquished each of the other three contenders separately during the past three days, Weetamoe, the Morgan-Nichols candidate for the defense of the America's Cup, went out to-day for her second race with Whirlwind, the Thorne-Hammond boat.

The Unemployment Issue

What cheerful news for the unemployed Hon. T. A. Crerar brings down from the West!

"If the West has a bumper crop this year," says the Minister of Railways, "Unemployment will cease to be a problem in eight or ten months.

What are the unemployed and their families to do in the meantime, Starve?

What about next winter and its fuel bills?

Was there ever such a flouting of a crucial situation as this big "if," with its hint of relief in eight or ten months?

The Minister of Labor was here the other night.

Did he tell you where to get a job or give you any hope of improvement?

In effect, all the Hon Peter said was: "You are better off than a lot of other people," and he let it go at that.

Mr King, after trying to deny the seriousness of the problem offers nothing better than a conference where there would be plenty of talk but no chance for action.

On this unemployment issue the King Government stands indicted on four counts.

1—Because its tariff policy has been responsible for creating unemployment.

2—Because it has steadfastly refused to offer any assistance to the unemployed.

3—Because by bringing in more immigrants it is aggravating the unemployment problem.

4—Because it has no solution to offer.

Mr. Bennett stands for action.

He proposes to treat the unemployment situation as a National emergency.

You have his definite, clear cut promise that if the Conservative Party is returned to power he will immediately call Parliament together to deal with the crisis, commencing national public works that will provide the jobs that are needed at once, and putting into force a tariff policy that will ensure better permanent conditions.

Between the two parties on this great outstanding issue a sensible elector will not be long in making a choice.

He will vote to give Canada a chance; vote for the policy that means action, not words, for a policy that is designed to keep Canadians from the bread line next winter.

Make West Peterborough's answer decisive. It is time for a change.

Vote for E. A. Peck, Conservative candidate.

1d9-2239 THE CONSERVATIVE VICTORY COMMITTEE.

SEYMOUR SETS RATE FOR 1930

Council Hold Regular Meeting at Campbellford—Assessment By-law Passed.

NEW TREASURER NAMED

CAMPBELLFORD, July 10.—(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)—The regular meeting of the Seymour Township Council was held on Monday in the Council Chambers, with all members present, Reeve F. Van Volkenburg in the chair.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted, and the correspondence presented by the clerk and laid on the table for cosideration.

A letter of condolence was sent to the members of the family of the late M. T. Stephens, for many years treasurer of the Township of Seymour. This came from the members of the council.

Councillor W. J. Duncan presented the by-law to levy and collect certain rates from and of the ratable assessment for the year 1930, the said by-law being read a first, second, and third time, passed, signed and sealed. This rate called for the following assessment: County rate, 18.2 mills on the dollar; township rate, 12 mills; general school rate, 6.6 mills; high school debentures rate, 3.9 mills.

A by-law appointing Gilbert G. Stephens as township treasurer in the place of the late M. T. Stephens was read three times, passed, signed, and sealed.

A report of the late treasurer's books was presented by T. H. Rowe, showing a balance in the Bank of Montreal of $69.43. The clerk was instructed to return the bonds to the late treasurer's bondsmen, releasing them from any further responsibilities.

Thomas Kerr appeared before the council asking that the council place a gate across the 10th concession line between lots 17 and 18 of the Township of Seymour. This matter was laid over.

The clerk was instructed to send a bill for maintenance to Mrs. Calberry to Alex Calberry, asking that he pay some portion of the account.

The clerk was also instructed to write to the various officials to notify them that Gilbert G. Stephens had been appointed township treasurer.

The school report was presented by George Anderson, accepted and filed.

The pay sheet amounting to $2,505.90 was presented and passed.

WILL STRENGTHEN FRONTIERS.

PARIS, France, July 9. (C.P.) — The Finance Commission of the Chamber of Deputies to-day voted to recommend the recent government bill for $26,000,000 additional appropriation for guns and ammunition for the purpose of strengthenng France's frontier defenses.

The vote was 15 to 5.

The original appropriation for this purpose was $16,000,000.

118 SHOCKS ARE FELT IN ASSAM DISTRICT

CALCUTTA, India, July, 9. (C.P.) Dispatches from Dhubri, Goalpara, and Assam state that earthquakes continue. To date 118 shocks have been recorded.

Practically every building in Dhubri has been damaged more or less.

Shocks of milder intensity are also felt every few hours in the Rangpur district and at Coochbehar. At Coochbehar the Post and Telegraph building was so badly damaged that the families of the staff had to be moved to places of safety.

FORESEE CHANGE IN LIVING WAYS

Claims Business Men Be Residing 100 Miles From Work in 5 Years.

USE AIR TRANSPORT.

TORONTO, Ont., July 9 (C.P.)—In the next five years United States business men will be living in suburbs one hundred miles from their offices and commuting back and forth from home by means of air transit, predicted Jacob L. Crane, Chicago, Ill., city planner, in an address before the Home Builders' and Subdividers' Division of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, which is holding its 23rd annual convention here.

The general session of the Association was held this morning after the formal opening of the convention. Welcome to the 3,000 delegates from the United States, Canada and Hawaii was voiced by Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Premier of Ontario; Mayor Bert S. Wemp, and Lt.-Col. Goodwin Gibson, President of the Toronto Real Estate Board. The response by Leonard P. Reeume, Detroit, Mich., and Windsor, Ont., President, was followed by addresses on "New Methods of Merchandising and their Effect on Real Estate Values," by Alvin E. Dodd (Sears, Roebuck & Co.), Chicago, Ill., and on "New Ways of Financing Real Estate Projects," by Robert F. Bingham, Cleveland, O.

HEAT WAVE TOLL TAKES FOUR LIVES ACROSS PRAIRIES

Three Manitobans Are Drowned—Moose Jaw Woman Collapses.

RELIEF IN SIGHT.

Medicine Hat Sets High Mark With Temperature of 98 Degrees.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 10. (C.P.)—The Canadian West continued to swelter yesterday in a heat wave that took a toll of four lives within the last 24 hours. Three Manitobans who sought to escape from the blistering sun of Tuesday by bathing, were drowning victims. At Moose Jaw, Mrs. Alfred Statham collapsed and died as thermometers there scurried up to the 97 mark.

Forecast for decidedly warm weather faced the populace of both Saskatchewan-Manitoba yesterday. "Possibly a few local thunder storms" was promised by the Meteorological Bureau as a temporary relief in some sections of the "boiling" provinces.

Alberta, which had the high-mark heat city Tuesday, when Medicine Hat experienced a thermometer reading of 98, continued "fair and warm"

Winnipeg 86 to 89 Degrees

Although Winnipeg was well down in the list of high-thermometer cities of the West Tuesday, with readings ranging between 86 and 89, intense humidity made the heat almost insufferable. Thousand flocked to the beaches and parks. A pair of male style-setters shook off Dame Custom, donned short trousers and went their merry way through the downtown district as their less courageous and perspiring Winnipeg brothers gazed in amusement and possibly admiration.

All of Manitoba's three drowning victims were youths, two of them Boy Scouts who lost their lives at a summer camp on the shores of Lake Winnipeg. Scout John Sutton, 12, of Winnipeg, went down in a valiant attempt to save 11-year-old Gerald Dickson, his chum, of St. Boniface. Young Dickson presumably suffered a cramp while bathing.

At Brandon, Mark Brown, 19, tried wading in a stream near his home in an effort to escape the heat and it cost his life. He apparently slipped into a hole.

YOUNG FARMER DROWNS.

SARNIA, Ont., July 10 (Canadian Press). — William Coltman, Moore Township farmer, was drowned in the St. Clair River off a gravel dock, near Mooretown last evening while bathing. His uncle, Harry Coltman, was with him, but was unable to save the youth, who sank into a deep hole made by a dredge. The body was recovered with grappling irons an hour and a half later.

UNEMPLOYMENT IS DISCUSSED BY J. J. DUFFUS

tions within the British Empire, and as a result that we shall enjoy increasing and enduring prosperity.

We know that the great financial interests of this country, such as the banks, and many of our great industries are keenly interested in the Dunning Budget, and I believe that a large number of Conservatives are in favor of it. Three Conservatives of Mr. Bennett's party voted for it in the House of Commons. One of them is running as a Liberal candidate in this election, and prominent Conservatives are openly declaring their support of the Liberal party in this election, and among them coming close home is J. H. Burnham, who was for years the Conservative member for West Peterboro. I believe that these public declarations are indications that many Conservatives will vote with the Liberals this time in their policy of extending the channels of trade with Great Britain and the British dominions."

Dr. J. J. Craig

"What has G. Howard Ferguson done to relieve unemployment in this province?" Dr. Craig asked. "I think you will agree that a large part of the responsibility for any unemployment in Ontario rests upon the shoulders of Premier Ferguson and his cabinet. Mr. Ferguson seems to have forgotten already that a few months ago he was content to sit in his office twiddling his fingers while the stock market affairs were moving to the crash that took millions of dollars out of the pockets of the people, and he did not raise a voice to investigate the conditions that were being pointed out to him. He did nothing until he reluctantly took action after the repeated urging of the Liberal leader in this province, Mr. Sinclair. There was a serious loss of confidence in this province as a result of that crash. Now, Mr. Ferguson is trying to sidetrack his neglect in that matter."

After discussing several of the issues in the election, Dr. Craig referred to Mr. Duffus as a man of the highest type of character and ability.

"Mr. Duffus is full of energy. He has been through the mill of experience, and has gained a mature judgement that should be of great value to this riding" Dr. Craig said. "There is now no doubt about the Liberal party being returned. In Peterborough we have been too long neglecting our interests as a riding. This time let us elect a man on the government side of the House if we are to get what is coming to us, and to have a direct voice in the affairs of the government. When you consider the candidates I hope you will mark your ballots for Mr. Duffus."

G. A. Gillespie

Mr. Gillespie remarked that he was back in the old school of his boyhood, and it would always be a very dear spot to him.

"I have been closely associated with Mr. Duffus for twenty-five years." Mr. Gillespie said. "Every man owes some of his time to the service of the public. Mr. Duffus has given a large share as a member of the city council of Peterborough, as president of the Chamber of Commerce, and in many other public activities in the city and county."

Dairy Products Market

Referring to the dairy industry, Mr. Gillespie said that Canada had to look to the British market again. "Twenty years ago we shipped 75% of our dairy products to Great Britain, but in recent years we have been shipping to the United States large quantities of cream that represented many thousands of boxes of cheese. Britain will take all the cheese we make and pay us a cent to a cent and one-half more per pound than for the cheese of other countries. We have been making excellent cheese but not enough, and as a result New Zealand has been getting that market. With butter it has been different. We never shipped much, and we have not been making sufficient for the needs of our own market. We had to import millions of pounds, and this year the Canadian market has been higher than that of Great Britain and the United States."

The Peterborough Cheerio Entertainers attended last night's meeting in spite of the heavy rain and electric storm, and contributed an enjoyable musical program.

Best Remedy On Earth For Old Leg Sores

Peterson's Ointment can justly be called the best because it's helped so many hundreds of grateful users to rid themselves of old sores and ulcers which they'd tried for years to banish.

This powerfully soothing and antiseptically healing Peterson's immediately stops itching and soreness the minute it's applied. The quickest and most certain healer—longest standing and most stubborn cases of pimples, eczema, rashes, piles and skin irritations generally vanish after just few days treatment.

A 50c box proves it. All druggists.

Mrs. M. Klahuhu writes: "I had a place on my forehead which wouldn't heal — everyone told me there was no cure. I read about Peterson's Ointment so I bought a box and now my head is all healed and there's still some salve left in box. I can't speak well enough of Peterson's."

OBITUARY

GEORGE BROWN

OMEMEE, July 10.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The funeral of the late George Brown of Lot 2, Con. 2, Emily, was held on Thursday afternoon from the residence of his niece, Mrs. Ralph James, of Omemee, and was largely attended. The late Mr. Brown was a highly esteemed citizen and his death, which occurred in the Ross Hospital, Lindsay, came as a shock to his many friends who had not learned of his illness. He was the son of the late Margaret Belch and Samuel Brown and was born and spent his entire life on the farm on which he resided previous to his death. He was 65 years of age.

He leaves to mourn his loss one sister, Miss Jane Brown, on the homestead, and one brother, Samuel, who resides on the adjoining farm; also a niece, Mrs. Ralph James, of Omemee.

Rev. A. T. Weir, rector of Christ church, conducted the service both at the house and at Emily cemetery, where interment was made.

YOUTH'S CAR KILLS FARMER

KITCHENER, Ont., July 9 (C.P.)—William Miller, aged 69, was fatally injured near his home last evening when hit by a car driven by 17-year-old Tom Brent, of Elmira. An inquest has been ordered for to-morrow afternoon at Elmira.

Miller was driving cattle along the road when the mishap occurred. The fact that he was deaf as well as dumb may help to absolve Brent of blame in connection with the tragedy.

Face Covered With Blackheads and Pimples. Healed by Cuticura.

"My face was covered with blackheads and pimples. The pimples were hard, large and red, and itched and burned. When I scratched them they would fester and scale over. They were in blotches and lasted about three months.

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and was surprised to see the results. I continued using them and in about two months I was completely healed." (Signed) Theodore Stonehouse, Springhill, Nova Scotia.

CAMPBELLFORD WOMEN FORM ASSOCIATION

Mrs. E. V. Tanner Organizes Liberal Women of Town on Tuesday.

Medium of Press Praised.

Describes Women of Canada as Nation's Spenders in Fine Address.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 10.— (By Examiner Staff Correspondent.) — The Campbellford branch of the Liberal Women's Association came into existence on Tuesday afternoon, when Mrs. E. V. Tanner, of Toronto, held an organization meeting in the Liberal committee rooms, Queen's Hotel, G. G. Faulkner occupied the chair and Mrs. Tanner addressed the ladies.

The result of the election of officers resulted as follows: President, Miss Grace Anderson; first vice-president, Mrs. G. O'Sullivan; second vice-president, Mrs. P. C. Denyes; third vice-president, Mrs. Frank Lee; corresponding secretary, Mrs. N. Morrison. Miss Margaret Anderson acted as recording secretary for the afternoon.

Mrs. Tanner, in a very forceful and well delivered address, spoke of the need to-day of individual thought, and how this can be strengthened by banding together into an organization. This organized thought was very necessary in public life to-day.

She praised the medium of the press in the part it plays in giving to the world thoughts of the people as they express them as an organized body. "This was the real backbone of the government of the country," the speaker said and went on to show how the press, by broadcasting the opinions of the people help to form public opinion. And this avenue of service was open to the women of the country, especially if they linked themselves up with the several men's organizations and became a solid whole. And this would not only strengthen the party, but bring into politics a refinement that it had never possessed before.

Of this organization, Mrs. Tanner said, it was not only to assist in the winning of the election at this time, but was to be a permanent force all the year round, and a means of moulding public opinion at all times.

Spender of Nation.

Of the status of woman, she said that as a sex they were closely related to the state. The speaker went on to show how the woman is the spender of the nation and how, if the size of the purse is sufficient, and the market accessible, the nation as a whole could prosper. This the King government had made possible. It had created work for the accumulation of money, and by a system of very low tariff and in some cases no tariff at all, the way had been made for the women of the country to obtain the large purse, and spend the money to the best advantage. The Liberal government had further fostered all the basic industries of the country, had created better markets, and helped the unemployment situation.

On the other hand, Mrs. Tanner stated that the Conservatives wanted to put a 25 per cent. tariff on all goods, which would mean that only a few would benefit ,and this was contrary to the Liberal principle, which was to work for the benefit of the greatest numbers.

Mrs. Tanner drew a picture of how the Liberal administration would hold the woman in the home. She pointed out the furniture question, and the hardwood that was used in its manufacture, all of which had to be imported into Canada, and which if taxed would mean that it would be beyond the buying power of many people. This also applied to the matter of clothes, with cotton, silk, linen and much of the wool coming from outside of this country, and pointed out that textiles coming into Canada free of duty would mean cheaper clothes. This schedule of cheapness was also carried into the realm of the kitchen, the speaker showing how many of the foods we eat do not come from Canada but from foreign countries, and claimed that the Liberal government aimed to have all things on a free, or correspondingly free, list, while on the other hand, the people would pay more for things under a Conservative government. "This is a proof that the Liberal government is a friend of the woman of this country," said Mrs. Tanner, and stated that the Dunning budget with its fair exchange of duties, was the greatest advocate for peace, and an olive branch held out to all the world.

In conclusion the speaker stressed the wonderful possibilities of a woman's organization, ending with the appeal: "Your country needs you, and I am sure that here in Campbellford the ladies will measure up as they have done in other parts of the country."

Mr. Faulkner, in a brief appeal on behalf of the Liberal candidate, W. A. Fraser, urged upon the women to take a personal interest in a matter which was vital to them, and not to shirk their responsibility, but come and vote on July 28th.

Mrs. Fraser, wife of the candidate, was also present, and spoke a few words of greeting to the meeting.

EFFECTIVE RELIEF FOR WIDESPREAD ILL

SEVERAL ITEMS ARE DISCUSSED

Much Business Transacted at Regular Meeting of Havelock Women's Institute.

GOOD PROGRAM

HAVELOCK, July 10 (Examiner Correspondence). — The Havelock Women's Institute regular meeting was held on Monday, July 7, at the summer home of the district director, Mrs. John Armstrong. The large screened verandah proved a delightful place to spend the afternoon and transact the business in hand. The meeting opened with the Institute Ode and the Lord's Prayer. Minutes of previous regular meeting and one special meeting were approved. The roll-call was responded to by "If I could have just one more labor-saving device, what it would be, and why." This was well responded to, and much laughter evoked by some of the replies.

A letter was read from Mr. Roche, secretary of the vestry of St. John's Anglican Church, thanking the Institute for a donation of $10.00 to the fund.

A letter of thanks from a member who had received flowers during a recent bereavement.

A letter from Mrs. Weller of Warsaw regarding a donation from the branch to send the winner of the judging competition at Keene to Guelph for a two weeks' course. It was decided to send the donation of $2.00, as suggested, at once.

The advisability of holding a sewing course was discussed, and it was decided to apply for an instructress for September. The required number of names has been secured.

Pleased With Work.

The delegates to the district meeting held in Havelock on May 11 expressed themselves as delighted with the work being done by the various branches. They seemed particularly impressed by the work being done at Apsley by the outpost hospital, sponsored by the W.I. there. It was thought that Havelock Institute should have a school dental clinic during the fall term. The secretary was instructed to write the Department concerning this matter.

The matter of securing a library for Havelock was also discussed, and the secretary was instructed to write the Department in this connection also.

It was decided on motion to pay the Institute secretary a salary of $25.00 yearly.

The matter of a layette for cases of emergency was discussed, but nothing definite was done. An objective came in for discussion, but was left over for another time to allow of more thought on the subject. The business being concluded, the meeting closed with the National Anthem. A contest of musical terms was then conducted by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Jones. This was most interesting, and was won by Mrs. Joseph Hoffman with all answers correct, and five other ladies being tied for second place, with only one mistake. A draw was won by Mrs. Russell Green, who drew the lucky number. Mrs. Hoffman received a pair of handsome bath towels, and Mrs. Green was presented with a lovely pitcher. Dainty refreshments with a delightful cup of tea, or if preferred lemonade, was afterwards served by Mesdames Armstrong, Davies, Rice and Jones. A vote of thanks to the hostess was moved, and responded to by a hearty handclap. Mrs. Armstrong replied graciously, and a pleasant afternoon was brought to a close.

FENELLA RESIDENT OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

Henry Porter Celebrates 70th Birthday With Family Relations.

FENELLA, July 10.—(Examiner Correspondence).—A very pleasant surprise awaited Henry Porter, of Oak Heights on Sunday when he and Mrs. Porter returned from church. The occasion being Mr. Porter's 70th birthday and his children, grandchildren and other relatives had gathered to celebrate with him.

A sumptuous birthday dinner was prepared, the table being attractively decorated in pink and white with a three story birthday cake with a candle for each year of the honored host's life.

Fred Simmons, Mr. Porter's brother-in-law, congratulated him on attaining the happy anniversary and Bruce Porter presented his father on behalf of the sons and daughters with a chair and little Berniece Stayles presented him with a bouquet of roses. Little Norma Curtis, of Fenella presented her grandmother with a bouquet of roses.

Two sons, Adam of Kincaid, Sask., and Gordon of Webb, Sask., were unable to be present but sent greetings. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. James Curtis and daughter, Norma of Fenella; Mr. and Mrs. Hector Arnold and children and Mr. Currie of Campbellford; Mr. and Mrs. F. Simmons, Mr. and Mrs W. Weeks, and Mrs. A. Spofford, of Brighton; Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Sayles, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Porter of Oak Heights.

EXPECT MESSAGE FROM SIR ARTHUR

Friends Predict Word From Spirit as Body is Lowered to Grave.

MRS. DOYLE CONFIDENT.

LONDON, Eng., July 10 ((C.P.)—A message from the spirit of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle as his body is lowered into the grave Friday was predicted to-day by some London spiritualist circles.

The novelist's family, however, did not encourage this forecast of the moment when they will hear from their deceased relative, although they expressed continued confidence he will get in touch with them almost immediately.

The author's son, Adrian, told the Daily Sketch: "My mother is confident that he will reveal himself shortly. This wonderful faith buoys her. She is beautifully radiant. I am certain that if she did not believe in spiritualism, she would not have survived Sir Arthur's death an hour.

"A seance may be necessary to establish the communication. When we do hear from him the communication will be treated as private unless, which is quite possible, he wishes to give the message to the world, in which case whatever, he says will be published."

The son denied current reports that a secret code had been arranged, stating that he should know very quickly if any spirits were impersonating my father."

Since the report that nearly 900 tons of ash, dust and tar settled in every square mile of the city in the last year, Newcastle-on-Tyne has been declared to be the dirtiest place in England.

"Use Palmolive Soap to avoid an irritated unattractive skin"

urges MADAME B. SCHAANNING
Celebrated Copenhagen beauty specialist

"Your face needs soap and water, but ordinary soaps sometimes do more harm than good. Modern beauty science lays particular stress on vegetable oils. These cosmetic oils—such as you get in Palmolive Soap—are fresh, healing, soothing; they bring up the under-the-surface-color and keep the skin free of irritation."

B Schaanning
VIMMELSKAFTET 42, STUEN, COPENHAGEN.

Olive oil, as you use it in Palmolive Soap, is the ideal means of freeing the skin of dirt, dust and make-up.

Madame Schaanning personally conducting a treatment on one of her clients, in her exquisite salon at Vimmelskaftet 42, Stuen, Copenhagen.

"EVERY woman dreads that look of middle age which comes with a coarse, rough-textured skin," according to the renowned Madame Schaanning, of Copenhagen. "Yet no woman need have such a skin, for the right kind of daily care keeps your skin young, fresh and lovely! And by the right kind of care I simply mean cleansing with Palmolive Soap and water."

Madame Schaanning has the distinction of caring for many of the loveliest women of Denmark . . . where beauty requires special protection from harsh weather conditions. She is insistent on the use of one soap and one soap only, because she has seen the harmful effect of ordinary cleansing agents.

Beware of pimples and skin irritation

"Pimples and other similar outbreaks on the surface of the skin," warns Madame Schaanning, "too often are encouraged because care is not taken to use the right kind of soap. That is why I lay so much stress on the use of Palmolive."

Palmolive is a pure vegetable oil soap. Its color comes from the oils of palm and olives, famous since the days of Cleopatra as the finest of natural beautifiers. Its naturally fresh odor makes unnecessary the addition of heavy perfumes.

Here is the simple treatment advised not only by Madame Schaanning but also by more than 23,720 other beauty specialists in every great city of Europe and America: massage a creamy lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water gently into the pores; rinse, first with warm water, then with cold. Now—and not before—your face is ready for make-up.

See your beauty expert for special beauty treatments. And use Palmolive regularly for the bath as well as the face. Its fresh fragrant lather will do for your skin what ordinary soaps cannot do . . . and you will avoid the danger of an irritated skin.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

EVERY BOY OR GIRL who has been at the seashore, or on the banks of any large body of water, has enjoyed skipping stones.

• • • • • • •

I wonder how many realize that this very pastime was a favorite with the people of ancient Greece!

• • • • • • •

Then the sport was called Ducks and Drakes, and it was played with smooth flat shells, instead of stones.

• • • • • • •

The one whose shells re-bounded or skipped the greatest number of times, was proclaimed conqueror, while he whose sells sank with fewest rebounds was derided.

• • • • • • •

He was said to have lost or squandered his ducks and drakes, for such the shells were called in this game. And so we find that even the simple pastime of skipping stones has a historical background

• • • • • • •

How many of you have heard of Water Wicket?

• • • • • • •

The nucleus for this game is found in the quaint sport of "stool ball," played many centuries ago in England, when milk maids' stools were used in place of wickets.

• • • • • • •

The object was not so much to send the ball under the stool as for the person sitting on the stool to strike it away. Scores were kept in many different ways.

• • • • • • •

From ths sport sprang our lawn croquet, and now we are seeing it in a new guise. Water Wickets is distinctly a water sport, and its fun for the onlookers as well as the swimmers who participate

• • • • • • •

Any number of players from three up can play. Two stand in the water up to their arm pits. They take hold of hands, lifted high, and so form an arch or wicket over the water.

• • • • • • •

A third player takes a stand about eight feet away and facing the wicket. He is either blind folded or shuts his eyes and at a given signal starts to swim in the direction of the wicket.

• • • • • • •

If he swims through the wicket he scores ten points.

• • • • • • •

After all the players, including the wickets have had their turn, a new round is begun. Two of the players must form a wicket for those making the original arch to swim through, when their turns come.

• • • • • • •

With each round the contestants move back three feet until the distance between them and the wicket measures approximately twenty feet. Any contestant who succeeds in swimming through this final wicket makes twenty points, or a double score. The player whose score is highest wins.

• • • • • • •

Why not try this at your next beach party?

ORANGEMEN AT DIVINE SERVICE

Members of Marmora District Lodges Hold Annual Church Parade.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

MARMORA, July 10. (Examiner Correspondence.)—Headed by Marmora Community Band, the annual church parade of L.O.L. 319 attended also by sisters and brothers of neighboring lodges was held on Sunday afternoon. Marmora United Church being visited.

Following the band was Marmora Juvenile Orange Lodge, No. 34, twenty two strong. The boys and girls won favorable comment on their appearance, their blue sashes surmounted by golden stars setting forth conspicuously the symbolism of the order. Harmony L.O.B.A. 600 well represented, came next, adding its part to the variety of orange endeavour. Then followed visiting brethren from Havelock, Springbank, Tanner, Nickle, Blaviton and various other local lodges with Marmora L.O.I. 319 in the rear. Altogether, there were over one hundred on parade, the largest number seen locally at a church parade for many years. The church was well filled with worshippers. A united choir led the praises of the afternoon, which embraced those well-known hymns, "Onward Christian Soldiers," Nearer My God to Thee" and "Blest be the Tie That Binds."

The service was the initial one to be conducted by the Rev. T. H. Howard, newly appointed pastor and early in its course, he addressed words of welcome and commendation to the various branches of the Order represented. A splendid uplifting message was delivered, by Rev. Mr. Howard from Exod. 18, 20

After the benediction was pronounced, the National Anthem was sung. Again led by the band, the members of the Order returned to the Orange Hall where under presidency of Wor. Bro. H. G. Potts, several short addresses on the good and welfare of the Order were delivered.

MRS. W. HARDING IS 84 YEARS OLD

Couple Celebrated 66th Wedding Anniversary Last January.

MR. HARDING IS 87.

WARSAW, July 10.—(Examiner Correspondence). — Mrs. William Harding of Warsaw, celebrated her eighty-fourth birthday on Tuesday, and when visited by The Examiner, both she and her husband, who is eighty-seven on December 13, had many stories to tell of old times.

Mr. and Mrs. Harding will celebrate the sixty-sixth anniversary of their wedding on January 17 and although Mrs. Harding is a little lame and Mr. Harding is not in the best of health, they get about remarkably well.

Both these people enjoy flowers and take great pride in their gardens —both flower and vegetable, keeping them scrupulously clean of weeds.

Mrs. Harding's maiden name was Elizabeth Batten and was born a few miles north east of where she now resides, on the farm where David Payne lives. Her mother's maiden name was Sarah Payne and her uncle, David Payne, raised a barn on his farm the day she was born. On that same farm there is still standing a fence of red cedar posts placed close together so that nothing could get through.

Mrs. Harding had four brothers, Joseph, George, Mark, William and John, three of whom were blacksmiths, and all being now deceased. Her five sisters are still living, Mrs. Flowers of California; Mrs. Myers of Orillia; Mrs. Quinlan of Detroit; Mrs. William Dunford of Warsaw and Mrs. Hewett of Rochester.

Mr. and Mrs. Harding were united in marriage by the Rev. Mr. Gale. Before her marriage Mrs. Harding was a member of the Bible Christian church and attended the log church built by her father and grandfather, William Batten, on the farm now owned by Ernest Batten. This church was torn down by Richard Batten after the union of Bible Christian and Methodist churches.

Large Family.

Eleven children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Harding, six of whom are now living. They are Mrs. John Moore of Warsaw; Mrs. Fred Sharpe who resides just north of Warsaw; Mrs. Ernest Sneider of Rochester; Mrs. Fred Parcels, residing near Warsaw; Mrs. William Freeburn, residing south-east of the village and one son Frank, who resides near his parents.

Before coming to the farm where they have lived for the past seventeen years, Mr. and Mrs. Harding resided in Douro, near the boundary. The house they lived in part of the time was the old Christian church which stood opposite W. F. Crowe's place and which was moved and converted into a house.

Mrs Harding displayed some beautiful crochet work which she has done, one piece being copied from a piece she had on an apron before her marriage. Mrs. Harding's work is to be found in many homes, even as far as Prince Rupert, where a resident purchased twenty-seven yards of work. She knits a great deal and supplies knitted socks and mitts for many men in the community.

Her grandfather had the first horse in this part of Dummer and many were the stories the couple told. They have never approved of Sunday visiting and seriously object to very abbreviated skirts and bare arms.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Alice Michaelis

THE WORTH OF A SONG

How can we gauge the worth of a song,
How say if it will live
In triumph through the ages long
Or be but fugitive?

Is it by any fixed decree
Of rhythm or meter's law
A song survives, or must it be
Of beauty without flaw?

Some poets with rare wonder wrought
Their every singing line,
And some with calm, majestic thought
Shaped melodies divine.

Not words and thoughts alone can make
True song; these are but part,
For deathless song must ever wake
As answer in the heart.

HALL'S BRIDGE

The following have registered at the Windsor Hotel: Mr. L. W. Mathew, Mr. J. Kotala, Dr. and Mrs. Matiga, Mr. and Mrs. John Matiga, Mr. and Mrs E. Simon, Mr. Alvin Cipra, all of Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Steele, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Brush, Mr. H. G. Kelly, Mr. M. L. Casey, Mr. George Caprice, of Buffalo; Mr. W. G. Glassford, Youngstown; Mr. James Watkinson, Youngstown; Mr. Oscar Semra, Barbarton, Ohio; Mr. J. M. Daley, Girard, Ohio; and Mr. Charles Anderson, Girard, Ohio.

On Sunday evening the Orangemen of Lakefield, Selwyn and Hall's Bridge attended divine service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at the invitation of the Rev. Mr. Walker. An eloquent address on the privileges and duties of Orangeism was delivered by the Rev. Mr. Walker. The church was unable to hold all who attended.

FASHION SERVICE

A little Dutch apron frock for small folk of 2, 4 and 6 years.

It's delightfully comfy and smart. It can be worn as apron to keep little daughter's frock spic and span.

It is unsurpassed for the warm days of summer, worn as a frock. The square neck is cut quite low. It's sleeveless too! It buttons down the back with the bodice tied with quaint sash.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

GETTING EXAMINED DURING THE WARM WEATHER.

A public health physician, after exhaustive work, tells us that about three out of every hundred of the population are in bed sick every day.

This does not account for the thousands who are really sick enough to be in bed, but must perforce go out and earn their daily bread.

Nor does it take into account those, who with illness upon them, refuse to go to bed, but try to go about their daily tasks.

In addition to the three who are confined to bed daily, this physician tells us that there are six more in every hundred who, while not in bed, are suffering with heart disease, tuberculosis, cancer, gall stones, or other ailment.

His point is that many of the ailments that are keeping patients in bed, or going about much below par physically, are due to carelessness or thoughtlessness. And of course the method of correcting this state of affairs is that everybody should be examined, or checked over, once or twice a year, bya competent physician.

At the beginning of each year it has been my habit to suggest that you see your family physician for this examination.

It occurs to me that at the midyear when the weather is balmy, and you are outdoors more, that it would really be a good time to be checked over.

Because if there be any infection in the system that requires removal this is the best time of year for the purpose.

Infection may arise in the teeth, gums, tonsils, sinuses, gall bladder, appendix, folds in large intestine, and elsewhere in the body.

Now you may be feeling in good condition, no pains or aches, able to do your work and enjoy recreation. Why should you disturb this good condition of the body and peace of mind by having your family physician try to find some trouble.

Because you may have infected teeth, tonsils, or other condition but because your resistance is good, you have been able to keep just a little ahead of them. You may feel a little lazy, perhaps a little tired, but you haven't an ache or a pain.

But you may do a little more work than usual, may undergo a mental strain, and then trouble starts—pain in joint or limb, headaches, feeling of exhaustion or other symptoms. And then, in this condition, you must have infection removed. Thus it is that pains, aches, and exhaustion become much worse immediately after removal of teeth, tonsils, or other infection that was causing the trouble.

And so when the weather is fine, and not cold and wet, you will have a chance to get better more rapidly after infection is removed, and less chance of cold, pneumonia, or other ailment interfering with your recovery.

Why wait until the symptoms overflow? See your family doctor before they get to that point.

From 2 quarts fruit 5 lbs jam in 15 minutes!

JUST THINK—two quarts strawberries, 3 lbs. sugar and ½ bottle Certo boiled only a few minutes give 5 lbs. of delicately coloured, deliciously flavoured jam!

Remember: jams and jellies made with Certo take only a few minutes' boiling—the delicious flavour of the fruit is retained because of short boiling—never a failure to set—half as much again from a given amount of fruit and no waste from failures.

With Certo, the whole year 'round, anyone can quickly make perfect jams and jellies in endless variety from any fresh or canned fruit or fruit juice.

87 Home-Tested Recipes in the Certo Booklet

Under the label of every Certo bottle is the Certo booklet, a wonderful mine of information on jam and jelly making. Contains 87 recipes embodying the use of practically every fruit available today, including delicious varieties that never before would jell.

Recipes are all scientifically worked out—then home-tested and tried. Be sure to follow them exactly—results will delight.

"I used Certo in my prize-winning Strawberry Jam at the C.N.E. (1929). In 1927 I took first prize for Strawberry Jam, using Certo and following the directions in the book that comes with Certo."—Mrs. J. Davies.

CERTO
—The natural jellying substance extracted from fruit.
—Jells the juice that would have boiled away by the old (long-boil) method.
—Makes 50% more jam or jelly at less cost per jar.
—Saves 2/3 the time. Saves the fruit flavour. Saves the fruit colour.

Cogs and Crescents Battle to 5-5 Count

Crescents Collect 9 Hits

Four Run Lead Held By Cogs Melts Away Before Heavy Hitting of Brioux Clan.

HOMER FOR CUTHBERTSON.

Fred Hickey Saves Day For Southern Clan With Triple Into Right Field.

Cognawagas and Crescents stepped out on the green sward at Exhibition Park diamond last night and favored fans with the most entertaining ball game of the season. A four-run lead set up in the first innings by the Cogs melted away before the thudding bats of the Brioux crew, and when the game was called at the end of the eighth due to the early darkness of a threatening thunder storm the score stood knotted 5—5.

Had the Cogs lost the battle it would have practically meant curtains for their chances to get into the play-offs for the East Peterborough League championship.

Solid Clouting

The game was featured by some of the most solid clouting yet seen in Charlie Curtis' circuit.

Cuthbertson, second sacker for the Cogs, appeared to have won the game for Bill Cripps' team in the eighth when he crashed out a hit into deep right for a home run. However, Hickey, who had been robbed of several hits by classy fielding on the part of the Cogs' gardeners, came through in the Crescents' half of the same innings for a triple into the same field and he came in with the tying run on Fred Jones' rap.

The Cogs' plied their bats for seven hits, while the Crescents collected nine safeties. It was errors in the first innings that gave the Cogs their four-run advantage and nearly proved the downfall of the southern clan.

Jeff Hardill went the whole route on the rubber for the Crescents, and after a bad start during which time he was touched hard, he worked nicely. Angus Macdonald started for the Cogs, but at the end of the third with the score 4—2 he retired to centre field; Harold Ralph, former ace with Doc. Hamilton's Bethany nine, taking up the mound duty and continuing to the end. Macdonald did great service in the outfield, contributing one of the fielding features when he made a one-handed stab of Hickey's drive.

Stellar Fielding

Freddy Jones covered acres of ground for the Crescents in left field, accepting six chances without a falter and Billingsley, patrolling the same garden for Cogs, also shone out.

After Williams was retired in the first innings the Cogs broke loose. Billingsley was safe when Crary fumbled his grounder and then threw low to first. Cuthbertson sacrificed Billingsley to second and he scored on Crary's error of Rooke's roller. Rooke scored when Corbett's single into centre field went through J. Jones, and Rooke made third. Starr's fly into centre was misjudged by Jones and Corbett scored. Wilson singled and Starr crossed the plate with the fourth run. Grant flied out to F. Jones.

Crescents did nothing in their half of the opening innings, and a fast double play originated by Sweetman quelled any opportunities that the Cogs had in the second frame. However, Crescents came through with one run in their portion of the second. Hardill singled through second, but Crary flied out. Hickey singled, putting Hardill on third. Hardill scored on F. Jones roller to Rooke. Heard skied into centre field.

Crescents returned in the third to add another. Masterson, first up, singled and stole second. Sweetman rolled to first. J. Jones rolled to Macdonald, who delayed and then threw quickly to first, Rooke allowing the ball to get away from him, Masterson scoring and Jones being safe. Collins followed with a hit and Hardill also made first on a bunt, loading the bases. Crary struck out, and Hickey aimed a drive into left field, which was labelled for extra bases, but Billingsley nabbed it.

Two for Crescents

Ralph came to the mound in the fourth and the Crescents helped themselves to two runs with assistance of a walk. F. Jones, first up, drew four balls and he stole second. Heard singled, but Jones held up at third. Masterson skied into right field. Sweetman scored both runners on a double into centre. Jones rolled to second and Collins grounded to first.

Neither team showed scoring opportunities during the following three innings, but both collected one in the eighth frame.

Cuthbertson, first up, hit for the circuit into right field to put the Cogs one run up. Rooke singled and Corbett was safe on Crary's error. Starr raised a fly into left, Wilson popped to short, and Ralph flied to second for the third out.

After Hardill had grounded to first and Crary had struck out. Hickey tripled into right and he crossed the plate to tie the score on F. Jones' single into left. Heard grounded to short for the third out.

The game was called in the first half of the ninth with Macdonald and Williams out.

PROTEST IS NOT UPHELD

Northumberland League Executive Throws Out Protest Entered by Harwood.

HASTINGS LEADS LOOP

HASTINGS, July 10.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The executive of the Northumberland League met in Roseneath on Monday night to go into the protests entered by Harwood against Hastings, and Baillieboro against Baltimore. Harwood protested the game won by Hastings in Harwood on June 28 for the following reasons: Interference at home plate, two balls in play at one time and Hastings' pitcher with elastic on his fingers. After a little discussion the protest was thrown out leaving Hastings in first place with seven wins and no losses.

The Baillieboro-Baltimore protest was on Catcher Murray of Baltimore, who is a student. This was referred to the O.B.A.A. for a ruling.

REDS OUST CUBS FROM THE LEAD NATIONAL LOOP

Fourth Game in Row and Seventh Victory Over Chicago in Eleven Games Played.

REDS OUTHIT 11-10.

Brooklyn Takes Double-header From Boston With Dazzy Vance on the Mound.

The Cincinnati Reds, struggling along deep in the second division of the National League, are making a great bid to tack an addition onto the "jinx" list of the circuit. Cincinnati may lose to any other club, but when the Chicago Cubs, champions last season, and contenders for this year's title, come along the Reds step out and play some first division baseball.

The Reds knocked the Cubs clear out of first place in the last few days by winning four games in a row, and made it a record of seven victories over Chicago in eleven games played. There seemed to be every reason why Cincinnati should lose the final clash yesterday, but they had the champions coming from behind all the way and finally put over a run in the tenth inning to gain a 4 to 3 victory. The Reds were outhit, 11-10, and seven of them fanned against Charley Root's pitching, but still they had enough punch to squeeze over the odd run.

The defeat dropped the Cubs two full games into second place as Brooklyn took both games of a double header from the Boston Braves with Dazzy Vance pitching superlative ball, striking out nine, while he allowed only three hits; the Robins took the first game 8 to 0. The Braves put up a better battle in the second, and it required a home run with the bases full by Del Bissonette to give Brooklyn a 6-4 decision.

This steadily advancing St. Louis Cardinals picked up another game on the New York Giants, and now are only a half game back of third place as the result of their 7 to 6 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates, while New York dropped another to Philadelphia by a 5-4 count. The Giants began taking their poultry census before the final score was hatched, and the Phillies jumped on Hubbell as he let up a trifle and won out with two runs in the ninth inning.

The Cards added a single run to the group scoring as each team tallied in three-run bursts, and that odd counter brought the victory.

FAVORITES ADVANCE IN TENNIS TOURNEY

Nunns, Martin, Rennie and Leslie Still in Running.

OTTAWA, July 10. — An electrical storm, accompanied with a torrential downpour, interrupted play in the Eastern Canadian championships at the Rideau Tennis Club courts yesterday afternoon but not before the majority of the matches scheduled were well on their way to completion.

In the men's events all the leading lights were successful, Gilbert Nunns of Toronto, Walter Martin of Regina, Leroy Rennie of Toronto, and Charlie Leslie of Montreal, all recording two or more victories each.

SENATORS LOSE AFTER 10 WINS

Red Sox Break Winning Streak of Capital City Team.

ATHLETICS BEATEN.

The American League celebrated the end of Washingtons' long winning streak, which came at the hands of the Boston Red Sox in the second game of a double-header, but the Senators still gained half game on Philadelphia and led by that margin. Washington continued to use only one pitcher to a game, but Lloyd Brown gave the Red Sox 17 hits in the second contest, while Milt Gaston held the Senators to eight, and Boston won 5 to 1. Washington took the first game 5 to 2, behind Sam Jones' pitching, to make it ten straight.

The Athletics, in second place, had a very bad day against the New York Yankees, and went down by a 12 to 6 score. The Philadelphia pitchers were ineffective and the fielding behind them was bad, and the result gave New York a dozen runs from ten hits with all the scores coming in three innings. The Yankees still remained 5½ games out of second place after their recent slump.

Once more Babe Ruth provided one of the day's biggest pieces of news by drawing down a three-day suspension because of the previous afternoon's dispute with Umpire Brick Owens. The punishment did not turn out to be very severe, as an injury was keeping the Babe out of action.

The struggle among the five trailers in the American League remained unchanged as the pair with the better standings, Cleveland and Detroit, won their games.

The Detroit Tigers strengthened their hold on the top of the second division with a 6 to 1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox behind the pitching of George Uhle.

The Tiger hurler did not allow a hit until the sixth inning, and only six altogether.

LEAFS DIVIDE DOUBLE BILL WITH ORIOLES

Birds Shell Phil Page For 12 Hits to Win First Game 8-0.

HOMESTERS COP 2ND 7-6.

Split Leaves Toronto Still Two Games Behind Second Place.

The Baltimore Orioles were away from Toronto to-day with their slim lead in the International League pennant race still intact, despite the loss of three out of four games.

Ability to salvage the first game of yesterday's double header enabled the Orioles to open the series at Buffalo to-day with a half-game advantage over the Rochester Red Wings, who were idle yesterday because of wet grounds.

Showing a return to the form that has featured their pace-setting tactics this season, the Orioles shelled Phil Page for 12 hits in 6 1-3 innings to win 8 to 0 as Jim Weaver blanked the Leafs with six scattered hits. The second game, which the Leafs won 7 to 6, was a different story; Frank Barnes held the league leaders at his mercy for six innings, but eased up in the seventh, allowing five hits, including triples by Barton, Dalrymple and McGowan, which were good for four runs. Prudhome went to the rescue and retired the final batter with the tieing run on third.

Big Jess Bream was in rare pitching form as he held the Montreal Royals to three hits and allowed Jersey City to win 4 to 0. Herb Thormahlen almost matched Bream in pitching, but two costly errors in the first innings gave the Black Cats three runs while another boot in the eighth accounted for the fourth tally. Thormahlen allowed ten hits but kept them well scattered. The defeat was the Royals' ace fourth of the season as again nine victories.

The Reading Keys suddenly came to life, pounding a trio of Buffalo pitchers for 20 base hits and a 14 to 3 victory. A big fourth inning in which six runs crossed the plate on five blows gave the cellar champions a nine-run lead, which was too much for the Bisons to overcome with Herrmann pitching brilliant ball. Al Moore, Buffalo outfielder, had a perfect day at bat with a home run, a double and two singles.

NATIONALS GAIN IN C.O.B.L. RACE

BELLEVILLE, July 10. — Belleville National increased their lead in the Central Ontario Baseball League yesterday when they defeated Kingston by a score of 10-4. The game was played in connection with the Conservative picnic, and the large crowd was treated to a fine game of ball. Alex. Weir, hurling for the winners, restricted the opposition to five scattered hits, and only one Kingston player was left on base. He was opposed by Howard "Buster" Reid, who lasted but three innings so heavy was the onslaught. Jamieson, the regular hurler, was shelled plenty. The Nationals collected 14 hits, with Bob Scott leading the way with three doubles and a single in four trips. "Peeney" Mills hit a triple, as did Cretney, the rightfielder. Bob Elliott blasted a two-bagger and Vince a three-bagger for the Kingston squad. Two double plays were inserted in the pastime, each team coming through, but Belleville's play was needed as the hurler was in deep water at the time.

The game was held up by a heavy electric storm and rain.

SCOTS PROTEST IS SUSTAINED

Awarded Game Against C.G.E. —Player Not Properly Signed as Rule Stipulates.

GAME FRIDAY NIGHT.

A special meeting of the Peterborough and District Football Association was held last evening, in the Chamber of Commerce Rooms, to consider a protest lodged by the Caledonians against the Canadian General for playing an ineligible player in the semi-final of the Phelan Charity Cup tie on Saturday, July 5, on King Edward Park, when the latter won the game by the score of nine goals to two.

Conforming to the Rule XI, where it states that a protest must be received by the secretary of the association per registered mail or bearing the post mark within three days after the match (Sunday excluded) accompanied by a deposit of five dollars which shall be forfeited in all cases where the protest has been sustained. The Scots executive did comply with all the rules, but the secretary of the association did not receive it in time for the Monday evening meeting; therefore, the executive decided to hear the complaint later in the week.

The protest lodged claimed that John Flynn had not signed a legal form until the day of July 3rd, which made the said player be an ineligible player for the game on Saturday, which made him only a signed man only two days, instead of three, as Rule 9 reads: "(b) Players must be registered with the P. and D.F.A. three (3) days before taking part in any game.

The executive heard the two club representatives in reference to the protest and after consulting the rules, considering the signed form and the date when signed and signature thereon, decided that the said player had only been a registered club player for two days only. Thus making it clear that player John Flynn should not have taken part in the game against the Canadian General.

The unanimous decision of the board was given to the club representatives who were requested to notify their clubs of the finding. The Caledonians won the protest and were awarded the game against the Canadian General. Player John Flynn having only signed the legal form two days, instead of three, contrary to rules of P. and D.F.A. Rule 9; also Rule 14, where the protesting club are awarded the game. The fee of $5.00 being returned because their protest had been sustained.

Game Friday Night

The semi-final of the Phlean Charity Cup will be played on Friday evening at Brinton Ground when the Canadian Packing and Brinton Athletic will settle the issue. Referee Jack Hodson. Linesmen, A. McKinley and James Hawthorne.

This encounter is the postponed tussle of Wednesday evening last. The winner will meet the Scots in the final next Wednesday night on King Edward Park. Referee, James Hawthorne.

AFTER SOMERVILLE'S CROWN

SANDY SOMERVILLE.

TORONTO, Ont., July 10 (C.P.) — Golfers from nearly all parts of the province, 130 of them, started out to-day in an effort to wrest the Ontario amateur crown from the sandy thatch of C. Ross "Sandy" Somerville, of London. The champion has shown splendid form in his practice rounds over the well-conditioned Scarboro golf club course, and is ready to face one of the most formidable fields ever entered in the competition.

Toronto is largely represented in the entry list with 99 golfers ready to tee-off to-day in the qualifying round. London has a good representation besides the defending champion. Oshawa Ottawa, St. Catharines, Hamilton, Brantford, Sarnia and many other centres, are also represented.

John Lewis, Brantford, and A. A. Adams, Hamilton, were the first pair to tee off. Conditions were ideal, a brilliant sun being tempered by a cool breeze. The course appeared in excellent shape with the river presenting a constant threat, having to be crossed eight times during each nine's holes. Par for the 18 holes is 72.

SOCCER GAME UNFINISHED

Darkness Compels Referee to Stop Game Just After the Interval.

MEET AGAIN FRIDAY.

Darkness compelled the referee to abandon the semi-final of the Phelan Charity Cup last evening, when the Brinton Athletic and Canadian Packing played to a scoreless draw until the game was stopped.

First Half

Captain Buchan won the toss and made the Brinton face the sun. A dilatory movement by James caused the Packers some anxiety until the ball was cleared. At the other end, the Brinton full backs allowed Preston to go right through, but his parting shot went skywards. Give-and-take play ensued for a while, with the front ranks holding the ball in control, although Hanson's first footer missed by inches from a cross on the right. They held the upper hand to gain unfruitful flag-kicks in abundance around the Packers' goal. In fact, Griffin was lucky to save the ball when Wade mis-kicked in front of goal. A continual bombardment ensued against Packers' defence, without any result being obtained. A break-away by Packers' right transferred the play into the Brinton territory where the forwards missed a glorious chance to score. A few minutes later, Beggs beat the defence cleverly to go straight into goal with the ball at his toe. He chose the far corner of the uprights to witness his shot go wide of the mark.

Just before the interval, Curtis, Brinton custodian, received a fright when a misunderstanding between his full backs permitted an opponent to rap a hot drive over the bar from close range. Canadian Packing 0, Brinton 0.

Second Half

On resuming, the pace set by the players made the play interesting around the respective citadels. Time and again the forwards would penetrate inside the defence to test the qualities of the goal-keepers. Long, swinging passes continued to be the order of play until darkness set in, when the referee declared the game unfinished, with the teams not having scored a goal. C.P.C. 0, Brinton 0.

Canadian Packing—C. Griffin, goal; F. Wade and A. Downer, full backs; J. Cross, J. Buchan and A. Bromley, halves; N. Downer, A. Beggs, R. Preston, J. Willshaw and F. Foster, forwards.

Brinton Athletic—W. Curtis, goal; P. Lucas and D. Green, full backs; J. O'Halloran, T. Westwood and E. A. Baylis, halves; N. Boon, T. Hotson, W. James, J. Anderson and E. Hanson, forwards.

Referee—J. Hodson. Linesmen—A. McKinley and A. McGregor.

BRINTONS WIN BY LONE RUN

Long Drive By Rose Scoring Miller Gives Carpet Men 10-9 Victory.

GOOD FIELDING.

A tremendous drive by H. Rose after Miller had singled in the ninth gave the Brintons a 10-9 win over the C.G.E. It was a hard smash.

Heavy hitting and good fielding featured the game. Most of the hits were good solid smashes that could not be fielded.

Richmond, the C.G.E. pitcher, sailed along until the sixth without being scored upon. In the sixth he was touched for seven runs, and one in each inning after.

Sturgeon started for the Brintons but was a trifle wild and gave way to Dundas, who sailed along smoothly for the remainder of the game.

Routley, Wilson and Miller turned in nice fielding cards for the Generals, while H. Rose and Dundas were good for Brintons.

Everybody had their share of the hitting, although Rose's drive in the ninth was a good one. Webb also hit a mammoth drive in the Generals half of the ninth, although fast fielding held it to a triple. He was left stranded at third.

The teams:

C.G.E.—Webb, 3b; Griffin, 1b; Wilson, b; Gore, c; Routley, cf; Thornton, lf; Martin, rf; Miller, ss; Richmond, p.

Brintons—Creighton, 3b; Jones, c; Dundas, ss, p; V. Rose, rf; Shaughnessy, 2b; Miller, lf; H. Rose, cf; Corbett, 1b; Sturgeon, p, ss.

At the meeting called on Monday night by C. W. Varcoe, President of the League, to decide protests between Harwood and Hastings and between Bailieboro and Baltimore. Hastings was awarded its protest, while the other dispute was left to the decision of the Ontario Amateur Baseball Association.

Delegates present were: Howard Lapp, Roseneath; Reg. Grey, Baltimore; M. Wood, Bailieboro; W. Crow, Alderville; N. Dolly, Precious Corners; W. Wellman, Hastings. No delegates were present from Harwood.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

TWO MAJOR LEAGUES ISSUE ULTIMATUM TO MINOR LOOPS

Magnates' Decision in Regard to Universal Draft Affects International.

BREADON IN FAVOR.

CHICAGO, July 10. — American and National League Club owners yesterday declared for an absolute break of player relations after Dec. 1, 1930, with five "non-draft" minor leagues, unless the latter accept the universal draft.

The decision was made in a joint meeting of the majors and included a determination to purchase no players nor to release any to the Pacific Coast League, the American Association, the International League, Class "AA" Leagues, and the Three Eye and Western Leagues, the latter of lower ranking.

The resolution not only demanded that the minor leagues involved, which have been subject since 1923 to a modified draft, agree to the universal selection system, but that a schedule of higher draft prices be inaugurated. There was only one dissenting vote on the resolution in spite of the fact that several major league clubs operate teams in the minor leagues involved, as "farms."

Breadon in Favor.

Sam Breadon, President of the St. Louis National League club, which owns or controls the Rochester Club of the International League, and the Danville Club of the Three Eye League, favored the resolution, as did President William L. Veeck of the Chicago Cubs, which has the same relationship with Los Angeles of the Coast League, and Reading of the International League. The name of the only dissenter was not revealed but it was said he favored further attempts to negotiate with the minor leagues.

If the minor leagues refuse to accept the unversal draft the only relations possible with the majors will be to continue to draft those players who already have been sent to non-draft leagues under the modified arrangement under which they have operated since 1923.

The relations between major leagues and non-draft leagues during the past nine years have been considered extremely unsatisfactory. From the beginning of organized baseball until 1921 the universal draft was recognized.

Unsatisfactory Conditions.

Then the five leagues involved were freed from the draft rule. The situation was unsatisfactory to the major leagues in 1922 and they offered a compromise by which players sent to non-draft leagues should be subject to the draft. The minors refused to compromise for a year but later submitted to the modified draft.

The meeting was the first affair of the kind to be called for mid-season, and was held at this time to give the minors plenty of time to consider and act on the proposition at their regular meeting next winter. Suggestions for changes in the draft rules have been made in the regular winter joint meetings of the American and National Leagues, but, it was said, had been ignored by the minors
